Those special permits which the Ontario Liquor Commission issued during the Christmas season permitting office and staff parties in places of business are being refused this year. The board had intimated its policy has been changed and no permits will be issued. So the parties are out for 1951.

TWO TOP STUDENTS of the Peterborough Collegiate and Vocational School were announced on Friday night at the annual commencement. Donald Ash, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Ash, 11 Charles St., was named head boy and received the Kenner prize, while Miss Sheila Young, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Young, 305 Stewart St., was named head girl and received the gold ring given annually by Mrs. R. F. Downey.—(Examiner Staff Photo)

Handicraft Work Displayed By Blind People

The answer to Christmas gift problems may be found at a booth to be set up in the front of Grafton's Men's Wear store Monday.

The booth will contain handicraft work made by the blind people of Peterborough and district and will remain open from Monday to Saturday.

Articles offered to the public will include all types of leather work, plastic and knitted goods, and basketing.

There will be wallets, purses, belts, zipper-notebooks and braces in leather; felt baby shaes; umbrellas in plastic cases, stocking dolls and basketing in sewing boxes and magazine racks. Aprons wil also be for sale, and all kinds of knited articles such as socks, mitts and baby clothes.

Prize Winners

Some of the work for sale was done by a blind woman in the district who won first prize for her knitting at the Peterborough Exhibition and won prizes at the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto. Other prize winners' work will also be on sale.

This annual Christmas sale which has been held for the fourth year in Peterborough serves two purposes. Colin MacEachern, field secretary for the Canadian National Institute for the Blind in this district, explained today that the sale not only enables blind people in the district to earn a little money, but also keeps them occupied in handicraft work.

The blind people receive the materials they use in this work wholesale and lessons in handicraft are supplied by the institute teachers.

Volunteer workers will serve in the booth. The sale is sponsored by the Peterborough Advisory Board of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

Sheila Young, Donald Ash Head Girl, Boy At PCVS

Qualities of scholarship, leadership, character and sportsmanship won Sheila Young, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Young, 305 Stewart St., and Donald Ash, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Ash, 11 Charles St., the honor of head girl and head boy at PCVS this term.

Miss Young was presented the Mrs. R. F. Downey prize, a diamond ring, and the Local Council of Women Scholarship by C. S. Browne, principal, on behalf of Mr. and Mrs. Downey. In previous years Mr. Downey has made the presentation.

Mr. Browne also presented the H. R. H. Kenner Memorial prize, given annually to the head boy, and also the Melville C. Robinson Memorial prize, to Mr. Ash.

The head boy and head girl honors are among the highest attainable in PCVS. Besides demanding the four qualities, the students must receive the support of the students and also the teaching staff.

Marvellous Record

Mr. Browne described Miss Young's scholastic record of an average yearly mark of 89 per cent as "marvellous". Her yearly total averages were: Grade 9, 89 per cent; Grade 10, 90 per cent; Grade 11, 86 per cent and Grade 12, her highest average 91 per cent.

Besides the numerous scholarships and prizes won in Grade 12, Miss Young has also received the 1st Morrow scholarship in Grade 9, the 1st Nicholls scholarship and the English prizes in Grade 10 and the 1st Nicholls scholarship in Grade 11.

"Her character and leadership qualities are shown by the majority vote she received by the students and staff."

Her keen interest in school sports, especially as a fan, "she rarely misses a game", were considered along with her participation in school sports in interform play, field days, scoring games and refereeing.

Mr. Ash's qualities besides an "adequate school record throughout the four years" emphasized his sportsmanship and his leadership.

His sportsmanship manner on and off the playing grounds placed him high in the esteem of his fellow students. He has participated in both junior "A" and senior "A" basketball besides being a manager of the senior and junior football teams.

His leadership quality was shown in his work on the Echoes, the school magazine, and the Students' Council and this year as president of the Boys' Athletic Association.

Mr. Browne in making the presentation said that the award is made "in commemoration of Dr. H. R. H. Kenner's services to education in Peterborough and of the principles which he inculcated throughout his life".

"During his fifty years as a member of the teaching staff, thirty-five as principal of the school, Dr. Kenner encouraged by precept and example the proposition that the purpose of education is to develop not the learned man but the integral human being, skilled in the arts, supporting the community, and secure in his relationship with God".

Mr. Browne added that for many years it was Mr. Kenner's custom to present a prize to the academic head boy elected annually by the staff and fellow students as an example of those principles and "in some sense an ideal product of the school".

ALD. NORMAN GRAHAM, who has written his resignation as a member of Peterborough city council. Ald. Graham told the Examiner today he had been "ignored" at times in council when he sought information. "All I get is the brush off," he said.

Dog Owners Warned To Buy '51 Licenses

A warning to dog owners who have not purchased their 1951 dog licences yet was issued by Chief John Thompson today.

"There are more than 1200 dogs in the city according to the assessor. To date, only 756 licences have been purchased," Chief Thompson said.

"Unless those dog owners who have not already done so, purchase a licence immediately, summonses will be issued," declared Chief Thompson, "because the names of all dog owners can be obtained from the assessor's list."

Ald. Graham Thinking Of Resigning

First Year Member Claims Council Has "Ignored" Him

Ald. Norman Graham told the Examiner today that he was seriously considering resigning at the meeting of the council Monday night.

"I have received no answer to three questions which I placed before the council at a recent meeting," Ald. Graham said. "That is just another example of being ignored. One of the questions I asked was why I, as a member of the industrial committee, was told nothing about the Lemery Distributors Ltd., until the announcement was made in the council.

"I didn't ask to be put on the manufacturers committee. The council did that, and if they put me on a committee I want to know what is going on.

"I was ignored by the committee in the first place, and you can imagine my surprise and how I felt when I heard about this company going to build on Lansdowne St. and didn't know anything about it, and I'm a member of the committee.

"So, I ask for information in council, and all I get is the brush off, that's what it looks like. That is one complaint, and it's not the only one."

Ald. Graham said he was entitled to the kind of treatment which any alderman had a right to expect as an elected representative of the people.

It transpires that he has already mailed a letter to the council declaring his intention of resigning at the end of the year, but he is also getting considerable advice urging him not to do anything hasty. His friends feel, it is learned from another source, that if he wants answers to any question he is more likely to get them as a member of the council than as a private citizen.

Ald. Graham told the Examiner today, in regard to the rumor of his intention to quit the council that he was simply asserting the right of a man who had been put there by the people.

"If I can't get some recognition, what's the use of my staying there, and if I do quit I think the Success Founded On Target Edmison Tells Graduates

In a striking departure from the usual type of address delivered to graduating classes, Alex Edmison, KC, quoted from an autograph book, containing many now famous names, collected 25 years ago, to illustrate the qualities needed for success in life. Mr. Edmison, assistant to the principal of Queen's University, spoke to the 1951 PCVS graduating class at the commencement exercises in the collegiate auditorium Friday night.

He warned his listeners that "being condemned to listen to commencement speakers was one of the penalties of graduation," and then proceeded to give a short talk that was in sharp contrast with to use Mr. Edmison's words the "stuffy" and "sermonizing" addresses usually associated with commencements.

Mr. Edmison selected names from an autograph book containing 600 signatures collected in his student days a quarter century ago, to demonstrate his point that having a goal in life is the basis of success.

High-paid Writer

Among the names was Morley Callaghan, who is today one of Canada's highest paid writers and broadcasters, he said. He collected enough rejection slips to paper his room before he finally clicked, said Mr. Edmison. "From the age of 12, Morley Callaghan

Conant Sees Loss In Seaway Delay

PORT HOPE, Dec. 8— Steam generated power is the only alternative if the St. Lawrence waterway is not started immediately, Gordon D. Conant, former premier of Ontario and one-time attorney-general, said Friday.

"It is estimated," he told the Port Hope Canadian Club, "that by 1957 all available hydro-electric power will be developed and in use and we will be faced with necessity of using steam-generated power unless the St. Lawrence project proceeds immediately.

Steam generated power, he declared, costs almost three times as much as hydro power. "It will cost us between $30,000,000 and $40,000,000 a year to develop by steam the power that would be derived from the St. Lawrence," he said.

He urged the Canadian Government to announce definitely that construction work on the St. Lawrence would commence May 1, 1952. He suggested that if that were the case, the "politicians in the United States might come to their senses."

Smoke Drives 'Y' Roomers Into Street

Bowling Alley Fire Pushes Smoke Through Corridors

Smoke pouring through the corridors from a fire in the bowling alley drove YMCA residents from their rooms at midnight Friday night.

From the quantity of smoke, it appeared the fire was threatening the entire building when it was first discovered.

Several occupants rushed from their rooms in their night attire, carrying what belongings they could hastily jam into suitcases or collect in their arms.

The fire started in the cushion, packed with scrap leather, at the end of the number four alley, Constables Gerald Emmonds and Jack Wilson arrived on the scene minutes before the fire department.

They made their way through the smoke-filled end of the main lobby to the door at the opposite end of the alley to where the fire was. Not having any fire fighting equipment, the constables closed the door and waited for firemen.

Firemen entered through the door at the rear of the alley, and ladders were placed at the south side of the building. After smashing in the windows, booster lines were passed through. Water was poured on the blaze to quickly squelch the flames, before they broke through either the floor or ceiling. No estimate of the damage has been made yet, but both corners of the wall were badly damaged from floor to ceiling and the fire worked its way through the partition between the bowling alley and the weight lifting room before it was brought under control.

The alarm was turned in by Stan Easton at 12:09 when he noticed smoke seeping into his third floor room.

By 1:30 am firemen were clearing away debris from the blackened corner of the alley and residents were beginning to filter back to their rooms. But before the firemen had returned to the hall another call came in from the southend.

Aside from the threat of tragedy if the fire had made greater headway before it was discovered, it also had its humorous aspects, as the 35 residents piled from the building in various kinds of night attire.

A reporter, garbed in a bath robe several sizes too large, had obviously made a hurried exit from his third floor room. When police arrived, he was in the smoke-filled lobby and greeted them with the query: "Where's the fire?"

Another man, who had purchased an expensive pair of shoes Friday, came downstairs wearing his old ones and clutching the new pair in his hands.

One man who had obviously done a frenzied packing job of stuffing clothing into a bulging suitcase and carrying more of his belongings in his arms started trudging back upstairs when the smoke had cleared with the resigned comment, "Oh well, maybe I'll get some sleep this time."

Hey Mac, Say . . .

Proper Peterborough Prefers Pure Puffs

By JIM ENGLISH

It isn't that I want to break the law.

BUT HAS ANYBODY HERE GOT ANY AMERICAN CIGARETTES?

Mind you, I only smoke American cigarettes when they're free or so much cheaper than Canadian cigarettes that they might be considered free. At present, the price of Canadian cigarettes is listed among the pretty pennies I have paid.

Discreetly and decently, I have asked around town of a number of people who are generally in the know about such good things. And a sad fact is revealed.

Got Connections

Bootleg cigarettes—"smugs" to Montrealers and Ottawans—are found most commonly in cities with what are called "international connections". That is, where there is normally a large number of US citizens in Canada on business, and a large number of Canadian citizens in the US business.

As far as connections of this sort go, Peterborough is running a good 10th and likely to stay there.

But in these other, glamorous, cosmoplitan Canadian cities, the cigarette bootlegger lives a full and rich life indeed.

Spending freely on 12-passenger convertibles and other fripperies, he lives in a marble penthouse, eating pate de fois gras, caviar, steaks, and such delicacies. Some of the richer ones smoke Canadian cigarettes.

The smuggler, always a romantic figure, does a whopping trade in illicit smokes. Although Canadian customs officials have seized nearly 9,000,000 "hot" American cigarettes, it has been estimated that in some eastern Canadian cities, 70 per cent of smokers are lighting up with smugs.

Peterborough, apparently, is not one of these sinful 70-per-centers, worse luck.

Tongue Hanging Out

Not one whiff of illicit tobacco smoke has passed my lips, and at a possible saving of 12 or more cents a pack, I feel just a little bit bitter.

In Ottawa and Montreal, smuggled smokes sell for as little as $4 and $5 a carton. It gives a fair profit to the smuggler in return for the risk he takes.

According to my fingers, $5 a carton means 25 cents a pack. A little more rapid thumb-twiddling tells me I could smoke two packs of US cigarettes for less than the price of 25 Canadian fags.

With an unlimited supply of smugs, I could smoke one pack a day and sock the 17 cents I save into the bank. At $1.19 a week, that's $61.88 a year.

If I could live long enough, I, too, could afford Canadian cigarettes.

Soldiers Hold Out Five Days Without Any Sleep Or Water

By BILL BOSS

WITH THE CANADIANS IN KOREA, Dec. 8—(CP)—Five cold days and five cold nights without sleep.

Men three days without water, thirsty, parched dry, and the snow ahead of their slit trenches so muddy that they daren't touch it.

Three little islands of infantrymen on a saddle between two peaks, beleaguered by Chinese Communists attacking them down the crests on either flank, up a gully ahead, and at times from their rear.

Canadians determined to hold where others had given way, to hold despite the collapse of neighboring troops on the high ground to their right, exposing them terribly to increased pressure.

And all the while, that shelling. Three hundred rounds every two minutes, artillery, mortar, tanks, self-propelled guns, all splintering trees, speeding murderous shrapnel through the air, pounding dugouts, striking fear and reducing men to panic-stricken shell-shocked shadows of themselves.

Held Their Ground

And throughout that hell men of the 2nd battalion Royal 22nd regiment's "D" company held their ground while the winnowing by death and injury and nerves went on until—at the end of the fifth day—the ordeal ended, leaving the company at half its strength but every man a man.

They admit to no heros among them.

Every man just did his job—no more, no less.

The action was fought Nov. 22-26 near Mount Kowang, west of the Imjin River.

Says the commanding officer, Lt.-Col. Jacques Dextraze of Montreal:

"It welded us as a battalion. The other companies were right along side helping where they could and taking the same artillery punishment. The riflemen no longer think of the mortarmen as being far away back; they know they're right there too and essential to the team, and that they take their casualties, too."

Says Sgt. Denis Lapierre of Quebec City:

"Those who tell you how many Chinese they killed can give the figure only because they didn't kill enough. Those who killed can't say how many they killed. We were there to do our job. We knew we could withdraw only on orders of the company commander, and he had said there would be no retreat.

"We were there to fight and, if need be, die. And we did."

Such is the company commanded today by Maj. Real Liboiron of Windsor, NS and Ponteix, Sask., who chewed his Meerschaum pipe half way up its stem during the five-day hold-out.

So tired from strain and watchfulness, did Liboiron become "that as I'd speak my eyes would close and I would open them to find myself talking about something else."

And in their trenches along the front, said Lapierre, "we were so tired we kept mumbling songs to ourselves between attacks to prevent falling asleep."

They fired their brens, then found them frozen. A section position commanded by Lapierre resorted to grenades. While Pte. J. L. Bougie of Valleyfield, Que., and a Korean "rice-burner," named Cheh Sang sup, crouched in the trench, pulled safety pins and dropped the levers from the grenades, the sergeant took them in his cupped hands and tossed them over the parapet onto the advancing Chinese.

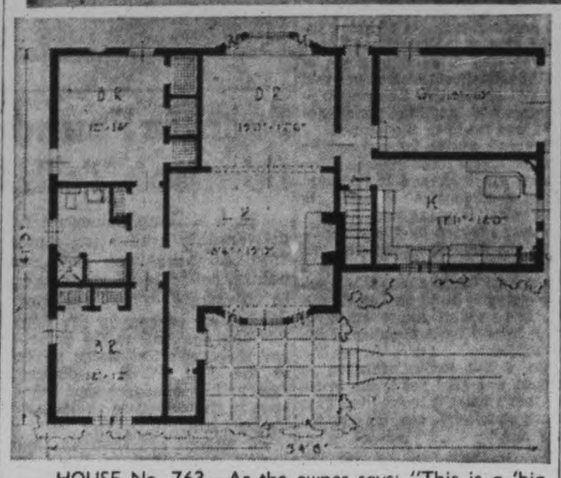
Keeping Out

Throwing the "eggs" with him that night were Cpl. Raymond Dundury, Ville La Salle, Que., Pte. Noel Pelletier of Montreal and Pte. J. P. Charrette of Point Claire, Que.

Forty cases of grenades were tossed, right down on the platoon's wire, over which the Communists were advancing.

Said Lieut. Walter Nash of Ottawa, commander of the platoon:

"They're much better at such close quarters—they don't give your position away when you throw them."



There was the devotion of Pte. B. Asselin of Quebec, sent from Liboiron's headquarters to Nash's platoon "loaded like a mule" with needed oil, rifle flannel, water, two cases of grenades, and a bren gun.

"I might as well take a double load, I mightn't make it a second time," he had said. It took him four hours, uphill, through both Communist and Commonwealth artillery fire, to reach the platoon with his 175-pound load.

He stayed all night, taking the place of two dead and two wounded men, manned a bren gun position, and in the morning carried down on his back the body of one of his comrades.

They're a tightly-knit crew, the men of the Van Doos' "D" company and a modest one.

HOUSE No. 763—As the owner says: "This is a 'big little' house where you find no small cluttered rooms to give you claustrophobia. It's a versatile plan to fit your moods whether for informal or formal living and entertaining." The owner also points out that the large kitchen is planned to save steps, with cupboards galore: The large living and dining area has picture windows facing in two directions. For combined outdoor and indoor living there is a spacious terrace with easy access through the back hall to the garden. This house is located on a large corner lot. It contains about 24,000 cubic feet. For working drawings, write Home Building in Canada, 372 Bay St., Toronto.

Cluttered Kitchen Hinders Efficiency Of Homemaker

If your kitchen becomes cluttered and you spend undue time keeping it orderly, the fault probably lies in the kitchen itself, rather than in you or your work habits. Even the most efficient homemaker can't function smoothly if her kitchen "lets her down" because of inadequate or badly located storage space.

Extra storage for the extra supplies needed by today's homemakers can be provided in nearly any kitchen. Here are some suggestions:

1. An additional shelf built in below present wall cabinets will take care of spices, juice glasses and even small cans. Only 15 inches of space is needed between wall cabinets and the workspace under them, so don't let additional area go to waste if you can use it in this way.

2. If your kitchen sink has a drainboard at only one side, consider building a base cabinet at the other. Finishing the cabinet countertop with a waterproof material such as clay tile will provide a work surface which can be easily cleaned and won't be damaged by hot dishes.

3. The space beneath the sink can be turned into valuable storage space. Don't just hide it with a "skirt," but instead have it boxed in so that you can build two or three shelves in the enclosed area.

4. A floor-to-ceiling cupboard can be built into as little as a foot of waste space beside the kitchen range. It's a wise idea to finish the side next to the range with fireproof clay tile, which won't be damaged by high temperatures.

5. A table on wheels or casters will greatly simplify meal preparation in a poorly arranged kitchen. You can assemble materials on it, use it as a work surface and later wheel supplies back to their storage spot.

6. If there is really no space for extra cupboards and cabinets, you can relieve congestion by storing in the basement or garage such little-used equipment as the roasting pan for the Thanksgiving turkey.

7. Keep supplies to a working minimum.

8. Rearrange equipment and supplies so that all items are near the point of first use and can be returned quickly to their right place.

Tanks Backed Up Van Doos In Fierce Chinese Battle

By BILL BOSS

WITH THE CANADIANS IN KOREA, Dec. 8 (CP)—D Company of the 2nd Battalion Royal 22nd Regiment, had plenty of support in its epic Nov. 22-26 defence of the saddle between hills 227 and 355.

The stand denied the Communists possession of a ridge determining the security of the United Nations front west of the Imjin river.

It was made under the most tremendous shelling ever experienced by Canadian troops in Korea, and, on one front or another, under almost continuous attack by Chinese troops in anything from company to battalion strength.

Right in the perimenter of the company, commanded by Major Real Liboiron of Windsor, NS, and Ponteix, Sask., were four tanks of the Lord Strathcona Horse, commanded by Lieut. Doug. Smith of Montreal.

Saved Day

His Shermans, in virtual back-to-back positions, fired at the peaks forming either extremity of the ridge. "Without them we couldn't have held," said Liboiron after the battle.

Liaison between Liboiron and Smith reached such a pitch that tank fire was brought down on targets within 10 seconds after they were indicated by the major.

The tanks' fire was credited with breaking off within two minutes a Communist assault that overran a platoon commanded by Lieut. Raymond MacDuff of Lacolle, Que.

Attacking in three waves, with burp guns first, then soldiers with carpets to lay a path over the platoon's wire defences, followed by other troops whose job was to watch for those ahead to fall and then grab their weapons and follow through, the Chinese swarmed into MacDuff's position "like a bunch of animals."

Brought Down Fire

One Canadian on the verge of shell-shock broke and made for Liboiron's headquarters where the major wrang from him the vital news that the position had gone and immediately brought down concentrated tank fire on it.

It all happened within two minutes. Within another two, Smith's fire had sent the enemy charging back into the curtain shells the major had next ordered.

Directly supporting the Van Doos were the guns of the 2nd Regiment Royal Canadian Horse Artillery, commanded by Lt.-Col. Geof Brooks, Shilo, Man.

Maj. Herb. Baker of Picton, was constantly with Lt.-Col. Jacques Dextraze, commander of the Van Doos, and directly firing the guns.

On one day alone the RCHA sent 6,000 shells down upon the attacking Chinese while throughout the operation almost 25,000 were poured down by the division.

9,500 Bombs

The battalion's mortars under Capt. Charles Forbes of Matane, Que., fired almost 9,500 bombs in two days—an almost unheardof number.

At one point during the battle Forbes' mortars fired 700 rounds in 20 minutes, then had to ask the artillery to take over so that the red-hot mortar barrels could cool off.

Brooks' guns at the height of the Van Doos' stand fired their shells within 45 seconds of target indications

So quickly was ammunition used that Maj. Charles Hamilton of Brandon, Man., senior administrative officer of Brig. J. M. Rockingham's headquarters, had to dispatch convoys far down into the rear areas to bring it forward.

Commanders of the other Lord Strathcona tanks supporting the Van Doos were Lieuts. Strathcona Macdonald, Vankleek Hill, Ont., and Lorne Glendinning of Vancouver.

Wireless Signals Spanned Atantic 50 Years Ago

By KINGSLEY BROWN

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Dec. 8 (CP)—A December breeze will probably sweep across nearby Signal Hill next week, just as it did 50 years ago when a frail Italian flew kites from its lofty summit.

On Dec. 12, 1901, the Atlantic winds gently swayed a box kite that trailed 400 feet of copper wire to a telephone receiver held by Guiglielmo Marconi, wireless telegraph inventor.

The hill hasn't changed much since then. It still is the barren knoll that rises 600 feet from the Atlantic, about the nearest geographical point on the North American continent to the British Isles.

But Marconi, the mysterious little man who kept apart from Newfoundlanders and conducted his experiments in secrecy, proved on that day that trans-Atlantic electric wave telegraphy was feasible.

He convinced learned men, single-handed and unaided, that intelligible signals could be sent through space without intervention of a conduction medium. Scientists confidently declared at that time that wireless waves, over long distances, would not follow the curvature of the earth.

Marconi's actual work was not known until it was completed. The general opinion at the time was that Marconi was attempting to contact a vessel that was to pass Newfoundland.

He knew his experiment had been successful when he heard a pre-arranged morse signal from Poldhu wireless station, 2,000 miles across the ocean in Cornwall.

Marconi's Story

In Marconi's own words:

"It was about half past twelve, I remember, when quite unmistakably three faint clicks in the telephone sounded several times in my ear. I listened again and again; but I wanted corroboration.

"I turned to my assistant: 'Can you hear anything, Mr. Kempt' I asked, handing him the telephone. He listened and heard it too.

"On the following day the signals were again heard.

"The great experiment had succeeded."

Marconi, winner of the Nobel Prize, Italian marquese and senator, president of the Royal Academy of Italy, died in Rome July 19, 1937 at the age of 67. His last inventions were for short-wave focussed radio beams; his last public service, the Vatican's earth-cirling short-wave broadcasting station.

Prominent Role

Canada had a prominent part in the development of wireless telegraphy. It was the first country to give real financial backing to the Italian inventor.

When Marconi found he could not build a permanent station in Newfoundland because of some agreement between the colony and cable companies, he came to Sydney, NS. There he became acquainted with Alex Johnson, who took him to Ottawa. After talking to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, then Prime Minister, and Finance Minister Fielding, he came back to Cape Breton with $80,000, more than enough to build at Glace Bay the first permanent trans-Atlantic wireless station.

Stations Established

In 1904, the Canadian government gave Marconi permission to establish stations along the Canadian sea coast as far north as Labrador.

The first ship to be equipped with wireless was the Canadian cable vessel, MacKay-Bennett, owned by the Commercial Cable Company and stationed at Halifax, NS. The Bennett is better remembered for her part in rescuing survivors of the Titanic.

At the time when Sir Thomas Lipton was sailing the first of his "Shamrocks" in an attempt to bring the America Cup to England, Marconi had a wireless set placed on the cable ship through an arrangement with James Bennett of The New York Herald.

The Bennett transmitted a hitch-by-hitch account of the sailing classic's progress to the newspaper, giving it a clean beat over its competitors. The apparatus remained aboard the ship and was later replaced with more modern equipment.

It was finally stowed away in an old locker—and forgotten.

The Canadian author, Thomas Raddall, today has the detecting device of Marconi's wireless set in the study of his Liverpool, NS, home.

Raddall, one-time wireless operator on the Bennett, heard that the history-making set was "somewhere aboard ship." With the bosun's assistance he found the apparatus, by then showing signs of age and misuse.

He kept the detecting device as a souvenir of Marconi, the world's first wireless operator.

December Fun In Planning For The Christmas Season

By NANCY CLEAVER

The Christmas month is the time for mysterious secret activities but there are two projects which can be carried out openly in the home. The production of Christmas decorations and the designing of Christmas cards are family affairs.

In order to keep the Christmas tree's needles fresh, the lower trunk should be in a pail of water or moist sand. Two or three small wires attached to the wall from half way up the trunk are a great help in preventing it from tilting or falling over. With these precautions, the tree can be put up several days before Christmas. Then the children can have all the joy of trimming it with their own decorations as they make them.

These may supplement the precious heirlooms which are put away in boxes in the attic. But perhaps even these could be fixed up a bit! The angel at the top of the tree might look a lot nicer with some fresh tinsel on her wings.

Watch For Danger From Fire

A brand new star covered with tinfoil, and a flock of little stars and bells might make their appearance. Popcorn and macaroni strings can intermingle with the red or green tissue paper "ropes". Rosettes and cardboard bells can all be made by small fingers. Mother and Dad must watch, however, that there is no danger from fire from defective wiring of lights or tissue paper too near a hot bulb.

The centre pieces for the dining room table may be arranged around a small mirror which suggests a frozen pond. Absorbent cotton makes excellent drifts and tiny twigs of evergreen can become miniature evergreens. A little child (with just a small amount of assistance) can construct a tiny red cardboard house or church. Plasticine figures or those carved from soap may be made, or paper mache used for Santa with his cardboard sleigh.

Red construction paper or cardboard forms the base for many children's Christmas cards. The very little folk can use blunt scissors and cut out and paste scenes from last year's cards. An older child may want to draw his own design, using crayons or paints. Silhouette cards in two colors can be most attractive. Block printing with a potato or a linoleum block is a card project an older boy or girl will enjoy who has a flare for art.

Wise parents provide materials for home activities not only at the end of the year but in other seasons too. They know how much satisfaction can be derived from making things with one's hands. Christmas means to much to the child who has had a creative share in the family's preparations for this joyous festival. Be sure you and your children do not miss out on this December fun!

Canadian Stocks Attract Buyers In US

By DICK BAIDEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

United States and Canadian stock market investors took another look this week at two Canadian 'blue chips' and decided to buy.

New York demand for Canadian Pacific boosted the stock $5 on the Toronto market. Trading on both exchanges was active.

Closely linked to the rise in Canadian Pacific was the $10 jump of Consolidated Smelters. Canadian Pacific controls about 51 per cent of Smelters' Stock.

Observers saw CPR's advance as a result of renewed interest in oil potential on its land holdings. Another consideration was increased revenue from Smelters' extra dividend. Most professionals credit reports of a five-for-one split in Smelters' stock for most of the stock's rise.

Although trading in both issues was limited fairly closely to portfolio and institutional buyers, the public did participate in more speculative issues.

Daily Turnovers

Kelore—a gold prospect—and Mid-Continent, a western oil, showed daily turnovers between 500,000 and 1,000,000 shares. Both stocks climbed strongly earlier in the week but lost some of their gains in late profit-taking.

Traders who last week forecast a rising market in keeping with the traditionally strong year-end, saw the week bear out their predictions.

Toronto prices climbed irregularly in the most active trading since the second week of October. Daily volume averaged almost 3,000,000 shares.

Firm Advance

Toronto started slowly Monday but closed with a firm advance. Prices pushed higher in Montreal. Both Canadian markets closed higher Tuesday in steady trading. Toronto made little headway Wednesday while papers and industrials strengthened in Montreal. Late strength accelefated Toronto's advance Thursday while Montreal prices moved steadily upward. Toronto's early strength weakened throughout the day while papers and industrials strengthened in Montreal.

New York moved upward Monday and continued the climb Tuesday. Selected issues were in demand Wednesday. Rails took over to lead the advance Thursday and held their leadership Friday.

From Friday to Friday the Toronto Stock Exchange indices showed industrials at 5.97 at 344.27, golds up at 82.79, base metals up 4.83 at 193.64 and western oils up 2.63 at 126.15.

In Montreal banks were up .01 at 30.04, utilities at .1 at 85.6, industrials up 9.3 at 228.7, combined up 6.3 at 181.0, papers up 25.11 at 804.37 and golds up .99 at 68.15.

In New York the Associated Press average of 60 stocks climbed $1.70 to $98.50.

IN A CAST from knee to head, Agnes Rose, 15, of Peterborough, carries on with her Grade IX English while a patient at the Toronto General hospital. She is aided by regular visits from her teacher, Mrs. K. C. Siddall. Agnes must remain in cast for another four months.

Young Patient In Hospital Studies Grade IX Course

Agnes Rose, 15, of Peterborough is one of the many patients in Toronto General hospital who is going to school.

Agnes went to the Toronto hospital September 25 to undergo an operation for curvature of the spine. The operation is expected to take place soon.

However in the meantime the 15-year-old girl is in cast from head to knee and is missing precious time away from school.

To make up this lack of regular schooling, for Agnes and many more patients in similar positions, a staff of three teachers is employed at the hospital helping these youngsters continue their studies.

The school started on Oct. 1950 and the first year had 27 pupils enrolled.

Agnes is taking the same subjects at the hospital school as she would take in Grade 9, Peterborough collegiate. She does her homework in the morning if she feels well enough and sometimes does a little at night.

The only difference between this school and the one at home is that the teacher conducts class at Agnes' bed and the amount of work she does is determined by her health.

The Peterborough girl will remain in a cast for four more months. She was to have had her operation two weeks ago, but her father Thomas R. Rose died and the operation was postponed.

Agnes' has three sisters, Mrs. L. Boorman (Anne), Quebec City; Florence and Barbara, at home; and three brothers, Thomas, Eastburn, Sussex, England; William and Gerald of Peterborough.

The Peterborough Rotary Club is assisting in making possible the corrective surgery which Agnes needs.

TORONTO, Dec. 8 (CP)—Alfred P. Greene, 39-year-old former school teacher, Friday was remanded to Dec. 10 on a charge of non-support of his wife and four children. Bail was set at $2,000. Crown counsel Arthur Klein said that Green intended to plead guilty to the charge. Greene and Mrs. Beatrice Reason, a former pupil of Greene's were arrested in Chicago Nov. 15, 15 months after Greene's blood-spattered car was found in a Toronto ravine. Police said the fake murder scene was staged to cover Greene's flight to the United States with Mrs. Reason.

Slansky Inquiry Prelude To Czech Purge

LONDON, Dec. 8 (Reuters)—Prague radio Friday announced a widespread purge of Czechoslovakia's Communist Party after the discovery that the former deputy-premier, Rudolph Slansky, now in prison accused of treason, was about to flee to the west.

The radio said party "reorganization" would extend through provincial and regional bodies as well as the "highest organs." The purge was decided upon at a meeting of the Communist Central Committee and cabinet ministers, Thursday.

President Klement Gottwald, who also is party chairman, told them there is "irrefutable proof" that Slansky, relieved of his post as party secretary-general in September, was preparing to go to the west with the help of "imperialist spies."

He accused Slansky of trying to set up a "second centre of party leadership" and promoting a conspiracy within the party to promote the activities of various subversive groups.

No Proof

Gottwald said that when Slansky was relieved as secretary-general of the party because of "incorrect cadre and organizational policy" there had been "no proof that Slansky himself was an enemy of the party and of the state."

During the investigation of various conspiratorial groups new facts emerged which showed Slansky had played an active part in the anti-party and anti-state plot connected with the activities of Otto Sling, "the traitor and spy" who was principal secretary of the Communist Party organization in Brno, Moravia, when arrested last fall, he added.

The radio said the party central committee unanimously approved the measures against Slansky and voted to expel him and a woman member, Jermila Tuassagova, from the party.

The radio said a number of members of the central committee had admitted they were at fault in not unmasking Slansky's subversive activities earlier.

Gottwald said enemy agents were still at work seeking to "bring back the capitalists' paradise and with it the proletarian hell."

The radio said a new commission was formed for party control and the secretariat and presidium of the party was enlarged.

Hampered Slightly By Clothes Lili St. Cyr Gives Jury Rough Ide a Of Bathiub Act

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Dec. 8 (AP)—Hampered slightly by clothes, statuesque Lili St. Cyr gave an eager jury a rough idea of her controversial bathtub scene right in the middle of court Friday.

Lili went through the motions in her French blue tailored suit.

She demonstrated—with no visible bumps or grinds—how she gets out of the bathtub in her night club act. The bathtub was purely imaginary.

On cross-examination, Prosecutor Bernard Gross made a big point of asking the stripteuse where people's exhibits A and B—a brassiere and silk panties—were during the various phases of the act. Lili indicated people's A and B were just where they should be, and firmly under control.

The prosecutor said that before getting into the bath, Lili did a revealing twirl in a sheer, split negligee.

"Yes, but I always had people's A and B on," pouted Lili.

Miss St. Cyr is defending herself, against charges of an indecent performance at Ciro's night club Oct. 19.

The trial was adjourned until Monday.

Liberals Fail Discuss Leader

TORONTO, Dec. 8 (CP) — About 70 Liberal candidates in the Nov. 22 provincial election met in caucus at Queen's Park Friday and voted unanimous confidence in and thanks to Walter Thmoson, Ontario party leader, for his "splendid effort and leadership" during the campaign.

Eight Liberal candidates were elected to the legislature, with Premier Frosts' Progressive Conservatives taking 78 seats. Mr. Thomson suffered personal defeat.

The questions of house leadership in his absence and of the possibility of an elected member giving up a seat to him were not discussed Friday. Farquhar Oliver, house leader since his resignation as party leader, remains in that position.

Ross McEwing, member-elect for Wellington North, said four hours of "general discussion of the situation following the election" took place behind the closed doors of the opposition lounge. Party leadership may be discussed at the Liberal party annual meeting next year.

Use New Ship On Seaway Chevrier Says

OTTAWA, Dec. 8 — (CP) — Transport Minister Chevrier said Friday the St. Lawrence waterway will bring development of a new type of combined iron ore-grain carrying ship, two of which already are under construction in Quebec yards.

He gave no other details to the Commons, except to say the ship would be designed to carry iron ore on the westbound journey through the waterway and grain on the eastbound journey.

The minister said whether Canadian or American ships carried the majority of iron ore would be up to the mine owners in Labrador. He believed they would try to get Canadian ships if they could.

Howard Green (PC, Vanocuver Quadra) said the Labrador iron deposits are being developed mainly by American capital.

The result probably would be that there would not be a great deal of business for Canadian ships or Canadian crews and consequently not much work for Canadian shipyards.

Being Optimistic

Julian Ferguson (PC, Simcoe North) agreed the minister is being optimistic. The government should adopt a policy that would keep the shipyards busy in both peace and war, but apparently the minister could not understand this.

"Nor do I now," interjected Mr. Chevrier.

"I can understand that," retorted Mr. Ferguson, "because the minister always thinks he is right. No one else can interject any constructive observation."

He said the minister was "too close to the seaway—he should step back a little." Or perhaps it was just that the minister "has been here too long."

CELEBRATING THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING Friday were Mr. and Mrs. Amos F. Strong, who live south of Millbrook near Carmel. Railroading, lumbering and potato farming have taken up much of 72-year-old Amos Strong's life, and today, he and his two sons are farming about 300 acres on three separate farms south of Millbrook.—(Examiner Staff Photo).

Millbrook Couple Married 50 Years, Run Family Farm

Fifty years of railroading, lumbering and farming are packed into the memories of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Strong, whose 50th wedding anniversary was celebrated Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Strong—she is the former Lena Thorn—were married in the parsonage of Cobourg Methodist church on December 7, 1901.

"When we were married I was firing for the Grand Trunk out of Lindsay, right along that line," said Mr. Strong, pointing to the remnants of the Millbrook-Port Hope line to the east.

Moved To Farm

The railroading lasted only for one year, he said. There was nobody left to run the family farm south of Millbrook near Carmel, and Mr. Strong and his bride went there.

Off and on since then, Mr. Strong has worked in the lumbering business, staying with it until four years ago, when he started potato farming in earnest.

For quite a few years, he was camp foreman for the Peterborough Lumber Co., working out of Catchacoma, Apsley, Garden Hill, Keene, and several other places in Northumberland county.

It was in Northumberland county, at a small place called Rosevear's north of Cobourg, that Mr. Strong said his gang cut some of the largest timber that came from this district.

There were pines 115 feet high and four feet, four-and-a-half inches through at the stump. And there were oaks, not nearly as high, but a full, solid three feet in diameter. "We took off 445,000 board feet from that place," said Mr. Strong.

Four years ago, when Mr. Strong and his two sons, Wilmot and Melville, started potato farming, the Strongs had 16 acres in spuds, and took 3,000 bags off the land.

Three Farms

At present the three Strongs—both sons live at home—have 110 acres on the homestead, another 200 west of the home farm, and a third farm of 100 acres nearer Carmel.

The Strong home is of brick that was once in the original home, which burned in the 1920's. A winding dirt road leads off the second concession south of Millbrook to the house.

Off to the southeast, the Strongs have a clear view of dozens of the Northumberland and Durham county hills.

Looking it over, Mr. Strong said he thought he was good for a few years yet.

The following were elected: president, Judy Hobbs; vice-president, Helen Wright; secretary, Mary Mosher; treasurer, Lenore Ouellette; World Friends secretary, Nancy Powell; book and chair committee, Judy Gilbert, Jane Ouellette and Glenn Fallis.

Janet Hobbs closed the meeting with prayer. Helen and Bernard Ingham passed home-made candy

Mrs. N. Blakely Havelock W.A. President

HAVELOCK, Dec. 8 (ENS).—The Christmas meeting of the Women's Association of Havelock United Church was held in the Sunday school auditorium on Thursday afternoon with the largest attendance on record. The vice-president Mrs. Harry Agnew presided.

The nominating committee comprising Mrs. F. Chase, Mrs. H. Gerow, and Mrs. H. Jewett presented the slate of officers for 1952 to the Rev. R. G. Newman who conducted the election. The following are the officers:

Honorary presidents, Mrs. C. H. Roberts and Mrs. R. Easterbrook; past president, Mrs. F. Chase; president Mrs. N. Blakely; first vice-president, Mrs. H. Agnew; second vice-president, Mrs. W. Forsyth; secretary, Mrs. W. Nobes Sr.; treasurer, Mrs. H. Gerow; pianist, Mrs. R. G. Newman; east end group leader, Mrs. C. Anderson; west end group leader, Mrs. H. Hubble.

A splendid financial report showed that much work had been accomplished and a substantial balance was on hand. During the year $450 had been given to the managers which included donations to the installation of a new furnace in the parsonage and also the payment of new floors in the front rooms of the parsonage and a donation of $100 to the thankoffering.

A donation of $50 was made at the meeting to the missionary and maintenance fund and a donation of $25 to the Victor Home at Toronto.

December 16 was set as white gift Sunday when donations for the Christmas cheer boxes will be received at both services. Any gifts over the requirements for the local work will be sent to the Fred Victor Mission.

Mrs. W. Smith conducted the worship period with Mrs. H. R. Haacke reading the scripture lesson and prayer being offered by Mrs. W. Forsyth. A vocal solo was sung by Mrs. J. E. Corneil, who played the accompaniment on her autoharp.

At the conclusion of the program there was an exchange of Christmas gifts and lunch was served. Yuletide decorations made a beautiful setting for the event.

Millbrook WMS Gives Projector

MILLBROOK, Dec. 8 (ENS)—The Women's Guild of St. Thomas' Anglican Church met on Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. D. R. Fowler.

The devotional period was conducted by the president, Mrs. Fred Lowery, and Mrs. H. A. Turner, the secretary, read the minutes and called the roll. There was a good attendance.

The secretary also gave the annual report which indicated the past year had been a very satisfactory one.

Mrs. T. A. Campbell, treasurer, gave a detailed financial report, and stated that there was a satisfactory balance on hand.

By a unanimous vote, it was decided that the Guild should purchase a projector and donate it to St. Thomas' Church.

The secretary was asked to send Christmas cards to all the sick and shut-ins of the parish, and a list was made.

Mrs. Lowery, the retiring president, thanked the members for their co-operation during the seven years she has been in charge. She then turned the chair over to Mrs. A. A. Chote for the election of officers, when the following were elected: president, Mrs. P. E. Hamilton; vice-president, Miss Ellen Kent; secretary, Mrs. H. A. Turner; treasurer, Mrs. T. A. Campbell; executive committee, Mrs. Charles Brackenridge, Mrs. F. Lowery, Mrs. Wm. Hutchinson and Mrs. Howard Lancashire.

Refreshments were served by the supper hostesses, Mrs. Lancashire and Mrs. Hutchinson, and a pleasant half-hour followed.

MUSIC FESTIVAL ADJUDICATORS for the 1952 festival in Peterborough, sponsored by the Kiwanis club, are shown ABOVE. They are Alex Redshaw, English adjudicator here in 1949, Ronald Biggs, well-known in the UK as a composer-conductor, and Miss Irene Fairclough, LRCT, of the Hamilton Conservatory. Seven hundred copies of the 1952 syllabus have already been mailed to eastern Ontario centres.

List Of Festival Events Mailed For Music Contests

The sixth annual Peterborough music competition festival preliminary activities are well under way today with 700 copies of the 1952 syllabus in the mails. These programs came off the press this week and were immediately mailed to centres throughout the festival area, west to Toronto and east to Kingston.

Letters have been enclosed with all syllabuses sent to service clubs, church choirs, and schools.

Adjudicator Returns

The 1952 festival has the added attraction of the return of the English adjudicator, Alex Redshaw, who proved so popular when he adjudicated the first Peterborough festival in 1946.

Mr. Redshaw has had a lifelong interest in competitive festivals, and has been adjudicating at festivals in England, Scotland, and Ireland for many years.

He is the conductor of the Redshaw Singers, a group of 24 professional and semi-professional vocalists who broadcast frequently in the programs of the BBC. He also conducts the Grimsby Philharmonic Society which has a chorus of 250 voices and since his last visit to Canada has been appointed conductor and artistic director of the newly-formed Lindsey Opera Company.

Second Adjudicator

Ronald Biggs is the second of the three adjudicators who will be at the Peterborough festival. Mr. Biggs is well known in the United Kingdom as a composer-conductor. Until recently he was organizer of music programs for the BBC. He still does considerable work with the company. He has been director of music in several schools and in 1937 was director of the Rural Music Schools Council. In October he conducted some performances of Benjamin Britten's work, "Let's Make An Opera."

Miss Irene Fairclough, LRCT, of the Hamilton Conservatory, will be the adjudicator for the verse, choral and public speaking classes. Miss Fairclough has had a great deal of experience adjudicating at festivals and also plays. She has been associated with the Tampa, Florida, Little Theatre and the Little Theatre at Los Gatos, Long Beach, and was assitant director of the annual pageant there. She is a member of the Hamilton Players Guild, and has appeared with them in many productions.

Mr. Redshaw will be adjudicating all entries for the Lincoln Trophy. This trophy is awarded for the best adult choral performance in festivals across the country at which Mr Redshaw adjudicates.

Blind From Birth Gets Assoc. RCMT Chosen Organist

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Dec. 8 —(CP)—Anne Gray of Westport, about 40 miles northwest of here, last month received her associate of the Royal Conservatory of Music of Toronto diploma. Today she was engaged as organist and choir leader at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church in Prescott.

It was a particularly important occasion for Anne. She has been blind for all of her 23 years.

She spent years of intensive study and memorization in becoming an accomplished pianist and organist. Her courage and determination were recognized by the Prescott churchmen who confirmed her appointment before the stipulated trial period had been completed. She will also teach a piano class in the St. Lawrence river town.

DOROTHY DIX

Woman Must Fill Gap Left By Only Child Who Weds

DEAR MISS DIX: Would you please try to set me straight and tell me what's wrong with me, because I really need help.

My daughter was married recently; she is an only child. She has a wonderful husband, beautiful home, is happy and I'm happy for her, and that's what I always prayed for.

Dorothy Dix

But now what I can't understand is why I'm so down in the dumps. I do nothing but cry and miss her so badly that it is affecting my health. I want her here all the time; she comes when she can but doesn't stay too long as she has her own work to do. I always have the feeling that she just doesn't want to stay. I have a wonderful husband who loves me dearly, and for his sake I want to snap out of this mood. Do you think I can get over it?

C. B.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: I can assure you this mood will pass, but you must help yourself a little. Missing your daughter is—a perfectly natural reaction, shared by almost every mother with a married child, especially if the child is the only one. With the incentive of a wonderful husband to care for, you'll come out of your melancholy soon. Naturally, your home will never be the same as it was before your daughter married. That's too much to expect, and is part of life. New homes, new families must be established, while the old homes are left a little barren.

She Is Busy

Don't worry over your daughter's short visits. This phase, too, will pass. Right now she is in the midst of setting up a new home—the largest and brightest toy she has ever owned. It is only right that she should be preoccupied with it.

While you wait for the loneliness to lessen, why not devote some time to outside activities that will benefit both you and your community? If you keep busy enough, you won't have time to cry. So much work is needed today in youth groups, civic betterment, Red Cross, volunteer hospital work and so many, many other movements, that you could be kept constantly busy. Don't neglect your home or husband, but do ally yourself to some organization that needs you much more than you need them.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a young girl of 16, a sophomore in high school. I am about average in looks and have a good personality.

My problem is that every time a boy asks me for a date he tries to paw me. I don't know what to do. Should I quit dating boys or keep dating them and try to keep them in their place?

PAULINE D.

ANSWER: Keep dating, but let the boys know there are certain things you won't tolerate. The word will get around fast enough that you're particular about your date's behavior. From then on the boys will date you with due realization of what is expected of them.

Don't lower your standards! If you set a pattern by which your friends must be governed, their respect and admiration for you will be in the upper brackets. Trying to be a "good sport" according to the code set by every boy you meet will result only in cheapening yourself, spoiling your reputation and, in time, warding off all the nice boys you'd really like to date.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am just past 20, and am engaged to be married shortly. I have known my fiance several years. I love him but at the same time am thrilled by attentions from other boys. I still would like to go out with other boys. This attitude scares me. My fiance has hurt me many times in the past; could this have anything to do with my attitude?

Y. E.

ANSWER: Your fiance's past thoughtlessness and your reluctance to settle down to one man certainly should be conclusive evidence to you that you aren't ready for marriage. You had better call off, or at least postpone, the wedding until you are more sure of yourself and your future husband.

What's Right?

Just after acknowledging an introduction, it dawns on you that you have met the person before.

WRONG: Feel it is too late to show that you remember having met the person.

RIGHT: Say something like: "I believe we met at the Carter's."

Readers' Column Conducted By Mary Moore

QUESTION: I enjoy your writing very much. I am a bride and I read everything carefully and clip for fututre use. Could you please give me a recipe for cooking rabbit? My husband is an avid hunter who likes to bring the game home. He has promised to clean the rabbits, if I will only find out how to cook them. —Jay.

ANSWER:

Roast Rabbit

Ask your husband to keep the heart and liver. Simmer these until tender and chop and add to the stuffing along with the liquid in which they were cooked. Stuff the rabbit, which should be young for roasting. Sew up opening. Tie or fasten legs close to body. Place on side in roaster. Roast at 450 deg. Fahr. for 15 minutes, turning once and basting frequently with melted butter or bacon drippings. Reduce heat to 350 deg. Fahr. and continue roasting for 1½ hours, basting every 15 minutes. Make gravy by stirring together flour and water to a smooth paste and stirring this into the drippings in pan.

Stuffing for Young Roast Rabbit: 1 small onion, 3 tablespoons butter, 3 cups soft breadcrumbs, 1 teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon poultry seasoning.

Young rabbit may be used almost in the same way chicken is. It lacks fat and this always has to be added. You can use rabbit for a deep rabbit pie with pastry or biscuit crust, or for a stew with dumplings using exactly the same recipe you would use if it were chicken. If you do not have these write to me again.

QUESTION: I always look at your column . . . Years ago I remember we steamed our Christmas cakes at home. We finished them off in the oven. I see you say to have a water pan in oven and keep adding water as it boils away. I wonder what you would think of the steaming and finishing off in the oven, and how long would you steam and finish off? I'll have to try your plan on an ordinary fruit cake,—M. McN.

ANSWER: Splendid. Steam large cake 4½ to 5 hours. Bake 1 hour at 275 deg. Fahr.

QUESTION: Would you please tell me the trade name for Monosodium Glutamate used for flavoring wood.—Ann J. O.

ANSWER: I am sure you mean for flavoring food, not wood. In Chinese stores ask for "White Seasonings"; in ordinary grocery stores ask for "Ac-cent."

QUESTION: Could I please have some information regarding Emem's dark rich fruit cake. I made this once but it was rather light in color. Would cutting down on the citron peel do this? Could more cherries and nuts be added and less citron? My family does not like peel in cake. What makes the cake crumble when cut? I have never made many fruit cakes but this one. I am sure they would like it very well at our house because they love cherries.—Mrs. M. C.

ANSWER: The one thing that worries me in your letter is that your cake was crumbly when cut. When you store your cake wrap it in several thicknesses of heavy wax paper, then in a heavy Turkish towel then put it in a covered crock or tin box with lid. This cake contains plenty of moisture—especially if it is baked in an oven with water pan kept filled throughout baking time. It should not crumble when cut.

Yes, substitute cherries and walnuts for all of the citron. To make the cake darker add from ½ to 1 teaspoon each cinnamon, and nutmeg and from ¼ to ½ teaspoon each cloves and allspice. To make the cake darker still use part dates for some of the materials substiuted for the peel.

When you want quick answers to your questions regarding Christmas recipes, be sure to enclose stamped self-addressed envelope.

Gifted Violinist Started As Child On Music Career

TORONTO, Dec. 7— (CP) — Betty-Jean Hagen has fudge - brown hair with matching eyes. And she can't remember when music wasn't "a part of my life."

At 21, this tall—she's five feet 7½ inches—Edmonton-born violinist has behind her more successful concerts than many a musican twice her age Now she is starting a two-month tour of Europe.

This isn't her first visit overseas. In London and Paris she is due to play in halls where she has appeared before. Paris she particulaqly remembers because it was there last June that she won the coveted Pathe Marconi prize for 1951. She was the first Canadian to do so.

"The entrants came from all over the world and there were 15 or so judges," she said in a recent interview. "Competition was very keen and French audiences are quick to show whether or not they like the performer."

How does a musician get started? At 3, Betty-Jean was hiding behind the swing-doors in the family living-room imitating her older brother as he practiced his singing.

"I couldn't speak very well but I got the rhythm," she recalled.

Concentrated On Violin

A couple of years later she was winning prizes at Alberta music festivals—for her singing. But by the time she was 10 she began to find studies which included piano and violin lessons a little too strenuous. She gave up the piano and turned her attention to the violin.

Betty-Jean has all kinds of regrets—for the things she would like to do but hasn't been able to find the time.

She likes dancing and confesses she was never interested in jazz music until she learned to "understand" it in modern dancing.

She likes to paint but there has only been time for that when illness has prevented her from playing.

"When I used to be laid up with chicken-pox or something as horrible I would get out my brush and paints and go to it," she said. "I was in my hey-dey."

Riding is a favorite sport and she's looking forward to some of that perhaps next summer, engagement-book permitting.

Cooking and sewing? She has not had much time for the former but has found it "lots of fun" when she has tried it. She prefers to leave any sewing to her mother although she likes designing clothes.

As for marriage, that will have to wait.

"Oh yes, I have thought of it," she admits. "But there's still lots of time and I am still very young—and there is so much to do."

6—In Memoriam

DOXSEE—In loving memory of my dear daughter, Helen Ferguson, who passed away Dec. 9, 1947.
Since you've gone first and I remain
To walk the road alone,
I live in memories' garden, dear,
With happy days we've known.
I hear your voice, I see your smile,
Though blindly I may grope,
The memory of your helping hand
Still buoys me on with hope.
We've known so much of happiness,
We've had our cup of joy,
And memory is one gift of God
That death cannot destroy.
—Just a memory but, oh, so dear, so sadly missed, still loved and remembered always by her dear mother.

DOXSEE—In loving memory of a dear mother, Mrs. Helen Doxsee, who passed away Dec. 9, 1947.
Beautiful memories, dearer than gold,
Of a dear mother whose worth can never be told.
Alone unseen, she stands by my side
And whispers "Don't grieve, death can never divide."
Deep in my heart the memory is kept
Of one I love and can never forget.
And though the years be many or few
I will always be thinking, dear mother of you.
—Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by her daughter Marlene.

DUNFORD—In loving memory of our dear grandma, Mrs. Joseph Dunford, died seven years Dec. 9.
Dear Grandma you are not forgotten
Though on earth you are no more,
Still in memory you are with us,
As you always were before.
—Never to be forgotten by grandchildren Art, Garnet, Roxie Downer.

So Many Questions in the Public Mind!

We are sure of only one thing ourselves. That is that used car prices are about as low now as they can get. This IS a GOOD time to buy a better car. Prices always go up in the Spring, and if production cut backs occur, its not hard to figure what will happen to used car prices.

MEYER ON TRIAL—German General Kurt Meyer is seen as he entered the Nuremburg, Germany, court room to face charges that troops under his command murdered 18 Canadian prisoners during the Second World War. Meyer was convicted, sentenced to death but the sentence was commuted to life imprisonment. He served part of his sentence in Canada, then recently returned to Germany. When he was allowed to visit his home interest in his case was aroused in Canada. This photo is from private collection of Lt.-Col. Bruce Macdonald of Windsor, one of the trial prosecutors.

Cars Crash On Hunter, Damage Reaches $450

A two-car accident at Hunter and Mark streets just before midnight Thursday resulted in damage estimated at $450 to the two vehicles involved.

As he entered the intersection, James D. Hay, 155 Hunter St., east, who was travelling east on Hunter St., said a westbound car made a left hand turn into Mark St., and the two cars collided.

The Hay car was damaged to the extent of $275 and damage to the other car, driven by Lawrence H. Davidson, 78 Sophia St., was estimated at $175.

Constable William G. Scott investigated.

Lindsay 'Musketeers' Face Damage Charge

LINDSAY, Dec. —Dubbed "The Three Musketeers" by Magistrate E. A. Gee, three men were charged in Lindsay court Friday with wilfully damaging the plate glass windows of a Lindsay fruit market.

Two of them face the additional charge of creating a disturbance and the third is charged with being drunk in public. Two of the men are from Little Britain, the third is from Lindsay.

E. Penrose Leads

Elsie Penrose rolled high three of 670 this week in the Mercantile Bowling League for girls, as Harold Cawker led men with 783, including a single of 301. Irene Penrose hit 282 for best girls' single. Loblaw's led the teams with pinnage of 3026. Bond's blanked Braund's No. 2, and whitewash was applied by Braund's No. 1 over Prudential. Utilities beat Crowe's 3-1, and Loblaw's won 3-1 from Austin's, as Neill's broke even with A & P.

Utilities and Loblaw's are now tied atop the heap with 30 points each, one more than Braund's No. 1. Next is A & P with 25, as Prudential and Crowe's are tied with 21 each, followed by Neill's with 20, Bond's 17, Austin's 16, and Braund's No. 2 with 11.

public is going to feel that I had plenty of reason for doing so."

Ald. Graham said he had heard that a new man was supposed to sit and listen for the first year.

"I wasn't put in there as a figure head, and I notice that Ald. Rehill isn't afraid to speak out. But, I am not saying that there really is any feeling of that kind in the council.

"I asked questions in council. I want the answers. If the council doesn't want me to be answered let them say so out loud.

"I want to know who's running things if I'm going to stay there. I've given this a lot of thought, and when I was completely ignored by a committee on which I was a member, what would you do? Take that kind of slight?"

Success Founded

wanted to write and he finally arrived.

"Athletes who do not look to their books or a trade, are liable to have an unhappy time later in life," he warned, "as people soon forget." He then rhymed off the names of some of the football greats of Queen's golden era in the early 20's when the tricolor ran up a string of 26 straight victories and won the Grey Cup in 1923. "Batstone, 'Pep' Ledley, McKelvey, and all the others . . . immortals, whose athletic prowess is still lauded wherever Queensmen gather. They have all succeeded in life," added Mr. Edmison.

"In every single case, they did not rely on their athletic ability alone," which he said is "one of the tragedies of high school athletics."

Cites Failure

By contrast, he cited another well known athlete, famous in his day as a hockey and football star who would have been voted, among the first to succeed 25 years ago, but is down on his luck today, his failure being primarily due to his concentrating solely on athletics, the speaker said.

Referring to a girl's name entered in the book, he said, "she was the flightly sort. If she could find a better date than you, you were out. She is now on her third divorce," he added.

Another of the fairer sex, "who always did everything well," is now chairman of the board of education of an eastern Ontario city.

Professor Charles E. Hendry, recently appointed director of the school of social work of the University of Toronto, replacing the late Dr. Henry Cassidy, was another name quoted by Mr. Edmison.

Helping others was the motto he entered in Mr. Edmison's autograph book. "He had his eye on the mark 30 years ago and is today the number one man in social work in Canada."

Waving a letter which he said he had received from an inmate of a US penitentiary, Mr. Edmison said this man could speak five languages but "with all his fine equipment, lacks a sense of moral values. You can roll into bed on a quotation of Latin and rise on a verse of Greek, but a man with a sense of honor is a far better citizen.

"Aim to be friendly," he advised. "Weigh yourself carefully. How do you match up in the realm of friendship," he continued, adding that a man's success in life was largely measured by the number of friends he accumulated during his lifetime.

All young people need "a basic objective in life" he said and "any chap who wants to earn his way through college under the present set-up can."

Get Birthday Off

SOUTH ORANGE, NJ, Dec. 8 (AP).—South Orange policemen from now on will get a day off on their birthday, Chief Byron Fitzsimmons said the men had put in extra time without complaint throughout the year. He added: "I thought it would be a nice gesture to give them their birthday off as a holiday in return."

Youth Ordered To Leave Girl

COBOURG, Dec. 8 —(ENS)— Fred Cavannaugh, Jr., of Cobourg, was given suspended sentence for one year when found guilty Friday of contributing to juvenile delinquency. The 20-year-old accused had been keeping company with a 15-year-old girl and yesterday she was transferred to the jurisdiction of the Children's Aid Society. Under the terms of the suspended sentence bond, Cavannaugh is to stay away from the girl for a period of one year but may correspond with her, their letters going through the Children's Aid Society. Magistrate R. B. Baxter pointed out that if he imposed too drastic restrictions it might have the opposite affect to that desired.

Newton Morton of Oshawa, charged with causing a disturbance in Hope township on December 4, was remanded for one week and bail was set at $1,000. Morton had been having trouble with his wife and was directed that, if bail was secured, he was to stay away from her. Crown Attorney Harry Deyman informed the court that there was an application before the county judge to have Morton committed as an alcoholic. Mr. Deyman said that if Morton was released on bail it should be required of him to stay away from his wife as he had "frightened her out of her wits."

Remanded A Week

Ralph Post and Russell McGregor of Brighton pleaded guilty to stealing $21 from a cigarette machine in a Brighton service station on August 4. They were remanded a week for sentence.

Homer and Carl Grosjean of Hilton pleaded not guilty to a charge of theft of four batteries from the service station of C. S. Fife on November 25 in Murray township. The accused said that the batteries were old and that in driving the man who had the batteries, to sell them, they were not aware that the items had been stolen. Magistrate R. B. Baxter dismissed the charge after giving the pair the benefit of the doubt.

Crash Damage $265

Damage to one car was estimated at $200 and another car was damaged to the extent of $65 when one car slid into the rear of the other on Lansdowne St., at High St., Thursday night. Lawrence Gerhlan was driving slowly east on Lansdowne St., in a heavy fog and a car following, driven by Robert Crowther, 128 Marmora St., Trenton, believing Gehrlan's truck to be stopped was unable to stop in time to avoid a collision. Approximately $200 damage resulted to the front of Crowther's car, and $65 to the rear of Gehrlan's truck. Constable William G. Scott investigated.

124th Class Receives Graduation Diplomas At Commencement

Peterborough's 124th class of secondary school graduates was honored Friday night when diplomas, scholarships and prizes were presented to the 1951 graduates of PCVS at the commencement exercises in the collegiate auditorium.

In a brief outline of this history o secondary education in the city, dating from 1827, C. S. Browne told the assembled graduates and parents that education is a co-operative enterprise. Its success depends on parents, teachers and students all working together in the best interests of the students said Mr. Browne.

Touching on the same theme, valedictorian Donna Munro cited the opportunities and advantages provided by collegiate education — extra - curricular activities, learning to work with others and a chance to attain a measure of maturity by putting latent talents to work. "We owe much of our success in all these endeavors to the interest and co-operation of our teachers," she said.

Commencement is by tradition, a time for looking forward to the future with high expectations, continued Miss Munro, who achieved the highest marks of the 1951 Upper School graduates in the June examinations.

In a sweeping tribute to the teachers and educational facilities of PCVS, she said "We enter the wider sphere of citizenship at a time when not only our city but also our country is experiencing a period of unparalleled expansion. There will be ample opportunity for us to apply and appreciate what PCVS has taught us."

Annually, for the last three years, the graduating class has presented the collegiate with a painting by an outstanding Canadian artist.

On behalf of the 1951 graduates Mary Craw, president of the 1950-51 student council presented a Landscape in Algoma, painted by Lauren Harris, leading Canadian artists and one of the Group of Seven of famous Canadian painters.

In describing the work of Mr. Harris, she said, "he shows liberalism and integrity in his work, whether he is doing a painting of a northland scene or a philosophical abstraction."

Pointing out that through these annual gifts, PCVS "now has a nucleus of an outstanding collection," Miss Craw expressed the hope that "future councils will continue to add to this collection."

Dr. Ralph Honey accepted the painting on behalf of the Board of Education and thanked the students for their contribution to the cultural life of the school.

"The board feels proud of the aid it has given in the promotion of music, art and drama in high and public schools," said Dr. Honey.

He concluded his remarks with a prediction that in a decade or two, a small symphony orchestra will be adding to the cultural life of the city.

Of the 42, students who passed their Grade 13 examinations this June and the 151 Grade 12 graduates, 123 were present and filed across the platform to receive their diplomas from Dr. Ralph Honey. B. W. Switzer, Director of the Industrial and Home Economics Departments, assisted Dr. Honey.

Scholarships and prizes were presented by: Mrs. J. B. Bell and Stanley Adamson of the board of education; Miss D. M. White, head of the languages department of PCVS and Robert Maybee, member of the advisory vocational committee of the board of education.

The PCVS Concert band under the direction of Arthur Croasdale played four selections before the start of the exercises: "The Thunderer," by the master march composer, John Philip Sousa, a tone poem, "Finlandia," by Jean Sibelius; "The Shrine of Saint Cecilia," by Jokern and another march, "Scipio" by Handel.

Loses $12,000

VANCOUVER, Dec. 8 (CP)—A young garage worker testified Friday in police court that he lost $12,000 to city bookmakers in less than six months. Robert Falconer, 25, was a prosecution witness at the bookmaking conspiracy preliminary hearing of 34 persons. Falconer said he inherited $40,000 from his father's estate in February, 1950, but dropped the money playing the horses, "gambling" on oil stocks and playing poker.

Hans John, 20, was jailed for three years for "spreading tendentious rumors."

Werner Lettau, 20, was given 30 months for "betraying professional secrets"—telling Jaenichen how East German President Wilhelm Pieck is guarded.

He said he told Saunders that New York could and would co-operate fully with Ontario in the power project as soon as the US federal government granted it authority to do so.

Burton said Saunders had come to Ithaca to report Ontario's and Canada's determination to go ahead with construction of a seaway and power project in the St. Lawrence river and to determine New York's present position.

Dollar Rise Boosts Demand

NEW YORK, Dec. 8—(AP)—A steady rise in the value of the free Canadian dollar at New York was attributed Friday to demand for Dominion currency to purchase Canadian securities.

The Canadian dollar was quoted at 97.88¾ cents in relation to the United States dollar in New York today, a rise of 1¼ cents over the 96.43¾ of a week ago.

Banking circles said the demand was created especially by purchase of Canadian dollars to buy subscription rights or securities of Imperial Oil and Canadian Pacific Railway.

They explained that these purchases must be made in Canadian funds.

The Canadian dollar was set free to seek a level governed by supply and demand in October, 1950. The recent increase in value is one of the largest since it was freed of any restrictions.

The fixed rate prior to October, 1950, was 90.9 cents in relation to the United States dollar.

The first day of free trading wound up with a closing price at New York at 94.43 cents.

Inflation Affects Arms Plans

US Defence Heads Fear Situation May Become Worse

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. — (AP) — The defence department says the rearmament program has been hit hard by inflation and the situation may get worse

In a report released over the weekend covering the fiscal year ended last June 30, the department said that "almost $2,000,000,000 out of every $10,000,000,000 authorized for procurement and construction were lost due to the marked increase in prices since the spring of 1950." And at another point the report said:

"In the months ahead, inflation is likely to become a very disturbing factor in the defence program. It must be contained to enable the American people to maintain an adequate level of military preparedness."

Other Examples

Among other examples, the department cited the inflation of food prices. The cost of the daily meat ration rose $52.47 per man per year.

The report was written by Gen. George C. Marshall before he retired as secretary of defence last September.

Saying that the rearmament program "constitutes the absolute minimum essential for national safety," he cautioned that world conditions might compel an upward revision.

The report covered only the fiscal year 1951—the first full year of the Korean war.

No Details

It spoke of progress made in development of new models of atomic weapons but did not discuss the details.

It also commented that experiments at nuclear-weapons proving ground on Eniwetok Island in the Pacific had "contributed to the research on thermo-nuclear weapons." A thermo - nuclear weapon would be a hydrogen bomb.

The air force indicated that, among other projects, it has developed a guided missile for the protection of long-range strategic bombers—a weapon which could augment or replace the standard machine guns and cannon armament of the atomic bomb carriers.

Didn't Say Goodbye

LUDINGTON, Mich., Dec. 10. (AP) — Sheriff Edward Anderson walked into the jail Sunday carrying breakfasts for his three prisoners. A lone prisoner boomed a merry good morning and said: "Shucks, sheriff, you didn't have to bring three breakfasts. The other two left."

Thousands Left Homeless By Bad Typhoon

MANILA, Dec. 10. (AP)—A raging tropical typhoon ripped through the central Philippines today. It killed at least 14 persons, left thousands homeless and wrecked millions of dollars worth of crops and buildings.

As the 125-mile-an-hour storm churned into the Sulu Sea, Associated Press correspondent Frank A. White reported from Cebu City on Cebu Island, that at least 12 persons were dead and hundreds homeless.

White said virutally every building made of light materials was partially wrecked and many large structures lost roofs or sustained other damage. Cebu bore the brunt of the storm.

The Philippine News Service reported two persons killed and 17 injured at Iloilo, on the southern tip of Panay Island west of Cebu. The news service said thousands were homeless.

On Negros Island, between Cebu and Panay, the news service estimated property damage in Bacolod City at a quarter million dollars and said 2,250 were reported homeless.

Casualties Heavy

Radio communications with most of the devastated central islands were disrupted. Authorities feared casualties would be heavy.

Some 85 miles south of the typhoon's path, dying winds and quieter seas permitted rescue vessels to resume evacuation of 22,000 rain-soaked, frightened refugees from Camiguin Island, where Hibok Hibok volcano continued to spout molten rock and ashes.

First Officer G. Hernandez of the Philippines Air Line, who flew to Manila from Cebu Monday, said people there told him many fishermen were killed by the typhoon.

Heavy rain accompanying the typhoon winds sent huge landslides of lava roaring down the slopes of Hibok Hibok volcano. Authorities feared towns on the of ashes, would be buried by north side of Camiguin Island, already covered by a deep blanket slides.

Mossadegh Will Punish All Rioters

Many Iranians Seek Sanctuary In Parliament Bldg.

TEHRAN, Iran, Dec. 10. — (Reuters)—The Iranian senate, convened in secret session, today heard Premier Mohammed Mossadegh pledge that those responsible for recent riots in Tehran will be punished.

As he spoke the number of persons seeking sanctuary in the Majlis (parliament) chambers rose to 50. They are newspaper editors and Majlis representatives who say they had been threatened by "government gangsters."

Today they decided to send a petition to the Shah, declaring that public order was breaking down and urging him to take steps to restore it.

Senate Called In

The senate was called to discuss the riots, which reached a peak Thursday with eight dead and 250 injured.

Meanwhile Iranian oil officials, seeking outlets for the product of their nationalized oil industry, said they have worked out a plan for payment through barter.

Abbas Mazda, information officer for the industry, also said Iran is willing to accept on a short-term basis a "mixed board of supervision" consisting of Iranians and representatives of the world bank.

(London reports said the world bank had suggested it become trustee of the oil industry, at a standstill since the nationalized Anglo-Iranian Oil Company withdrew its employees.)

Agree On Commission

PARIS, Dec. 10 (AP). — A high diplomatic source said today the western powers and Russia have agreed on formation of a disarmament commission to consider east and west plans for arms reduction and atomic controls. The diplomat, who would not permit use of his name, said agreement was the only important concrete result of the long secret talks of the big four powers on disarmament. He said it appeared that the western plans for arms limitation and reduction plus the Soviet version of disarmament plans would be put before a commission next spring with instructions to start work on drawing up proposals.

Negotiators Told Quit Stalling

UN Officer Waits In Panmunjom For Red Answer

MUNSAN, Korea, Dec. 10.—(AP)—Allied truce negotiators today demanded that the Communists quit stalling on a United Nations proposal to begin immediate discussion of plans for exchanging prisoners of war in Korea.

The Reds were told that an Allied liaison officer will be in Panmunjom at 10:30 am Tuesday (8:30 pm EST Monday) for their answer. And a one-man UN subcommittee will be ready to start negotiating for the exchange of prisoners 2½ hours later.

Joint sub-committees working on arrangements for enforcing a Korean armistice met only 41 minutes Monday. They quit as far apart as ever but they scheduled another session for 11 am Tuesday (9 pm EST Monday).

While the Allies moved to force a decision on the prisoners-of-war issue, Communist negotiators insisted the UN answer their proposal for behind-the-lines inspection by representatives of neutral countries.

Under Serious Study

They were told the matter still is under serious study because of its many ramifications.

Nuckols, said it was evident the Communists are determined to get an answer on their supervisory commission proposal before discussing prisoners of war.

The UN command has no intention of stalling on a reply, he said. "But it is a radical departure from basic military concepts of security for a commander to entrust the security of his forces to another. That is why the matter is being studied so carefully and meticulously."

Nuckols insisted the conference has not reached a hopeless deadlock. He acknowledged, however, that the situation has not changed in several days and said the UN command feels the next move is up to the Communists.

He also said a Communist refusal to discuss at once the prisoner question will not cause a breakdown of the conference.

The truce delegations have only 17 more days to agree on all terms of an armistice if the provisional cease-fire line is to become permanent. If the Dec. 27 deadline passes without an armistice a new line will be drawn just before final agreement is reached.

Three Children Die In Fire, Mother Absent

HONEY HARBOR, Ont., Dec. 10 —(CP)—Parishioners of Our Lady of Mercy Church today planned a special meeting to aid the family of Mr. and Mrs. David Rice, who lost three children Sunday when flames destroyed their partly-completed frame house.

Peter and Paul Rice, 16-month-old twins and their sister, Mary, four months, died in the fire. It when Malcolm Rice, 4, stirred up the fire and sparks caught on tar was said to have been caused paper covering the wall.

Mrs. Catherine Rice, the mother, was away from the house at the time. The congregation of the church ran to the fire but no water was available nearby.

Three Children Escape

Three Rice children escaped. David, 5, Bobby, 3, and Malcolm. Annabelle Rice, 6, was in church at the time.

David Rice, 30, a Marine fireman, was notified of the tragedy aboard his ship, the New York News in Lake Michigan. He said he would fly home to be with his family.

Honey Harbor is 45 miles north of Barrie. Our Lady of Mercy parishioners plan a fund-raising campaign to replace the Rice's $6,000 home. Meanwhile the family is staying with Mrs. Rice's mother, Mrs. Thomas Toby.

Canada To Pay Increase In Share Of UN Budget

PARIS, Dec. 10. (CP)—Canada today accepted a slight increase in her contribution to the United Nations budget but called for readjustment next year. Maurice Bourget, Liberal member of parliament from Levis, Que., and Canadian delegate to the UN, said Canada hoped that Soviet bloc states would pay more toward operation of the UN in view of their claims to improved economic conditions within their borders.

Canada agreed to pay 3.35 per cent of the UN budget compared with 3.30 per cent or $1,404,810 last year when the total budget was $42,570,000.

The United States asked for an immediate cut of her share and ran into vehement opposition from the Soviet bloc.

Asks Reduction

US delegate John Vorys suggested a reduction from 36.90 to 33.33 per cent, arguing that no single country should be asked to pay more than one third of the costs for running the world organization in normal times.

J. E. Chtcherbatyouk of the Soviet Ukraine, attacking the US proposal, said the US contribution "should not be reduced but on the contrary considerably increased."

He complained that the "current trade policy of the United States and its embargo on trade between the United States, the Soviet Union and the people's democracies" was making it very difficult for the Soviet bloc to earn dollars.

Say US Chinese Paid $5 Million

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP)—A treasury official estimated Sunday that a Chinese Communist shakedown racket has extorted $4,000,000 to $5,000,000 from Chinese residents of the United States. The treasury announced it is prepared to recommend fines and imprisonment for persons who send money to China in the hope of saving relatives threatened by the Chinese Reds. They would be prosecuted under the Trading With the Enemy Act, which provides penalties up to 10 years' imprisonment and $10,000 fine for each illegal remittance.

The treasury official, who declined to be named, said individual demands ranging from $500 to $10,000 had gone to "thousands" of Chinese in this country. He estimated the extortion payments in New York City and San Francisco aggregated $1,000,000 each.

Say Tax Justified

HONG KONG, Dec. 10 (AP) — The Chinese Reds, in one of their few comments on the ransom demands that have outraged overseas Chinese, Saturday represented the scheme as a "well-justified" tax, rather than extortion.

The pro-Communist Hong Kong paper Wen Wai Pao gave its explanation in the case of Chu Hsun-chang.

Chu, a resident of Canada (address not given), asked the Communist regime of Kwangtung Province to investigate why his family in Kaiping had been assessed 1,000,000 Red dollars.

Wen Wai Pao said an investigation actually was made, and it was found that Chu inherited properties in 1948 "with the assistance of his feudalistic influence" and "without the consent of the masses."

It said the Communist Farming Association in his home town had demanded that "rice exploited by Chu be reimbursed."

REPULSE ATTACKS

SAIGON, Indo-China, Dec. 10 (AP). — The French high command announced tonight that French and Viet Nam troops have repulsed a series of attacks by Communist-led Vietminh forces 30 miles northeast of Hanoi.

Lawson To Continue As Lieut.-Governor

OTTAWA, Dec. 10 (CP). — Hon. Ray Lawson has agreed to continue for an indefinite period as Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, the Prime Minister's office said today.

A spokesman said Mr. Lawson had been asked to continue for a time "until a suitable successor can be found." His appointment for a five-year term, dates from Dec. 26, 1946.

A number of names have been mentioned in the capital as possible successor to the 65-year-old Lieutenant-Governor. They include L. O. Breithaupt, 66, Liberal member of parliament for Waterloo North and Walter Thomson, 56 Ontario Liberal leader defeated last month in the Ontario election.

Calgary Expects Have Heavy Vote

CALGARY, Dec. 10 (CP)—Favorable weather and the past record were seen as indications of a possible heavy vote in today's Federal by-election in Calgary West.

The weather was mild and sunny. A high of 45 degrees was forecast. All country roads in the riding were in good shape.

In the last vote in Calgary West—the 1949 general election—27,054 of the 38,231 eligible voters cast ballots.

Again it is a three-way fight between the same parties. The candidates are 37-year-old oil expert Carl Olof Nickle, Progressive Conservative; retired school superintendent Dr. Frank Gordon Buchanan, about 65, Liberal; and Arthur Johnson Dixon, 32-year-old real estate man, Social Credit.

In the 1949 election, Progressive Conservative A. L. Smith, first elected to parliament in 1945, polled 11,457 votes to 8,619 for C. C. Matthews, Liberal, and 6,785 for Social Crediter Mr. Dixon. Mr. Smith resigned last summer due to ill health.

Egypt May Sever Diplomatic Relations

CAIRO, Egypt, Dec. 10 (AP)—Egypt's government today considered severing diplomatic relations with Britain following levelling of an Egyptian village by road-building British soldiers.

The Acting Foreign Minister, Ibrahim Farac Pasha, said, a decision will be made soon. The cabinet held two lengthy sessions Sunday but a spokesman said only that Anglo-Egyptian relations were discussed.

In the Suez Canal zone, British sources announced that two of their soldiers were stabbed, beaten and killed and a third was critically wounded in Ismailia's Arab quarter Saturday night.

Polite Bandits Rob Bakery Of $100 Loot

KITCHENER, Dec. 10 (CP)—Polite, considerate—and nervy—were the five masked bandits, one carrying a machine-gun, who robbed Weston Bakeries Limited here early today of $100.

The five trussed up three employees and blasted open a vault and safe to get the money.

The employees, Theodore Wofenberg, 59, Elmer Hill, of St. Jacobs, Ont., and Lyle Gole, 18, of Mannheim, Ont., said the robbers were pleasant.

After tying the men up, they forced two to lie on the floor, first putting cardboard down. They even put down a bag of flour so the two cold rest their heads. The third was placed in a chair.

"Don't worry," one of the robbers said, "we don't want your money. We just want an honest dollar of the company's money."

Missed Good Bet

Officials said that if they'd blasted open a safety box inside the safe they would have obtained several thousand dollars.

As the robbers worked on the safe Gole's mother arrived outside to drive him home. When the thugs decided they'd better bring her in and tie her up also, Gole said: "Don't touch my mother." The robbers agreed. One of them went out to the car, posing as a worker.

"Your son has gone downtown with a friend and will be home later," he told Mrs. Gole. Unsuspecting, she drove off.

The workers were found by an employee reporting for duty.

Explorers Reach Orinoco Head

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 — (AP) —A cable message reading "greetings from the headwaters of the Orinoco river" Sunday night signalled the first penetration by explorers into the interior of the Southern Venezuelan jungles.

Ever since Sir Walter Raleigh first tried in the 16th century, explorers have been stopped from reaching the Orinoco headwaters by mountainous gorges and insect-infested terrain.

The conquest of the 1,500-mile-long Orinoco was announced here by Charles B. Hitchcock, explorer and Venezuela expert for the American Georgraphical Society.

Hitchcock said the eight-word message was sent by Dr. Jose M. Cruxent, director of the Museum of Natural Science at Caracas and Ethnologist on the expedition.

The message indicates, Hitchcock said, that the expedition had required five weeks to travel on the Orinoco up the river and across 70 miles of hitherto-impassable terrain.

Boasts He's Tougher Than Billy Cook

YUMA, Ariz., Dec. 10 (AP).—A youthful gunman who boasted he is "tougher than Billy Cook" kidnapped a young couple near here and headed for the California border, the sheriff's office reported.

The kidnapping was reported to Sheriff James Washum Sunday night by a Casa Grande, Ariz., garage mechanic, James E. Beaird.

Beaird said a young man flagged him down while he was delivering a car, pulled a gun, robbed him of $36 and forced him to drive 135 miles across the Arizona desert.

Twenty-two miles east of here the gunman saw a young couple in a car parked by the roadside and ordered Beaird to halt. He climbed in the other car and ordered the pair to start driving toward California, Beaird said.

The gunman displayed a wad of bills he said he got "from other jobs like this." And bragged that he was tougher than Billy Cook.

Trapped Hours By Cave-In Man 51 Brought Out Alive

PENDLETON, Ore., Dec. 10 — (AP).—A 51-year-old rancher, trapped for 18 hours in a 15-foot well while heavy digging equipment churned about him, was broughtt o safety today.

At the Pendleton hospital where he was taken after the dramatic rescue in sub-freezing temperatures, doctors described his condition as "good."

The rancher, Norman Vina Ford, 51, was pinned to the well bottom with his foot under a plank when the walls caved in at 2:30 pm EST Sunday. At 8:30 this morning, he was lifted to the surface.

For the last hour, rescuers dug with small shovels and their hands to free the trapped man's feet, one of which was caught under a plank.

Earlier, bulldozers and heavy diggers gouged a hole 40 feet wide in the back yard of the Ford home.

The walls caved in Sunday when Ford and his 18-year-old son were digging the partially-completed well.

Ford was at the bottom when the wall collapsed.

Ford's son Leon, who spent seven harrowing hours down in the four-foot-wide hole bracing a section with his back, was the hero of the rescue. He jumped into the hole to try to dig his father out when the walls collapsed.

Neighbors were summoned. Together they dug to the trapped man's knees. But a second cave-in buried Ford to his neck. Leon noticed that still another section was about to give way. He braced against it, and held the wall back as he continued slowly to dig to relieve the pressure on his father.

Heavy equipment was moved in from nearby. Hermiston where McNary dam is under construction. Rescuers forced a corrugated iron pipe into the hole about 9 pm.

Then the bulldozers went to work, digging a wide pit around the tube.

An ambulance stood by all afternoon and through the night and a doctor supervised piping oxygen down into the hole.

The doctor said Ford suffered no apparent injury, but said he was worried about pneumonia setting in. Leo suffered from mild shock.

No Settlement In Sight For Ford Dispute

WINDSOR, Dec. 10 (CP)—Today, a week after it began, no settlement appeared imminent in the strike which has idled 10,000 Ford of Canada employees.

The company announced during the weekend that it will pay a $35 advance on wages earned by 9,000 hourly-rated production workers during the period Nov. 25 to Dec. 1. Under this arrangement, more than $300,000—about 80 per cent of wages due—will be paid the men Thursday and Friday.

About 1,200 salaried office employees, sent home when the strike began, are getting full pay.

Freezing Gales Lash Southern California

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 10—(AP) Freezing winds of up to 75 miles an hour shrieked across Southern California today, imperilling lives and crops.

Long stretches of highway were closed. All but the largest vessels were warned off the seas. Airports were closed. Power lines fell, plunging cities into darkness.

Two young students in a skiff were believed blown out to sea in the Malibu area.

Gale-whipped desert sands scoured the paint from automobiles in the San Bernardino area. In the San Fernando valley, palm trees were stripped of fronds.

Crop damage was believed high but there were no estimates of cost yet.

Boy 7 In Bush For 24 Hours

STURGEON FALLS, Ont., Dec. 10 (CP)—Seven-year-old Roland Mayer didn't want to impose on anyone, but—

After being lost in the bush for 24 hours in 10 above zero temperature, he walked out Sunday and went up to the house of Gilbert Collins at nearby Cache Bay. He knocked on the door and asked if he could sleep there.

"I slept in the bush last night and I don't want to sleep there tonight," he said. Collins wrapped the shivering child in a blanket, fed him and called police.

His parents said he went to a theatre matinee Saturday and lost his way when he came out in the dark. He slept under a tree while snow fell.

Cache Bay is 51 miles east of Sudbury.

Extra Bang At Concert Not Orchestra Score

LIVERPOOL, England, Dec. 10 (Reuters)—Hugo Rignold lifted his baton Sunday night to unite the Liverpool Philharmonic Orchestra for the last few bars of the overture to Mozart's opera "The Seraglio."

There was a tremendous crash not in Mozart's score.

At first Rignold glanced at the drummer to see what had happened. The next moment he was brushing powdered glass out of his hair.

The noise was a 1,000-watt electric light bulb bursting.

Snow Storm Headed For Eastern Ontario

TORONTO, Dec. 10 (CP)—Cold Arctic winds bearing snow were heading for Toronto today, and weather bureau officials said it should be snowing well here by Tuesday night.

An "advance bombardment" of hailstones "big as peas" fell on suburban areas this morning and most downtown areas had a brief shower of snowflakes that melted almost as soon as they hit the ground.

However, citizens are keeping their fingers crossed. Tuesday is the anniversary eve of "the big snow" of Dec. 12, 1944, when 20½ inches paralyzed the city.

Reject Russ Warning

TEL AVIV, Dec. 10—(Reuters)—Israel has rejected a Russian warning against joining the proposed Western Middle East defence command by pointing out that she has not been invited to join. The reply is reported to say, however, that Israel does not intend to take sides in differences between East and West.

Flier Confuses Himself, Police

DALLAS, Ga., Dec. 10. (CP)—A flier who was arrested for drunkenness after a plane crash Sunday has police more than a little confused.

Police Chief Lottie White says this is why:

"He missed the airport by nearly two miles. As a matter of fact, he was so drunk he didn't even know we had an airport."

He didn't have a pilot's licence. He didn't have a driver's licence, either.

He gave police the names of about 16 places as his hometown—changing his story each time he was questioned.

There was an open parachute jammed into the back of the plane and it was wet, but the pilot—Bob Cabaniss—had no explanation.

He suffered a gash on his forehead when the small plane plowed into a field.

Police are hoping he might clear up the story when he's sober.

Honor Provincial Policeman For Courtesy To Tourists

ALLIANCE, O., Dec. 10 (AP).—An Ontario Provincial Police constable will be honored with a special "international relations citation" by Mount Union College Dec. 14 for his service last September to three Alliance fishermen.

Constable Harvey L. Adams of Sharbot Lake, is the first Canadian constable to be recognized for outstanding service in international relations between the United States and Canada.

Last September, William H. Cracknell, J. L. Jarman and C. B. Alexander, all of Alliance, set out for a seven-day fishing trip to the Lievre River area of Ontario.

Between Peterborough and Ottawa, Alexander's car collided with another and was extensively damaged. The fishing trip seemed doomed. Constable Adams, who investigated the accident, offered them use of his new car for the trip. At first the surprised trio refused, but then accepted on Adam's insistence. Their trip successfully concluded, the fishermen returned the car.

Back in Alliance they told the story to friends, many of them from Mount Union College. College officials decided Adams should be honored.

As a result, Adams will appear before the Mount Union student body to receive the key to the city at a city-wide luncheon. He will also attend a private dinner party with the three fishermen he aided.

9 Minor Red Attacks Thrown Back By UN

SEOUL, Korea, Dec. 10 (A)—United Nations' forces threw back nine minor Communist probing attacks along the frozen Korean war front Sunday and today.

United States Eighth Army communiques reported no other significant ground activity.

A North Korean broadcast by radio Pyongyang said "On the eastern front our artillery is pounding enemy positions, inflicting serious damages on the enemy personnel and material." It added that a lull prevailed on the central and western fronts.

Say Truman Gov't Has Serious Corruption Worry

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP) — Many politicians are giving the Truman administration six months to clean house or face a presidential campaign in which government corruption charges will overshadow all other issues. With 11 months left before next November's election, Republican political strategists here believe that tax scandals may have more to do with deciding the issue than foreign policy, the Korean War or any other issue.

On the other hand, Democrats feel that a high level of prosperity, plus claimed popular support for the overall objectives of their foreign program will go a long way toward keeping them in power.

But they admit privately that unless some dramatic step is taken soon to counteract corruption charges levelled against administration officials they will be forced on the political defensive.

Must Act Soon

Democrats say they can make the corruption charges politically ineffective by acting soon to clean their own house. But most of them believe such action must be taken well before the party nominating conventions next July.

As 1951 nears its close the outcome of those conventions remains highly in doubt.

On the Democratic side there have been increasing small signs that President Truman doesn't intend to run again. If Truman wants it, he can have his party's nomination on a platter. If he doesn't intend to run, he probably can go a long way toward naming the Democratic nominee.

Chief Justice Fred Vinson, a crony of the President's, is looked upon in Washington as Truman's likely choice for the nominee if he doesn't run himself.

But there are some Democrats outside the Truman camp who would like to be president.

Friends are building up Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, former head of the Senate Crime Investigation Committee. Other possibilities are Senator Paul H. Douglas of Illinois, Governor Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, Governor Frank J. Lausche of Ohio, Governor G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, and Senator Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma.

Republicans Confused

If the Democrats are confused about their presidential possibilities at year's end, the Republicans are more so.

Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio now looks like the leading candidate in the number of prospective delegates lined up for him.

The shadow on the Taft candidacy, however, is that of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. Republican outsiders, who might be considered for the nomination in the event of a stalemate on a Taft-Eisenhower choice, are Governor Earl Warren of California, former Governor Harold Stassen of Minnesota. General Douglas MacArthur can't be counted out of the Republican picture despite his age and his disclaimers of any political ambition.

Canadian Dollar Hits High 98¼

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (CP) — The value of the Canadian dollar today reached the highest point since it was set free last year to find its own level on the world market.

At the opening of foreign exchange dealings here the Canadian dollar was worth 98¼ cents in terms of United States currency —a jump in value of 9/16ths of a cent from Saturday.

A steady rise in the dollar is attributed in banking circles to a heavy influx of United States money into Canada. There has been considerable purchase of Canadian dollars to buy securities of Imperial Oil Company and Canadian Pacific Railway.

Sucked Into Engine Suffers Black Eyes

GLASGOW, Scotland, Dec. 10 (Reuters). — A Canadian Air Force man was sucked into the jet engine of an F-86 Sabre fighter and emerged none the worse but for two black eyes, hospital authorities announced here Sunday.

The airman, LAC Albert Richards of Verdun, Que., stumbled as he walked past the plane, which was being warmed up for a take-off.

The tremendous suction of the jet intake pulled him off the ground and into the machine.

The pilot heard a thump and cut the motor. Richards was taken out unconscious but X-rays failed to reveal any serious injuries.

Norwood Board Names Principal For High School

HAVELOCK, Dec. 10 (ENS). — Trustee E. Hamblin stated at a meeting of the Norwood Area High School Board held in Norwood that he felt it would be of much assistance to the purchasing committee if the principal of the new school could be consulted from time to time regarding school equipment. As principal Breckon's term would be up at the end of June, Mr. Hamblin thought the new proncipal should be engaged as soon as possible. The Board adopted Mr. Hamblin's suggestion and J. H. Caskey, principal of Havelock High School was appointed as principal of the new high school for the Norwood area, effective September 1, 1952. Mr. Caskey was present and expressed his thanks to the Board for his appointment and offered his services to assist in obtaining equipment and also in procuring the necessary staff.

Trustee Hamblin reported the waterline was completed to the new school and also that the shop inspector from the Department of Education had suggested obtaining a shop teacher as soon as possible for the new school as they are scarce.

Mr. Hamblin said department grants are favorable in connection with shop work.

Trustee D. H. Walsh reported that the new high school building was progressing well. Ninety per cent of the brick work was done, a considerable portion of the floors were laid and the roof was partly on. He said that 60 desks had been ordered from a Hamilton firm and that the purchasing committee were proceeding to get prices on shop and home economics equipment.

Trustee C. A. Copp reported that the matter of getting deeds signed by the Public School Board had not yet been done. This is necessary as the deed of the school is under the name of the Norwood Board of Education and should be transferred to the Norwood District High School Board.

The grant form for 1951, showing a grant percentage of 80 per cent claimed by the Board was returned by the department with the percentage reduced to 75 per cent. This is due to a higher per capita assessment throughout the district in 1950.

Acommunication was received from W. J. Breckenridge, clerk of Asphodel, enclosing their levy of $4,064.55 for 1951 which is an overpayment of $58.95.

A communication was received from Elmore Cooper, clerk of Dummer township, showing the equalized assessment of Dummer to be $306,503. A letter of a similar nature was read from J. J. McCarthy, clerk of Otonabee township, giving their assessment as $524,541. These amounts are the basis for the 1952 levy.

E. J. Leeson, county representative of the Board, submitted his resignation dated November 21. Mr. Leeson said his resignation was made purely for personal reasons. The Board accepted it.

The Board extended congratulations and best wishes to the Centre Hastings District Board on the opening of their new school at Marmora.

Principal Beckon reported for the Norwood High School for November: enrollment 134, average attendance 125, school open 22 days, buses operated on time 22 days.

Principal Caskey reported for Havelock High School: enrollment 72, average attendance 68.4, school open 22 days, buses operated on time 22 days.

Mr. Breckon was allowed a grant of $20 for school awards and $100 to make necessary purchases for the school library. Mr. Casey was allowed a grant of $20 for school awards and $75 for purchases for the library.

Accounts amounting to $4,500 were passed.

Royal Family Plans To Spend Christmas In Country Again

SANDRINGHAM, Eng., Dec. 10 (Reuters)—The choir at tiny St. Mary Magdalene Church here is hard at work practicing carols to sing before the squire at Christmas.

The squire—King George—will spend his traditional Christmas on the Royal estate here.

Every one on the estate is getting ready for the visit, and the woodsmen are out looking for a suitable Christmas tree.

The usual Royal Christmas is an informal family affair. Shortly before Christmas, the Royal train brings the King and his family to the private station at Wolferton on the border of the Royal estate.

For two or three days the King walks round the estate inspecting stock and often stopping to chat with tenants in the country lanes.

Fix Up Tree

On Christmas Eve, the King, the Queen, the Princesses and the members of the household, put final touches to the Christmas tree.

Gifts are usually exchanged by members of the Royal family after breakfast on Christmas morning. Household staff receive their presents after the traditional turkey and Christmas pudding lunch.

In the morning the Royal family attend a service at the Sandringham church. Shortly after lunch, the King makes his annual radio speech to the Commonwealth and Empire.

After dinner, the Royal family gathers round a bright log fire to sing Christmas carols or listen to Princess Margaret play the piano.

The King and Queen have their own Christmas card, sending out several hundred each year to their friends. This year their card, also used by Princess Margaret, is a water color mounted on pastel blue, by John Nash. It shows Buckingham Palace, the King's London residence, in 1864.

Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh have their own Christmas card.

Stock Prices Ease On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, Dec. 10 (CP) — Steadily weakening mid-session support today eased early afternoon stock market prices from morning gains.

Industrials opened firmly and edged upward during the first hour. Miscellanoeus industrials posted a wide list of fractional advances to form the market's strongest section. Papers, agriculturers and textiles drew firm support while utilities, steels, foods, refining oils, banks and manufacturing companies held gains and losses in balance. Liquors and retail stores slipped while constructions dipped sharply.

Western oils and base metals showed scattered bursts of activity. Kelore, in the secondary golds was a standout as more than 140,000 shares changed hands.

Base metals reversed a slow climb. Consolidated Smelters lost most of a $4.50 jump while other market leaders — Waite Amulet and Falconbridge slipped fractions. Pend Oreille dipped sharply.

Western oils showed little trend. Anglo-Canadian, Home Oil, Jupiter, Long Island Petroleum, Mid-Continent and Royalite edged upward. Akalta and Security Free eased.

Senior golds posted six losses ranging from pennies to about 25 cents. Secondary issues made little headway.

Launch Big Ship In Big Snow Storm

MIDLAND, Dec. 10 (CP). — The SS James Norris, 664-foot queen of the upper lakes and St Lawrence Navigation Company fleet, was launched in a blinding snow storm at Midland shipyards today.

Snow-shrouded dignitaries who watched the launching included James Norris, Chicago grain magnate whose name the freighter bears; Hon. Ray Lawson, Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, and T. R. McLagan, president of Canada Steamship Lines.

Of the same dimensions as the CSL's Sir James Dunn, launched last week at Port Arthur, the James Norris is longer than any Great Lakes vessel of Canadian registry now commissioned.

Her over-all length of 663 feet, six inches, is 24 feet greater than that of CSL's SS Coverdale, which preceded her on the ways.

Identify Shoeless Hillbilly As Wounded 8th Army Vet

LONDON, Dec. 10. (CP)—Peter Grainger, the United States army's "shoeless hillbilly" was identified as a wounded veteran of Britain's Eighth Army who fought alongside Italian partisans after escaping from a German prison camp in the last war. The Sunday Chronicle published an interview with Mrs. Helen Grainger. She said she is the wife of the man who hoaxed the American army and who now is under treatment at the Sunnybrook Military hospital in Toronto.

Grainger broke into the news last month when recruiting officers reported he had joined the US army after a lonely life in the New Mexico hills. He walked out of the mountains barefoot.

Three weeks after he was inducted he disappeared and turned up later near Sudbury. An Ontario Provincial Police constable recognized him as the man who had disappeared from his forest ranger's post six weeks earlier.

Wartime Experience

His wife said in the Sunday Chronicle interview that Grainger's reported actions in the United States paralleled his wartime experience.

Mrs. Grainger said her 27-year-old husband had gone to Canada to try to make a home for his family.

His wife told the Sunday Chronicle:

"I read the story of how my husband behaved in America with tears in my eyes. What he did in Texas was almost identical with what he did in Italy during the war.

"He was in the Eighth Army and was wounded badly in the head. He escaped from a German prison camp. He was barefooted and secured a mule.

"Then he reached the mountains —mountains, I presume, like those in New Mexico. He joined the Italian Partisans and fought with them.

Arm Saved

He contracted gangrene in one of his fingers and left the Partisans and finally met a unit of the American Army. An American surgeon wanted to amputate his arm up to the shoulder but he begged them not to and finally went to a British hospital. His arm was saved.

"People mourn for the dead, but it is men like my husband they should mourn. His head wound resulted in his losing his memory," Mrs. Grainger said.

"That is what happened in Canada. He overheard a conversation that he was to be deported because he was unfit. He had gone to Canada in March this year to make a home for us. That is all he wanted—a home and job in the woods.

"It was quite obvious to me that the shock of having to be deported made him lose all sense of the present. He went to America (the US) and relived his wartime experiences."

Mrs. Grainger said she did not know what was going to happen.

"What is there back here for him if they send him back? His heart was set on making good in Canada.

"He is intelligent and well educated. I do hope that the Canadian authorities will give us a chance to settle in that wonderful country.

Eden Praises Canada's Support

LONDON, Dec. 10 (CP). — Anthony Eden today cited Canada's "inspiration of and support for" the North Atlantic Treaty Organization as a sure sign that the Atlantic Pact has no aggressive designs.

Stressing the essentually defensive nature of the Atlantic Alliance, the British Foreign Secretary noted that the original impulse for the pact had come largely from Canada and added that Canada now is taking a prominent role in discussions on the non-military side of the treaty.

Eden addressed an overflow luncheon given by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce in Great Britain. Among the guests were Lord Ismay Britain's new Secretary of State for Commonwealth Relations; L. B. Pearson, Canadian Minister of External Affairs; and L. Dana Wilgress, Canadian High Commissioner in London.

On immigration, he noted that Britain now supplied about 17 per cent of the new citizens going to Canada and said he wished the percentage of this movement "within the family" were a little higher.

Canada, Eden said, stands "only at the beginning of many and brilliant adventures."

Woman Pleads Guilty To Shoplifting Charge

Charged with stealing merchandise from a local department store Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Ann Tobin, Queen St., pleaded guilty in police court today.

The articles stolen were valued at under $25.

At the suggestion of assistant crown attorney Walter Howell, Mrs. Tobin was placed on suspended sentence for two years and signed a bond to keep the peace during the duration of the sentence. She was also ordered to pay $2.50 court costs.

Asked by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, what she had to say regarding the charge, Mrs. Tobin replied: "I don't know why I did it. I must have been very foolish."

"If there is any repetition of this you can't expect suspended sentence under any circumstances," she was warned by Magistrate Philp.

Plan No Action On Irregularity

TORONTO, Dec. 10 —(CP)— Chief election officer Alex Lewis today informed C. H. Taylor, CCF candidate in Temiskaming, that the action of a deputy returning officer in taking the ballot box to the homes of invalids Nov. 22 was "quite irregular" but did not warrant action under the controverted elections act.

The returning officer had closed a North Cobalt poll for half an hour while she and the scrutineers visited homes to collect the vote of those that were ill.

"It is quite obvious that a procedure was adopted which is not authorized by the act or otherwise," Mr. Lewis told Mr. Taylor in a letter today.

Mr. Lewis said that the situation had arisen through the ignorance of the DRO and from her failure to consult the returning officer.

"Fortunately it would appear that no voter was deprived of his right to cast his vote nor did this irregularity appear to affect the result of the election."

Dollar Down

MONTREAL, Dec. 10 — (CP)— The United States dollar today opened at 1⅛ per cent premium to the Canadian dollar, down ⅛ from Saturday's close. That is, it took $1.01⅞ Canadian to buy $1 American.

Rob Ava Gardner

LONDON, Dec. 10 — (AP) — A burglar took jewels worth more than $16,800 from the hotel suite of song star Frank Sinatra and his actress wife, Ava Gardner, police said today. The haul included a diamond and emerald necklace—Frankie's Christmas gift to Ava last year.

556 Stores Defy Bylaw, Remain Open

MONTREAL, Dec. 10—(CP)— City police today tabulated a list of 556 retail stores which Saturday defied a bylaw ordering them to close on holy days of the Roman Catholic Church.

The tabulation was in preparation for issuing summonses against the stores. The list will be turned over to city legal advisers for action.

In point of fact more than 556 stores defied the bylaw but police said they could not make cases against all stores which remained open because they didn't have enough men to do a thorough over-all job.

The majority of the stores open were in the English-speaking west end. The predominantly French-speaking east end was closed tight.

Members of a special police squad visited the stores making purchases and taking notes for court actions.

Inspector Jack Laviolette said he was not clear on legal action but believed all offenders would receive summonses to appear in Recorder's court this week. A conviction carries a fine of $40 and costs or two months in jail.

Won't Be Enforced

Inspector Laviolette said there was little likelihood a special clause of the bylaw—which says stores convicted on two infractions within a 12-month-period might be padlocked—would be enforced.

This clause generally applies to pool rooms, race betting establishments or gambling dens, police said.

On Saturday some 75 to 100 French-speaking students demonstrated in front of major retail stores which were open. The students, mainly from the University of Montreal, carried posters reading "Fermez Vos Magasins"" (close your stores). Some were shouting "the law is there for one and all."

Fists flew for a while as police elbowed the students from the stores and seized their placards.

Seven stores — Eaton's, Morgan's, Simpson's, Ogilvy's, Birks, Holt Renfrew's and Mappins—announced previously they would defy the bylaw in order to fight a test case before the courts.

115,000 Europeans To Migrate By 1954

BRUSSELS, Dec. 10 (CP).—A 23-nation committee was organized provisionally Saturday with the immediate goal of giving about 115,000 Europeans who want to migrate a chance to be in new homes by the end of 1953. More than one-third of the emigrants may go to Canada.

The United States is contributing $10,000,000 for administrative and operating expenses of the organization, called "The Provisional Inter-Governmental Committee for the Movement of Migrants from Europe."

The other nations jointly will be asked to put up $24,000,000. The committee will take over work done in the past by the International Refugee Organization, which is being dissolved.

About 55,000 persons would be moved from Germany in 1952 under the current plan. Others would come from Italy, Trieste, Austria, the Netherlands, Greece and Portugal.

Canada would take in 40,000; the United States 25,000; Australia 25,000; Latin-American nations 23,000 and New Zealand 2,000.

Violent Deaths Total 16 Over Weekend

By The Canadian Press

Sixteen persons met violent death in Eastern Canada during the weekend, eight of them in traffic accidents.

A Canadian Press survey early today showed nine persons killed in Ontario, six in the province of Quebec and one in Nova Scotia. Besides the traffic fatalities, four persons died in fires, three were drowned and one was killed by a freight train.

Three children of one family were killed when fire destroyed their home at Honey Harbor, 45 miles north of Barrie. They were Peter and Paul Rice, 15-month-old twins, and their sister, Mary, 4 months.

A number of pedestrians were killed in Ontario. At Elmira, 60 miles west of Toronto, John Seiling, 85, was killed by an automobile in front of his home. At Hamilton, two elderly persons were killed by moving vehicles: Frank T. Jardine, 77, and Christina C. Kerr, 69.

Vernon Barrick, 60, of Beamsville, was killed as he walked along the highway seeking gas for his stalled car near Hamilton. Gilles Tache, 6, formerly of Beaucanton, Que., was killed by a car near his home 10 miles east of Barrie.

Run Over By Train

George Thomas Harwood, 21, was run over by a freight train at MacTier, 110 miles north of Toronto.

In the province of Quebec, 55 miles west of Hull, three persons were drowned when the car in which they were riding ran into the river at Fort Coulonge. Dead are Doreen Miron, 23, Melvin Levigne, 26, and Bertin Leguerriere, 22, all of Fort Coulonge.

A baby, Diane Fontaine, of Valley Junction, was killed in a traffic accident just east of Quebec city. At Beaumont, Andre Beaubien, 40, of Quebec City, died of a stroke minutes after he escaped uhinjured from a traffic accident.

Campbellford House Threatened By Fire

CAMPBELLFORD, Dec. 10 — (ENS)—A home that has only recently been re-finished after suffering extensive damage in a fire was threatened again Sunday night, when firemen were called to the home of Jack Meier on the outskirts of town.

The local fire truck responded to the call, then, on finding the fire outside the corporation, waited until permission was granted by the fire, water and light committee of the Campbellford town council, before proceeding. Permission was granted and the truck continued on its way but there was no damage. Overheated stove pipes were the cause of the alarm.

Painters Show Improvement In New Display

Art is superior to nature, said Miss Doris McCarthy, ARCA, OSA, of Toronto, in opening the annual exhibition of the Peterborough Group of Painters Saturday evening at the Library gallery.

"A mountain is only a mountain, but a cathedral is full of the aspiring spirit of man....There is more beauty in ordered intelligent expression than in nature... There are values in art that are not in nature".

This point of view was not fully borne out by the paintings on view around the speaker, but her remarks emphasized the cultural and national importance of the work such groups as this are doing. "Grass roots societies", she called them. "You here in Peterborough are building bit by bit the soul of Canada".

Miss McCarthy sketched the development of painting groups, from the Royal Canadian Academy, through the Group of Seven, to amateur local groups such as the three in Peterborough.

The exhibition is a large one, incldng 80 pieces, and shows an increasing skill among the newer amateurs, a deeping perception among the experts like Jack Hamer and Winnifred Lampman.

Mrs. Lampman's "Conti's Place" —the site of the new Sick Children's Hospital in Toronto— the largest canvas in the show, has a remarkable atmospheric quality. Mr. Hamer's palate has grown warmer and richer. The skill and versatility of other members of the Group, like Gertrude L. Cox, Helena Munro, John McKerchar and Maralin Munro, is again pleasantly revealed.

Among the less professional brushes, Madeline Hambly, John Londerville, Betty Weir, Mary Lee and Florence Wilson—Margaret Londerville's scratch-board designs are notable.

The twelve members of the Group are to be congratulated on another good show, the range of their work, and the success of the preview, which was attended by nearly 200 guests. The show is open to the public until the 21st.

He was tossed from his tricyle and received a bump on the forehead and a bruise on his side.

The driver of the car, Dr. Agnes K. Moffat, 597 Weller St., was making a right turn off Weller St., to go south on Monaghan Road. She took the boy to her home, and notified the boy's parents of the accident.

He was later attended by Dr. J. R. Epping and Sunday night was reported little the worse for his mishap.

Dunn Faces Some Explaining

EDMONTON, Dec. 10—(CP)—Georgie Dunn, winner of a hotly-disputed decision over Solly Cantor, of Toronto, Saturday night, will have to pile up a few more points in another league before he gets the shot he wants at the Canadian lightweight boxing title.

The Negro boxer, ranked 10th internationally in his division, has some explaining to do back at his previous stamping grounds of Hartford, Conn., before he gets any fights against top-ranking opponents.

Jack (Deacon) Allen, Toronto matchmaker, said in Toronto Sunday night he had received a letter from the Connecticut Boxing Managers' Guild stating that Dunn, who now fights out of Edmonton, was being "grounded" pending clarification of his status.

The letter said Dunn had obtained permission to travel to Edmonton for a number of fights but had not returned to his American conncetions when the permitted time had elapsed.

Meanwhile Dunn's status was clarified in another respect—after a committee-room huddle—it was decided that his decision over Cantor was unanimous despite the contrary opinion of many of the 3,000 fans present.

Immediately after the fight Dunn was announced as winning on a split decision. The boos were loud and prolonged.

Man Found Guilty Sentenced To Four Months

LINDSAY, Dec. 10. — George Bryant, Norland, was found guilty of dangerous driving by a Victoria County jury Friday evening and sentenced to four months in the Ontario Reformatory.

Bryant was charged following an accident on Highway 25 near Cameron, last May when Stephen Wortham, Peace Valley, suffered injuries which proved fatal.

Judge J. A. McGibbon in his charge to the jury called the accident "a pleasure trip to Lindsay on a beautiful May day turned into a tragedy."

Breach of Duty

He said that the case was all founded on negligence, a breach of duty—a duty to take care. His honor also explained that Crown Attorney Jordon had explained it properly when he said the accused was aware of the natural consequences of his acts.

"These cases are getting far too numerous," he said, "and drivers are killing far more people on the roads than if a war were on. It is to protect society that this particular offense, dangerous driving, has been devised."

The judge also commented on what he called poor taste on the part of the counsel for the defense H. E. Richardson in questioning the credibility of Mrs. Wortham in her evidence given as a witness.

Mrs. Wortham stated that her husband's car was on its own side of the road, well to the right of the centre line, when she saw one truck flash by. Then she saw another truck headed straight for their car and her husband made a desperate attempt to save his family by pulling the car as far to the right as possible.

Other witnesses were William Rutherford, a farmer who was an eye-witness to the accident, and Mr. Gaynor, driver of the truck which had met the Wortham car first.

The counsel for the defense, Mr. Richardson, after the jury's retirement, objected to his honor saying there was anything wrong with his conduct to question Mrs. Wortham's credibility. He said that he would be failing his client if he were not to question every bit of evidence.

TACOMA, Wash., Dec. 10 — (A P) — Six-day-old Deborah Angelo today was given a good chance of becoming the first baby to survive an "outside heart" operation.

The operating surgeon gave that report. He said that in no other such case has a child lived more than 11 hours.

Deborah was born Wednesday to Mrs. Alvon Angelo. Her heart was completely outside the chest. The arteries ran into the body below the ribs.

The doctor, who insisted on remaining anonymous, said the operation consisted of laying open the chest from the neck to the navel and then placing the heart under the brest bone.

Arrest Blind Veteran's Bride For Stealing $4,000

EVANSTON, Ill., Dec. 10—(AP) —A bride accused of running off with her blind war veteran's $4,000 savings was seized Saturday by police who identified her as a woman with a lurid criminal history.

She is Mrs. Joan Brokus Larson, 24, 5 feet 7 inches tall and weighing 220 pounds. She had only $247 and a car she said she bought for $2,050.

The woman, who once served a term for kidnapping, told police she spent $840 to square accounts in two theft charges pending against her, that she still loves her husband and wants to return to him.

Her husband of three weeks, John Larson, 35, of Phoenix, Ariz., lost his sight in the South Pacific. He married her Nov. 15 after a five-day courtship. She was singing in a church group.

Larson said he gave her the money Dec. 3 to make a down payment on a $14,700 furnished home. She disappeared that day.

Two Cars Crash, Damage Slight

CAMPBELLFORD, Dec. 10 — (ENS)—Slight damage resulted from what would have been a serious acident on Highway 30, about two miles south of this town, Sunday night.

Brian Vanderly, 20, of RR 5, Campbellford, was travelling north on the highway when his car developed trouble. He stopped the car on the highway.

A few minutes later, William Hay, of Campbellford, 19, was travelling in the same direction and did not notice the parked car until he was almost upon it. A car was approaching in the opposite direction. Hay swung his vehicle sharply to the left and the back fenders of his car and the parked auto collided.

The Hay vehicle narrowly missed hitting the approaching car head-on. Less than $100 damage resulted to the two vehicles. There were two passengers in each car but none was injured.

A few year ago there was an accident at practically the same spot on the highway, caused in much the same way, when one man was killed and another badly injured. The car in which they were riding ploughed into the rear of a parked auto. In both cases, the parked car displayed no lights.

Provincial Constable George W. Rose, of Campbellford, investigated.

$2.50 On The House Radio

Because so many people do not pay it and because Parliament is annually asked to cover huge deficits, it is sometimes thought that the radio licence fee of $2.50 a year is both a nuisance and an insignificant item in the C.B.C.'s revenue. The fee may be a nuisance, but it makes up the bulk of the C.B.C.'s income. In its fiscal year, the C.B.C. got 58.2 per cent of its revenue from licence fees—a total of $5,571,991.31. It is therefore easy to see why Parliament and the C.B.C. Governors are loath to give up the licence fee; and why the Massey Commission did not recommend dropping it.

* * *

Criticism of the fee in and out of Parliament, and by private radio stations, has been loud and severe. It has been argued that the cost of collecting the fee has been more than its worth. It has been recommended that the fee be dropped and that the C.B.C. depend entirely on parliamentary grants. This recommendation has come most forcefully from the chief critics of the C.B.C. who may see it as a lever to reduce the C.B.C. into peonage under some future unfavorable parliament, which might, by withholding the grant, wipe out the C.B.C. as a domestic broadcaster. When an institution as culturally and socially important as a national broadcasting company is annually made completely subservient to the whims of a parliamentary pay-off, both its integrity and its vitality are drained from it.

* * *

The other approach to the problem of licence fees has been: keep the fee, but make the collection cheaper and at the some time more thorough. The recent decision of the Department of Transport, whose offices collect the fees, may or may not achieve this dual purpose. Beginning in April house-to-house sales of radio licence fees by authorized agents will be discontinued. Instead, people will have to go post offices, radio dealers or write to the Department in order to renew their licences or get new ones.

* * *

We question how many will bother to do this, unless there is sufficient compulsion. The Department of Transport has a plan for this: to hire fifty men to check licences and launch prosecutions. It will be a miracle if fifty men covering five or six million dwellings and a million cars with radios across the Dominion will be able to collect as many fees as formerly. The old system was a sieve; the new one seems to be merely a hoop. Perhaps vigorous prosecutions where radio owners are found not to have licences will scare others into buying them. However, courts have been known to fine guilty persons as little as fifty cents. If a minimum penalty of ten dollars were required, as has been suggested, the threat of prosecution might be a more convincing club.

* * *

It seems to us that the problem of the licence fee is still unsolved. The revenue from the receiving set licence has remained at the level set twelve years ago, despite an increase in the fee and a larger number of sets in operation. The new Board of Transport regulation seems unlikely to increase the revenue. A condoning reason for abandoning direct canvas (which never did reach every house)—and a reason which the C.B.C. would not itself urge—is that the C.B.C. gets the full amount of the fees collected. The cost of collection has never appeared on its books. The Board of Transport pays. If the C.B.C. got only the net revenue from the fees, it might be more concerned with how the fee is collected.

* * *

Meanwhile, the C.B.C. and the Government are not hopefully expecting any large increase in revenue from the fees. Parliament is providing $4,750,000 to meet the C.B.C.'s deficit this year, and $6,250,000 in each of the four next fiscal years.

Skidding Eggs and Bananas

No doubt it is due to the influence of the usually slippery season now upon us that newspaper headlines are on the skids these days. We read: "The Price of Eggs Still Skidding"—down as much as six cents a dozen for Grade A. "Stock Prices Slip On Toronto Exchange." Heading a despatch from Hong Kong is the information that "Currency Skids." This glissando phantasmagoria makes one dizzy. Reading the headings these days is like seeing a fast hockey game—eyes rolling up and down from one end of the rink to the other, suspended to waving necks.

The favourite description seems to be 'skid.' "Skid", says out little Oxford, "Piece of wood &c serving as a support or rest or buffer or roller or check, iron shoe or other device to prevent a wheel from revolving & so check vehicle's pace; slide of wheel on muddy ground or of skate not biting ice." Ah! that last is the seasonal justification of the newspaper use of the word. As for being on the skids; well, people of this former lumbering district need not be told that means.

How real is all the slithering and sliding and skidding? Sometimes there is less in the circumstances than the word warrants. For instance, a stand-by joke assumed to be a commonplace in real life is about the man who slips on a banana skin. We have seen only one banana skin on the city's sidewalks in two years, and never in our whole life have we seen anybody slip on a banana peel. Falling flat on bananas is as strange to Canadian life as a skidding yuan in Hong Kong. Anyway, surely the market for eggs crashes? There, indeed would be a yoke.

Political Convention Upsets In U.S.

Precedents which might prove applicable to the two major political conventions to be held in the United States next year are currently being widely discussed in that country. There appear to be two outstanding possibilities, one of which is a Democratic convention result that might find a parallel at the Republican convention, the other a Republican result that might find a parallel at either or both conventions in 1952. The first occured in 1912, the second four years later.

Champ Clark of Missouri was Speaker of the House in 1912. He was a veteran with thirty-four years of public service; he was the "organization" candidate of the Democratic Party, and an intensely ambitious man. He had sound reason to believe he would be elected as Presidential candidate; he had the then influential support of the late William Randolph Hearst and the undercover support of Tammany Hall, in addition to the official support of the Democratic Party.

Mr. Clark and his organization, however, overlooked one thing—William Jennings Bryan's determination to remain the dominant force in the Democratic Party. The "Great Commoner," a brilliant convention strategist, introduced a resolution before the balloting began, denouncing any candidate who represented or was obligated to J. P. Morgan, Thomas Fortune Ryan, August Belmont "or any other member of the privilege-hunting and favour-seeking class." It was adopted by a four-to-one vote. Then, on the first ballot, Clark led the field, with Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey second, the rest scattered. On the tenth ballot, Clark had more than a majority but less than the two-thirds requirement.

Until the fourteenth ballot, Nebraska, led by Bryan, had voted for Clark, but he then rose to remind the convention of the resolution it had overwhelmingly approved. August Belmont was associated with Tammany Hall, especially with Boss Charles F. Murphy—and everyone knew Tammany was behind Clark. That touched off a long, slow swing to Wilson, who was elected on the forty-sixth ballot. The veteran had lost to a man with two years' service as governor of a small state. And that could happen to Senator Taft, organization man and veteran, at the hands of another newcomer, General Eisenhower.

The republican convention of 1916 actually drafted its successful candidate, Charles Evans Hughes. Judge Hughes had refused to be an active candidate, but was nevertheless elected. The possible parallel here, of course, would be the drafting of General Eisenhower by the Republican Party, but a Democratic parallel is also possible. If Mr. Truman decides not to be a candidate to succeed himself, he may nominate Judge Frederick Vinson, and it would then remain to be seen if the latter would follow the Hughes—and Eisenhower—precedent of refusing to be an active candidate.

NOTES AND COMMENT

Thieves raided a Detroit butcher shop and took nothing but money. Obviously amateurs.

A scientist says that our way of breathing is obsolete. But like a lot of obsolete things, it keeps right on doing a satisfactory job.

A British temperance league urges mystery writers to leave alcohol out of their stories, retaining only such comparatively harmless elements as robbery, espionage and murder.

The Windsor Star commenting on the number of women who now hold mayoral office in Ontario, thinks it will be hard to get used to saying "Madame Mayor." We hope it will be impossible, for the usage long established in the case of women in mayoral office is to call them "Mr. Mayor," and that is what is done in the case of Mayor Whitton of Ottawa.

Musical Notes

by PETER PIPER

WHEN I had the boldness, two weeks ago, to brand the widespread notion of the Welsh being a musical nation as a popular fallacy, I foresaw shoals of indignant letters of protest from my Welsh readers, leaping to the defence of their native hills. So far I have received only one comment from a Welshman, and he agreed on the whole with my strictures. He said, however, that the musical reputation of the Welsh has been foisted on them from outside. This I could not deny outright, though Welshmen as a whole endure it with a pretty good grace.

As a further plea of extenuation this reader extended the charge to the Irish and Scotch, neither of whom have produced much outside their admittedly rich and interesting store of folk music. I am inclined to agree with him: indeed the Irish and Scotch, being more numerous, are more blameworthy than the Welsh. They can unite, of course, in blaming the English, who after being in the vanguard of musical progress until the seventeenth century, suddenly stopped writing interesting music for nearly two hundred years while they were founding an empire. This was definitely a Bad Show, old chap, and set a bad example to the Celtic fringe from which they never quite recovered.

WE are strange people; we are too ready to assume that modern civilization is riddled with neurosis, that modern music is "neurotic", and to look back wistfully to the days before Freud, as though mental disorder were a recent invention, like the atomic bomb or the internal combustion engine. There is absolutely no evidence that we are more neurotic than our ancestors; the only difference is that we call things by different names. Formerly one was possessed by a devil or moonstruck; now we suffer from inhibitions, complexes, neuroses, schizophrenia and other "mental diseases". While reading a novel, "Gentleman of Leisure", by R. H. Mottram, I came across the following passage: "He turned on the radio again, and was pleased to hear emerging the notes of Schumann's piano music, very well played.... So passed pleasantly some half-hour or so of basking in the shaded light, the companionable warmth of the fire, the mellow conclusions and invitations of the eighteenth (sic) century, the equable tones of the German composer, so far removed from the neurasthenic fanatics that had passed for Germans during too much of his life."

Apart from the fact that at no period in his life did Schumann live in the eighteenth century the implication that dear old Robert Schumann (not to be confused with the French politician Robert Schuman, spelt with only one 'n') was totally innocent of all the complexes, neuroses, etc., that plague us luckless moderns is quite misleading. Throughout his life Schumann was haunted by the fear of losing his reason. Before he married Clara Wieck he wrote her a strange letter, referring to the "dark side" of his life and hinting at a "grave psychic malady" from which he had suffered "in earlier days". Eventually this "dark side" got the upper hand. He heard voices and sounds, his grip on everyday reality grew slacker, and finally he threw himself into the river Rhine. He was rescued, and spent the last two years of his life in a lunatic asylum, hopelessly insane. So much for the imagination of novelists.

IT is a mistake, too, to assume that the world of today is much fuller of unrest and uncertainty than ever before, and that because of this great art cannot flourish. After all Beethoven and Haydn lived and worked during the French Revolution and the Napoleonic wars, and were in the siege of Vienna by the French. Wagner actually took part in the 1848 revolution in Saxony. The earlier half of the nineteenth century was far more agitated by social unrest and war than the latter half, yet it was at least as productive, if not more so. The menace of the power of Spain did not dam the flood of inspiration of the Elizabethans, and the French experienced a new surge in creative activity after the disaster of the Franco-Prussian War.

Far be it from me to advocate wars and rumours of wars, but I cannot help thinking that the Fine Arts are tougher than is generally recognized. They will often flourish under seemingly adverse conditions. Again, when circumstances seem propitious the arts are sometimes backward. One can be wise after the event and discover more or less convincing reasons, though sometimes these reasons cancel each other out. My own conclusion is that the wind bloweth where it listeth.

IT is an interesting and gratifying fact that amongst the top rank of singers it is difficult to decide their nationality when they are singing in English. To be sure there are little differences here and there that may give a clue, but on the whole English pronunciation in song is remarkably unified throughout the English-speaking world, except of course for songs in dialect. The basis for diction in song is the speech of the educated classes in England, with certain modifications.

There are good reasons for this. In the first place a language that has been polished and chiselled by polite usage is generally more euphonious. In particular the elimination of the harsh 'r' renders the language more suitable for singing. Where the 'r' is pronounced it should be lightly trilled, as they do it in Scotland. The long a's of "standard English" are more singable, though care should be taken not to use them indiscriminately — for example the pronunciation "hahnd" is unjustifiable. On the other hand the long 'o' of educated English usage does not lend itself well to song and is best broadened out somewhat. The English still set great store on clear enunciation and correct syntax: even a split infinitive might lose one a job in an interview over there.

One peculiar characteristic of our North American civilization is the fact that a premium is put on sloppy speech. Any "well-spoken young man" seeking a job is at a disadvantage, as he would be suspected of being "high hat". This is a pity: in our love of equality we should level up rather than level down. This inverted snobbery shows itself amongst amateur singers. If only we were more speech-conscious it would have a correspondingly beneficial effect on song.

The P.M.'s Reasons

(a letter in the Ottawa Journal)

SIRS:—The Prime Minister (Hansard, November 8, pp. 851-2) defends the abolition of the term "Dominion".

1. "There are some people in this country who rather like the name of Canada." We all do. What has that got to do with it? There are "some people" in France who "rather like" the name of France. But that doesn't mean they must stop calling France a republic. There are "some people" in Great Britain and Northern Ireland who "rather like" the names of Great Britain and Northern Ireland. But that doesn't mean they must abolish "United Kingdom". That is its legal designation, by Act of Parliament. Canada is a Dominion. That is its legal designation, by Act of Parliament, the very Act and section which give us the name the Prime Minister "rather likes".

2. "There has been a constant progression .... that culminated in the Statute of Westminster which recognized the equality of the sister nations of the Commonwealth." The Statute of Westminster itself three times calls this country "the Dominion of Canada", and uses the term "Dominion" 28 times besides. So the "culmination" of the "progression", the Statute which "recognized" our equality with "the sister nations of the Commonwealth", is an Act which uses this horrid word "Dominion" 31 times! Yet the Prime Minister suggests that this means "Dominion is incompatible with equality of status!

3. "This policy is quite in line with the policy that was followed in the United Kingdom when they changed the name of the department that deals with the affairs of the sister nations from Dominion Relations Office to Commonwealth Relations Office." So when the British people change the name of one of their Government departments, we must change the designation of our country? Queer kind of "equality".

4. "That development coincided with the coming into being of other sister nations who had not been known as Dominions and who did not wish to be known as Dominions. Those are nations with which we wish to conserve the family relationship which exists among the nations of our Commonwealth". Does this mean that, if India and Pakistan and Ceylon don't want to be called Dominions we must stop calling ourselves a Dominion? Why? Will India, Pakistan and Ceylon leave the Commonwealth unless we do stop? The Prime Minister can hardly expect anyone to swallow that. But if that is not what he means, what does he mean?

5. "In the official documents that come now from the United Kingdom the word Dominion is gradually being dropped in deference to those other members of the organization who are not Dominions and who have achieved a status with which the word 'Dominion' would be somewhat at variance." If other nations of the Commonwealth object to being called Dominions, that is a very good reason why the British Government, and other Commonwealth Governments, should stop using the word as a generic term to cover all the Commonwealth nations. It is no reason at all why we should stop using it to describe Canada.

The statement that "the word 'Dominion' would be somewhat at variance" with the status achieved by India, Pakistan and Ceylon, is, on the Prime Minister's own showing, nonsense. The Statute of Westminster, "which recognized the equality of the sister nations of the Commonwealth", called Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, the Irish Free State, Canada and Newfoundland "Dominions". They were equal with Britain and with each other, and they were all "Dominions". Have India, Pakistan and Ceylon achieved a higher status than that?

Are they superior to Britain and the rest of us.....

The simple legal fact is that we are citizens of a Dominion, just as Americans are citizens of a republic and Englishmen are citizens of a kingdom. The British North America Act says twice that we are a Dominion, and the Government has not yet even proposed an amendment to strike out the word. That would be the logical conclusion of its present policy: to strike out "Dominion" and leave a blank, for it could hardly make the Act read, "One Canada under the name of Canada", and it has not suggested anything else. That, presumably, would be the real "culmination" of the "progression". That would enhance our status. Then, at last, we should achieve our destiny: neither kingdom, nor republic, nor anything else known to political terminology, but just a nameless Something, a sublime Blank!

Every one of the reasons the Prime Minister has given for abolishing the term "Dominion" is fatuously irrelevant, an affront to the intelligence of the public: What, then, are the real reasons? We still haven't been told. But we have a right to know.

Bible Message

Now there arose up a new king over Egypt, which knew not Joseph. And he said unto his people, Behold, the people of the children of Israel are more and mightier than we: come on, let us deal wisely with them; lest they multiply, and it come to pass, that, when there falleth out any war, they join also unto our enemies, and fight against us and so get them up out of the land ... And the Egyptians made the children of Israel to serve with rigour. (Ex. 1: 8-10, 13.)

❖ ❖ ❖

And it came to pass in process of time, that the king of Egypt died: and the children of Israel sighed by reason of the bondage, and they cried, and their cry came up unto God by reason of the bondage. (Ex. 2: 23.)

Now Moses kept the flock of Jethro his father in law, the priest of Midian: and he led the flock to the backside of the desert, and came to the mountain of God, even to Horeb.... And the Lord said, I have surely seen the affliction of my people which are in Egypt, and have heard their cry by reason of their taskmasters; for I know their sorrows.... Come now therefore, and I will send thee unto Pharoah, that thou mayest bring forth my people the children of Israel out of Egypt.

And Moses said unto God, Who am I, that I should go unto Pharoah, and that I should bring forth the children of Israel out of Egypt? And he said, Certainly I will be with thee; and this shall be a token unto thee, that I have sent thee: When thou hast brought forth the people out of Egypt, ye shall serve God upon this mountain....

And God said unto Moses, I AM THAT I AM: and he said, Thus shalt thou say unto the children of Israel, I AM hath sent me unto you. (Ex: 1, 7, 10-12, 14.)

Iranians Hunt For Oil In New Areas

By LEOPOLD HERMAN

TEHRAN, Dec. 10 (Reuters)—While the vast oil fields of Khuzistan and the giant refinery of Abadan lie idle, the Iranians are continuing the search for oil elsewhere in their country.

A test well begun in the spring between Qum, 92 miles north of Tehran, and the Great Salt Lake, has reached the gas zone, an official announcement said. The prospects of finding oil at a depth of 6,000 feet were termed good.

Official quarters make no mention of the use to which the crude oil would be put nor do there appear to be any immediate plans to set up a refinery to provide products for her small annual home consumption of oil being found in commercial quantities in this region.

Hasn't Got Funds

Indeed, it is difficult to see how, in her present economic plight, Iran could find the funds to construct even a small refinery to provide products for her small annual home consumption of oil—which Iranians estimate at 150,000 tons a year, plus 450,000 tons of lamp oil.

Abadan is too far away and in any case, even if Iran manages to bring it into operation again, it would be fully occupied refining Khuzistan crude oil.

Iranian oil exploration teams are also at work in the Caspian coastal regions, in the largely unexplored Great Salt desert which lies in the centre of Iran, on the coast of the Gulf of Oman, in the Bakhtiari mountains, in Sistan and Persian Baluchistan, and in the northern frontier province of Azerbaijan.

Give Highlights Of 5-Day Van Doo Stand

By BILL BOSS

WITH THE CANADIANS IN KOREA, Dec. 10—(CP)—Highlights of the five-day stand made by the 2nd battalion Royal 22nd regiment in the area of Mount Kowang, Nov. 22-26:

Chinese troops were so close to the platoon position occupied by Van Doos under Lieut. Raymond MacDuff of Lacolle, Que., that they could look down from their hill, "right into his throat," said MacDuff's company commander, Maj. Real Liboiron of Windsor, NS. They were on a ridge 150 yards from MacDuff's outposts. They over-ran the position only after it had withstood three days of shelling and probing attacks which finally culminated in an overwhelming assault.

When Chinese troops finally were driven off Mount Kowang by the 3rd United States division after 48 hours' possession of it, they fell back onto Liboiron's position. "I got the tanks, artillery and mortar to engage them," said the Major, reporting the decimation of the retreating Communists.

Corporal Ernest Monette of Montreal braved enemy and friendly shelling alike to tend wounded soldiers, and to dig them out of pounded-in dugouts.

Spots Attack

The original attack, which fell on the platoon commanded by Lieut. Walter Nash of Ottawa, was spotted by Cpl. J. M. P. Gariepy of Rosemount, Que. He was section leader in a platoon commanded by Lieut. Mario Cote of Chicoutimi, Que. Helped by Cpl. Earl Instead of Ottawa, Gariepy engaged the first wave of 70 Chinese with a bren gun while others of his men hurled a total of four boxes of grenades at them.

Instead also suffered a direct hit on his position, was able to save the bren and take it to another position from which to continue firing on the Communists.

Cpl. Pierre Rochon of Ottawa, acting sergeant in MacDuff's platoon, despite heavy shellfire kept his men's morale up by keeping them busy between attacks, and running from trench to trench to cheer them up.

Keeps On Going

Cpl. Robert Bouchard, Jonquiere, Que., sniped off Chinese until his position was pounded in by shells. Though shaken when dug out he resumed leadership of his section. He also dug out others who had been buried. Two of the Chinese who fell before his sights were women stretcher bearers.

Cpl. Lionel St. Pierre of St. Damien, Que., also was buried by shellbursts and on being rescued resumed the fight.

L.Cpl. J. P. A. Harvey of Baie St. Paul, Que., and his section continued battle though under direct fire from a self-propelled gun. Their position finally struck, Harvey retained control of his men, moved them to another position and resumed fighting.

Mrs. Jack Miner Dies Aged 84

KINGSVILLE, Dec. 10—(CP)—Mrs. Laona Miner, 84, widow of the famed naturalist-lecturer Jack Miner, died here Saturday night. Her hsuband died in 1944 at the age of 79.

A member of the pioneer Wigle faimly in this Essex County town, she married her late husband in 1888. In 1904 she helped him establish the Jack Miner bird sanctuary on the 30-acre Miner farm here.

Mr. Miner's studies of the migration patterns of ducks and geese made him one of Canada's best known citizens. During his lifetime he banded more than 75,000 birds which stopped in their flights for feeding on the sanctuary's ponds.

Mrs. Miner leaves three sons, Manly, Edward and Jack, all of whom are continuing their father's [illegible] of migrating birds at the sanctuary. There are four grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Lt. Cmdr. Edwards Ends Long Career

By H. DENT HODGSON

OTTAWA, Dec. 10—(CP)—One of Canada's most respected and most popular senior civil servants, Lt.-Cmdr. C. P. (Ted) Edwards, retired today as deputy minister of transport for air services.

A chipper 66, he relinquished control of the fields of civil aviation, radio, telegraphs and telephones, and meteorology, after 42 years in the government service during which he was intimately associated with their greatest development.

He will be guest of honor tonight at a dinner attended by cabinet ministers, civil service colleagues, and many friends in various industries with whom he became associated since coming to Canada 46 years ago.

Pioneered Radio

Known variously to his intimates at "Ted" or "C. P.," the genial, pipe-smoking Welshman pioneered the development of radio in Canada, and masterminded its development throughout the half-century. At the same time, he also took charge of civil aviation and meteorology from their infancy.

His retirement coincides almost to the day with the 50th anniversary of Marconi's first wireless message across the Atlantic, from Poldhi, Cornwall, to Signal Hill at St. John's, Nfld., Dec, 12, 1901. The event is being commemorated in special radio broadcasts in various countries.

It was just a little before this date that Edwards a native of Dodleston, Wales, and then a bright, lean young student at Arnold Technical School, in Chester, assured himself of a future by charging a few batteries.

Successful Demonstration

Marconi's new wireless company was putting on a demonstration of wireless telegraphy between Chester and Manchester, for the benefit of the war office, when it was found their batteries were low. The technicians were referred to the Arnold School, and young Edwards took command of the battery charging. Next moring the demonstration was a complete success, and the engineer in charge asked how they could repay him for his services.

"I will pass all my exams here in about two years," he answered, "and then I would like a job with your company." Two years later, in 1903, he was made a junior technical assistant on the firm's engineering staff.

In 1905 the newly-formed Canadian Marconi Company sent out a call for wireless engineers and young Edwards got the nod. Within a month, he had started work on the first wireless station in the Maritimes at Portuguese Cove, 14 miles from Halifax. In the next few years, he established a number of stations on the Atlantic coast, and by 1909, he was leading the field in Canada.

Applied For Job

It was in that year Edwards applied for the job of director of radio in the department of marine. He is said to be the first technical expert to win a civil service appointment by competition. Under his guidance, chains of wireless stations were developed along the length of the great lakes and on the Pacific coast.

During the First World War, his division was placed under the administration of the navy. Cmdr. Edwards was awarded the OBE for his services.

As radio expanded, he took a leading part in international conventions, gaining for Canada international respect in the field.

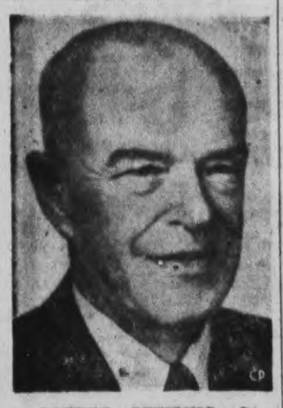
Notable Achievements

One thing the wiry, energetic Commander counts among his most satisfying achievements is his connection with a conference which laid down, in 1929, regulations making it compulsory for every ship at sea to carry wireless equipment.

As a member of the Canadian delegation to the International Safety of Life at Sea conference in London, he was chairman of the radio committee which dealt with compulsory equipment. He enunciated the principle that every ship was a potential lifeboat for any ships in trouble within her radius of action, but that without wireless this radius was limited to the distance you could see.

Within two years, hundreds of additional ships were wireless-equipped.

When the transport department was created in 1936, he widened his interests to aviation and meteorology. At that time there were practically no surfaced runways in Canada, and meteorology in Canada was just beginning.



Given Decoration

With the outbreak of the Second World War, the department expanded in many directions, particularly in aviation. Cmdr. Edwards was awarded the CMG for his services in this war.

A man of keen interests, he has always been popular with newspapermen because of his readiness to drop everything and assist them when a big story broke.

His hobbies include such things as golf, and chatting with wireless operators in the far north on the telegraph key, with which he is still expert. He is an ardent fisherman.

Interested in public affairs, he served on the council of suburban Rockfille Park Village for some years, and was reeve there from 1933 to 1937.

Says Traffic Hampers Buses

NEW YORK, Dec. 10—(CP)—Michael J. Quill, president of the Transport Workers' Union (CIO), told a hearing Saturday that buses would be unable to operate in Manhattan by next October if traffic increases at its present rate.

He proposed that New York draw a ring around the city limits and refuse to permit cars to enter if they do not have assured parking privileges.

He suggested that priority cards be passed out to war veterans, business men and defence workers, permitting them to enter and park in restricted areas.

"The lives of passengers are not safe because of the speed-up on the bus lines by the companies and because of the traffic . . . unless something is done, the bus drivers will crack under the strain."

Quill spoke beore a public fact-finding hearing on the union's demand for a 40-hour instead of 44-hour week on eight private bus lines.

Oddfellows Beaten By Vics By a Score Of 9 To 5 In OHA Junior "B" Contest

Kingston Vics played one of their better games Saturday night in the Limestone City to outscore Oddfellows 9-5 and even up their weekly home-and-home series in the Central Ontario junior "B" group hockey race. Johnny Godfrey's boys had humbled the Jackson crew 5-0 on Monday; but a hard work week and the long trip prov ! too much, and the gang were unable to repeat, despite a hard effort. This in no way detracts from the Vics who played in fine form and earned the nod, on the play.

It was a fast, open game, rough in spots, with play rather spotty at times, and not much to choose territorially between the clubs thought defensively Vics held an edge, particularly in the final frame.

Close Enough

Kingston held a 3-2 margin after a hot first period, increased their edge to 5-3 in the hectic second and potted four in the final frame while the Links were able to dent Senior's armor but twice in that period. Scoring opportunities came often to either side; hence the high score. Bob Senior played in better form in goal this time, stopping many difficult drives as Links swarmed around him.

The defence foursome of Gerow, Maracle, Montgomery and Birchall turned in a four-star protective effort, too. In fairness to Batley, his protection was not as good in this game. But no one player was necessarily more culpable than another on breakaways and such; each shared the ups and downs with the other, on plays good and bad.

Scored First

Kingston opened the scoring midway in the first when Don Vallier worked his way in close on Batley with Wilson Reid helping. Doug Mulholland made it two, on a 15-foot left wing drive from a Gerow-Reynolds passout. Flying back on the offensive, Oddfellows tied the score on smart goals by Ferguson and Coyle. On the first play, the front line of Robinson, Buckton and Ferguson rushed with the latter finally backhanding Buckton's rebound neatly into the open side. Coyle's tally to deadlock the issue came on a neat passout from Kevin Heffernan on a close-in scramble. Late in the frame, Mulholland again found the range on a two-man break with Jerry Gerow.

Play continued sinless in the fast second stanza and Wilson Reid, who led his team with three goals and two assists, fired a bulls-eye from Vallier. Don Senior next broke away with Reid and Vallier to foil Batley and a lone defender with a short 10-footer to give Vics a three-goal edge. Then Bill Twist put his team back into contention on a smart play with Coyle and Clapper.

Red Gets One

Brian Robinson scored early in the third as his line worked a deceptive rush and Red fired a 20-footer past Senior. Vics stormed back to outplay Links for a spell and scored three before Floyd clicked again on a wild scramble on a nice play with hard-working Dick McCracken and Stewart. Reid tallied the final marker of the scoring bee in the dying seconds from Vallier and Montgomery.

Stenson Rink Wins At Orillia

ORILLIA, Dec. 10.—From a list of 24 rinks, representing 11 clubs, Fred Stenson's Peterborough curlers won the opening Orillia bonspiel here Saturday. With strong support from teammates Harry Baptie, Gordon McGabben and Dr. H. Warden, Stenson trounced Alex Campbell at Brechin 14-3, in the final.

Previously the Stenson rink scored a 17-4 win over Earl Reid's Ontario Hospital crew and a 14-5 win over Fred Ritchie's Elmvale foursome. Jim Mulliss of Brampton won second award when he skipped his crew to a 9-8 win over another Brampton foursome skipped by his brother Bill. Both the Mulliss rinks previously had posted two wins. A Parry Sound rink skipped by Ed Johnston was third and an Orillia rink skipped by Arnold Robinson was fourth.

No Time Limit, Two Referees For Title Match

The time limit has been removed for Tuesday's British Empire Championship bout between Whipper Billy Watson and Lord Athol Layton. There will also be two referees in the ring at the Brock for this title match, which should be a sizzler.

Both grapplers are confident of winning and there is little to choose between them. They are fast and tricky with Watson using two or three favorite holds among them the Unconscious Commando and the whip and Layton depending mostly on his judo chop.

Bobo Brazil, who is making quite a name for himself in these parts, tackles tough Hi Lee in the semi-final. A victory for the Negro star over Lee will definitely put him in line for a main bout. Brazil is one of the cleverest matmen to show here.

Besides these two outstanding bouts Sonny Kurgis and Abe Zvonkin will be in the preliminary.

Scott Pearton Goes Third In Swim Meet

The Peterborough Swimming Club's only final result Saturday at the Hamilton Aquatic Club's annual Christmas swim was a third place by Scott Pearton.

Coach Gordon Minty said today that if Pearton had been acquainted with the club's pool, he would have easily won the 150-yard backstroke event. The strange turns at the wall end of the pool confused him. Pearton was edged out by inches for second place and was only a few yards behind the winner.

Peterborough's youthful relay teams made fair appearances in the older age bracket against junior teams from Toronto, London, Hamilton, and Woodstock. One club team averages 14 years and the other 15 years, swimming against 17-year-olds.

Came Close

The youngest team including Alec Baptie, Wilton Tranter, Terry Northrop, and Brian Bell, placed only 10 seconds behind the victors, while the other team, Scott Pearton, Jim Starr, Elwood Palmateer and Peter Wood, were off the pace. Wood, an 11-year-old swimmer, filled in at the last minute, but could not match the older boys' experience.

Coach Gordon Minty was pleased with the showing of Terry Reid and Ross Dobbin in the 10 yards free style for boys under 14 years although they did not place. They faced strong opposition.

Elwood Palmateer's third-place finish in the junior men's 100-yard semi-final would have placed him second in the final if he had qualified (only the first and second enter the final). This time was one of the fastest in the event, the best being even faster than the final race.

This year clubs from Toronto, Hamilton, Welland, Brantford, Woodstock, Kitchener, London, Stratford, Western University, and Peterborough attended.

Transportation was supplied by Reg. Reid and the Peterborough Lions Club.

RAINED OUT—The horses are brought through the heavy mud back to their stalls as heavy rain cancels the program shortly before post-time for the first race at Golden Gate Fields, across the bay from San Francisco. The decision was made with the runners in the paddock, when veteran jockey Frank Chojnacki refused to accept his commitments.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

The Kingston puckists were a sour bunch of guys after their loss to Petes here Friday. Grumbled about slow ice and being shorthanded. "On a good sheet and at full strength," one of 'em growled later in the dressing-room, "we'll take either of your clubs right here." Well, they've a chance to prove it tonight when they tackle Eagles at 8.30 in Civic Arena. No love lost between these bumping clubs and we look for a hot senior "B" struggle. The winner of it goes into a top-place tie with Belleville Hawks, so they'll both be hustling all the way. Eagles should beat them, too, if they turn in their usual hustling brand of hockey for a big home crowd.

* * * * * *

OHA executive had a Toronto meeting the other day at which a couple of local items came up. One was the Petes' request for $266 to repay them for the trip they made to play Queen's, ere that club quit the group. The august officials ruled that this bill should be sent to Queen's first and, if not paid, referred again to the OHA. It's quite unlikely that the defunct Queen's puckists—whom Petes and Eagles objected to in the group at the start—will take any action. A suggestion that Belleville and Eagles (each had a home game with Queen's) should help the Petes out won't get far, either. They have their own money problems and aren't disposed to give anything to the Petes.

* * * * * *

Guess He's An Import

The Eagles asked that George Brabin be rated as a non-import, so that they could use Honey Tompkins, now released by the Petes. But the OHA claims Brabin is an import since he lives here. Had he lived in Oshawa, he would have been okay, as this is the nearest senior "B" centre. Scribe George MacFarlane of the Globe & Mail says: "Because Brabin moved his home to Peterborough, he's an import. Don't ask why. The executive didn't really know, either!" He also wrote: "The legislation which rules on a player's eligibility (according to his residence and place of employment) continues to cause considerable befuddlement among executive members." Yes, indeed. They reverse themselves, too, at times, and Eagles still have hopes of obtaining Honey Tompkins.

* * * * * *

Ixnay To The Nylons

OHA turned down another application for re-instatement by the Kingston Nylons' players, who were suspended for planning to drop a playoff series to the Petes last spring. Some of the OHA members were reported to be weakening in favor of the players—who brought along a lawyer—but the general opinion was that the guys would have to sit it out this season. The players were: Bud Aitken, Doug Patterson, Walt Gerow, Ken Partis, Jack McKeown, Fred Harrison, Joe Watts, Glen Udall, Bob Joyce and Ken Potts. No application was made by Manager E. L. McKnight or Coach George Patterson of the 1950-51 team, both of them being banned for life by the provincial puck body. The mess arose when the players had a meeting with McKnight and Patterson and allegedly decided if necessary to drop a group playoff series to the Petes so that Nylons wouldn't have to step up to "A" playdowns against Owen Sound.

On their acre of home ice in a swell new Memorial Centre on Saturday p.m., Kingston Vics came up with a hot display to trim our Oddfellows 9-5 in their OHA junior "B" joust. Earned the win, too, with a solid effort. The Godfrey gang gave Goalie Senior (who is a junior Senior, if you see what we mean) a rather busy time of it in spots, but he was in top form and had lots of help from his blueline and up-front buddies. The IOOF-ers, on the other mitt, didn't always check up to par to give Rock Batley the necessary net protection. Ferguson, Coyle, Twist, Robinson and Floyd were the local lamp-lighters in this tussle.

At Columbus, O., it was announced that Pronto Don, six-year-old chestnut gelding from Illinois, won more prize money than any other harness race horse in the United States this year. The star of the Hayes Fair Acres stable at Du Quoin, Ill., took home $80,850.44—second highest earning in harness history. Only Proximity, who banked $87,175 a year ago, has earned more in a single season than the Illinois trotter.

At New York, American baseball league executives, Saturday voted unlimited night baseball for the 1952 season and also adopted the National League's plan of suspended games.

The new suspended-game rule provides that if play is halted for reasons of curfew, train schedule or failure of a lighting system the game will be resumed at the interrupted point on a later date. However, if the interruption comes after nine full innings have been played the contest will be called a tie and will be replayed completely.

At Miami, Fla., Slammin' Sammy Snead won the $10,000 Miami open golf tournament Sunday with a brilliant five-stroke victory over Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va., and E. J. (Dutch) Harrison. Snead has 286 for four rounds.

The victory was the second straight in this tournament for Snead. He won last year with 267.

At New York, Jim Thorpe, down on his luck after a fabulous sports career Sunday received a $1,000 cheque from George Trautman, president of the National Association of Minor Leagues, as a result of a fund-raising campaign.

Mrs. Thorpe said nearly $2,000 has been received by her husband from various sources and she understands another $7,000 has been raised which will be given to Jim on an annuity basis.

Kinsmen Hand Hawks 7-5 Loss

LINDSAY, Dec. 10.—Lindsay Kinsmen handed Belleville Hawks their first setback of the season with a 7-5 win over the Central Ontario OHA Junior B League leaders before 800 fans here.

Bruce Hall's pair of third-period goals proved the difference as Red Mitchell's locals took a 3-2 edge in the first and Belleville gained the same margin in the second.

Hec Lalonde, the loop's top scorer, paced the losers with two goals while Bill Strahan, Harry Therrien and Ted Degray notched singletons. Doug Powell matched Hall's goal production with a pair while Garry Copeland, Dave Lucas and rookie Hugh Cameron completed the scoring.

Hornets Take Weekend Tilts

By The Canadian Press.

Pittsburgh Hornets took two weekend games to continue a pace that has them atop both sections of the American Hockey League.

They toppled the Cincinnati Mohawks 5-3 Sunday and Saturday night closed the door on Buffalo Bisons with a 9-1 rout.

Two third period goals in 47 seconds gave Hornets the victory over Cincinnati.

The goals, both tallied by Chuck Blair, came while the Mohawks had Ed Harrison and Jack Lancien in the penalty box.

They had been banished 18 seconds apart shortly after a wild fracas in which Hornet goalie Gil Mayer and coach King Clancy protested that Bill Wylie's goal, which knotted the game at 3-3, did not go into the cage.

Blair's two rapid-fire tallies gave him three goals for the game.

Phil Maloney and Bob Hannigan scored the other Pittsburgh goals. Cincinnati's other goal-getters were Pat Egan and Jean-Paul Denis.

At Buffalo, the Bisons and the Indianapolis Caps played to a 3-3 overtime tie Sunday night before 4,872 spectators.

Sedgman Winner Of Tennis Crown

By GAYLE TALBOT

MELBOURNE, Australia, Dec. 10 (AP)—Frank Sedgman, of Australia, today won the Victorian tennis championship with a one-sided victory over Dick Savitt, of the United States.

Immediately afterward, Captain Frank Shields, of the American Davis Cup team, named Ted Schroeder and Tony Trabert to play singles against Sweden in the inter-zone final starting Thursday.

Savitt lost his chance for a single berth when he went down before the Aussie ace in only 58 minutes by scores of 8-6, 6-0, 6-4. Sedgman was on top of his form in walloping the Orange, NJ, star.

In the opening singles tilt Thursday, Trabert will oppose Sven Davidson, Sweden's No. 2 player. Schroeder will tangle with Lennart Bergelin, who hasn't lost a set in Davis Cup play in two years.

Ruling Angers Fans

Cobourg May Withdraw Over Ruling On Players

COBOURG, Dec. 10.—A stunning reversal of an order by the OHA has Cobourg hockey fans and team executives up in the air and may result in the Cobourg team considering a withdrawal from the Lakeshore Intermediate "A" League.

The new ruling allows Ken (Coon) Medhurst to play with Port Hope Redmen after he was barred by a prior ruling, made in Port Hope at a special meeting just 10 days ago, by an OHA sub-committee. The meeting was called in Port Hope after the OHA had been unable to settle the issue at a Toronto meeting which was attended by representatives of both clubs.

First decision to bar Medhurst came in company, with one allowing Bernard Flesch to play with the Ports. Both are Cobourg men and both had been protested by the locals.

Port Hope, in retaliation, immediately protested goalie Rowe and defenceman McMillan, who were ordered to attend a special hearing in Toronto on the eve of a Port Hope-Cobourg game here. Both men were given the green light to play and took part in the game which ended in a 5-2 win for the Ports, Friday night, just two hours after the protest meeting ended in Toronto.

Status Changed

The Cobourg delegation was informed at the meeting that the status of Medhurst had been changed and he could now play for Port Hope, provided he went to work there by Dec. 17. According to word here, Medhurst intends to rejoin the Ports at the earliest opportunity.

His going may be the signal that will mean further action in Cobourg, forced by the bitter, anti-OHA faction that has been aroused by the committee room fighting. The controversy is the worst in the history of the two towns' half century of athletic competition.

History of the Flesch-Medhurst incident started in 1949 when the OHA stung Cobourg fans by allowing the two and several others to play junior in Port Hope over the strenuous protests of the then junior executive here. With a dropping of junior here last year the quarrel lapsed but when both boys moved up to intermediate status this year they first worked out with the locals and were here to the last minute of the last day for making the residence rule in Port Hope.

The hands of the town clock stood at midnight when both boys emerged from a lengthy conference with Cobourg officials and headed for Port Hope.

Rangers Explode In 7-2 Win Over Toronto Leafs, As Wings Club Canadiens

By JACK SULLIVAN, Canadian Press Staff Writer

It was like old times at New York's Madison Square Gardens Sunday night. Bill Cook, the old Ranger terror, was back on the bench—this time in mufti; the blueshirts clobbered Toronto Maple Leafs 7-2 in their snazziest scoring spree in a couple of years, and 12,683 hockey-happy fans, one of the largest National League gatherings in the Gardens this year, enjoyed every minute of it. The Ranger victory convinced the critics that this season's edition of the Rangers belongs up there with the pros, although it was only their seventh victory in 24 games.

It was Bill's first return to his old stamping grounds since the one-time great Ranger right-winger hung up his gear in the 1935-36 season. He returned as coach and if Rangers continue to produce anything of the class they showed Sunday night he needn't worry about developing ulcers or being put on a milk diet.

It was the most one-sided decision of weekend activity on the NHL front. Detroit Red Wings, who have Montreal Canadiens' number this season after Canadiens eliminated them in the playoffs last spring, came up with a pair of victories over Dick Irvin's club—3-0 at Montreal on Saturday and 3-2 at home Sunday.

The league-leading Wings, who now boast a four-point lead over Toronto, have a record of five victories and a tie this season over Canadiens.

Divides Games

Chicago held its fifth position, one point ahead of Rangers, with a weekend split. The Hawks lost 3-1 to the Leafs at Toronto Saturday and followed with a close 4-3 victory over the third-place Boston Bruins Sunday. Bruins are seven points behind Toronto and only one up on Montreal.

The big noise belonged to Rangers, playing under coach Cook for the first time. They played an inspired brand of hockey, took advantage of every Toronto lapse, skated faster than they have all season and generally performed as if they really belonged in the big time.

Cook took over from Neil Colville who resigned last week and the Blueshirts rose to the heights. They led 1-0 at the end of the first period, poured four more goals behind Toronto goalkeeper Al Rollins in the second and matched the Leafs' two-goal effort in the final stanza.

Don (Bones) Raleigh was the individual star with four assists. Gaye Stewart, finding his scoring eye after a long drought, notched two and assisted on another by Ed Slowinski. Other Ranger marksmen were Reg Sinclair, Edgar Laprade, Hymie Buller and Wally Hergesheimer.

Tod Sloan and Joe Klukay scored for the Leafs.

Come From Behind

A crowd of 13,593 saw Detroit come from behind a 2-0 first-period deficit to take the points. Floyd Curry and Doug Harvey got the Montreal goals and the Red Wings took over in the middle stanza.

Alex Delvecchio whipped in Detroit's first goal and defenceman Marcel Pronovost, who had scored only twice before this season, got hot and exploded with a two-goal effort within 33 seconds.

Chicago, playing before a 10,208 crowd, led 1-0 at the end of the first period and 3-2 going into the third. Hawk scorers were George Gee, Gus Bodnar, Steve Hrymnak and Pete Horeck with Dave Creighton, Milt Schmidt and Bill Ezinicki scoring for the Bruins.

TANKER LAUNCHED—The Imperial Woodbend, 620-foot tanker which will carry Alberta oil to eastern refineries was launched—sideways—Wednesday at Collingwood. A huge backwash swept several spectators off their feet. Named for an Alberta oilfield, she is a sister ship of the Imperial Leduc and Imperial Redwater, world's largest fresh-water tankers. She will transport about 5,000,000 barrels a season.

Doctors Can Now Watch Viruses At Dirty Work With New Machine

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 10—(AP)—How does a virus infection cause the damage and misery you feel?

Some clues are coming from pictures of viruses actually doing their dirty work to living body cells.

'Flu viruses leave pits and scars sometimes on red blood cells. Some human skin cells are left motheaten, full of holes, after the virus of a skin disease gets going.

The pictures were taken with an electron microscope, which can magnify things 100,000 times or more.

Viruses cause polio, 'flu, the common cold, smallpox, mumps and other diseases. Certain vague intestinal upsets are often blamed on virus infection.

Glimpses of the action of the three kinds of virus were reported to the National Academy of Sciences by Dr. Joseph Melnick of Yale University. All three seem to have different ways of multiplying inside infected cells, he said.

Influenza Virus

Viruses of influenza were brought in contact with red blood cells. Some viruses stick to the smooth, outside surface of the red cells. Other cells show a general roughening of the surface. Some had "scars" of the pitted areas, with no virus obvious on the surface.

With these cells, the viruses may have gone inside. The sequence of events in the flu attack on cells of the respiratory system still is not certain.

Another virus causes molluscum contagiosum, a chronic skin disease marked by pinhead to peasized eruptions, yellowish-white or pinkish in color.

Strange things happen when the virus gets inside skin cells.

The cytoplasm, the inner substance of the cell except for the nucleus or core, is affected. It divides into segments. Tiny little objects form. They shrink or condense into mature viruses. The viruses drop out, leaving holes in the cytoplasm. This part of the cell looks moth-eaten.

How It Spreads

Vaccinia virus, related to smallpox virus, seems to involve the nucleus of the cell. The earliest new virus particles form near the wall of the nucleus. An object containing viruses forms. It grows larger and larger, then the cell bursts and new viruses are shot out, apparently ready to infect other cells.

Still other viruses may multiply in still different ways, Dr. Melnick said. Learning the different methods of action is a step toward understanding and better control of virus diseases.

God The Creator Is Lesson Subject

"God the Only Cause and Creator" was the subject of the Lesson Sermon which was read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world including First Church of Christ Scientist, Peterborough, on Sunday.

The Golden Text was "In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth." (Genesis 1:1)

Selections from the Bible included the following from Psalms 104: 1-3, 5. "Bless the Lord, O my soul. O Lord my God, thou art very great; thou art clothed with honour and majesty. Who coverest thyself with light as with a garment; who stretchest out the heavens like a curtain: Who layeth the beams of his chambers in the waters: who maketh the clouds his chariot: who walketh upon the wings of the wind: Who laid the foundations of the earth, that it should not be removed forever."

Correlative citations from the Christian Science text book, included the following from page 207, "There is but one primal cause. Therefore there can be no effect from any other cause, and there can be no reality in aught which does not proceed from this great and only cause."

2 Die In Crash

KELVINGTON, Sask., Dec. 10 (CP)—Two men were fatally injured in the crash of a private plane Saturday night in the Kelvington area about 125 air miles northeast of Regina. Pilot Magnus Burton, 33, of Nut Mountain, Sask., and a passenger, Merle Elliott, 20, of Kelvington, were in the Piper Cub which a farm woman said apparently had engine trouble before crashing in a field about 6½ miles east of Kelvington.

PETERBOROUGH EXAMINER

VOL. CIII. No. 135 — MONDAY, DECEMBER 10, 1951 — PRICE FIVE CENTS

MAIN STREET TOPICS

LEAVES POST

Hastings county treasurer Ross Bailey, severing his connection with the county in favor of a job at Belleville General hospital, was presented with a leather brief case at the close of the December session of the council.

REACH UNION AGREEMENT

Local 306, United Cement, Lime and Gypsum Workers (AFL) and the American Nepheline Co. of Lakefield have reached tentative agreement on a new contract. Details of the agreement have not been released.

LABOR COUNCIL MEETS

The December meeting of the Peterborough and District Labor Council (CIO-CCL) will be at 8 pm tonight in the new labor centre, 408½ George St. It will be the first meeting since the city elections. The labor council supported William J. Beggs, runner-up for alderman.

$40 DAMAGE IN ACCIDENT

It was an even split when two cars collided just north of McDonnel St. on Water St. Sunday evening. Damage to both cars was estimated at $20. Leslie L. Kidd, RR 4, Peterborough, was driving south on Water St., just as James A. Spencer, 576 Stewart St., was pulling out from the curb on the west side of Water St. and the two cars collided.

BEGIN SABOTKA TRIAL

The trial of Francis Sabotka, Oshawa, charged with forgery began today. It is the second week of the general sessions of the peace for Peterborough county. Sabotka is alleged to have forged the name of a roommate and obtained $300 from the roommate's bank account in Peterborough. He pleaded not guilty to the charge.

JUDGE MILLER PRESIDES

Judge M. A. Miller, Cobourg, presided today as the general sessions of the peace entered its second week. Judge S. L. Smoke is ill. Seven criminal cases were listed for the session. Three have still to be disposed of, two have been heard, one didn't get beyond the grand jury, and the seventh was laid over to the June sessions.

HOLD EXAMINATIONS

More than 10 men will be examined next Saturday at the YMCA by Roy Pethick, Toronto, president of the Ontario Basketball Referees' Association. Those who pass the test will be OABA referees this season. Mr. Pethick will referee the Eastern Ontario league game at the YMCA that night.

STEAM ROOM STARTED

The YMCA membership for the past year has pressed for a steam room. Recently Fraser Wade, physical director, along with Barney Dundas, Clarence Porter and Rod Reid, started work converting a maintenance room in the basement into a steam room. They ripped out partitions and tore up the floor to enable the plumbers to begin work. The room will be ready for action early in the new year.

CLASSES FILLED

Registration for the pioneers (boys eight and nine years old), and juveniles (10-11 years) will soon be closed at the YMCA. The pioneers membership has now reached 118 and the juveniles 96. A few more will be taken into the juvenile class.

START REPAIRS

Workmen started to wash the walls of the bowling alleys at the YMCA today after Friday night's fire. Charles Forsyth, general secretary said today there will be no bowling for at least two weeks. The alleys have to be washed, resurfaced, plastered and painted.

BOOK CHRISTMAS PARTIES

The YMCA auditorium is quickly being booked by various organizations for Christmas parties. Already the nightly program is just about filled as service clubs, YMCA groups, factories and other groups plan meetings there.

COACH OUT EARLY

Jim Ellis, coach of the Petes hockey team, had an early assignment at Civic Arena this morning to take a team of Peewees under his wing. He happened to mention at breakfast in the Churchill at 6:30 a.m. that he had an engagement with a group of youngsters for seven o'clock.

THUG FROM LINDSAY

A. J. Kelly, 31, father of three children, who gave himself up to police after a drug store holdup in which his companion was shot to death by police in Toronto last week, was born in Lindsay, he says. He told police he was unable to sleep after the shooting. He has lived in Oshawa and Toronto for years after leaving Lindsay.

ENCOURAGING TESTS

Soundings at Morrow Park in the prospect of the Memorial Centre being built there have been so far "favorable," City Engineer Chalmers said today. this information was for the benefit of directors of Quinte District Seed Fair who were today interviewing Peterborough Exhibition Board regarding a proposal to establish the fair here permanently. Mr. Chalmers is engaged in obtaining a complete report for the city council.

Christmas Lights

Employees of the Utilities Commission were today stringing colored lights in the down-town section of the city for the Christmas period. This is a contribution from the Commission that is probably charged to goodwill and the festive spirit of Peterborough.

5 Cars Crack Up In 2 Accidents On City Streets

Five cars were involved in two accidents reported on city streets Monday morning.

Driving south on Water St., about 10 o'clock, Thomas E. Hall, 109 Parkhill Rd., started to make a right hand turn on to Murray St. As he did so, his car spun completely around on the slippery pavement.

Then, Hall decided to cross Water St., and park on the east side. At this point an approaching northbound car driven by Norman C. Hunt, 861 Water St., was unable to stop before colliding with Hall's car.

Hunt's car bounced off the Hall car and crashed into a car parked on the east side of Water St., causing considerable damage to the front end of the parked car.

At noon, the name of the owner of the third car was still not known, as he had not returned to his vehicle. Acting police sergeant Claire McGillen investigated.

At 11.30, Constable Arthur Beardsmore investigated an accident on George St., near Perry St.

Harold Robert, 772 New Romaine St. was pulling away from the curb to proceed south on George St., and Roberts' car was in collision with a car driven by Luciene Gelinas, 101 Romaine St., who was going south on George St.

Approximately $120 damage resulted to both cars.

Otonabee Men Give Work To Alter Arena

A group of Otonabee farmers turned out last week for a job of altering the vestibule of the Otonabee Community Arena for the convenience of attending crowds. The location of the snack bar has been changed as a detail of the layout.

Windows have been set in the sides of the building, chiefly for the purpose of taking full advantage of any drops in temperature as an aid in making and holding ice.

Jim McCarthy, township clerk, mentioned today that everything is set for the arrival of winter. They have a six-team hockey league, also three teams of Peewees, and the Curling Club membership will probably be 100 men and 40 women.

The Otonabee hockey league packed them last winter, especially in the play-offs, and is ready to go again.

Lively Bunch

The township's Community Arena is probably one of the liveliest organizations of its kind in the province that have received financial support from the Ontario government in the last few years. Contributions were made to these community projects as a means of developing local centres of recreation, and the hockey, curling and skating programs for this season at the big rink overlooking the Indian River is evidence of the response of virtually the entire township, in this instance.

Work at the rink last week was done by voluntary help. The windows were not an afterthought. They had been postponed when the Arena was being built and economy was being considered.

Chance Glance

COBOURG, Dec. 10. (ENS) —All they did was drive by the police station but because one of them looked across in what police thought was a furtive manner as they passed, the officers checked a stolen car list and found that the trio were travelling in a stolen car from Ottawa. They pursued the car and stopped it at the west end of the town, arresting Gordon Adkins, 23, and Edward Ryan, 26, of Hamilton and Joseph W. Lacelles of Ottawa. They are being held here for Ottawa police and it is believed that several charges of car theft will be laid. They were arrested by Acting Chief H. Pearse and Provincial Constable W. Baluk.

THIS BOBCAT, all 27 pounds of him, put up a real battle when he was caught in a trap put out for wolves on a farm north of Lakefield. He had to be shot three times before his fight was ended.—(Examiner Staff Photo)

Bobcat Trapped, Shot On Farm Near Clear Lake

The first bobcat seen in the Peterborough district in years was trapped Friday near the boys' camp on Clear Lake by Vincent Dunford, RR 4, Lakefield. Mr. Dunford caught the bobcat in a trap set out for bush wolves which had been keeping the neighborhood awake at nights with their howling.

After several sleepless nights, Mr. Dunford set five traps, using four small pigs and a rabbit for bait. Each trap was set in the vicinity where he had caught wolves before.

Friday noon he went to inspect the traps and found the 27-pound bobcat pawing the ground, bouncing backwards and forwards and snapping at anything that came near. Its front right paw was firmly clamped in the trap.

"The 'cat was just abounding, and I could not get a good shot at it," said Mr. Dunford.

From 20 yards away he fired the first shot, hitting the bobcat in the shoulder. It continued to bounce from place to place before Mr. Dunford's second shot hit the 'cat in the head.

To make sure the animal was dead, Mr. Dunford waited several minutes with one foot on the bobcat which was still in the trap. Then he loosed the trap from the paw.

Shot Again

Using another of its nine lives the bobcat, which had appeared dead, started to get to its feet again. From close in Mr. Dunford shot the 'cat again in the head, ending the excitement.

The bobcat was similar to any domestic cat, except for its size which was larger than a spaniel dog. It had long grey hair, streaked with black. Its eyes were large, wild and ferocious looking. Its front teeth which had chewed off elm trees, three inches in diameter, around the trap, were about an inch and a half long.

When Mr. Dunford brought the bobcat to the Examiner Saturday morning, a crowd kept him busy telling and retelling his story. For many it was the first time that the people had seen a wildcat.

Film To Show Mental Illness

The film, Breakdown—a frank treatment of mental illness in today's world will be featured at the film council meeting to be held at the Public Library Tuesday night.

The plot of the film is the story of a young woman whose personality becomes completely disintegrated because of environmental strains. The film viewer follows her breakdown and her treatment in a modern mental hospital until she is completely recovered.

The object of the film is not only to educate the public to the modern scientific and phychiatric treatment of the mentally ill, but also to remove the stigma of ideas associated with this type of illness.

Following the film a discussion will be led by Dr. T. E. Currier, Peterborough psychiatrist.

Fire Destroys Store At Buttermilk Falls

LINDSAY, Dec. 10 — A combined retail store and amusement centre at Buttermilk Falls, owned by Charles Watson, was completely destroyed by a fire of unknown origin early Saturday morning.

The fire was out of control by the time the owner, who lived on the hill back of store, noticed it. Their home was not destroyed. Buttermilk Falls is halfway between Lindsay and Minden.

Saturday's fire was the second in two years at the same site. No statement has been made as to the extent of the loss or whether it was covered by insurance. The store was a meeting place for young visitors at two large boys and girls summer camps located a short distance away on Hall's Lake.

Two Vehicles Collide Truck Drives Off

A light truck, travelling west on Wolsley St., at Stewart St., just after midnight Sunday morning collided with a northbound Stewart St., car driven by Stewart H. Murney of Millbrook.

After the accident, the driver of the truck backed up quickly, turned to the left around the Murney car and sped south on Stewart St.

The right side of the Murney car was damaged considerably.

Murney was able to give police a fairly detailed description of the truck and police are on the lookout for the hit-run vehicle.

Constables W. A. Scott and Ed Patterson investigated.

Approaching Snow Expected To Bring Drifts Of Christmas Spirit To Peterborough

Christmas and all those who have been worrying about not catching the Christmas spirit are going to get a boost from the weatherman.

"A fresh polar outbreak is getting started over Northern Manitoba this morning and will be sweeping into Northern Ontario this evening and into southern regions Tuesday afternoon. Snow or snowflurries will accompany the colder air on its southward journey," says the weather report.

Weather officials are watching the coming storm with some anxiety. In 1944 on Dec. 11, Ontario was hit by a storm that paralyzed most of the province.

But children are more difficult to frighten with snow. For them it's just what the time of year demands. Santa Claus always has a hefty number of sleighs, toboggans and skis to deliver. And nothing is more disappointing than to receive a sleigh when the ground is bare outside.

Even adults, although watching falling snow with some apprehension, expect it for Christmas and feel disappointment when it doesn't come. They usually find that with each passing year it's harder to feel the Christmas glow in advance.

The welter of advertising usually leaves them cold. But with just a bit of snow things could be different.

Large Audience Hears Friday Club Sing Carols

One of the largest audiences ever to attend the Friday Night Club carol services filled the collegiate auditorium to capacity Sunday night. More than 800 people attended the annual service, the proceeds for the club's world service donation to the YMCA. Club president, Donald Whittaker, at the intermission outlined the work of the YMCA in the various countries of the world and how the world service fund helps the development of the YMCA program in those countries. The YMCA this year has a quota of $1,200.

Each year the popularity of the service is increasing, mostly because only the best-liked and well-known carols are played.

Salvation Army Band

Again this year the Salvation Army Temple band, directed by bandmaster G. Routly, assisted. The band played "the Swedish Festival March" to open the program and played "The Unfinished Symphony" and other selections. It closed the service with the children's carol "Away In A Manger."

The bandsmen formed a choir under the direction of Bandsman Benjamin Smith and sang three selections, "All Will Be Well," "Beautiful Saviour" and "Dry Bones." By the length of the applause the audience thoroughly enjoyed their singing.

All the well-known Christmas carols were included on the program such as O Come All Ye Faithful, Silent Night, First Noel, Hark the Herald Angels, Good King Wenceslas, While Shepherds Watched, Joy to the World and Deck the Halls.

The Rev. B. S. Morwood, Mark St. United Church, closed the service with the benediction.

Fourth Conacher Tries Out With Chicago

CHICAGO, Dec. 10—(AP)—Young Pete Conacher, who bears one of the great names of professional hockey, completed a "very successful" tryout with Chicago Black Hawks last night.

Pete, 19, is playing his last season with Gault Hawks of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A League.

Today he was en route back to Canada where he is attending Galt Collegiate. It is probable he won't see further play with the Hawks this season because his father, Charlie, former manager of the Chicago team, doesn't want anything to interfere with his graduation from school next June.

But, if injuries put the Hawks in a hole, it's possible that owner Bill Tobin and manager Ebbie Goodfellow may go into a huddle with Pete and his dad.

Three Games

Under professional rules, an amateur may be tried out in three games a season without altering his amateur status.

Last night, Pete played his third game as a regular-shift left winger. He didn't figure in the scoring as the Hawks beat the Boston Bruins 4-3.

Goodfellow said after the game: "He played his position very well, remained in his check, and wasn't pushed around. He did very well for a junior."

Man Injured In Highway Crash

A Toronto man received a scalp wound and two cars were seriously damaged in an accident early today, three miles west of Norwood on Highway 7.

John Newman, 29, Wesley Crescent, Toronto, needed medical attention from Dr. A. R. Atkinson after he struck his head on the steering wheel and windshield.

Newman's car skidded in the slush as he was driving east on the highway. It went over on the shoulder of the highway and then went out of control, veering back across the centre line and striking the westbound car of Clifford Chambers, 40, Eldorado.

Chambers received a cut on the nose but a passenger, Liman Bennett, of Madoc, was uninjured.

Newman's car had $650 damage and Chambers' $500.

OPP Constable John Cawood investigated.

Ice on the highway caused a second accident early today.

Dennis Lloyd, 25, High Park Ave., Toronto, received a bump on the head and bruised ribs, the result of a sideswipe collision on Highway 28, a mile south of Kendry crossing.

Lloyd was driving north when he struck the icy patch on the highway. His car went out of control and sideswiped a southbound car driven by Clara Morris, Homewood Ave.

Miss Morirs and a passenger were uninjured. The front left corner of her car received about $400 damage. Lloyd's car had the left rear fender and wheel bent. Damage is estimated at $75.

Opp Constable Russell Pollard investigated.

Both Drivers Insist Had Green Light

Police are hoping there were witnesses to an accident at Aylmer and Charlotte Streets, Saturday afternoon who will volunteer information about the traffic lights.

Both drivers insist they were travelling on a green light when the accident occurred.

Driving east on Charlotte St. Mrs. Dorothy Hollingsworth, 668 Chamberlain St., was crossing the intersection at Aylmer St., just as Thomas L. Hogg, of Camp Borden, proceeding south on Aylmer St., made a left hand turn on to Charlotte Street.

The two cars collided, resulting in minor damage to both cars.

Constable William G. Scott investigated.

Wet Snow Halts Dog Field Trials

Weather put a crimp in the Kawartha Foxhound Club field trials on Sunday at Geurin's Ranch, Indian River.

Many entrants were on hand with their dogs and it looked to officials that it was about to be one of the best meets in Southern Ontario. But wet snow made scent finding impossible.

It was called off until Sunday, Dec. 15, if better conditions are forecast. Extra prize money will be added.

Fred Bouskill of Port Hope entered two dogs which have been consistant prize winners at several current fall field trials. One of his dogs ran off with prize money at Orangeville in a class of 97 animals.

Two others from Port Hope, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hunt, were on hand with their dogs and Max Carter of Brantford said that the location of the Kawartha meet at Indian River was the best terrain he had seen for field trials.

The handsome special trophy for the top dog, awarded by Lowe Bros., Paint Company of Peterborough, will be presented to the outstanding animal at next Sunday's gathering.

Hastings County Congratulated Cheese Output

BELLEVILLE, Dec. 10—Winding up its December session, Hastings county council got an indirect pat on the back for the county's achievement in the production of cheese.

A. O. Dalrymple, county agricultural representative, told them Hastings county stood second in Ontario in cheese production, with 4,242,885 pounds manufactured.

Work Of Clubs

He outlined the work of the agricultural clubs in the county and thanked the council for the co-operation of its agricultural committee.

Council voted a $450 grant to that committee and a special $125 grant to defray expenses of the Cheese Producer's Association banquet.

A grant of $200 was also made for the Bancroft Red Cross hospital.

Reeve Ross Neal of Deseronto was alarmed at the number of indigent hospital bills turned over to county council.

Insurance

"This is . . . very serious," he said. "I wonder if any plan has been explored regarding insurance for hospitalization."

Clerk-treasurer Earl Denyes said the county "doesn't want to go into the insurance business."

Reports of dissatisfaction with business assessment in Tweed resulted in the formation of a special committee to investigate. Members were: Reeves T. C. Graham, Tweed, Vincent Lynch, Marmora, Jack Kincaid, Madoc and Ross Neal, Deseronto.

Two Injured As Cars Hit At Corner

Woman Suffers Fractured Skull, Man Pinned Down

Two people injured in a two-car accident at Reid and McDonnel streets shortly after midnight Sunday morning are still in hospital. A third man, injured in the crash was released after being given out-patient treatment.

Most seriously hurt were: Mrs. Lillian Parker, 172 Simcoe St., driver of one of the cars and Maurice O'Heron, 190 River Rd., a passenger in Mrs. Parker's car.

Mrs. Parker was admitted to hospital in a semi-conscious condition with a serious skull fracture. Her condition is still unchanged today.

O'Heron received a fractured pelvis and was also treated for shock.

Joseph McFadden, 542 Rose Ave., a passenger in the other car involved in the collision sustained lacerations on the face and forehead which required several stitches.

First Aid

Dr. W. J. W. Gamble was called to the scene and administered first aid treatment to the victims before they were removed to hospital in two ambulances.

According to police, Ken Reid, 557 Riverside Drive, who was driving north on Reid St., said he swerved to the right to avoid an oncoming eastbound car on McDonnel St., driven by Mrs. Parker. He said he was unable to avoid the collision and the two cars collided in the centre of the intersection.

Reid escaped with a slight bump on the forehead and minor scratches.

The impact swung the Parker car almost completely around and it is believed O'Heron was thrown out of the right door as the car spun around.

Jacked Up Car

Homer Lee, 229 King St., and Bud Booth of Omemee were first to arrive on the scene and had to jack up Reid's car to pull out the injured O'Heron who was pinned beneath it.

When O'Heron regained consciousness in hospital some time later, he said he still felt dazed and did not know how he had fallen out of the car.

Considerable damage resulted to the front end of both cars when they collided.

Constables William A. Scott and Ed Patterson investigated.

Prolonged Shelling Can Wreck Bravest Soldier

By BILL BOSS

WITH THE CANADIANS IN KOREA, Dec. 10 (CP)—The Communists have restored an old dimension to the Korean battlefield and complicated the reporter's job of telling what the soldier on it undergoes.

They have produced artillery. They have increased their mortar power. They have come back with the self-propelled gun and possibly with the tank.

News stories must include such words as "shelled," "bombarded," "under artillery fire" and the like.

Sometimes the Red shelling has been heavier than that of the United Nations.

To many readers, the word "shelling" may convey little. This story is inteded to explain the significance of a simple word in terms of the making and breaking of men, the winning and losing of battles, the power for destruction, the vague thrill and the growing unease under continued exposure to enemy guns.

The soldier sits in his dugout or his slit trench and is shelled.

What happens?

Involuntary Fear

The whistle-whine of the approaching missile sends an involuntary sharp tug of restriction on his heart. He can't help it. It happens. It's the way his body reacts, regardless of character. And if the whistles and whines are frequent there develops an involuntary catch of breath.

He also ducks, especially at the landings close at hand. Dug down as he is the impact shakes his trench. If it's close it pounds his stomach—the blast, that is. And if it's really close it may close his trench or dugout down upon him, burying him.

And if it strikes his hole it will at least do that, and possibly kill him.

Lying in that hole, or caught out in the open on patrol or in the attack, with messengers of death and injury raking to and fro about him, now close, now far, now sprinkling him with dirt, now spinning jagged bits of shrapnel whirring through the air, he counts his chances. Life, so real right now, could finish in a flash.

He might have been where that newest crater just appeared. The next might be right here. He laughs it off, or shrugs, and goes about his job. Or else he reasons fear away. Or else doubt, then fear, begin to gnaw his guts.

Can Stand So Much

Every man can take his bit, some more, some less. But each man also has his breaking point. Only exposure, cumulative and with varying intensity, reveals it. Some learn it early, or think they do, and are led back to be the men they really are.

Other early-leavers, not so fortunate, depart to lives of worry about their character and failure to meet the test.

The stayers carry on and take it, joking, reasoning or fighting it through.

It can reduce men to children, pleading tearfully to be allowed to go down from the front. One of the more touching moments in a Canadian company commander's life came recently when a man who had made such a request and instead had been told, "No, you'll stay on the hill, but you'll come and work at my headquarters until we leave the position," came up the day they pulled out.

With tears almost of gratitude in his eyes, he asked, "I did make it, sir, didn't I?" He did.

Terrible Effect

It can send even the strong man into a two-hour gasping spell, then leave him well again. It can reduce the weak man to a tearful wreck, it can send men into violent hysterics requiring straitjackets to restrain them. One man was so terrified, long after the shelling had stopped, that three men had to drag him out of the dugout and carry him out of the position.

These things do happen. They do not happen to all men. Like the other hazards of war they get down to surprisingly few of actual participants when the percentages are worked out.

But they are among the perils of men who are "shelled."

1,300 Germans In One Day Apply To Live In Canada

By DOUGLAS HOWE

HANNOVER, Germany, Dec. 10 (CP)—In a single day this year, 1,300 Germans wrote to one of Canada's two immigration offices in this country and said they wanted to emigrate to Canada.

The Hannover office alone — the big one is at Karlsruhe—has a backlog of some 50,000 names of potential Canadians among these people who want to try a new life in a country which a few years ago was their enemy.

Soon after it became known, largely by word of mouth, that the Canadian government was putting up money for assistting movement across the Atlantic, people were lining up at 6 am and the staff had a hard time to get into their office.

Movements from Europe were so heavy that funds set aside by Ottawa for assisted passages have been exhausted, with quick effects on the flow of emigrants. There are warm hopes over here that the system will be revived.

Some 20,000 Germans will reach Canada in this first year of mass emigration from Germany since the war.

Seek New Opportunity

They are all asked why they want to go. The stock answer is that they want to build new homes, new horizons for themselves or their families, in a land of greater opportunities than battered, divided Germany has to offer.

But there are probbaly underlying reasons as well. The Germans are tired of war, fear that a new war would devastate their land and possibly bring new, if transient, tyranny. They live amid mounting inflation, low pay, heavy unemployment with war ruins close around them. Millions and millions of refugees have come in from the Communist east to compound these problems.

And Canada's open spaces, her small population, her surging growth appeal to them. Some Germans say they appeal more than the temptation of the United States. The main Associated Press office in Germany, at Frankfurt, in fact, recently lost two German staff men who emigrated—both to Canada.

Former German servicemen are among those who have gone to Canada, but not Nazis nor Communists. A close eye is kept by people trained in security work to see that political understanding don't get in. But only about two per cent of applicants here are turned down for security reasons.

Some day Jimmy will grow up. He'll have a job. And he'll get married. Then he'll discover that one of the prizes he wants most to win is financial security for his family. But he'll be able to win this prize "before the race is run" — with life insurance.

For you see, the full protection of life insurance begins the moment you make your first premium payment and the premiums that you set aside regularly can, if you so desire, help you win some of the "prizes" that savings provide — such as a college education for the youngsters, a travel treat or a new home!

Nowadays the savings you can make with life insurance are more important than ever. For, like all savings, they help to check inflation. And, because they are long term savings, their inflation-checking power is all the greater.

So keep up your premium payments. Add new life insurance as you need it. And save money every way you can!

Life insurance dollars serve you these other ways!

Did you know that a large part of every life insurance dollar is put to work in investments that bring you — and all other Canadians — extra benefits?

Each year, hundreds of millions of these dollars are used in this way to help provide some of the nation's most important industries and public works. Result: new schools, highways, power plants, oil pipelines, industrial plants, home-building projects and many other vital services that help raise living standards.

Today, nearly five million thrifty Canadians are co-operating to provide security for their families . . . working to check inflation . . . and promoting national prosperity . . . by paying premiums regularly on their life insurance policies.

GUELPH, Ont., Dec. 10 (CP)—Even Sunday schools in the United States teach conservation, Gordon Pittock, of Ingersoll, told the inaugural meeting of the Ontario chapter, Soil Conservation Society of America, at the Ontario Agricultural College here Saturday.

Mr. Pittock said he felt the success of the American conservation program lay in the close co-operation between the public and the US Soil Conservation Service. The US public relations program was directed not at the farm population alone, but at the urban sections which would benefit by proper farming practices.

The speaker, representing the Upper Thames Valley Conservation Authority, urged the newly-formed Ontario group to take leadership in obtaining public support of a provincial conservation program.

Two immediate objectives were set at Saturday's meeting.

The organization will index and make available to all fellow conservation specialists the sources of information and technical aid to be had in the province. They will also sponsor a demonstration of modern farm tillage.

Richard Hodges, secretary of the Humber Valley Conservation Authority, was elected chairman of the chapter.

Vice-chairmen are Prof. Frank Morwick, Ontario Agricutural College, Guelph, and Dr. E. G. Pleva, University of Western Ontario.

Boy 16 Flies Stolen Plane To Prove He's No Coward

ST. PAUL, Minn., Dec. 10 (AP)—A 16-year-old boy piloted a stolen plane over St. Paul and Minneapolis for an hour in darkness and bad weather early Saturday to prove he wouldn't "chicken out" under pressure.

With a companion, also 16, the boy brought the light plane down in a plowed field after narrowly missing a railway locomotive. The boys were not injured and the plane was not damaged.

The boys are being held for juvenile authorities. Their names were withheld.

The impromptu pilot told reporters he had been planning the flight for about two years. He said he became interested in flying when he was 14 and took about 2½ hours inf light instructions.

"Then I had a chance to use a parachute and jump out of an airplane," he said. "I didn't jump—I "chickened out" and some of my friends were there and knew about it.

"That's why I planned this for a long time. I had to prove to myself that I wasn't a coward in the air."

Find Whacky US Accidents Tough On Drivers, Bystanders

CHICAGO, Dec. 10 — (AP) — The pulse of life in the United States beats a bit whacky this year.

The National Safety Council released its annual roundup of odd accidents Saturday that would daze even an imaginative seer.

For example, who could have foretold what would happen when Mr. and Mrs. James Gibson of Fort Wayne, Ind., got into a sprightly chat over Mr. Gibson's driving habits?

Or when Sterling Tait beat out Harold Murphy in a hot Republican race for town clerk of Gouverneur, NY?

The Gibson's discussion took place while they were riding along a highway near Fort Wayne. Tiring of the talk, Mrs. Gibson pulled the keys from the ignition switch and tossed them out of the window. Gibson jammed on the brakes. Two cars following piled up in a three-car collision.

Gibson was charged with reckless driving. The driver of the second car was acused of operating a car without a licence. His companion, owner of the car, was charged with permitting an unlicensed driver to operate the car. The driver of the third car was charged with improper car registration.

No charge was placed against Mrs. Gibson.

After Tait's election triumph, his car happened to strike Murphy's dog. Tait stopped to investigate. The animal bit him. Murphy rushed Tait to a hospital. But on the trip he had to jam on his brakes. Tait's head bashed into the windshield. An hour later Murphy's dog died.

The men shook hands and agreed you couldn't blame a Republican for any of it.

Meanwhile, in New York City 2-year-old Tommy Paiva tumbled out of the window of his parents' apartment. The window was 15 stories (120 feet) up. The boy landed in some shrubbery and escaped with a broken thigh and assorted cuts and bruises.

Steeplejack James Swootan, who would never fall out of a high window, tumbled off a bar stool in Richmond, Ind. He had to go to hospital for treatment of his injuries.

In Cincinnati, two trains travelling in opposite directions struck Clayton Busch's car. He was left standing on the tracks, steering wheel in hand, suffering only from cuts, bruises and a king-size dazed feeling.

Don't get the idea that the only surefire way to avoid being hurt in an accident is to be somewhere else. Even that didn't help Mrs. Catherine Meenan of Boston. A car struck a pedestrian in the street below her second-story apartment. The pedestrian's shoe sailed through her window and hit her on the head, inflicting scalp wounds.

Children Prefer YoungFilmParents

BRIGHTON, England (CP). — Children have pretty definite ideas on what "mum" and "dad" should look like in films, say Mary Field, Britain's expert on children's movies.

Film fathers should be "six feet tall, handsome, under 30 and good at everything," while mum is young and pretty—"but not glamorous or soppy-looking."

Miss Field, addressing an audience of teachers, said that what children most dislike is middle-age. Their ideal screen grown-ups must be young, virile and competent—or genuinely elderly and endearing.

Another definite ideal is their screen policeman. He must never be comic or ridiculous. They prefer young, daring types.

Mrs. Santa Makes Toys All Year

TORONTO — (CP) — Mrs. Santa Claus is a cheerful 68-year-old Toronto woman who will begin working on toys for Christmas, 1952, the minute Christmas, 1951, is over.

She is Mrs. Albert Pancott, who has been making children happy with dolls and candy ever since the 1890's. This year 500 needy children will receive her output, begun the day after last Christmas.

Mrs. Pancott started her life's work when she was eight, and living in Buffalo. Her brother, Mason Brayman, one day brought home a batch of empty cigar boxes.

"He started to make some children's toys with these boxes," says Mrs. Pancott. "It was wonderful to see how the kids loved to get them under the tree—that started me and I helped him."

Mason died in 1895 but Mrs. Santa Claus has been keeping up his good work ever since.

Months before Christmas she is sewing and glueing, cooking and wrapping. Before the first snow her home is crammed with gifts.

She figures she "treats" an average of 200 children annually. Gaily painted toys and dolls, boxes of home-made candy and bushel baskets of packaged popcorn balls now stand waiting for Christmas eve when city welfare agencies will see to their distribution.

Mrs. R. J. Marshall Urges Covenant On Civil Rights

PARIS, Dec. 10—(CP)— Mrs. R. J. Marshall of Toronto today urged the United Nations' Social Committee to approve the drafting of a covenant on civil and political rights.

But she asked the committee to defer action on proposed economic and social clauses.

The former president of Canada's National Council of women said that Canada realizes that full enjoyment of civil liberty is "illusory of a man is socially and economically insecure."

She said attainment of economic objectives will take time, and that therefore the inclusion of economic rights in the covenant would jeopardize its completion.

Mrs. Marshall stressed that the covenant must have a clause which covers the complications of the division of legislative powers between the Canadian federal and provincial governments.

50th Bazaar Held At Lakefield By Women's Guild

LAKEFIELD, Dec. 10—(ENS) —Fifty years of Christmas bazaars was marked Thursday afternoon at Lakefield when the Women's Guild of the Church of St. John the Baptist held one of the most successful events of the series.

The parish hall took on a festive air with gay and colorful Yuletide decorations, and was crowded with eager shoppers all afternoon. Those in charge of decoration were Mrs. W. O'Brien, Mrs. Harold Deeth, Mrs. Norman Graham, Mrs. Fred Hudson, Mrs. R. H. Campbell, Mrs. C. Asquith, Mrs. E. Rogers and Mrs. H. E. Gastle.

Replacing the usual "fish pond" was a gaily lighted Christmas tree from which the children could pick their gifts. This was in charge of Mrs. O'Brien, and was a very popular feature.

The novelty table with a wide variety of articles was convened by Mrs. N. Graham, assisted by Mrs. Jack Mose and Mrs. Fred Hudson.

A tempting array of cakes, pies and other food was sold by Mrs. John Twist and Mrs. Deeth. For those with a sweet tooth, candy of all varieties was offered by Mrs. Rogers and Mrs. Asquith.

Fancy work table, in charge of Mrs. Gastle, Mrs. B. Q. Dench, and Mrs. S. E. White, displaying a wonderful assortment of hand knitted infants' wear, socks, etc. as well as many other articles suitable for Christmas gifts.

The tea table with cutwork cloth, was centred with red and white carnations and roses in a silver bowl. Completing the decoration were four tall red tapers in silver holders.

Tea was poured by Mrs. O. A. Langley, Mrs. H. Stuart, Mrs. and Mrs. Delaney. Convener of the tea arrangements was Mrs. Campbell, and her assistants were Miss E. Ogilvie, Mrs. George Birch and Mrs. Junkin.

Receiving the many guests were Mrs. Delaney and Mrs. L. Quackenbush. Treasurer for the afternoon was Miss Annie Atwood.

Sick Girl Trained For Bright Future

GRAVENHURST—(CP)— Jane Mark, 24, an Indian girl, gained hope for the future when she contracted tuberculosis.

Jane was working as a domestic at Moose Factory when she became ill. She was brought to the Muskoka hospital here for treatment.

After a few months' rest she began to seek something concrete to do. She began studying, completed her public school education and took a stenographers course.

Now she works as a part-time secretary for Dr. G. D. Richardson, one of the hospital's leading doctors, and keeps school records for the more than 200 patients studying at the hospital.

Jane has not yet decided whether she will stay on to work at the hospital or go elsewhere. Whatever she does, her future now is wider and brighter for the training she has received.

Nearly 300 guests were entertained in the YWCA Green Room which had been most attractively decorated with Christmas notions, a huge snowman, red candles and evergreen boughs, under the convenership of Miss Joan Stock.

The tea table was laid with a cutwork cloth and centred with a Christmas scene depicting Santa and his reindeer team gliding across the snow after visiting a tiny village. Beautiful silver tea urns were placed at either end and presiding in turn were Miss Mary Medd, Mrs. W. G. Hall, Mrs. W. G. Ovens and Mrs. M. J. Swanston.

Feature of the bazaar was the draw on a Christmas cake which had been made by Miss Mary McRae, Miss Deyell and Mrs. Mounce then iced and decorated with colored peel. Mrs. Ian McRae took charge of the ticket sales and Mrs. Swanston drew the winner, selecting Miss Mary Medd's ticket

Home baking, aprons and small plants were sold by Miss Adele Miller, Miss Irene Nicholls and Miss Joan Stock.

Regent Miss Mary McRae and vice-regent Mrs. Graham Donaldson received at the door and the tiicets were taken by Miss Marilyn Pomeroy.

Five Smart New Fur Fabrics Add Appeal To UK Styles

By MURIEL NARRAWAY

LONDON — (CP)—Five new materials with definite party appeal are a popular festive choice with London's Christmas shoppers.

They are ermaleen, minkaleen, oceleen, pershnelle and beaverleen—new fur-fabric materials that look so good they are walking advertisements for the skins from which they take their name.

It would be impossible, except at close quarters, to tell whether a toque beret, cravat and muff of white ermaleen, worn with a slim black suit, was not the real thing. Yet this threesome costs only £20 14s., can be bought separately, and has an undeniable Mayfair look.

No garment made from these fabrics costs more than £25, and the appearance is striking and glamorous. A lovely contrast to black cocktail and evening gowns is the tuxedo jacket of white ermaleen with wide, tight-cuffed bell sleeves and swagger styling. Its close resemblance to ermine is heightened by a fringing of black-tipped tails to the scarf-tie neckline.

Add Glamor

A tail-fringed minkaleen stole styled to resemble silverblu mink will add glamor to that slinky, new cocktail dress with bare neckline—at the moderate cost of £11. And a white ermaleen stole would go well with a black velvet cocktail suit.

A pretty off-set for some of the new royal purples and honey golds is an elegant black, slinging-sleeved cape of pershnelle—looking for all the world like black persian lamb and costing only £18.

Useful for afternoon and evening wear are the waisted, slinging-sleeved boleros of silverblu minkaleen, equally effective with wool suits and dresses and sequined, crinolined evening gowns.

For those who like the piquant French look, an oceleen waistcoat muff and beret can be combined with tight-skirted suit having lapel and pocket braiding.

Although fur imitations have been tried many times, the worst offenders being ocelot and leopard fabrics, the latest weaves are the best of their kind yet to hit the market. Finest example is the black pershnelle, and white ermaleen runs an easy second.

The materials are especially useful for linings of travel coats and rainproofs. They mean warmth without excessive price.

DOROTHY DIX

Careful Upbringing Will Aid Girl's Matrimonial Chances

DEAR MISS DIX: Do you consider a bringing-up in an old-fashioned home a drawback to a girl's chance of getting married? My friends tell me that due to my parents' old fashioned ideas I'll never get a husband. Do you agree with them? MATILDA

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: If by "old fashioned" you mean a home where God is revered, the family gathers together once a day for the ritual of prayer, and children are taught to obey the Ten Commandments, the answer is emphatically no! Being reared in such a home may —in fact will— lessen a girl's chances of being popular with the "fast set," the tavern habitues, the corner loiterers, the promiscuous teensters without a principle in the world, but it is the best foundation for a sound marriage.

Dorothy Dix

In the old-fashioned home, respect for authority was taught from the cradle. The girl so brought up respected the authority of God, her superiors in school, her family. Today that teaching is called "repressive" and viewed with horror by the same people who deplore the increase of juvenile delinquency without recognizing its true cause.

Young Parents See Mistake

It is a most encouraging sign that our younger generation of parents are themselves evaluating the pernicious efforts of a home in which children are permitted—even encouraged—to do as they please. Their children, now in infancy or early childhood, are being trained more and more in the old tradition that the parents, not the youngsters, should rule the home. So do the hands of time turn back, but, alas, too late to save those already ruined by the laxity of new-fangled ideas in child raising.

Of course the theory of self-expression is easy on the parents. It is the lazy system of child training. No authority to uphold, no discipline to administer! Parents feel no responsibility for the child, as, according to the theory, the youngster is quite capable of caring for himself—no matter how young.

A girl carefully reared by conscientious parents would have what you probably refer to as an "old-fashioned bringing-up". She is a Number I matrimonial bet. She has learned respect for her elders and consideration for her juniors. She is skilled in the household arts of cooking, sewing and budgeting. She is well groomed—not flashily dressed. She has a sense of responsibility to her family, church and community.

Her marriage will be undertaken as a life job—not a fleeting adventure. She will be a capable, faithful wife. Can anyone ask for more? So be proud of your heritage and your family.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: A few weeks ago I met an old friend by accident. He lost his wife almost a year ago, and during our conversation he told me he was very lonesome. I wanted to ask him to give me a ring on the phone, but didn't have the nerve. I think he felt the same way but was a little timid. Now I am sorry I didn't ask him. I am single and lonesome, too. We are both settled people. He has no phone and I am not in a position to entertain male company. I thought of writing him but I am afraid he may think me bold. Would you please advise me how to go about the situation.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Your best opportunity to write your friend would be to extend an invitation. Perhaps you know of a small party in the offing to which you could ask him; or a church social or card party. Anything of this sort would provide a good opening wedge. If he doesn't reply, or refuses the invitation, at least you've tried, but he probably will be delighted at a chance of pleasant companionship. A greeting card for the holidays might also help break the ice. With so much activity available during the next few weeks, I'm sure you'll have no trouble finding an occasion for a note.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am soon going to be 13, and am in the seventh grade. Most of the children I know go to the show with a bunch of girls or a boy once in a while on Friday night. I asked my mother if I could go and she told me to write to you. I can do whatever you think best. Thank you. J.L.A.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: While very occasional evening outings may be permitted, in general I think such excursions should be deferred until you are finished with grade school. Since you are abiding by my advice, I recommend that you be allowed to go with the girls on Friday night for a special occasion, such as a very good report card from school, and then only on the promise to be home not later than 10 o'clock. You should not come home alone.

In refusing to allow you privileges enjoyed by other children in your neighborhood or school, your parents are concerned only with your welfare. Later in life you'll appreciate their conscientiousness more fully. Right now it may seem hard on you, but the years pass quickly.

Hard-Time Party Held At Young's Point

YOUNG'S POINT, Dec. 10 — (ENS)—Faded blue jeans and tattered plaid shirts blossomed at the YPAC hard-time dance Friday night in St. Aidan's Hall.

Dancing began at 9.30 with J. Jones beating it out at the piano to the accompaniment of drums and violin. Wilbert Abbott was [illegible] for the square dances.

Prizes for the "hardest" costume went to Miss Helen Coones and Sandy McNaughton as judged by Russel Brooks and Mrs. J. Piercey. Winners of the "mystery man" and "mystery lady" dances were Miss Margaret Dunford and Paul Jopling. Throughout the evening club members sold tickets on a tempting basket of fruit and the winning ticket, drawn at intermission, proved to be that of Harry Rath.

At the close of the evening it was announced that plans were in progress for another dance to be held New Year's Eve.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Venison Steak at $85 Pound So Take Care With Cooking

Last year our friend Joe drove up to our house and stuck his head in the door and shoved a parcel in my hand.

Since they live 400 miles from here I said "Where'd you come from? Come on in!" (He was in his red plaid hunting togs.) "Can't do it Emmy—just brought you that 85-dollar venison steak so treat it right!"

I found out later what he meant. His trip had cost him alone $200. The one deer that one of them shot was divided amongst four men—so they figured each steak was worth $85 in cold cash—but the fun they had was worth it all.

That was a good question I was asked about venison. We were not lucky enough to have any venison this year and so I neglected to mention it here.

Some chefs say all venison should be nearly rare. Some experienced hunter-cooks say cook venison rare—if you like your beef well-done that is the way you will like your venison. But everybody agrees it requires additional fat.

Roast Venison

A haunch of venison which is being prepared for roasting should be "larded" by the butcher or dredged with flour to which you have added salt and pepper, all over, then covered with a thin layer of fat salt pork or beef suet, and seared at very high temperature of 475 or 500 deg. Fahr. for 12 to 15 minutes, then roasted at 350 deg. Fahr. for 12 minutes to the lb. for well done or 10 minutes to the lb. if liked fairly rare.

Another thing that all experts on this subject agree on is "never overcook it"—venison always becomes dry and unflavorful if overcooked.

Do every thing you know to keep it moist: (1) sear but undercook (2) cover (3) lard it or cover with fat and (4) baste.

Venison Steak

As you know venison which is newly killed is rather tough, though sweet. Venison should be hung for two weeks, but should not be frozen. Freezing only further adds to the chance of it being dry.

Steaks should be broiled, but if this is not convenient may be panfried in very hot fat with butter or some of the venison fat (if any). Have broiler as hot as possible, preheating the broiler pan too. Sear the steak on one side until it is golden brown, turn over, baste with drippings in pan, season with salt and pepper and broil other side until golden brown. Then with sharp pointed knife make a slit near the bone to see if it is done until pink or red-pink at centre. If so serve at once on hot plates. The traditional accompanient to venison is wild plum jelly but I've never been able to find any wild plums to make into jelly so we served it last year with—

Currant Jelly Sauce

(This is good with roast venison too.) Make gravy from drippings in pan by adding flour to them to make a paste, then adding 1 cup boiling water and stir until thick. To this add ½ cup red currant jelly, and 1 tablespoon lemon juice or horseradish. Heat through and serve hot.

For venison pie use tough parts such as the shank and shoulder just as you would for a deep beef pie, stewing the meat in 1-inch cubes until tender, before making the pastry and adding the vegetables.

MOVIE COLUMN

Chaplin Begins Eighth Feature Film

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 10 (AP)—Charlie Chaplin has embarked on the eighth starring feature film in almost 40 years of making movie history. It is his second picture with his traditional tramp costume.

Rarely has the English-born comic permitted any outsiders to observe him during the production of one of his movies. But he has mellowed in recent years. I was allowed to visit the set of his new film, "Limelight."

Asked if he was glad to be back to work after a four-year absence, Chaplin grinned:

"Not exactly. I work like the devil when I'm on a picture. After I get one started, I wonder why I undertake so much work."

No Tramp

"Are you using the tramp character in this one?"

"No," he replied.

"Do you think you ever will again?"

"I don't think so," he said. "But then, you never can tell."

Chaplin abandoned his tramp character in one other picture—"Monsieur Verdoux".

Unlike the talky "Monsieur Verdoux", "Limelight" will carry no message (except the underlying human theme that marks all Chaplin films). The new picture is the story of an English music-hall comedian who has seen better days. He befriends a destitute ballet dancer, played by Claire Bloom, who was discovered in a London musical.

The girl's career rises at the comic's descends. The situation is reversed and she must keep up his morale, even though she is in love with a younger man, played by Sydney Chaplin, Charlie's son.

The whole project shapes up as a family affair. Also in the cast is Sydney's brother, Charles Jr. (agent for both is their mother, Lita Grey Chaplin.) Playing another role is the comedian's half-brother, Wheeler Dryden. And Chaplin plans to have a brief appearance of his three children by his present wife, Ona O'Neill.

All-Star

As with all Chaplin films, Charlie performs most of the functions. He is star, writer, composer, director and producer and even moves furniture.

Disapproves Of Fake Santa Claus

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK, Dec. 10. (AP)—It's okay for the little ones to believe in Santa Claus, his reindeer and his Christmas chimney activities, says psychiatrist Marynia Farnham.

She does not, however, approve of his human impersonations with their fake beards and pillow stomachs.

Dr. Farnham said in an interview that children live by myths and fairy tales and Santa is among the best of these.

Like so many other things of interest to psychiatrists Santa is a symbol. Dr. Farnham, co-author of the recent book, "The Adolescent," explained its meaning:

"Obviously Santa Claus represents the gift-bearing father. He relates particularly to the Christmas season when the birth of a child is being celebrated by the world. That means to the child that a baby is the greatest gift of all, and the child thus associates himself with the other baby. At Christmas, and through Santa Claus, the child sees his own value being celebrated, ritualized and affirmed. Santa represents this giving quality."

Can Turn To Dust

However, she said, all this fantasy can turn to dust when a child is permitted to behold a real-life facsimile of St. Nick and glimpses costumed charity solicitors at their sidewalk stations.

When the children see an imitation Santa Claus, their reaction, said Dr. Farnham, is "what goes on with this fantasy which I pretend is real for my own purposes?" Then they say, "who are these men? Besides, I don't care." By then, the shining idea about Santa Claus is tarnished.

6—In Memoriam

EDWARDS—In memory of a dear mother, Sarah Delish Edwards, who passed away Dec. 10, 1950.
While you, dear Mom, rest and sleep,
Your loving memory we'll always keep.
—Sadly missed by the family.

NORTHEY—In loving memory of our dear father and grandfather, Wellie R. Northey, who departed this life one year ago today, Dec. 10, 1950.
Though his smile has gone forever
And his hand we cannot touch,
Still we have so many memories
Of the Dad we loved so much.
His memory is our keepsake,
With which we'll never part,
God has him in His keeping,
We have him in our hearts.
—Lovingly remembered by daughter Lenore, Sherman and grandchildren David and Billie.

NORTHEY—In loving memory of my dear son, Wellie, who passed away Dec. 10, 1950.
There shall be no more pain; not any more,
All weariness, all faint exhaustion o'er,
No quivering nerve, no aching unconfessed
No memory of misery to cast
One shadow from the past
Upon the unshadowed splendor of his rest.
Beloved! God has lead thee unto this,
And given thee His own enternal bliss.
—Sadly missed by mother, Mrs. Jno. Jas. Northey.

NORTHEY—In loving memory of Wellie Northey, who passed away Dec. 10, 1950.
I have only your memory dear husband
To remember my whole life through.
But the sweetness will linger forever
As treasure the image of you.
—Always remembered by wife Ethel, son John David and daughter Lenore.

Trace Few Leads In Windsor Holdup

WINDSOR, Dec. 10. (CP) — Police said today they have "traced down a few leads" on the daylight holdup Saturday of the Elmwood hotel in which the "Mutt and Jeff" bandits made off with more than $5,000 in cash and cheques.

Two women who were held at gunpoint while the thieves took Friday's receipts were unable to provide descriptions of the men other than that "one was very tall and the other short."

Mrs. Margaret O'Leary

The funeral of Mrs. Margaret O'Leary, late of 781 Snelgrove Road, took place Friday from the Lane funeral home to the Church of the Immaculate Conception where requiem mass was celebrated by her nephew, Rev. Patrick Lynch. In the sanctuary were Rev. James Greenan, and Rev. Joseph O'Sullivan. Interment was at St. Joseph's cemetery, Douro, where the prayers were offered by Rev. Father Lynch and Rev. J. J. McCarthy, pastor of St. Joseph's Church. The pallbearers were: Andrew Quinlan, George Quinlan, Ambrose Quinlan, Frank Lynch, Vincent Garvey and Joseph O'Leary. Mrs. O'Leary was the wife of the late John O'Leary.

Graduates Give Painting At Commencement

NORWOOD, Dec. 10—(ENS)—Norwood town hall was filled to capacity Friday evening, as a large audience from all parts of the district gathered to see students of Norwood Area High School receive certificates, prizes and graduation diplomas at the annual commencement exercises.

Highlight of the evening was the presentation to the school of a Canadian painting by the graduating class of 1951. The painting, entitled "Brimstone Bridge", is by the well-known Canadian artist Tom Stone. It is a snow scene in which the artist has shown most effectively the beauties of winter along the Credit River.

It is hoped this picture may be the beginning of a Canadian art collection for the new school now in the course of construction. The presentation was made by Audrey O'Shea and Leslie Cameron, members of the graduating class and was received by Edgar Buck, chairman of the Norwood Area High School Board. Those receiving their graduation Diplomas were, Mary Lynch (Hon.), Audrey O'Shea (Hon.), Muriel Buck, Leslie Cameron, Shirley Godin, Shirley Keogan, Clarence Logan Albert Lynch, Dorothy Stinson, Joan Walsh, Robert Wilson. Presentation made by the principal S. S. Brechon.

A program of singing, dancing, dramatics and gymnastic displays, was presented by groups of students under the supervision of members of the teaching staff.

A lively and amusing play "Antic Spring" was presented by a group of students under the direction of Miss Honor Gibson. Members of the cast were: Ginger, Kay Fredericks; Gwendolyn, Shirley Godin; Blossom, Betty Baker; Robert, Bob Duncanson; Sam, G. B. LaBrash; Elbert, Jack Stackhouse.

Two colorful folk dances, a "Lithuanian Dance" and the "Newport Quadrille", were given by groups of junior and senior girls respectively, under the supervision of the girls physical education teacher Miss Marjorie Huskisson. In addition to the dancing, a group of girls put on a special display of tumbling and pyramid building.

Of great interest to the audience was the athletic display put on by the boys of the school under the direction of Bernard Jackson, boys physical education teacher. This group gave an exhibition of tumbling and pyramid building in which speed and accuracy combined to give an impressive performance. Interest was added by the clever clowning of two of the members of the team.

The program opened and closed with vocal selections by the junior girls' chorus and the senior mixed chorus under the direction of Miss Winnifred Turnbull. Numbers sung by the junior girls chorus were, "The Royal Minuet" a choral arrangement of Beethovan's "Minuet in G" and "Brother James' Air" the arrangement of the 23rd psalm.

The senior mixed chorus was heard in three numbers, "Break Forth," the lovely Christmas choral by J. S. Bach, the traditional English folk-song "Greensleeves", and a rousing Negro spiritual "Keep in the Middle of the Road."

The awarding of intermediate certificates was by C. A. Copp, trustee of the High School board. Those receiving certificates were: Elsie Clements, Andre Crate, Richard Crowley, Joan Dafoe, Robert Danford, Mac Danford, Robert Fairman, Kay Fredericks, Flora Gardner, Gerald LaBrash, Edward Lynch, Frank Lynch, Geraldine Lytle, Audrey McConnell, Dorothy McMillan, Douglas Montgomery, Marina Morton, Frances Pacey, James Renwick, Marvyn Scott, Viona Scott, Paul Stevenson, Sylvia Strain, Shirley Thompson and Elizabeth Warner.

Field Day Champions: Senior Girls—Muriel Gough, Intermediate girls Virginia Ellis; Junior girls, Marlene Bland; were presented with cups by Miss Huskisson. Awards for senior boys' championship, James Laing and, junior boys' championship, Lloyd Oliver, were presented by Bernard Jackson.

Mr. Breckon presented prizes to Dan Cleary, best shot, Frank Lynch, morse code, also Bob Wilson received the school ring. The IODE history prize was presented by Mrs. A. E. Metcalfe to Shirley Hope, Grade IX and Audrey McConnell Grade X. Other high students were Jack Stackhouse, Grade IX, Albert Lynch, Grade XII.

The chairman's address was given by Edgar Buck, chairman of the High School Board.

Miss Shirley Godin, president of the High School executive, and three girls presented the lady teachers with flowers in appreciation for their time spent in preparing them for the commencement.

Miss Turnbull presented Diane Howse with a gift for her work as editor of the school paper.

Robert Hill led in a sing-song during intermission.

Money Order Blanks Stolen In CNR Office

STONEY POINT, Ont., Dec. 10. (CP)—About $1,400 in negotiable money order blanks was in a safe stolen Saturday from the Canadian National Railways office here, Winceslas Pilon, station agent, said today.

Early reports of the robbery listed the contents of the safe as railway tickets and papers.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS —By Merrill Blosser

Mrs. Roosevelt Denies Unbelief In Immortality

PARIS, Dec. 10 —(AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt today disclaimed any intention of having expressed a disbelief in immortality or agnosticism.

She made her statements in commenting on an article in Tidings, weekly newspaper for the Los Angeles Roman Catholic Archdiocese. Archbishop J. Francis A. McIntyre of Los Angeles challenged her fitness to head the United Nations' Commission on Human Rights. The newspaper said Mrs. Roosevelt "apparently does not acknowledge God."

Mrs. Roosevelt's original remarks were made in a radio program (CBS). She said today "I can't remember exactly what I said on that broadcast. It was a short program."

She added, however, "I do believe in immortality, but I haven't been able to decide exactly what form it might take. There are so many possibilities. For example, there is a question in my mind whether we will appear physically as we appear now. It seems unnecessary to try to decide the exact form that immortality will take. We won't be able to change it and we must accept it. And we must meet it with courage and do our best."

The editorial, by Al Antczak, a staff writer on the Tidings, was a review of the CBS program "This I Believe."

He quoted Mrs. Roosevelt as saying that she didn't know whether she believed in a future life; that she had come to feel that it didn't really matter very much because whatever the future held it would have to be faced when it was reached.

"I think I am pretty much of a fatalist," the article further quoted her. "You have to accept whatever comes, and the only important thing is that you meet it with courage and with the best that you have to give."

Millbrook Council In By Acclamation

MILLBROOK, Dec. 10—(ENS)—There'll be no election this year for Millbrook's 1952 council and school trustees.

Of the five nominated to council, only four qualified—just enough. They are: J. H. Raper, Clifford Larmer, Weldong Coulter and G. T. MacPherson.

Larmer, Raper and Coulter are all veterans of the Millbrook council; MacPherson is a former school trustee.

At Friday night's nomination meeting Dr. J. W. Wright was acclaimed for his fourth term as reeve. Also in by acclamation is George F. Harrington, hydro commissioner.

Three were nominated for the three vacancies on the school board: Fred Lowery, Mrs. Anna Kennedy and Edward Nattress. All qualified.

Had an election been necessary, it would have been held Friday.

Bailieboro Pair Fined In Port Hope

PORT HOPE, Dec. 10—Herbert Dean, 44, of Bailieboro, was fined $100 and costs when he pleaded guilty in Port Hope police court to having liquor not bought on his permit.

His companion, William Robb, 56, also of Bailieboro, was fined $15 and costs on a charge of being drunk in a public place.

Constable T. Fortner and a provincial police officer saw the pair enter a restaurant about 2.30 Saturday morning. They questioned them and found a bottle of liquor on Dean. The men said they found the liquor.

Marmora Bazaar, Tea

MARMORA, Dec. 10—(ENS)—Substitution of a bazaar and afternoon tea for the former yearly chicken supper proved justifiable for St. Andrew's Women's Association who held the event in their church hall Friday afternoon. A large number of residents of the district attended. The CGIT girls staffed a candy table.

Your Garden:

Paper White Narcissus Will Bloom For Christmas

By HENRY PREE (NEA)

Garden narcissus planted in autumn will not bloom until next spring, but blooms from paper white narcissus can be had for Christmas if the bulbs are put into shallow dishes of pebbles and water.

Secure the bulbs at once from your florist, plant five to seven in each dish, place in a cool dark closet or the basement until a strong root system develops. Then bring up into the light and heat for forcing.

A sunny window is best—but just as soon as the flower bud shows, place in a cool light spot away from the direct rays of the sun. The absence of direct sunlight on the plants lengthens the blooming season.

There is still time to plant lily bulbs. However, one must be sure that no water will settle about them during the winter. Good drainage and a gravelly, limey soil are the chief requirements for successful lily culture.

With the exception of the Madonna lily, which should be spring planted, all plants should be planted with four to five inches of soil over the top of the bulb. Shallow planting is necessary for the Madonna lily. Two inches of covering suffices.

If lily bulb planting cannot be done now one can purchase potted bulbs next spring and thus be assured of summer blooms.

Gardenias and camellias, too, can be made to grow satisfactorily in the average house, if given the proper care. They grow best in a warm, sunny and humid atmosphere, with a night temperature of about 60-65 and 10 more during the day. A window facing south, or east, is the most satisfactory.

In the warm dry atmosphere of the average home the foliage yellows, the flower buds dry and thus fail to open, and the plant is most susceptible to attacks of mealy bug.

Syringe the foliage with water at least twice a week. Better still once a day. This wetting helps to compensate for the dry atmosphere.

The gardenia and camellia are shrubs with fairly heavy roots, thus weekly saturation of the soil is a must. This is best performed by setting the pots in the sink, bathtub or a pail, filled with water to the rim of the pot. There they remain until the earth is thoroughly wet.

Incidentally, porous clay pots with a drainage hole in the bottom should be used. And the tops might well be syringed above and below and the whole plant reconditioned for another week's fight against adverse conditions.

Should mealy bugs find their way to the foliage, wash them off with a Black Leaf 40 soapy water solution. Once a month feed with a balanced plant food until late May when the plants are placed out in the garden for a summer's rest.

Gardening Questions

Q—English ivy, grown as house plants, has given us considerable trouble. Every plant starts well but soon dies, the leaves seem to yellow, get sticky, and in a few weeks are all dried up. Could this be due to improper care?
—P.R.

A—English ivy is easy to grow indoors, provided it is given some sunlight, the soil wet thoroughly but once a week and the foliage moistened every 3 or 4 days. My guess is that you have overwatered the soil, failed to cleanse the leaves, and kept the plant in a sunless spot. Every two weeks syringe the foliage with a pint of soapy water to which a half teaspoon of Black Leaf 40 has been added. The pot in which ivy is grown should have a drainage hole in the bottom.

Steal Compressor In Express Room

LINSDAY, Dec. 10 — A small compressor and its accessories valued at $94 were stolen from the CPR express room Friday night.

The thieves thoroughly ransacked the express room and freight office rifling through the empty till and express parcels, but only the compressor was taken.

Entry was gained to the freight office by smashing a pane of glass in the door and reaching through to turn the latch. Police are baffled as to the method used to enter the express room. Employees maintain that all doors were locked, but when police arrived Saturday morning, the west door of the room was unlocked.

Miss Mary Haddow Heard At Murray St.

Miss Mary Haddow, who has been a medical missionary in Bolivia for the past five years, gave a graphic description of her work at Sunday evening service of the Murray St. Baptist church.

Miss Haddow operates a clinic on the Canadian Baptist Foreign Mission Board Peniel Hall farm on Lake Titicaca in Bolivia.

She explained that she is the sole person able to give medical aid in this area with the exception of an American doctor 60 miles away. As a result she has to attend to all the medical needs of the natives, which includes the performing of minor surgical operations.

Miss Haddow is the daughter of the Rev. Alex Haddow, who was responsible for the establishment of Peniel Hall Farm. On this estate the natives are instructed in modern farming methods. The estate also provides schools, churches and Miss Haddow's clinic for the natives.

Special music for the service was provided by Miss Joan Chamberlain who sang, I Know That My Redeemer Liveth, from Handel's Messiah.

Young Soldier Knocks Out Five Red Guns

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10—(AP)—An infantryman with less than seven months service in the army when he knocked out five Communist gun emplacements has been awarded the Medal of Honor.

The highest United States military decoration was conferred on Sgt. Joseph C. Rodriguez, 23, of San Bernardino, Calif. He was a private when he fought his own personal and courageous action near the Korean village of Munye-ri last March 21, killing 15 of the enemy. He was wounded eight days later in another engagement.

The army announcement today on the award said Rodriguez's action was an "incredible display of valour."

Rodriguez now is enroute home.

3 Platoons Fail.

One of the eyewitnesses reports upon which the award was based came from Sgt. John J. Phelan, jr. He said the Reds opened up at 100-yard range with intense machine-gun and mortar fire. Attempts by the three platoons failed to dislodge the Reds.

"I then noticed that Rodriguez was . . . picking up hand grenades from his squad members. Rodriguez left all cover and dashed 60 yards up the slope, yelling and throwing grenades with no regard for the murderous fire aimed at him.

"He dropped several grenades in the first hole and then ran around the left flank where he silenced an automatic weapon with two more grenades. He then dashed across the top of the peak, dropping grenades in two enemy holes as he passed. Reaching the right flank, he assaulted the remaining enemy automatic weapon and killed all of its crew."

Begin Thinning Alberta Buffalo Herd

LAMONT, Alta., Dec. 10 (CP) —Thinning of the buffalo herd at Elk Island National Park begins today.

About 600 of the shaggy one-time roamers of the western plains will be slaughtered.

Soon butcher shops across the country will have buffalo meat for sale. But it won't help with the cost-of-living problems. The meat will retail at about the same price as beef.

Seventy-five of the hides will make fur coats for RCMP and 50 for federal parks officials. The remainder will be sold commercially.

The herd is being cut because it has outgrown the grazing capacity of the park. The thinning is being done scientifically to eliminate the least desirable animals and maintain the vigor of the herd.

This is a far cry from the indiscriminate slaughter of the last century when the vast herds were all but wiped out.

Once buffalo were so thick on the prairies that a herd would take days to pass a given point. But wholesale killing by construction crews and ruthless slaughter of the animals to starve the Indians into submission left only a few.

In 1907 a Montana halfbreed owned 700 head, the only sizeable herd in existence. The federal government bought it. The animals thrived on a 100,000-acre tract near Wainwright in Northeastern Alberta.

From the original 700, they increased to 21,000 by 1930. Then nearly 6,000 were sold or slaughtered and as many moved north to the wood buffalo range in far Northern Alberta where the plains buffalo were crossed with the wood buffalo.

During the Second World War the 3,000 buffalo then remaining at Wainwright were killed off and the range turned into a military camp. That left Elk Island Park, about 25 miles east of Edmonton, with the only major herd of plains buffalo.

The herd there now numbers 1,625 animals. The 600 head to be slaughtered this week will reduce the herd to the level of 1948, when the last thinning was carried out.

An abattoir has been built in the park for the thinning, which will take about 10 days. The usual procedure is to round up the animals and shoot them in the park abattoir.

A similar thinning took place last week in the small herd at Riding Mountain National Park in Manitoba. There, 27 of the 87 head were slaughtered.

BREAK THE LAXATIVE HABIT THIS PROVEN WAY

If you take laxatives regularly, here is how you can stop! This proven plan helps you establish your natural powers of regularity, controlled tests prove.

Stop taking whatever you now take. Instead, every night for one week take two Carter's Little Liver Pills. Second week—one each night. Third week—one every other night. Then nothing! Every day drink eight glasses of water; set a definite time for regularity. This plan was proven in scientifically controlled tests.

How can a laxative break the laxative habit? Because Carter's unblock the lower digestive tract and from then on let it make use of its own natural powers. Further, Carter's contain no habit forming drugs. Break the laxative habit with Carter's . . . be regular naturally.

When worry, overwork, overeating make you irregular temporarily—take Carter's temporarily. Never get the laxative habit.

Get mild, gentle Carter's Little Liver Pills at any drug store. Only 35c. You'll be grateful the rest of your life.

Air Force Hints New Weapon

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP)—The Air Force hinted Saturday it has developed guided-missile armament for strategic bombers, which means they could fight their own way through enemy interceptors to protected targets deep in the Eurasian Continent.

The significant reference was tucked away in a semi-annual report by the Defence Department. In a brief section on guided missiles, the report said:

"During the year (ended last June 30) the Air Force continued development of six major guided missiles and initiated one additional major project. These projects are intended to give the USAF the ability to wage missile warfare in carrying out its air defence, its strategic, and its tactical air missions.

"They included developments designed to increase effectiveness of interceptor aircraft and the defensive capabilities of strategic bombers and to permit all-weather tactical air operations."

Anti-Inflation Steps Approved By CCC

OTTAWA, Dec. 10—(CP)—The Canadian Chamber of Commerce said today that the government "is on sound ground in avoiding the imposition of a complex network of controls" in the fight against inflation.

It commended the anti-inflationary policies adopted, such as restrictions of consumer credit and a generally tighter money policy; and recommended that they be continued "subject to such modifications as may be necessitated by changing conditions."

At the same time the Chamber urged upon the government "the vital necessity of thrift," adding:

"The accomplishments in governmental economy to date seem hardly consistent with the increased burden of taxation which the public has shouldered.

"At the same time it is fully realized that official policies must be buttressed by public understanding and by renewed emphasis on the necessity of increased saving and greater productivity."

The Chamber's statements on inflation were contained in its annual policy submission to the Federal government, made to Prime Minister St. Laurent and the Cabinet, by a delegation of the Chamber's officials, headed by R. B. Perrault, of Montreal, president.

The submission consisted of policy declarations and resolutions adopted at the annual meeting in Quebec Oct. 30-Nov. 1. The Chamber, Mr. Perrault commented in making the presentation, is a voluntary federation of some 700 Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce in all 10 provinces, representing more than 100,000 business men.

The chamber urged maximum integration of Canadian-American defence production; doubling of Canada's population in the next 25 years; and commended the government for plans to go ahead with the St. Lawrence seaway, asking that all necessary steps be taken "to ensure proceeding with construction at the earliest possible moment—it being understood that such shipping as used the seaway would pay toll."

A declaration on resale price maintenance urged the government "to exercise restraint in enacting legislation" until the chamber "can ascertain from its constituent 700 boards and chambers if, in their opinion, the practice of resale price maintenance is detrimental to the public interest."

In any event, the chamber asked that no action be taken at the present session of parliament.

The submission also asked that the government:

Place war orders geographically so far as possible to reduce the threat of war-plant bombing or sabotage.

Give more leadership and assistance in civilian defence organization at the community level.

Give private capital the opportunity to share in television development.

Limit the National Film Board to its present operations and at the same time allow government departments to go to outside sources for their films.

Press for adoption of the World Calendar designed to overcome defects in the present calendar.

Revoke the section of the Canada Dairy Products Act which clears the way for prohibition of inter-provincial trade in butter substitutes.

Marlies Whip Oshawa Gens 5-1 To Break 1st Place OHA Deadlock

By The Canadian Press.

Toronto Marlboros broke their first-place deadlock with the idle Guelph Biltmores in the 10-team Ontario Hockey Association Junior A race on Sunday by whipping Oshawa Generals 5-1 in the second game of a double header at Toronto. Toronto St. Michael's took over sole possession of third spot when they edged Galt Black Hawks 3-2 in the opener.

Marlies didn't fare so well in Saturday night's play however, as they dropped a 4-2 decision to Galt Black Hawks while St. Mike's were handing the Generals a 7-3 set-back in Oshawa.

In other Saturday night junior games, Waterloo Hurricanes maintained their hold on sixth place with a 4-3 victory over Windsor Spitfires. At St. Catharines, the Teepees bowed 5-3 before Barrie Flyers.

Snap Losing Streak

OHA Senior A play on Saturday night saw Hamilton Tigers snap their five-game losing streak in Owen Sound with a 5-2 win over the Mercurys. Stratford Indians continued their winning ways with a 4-3 victory over Sarnia while Brantford Redmen bowed 8-2 before the Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen in Kitchener.

Up north, Sault Ste. Marie Greyhounds maintained their Northern Ontario Senior A League lead with a 7-3 drubbing of Sudbury Miners before 4,572 Sault fans Saturday. At North Bay the Sudbury Wolves scored a 6-2 win over North Bay Black Hawks.

Rookie Paul Knox led Toronto St. Mike's to their 3-2 victory over Galt with two goals while Butch Ratchford tallied the other. Johnny Sleaver and Jim McBurney scored for the Black Hawks.

Paces Hurricanes

Bob Mader paced Waterloo Hurricanes to their Saturday night gain over Windsor with a pair of goals while Jack Armstrong and Lou Dietrich bagged one each. Bob Brown's brace of tallies and Rod McElroy's singleton were the Spitfires' best.

Two of Barrie Flyers' goals in their 5-3 St. Catharines win came off the stick of Doug Mohns, Larry Thibault, Don McKenny and Chuck Wood scored the others. Buddy Boone scored a pair for the losers. Chuck Marshall tallied the other.

Bob Sabourin's three goals led St. Michael's to their 7-3 Saturday night win in Oshawa. Ron Wallace added two and Ed Plata and Jim Logan scored once. Pete Hudson, Herve Dejordy and Bob Holden tallied for the Generals.

On Saturday night at Galt, Johnny Steaver was the hero of the 4-2 Black Hawk victory over Marlboros. He collected the winners' first three goals while Bill McIntosh garnered the clincher. Eric Nesterenko and Parker McDonald were Toronto scorers.

In senior play at Hamilton veteran Frank Liscombe and rookie Ron Kemp paced the Tigers with two goals each. Murray Comfort garnered another for Hamilton while John MacDonald and Buck Forslund were the Owen Sound snipers.

Billy Flick's three goals in the third period paced Stratford Indians to their 4-3 win in Sarnia. Mickey Roth tallied the other. Rollie Beauchamp, Harry O'Connor and Hilt Fraser were the Sailor marksmen.

Don Richmond Named League Batting Champ

The 32-year-old bespectacled former major leaguer, won the 1951 crown with a .350 mark according to the final official averages released today. Richmond took the 1950 title with a .333 average.

Richmond began the season with St. Louis Cardinals but was sent back to Rochester because of weak hitting. Don previously was up in the big time with Philadelphia Athletics.

Richmond is the first to win the International League batting championship two straight years since Jim Walsh of Buffalo performed the feat in 1925-26.

Berliners Flock To Christmas Display

BERLIN, Dec. 10 (Reuters)—As Christmas approaches, more and more trains from the Soviet zone of Germany are bringing shabbily dressed folk into West Berlin. They roam about the shopping streets to see what Christmas in the west is really like.

After their own dowdy displays, they gaze entranced at the clothing and toys, the raisins, lemons, oranges, cake icing, almonds and other delicacies which they cannot buy in the eastern zone.

West Berlin is going out of its way to make up for the lack of Christmas spirit in the eastern sector of the city, where nearly 1,500,000 people live.

A market is being opened beneath the radio tower, in the British sector, where hundreds of German firms will exhibit their Christmas wares. A 75-foot Christmas tree brought 500 miles from Bavaria decorates the market. Carved wooden figurines from Berlin monasteries adorn nativity scenes. Christmas plays will be staged during the season. Thousands of east sector children will be invited to the shows and to parties afterward.

Different Holiday

The East German Christmas ignores the Christian origin of the feast and uses the anniversary to boost all-German unity talks and play up anti-Americanism.

The semi-official magazine Neue Erziehung (new education) recently circulated a model Christmas play to all teachers in East German kindergartens and lower school grades.

In it, a Communist boy tells some women in a state-run shop why they cannot buy almonds, raisins, bananas and oranges in East Germany, though people in West Germany "have all that—plus cannon, tanks and unemployed."

"The Americans send all those good things to Germany to burden the shoulders of the West Germans with debts," he explains. "Now they demand that West Germans shall become soldiers and fight for them when the Americans start their war."

On another scene a boy asks: "Tell me, Daddy, is it true that in America Negro children are not allowed to play with other children because their skin has a different color?"

"Yes, my boy," the father replies, "that is true. The Negro children live worse than animals in a stable. But soon that will change. Negroes will no longer tolerate it. They have friends in all parts of the world who will help them."

Red Firemen Shun Blazes Get Extra Money

MOSCOW, Dec. 10—(AP)—Izvestia took a long hard look at the state of affairs in the Ukraine Sunday and decided that the profit motive is getting out of hand.

For instance:

The volunteer fire department of Lutsk is engaged not so much in putting out fires as in carrying out repair and construction work for profit.

And for instance.

The beekeepers' voluntary society of Kherson has only 11 hives and produced only 60 kilograms (132 pounds) of honey this year, but managed to run up net profits of nearly 100,000 rubles, ($25,000 at the official rate) by speculating in honey, apples, potatoes, etc. These goods were purchased on the local collective farms and sold on the open markets.

Izvestia said it would seem appropriate for local governments in the Ukraine to investigate the matter of societies working at sidelines instead of their main functions and in some cases collecting illicit profits.

About 20 of the fellowships are to be granted in pure chemistry and 14 in physics, both tenable at the council's Ottawa laboratories. Five fellowships will be awarded in biochmistry, microbiology and related fields, at the council's Prairie regional laboratory at Saskatoon.

President Bans Games

President J. Elliott Hudson on Sunday night banned Maritime Major Hockey League games between Glace Bay Miners and Charlottetown Islanders until sufficient police protection is provided in both forums.

Judge Hudson announced his decision after studying reports submitted by referees who handled games between the clubs on Nov. 26 and Nov. 28.

He said he would give the clubs until Dec. 12 to arrange police protection. If they didn't, further games between the two clubs would have to be played on neutral ice.

Conference Ends Without Single Trade

By JOE REICHLER.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (AP). — The windup of the week-long minor and major league baseball conventions today produced nothing but a lot of legislative action which was greeted by yawns from the man in

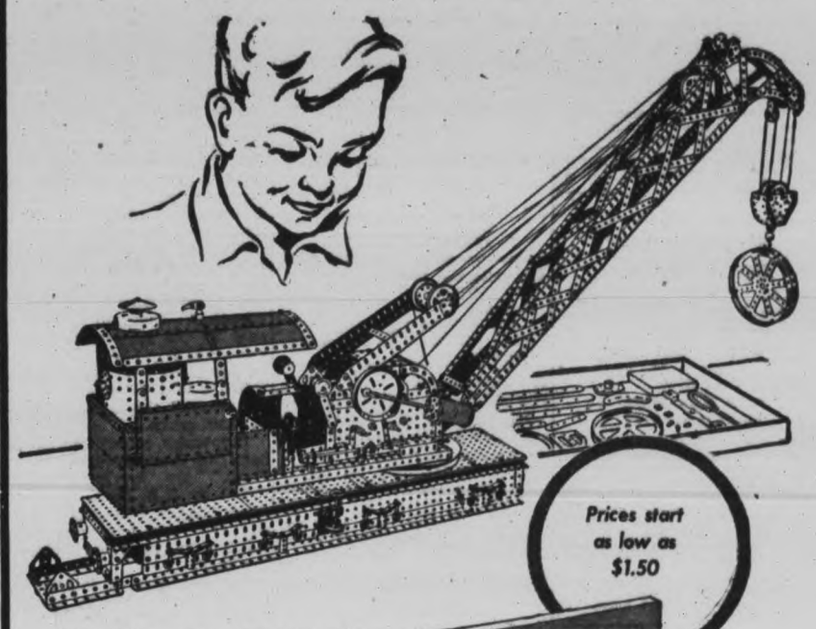
"What happened to all those dynamite deals cooked up last week in Columbus?" he asked.

The plain truth is they turned out to be a lot of duds. An innocent bystander would have wagered that at least one trade would be pulled off by the way the club officials — especially Buzzy Bavasi of Brooklyn and Gabe Paul of Cincinnati—hustled around.

But now it's all over. No trades. No sales. No purchases. No nothing.

Nearly all the club owners and managers have left and Ted Williams is still with the Boston Red Sox, Eddie Stanky is still the property of New York Giants, Fred Saigh still is seeking a manager for his St. Louis Cardinals and the Dodgers and Reds are no nearer to a deal than they ever have been.

Each league had an excuse for not completing a transaction. American League men blame the impasse on the veil of secrecy that shrouds the status of Joe DiMaggio. All clubs are anxious to trade with New York Yankees, who have the only expendable young players of promise. The Yankees, however, have said they will not deal until they learn from DiMaggio whether he intends to play. The Yankee Clipper has promised he will make known his decision Tuesday.



National Leaguers say they have been stymied in deals because of Saigh's failure to select his manager.

Paintings Done By Penitentiary Inmates Sell Like Hot Cakes At Kingston Art Exhibit

KINGSTON, Dec. 10 — (CP) — Paintings by inmates of Kingston penitentiary were exhibited here Friday and sold like hot cakes.

"Some of them were bought before they were on display half an hour," said Andre Bieler, professor of art at Queen's University. He has been teaching the men and said he is "delighted" with the quality of their work.

The men painted on old mail bags and bits of wrapping paper as well as more conventional surfaces. Cash awards will go to prize-winning artists.

The first, entitled "Remorse," was described by Mr. Bieler as "a sort of self-portrait."

"It's a pencil sketch, I think, with just a bit of color added and what looks like shellac blown on to it."

The second prize went to "The Iron Curtain," a study of a hand grasping a window bar.

Mr. Bieler said the men are beginning to be aware of their own environment as a source of inspiration.

"At first they copied landscapes and scenes outside. Now they are getting more technical mastery and beginning to use their own surroundings."

European Unity Blocked Spaak Charges, Resigns Job

JUDGE SHELDON L. SMOKE died today after serving 17 years on the Peterborough County Court Bench.

Judge Sheldon L. Smoke Presided Over Court During Past Week, Dies

His Honor Judge Sheldon LaPierre Smoke, judge of the county of Peterborough since 1934, died suddenly at his home, 1301 Monaghan Road, today. Judge Smoke presided at the fall assizes of the county court last week and had a very heavy docket both in civil and criminal cases presented. Part of the criminal cases were heard during the week and the civil list left over until this week. However, Monday when court opened he was unable to take his place on the bench and the court was presided over by Judge M. A. Miller of Cobourg.

Judge Smoke has been in indifferent health for two years and a year ago had pneumonia when he caught cold at the laying of the corner stone of the new city hall.

Illness has forced him to miss several assizes and his brother judges of the district have been most co-operative in assisting him during the past year.

He was 61 years old.

Tributes were not all formal today; more than one man on the street declared: "He was a good judge, and the city will miss him."

Tribute In Court

In county court today, 22 city lawyers were present to pay tribute to Judge Smoke's memory and to hear F. D. Kerr, KC, dean of Peterborough lawyers, eulogize Judge Smoke.

Warden Peter Pearson spoke for himself and the county council: "We have always had the finest relations with Judge Smoke. His passing will be a loss to the people of the whole county. Judge Smoke always took an interest in the work of county councils. He frequently dropped in to visit when council was in session; on a number of occasions he swore in the new warden.

"On behalf of the members of Peterborough County Council, I should like to offer the sympathy of us all to Mrs. Smoke and family."

"He was one of the finest citizens of Peterborough, a credit to the city and to the bench," said

Three Children Die In Flames

HALIFAX, Dec. 11 —(CP)— Three children lost their lives after fire destroyed a frame dwelling at the northern tip of Cape Breton Monday night, it was learned when a rescue plane landed here today.

An RCAF search and rescue plane landed with Raymond Briand, 2, who was in serious condition. His two brothers and one sister died. They are: Barbara, 7 months; Stewart, 3; and Herman, 4.

Barbara died in the flames. Herman died in hospital at Neil's Harbor Monday night and Stewart died this morning on the way to the plane which was to have brought him to Halifax for treatment.

Facilities at the Neil's Harbor Red Cross hospital, a few miles from their Smelt's Cove dwelling in the rugged Cape Breton northland, were insufficient to take care of the badly-burned children.

The tots were the children of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Briand, away from home when the blaze broke out shortly after dusk. Cause of the blaze was not known.

Truce Negotiators Discuss POW Exchange

MUNSAN, Korea, Dec. 11 (AP) —Truce negotiators discussed exchange of war prisoners today for the first time and immediately tangled on how to do it.

The Communists proposed all prisoners be released by both sides when an armistice is reached. The United Nations insisted on a "fair and equitable" exchange, which was interpreted as a man-for-man swap.

The prisoner question was taken up by a two-man sub-committee (one from each side) a few minutes after the Communists capitulated to allied insistence that the subject be tackled now.

Simultaneously the Red negotiators intimated they would agree to continued rotation of troops and to two other allied demands if the United Nations command would agree to neutral behind-the-lines inspection during a Korean armistice.

BULLETIN

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (AP)— Joe DiMaggio, veteran New York Yankee outfielder, said today he would not play baseball again. He gave no immediate indication as to his plans for the future. It had been expected that the outfielder, who collected $704,323 during 13 years playing with the club, would take the post of TV commentator of the Yankees' home baseball games.

No Changes In Tax Until Spring

Abbott Drops Hint Cigarette Tax May Be Cut Then

OTTAWA, Dec. 11. (CP)— Finance Minister Abbott, defending his taxation policies, told the Commons Monday that no tax changes will be made until he brings down the 1952-53 budget in March or April.

He dropped a broad hint that the tax on cigarettes may be reduced then, but as for other taxes he will assess the situation in the spring.

Mr. Abbott spoke after John Diefenbaker (PC, Lake Centre) called for a vote of non-confidence in the government because of its taxation policies.

"I am quite prepared to stand by the fiscal proposals I made last March," said Mr. Abbott. He wished to deny, he added, that there has been an over-taxation of the people.

Mr. Diefenbaker moved his motion during the throne-speech debate. It will be voted on later in the session, possibly Wednesday.

At the House opening, Justice Minister Garson introduced a bill to outlaw resale price maintenance—the fixing of retail prices by manufacturers or suppliers. The controversial bill, one of several measures remaining on the order paper, may be debated today.

In the main debate, Mr. Diefenbaker criticized the government's tobacco tax, increased in the last budget, as a "national scandal" which has decreased revenues in that field and led to smuggling and increased lawlessness in the country.

Mr. Abbott agreed that cigarette consumption has dropped, but said it probably is due partly to the higher tax, partly to the price increase by cigarette manufacturers and partly to an accumulation of inventories prior to the spring budget.

He said, too, that the question of smuggling is "a very important one" and that when a tax is pushed to the point where there is "too great an incentive" to break the law the situation should be "pretty carefully considered."

Snowsuit Saves Youngster's Life

TRENTON, Dec. 11.—An air-filled snow suit kept three-year-old Vido Lukosius afloat in the chilly waters of the Trent River Monday until Gregory L'Esterance, a construction worker, jumped in and rescued him.

The boy fell off the dock while playing with Stephen Woolley, also three years old. Stephen ran screaming for help. Horace Chard of Frankford jumped in fully clothed, but was unable to swim the distance to where the lad was floating and had to be helped ashore.

L'Esterance, who was working on the dock, heard the commotion stripped to his underwear, dived in and in a few seconds reached the lad and towed him to the dock.

Keeps Officials Dizzy

Pole's Will-o-the-Wisp Act Makes Police, Army Blush

OTTAWA, Dec. 11 — (CP). — A strange, incredible story of a modern Will-o'-the-Wisp emerged Monday.

It unfolded from Immigration Department files and information from overseas. Some of the details still are not too clear.

The story concerns a 22-year-old Pole known in the Canadian Army as Antoni Norton. It developed that he was Antoni Hyrckiewicz, former German soldier, Polish underground worker, illegal Canadian entrant and escapee.

The RCMP caught up with him and he was deported to England November 25.

Available information shows that Polish-born Kyrckiewicz was pressed into the German army during the war. It is known that he was doubling with the Allied underground at the same time. After the war, he found himself in England. Then he dropped from sight.

Canada first heard of Hyrckiewicz about a year ago. It now has been established that he illegally entered Canada on a false passport at Quebec City. He was captured and held for deportation. He escaped.

Then the RCMP making "a routine check" at Valcartier military camp, noticed a soldier named Norton who was described as a "bit of a trouble maker."

Police soon established that Norton was Hyrckiewicz, that he had joined the Canadian Army since his escape at Quebec City and assumed the name of Horton. Embarrassed army officials turned him over for deportation to England.

What happened to Hyrckiewicz in England? Immigration authorities do not know.

Tax Scandal Involves Truman Cabinet

US Senator Demands Two Men Fired After Startling Inquiry

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (CP) — A California Republican Senator has demanded that two top members of President Truman's cabinet be fired because of the tax scandal currently being investigated here.

Senator Richard Nixon said both Attorney-General Howard McGrath and Secretary of the Treasury John Snyder "should be fired" as was done with McGrath's former assistant, T. Lamar Caudle.

Caudle was fired by the president last month for "outside activities" which the White House deemed incompatible with his duties as Attorney-General in charge of tax fraud prosecutions.

The House of Representatives Ways and Means Sub-Committee, investigating tax irregularities, has brought out testimony that Caudle received a $5,000 commission on the sale of an airplane to a representative of defendants in a tax fraud case.

Sensational Story

Capping all that was the sensational story of Abraham Teitelbaum that two men, one of them a frequent associate of Caudle at race tracks and other places, tried to shake Teitelbaum down last April for $500,000 under threat he would have tax troubles.

McGrath testified today before the sub-committee. He said he holds "no brief" for any "indiscretion" by Caudle.

As McGrath testified, Washington seethed with rumors that President Truman is about to take some drastic action in the situation and that the heads of still more top officials will roll before long.

At the White House, Presidential Secretary Joseph Short was told by reporters of a headline in one newspaper saying that McGrath was about through.

Hasn't Resigned

Asked whether this was true, Short said:

"Mr. McGrath has not resigned, if that's what you are asking about."

Short had no comment on Senator Nixon's suggestion that McGrath and Snyder should resign.

Cecil King, Democratic representative from California and chairman of the sub-committee, Monday night denounced Caudle as a public official guilty of indiscretions amounting "to a breach of your public trust."

Investigate Tanker Blast

SARNIA, Dec. 11. (CP)—An investigation was to open today into two explosions which rocked the giant Imperial Oil tanker Imperial Leduc here Monday and sent three men to hospital, one with critical injuries. The inquiry, to be carried out by the company, will be headed by Captain T. D. Kelley, superintendent of Imperial's marine department. The first blast occurred about 3:36 pm as about 70 men were cleaning out the vessel in preparation for a load of fuel oil. The second was about eight minutes later. Assistant Dockmaster J. C. Foster said "there was one small explosion which sounded like a boiler bursting, followed a while later by a terrific boom."

"Black smoke billowed out of the ship and settled over the entire dock, hiding the scene. There are only two men who know what happened and they are both in hospital unable to talk."

Badly Injured

Most seriously injured was Michael E. Harris of Corunna, Ont., a laboratory technician who was conducting safety tests in No. 3 hold.

He suffered severe burns to the chest, face and hands. Hospital officials today described his condition as "quite serious."

Capt. F. C. Smith, shore captain of the Imperial Fleet, is also in hospital with burns to the hands and head. Stanley Pleasance, a 51-year-old native of Collingwood, is suffering from burned hands and head.

Walter Latimer, a helmsman on the Leduc, suffered slight back injuries.

Happened In Forecastle

Pleasance was near the bow of the ship when the blast occurred in the forecastle.

"I heard a roar behind me and turned to see what had happened," he said. "The next moment I was lying flat on the deck. I looked up and tongues of flame were shooting overhead. I crawled to the protection of a hatch cover."

Some officials felt the damage to the ship wouldn't be as great as was first feared. They felt any would be to tank plates and tank frames deep inside the $4,000,000 vessel.

Mob At Parliament Gates As Control Showdown Starts

TEHRAN, Iran, Dec. 11. (AP)—Opposition deputies made a bold bid today to topple the government of Premier Mossadegh as a Nationalist mob battered on the parliament (Majlis) gates, shouting for the blood of the aged premier's opponents. Inside the packed building several persons were injured as supporters and opponents of the government fought briefly with fists and feet, delaying the parliament session.

When the Majlis chamber finally was cleared of press and public and the session opened, opposition deputies at once leaped to attack the Premier, whose oil nationalization program ejected the British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Company and ended Iran's chief revenues from oil production.

Yelling at the top of their lungs, the opposition accused Mossadegh of leading Iran into terror and ruin and demanded that he resign.

Government At Stake

The crowd outside, realizing that the eight-month-old government was at stake, raced for radio loudspeakers to hear the broadcast of the session.

Some 500 army troops, armed with rifles and bayonets, were parked outside the building in trucks.

Opposition deputies didn't heed the clamor outside. As Mossadegh walked unsteadily to the rostrum, his opponents in the chamber jeered, booed and banged at their desks in an angry uproar.

Mossadegh threatened to go outside to deliver his adress, but finally yielded the floor to opponents, telling them to talk first. The Premier had been slated to deliver an ultimatum to the West to start buying Iranian oil within 10 days. If the West did not,

Refuse Grant Of Certification

HALIFAX, Dec. 11 (CP) — Sharp union protests were expected today to a precedent-setting ruling by the Nova Scotia Labor Relations Board, refusing certification of a shipyard union because of Communist leadership.

The board, in a decision made public Monday, said it refused to certify the Maritime Marine Workers Federation (CCL) as bargaining agent for some 500 workers in Dartmouth, Lunenburg, Pictou and Liverpool, because its secretary-treasurer, J. K. Bell, was a Communist.

Mr. Bell said the union's executive would meet immediately to decide whether to appeal to the Nova Scotia Supreme Court, the next legal step.

The board's decision said: "To certify as bargaining agent a union while its dominant leadership and direction is provided by a member of the Communist party would be incompatible with promotion of good faith, collective bargaining and would confer legal powers to affect vital interests of employees and employer upon persons who would inevitably use those powers primarily to advance Communist aims and policies. . ."

Britain Asks US For $600,000,000

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)— Britain was reported today to have requested about $600,000,000 in American economic aid during the next six months to prevent a new financial crisis.

But the informed officials who reported this said the United States probably will grant Britain no more than half that amount. The officials asked that their names not be used.

They said a delegation representing Prime Minister Churchill's government outlined Britain's need for American dollars during talks here last week with the Economic Co-operation Administration.

Americans, the Britons talked with, officials said, made no promises.

Plan To Fly Santa Letters

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Dec. 11 (AP)—An airlines plane was scheduled to take off from here today to air drop on the North Pole a real pole, colored like a candy cane, along with 5,000 letters to Santa.

But there were plenty of straws in the Arctic winds to indicate the flight won't be made before Wednesday.

Alaska Airlines, which plans the flight with a specially outfitted DC-4, left unchanged its schedule calling for a departure from here at 12:30 pm (5:30 pm EST). The plane, "The Polar Express," was flying in from Seattle overnight.

But officials of the line privately expressed doubt that the polar flight will be made before Wednesday morning.

The 5,000 letters were collected by Mrs. Audree Vance who has children send letters to Santa in care of her Fairbanks, Alaska, home. She is known as "North Pole Nellie."

Held Up By Bandits Victim $10 Ahead

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 11 (AP) —Joseph Silverman came out $10 ahead when he was held up Monday night.

He explained it this way to police: Two men walked into his cheque cashing office. One asked for a driver's learning permit and handed Silverman a $10 bill from which to take the $3.50 fee.

As Silverman turned to make change the second man thrust a pistol through the cage window and demanded money. Silverman dropped to the floor behind the counter, pulling a burglar alarm lever as he went down.

The robbers fled—leaving Silverman holding their $10.

Blames British Particularly As He Denounces Scheming Politicians

Declares Assembly Adopts Timid Policy, Accepts Watered Down Compromise As Two Bodies Deadlocked On Next Move

STRASBOURG, France, Dec. 11. (AP)—Belgium's Paul-Henri Spaak, leading advocate of European unity, resigned today as president of the European Consultative Assembly. He denounced European politicians—especially British representatives—for pleading special interest and blocking unity plans. The former Belgian premier and foreign minister then took the floor and challenged the assembly to clothe Europe's unofficial parliament with real executive authority.

He spoke as both the assembly and its upper house, the council of Europe, appeared hopelessly deadlocked over moves towards European unity. Neither the assembly nor the council has power to enforce decisions. The assembly passes on recommendations to the council—a committee of foreign ministers — which in turn makes recommendations to national governments.

In a rousing oration, Spaak declared the Assembly had adopted a timid policy in proposing weak and limited international "political authority" for the projected European Army.

He berated the Assembly action as "truly without character" and a "watered down compromise" framed in the vain hope of winning British support.

Time Running Out

Turning towards a member of the British delegation, he said: "You talk as if we had decades to talk of sovereignty and an eternity to decide."

He criticized the resolution, which urged some member states to establish a limited political authority for the direction of the European Army force within the Atlantic Pact and in association with Britain.

"If you cannot do more than that," he said, "we are at the end of the road."

Spaak said that as president all he heard was a series of reasons why Europeans could not unite. The Germans, he said, wanted national unity first, the Belgians wanted Britain to join first, the French refused to join up alone

Claxton To Visit Korea

OTTAWA, Dec. 11 — (CP) — Defence Minister Claxton plans to visit Canadian troops in Korea and Japan shortly, it was learned today. He is expected to leave by air at the end of this month, going first to Japan and then to Korea. He likely will be away about two weeks.

Women Bingo Players Threaten Police Chief

MOUNDSVILLE, W.Va., Dec. 11 (AP)—Fifteen women bingo players threatened to throw Police Chief Raymond Gillespie into the Ohio river for shutting down their games.

Mayor Wilbert Minor last week ordered the city police department to wipe out illegal gambling.

After hearing the women at a city council meeting Monday night the mayor said his edict did not include bingo.

The women turned on Chief Gillespie.

"Bingo will not be allowed while I am chief of police," he told them.

"We'll throw him in the river," one of the women said. "He needs cooling off."

First Draftee Wins DSO

Young Subaltern Decorated For Bravery In Savage Battle

SEOUL, Korea, Dec. 11 (AP)— A 20-year-old Scottish subaltern Monday became the first National Service soldier (draftee) in the British Army ever to win the Distinguished Service Order.

He is 2nd Lieut. William Purves of Ednam, Roxburghshire, Scotland, a platoon commander in the 1st Battalion of the King's Own Scottish Borderers (the Kosbies), now serving with the 1st Commonwealth Division in Korea.

Purves, commissioned after he was called into the army, won the decoration for extraordinary heroism and skill November 4 in one of the most savage actions of the Korean War.

The medal is second only to the Victoria Cross as an award for gallantry in action.

The citation, announced Monday, tells how Purves and his platoon were holding a knoll when the Chinese attacked. The rest of his company was forced back, exposing his left flank. However, Purves held on and also took command of another platoon after it was left leaderless.

The Chinese kept coming in repeated attacks. Purves was wounded severely in the right shoulder.

Still he dashed from foxhole to foxhole, disregarding bullets and shrapnel, directing his men's fire, and throwing hand grenades despite his wound.

By 9 pm the two platoons were isolated, but fought on. At 1:45 am Purves got a message back to battalion headquarters, reporting the situation and asking for information. He was ordered to try to fight his way out.

This he did, directing the remnants of the two platoons through mortar fire and under the nose of the enemy.

Lyttelton Has 6-Point Plan Halt Terrorism

SINGAPORE, Dec. 11 (Reuters)—Britain's colonial secretary, Oliver Lyttelton, today announced a six-point plan to stamp out Communist terrorism in Malaya.

Lyttelton, who has travelled more than 1,300 miles in a 12-day tour of Malaya, said at a press conference that he did not plan any great increase in troops to bring about a speedy end to the jungle war against Communist guerrillas.

But he listed these points:

1. "Overall direction of four forces—military and civil."
2. Reorganization and training of police—"urgent."
3. Compulsory primary education—"education must help us win the war of ideas."

More Protection

4. Much more protection for "squatter resettlement areas."
5. Establishment of a "spare-time" army of Chinese in towns and in settlement areas "to defend their homes and their fellow countrymen."
6. Problem of the present great strain under which the civil service is working must be tackled. "We must review their terms of service and strive to maintain the high standards which have always been set."

"The main burden rests with the people. They must help themselves," Lyttelton said.

Renew Battle 1 MIG Downed

SEOUL, Korea, Dec. 11—(AP) —Allied jet pilots battled Russian-made MIG-15s in Mig Alley today and reported one Communist fighter probably destroyed.

The US Fifth Air Force said all Allied planes returned safely.

A 12-minute battle over Anju broke the two-day lull in aerial duels. Migs were spotted Monday but avoided contact.

The Tuesday battle pitted 26 F-86 Sabre jets against about 50 MIGs.

United Nations ground units threw back a probing attack by a Red squad in a half-hour engagement on the eastern front Tuesday about dawn. Allied patrols on the central and western fronts reported only light enemy contact.

In the southern provinces, South Korean troops pressed their campaign against an estimated 8,000 Red guerrillas and bandits in the Chiri mountains.

Thus far the South Koreans have reported 1,043 Reds killed and 1,580 captured. Many guerrillas have surrendered.

King Came To Throne 15 Years Ago Today

LONDON, Dec. 11 (AP) — Fifteen years ago today the King succeeded to the throne through the abdication of his elder brother, King Edward VIII.

The King spent the anniversary quietly at Buckingham Palace, still convalescing from his operation two months ago for removal of all or part of a lung.

His brother Edward, now the Duke of Windsor, arrived in New York Monday for his annual winter visit to the United States.

Today's anniversary was observed at Portsmouth naval base by the firing of a Royal salute amid beflagged warships.

The King will be 56 Friday, when there will be a family party at the palace.

Believe Pope To Name Cardinals Soon

VATICAN CITY, Dec. 11 (AP) —The approach of Christmas is giving new impetus to speculation that the Pope will name Cardinals to bring the membership of the Sacred College to its full strength of 70.

Some Vatican sources express belief the Pope will name candidates for the red hat on Christmas eve, when he receives the traditional greetings of the Cardinals resident in Rome. The consistory probably would be held early in 1952.

Deaths of Cardinals since the consistory of February, 1946, have thinned the membership to 49, leaving 21 places vacant.

No official confirmation of such intentions on the part of the Pope could be obtained, but it was recalled here that he announced the names of Cardinals-to-be last time on Christmas Eve, 1945. The consistory was held Feb. 18, 1946.

The conservative Rome newspaper, Giornale D'Italia, today carried a dispatch of L'Informazione, a small news distributing agency, which said it learned the Pope would announce the names of new Cardinals Christmas Eve.

However, it gave the names of only 10 prelates—nine Italian and one French—who, it said, would be elevated to the rank of Prince of the Church.

The agency said it is not likely that Archbishop Alojzjic Stepinac of Zagreb, recently released from jail by Yugoslav authorities, would be given the red hat at this time. Such a step now would be avoided by the Vatican, the agency said, to prevent further embittering of relations with Yugoslavia.

GOODBYE KISS — Major Robert Graves, of the Canadian Scottish Regiment, says a final goodbye to his wife, Lieut. Margaret Graves, before he boarded the transport Fairsea at Halifax, bound for Hannover, Germany. It was the first big troop embarkation from the old war base since the Second World War. The 2,000 members of the 27th Brigade will join Gen. Eisenhower's NATO army.

Egypt Rejects Foreign Units

PARIS, Dec. 11 — (AP). — Egyptian Foreign Minister Salah el Din Monday night termed the proposed Middle East defence command even worse than the 1936 Anglo-Egyptian treaty his country has repudiated.

He called upon the British to "go back to their island" and made clear Egypt wanted no foreign troops of any kind on her soil in times of peace.

At a press conference attended by more than 250 reporters at UN headquarters, Salah el Din disputed a recent British White Paper which blamed the Egyptian government for the current crisis in relations between the two countries. The foreign minister added bitterly:

"Why do they (the British) not go back to their island and stay there, to live in peace and let others live in peace? Why do they not spend the rest of their days in penitence to redeem the sins of hateful imperialism which has been and continues to be a curse on suffering humanity and a calamity to the cause of universal peace?"

The British White Paper disclosed that Britain had once offered to move its troops out of the the Suez Canal area by 1956 if Egypt would let them return in time of war or threat of war. The 1936 treaty gave Britain the right to station troops in the canal area. Egypt wants them to get out immediately.

Egypt was told that it had the alternatives of either co-operating in a defence plan or, facing the possibility of two invasions—one from the northeast to occupy Egypt and the other from the West to expel the aggressors.

See Support Weaken On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, Dec. 11 (CP) — Steadily weakening support today dropped stock market prices sharply in early afternoon dealings.

Papers and steels attracted firm support while utilities, constructions and retail stores weakened. Textiles, liquors and manufacturing companies dipped sharply.

Base metals slipped. Consolidated Smelters dipped $1 after an early gain. Noranda lost $2 while Quemont eased fractions. Cassiar climbed strongly but Golden Manitou, Normetal, New Calumet and Silver Standard weakened.

Western oils made little headway. Calmont, Calvan Consolidated, Central-Leduc and Sapphire strengthened while Canadian Atlantic, Calgary and Edmonton and Royalite eased.

Dome, Lake Shore and Malartic gained in the senior gold list. Secondary issues showed a majority of penny advances.

Cooper Denies Hudson Bay Co. Shifts To Canada

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON, Dec. 11—(CP)—Sir Patrick Ashley Cooper, Governor of Hudson's Bay Company, issued a statement today denying suggestions that control of the company may be shifted to Canada.

The company's headquarters "continue in London, its policies remain unaltered, its assets stay intact," Sir Patrick said.

He said there is no support whatever for reports published Monday in Toronto, and reprinted by British newspapers today, that a group of Western Canada financiers is trying to obtain control.

These reports were inspired by "considerable" recent activity in Hudson's Bay shares. It was true there was some movement of shares from the United Kingdom to Canada but the number of shares held in that country totalled less than 12-per-cent of the company's capital.

"It is not practical at this time to open a Canadian transfer office," Sir Patrick's statement said, "but steps are being taken to expedite the issue of certificates to new shareholders in transfer.

Steps Planned

"These steps will include an application to the Stock Exchange for the unnumbering of shares. I would like to say that we welcome these new shareholders, but that no change is contemplated in the company's organization."

Sir Patrick said Hudson's Bay oil prospects are unchanged from the position he outlined in the last annual report. Discovery and development of oil resources entailed a long and costly process, but the board believed there were prospects of eventual benefit to shareholders.

The Toronto reports to which Sir Patrick referred said control of the company is being sought by western Canada financial representatives. The story as published here said negotiations for the transfer of a big bock of shares held in England depend on the appointment of a Canadian transfer agent.

A feature of London Stock Exchange recently has been heavy buying of Hudson's Bay shares. Market dealers say large blocks of shares have been bought by Canadian interests from investors here.

without Germany, and the British kept referring to their "special position."

Grave Crisis

He declared Europe is facing a grave crisis "living on the fear of Russia and on American charity" and unable to agree on strength through unity.

Spaak adamantly refused the repeated pleadings of Assembly members that he remain at their head and he took his seat on the floor as a plain delegate.

"I cannot in conscience approve any longer of the timid policy of this Assembly," Spaak wrote. "Therefore I have decided to resign at this critical point and devote myself more actively to the fight for a united Europe."

Close Association

The assembly's recommendation was based on a Washington declaration of last September. At that time Britain joined France and the United States in favoring creation of a "European continental community" and agreed she wanted to maintain "the closest possible association at all stages of its development."

The assembly's proposal apparently envisaged a positive but limited delegation of power to a central authority, although it did not specifically say so. Participants in the authority then could work out some association with Britain.

The relationship was left open. The plan stirred no enthusiasm among either Conservative or Labor British delegates and most of them refrained from taking part in the 60 to 10 vote approving the recommendation.

ELECTED TO PARLIAMENT — PC candidate Carl Nickle, 37-year-old journalist, was elected to parliament in the Calgary West federal by-election.

PC Elected In Calgary By-Election

CALGARY, Dec. 11 (CP). — Tradition was upheld Monday when Carl O. Nickle, 37-year-old Progressive Conservative making his political debut, was elected to parliament in the Calgary West Federal by-election.

Calgary West electors have voted Conservative all but once in seven general elections and three by-elections in the last 26 years. R. B. Bennett, former Conservative Prime Minister, initiated the trend in 1925 and represented the riding for 14 years. This was the first by-election to be contested.

Mr. Nickle won handily in a three-way fight. When vote-counting ended at 11 pm Monday night with 193 of 199 polls reported he had 10,513 votes to 6,280 for Liberal Dr. Frank C. Buchanan, 65-year-old retired school superintendent, and 5,279 for Social Crediter Arthur J. Dixon, 32-year-old real estate executive.

Drop In Vote

The by-election was made necessary by the resignation of lawyer A. L. Smith, who had held the seat for the Progressive Conservatives since 1945 before ill health enforced him retirement last summer.

In the 1949 general election Mr. Smith polled 11,457 votes to 8,619 for Liberal C. C. Matthews and 6,758 for Mr. Dixon.

Despite ideal weather and road conditions there was a 20-per-cent drop in the total vote from 1949. Then, 27,054 of the 38,311 eligible voters—or about 70 per cent—cast ballots. There were 44,901 eligible voters yesterday, 35,498 in the city.

Returning officer D. J. Young reported that not one treaty Indian was willing to forfeit his tax-exempt status to vote.

The Progressive Conservatives, who only last June swept four by-elections in one day, now have won nine of the 22 federal by-elections held since 1949. The Liberals have taken eight.

BC Man Hanged For Killing Son

BURNABY, BC, Dec. 11 (CP) —John Michael Davidoff, 49-year-old resident of Brilliant, BC, was hanged at Oakalla Prison today for the slaying of his 20-year-old son Joseph.

The body of the youth, killed with a rifle bullet, was found in his bed in the Davidoff home last April 16. Motive for the murder was said to have been a $2,500 life insurance policy which had been taken out on young Davidoff the previous fall. His father was sole beneficiary.

A petition, signed by more than 1,000 Doukhobors, sought to have the convicted man's sentence changed to life imprisonment. But defence counsel A. G. Cameron, of Trail, announced on Monday night the Governor-General-in-Council would not interfere with the death sentence.

Spray 180 Miles Of Road To Kill Weeds

Some 180 miles of roads in Peterborough county were sprayed this year, Melville H. Johnston, county weed inspector, reported to county council.

Mr. Johnston said municipalities had co-operated well on the whole. The northern townships are lagging behind the others, however.

In the northern townships goats beard, wild carrot and poison ivy are multiplying. But school grounds are clear of these weeds.

One new weed was noticed this year: yellow rocket. It has not yet spread thickly throughout the county.

Started Late

Late starting prevented the spray being fully effective, Mr. Johnston found. He said too much attention had been paid to brush, instead of weeds.

Two other hindrances to a fully effective weed-killing program were the scarcity of men to do the job and lack of money. Mr Johnston did his 180 miles of spraying and other jobs as weed inspector for a total of $303.

County council will probably boost the amount set aside for weed prevention in their 1951 budget.

"I think Mr. Johnston carried out his work very conscientiously," commented Reeve Dick Stewart, Otonabee.

$500 Ceiling On Govt. Annuity

OTTAWA, Dec. 11 (CP)—By a vote of 7 to 6, the Industrial Relations Committee agreed today to place a $500 ceiling on the amount the holder of a government annuity can withdraw before his contract is fully matured.

The vote split through party lines and led to a sharp exchange between David Croll (L, Toronto Spadina) and Frank Lennard (PC, Hamilton-Wentworth).

Mr. Lennard said he voted against the placing of a ceiling in the cash surrender privilege of annuity contracts. It would have the effect of inserting a means test into the annuity legislation.

Mr. Croll angrily said that Mr. Lennard should talk to members of his own party about the means test provision. It was a member of Mr. Lennard's party, he said—Leon Balcer (PC, Trois Rivieres)—who had forced the vote which led to the adoption of the ceiling.

The exchange came while the committee continued study of a bill amending the government annuities act. It increases the maximum amount of annuity to $2,000 from $1,200 a year and introduces for the first time a cash surrender privilege. Under existing legislation, the holder of an annuity cannot touch his investment until he reaches retirement age.

Hint Of Alderman Quitting Fails To Come Up At Council

Nothing was said at the meeting of the Council Monday night of the recently published intimation from Ald. Norman Graham that he was thinking of resigning his seat.

To the Examiner just prior to beginning of the half-hour late session Ald. Graham said: "All kinds of people have been urging me not to quit."

Everything was serene and dignified as the last trickle of the sand of the 1951 Council ran out.

When announcement was made to the Council some time ago that Lemery Distributors were acquiring property from the city on Lansdowne Street for an industrial building, Ald. Graham said he knew nothing about it although he was a member of the industrial committee.

This was a statement made in public, and Ald. Graham wanted to know why he was not informed of the negotiations and the committee meetings. So far, no public reply or explanation, possibly of inadvertence, has been made.

On that occasion Ald. Graham also said that the word "private" should be removed from the door of the office of the city clerk.

Ordered Removed

Ald. Harold T. Rehill picked up that ball. At the meeting Monday night Ald. Rehill moved, seconded by Ald. A. B. Burrows, that the sign "private" on the city clerk's office door be replaced with the words "city clerk." That motion carried unanimously.

City Clerk Outram made no reference whatever Monday night to any letter from Ald. Graham in his reading of the communications to the Council.

The atmosphere was serene, business was comparatively light. The Council was closing another chapter of its annals.

John Hodgson told the Examiner afterward that from his gallery seat he could hardly hear any of the discussion. The words of Ald. T. D. Miller and Ald. H. F. Waddell were the clearest. Some of the others were just a murmur.

Possibly the Council is not yet aware of the efficiency of the acoustics of the council chamber. In the vacated premises sounds used to ramble around, with various echoes attending. In the new chamber the walls and ceiling were evidently designed for acoustic properties. Sounds are absorbed unless they have a carrying ring to them.

It was understood today that Ald. Graham's communication was being withheld.

Disarmament Committee To Be Established

PARIS, Dec. 11 (AP)—United Nations assembly president Luis Padilla Nervo officially reported today that Russia and the western powers have agreed to set up a new disarmament commission. But the opposing sides still are far apart on how the commission should operate, he added.

Canada, along with 11 members of the UN Security Council, would make up the new disarmament commission.

Padilla Nervo's report summed up the results of 10 days of secret talks among the big four on how to end the world arms race. Padilla Nervo presided over the talks.

The agreement to set up a new commission—which would deal with both atomic and conventional weapons—appeared to be the only concrete result of the conversations about rival Soviet and western plans for disarmament.

Unanimously Approved

Padilla Nervo's report was unanimously approved by the four powers—Russia, Britain, France and the United States — who asked that it be considered their formal report to the UN political committee.

The three western powers in a separate statement said the talks were "frank and objective" but "fundamental differences still remain."

Padilla Nervo's report showed east and west were nowhere near accord on the basic problems of disarming, though they had agreed the proposed commission should continue to try settling their differences.

Education Quits Old Ways Campbellford Rotary Told

CAMPBELLFORD, Dec. 11 — (ENS).—Rotarians held their annual Teachers' Night with members of the teaching staffs of the local public and high schools as guests of honor.

Dr. W. Ward Baker introduced the guest speaker, J. R. McCarthy. Mr. McCarthy is an inspector for the Ontario Department of Education.

Mr. McCarthy paid tribute to Charles Haig, principal of the Campbellford Public School. Mr. Haig, said the inspector, is one of the most outstanding principals in the province, and has a service record the envy of many. He also commended the Rotary Club for holding these annual teachers' meetings. He said the teachers have a better viewpoint than anyone of the social and economic needs of the community.

Speaking of teacher-parent relations, Mr. McCarthy said there is a much greater understanding today than in past years. He demonstrated and explained his talk with many humorous anecdotes.

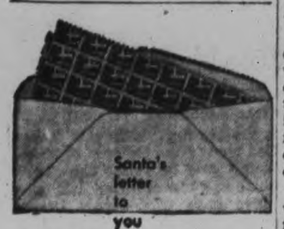
The speaker said the department is now getting away from the old cut and dried, centrally compiled course of study. Now, he said, the department is striving to prepare a curriculum that will be a help to all teachers, but is definitely not meant as a mandatory form to follow.

Teachers are asked to prepare their own courses of study to suit their own requirements. The conditions found in different communities vary greatly, and Mr. McCarthy believes the local teachers are better equipped than anyone else to determine the needs of their own classes.

Always a Lag

The main trouble with strict courses of study was that there was always a lag, said the speaker. New things are found from time to time, and a child studying in the atomic age should not be forced to follow a course of study designed for the horse-and-buggy days.

The department is now endeavoring to teach students to think for themselves. The program is progressive, as the schools must develop a group of citizens adaptable to change and who can take care of themselves, who can sift the truth out of the great deal of propaganda flung at them, and who can take their places in democratic society.



Mr. McCarthy spoke of the new three-year system the department is experimenting with in some places. Under this system, one teacher handles three grades, taking in about 10 new pupils each year and following them through the three school grades. The speaker explained the many good points of the system and how it would benefit all concerned.

In closing, Mr. McCarthy said: "I believe, too, that the shuttle which flies backward and forward across the loom of time is bringing into existence a tapestry in which the type of education we give our youth will form the pattern. Let us be certain that we contribute our part to weaving that tapestry of which we may all be proud."

President Franklin Linton thanked the speaker on behalf of the club.

Cobourg Chief Quits Post, Blames Tragedy

COBOURG, Dec. 11 (ENS). — Chief of Police William J. Carey, who has been on leave of absence for several months, tendered his resignation at Monday night's Council meeting. Council accepted it with regret and Deputy-Reeve George Galbraith sponsored a resolution that a by-law be brought in at the next meeting appointing Constable H. Pearse as chief constable.

In a letter to the Town Council, Chief Carey pointed out that in fairness to the public he felt he should resign and that his decision to do so was due to the personal tragedy in his home. He said that he had delayed resigning because he had hoped that he might feel able to retain his post. He thanked the Town Councils, past and present, under which he had served, the citizens of the town and the town employees for their assistance and loyalty.

The resolution of acceptance, moved and seconded by Deputy-Reeve Galbraith and Coun. Jack Erskine, said that the chief's resignation was accepted with regret and that the town was losing the best chief in Ontario. They wished him every success in his business.

"The chief visited the Council in committee," observed Mayor Jack Burnet, "and he added the statement that he was sorry that such a step was necessary after so many years in the service of the town. The Council in turn expressed regret in his decision, but voiced appreciation for his faithful and efficient service. We have lost a most efficient police officer and a man who has befriended many in Cobourg in ways which the public knew nothing about, setting many, particularly young people, on the right track. He also said that we had a very loyal and capable police force."

Reeve Roy Dodge, who was in municipal life from 1933-1951, and who is retiring from public service this year, said that this was his last year in Council and that his Council work had been most pleasant. He also lauded the press for their co-operation.

Council gave second reading to a by-law to borrow by the issue of debentures the sum of $26,860 to buy a new fire pumper, and gave second reading to a by-law to borrow this amount from the bank, pending the issue of the fire pumper debentures.

YPU's Take Over Omemee Service

OMEMEE, Dec. 11 (ENS)—The evening service at Trinity United Church, Omemee, was given over to the Young People's Union for their national night service. The service was conducted by Garnet Pogue, president of Omemee YPU, assisted by Miss Alberta Wright, president of Bethel YPU, with Miss Marie Anderson, president of Lindsay Presbytery YPU, as speaker.

A combined choir of Bethel and Omemee young people, under the direction of the Rev. V. E. R. Zufelt, sang camp songs and carols, with Don Raffan announcing the numbers.

Their first group of songs were spirituals — "Swing Low Sweet Chariot," Lord I Want To Be a Christian," and "I Wonder Will the Lighthouse Shine On Me." Solo parts were taken by Sherman Harrison and Dorothy Connell. The second group included: "God Who touches Earth With Beauty," "Infant Holy," and the French carol, "Gloria In Excelsis Deo."

Miss Anderson explained the functions of the various departments of YPU from national executive to the union's and told some of the objectives of the association. She then compared the work of the unions to the building of a house whose four walls are sincerity, faith, love and prayer, and the roof which is the presence of God.

As the congregation left the church they had the opportunity to leave a contribution toward the "travelling pool" for national executive members.

A similar service was held at Bethel United Church in the afternoon.

At morning service in Omemee Mr. Zufelt administered the rite of baptism to Daniel George Dormer, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dormer, of Peterborough.

Morris narrated the story of "Attaban" by Henry Van Dyke which was a story of the study of stars and how the wise men of old were led by the star of Bethlehem to the place where Christ was born.

The ladies decided to donate $15 to the missionary and maintenance fund and $5 to the Bible Society.

The members exchanged gifts, the first time this has been done.

N. Weir. Mrs. L. Casey sang an Indian carol used by Brebeuf in telling the Indians the story of the Christ Child, and Mrs. M. Finney lit the candle of friendship to the Canadian Indians. Mrs. Edith Brown lit a candle of friendship and goodwill to Canadians from Europe, after the singing of Luther's Cradle Song. Following the Polish carol "Infant Holy," Mrs. R. E. Brooks lit a candle to newcomers to Canada — Polish, Dutch, Latvians and Esthonians and others. The candle of Christian love was lit by Mrs. W. D. Weir after the singing of a Canadian carol. Being Cruel To Be Kind

The problem facing citizens of Chinese birth in Peterborough as in every other Canadian and American centre is a terrible one. It amounts to this: their relatives, even wives and children, in China are being kidnapped by the Communist overlords and held for ransom in Canadian or American dollars. As in common kidnapping cases, the extortion can be both large and continuing. When one ransom note is paid there is no guarantee that the prisoner will be freed; there is indeed every reason to expect that it will be followed by another ransom note, making still greater demands. In the end the victim may get neither freedom nor life.

The Canadian Government is powerless to intercede; it has no diplomatic relations with Communist China, and is, in fact, as a member of U.N. at war with China. All that the Government can do is to legislate the way it does in kidnapping cases: forbid the payment of ransom money. This seems cruel to the anxious relative in Canada, and perhaps it may be the death of the victim in China. But if it is made impossible for anybody in Canada to send ransom money to China, then the Chinese village or regional authorities will know that it is useless to hold anyone for ransom. The Chinese policy of extortion has been paying off; Canadian and American Chinese have been sending hundreds of thousands of dollars to help their relatives back home and perhaps release them from suffering and prison. As the dollars have flowed across the Pacific the Chinese officials have become more greedy, and they have not been releasing their hostages. If a complete stop is put to sending dollars to China, it will not pay the Communist Chinese functionaries to hold women and children as dollar hostages.

* * *

The American Treasury is prepared to recommend fines and imprisonment for Chinese Americans who send money to China. If such a policy is rigorously imposed it should effectively silence the extortion racket. It seems the only way to meet the situation. It is a way that the Canadian Government might consider taking, to protect Canadian Chinese citizens from extortion, and their relatives back in China from rapacious officials, prison and torture.

Montreal's New Way To Raise Money?

A new city bylaw has been passed in Montreal, ordering stores to close on all Roman Catholic holy days. The first of these week-day holidays occurred last Saturday, the feast of the Immaculate Conception. Many Montreal stores, including large department stores, defied the ban and opened for business; 556 of them. Presumably now these 556 will be haled to court and fined $40 and costs each—the penalty for an infraction of the new bylaw. That would amount to $22,240 all told. It is a neat addition to the municipal coffers.

This new source of revenue would be substantial if five of these religious holidays fell on week-days, and the 556 stores continue to defy the law: more than $120,000. There is a clause attached to the bylaw which says that stores convicted of two infractions within one year may be padlocked. Will city officials permit the application of this drastic penalty? What, and lose the manna of the fines?

Death To The Dogs

Vienna has a new law which may wipe out 60,000 of its population. The dog tax has been raised 300 per cent, beginning next January. The tax is equivalent to a factory worker's pay for five days. Since they are poorly paid, anyway, they have no money left over for dog taxes of the new proportions.

Viennese dog-lovers(there seem to be many of them) have set out on a campaign to repeal the new tax law. Their emotions are at white heat. One veterinary surgeon (who has probably not a completely selfless interest in the preservation of the critters, says of the poor man's dog :"Their comrade, often the only ray of sunshine in their gray lives, is to be killed because they can no longer pay the tax demanded. That is murder."

One reason that the city fathers have for imposing the death-dealing tax is that there are more dogs in Vienna than the street-cleaners can cope with. But the dog men say that the surviving horse population of 9,000 causes more work in a year than the dogs do, yet the horses are untaxed. It can be pointed out that horses not only work for their living, but confine their mess-making to the roadways. The doggy people also say that one Communist demonstration makes a greater mess on the streets with its shower of leaflets than the whole dog population in a year. We do not know how that can be parried, not being adept in comparing dogs and Communists.

The final argument is that dogs render helpful service in tracking trespassers and guarding fields. They say that in 1949 dogs secured the arrest of 1,446 malefactors in England, of 1,088 in Western Germany, and of 1,836 in Scandinavia. We shall not quibble with the figures, although we had no idea that dogs are such bloodhounds. What kind of malefactor would a Chow track down? Ah! one of those Chinese Reds, no doubt.

We can hardly wait to find out the result of the dog fight in Vienna over the new tax.

Office Parties Sent Underground?

The most pleasing Christmas party in Peterborough's business section, as hundreds of the firm's friends and customers have said for the last twenty years, was a liberal affair which a retail store held in its basement on the last business afternoon before Christmas. The turkey was immense; it was stuffed to please a king (boned, and then a boned chicken and sausage meat stuffed in). It was expertly carved as the guests watched, their admiration audible. The other food on the buffet was varied and abundant; the liquid refreshment provided of the best. A grand party, which customers, wives and friends and city officials looked forward to. There will be no party this year.

The respected and respectable store had its usual application refused by the Liquor Control Board at Queen's Park. The two-dollar fee was returned with a note saying that it is the policy this year not to issue permits for such parties.

We presume that the prim, grim edict, the sad-Sarah policy, applies to all office and shop pre-Christmas parties. Will it drive them underground in speak-easy fashion, instead of driving the business men and office staffs, partyless, glumly home to begin the Festive season as cold as fish and as disappointed as children for whom there is no Santa Claus?

We fail to understand why the Frost Government is meddling with the hospitable intentions of responsible people. Perhaps it does not approve of a Merry Christmas.

French Scotch, Canadian Sherry

A Paris court recently imposed a heavy fine upon a French distiller who was selling a drink which he described as "Genuine Blended Scotch, Made in France." It was a combination of potable alcohol and water, to which colouring and a little perfume had been added. The fine goes to the state, of course, but in addition the offender had to pay a considerable indemnity to the Scotch Association, which watches over all liquors representing themselves as Scotch whisky.

This seems just; Scotch ought to come from Scotland. The name "whisky" can be, and is, applied to many types of liquor, but "Scotch whisky" means a particular product.

And this brings us to the loose, and in our opinion, indefensible, nomenclature of a number of Canadian wines. "Canadian sherry" is not sherry at all; it is a sweetish white wine bearing no discernible resemblance to real sherry. And real sherry comes from Spain, from an area around the town of Jerez de la Frontera, in the Cadiz district. "Sherry" is an anglicised version of "Jerez."

There is a drink, also called "Canadian port," or "port-type". It is a sweet red wine. But it is not port, which comes from Portugal, from the city of Oporto in the Douro district. "Port wine speaks the sentences of wisdom," said George Meredith; nobody could say that of Canadian port, which does not speak any known language, but smiles deceitfully in the glass, trying to assume Portuguese airs which ill become its simplicity.

When are Canadian wine makers going to cast aside these names to which they have no right, and find names of their own for their products? Nobody who knew port or sherry in their true form could be deceived by the local product. The local wines are quite all right in their way, but they are not the products of Jerez or Oporto. Why not call them, quite honestly, Niagara (for the white wine) and Queenston, or possibly Laura Secord, for the red one?

NOTES AND COMMENT

Scientists now reveal their awful suspicion that a person with half a brain can live just as well as one with a whole brain. Proving what we have always known, i.e., that to be half an oaf is at least better than having no head.

A British farmer claims that he flew over the deserted city of Shabwa, once the stronghold of the Queen of Sheba, when he was stationed in the Middle East; he intends to return to look again. If he finds it, archaeologists will be deeply indebted to him.

Land Of Tragedy And Miracle

By ROBERT STEPHENS (In Cairo)

SCAVENGING birds scenting corruption wheel lazily on dusty black wings round the penthouses of the luxury flats that have sprung up all over Cairo since the war.

They look down on the biggest city of Africa and the Middle East. Two and a quarter million people overflow from the broad streets lined with glittering shops selling American nylons, French novels and Scotch whisky into the alleyways between sordid tenements where families who go barefoot and cannot read have to live for a month on the price of a bottle of whisky.

EVERYWHERE in Cairo, old or new, there are people, people, people in suffocating numbers, more than half as many again as there were ten years ago. Some are in European dress with the ubiquitous red tarboosh, others like flocks of dingy phantoms in long, off-white galabeyas; smartly dressed emancipated girls and women who are anonymous dark shapes in black cloaks drawn over their cotton print gowns. There seems hardly a square foot of the city without someone standing, sitting, walking, or lying on it. This is the metropolis of a Malthusian nightmare.

Soaring higher, the scavenging birds could see the even more bitter tragedy and miracle of Egypt. South of Cairo the thin green ribbon of the Nile Valley divides the empty desert which stretches from the Red Sea almost to the Atlantic. To the north spreads out the small brown and green fan of the Nile Delta, as tightly packed with villages as an English countryside with farmsteads, a vast agricultural slum that pays for Cairo's modern luxuries.

HERE, too, there is no escape from the press of people. In this famous river valley and delta, which has been cultivated continuously for some 6,000 years, all the life of Egypt is concentrated. Twenty million people live in an area of about 6,000,000 acres, or about one-thirtieth of Egypt's total area, a density as great as that of industrial Belgium.

But 15,000,000 of them are on the land. Every three years another 1,000,000 is added, but the land they can work scarcely increases, there are few new industries to absorb them and few of them emigrate. Their hunger for land forces up rents, and their hunger for work, or just plain hunger, forces down wages. Their mere survival is a miracle of agricultural ingenuity: the Nile silt, irrigation and fertilizers bring high yields. But their existence is a tragedy because there are so many of them to share the fruits of this skill and so few receive even their small fair share.

TWENTY minutes' driving time from Cairo lies the village of Sandyoun. No one know how old it is. Local legend dates it back to the Pharaohs. Its jumble of mud-brick houses is threaded by narrow, unpaved alleys. Two or three water buffaloes, almost hairless, and grey like wood-lice, stand mournfully by the irrigation canal that flanks the village with a curve of artificial precision.

Eight thousand people live here in an area which would be covered by an English hamlet of a few hundred people. Twenty-eight people, most of whom do not live there, own more than half of Sandyoun's 3,000 acres. Of the 2,000 families in the village, 1,500 have less than half an acre each.

Land here costs £600 an acre to buy and £60 a year to rent. The owner of 100 acres is thus a rich man even by European standards.

NOT far from the centre of the village, where small mosque and church stand side by side (there are 1,000 Christian Copts among the villagers), lies the house of Ibrahim. It has a small entrance courtyard where Ibrahim's indigo-robed wife crouches over a black cooking-pot. A baby girl, youngest of five, plays in the dust and mud nearby. Flies crawl undisturbed over her thin, sallow face and round her large brown eyes. Behind the courtyard are two dark mud rooms, one for the family and the other for the precious water buffalo, whose drawing power, milk and butter keep the family just above the hunger line.

Ibrahim has a quarter of an acre on which he grows vegetables to eat and sell. Apart from that he lives by working for bigger landowners for a little over two shillings a day. One of his sons brings home another £4 or £5 monthly from his work as a handloom weaver in one of the two small workshops—they can scarcely be called factories—in the village.

BUT Ibrahim and his fellow villagers are luckier in some ways than many fellahin. For there is something new and stirring in Sandyoun. On the outskirts of the village there is a long, low modern building of white concrete. In it are things Sandyoun had never seen and scarcely dreamt of until three years ago—a health clinic with a maternity section, laboratory and dispensary, a small library and hall for meetings and film shows, a handicrafts centre for boys and girls, a children's nursery and an agricultural and veterinary advisory office. Round the building are a playground, a football pitch, and a plot of land for agricultural demonstrations.

It is one of 150 social welfare centre established by the Egyptian Government in rural areas during the past few years. The centre has a permanent staff of social welfare workers, a graduate from an agricultural college who has received special additional training in rural welfare, a trained nurse and a laboratory worker. A doctor and a veterinary expert visit the centre three times weekly. The centre also runs a women's club and evening classes to teach adult illiterates to read and write.

THESE centres, designed to attack village problems on a broad front and on a communal basis, were the ideas and creation of a stout, hearty, cheroot-smoking Egyptian in his middle forties who has devoted his life to improving the plight of the fellahin. He is Ahmed Hussein Pasha, a Civil Servant, who was head of the fellah department of the Ministry of Social Affairs, and was made Minister when the Wafd Government came to power last year with glowing promises of social reform. After having worked hard with little money to get reform schemes started he was forced to resign a few months ago in protest against the Wafd Party's nepotism in his Ministry. One of his projects for a minimum agricultural wage—the modest sum of four shillings a day—had already been turned down by a Cabinet and Parliament dominated by landowners.

The Egyptian fellah's basic problems of poverty and over-population can be dealt with only by radical changes such as land reform and reclamation, and the development of industry. The villagers themselves, once they were persuaded that the scheme was not a new Government method of fleecing them, subscribed part of the cost of building and running the centre.

THE day I arrived at Sandyoun was "Rockefeller Day." An enthusiastic young Egyptian in charge of the social centre was fulfilling a simple but revolutionary ambition of his own—to provide an efficient latrine for every house in the village.

He had at last got hold of an ingenious American tool called the Oka for boring a hole in the ground twenty feet deep and one foot in diameter to make what goes by the imposing name of the "Rockefeller latrine," the latest thing in cheap rural sanitation, designed by the Rockefeller Foundation rural research unit. By the end of the following week every house would have its own "Rockefeller" bored by the Oka with the labour of the villagers themselves under an expert foreman's supervision.

Pure Evelyn Waugh if you like. But of such earthy stuff is progress here made.

"FALSE OR NOT—THEY'RE TEETH!"

"A Dead Or Dying Duck"

(MONTREAL STAR)

INCREASING dissatisfaction with what is happening in elementary and secondary education in Canada is more and more finding expression, and in different ways. On this page the other day we commented on a report that showed a McGill freshman group in anything but an admirable light where even elementary knowledge of the history and culture of Canada was concerned.

Now from Ottawa is reported an equally disturbing reflection on the educational system in force in Ontario. After 20 years in the teaching profession, part of those years teaching history in what he says is "the best public secondary school in the city," Mr. Francis MacNamara, who is giving up teaching altogether has a number of forthright things to say about what is happening in pre-university education.

Perhaps the most disquieting part of Mr. MacNamara's indictment concerns the teachers themselves. Thirty years ago, says Mr. MacNamara, the highschool teacher was the learned man in town (pace, the Varsity "prof"!) Now he finds at least some of his former colleagues to be "brisk persons whose professional training has been free of the elements of traditional culture." It is not surprising that he goes on from there to the dismal conclusion that "culture is a dead or dying duck in the secular schools." No other result could follow if Mr. MacNamara is right in the first place, since—in his words—"the cultural level must go down when the administrators . . . have none themselves."

Mr. MacNamara traces what he believes to be the inefficiency of the educational system to the adoption of what he describes as the "plague" of progressive education, an importation from the United States. What Mr. MacNamara particularly castigates is the method whereby the student is eased gently upward from grade to grade without too careful testing on the way of how much education is accumulating in his brain on the way up. Inevitably the time comes when the unfortunate student or the almost equally unfortunate teacher discovers that very little has. When an experienced teacher can "without exaggeration" describe a class in Grade X history as "illiterate", he and the parents and the public may reasonably wonder what the pupil has been doing (or rather, what has been done for him) up to that time.

Only when it is too late are deficiencies in the past revealed. When the student sits for senior matriculation—over which the universities have some jurisdiction—the unfortunate condition of the mental equipment of many of the students becomes apparent. It is too late because only a discouragingly small percentage of high school matriculants go on to the universities, the great majority going into the world "to seek their fortunes" less well equipped educationally than they have the right to be. Even the comparatively fine screen of the entrance examination to the universities does not prevent a proportion of ill-equipped aspirants slipping through, as the recent survey at McGill discloses. Without these entrance tests it is easy to imagine the chaos that would follow in the universities which must already be none too happy about the standards maintained in the public schools, as it affects themselves and their work.

If as Mr. MacNamara says a student can go from Grade 1 to 13 without being educated, the increasing unease of many teachers and parents can be understood.

The Modern Mood

(Manchester Guardian)

[A Father Christmas has already been engaged to arrive by parachute from an aeroplane for a children's party at an hotel in Switzerland.]

Ring out, wild bells, ring in the up-to-date!
Another Christmas legend is exploded;
For days of swifter passengers and freight
The roof-and-reindeer trail is now outmoded.
Chimneys had always seemed a dubious route
That might leave Santa sooty and half-blinded—
Let Father Christmas come by parachute,
Himself airborne to keep the youth air-minded.

When, fluttering like a snowflake from the skies,
The newer Father Christmas is decanted
All will be rapture for the youthful eyes:
Tommy, perhaps, will find himself enchanted.
Or maybe not; the method may lack zest;
Enlightened Tommy may be moved to mock it;
The modern infant may in fact protest
"But, Pa, he should have roof-crashed in a rocket!"

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And this is the blessing, wherewith Moses the man of God blessed the children of Israel before his death. And he said, 'The Lord came from Sinai, and rose up from Seir unto them; he shined forth from mount Paran, he came with ten thousands of saints: from his right hand went a fiery law for them. Yea, he loved the people

There is none like unto the God of Jeshurun, who rideth upon the heaven in thy help, and in his excellency on the sky.

The eternal God is thy refuge, and underneath are the everlasting arms: and he shall thrust out the enemy from before thee; and shall say, Destroy them. Israel then shall dwell in safety alone: the fountain of Jacob shall be upon a land of corn and wine; also his heavens shall drop down dew.

Happy art thou, O Israel: who is like unto thee, O people saved by the Lord, the shield of thy help, and who is the sword of thy excellency! (Deut. 33: 1-3, 26-29.)

Letter To The Editor

MILK-STREAM DRYING UP?

Sir: I observed with more than casual interest the following forthright statements credited directly to Agriculture Minister Kennedy, in a news item from Toronto: "Milk is not only far too cheap but the cheapest food in the province"; also, "The farm is losing its cattle. Farmers will not stay in any industry where they lose money. Milk production went down last year 17 per cent. in the provinces."

Only the other day I saw an editorial in one of the farm papers, dealing with this same "milk price headache". It was specifically stated that: "While there are estimated to be 500,000 fewer cows on Canadian farms than there were as recently as 1943, there are just 2,000,000 more mouths around the Canadian dinner-table".

Under these circumstances, I'm not sure that we have any logical ground for being surprised at what is happening to the milk-stream, or the price trend for a quart of this basic and vital stuff?

While this reader is, on general principles, opposed to government subsidy technique—the less government we have in the market-place the better for all concerned—I have a definite hunch that we are going into (rather than emerging from) real trouble with the national milk-can; its costs and its contents?

With the above nation-wide statistics in full view; or, at least, they should have been in full view to all authorities concerned; I recall the well-nigh universal enthusiasm with which off-the-farm Canadians detoured from a 65-year-old status as consumers of dairy and creamery butter, and turned to margarine in a regular stampede, as a release from upsurging butter prices? My understanding is that, at present, our national output of margarine is nudging 100,000,000 pounds a year? Certainly an important price diferential has been gained—and butter valuations have definitely receded from the peak levels of 1919. On the other hand, if we have, as many assert, done grave and endurinng damage to the dairy farming activity, it seems likely that we have created far more problems than we have solved? Now, I see that dairy farmers in the West are going into the margarine processing business merely to activate idle butter-making plants.

"QUO VADIS?"

NEVER!

A young commercial traveller set out for the first time to get orders in the West of England. At Plymouth he met an old traveller, who asked him how he had got on.

"Badly," he replied. "I was insulted at every place I visited."

"That's strange," said the other; "I've been on the road forty years; I've had my samples flung into the street and I've been taken by the scruff of the neck and pitched downstairs; I don't deny that I've been rolled in the gutter; but insulted—never!"

"Such unfair distribution of Home Guards will enable the Eastern Counties to invade our Western Counties any time they feel like it."

Canada Offers $65 Million In Arms To NATO Military Aid Program

OTTAWA, Dec. 11 — (CP) — Canada has offered to the North Atlantic Treaty Mutual Military Aid Program another $65,000,000 worth of arms and ammunition besides the $200,000,000 worth of equipment already sent to Europe.

C. M. Drury, Deputy Minister of Defence, disclosed this Monday to the Commons' special Committee on Defence Expenditure in tabling detailed information about Canada's forces and military commitments.

Canada already has equipped a division for each of the Netherlands, Belgium and Italy, and sent smaller allotments to Luxembourg and other countries.

The Deputy Minister's return showed also that Canada has committed a further $24,784,000 worth of equipment to be diverted from new production sometime in the future.

The documents were tabled following testimony by M. W. Mackenzie, Deputy Minister for Defence Production. He said Canada has decided to purchase two British Comet jet transports at a cost of $3,500,000 mainly because Canada's jetliner is not yet fully developed.

Not Abandoned

Development of the jetliner was being virtually halted—but not abandoned—to allow Avro (Canado) Limited to concentrate on fighter production. He said the $8,000,000 already spent on the jetliner had helped to establish jet research in Canada.

A minor row developed in the committee when the chairman, Lt.-Col. David Croll (L, Toronto Spadina) moved to abandon it until Thursday. George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, whose party pressed for establishment of the committee, said if a three-day adjournment was taken the committee would get "no real" information before the end of the session.

Mr. Drew moved that the committee meet again Tuesday, but his motion was defeated on a voice vote.

Detailed Costs

The detailed documents tabled by Mr. Drury made these disclosures:

1. Canada's 25th Brigade in Korea cost $72,636,064 to Nov. 30. This included $3,454,173 for movement to and training at Fort Lewis, Wash., last fall; $3,463,567 to get the brigade to Korea and $38,751,203 for maintenance in the field since it landed late last year.

2. Canada's 27th Brigade, sent to Germany, has cost more than $12,000,000 to Nov. 30, including $3,545,898 involved in movement to the Hannover area of Germany.

3. RCAF participation in the Korean airlift cost $8,951,334 to Oct. 31 this year.

4. Canada's destroyer contribution to the United Nations naval forces in Korean waters cost $6,639,803 to Oct. 31.

These figures include pay and allowances for the forces involved.

Change Wing Structure

A Toronto newspaper says that CF-100 jet fighter is back in the suburban Malton shops of Avro Canada, Limited, for changes in wing structure.

"The main spar was found during the rigorous Ottawa test schedule to be so flexible under pressure that parts of the wing's metal skin tended to buckle and rivetted panels were forced loose," the paper says.

During tight turns and pulling out of high-speed dives, when the fighter's wing was subjected to its severest strain, the elasticity of the main spar was most evident. There was never any danger to the spar itself, but sections of the metallic wing surface, lacking equal flexibility, would not hold their shape."

It adds that Avro Canada officials "were inclined to minimize the seriousness of the defects." They said it is commonplace for a modern fighter to be grounded three times during its first year of service and that it is generally accepted that a new warplane is not deemed trouble-free until after two years of military use.

MP's Extend House Hours

OTTAWA, Dec. 11 — (CP). — The Commons voted 129 to 26 on Monday to extend sittings hours in an effort to complete works this week or early next week.

The extension was opposed by George Drew, Progressive Conservative Leader, on the grounds that members will be unable to serve on committees, study the reports of committees, and be in the Commons at the same time.

He called for a recorded vote on Prime Minister St. Laurent's motion which provided for three additional meetings this week, only the Progressive Conservatives voted against the motion.

The House has been sitting from 2:30 pm to 6:15 pm and from 8 pm to 10 pm on Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays. On Wednesdays it has been meeting from 2:30 pm to 6:15 pm and on Fridays from 2 pm to 6:15 pm.

From now until the end of the session, the Commons will sit from 11 am to 1 pm, 2:30 pm to 6:15 pm and 8 pm to 10 pm, Monday through Thursday. On Fridays it will meet from 11 am to 1 pm, 2 pm to 6:15 pm, and 8 pm to 10 pm.

There was no estimate of the damage and the cause of the fire was unknown.

Reeve Shipley Re-elected

By The Canadian Press

Some new faces will be seen at the next meetings of many Ontario municipal governments as a result of civic elections held Monday. And many former officials will also be back on the job.

The new mayor of Port Arthur, Charles W. Cox, is a little of both. He defeated the incumbent mayor Fred O. Robinson but he is no newcomer to the office. He was mayor of the Lakehead city from 1934 to 1948.

In Teck township, which includes city-sized Kirkland Lake, Reeve Ann Shipley, 52, was re-elected for her tenth term. In Coleman township, in the same district, Reeve William Martin, 82, believed to be one of the oldest reeves in Canada, was re-elected by acclamation.

North Bay elected a new mayor, Arthur Beattie, in a two-man race. Goderich re-elected Mayor J. E. Huckins with a comfortable majority of more than 1,500 votes.

Bylaw Voting

In some municipalities voters were asked to decide for or against some local bylaw. Cochrane ratepayers voted 314 to 43 in favor of purchasing the town's power supply from the Hydro-Electric Power Commission instead of from the Abitibi Power and Paper Company.

At Pembroke, Mayor J. J. Carmody was re-elected mayor for his third consecutive term. He polled 2,178 votes to 1,457 for his only opponent, J. M. Forgie.

Fort Erie voted 701 to 475 in favor of financial assistance to a hospital and Merritton voted in favor of a fixed assessment for a paper mill.

Many mayors and reeves were elected without a contest but among the mayors who retained their seats in a contested election were F. O. Leeson of Merritton, Michael Starr of Oshawa and Harry Smart of Ottawa.

J. Austin Cook took over the mayorality of Orillia and A. S. Kimmerly was sucessfuf in Napanee.

Plan Conference On War Criminals

OTTAWA, Dec. 11 (CP). — A convention with West Germany on the future of imprisoned German war criminals is under consideration but will not involve Canada, whose only German prisoner is Maj.-Gen. Kurt Meyer, a government spokesman said on Monday.

Any such convention would be made with the occupying western powers — Britain, the United States and France—if agreement was reached after a final determination of relationships with the West German Republic.

However, the spokesman said, so far as Canada is concerned the condition of Meyer's sentence to life imprisonment can not be changed without consent of this country.

Meyer, sentenced for responsibility in the shooting of Canadian prisoners of war, was recently moved from Canada to a British service prison at Werl, Germany. A disclosure that he recently was allowed a pass to go home to visit his family raised protests in the Commons.

Not Allowed To Vote

TIMMINS, Dec. 11 (CP)—Timmins ratepayers won't be allowed to vote on the question of a town bus system in Wednesday's municipal election. Originally called for in a bylaw passed Nov. 19 by the town council, the vote was held to be invalid by Chief Justice J. C. McRuer of Ontario today because council abrogated its powers in asking the voters to decide a question which should have been settled by council.

Reject Sunday Sport

PEMBROKE, Dec. 11—(CP)—Sunday sport was voted down by Pembroke ratepayers Monday by a vote of 2,462 to 1,110. Voters also approved a bylaw to extend the term of office for town council from one to two years and re-elected Mayor J. J. Carmody for a third term. He received 2,178 votes against 1,457 for J. M. Forgie.

Three Die In Fire

MONT LAURIER, Que., Dec. 11 (CP)—A 31-year-old mother and two of her four children perished Monday in a fire that destroyed their two-storey home three miles west of this Labelle county town. Dead are Mrs. Aristide Limoges, her six-year-old daughter, Claudette, and one-year-old son, Jean.

Feeder Plants Affected By Ford Strike

WINDSOR, Dec. 11 — (CP) — Feeder plant layoffs because of the Ford Company of Canada strike totalled approximately 500 today with the possibility of more if the immobilization of the motor car plant continues.

By Monday, a week after the strike began, Essex Wire Corporation had laid off 100 of its 300 men. Two hundred are still on the job because of work being done for other customers.

Gotfredson Ltd., makers of body units for Ford, closed last week following the walkout of 9,000 Ford production employees, members of Local 200, the United Automobile Workers of America (CIO-CCL). Gotfredson employed 400 men.

Spokesman for 15 plants said Monday that layoffs in their plants will take place if the strike which has idled a total of 10,000 Ford workers continues until the end of the year.

Not Bright Future

An official of Canadian Automotive Trim Ltd.—which manufactures seat covers for Ford and for the Chrysler Corporation of Canada Ltd.—explained the situation this way:

"We have two horses to ride, Ford and Chrysler. If the latter goes down, we close the next day."

He was referring to present Chrysler-UAW negotiations on a wage increase. Monday, spokesmen for 4,000 Chrysler employees turned down a company offer of a 14-cent increase on a basic rate of $1.42.

Meanwhile, officials representing the Ford workers said Monday night they have received no answer to a bid made Friday for resumption of union-company negotiations. Negotiations were broken off when the company turned "thumbs down" on a union demand for reinstatement of 26 men whose firing touched off the strike.

Says Calgary Ballot Shows Dissatisfaction

OTTAWA, Dec. 11 — (CP). — George Drew, Progressive Conservative Leader, said on Monday night the result of Monday's Calgary West by-election is an expression of hope that something will be done to hold down the cost of living and protect the value of the Canadian dollar.

Carl O. Nickle, 37-year-old oil writer, won the seat for the Progressive Conservative Party.

Solon Low, Social Credit Leader, said the Progressive Conservative victory indicates the people of that Alberta riding are dissatisfied with the government's policies on taxation and high prices.

Prime Minister St. Laurent's office said Mr. St. Laurent had no comment to make on the result.

A few items in a Tely column: Ike Hildebrand of New Westminster, remembered for his snappy lacrosse playing, is doing right well for himself in professional hockey, having scored 17 points for the Cleveland Barons." Come, come, he played for the local Mann Cup champs since he was with New Westminster. Also this: "With a new arena available, watch Orillia climb back on the senior lacrosse van, sporting a contending team next summer." Wishful thinnking, maybe, but quite possible. It wouldn't be too long a hop from here, so the Petes' Timbermen might welcome the Orillia entry. Might mean two "A" groups with an interlocking schedule.

* * * * * *

High-flying and cocky Belleville Hawks are here tomorrow night for an OHA senior "B" number with the Petes. Red Doran's speedy birdmen have paced the pack since the schedule opened and always dish up a crowd-pleasing brand of hockey. They'll extend the Petes plenty as they have in the past, but in the long run the Petes have down the years dominated the Quinte pucksters regularly. And they will again. However, this should mean a dandy ice duel before a hefty crowd, as the squads right now appear quite well-matched and full of hustle from start to finish.

* * * * * *

The Man's Slightly Mad

Scribe Carver of Bella Villa gloated thusly o'er Hawks' narrow win Friday at home against Eagles: "On their performance, we fail to see how Eagles were six goals better in Peterborough. Some experts call Eagles the team to beat for the group title. Let's hope they are. It's home-townish and all that, but with one or two defencemen on their roster, the Hawks are as good as anything in the league. That should get a rise out of Perdue and Rodden. In any event, they're on top, so what? They can't take that honor away from them, at least until the next game. They need help in the defence department, but their record to date is not so bad."

* * * * * *

A couple of pishes and a tush, podner. You've been whistling that tune in a Quinte cemetery for lo, these many years. You never could take the group title from Eagles, Legion or Petes — or even Kingston — since you were an ex-buck private saving your gratuity for the Wall St. crash! We spent many fruitless hours trying to convince Ald. Claud Tice of your borough, the late Ken Colling and the later you of how hopeless your chances were, even when you had Trenton Fliers for a "home" team. But you'll never learn. True, you've got a contending club at the moment. A pretty fair goalie, a number of good forwards, but a so-so defence. Both Petes and Eagles have ace goalies, also, a number of classy forwards. AND strong defences. Add it up and you've got the answer. It may take time to convince your club this year, but playoff time is a few months off yet.

* * * * * *

K's Hot, Eagles Cold

Kingston came up with a sound showing here last e'en, whilst Eagles were below form for two periods. So it wound up in a 4-3 win for the K's. Puts them in a top-place tie with Belleville, and Eagles will have to start hustling again or they'll be in the cellar shortly. All teams are well bunched yet, so every game makes for a change in the standing. Score could have been higher for Kingston if Ross Nicholls hadn't been in good goaltending form, as his mates had an off evening, though they did get clicking in the third and tied it up for a space. A fast fray, quite clean, but rather ragged. Not too many customers on deck for it.

* * * * * *

Lakefield has withdrawn its OHA intermediate entry from the OHA lakeshore group, blaming the residence rule. As most of the players work in Peterborough, they felt they couldn't ice a contending club under the circumstances this season, so will step out of the puck picture. Officials there noted with interest the OHA ruling on the protested players in Cobourg and Port Hope, as well as the import tag pinned on George Brabin of Oshawa with the senior "B" Eagles. It's certainly too bad to keep hockeyists out of action if the residence rule—calling for players to work in the place for which they play—really applies in this case, as it apparently does.

Joe's Judge, away to a good start in the second heat, displaced Buster to take command inside the opening quarter, continued in front without need of further urging and won in a mild drive. Bell Boy G. finished second and Signal Lee was third.

DOUGALL DOESN'T DOZE — Kingston SAC's goalie Don Dougall held the fort Monday night at Civic Arena when he beat out the Eagles on what seemed sure goals. The Eagles didn't give him too much time to rest either. Dougall (top photo) raps the puck with his stick after Toodie Greenlaw (16) blasted a shot. Fred Mortimer comes in (second from left) for the rebound. Bill Crowley (lower left) broke into the clear on Dougall but the SAC goalie smothered the shot. Kingston edged out the win 4-3.—(Examiner Staff Photos).

Ted Kennedy Said Underrated

TORONTO, Dec. 11 (CP)—The new National Hockey League pace setter, Ted (Teeder) Kennedy of Toronto Maple Leafs, is regarded as the most underrated player in the league everywhere except in Toronto.

"I don't underrate him," snorts Connie Smythe, the Leafs' dynamic general manager. "He's the greatest player in hockey. You can have your Richards, Howes, Schmidts and Abels. I'll take Kennedy."

Kennedy, in his ninth year as a big leaguer, will be 26 years old Wednesday and has much to celebrate. Not the least was the fact that his consistent scoring endeavors had brought him to the top of the pack individually with 26 points in as many games.

Never picked to the first all-star team, this rugged competitor is finally coming into his own as the top centre in the game, if only because age was catching up with his chief opponents—namely, Milt Schmidt, Elmer Lach, Max Bentley, Edgar Laprade and Sid Abel, all of whom are in their 30s.

Furthermore, Ted is becoming more and more the wheelhorse of the Maple Leaf attack. Bentley, the second centre, seems a full stride slower than in past seasons, and Cal Gardner, No. 3 playmaker, seems more erratic.

Kennedy has played for five Stanley Cup champs and captained two of them.

Queen Mary Wins

Queen Mary intermediates of the Public School Hockey League won 4-1 over King George yesterday at the arena. Haig scored three goals and had an assist for the winners. Goodfellow getting a goal and an assist, and Brown helping on one. Dorrington dented the hemp one for the losers. McArthur went good in goal for Queen Mary with Hendry solid on defence, and Dunn, Haig, Goodfellow and Brown best up front. Teams:

Queen Mary: McArthur, Dunn, Haig, Hendry, Brown, Wilson, Goodfellow, Jobbitt, Jackson, Fox, Bignell, Deal.

King George: Pearse, Pollard, Dixon, Innes, Dorrington, Lemers, White, Beavis, Donahy, Barkley, Bell, Barker, Nurse, Harding.

GALLINGER BUYS CLUB

Don Gallinger, playing manager of the Kitchener Legionnaires in 1950 Intercounty Baseball League play, Monday night bought the club for $8,000.

Decision to sell the club to Gallinger and his associates was reached at a general meeting of the Kitchener-Waterloo Canadian Legion Branch, which previously held the club franchise.

Lakefield Puckists Out Due To Residence Rule

The Lakefield Hockey Club has withdrawn its OHA intermediate entry in the lakeshore group, which comprises Lindsay, Port Hope, Cobourg and Bowmanville. OHA executive member Frank Buckland, as well as the other clubs, have been advised of this move in a letter signed by president Tom Staves, of the Lakefield club, manager George Chappell and Secretary G. P. Samis, who is police chief of the village.

"The reason for the withdrawal," the letter states, "is our inability to organize a club which we think would provide suitable competition for the other teams. Players were available but, due to the OHA asking for strict adherence to the resident rules, several players whom we have arranged to play for Lakefield, who played junior 'B' last year—and according to the ruling handed down by the OHA on Peterborough Eagles in the case of George Brabin — would be classed as imports. As nearly all of our prospective players work in Peterborough but live outside at Lakefield, Chemong and Warsaw, they, according to the ruling in the Cobourg and Port Hope protests, would not be eligible to play for Lakefield. We, the executive of the Lakefield club, have decided that the team that we would be able to ice and still comply with the OHA residence rule would not be of strong enough calibre to furnish worthwhile competition to the other teams. Therefore, we are forced to withdraw from OHA competition for this season."

Those Protests

Cobourg recently protested Port Hope using players Medhurst and Flesch, residents of Cobourg. The OHA okayed Flesch with Port Hope and barred Medhurst. However, later this was reversed and Medhurst given the green light with the Ports provided he obtained work there by Dec. 17. The Eagles sought permission to have George Brabin, who moved here last spring from Oshawa to play ball, ruled as a resident, rather than an import, in Peterborough. The OHA decreed that by moving here, Brabin must be regarded as an import. They said that he would not have been an import had he remained living in Oshawa but travelled up here to play senior "B" hockey since this is the nearest senior "B" centre to Oshawa.

Considerable criticism has been evoked at the OHA for this residence rule as it is working a hardship on a number of players —and is keeping many out of PHA competition. This includes those players who would have played for Lakefield this season.

Kingston Grabs a 4-3 Win Against Eagles To Gain Tie For Top Place

Yanking out a 4-3 OHA senior "B" victory here last night over the Eagles, Kingston climbed into a top-place group tie with Belleville Hawks. The loss left Eagles tied on points for second place with the Petes. A slim crowd viewed the clean, speedy but rather ragged encounter. Kingston took a 2-1 lead in the first frame and added one more in the second. Eagles finally began to play up to form in the third stanza to tie up the score at 2-all, but a later penalty cost them the winning goal. There were no penalties until the last chapter when Kingston drew three minors and the losers two.

With George McGregor and Jerry Wagar back, and Don Dougall going good in the visitors' net, the winners bored in throughout to earn the tilt, few of the Eagles —apart from Goalie Ross Nicholls—going good over the route.

Ohlke Got Two

Bud Ohlke clicked for two Kingston goals, Gabby White and Ed Tinkess tallying the others. Two assists each were garnered by George McGregor, Larmer and Cliff Aitken. Bill Crowley, Bert Hill and Reg Stewart were the local lamp-lighters, an assist each going to Hill, Crowley, Dootch Vitarelli, Jim Munroe, Freddy Mortimer and Toodie Greenlaw.

The Eagles missed many chances through poor passing in close, overskating the puck and hurrying shots. Kingston played a sound defensive game with close checking in their own area, and they toiled tirelessly all through on the atactk, keeping the disc in the Eagles' end of the rink for prolonged periods for two-thirds of the game. The third saw Eagles outplay them at first, but it was hard and even at the close.

Scored First

Bill Crowley opened the scoring early as he tore in fast to sink the cookie on neat combination with Hill and Vitarelli. White got it right back as he skirted defence to pick a net corner on a play built up by McGregor and Larmer. At 8.50, Ohlke put the K's one up with a sizzling slap shot on Aitken's passout at close range. It was hot and even for a spell, and quite clean. Later Wootton was robbed but Nicholls also had to make some fine saves as the visitors threw a lot of rubber his way. Eagles pressed near the finish.

Play was fast and ragged in the second, with Kingston having more territorial chances. A rush by Greenlaw and Stewart almost paid off early, and then Aitken was thefted when right in on Nicholls' doorstep. The frame was 11.33 old when Kingston made it 3-1 on a hot shot by Ohlke on a corner passout from Aitken. Fred Mortimer and Vitarelli had good tries, but Kingston continued to keep the puck in the Eagles' area.

Eagles Drove

Bender drew a high-sticking penalty to start the third, and Hill cashed in with a slap shot after Crowley rounded the net with Munroe's pass up. With Bender back, Eagles kept pouring in and Stewart sewed up the count at 3-all on a passout, the play being started by Fred Mortimer and moving to Greenlaw before the payoff shot. Eagles kept pressing and scored one more but it was offside. Sweetman was gated for freezing the puck but no damage was done in his absence. Then Montgomery got it for high-sticking, and Tinkess cuffed home the winning goal at 13.17, aided by Larmer and McGregor, as they all ganged up. Monty returned and Fred Mortimer was chased for hooking, followed by Stan Stewart for freezing the puck. Kingston kicked in one but it didn't count. Nicholls was pulled with 20 seconds left and Eagles tried hard to equalize it. Teams:

Kingston—Goal, Dougall; defence, S. Stewart and Bender; centre, Murray; wings, Ohlke and Aitken; alternates, McGregor, Larmer, Wagar, White Tinkess, Sweetman and Watts.

Eagles — Goal, Nicholls; defence, Montgomery and Munroe; centre, Hill; wings, Crowley and Vitarelli; alternates, F. Mortimer, Greenlaw, R. Stewart, Parnall, Slater, Brabin, Wootton and D. Mortimer.

Referee, L. Lecompte; linesman, R. Ouimet.

Summary:

First Period

Eagles—Crowley (Hill, Vitarelli) 2:03
Kingston—White (McGregor, Larmer) 3:37
Kingston—Ohlke (Aitken) 8.50
No penalties.

Second Period

Eagles—Stewart (Greenlaw, F. Mortimer) 2:50
Kingston—Tinkess (Larmer, McGregor) 13:17

ROSS DID HIS PART — Goalie Ross Nicholls turned in a fine cage effort for the Eagles here last night stopping a raft of hot rubber throughout but it was in a losing cause. Kingston took the senior "B" puck fray by a 4-3 score.

Red Wings Leading NHL But Statistics Don't Show It

MONTREAL, Dec. 11. (CP)—Detroit Red Wings are currently comfortably ensconsed atop the National Hockey League but you'll never know it from a look at the individual statistics. Gordie Howe, first Red Wing to show in the statistics, is in fifth place and the second highest is Ted Lindsay who is tied for 10th. Sid Able is right behind Lindsay but there's another big gap before you hit the next Red Wing.

Be that as it may, the Wings have counted 67 times this year, five more than the runner-up Leafs. They've also had the least goals scored against them and that combination leaves them where they are today.

Paces Pack

Ted Kennedy of Toronto Maple Leafs paces the pack with 26 points, made up of 10 goals and 16 assists. Montreal Canadiens' Elmer Lach is two points off the pace with six goals and 18 assists, tops in that department for the year.

Tied for third spot are Canadiens' Maurice Richard and Toronto's Sid Smith with 23 points apiece. Richard's total is made up of 15 goals, high for the year, and eight assists and Smith has a 10-13 mark.

Chicago's Bill Mosienko is one point behind Howe after gathering the highest number of points in a single game last Dec. 2. Mosienko's two goals and three assists in that game brought his point total to 20, one less than Howe. Tied with the Chicagoan is New York's Don Raleigh.

Detroit's 14 victories and seven deadlocks in 25 games give them a total of 35 points, four more than Toronto, Boston follows with 24, while Montreal has 21.

Terry Sawchuk, Detroit goaltender, racked up his fifth shutout last week and has the best goals-against average. In 25 games, he let 44 pucks past him for a 1.76 average, compared to 1.92 for Toronto's Al Rollins.

Stoddard Leads Scoring Race

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (AP). — Jack Stoddard, 25-year-old forward of Providence Reds, tops the American Hockey League scoring race for the second straight week.

Stoddard scored only one goal during the week to bring his total to 36 points. Rookie Real Chevrefils of Hershey Bears remained in second place with 34.

This is the first time since the start of the season that any player has held the scoring lead for two weeks in a row.

George Armstrong of Pittsburgh was third with 31 points, followed by Cliff Simpson of St. Louis who had 30, and Steve Wochy of Cleveland and Ray Powell of Providence each with 29.

Armstrong continued to set the pace in goal scoring with 18. His teammate on the Hornets, Frank Mathers, took over the lead in assists with 24.

Pete Durham of Indianapolis fell just short of the century mark in penalty minutes, having 99 on 32 minor sentences, three majors, a ten minute misconduct and a game misconduct. With the season just barely a third over, Durham at the pace he is setting will surpass the league record of 212 minutes established last season by Harry Dick of Buffalo.

Gil Mayer of Pittsburgh regained the goaltending lead, replacing Gordie Henry of Hershey. Mayer had permitted 61 goals in 25 games for an average of 2.44, while Henry allowed 60 in 24 games for 2.50.

Stanky Mooted To Become Card Manager

By JACK HAND.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (AP). — Eddie Stanky is due to sign a two-year contract as player-manager of the St. Louis Cardinals today and Joe DiMaggio will announce his future plans.

The Stanky and DiMaggio developments probably will overshadow the seven-club deal completed Monday night between the Cincinnati Reds and Philadelphia Phips.

In the only official swap of the winter meetings, Cincinnati sent pitcher Howie Fox (9-14), second baseman Connie Ryan (.234) and catcher Forrest Burgess (.257) to the Phils for catcher Andy Seminick (.223), outfielder Dick Sisler (.287), pitcher Niles Jordan (2-3) and infielder Eddie Pellagrini (.234).

Stanky's deal to St. Louis for pitcher Max Lanier (11-9) and outfielder Chuck Diering (.259) hinges on an agreement between the peppery little second baseman and Fred Saigh, Card owner. That is a foregone conclusion.

Two-year Contract

Saigh and Stanky talked on the phone Monday night and will compromise on a two-year contract at $37,500 when Eddie flies into St. Louis today to meet his new boss.

Although the Giants and Cards didn't announce the players involved in the Stanky deal, it was learned Lanier and Diering are the men. Lanier, 36-year-old veteran lefty, would bolster the Giant staff and Diering, a goodfield, no-hit centre fielder, will provide centre field insurance in case Willie Mays is drafted.

Stanky, who played 145 games last year and hit .247 for the pennant-winning Giants, expects to play second base for his Cards.

The DiMaggio announcement will settle the future of the 37-year-old star with the $100,000 salary. Joe told reporters after the world series he had played his last game but held off positive retirement at the request of the Yanks' owners.

TV Job Open

Since Dizzy Dean left the Yanks to take another job, the television job is open. There are strong reports DiMaggio will man the TV mike at Yankee Stadium for the next three years at $50,000 per.

The Cincinnati-Phillies deal helps both clubs where they need it most.

Manager Eddie Sawyer counts on Ryan, 31-year-old veteran, as his regular second baseman. He played with New York and Boston before he was traded to the Reds for Walker Cooper in May of 1950. Sawyer also gets a regular starting pitcher in Fox, 30 a right-hander who may benefit by a change of scenery. Burgess is a young catcher, 24, who came to the Reds from Chicago in a four-man deal after the season.

Laufman Holds Junior A Lead

TORONTO, Dec. 11 (CP). — Guelph Biltmores' Ken Laufman picked up two goals and three assists in two games this week to hold his lead in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A scoring race. He has a total of 59 points on 18 goals and 41 assists.

Dave Wharram of Galt Black Hawks is second with 21 goals and 36 assists for 57 points. He has picked up two goals and four assists in his team's last three games.

Bob Murphy of Guelph is in third spot with 53 points while Donny Poland of Toronto Marlboros continues in fourth position with 50. Galt's Pete Conacher is fifth with 49.

Although Johnny Henderson, the Marlboros' sub-goalie, is leading the league in goals-against averages, he has appeared in only three games. Don Head, the Marlboros' regular netminder, has an average of 3.16 in 19 games as against Henderson's 1.67. Head has played 19 contests.

Ed Chadwick of Toronto St. Michael's is third with a 3.23 average in 22 tilts and Galt's Les Binkley places fourth with a 3.76 average in 21 games.

Reporter Needing News Explanation Of Rift Story

NEW YORK, Dec. 11—(AP)—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor, arriving from England Monday, laughingly scoffed at rumors of a marital rift.

"It must be wishful thinking," the Duchess quipped. "There surely must be some exciting young couple you can write about. We're old and threadbare."

A columnist recently hinted domestic troubles between the couple.

"They can't think up anything new to say," the Duke told reporters. "They said that last year."

The couple, who returned on the liner Queen Elizabeth, said they will spend the Christmas season in New York, and then go south.

"We're not very imag[illegible]," the Duchess said. "We're going to shoot quail near Tallahassee (Fla.)."

Added the Duke: "We'll also play a little bad golf in Florida."

Norwood WMS Holds Candlelight Service

NORWOOD, Dec. 11—(ENS)—Norwood United Church Women's Missionary Society held their Christmas carol and candle lighting service in the Sunday school room, with the president, Mrs. John Starke, in charge. The Rev. H. K. Wright led in prayer. It was unanimously decided to send cards to the sick and shut ins.

The slate of officers was presented by Mrs. Gordon Manley and received on motions by Mrs. Robert Girven and Mrs. Manley.

In a letter received from Presbyterial, several vacancies were found in the executive, and Mrs. H. K. Wright was selected to fill the position of community friendship secretary.

Mrs. Fred Gardner was in charge of the worship service and after the reading in unison of the "Magnificat" from the hymnary, the candle lighting service began.

The first candle for goodwill and friendship for the Jews of Canada—the race into which Christ was born—was lit by Mrs. A. E. Hogg. Several missionaries brought the gospel of Jesus Christ to the Canadian Indians and gave them the story of the Christ child in a Christmas carol. Mrs. Rork Ferguson played on the piano and sang this Indian carol as a solo, "'Twas in the Moon of Winter Time," while Mrs. B. Scott lit the second candle. The third candle for French Canadians was lit by Mrs. George Gardner and was followed by the singing of the carol "O Come All Ye Faithful." With the Protestant reformation came the carol "Away in a Manger" and the fourth candle was lit by Mrs. David Starke. The fifth candle was lit by Mrs. John Starke in friendship and goodwill for all newcomers to Canada from the war devastated land of Europe and a Polish carol, "Infant Holy, Infant Lowly," was sung after the singing of a carol written in our own day by a Canadian, "Gentle Mary Laid Her Child." Miss Maizie Buck lit the tall candle at the back of the lace covered table where the Bible open at Luke's Christmas story was placed and read the beautiful poem "Love Came Down at Christmas."

The Rev. H. K. Wright gave a Christmas message. In his remarks he said "Real living is giving, and we can give so many other things besides gifts and money, such as friendship, kindness, a more tolerant attitude toward others, and courage. And the more we give, the more we will have to give. Jesus said 'Be of good cheer,' and 'Let not your heart be troubled'."

Mrs. Fred Gardner read the benediction and the singing of "Hark the Herald Angels Sing" brought the Christmas service to a close.

Decision Delayed In Charge Of Store Theft

A Toronto woman, on bail of $1,000 on a theft charge was remanded until December 17 on the same bail after the evidence was heard in police court Monday.

Arrested after she had bolted from a George St. china shop November 30, Mrs. Ruby Kozachenko 26, pleaded not guilty to the charge of stealing a china figurine valued at under $25 from the store.

Thomas McDermott, 22 and his wife Ruth, 19, of 157 Argyle St., Toronto, were arrested with Mrs. Kozachenko and charged with vagrancy. They were both remanded on bail of $300 each December 3. Monday, the crown offered no evidence against the McDermott's and both charges were dismissed.

Both the McDermott's and Mrs. Kozachenko were represented in court Monday by George Bagwell of Toronto. Mr. Bagwell did not enter any defence in the charge against Mrs. Kozacheno, claiming that the crown had failed to make a case.

James Buchanan, proprietor of the gift store where Mrs. Kozachenko is alleged to have stolen the figurine, testified she was in the store when one of his saleslades drew his attention to a man looking in the window.

In Store Before

He said the saleslady told him the man had been in the store about a week before and shortly after a valuable figurine had been discovered missing.

As he stepped out the door, Mr. Buchanan said, Mrs. Kozachenko brushed past him and hurried down the street.

After ducking back into the store to get his hat, Mr. Buchanan said he began to chase Mrs. Kozachenko and the man who turned west on King St., and continued through the bus terminal parking lot, then along Charlotte St.

When he caught up with her, Mr. Buchanan said another woman had joined her. He said Mrs. Kozachenko denied taking anything from his store but offered to settle the matter for $40.

On their way back to the store, he said they were joined by the man he had first seen looking in the window.

As the saleslady was making out a slip for the $40 which Mrs. Kozachenko had agreed to pay, Mr. Buchanan said he asked the saleslady to get a police officer seen across the street.

Mrs. Kozachenko said: "You're calling an officer, that's a dirty trick" and fled out the back door. Mr. Buchanan related. He said he was hampered by McDermott and Mrs. McDermott when he tried to follow through the door.

In Mud Puddle

He said he found Mrs. Kozachenko picking herself up from a mud puddle at the rear of the store and shortly after, Constable Gerald Edmonds arrived and the three were taken to the police station.

Mrs. Kozachenko was charged with theft after a china figurine valued at $10 by Mr. Buchanan was found in the alley near where she had fallen.

In court Monday, Mr. Buchanan said the figurine was the same type as one found missing from the store shortly after the incident and identified the writing on the base, showing the price, as similar to the marking made by a carbon pencil used in his store.

Suspicious

Mr. Bagwell said he was prepared to admit the circumstances were suspicious but submitted that the figurine had not been identified as being stolen from Mr. Buchanan's store and had not been found in his client's possession.

Assistant Crown Attorney Walter Howell urged a conviction on the grounds that the accused's offer to pay $40 for articles Mr. Buchanan accused her of having taken from his store was an indication of her guilt.

Further, asked Mr. Howell, "Would a person completely free of guilt act in that way? The circumstantial evidence is such that the court can make a finding of guilty," Mr. Howell said.

Magistrate W. R. Philp said he would reserve judgment for one week and remanded Mrs. Kozachenko on the same bail.

STEPINAC LEAVES JAIL CELL — Archbishop Aloysius Stepinac, leader of Yugoslavia's Roman Catholics, is shown in his cell in Lepoglava Prison, near Zagreb, just before his release. Nova Scotia Woman Teaching Women In Iraq Easier Life

By NORMAN ALTSTEDTER.

PARIS, Dec. 11 — (CP). — A Nova Scotia woman is telling the farm wife in a remote area of Iraq how to ease the burden of her housework.

Dr. Margaret Hockin of Truro, home economist and international authority on rural welfare, sent by United Nations to Iraq under the technical assistance program, is telling them, among other things, about the simple stove and oven developed in India to replace the primitive methods of cooking over an open fire.

The 43-year-old woman is one of five Canadian experts in several fields sent to various underdeveloped countries by the UN Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization under the $20,000,000 program.

Dr. Hockin, who arrived in Iraq recently, said in an interview before she left UNESCO's Paris headquarters, that improvement of home conditions is one of the basic steps in the struggle against illiteracy and low standards of living.

"If we don't free women from hard, terrible work you can't expect them to become interested in learning the alphabet," she said. Dr. Hockin taught home economics in Japan from 1935 to 1940, and during the war administered a chain of 52 camps for farm work volunteers in Canada.

In Iraq, she is helping in a program of land resettlement at Dujailah where landless tenant farmers are being resettled on newly-irrigated tracts.

Another Canadian in the field under the aid program is Edwin K. Ford of Halifax, on leave from his post as director of Nova Scotia's vocational education. He is in Iraq on a one-year mission as adviser to the education ministry on its program of expanding vocational school facilities.

The others are: Graham Crabtree of Ottawa, in Thailand; S. D. Rigolo of Toronto, in Haiti; and Dr. Felix Walter of Montreal, former language professor at the University of Toronto, Queen's University, Kingston, the London School of Economics, and Atlanta University, Atlanta, Ga., on his way to Costa Rica.

Oakville Man Hit By 3 Cars

OAKVILLE, Dec. 11 — (CP).—William Wright, 75, was fatally injured Monday night when struck by three automobiles.

Police said that, while crossing a highway after stepping from a bus, he was knocked down by a car driven by Arthur Smith of Oakville.

They said that while he was lying on the highway he was hit by a car operated by Edward Silver of St. Catharines following Smith's.

Seconds later, a third automobile, driven by Douglas Craig of Burlington, struck him, police said.

Fined On Drunk Count

Charged with being intoxicated in a public place, Gordon Bowen of Lakefield pleaded guilty in police court Monday. He was fined $10 and $2.50 costs or in default, 10 days, by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC.

Former Magistrate O. A. Langley, KC, appeared for Bowen and asked that a prior conviction on the same charge be withdrawn.

Assistant Crown Attorney Walter Howell agreed.

Mystery Deepens

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—President Truman reviewed the "world situation" with top military and diplomatic advisors Monday in an atmosphere of deepening mystery over the precise reasons for his sudden return from a Florida vacation. The White House said topics discussed at the 70-minute conference included the long-drawn Korean truce talks, but emphasized that other subjects were also considered.

$50,000 Blaze

LADNER, BC, Dec. 11 (CP)—Five hundred pigs and 1,500 chickens perished in a fire Saturday night at the nearby farm of How Cam. A two-storey barn was destroyed. The loss was estimated at $50,000.

Court Dismisses Driving Charge

After hearing the evidence on a charge of careless driving against Veral Brown, RR 10, Peterborough, in police court Monday, Magistrate W. R. Philp dismissed the charge.

Brown was involved in an accident with a car driven by Miss Kathleen Calladine, 455 Chamberlain St., at Aylmer and Brock Sts., the evening of Dec. 1.

Miss Calladine was atempting to pass Brown's car when the two cars collided, causing minor damage to both vehicles.

The crown alleged that Brown had swerved into Miss Calladine's car.

Brown was defended by Gordon H. T. Farquharson who claimed there was nothing to suggest any negligence or unusual driving on Brown's part.

Magistrate Philp dismissed the charge with the comment there was not sufficient evidence to warrant a conviction of careless driving.

Strike Threat Delayed

LONDON, Ont., Dec. 11 (CP)—Threat of a strike on the city-owned London Street Railway Company is off for at least a week. Louis Fine, chief conciliation officer, Ontario Department of Labor, Monday set Dec. 18 as tentative date for further talks between company and union officials. A dispute over what the union charges is a contract violation has kept the city-owned line on the edge of strike action for a week.

On Way To Locks

SAULT STE. MARIE, Dec. 11 (CP)—Some 20 Canadian and four United States ships carrying their last grain cargoes of the season were reported Monday to be on their way to the Soo locks en route to Lower Lake ports. Local RCAF Nurse Took Part In Mercy Flight

Dr. M. J. Kennedy and Mrs. Kennedy, 476 King George St., identified as their daughter the nurse whose home address was incorrectly reported Marmora in the Canadian Press story from Halifax on the front page of the Examiner Saturday.

It was an RCAF account of the emergency landing by Flight-Lieut. L. B. Pearson, of Woodstock, Ont., of his amphibious Canso plane on the water at Hebron in northern Labrador to pick up a wounded Eskimo who had suffered a gunshot wound thirteen days previously.

The news report said the Eskimo was in critical condition and would die if immediate aid could not be given. Pearson made a "semi-stall" landing, barely missing disaster, and to get out of the narrow space he had to use a rocket-assisted takeoff device.

Nursed On Plane

Nursing Sister Margaret Mary Kennedy accompanied the patient of the air from Labrador to a hospital at St. John's, Newfoundland, taking care of him on the way. Low ceiling at Torbay airport forced re-routing of Pearson's plane to Argentia. The Eskimo was then rushed by ambulance to St. John's. He was unable to speak English, and is believed to have shot himself while hunting.

MARGARET MARY KENNEDY

Miss Kennedy is attached to No. 103 Rescue Squadron of the RCAF at Goose Bay, Nfld., with rank of Flying Officer. She served with the RCAMC in Europe during the war, was subsequently attached to the DVA hospitals at Saskatoon, Vancouver and Montreal, and finally transferred to the RCAF.

Abolishes Council

LONDON, Dec. 11 (Reuters) — The King Monday night abolished the council of state set up to deal temporarily with the country's business during his recent illness. Members of the council were Queen Elizabeth, Princess Elizabeth, Princes Margaret, the Duke of Gloucester and the Princess Royal.

Tells Tale Out Of School Ship Went Wrong Place

OTTAWA, Dec. 11 (CP)—Once in every deputy minister's life comes a time when he can tell tales out of school—like when a ship sailed for Southampton, England, instead of Southampton Island.

It came Monday night for Lt.-Cmdr. C. P. (Ted) Edwards, 63, retiring Deputy Minister of Transport, at a testimonial dinner attended by two of his former bosses — Production Minister Howe and Transport Minister Chevrier.

The one tale that topped all concerned the early war years when the United States was building the northern staging route for flying single-engine planes to Europe.

Canada was asked to help build the airports along the route, and a large shipment of American materials—"hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of bulldozers" — was consigned to Southampton Island, north of Hudson Bay.

"The Captain of the vessel," Cmd. Edwards related, "had never heard of Southampton Island.

"For days we figured we had lost the ship. She finally turned up at Southampton, England, and when they saw all the bulldozers and equipment on her they took them off and sent them back to Boston.

"It was a credit to the Americans that within four days, another ship loaded with similar equipment was on its way to Southampton Island. In all, we lost only 10 days on the operation."

Charge Improper Relations

SEATTLE, Dec. 11 (AP) — A Superior Court jury Monday heard a wire recording in which a psychologist admitted having had improper relations a dozen or more times with one of his women patients.

The psychologist, Louis W. Gellerman, is on trial on charges of immoral conduct with four women patients.

In the recording, Gellerman described his relations with the woman as a "jarring technique" aimed at getting at the cause of her troubles.

The recording heard Monday was made after Gellerman's arrest. Deputy Prosecutor John L. Votel has described the statements in the recording as a confession.

Police Detective Will E. Chapelle, who said he made the recording with Gellerman's knowledge, testified that prior to the psychologist's arrest he also hid in the basement of the woman's home and made a recording of a conversation between Gellerman and the woman during a consultation. He said police went to the home after the woman complained about the course of treatment.

Gellerman insisted the woman made the advances in the case. He said he had asked the woman to select some act which would be embarrassing to her.

EX-SERVICE WOMEN OF ELIZABETH SMELLIE BRANCH 452, Canadian Legion, presented the city with a handsome gavel before the regular meeting on Monday evening. His Honor Mayor Max J. Swanston, received it from President Irma Allen. Corresponding Secretary Grace Simpson stands at the Left and 1st Vice-President Edna Rule at the Right. Women Vets Present Gavel To Council

Members of the Elizabeth Smellie branch No. 452 of the Canadian Legion, comprising ex-service women, presented a gavel to the citizens and their council at the opening of the council meeting Monday night.

The presentation was made on behalf of the deputation by Miss Irma R. Allen of the city hall staff.

Having served their country during the war, the members, Miss Allen said, have been extending their usefulness in the years of peace. They strove to help the needy, particularly in co-operating with men's branch, No. 52, of the Canadian Legion, and they contributed extra articles to the children of both orphanages of the city.

They also send parcels to a home for children overseas. The Elizabeth Smellie branch registered the names of all the men and women of the wartime services for the remembrance book prepared for Peterborough's Memorial Community Centre.

Other activities include an active interest in civic matters of which the gift of a gavel for the mayor's desk was an expression. The members were proud to have had their part in helping to preserve peace and justice. Their gift was another symbol of the democratic way of life, Miss Allen said.

Mayor Swanston thanked Miss Allen and her associates on behalf of the council. The young women of the services had done a wonderful work during the World War, His Worship said, and they were continuing to work in the interest of the city.

"It is organizations such as yours that have helped make Peterborough the fine city it is. On behalf of the citizens and the council I thank you."

City Businessmen Favor Retail Price Maintenance

Peterborough industrialists, wholesalers and retailers are definitely in favor of the retention of resale price maintenance as a part of the Canadian economy. At least they are, if the results of the open meeting held by the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce attended by representatives of these three groups at Queen Mary school auditorium Monday night indicates the feeling of most in the city.

The Peterborough chamber's effort is a part of a nation-wide Chamber of Commerce effort to forestall the passing of the government proposed law against the resale price maintenance or fixing by manufacturers, until the mass opinion of its members can be presented.

Sent Ballots

In Peterborough the chamber has sent out ballots to all its members asking them to vote yes or no on this question. These ballots will be tabulated and sent in to the Canadian Chamber on Thursday.

Similar procedures are being followed by the 700 chambers of commerce and boards of trade across Canada. Each chamber and board has one ballot on which its support or otherwise can be marked as determined by the majority vote of its individual members.

The Canadian chamber will tabulate these ballots and present the majority viewpoint to a special committee which has been set up in Ottawa to study this question of retail price fixing.

Wilson Gemmell acting for Chamber President P. D. Scollard explained to the 45 men present that the meeting had been called to give an opportunity for airing individual views and hearing the views of others.

Goron McGavin said it was dealing with price fixing on the vertical level—the right or not of the manufacturers to set a market retail value for their products.

The meeting was then thrown open by Chairman K. C. Dalrymple for opinions from the floor.

Harry Cherney as a retailer said that the proposed legislation was either based on the assumption that the retailer was making too much money or that the government thinks that its abolishment will benefit the consumer.

Retailer To Suffer

"The public are not going to benefit like they think they are and the small retailer is going to suffer," he said.

This viewpoint was supported by J. W. Fortner who added that retailers need the guidance in price structure given by resale price fixing. He also added that if the government wants to stop so-called discrimination it should hit at other price levels as well.

J. S. Keenan, manager of the supply department of the CGE spoke as an industrialist in favor of the retention of the resale price fixing.

"It is doubtful if the proposed legislation will reduce the cost of goods to the consumer," he said, speaking particularly about electrical appliance goods. "The consumer price named by the producer is determined by his manufacturing cost and his desire to broaden the market for his product as much as possible. The margin he provides for the retailer is only enough to enable the efficient retailer to carry on the required sales and services functions and remain healthy."

Fix More Goods

E. P. Butler, retailer, called for an increase of goods to come under resale price fixing.

D. A. Loucks, retailer, asked why the government was so sure this proposed legislation was such a good thing.

Manager of the Peterborough Chamber, James Fraser answered this question by reporting an opinion he had heard. That the government was trying to pacify consumer groups who were yelling for something to combat the high cost-of-living.

W. A. Richardson brought the meeting to a close with the final opinion that resale price fixing actually protects the consumer.

"It would seem that the government has two aims in proposing this legislation. First, to get votes to stay in power and second, to get money."

He concluded by asking in what way the government will get money if resale price maintenance is abolished. If it is abolished price wars will result and business will be less profitable which will automatically lower the income tax paid by retailers all over the country.

Find Opposition To Food Plant

Ald. P. J. Anglesey reported to the council Monday night that certain residents of Ashburnham had expressed to him objections to a modern bakery and food plant locating in the area north of Tivey St. and west of Rogers St.

The clause in the property committee's recommendations was: "That the City Planning Board be requested to rezone for light industrial use the property owned by the city on Rogers St., west side, lying north of Tivey St., since the city has an opportunity to sell this land for a modern food plant, estimated to cost $500,000."

If any objections were received following this announcement they would be referred to the City Planning Board for their consideration. So far, the council was not committed in any way. The proposal was still before the Planning Board, Ald. Waddell said.

Two Constables Off For Week

LINDSAY, Dec. 11 (CP)—Two members of Lindsay's four-man police force Monday night were suspended for one week.

The suspension of Constables Gordon McCartney and Russell Hargreave arose out of breaking-and-entering charges against William Daynes and Thomas Bolderstone, former member of Lindsay police force. The charges were dismissed.

Mel Cunningham, Lindsay lawyer, testified he saw two men entering the lane behind an electrical store. A few minutes later he heard scraping and glass breaking. He said he was unable to identify the two men charged as the two in the lane.

Mr. Cunningham said police arrested only Daynes at the scene and later picked up Bolderstone.

In dismissing the charges against Daynes and Bolderstone, Magistrate E. A. Gee said they were based on "too much discrepancy in the evidence."

Constables McCartney and Hargrave said they had seen Bolderstone near the area but did not connect him with the break-in because he was several feet away from the store.

Police Chief Art Webster will hold an open hearing of the case against the constables.

Taxpayers Argue Over Park Land In Lakefield

LAKEFIELD, Dec. 11 (Staff)—Disposition of the land in Lakefield Park—owned by the village—was the chief topic of discussion at the ratepayers' meeting held in Memorial Hall here Monday night.

Incidentally, the date for Lakefield's second nomination meeting was announced by village clerk Harry Hill. That meeting will be held December 20 to nominate candidates for the two positions still vacant on council and the one position vacant on the public school board.

If an election is necessary, it will be held December 27, Mr. Hill said.

Another Meeting

Talk about what to do with the land in Lakefield Park occupied so much of the ratepayers' meeting that it was adjourned until January 14.

Then, several people hinted, more important matters will be discussed. It is quite probable they were referring to the contentious question of a waterworks and sewage disposal plant for the village.

The nub of the discussion was whether or not to ask in the coming election if Lakefield residents are in favor of the subdivision and sale of lots in the park.

In favor of the question being asked was a militant faction headed by parks committee chairman Harry Sherin and composed of Mr. Sherin and retiring councillor Arthur Kingdon.

Against the question being asked at the coming election was a somewhat larger group headed by former councilor Albert Buchanan and councillor J. Lester Fraser.

A motion was put to the meeting favoring the question being put on ballots for next Monday's election.

The anti-question group moved an amendment (amounting to another motion) saying that the question be deferred until the parks committee makes a report to council on possible subdivision and sale of the land and the council gives approval of the report.

No Lost Tempers

This amendment carried after a good deal of argument, with the two factions voting a straight party line. The argument, it should be noted, was carried on without any loss of temper.

Mr. Sherin felt the question had been bandied about quite long enough. "We've been discussing this for six years," he said. "Surely that's long enough for the voters to understand what's going on."

If the question were defeated at the coming election, argued Mr. Sherin, it should be deferred for another five years, "like the liquor question".

Both Mr. Buchanan and councillor Fraser said they believed there should be some more "education" of the voters. Mr. Buchanan said he felt the question would be "premature" if put at this election.

As it stands now, people living in the park pay $10 a year rent for the land, and taxes on their buildings. The waterfront is not included in the leases, but is there for the use of the tenants.

It was estimated at the meeting that there are 31 lots which could be sold in the park. If they were sold, said some ratepayers, the village would be out of the real estate business, and a good thing.

Lakefield Park is the land north of the dam above the bridge at the west approach to the village. It terminates on the north in a point used for picnic grounds and jutting into Lake Katchewanooka.

Dog Licences

One ratepayer noticed that only $100 was taken in from dog licences. "Why," he said, "they could get that much from the dogs that run through my garden. I can think of one particular dog who has crossed my verandah four times since I got up to speak."

Reeve W. C. Grant deplored the low amount of revenue from the dog tax and said that efforts to improve the situation were being made.

Reeve Grant moved votes of thanks to Harry Sherin and the parks committee, and to retiring councillors Kenneth Jakins and Arthur Kingdon. Chairman for the meeting was Frank Payne.

Council Says Farewell To Mayor

Served Faithfully Ald. Doug Miller Tells Max Swanston

For the first and probably the last time in his presidency of the city council, Mayor Max J. Swanston declined Monday night to submit to its members a duly presented motion.

It was a resolution of appreciation of his work and leadership by Ald. T. D. Miller, seconded by Ald. Hugh F. Waddell.

Many and memorable felicities have pleasantly punctuated the business of the council during these three years of the Swanston administration. They were inspired by current accomplishments, part of the flowing stream of civic affairs. This tribute of Monday night sounded the note of inevitable finality and parting, and in its palpable warmth it was a graceful recognition of the fulfillment of projects which have materially changed and enlarged the municipal estate and appearance of Peterborough.

Ald. Miller said he had been assigned the honor of moving the council's resolution to Mayor Swanston.

"For the past eleven years," said the chairman of the finance committee, "you have served the citizens of Peterborough faithfully, and at great sacrifice to your personal welfare. For eight years you served as alderman, being chairman of every committee of the council, and for the past three trying years you have been our Mayor.

Sacrifice Appreciated

"I am sure that at times you felt that your sacrifice was not appreciated, but I can assure you that nothing could be further from the truth.

"Your genial nature and gentlemanly approach have been much appreciated by the citizens in general. You were never too busy to listen to the many personal problems.

"The council will miss you tremendously, but I can assure you that we will carry on in the best Swanston tradition.

"In moving this vote of thanks and appreciation, I would like also to pay tribute to Mrs. Swanston for the gracious manner in which she carried out the responsibilities of the Mayor's wife.

"We, the citizens of Peterborough, wish you and yours the very best in the years ahead."

Ald. Waddell said it was a great pleasure to him in seconding this motion. "Although it is unanimous with the council, nevertheless I would like to have that privilege."

"This is one motion I don't think I'll put to the council," Mayor Swanston said, after the aldermanic applause subsided.

"This is probably the last regular meeting of the 1951 council, but if anything of importance crops up, we may have to call a special meeting.

Regret Goodbye

"I regret very much at this time to say goodbye to the members of the council, the heads and employees of our civic departments, many of whom I have worked with during my eleven years in council work.

"I am going to miss associating with you in daily contacts and the many pleasant hours we have spent together on the city's business. I feel the 1951 council have done splendid work, and accomplished many worthwhile and important undertakings necessary for the convenience and well being of a growing city.

"Through your unselfish desire to serve the best interests of the city, you have given fully of your time and ability, and co-operated in every way to make 1951 one of the best years in the history of Peterborough.

"It was a great honor for me to be mayor and receive credit for your work.

"I wish to congratulate Aldermen Dewart, Miller and Anglesey on their re-election for another two years; also the two new members, Mr. Black and Mr. Longhurst on gaining membership to this select circle. I am sure their business ability and knowledge of Peterborough will be a big help to next year's council.

"I also regret that Ald. Braund will not be back, as he worked hard during his two years in the council, and had the best interest of the city and its citizens in mind at all times.

"I wish to congratulate my successor, Hugh Waddell, on receiving an acclamation for the office of Mayor for 1952. He has served the city well for the last six years, is very well versed in civic affairs, is a fine fellow, and will be a splendid mayor. I wish him the very best in 1952.

"Gentlemen, I now thank you for your support and co-operation which has made my duties as Mayor a pleasure to perform."

CAMPBELLFORD, Dec. 11. (ENS) — A loaded gravel truck knocked over a traffic light standard which narrowly missed some school children and passing cars in a freak accident at one of the town's main intersections at noon today. Truck driver Cecil Hopkins had been parked at the northwest corner of Grand Rd. and Bridge St. When he started up, the rear of the truck skidded into the curb on the icy slope of road from the centre toward the curb. The truck knocked over the pole, but the lights continued to blink their signals until utilities men turned off the power and dragged the pole away.

Lawyers Honor Judge Smoke In Court Room

The Union Jack hung at half-mast over the County Court House. Dull December morning light came through the high west windows into the court room over which Judge Smoke had presided for 17 years. Spectators entered quietly. The jury filed in, for a case was in hearing from Monday. Then came the court crier, constables, the sheriff. In front of the empty bench and to its side black-gowned members of the Peterborough Bar took their places, 22 of them in sombre rows. A hush pervaded the court room.

Judge Miller of Cobourg entered from the Judge's Chambers and mounted to the bench.

John A. Bradshaw, KC, Crown Attorney, rose. He wished formally to draw attention of His Honor to the "profound regret" of the Peterborough Bar at the passing of Judge Smoke, who had opened these General Sessions of the Peace only a week ago. He said that the Bar wished to pay tribute.

Thereupon F. D. Kerr KC, senior member of the Bar of the County of Peterborough, addressed the Bench:

"The demise of His Honor Judge Sheldon LaPierre Smoke was not a complete surprise to the members of the Bar because for some months past we have felt that His Honor was courageously and gravely struggling against ill health. His passing removes a Judge who has endeared himself to the members of the Bar. Whether a man was rich or poor he was able to come into Judge Smoke's court feeling that neither his poverty nor his riches would sway the Judge from what he considered to be the right and proper decision."

Mr. Kerr recalled Judge Smoke's reception in 1934 by members of the Bar in the same courtroom. "We saw a man mo-

Man Found Not Guilty Of Forgery

Judge Directs Verdict After Hearing

Francis Sabotka, 33, Oshawa, at noon today was found not guilty on a charge of forgery. The trial lasted a day and a half.

Judge A. M. Miller, Cobourg, presiding at the general sessions after the death of Judge S. L. Smoke, directed the Peterborough county jury to bring in the not guilty verdict.

He agreed with defence counsel W. J. Arthur Fair, KC, that there wasn't sufficient evidence to warrant a conviction.

Sabotka is alleged to have forged the name of Jan Kubouski, his Oshawa roommate, on a withdrawal slip and obtained $300 from Kubouski's bank account.

The money was in a Peterborough bank.

Handwriting

Highlight of the trial was the attempt by the Crown to link the accused man with the forgery. John McKone, handwriting expert, used drawing paper on a 3-ft. by 2-ft. easel to illustrate the similarities and differences in the signatures.

Mr. McKone had also used a powerful miscroscope for analysing the handwriting of the accused.

The defence was not called. Mr. Fair addressed Judge Miller after the Crown's evidence was all in and asked him to instruct the jury to bring in a directed verdict. He claimed there was insufficient evidence to link Sabotka with the writing on the withdrawal slip.

On the jury were William H. Mitchell, George St.; Arthur Northcott, Robinson St.; Harold J. Sarginson, Cambridge St.; J. Wilson Bowen, Gilmour St.; Blaine G. Till, King St.; Thomas Webster, Dummer township; William Archibald, Margaret Ave.; Wilfred Boorman, Bolivar St.; Frank Perry, Aylmer St.; Frederick G. Parsons, McCannan Ave.; Allan Sharpe, Dummer; and Kenneth Nurse, Smith township.

Tableaux Feature Lovely Musicale By Music Club

Another of the delightful Christmas musicales by the Music Study Club of the Women's Art Association was presented Monday afternoon for a large and most appreciative audience of Association members and guests.

Mrs. R. R. Baker arranged this year's program to feature six beautiful tableaux with musical settings. The first was of Jesus in the manger with Mrs. F. E. Hooper as the Mother Mary looking down. The sacred carol was sung by the sextette composed of Mrs. D. B. Gordon, Mrs. G. H. Cutmore, Mrs. H. V. Dobson, Mrs. Cyril Crowe, Mrs. A. B. Burrows and Mrs. Ford Turner with Mrs. G. W. Craw accompanist.

Mrs. Percy Hooper then contributed a violin solo "Jesu Bambino" with Mrs. Baker accompanying at the piano.

"Slumber Song of the Madonna" was sung by Mrs. James Goldie with Mrs. Hooper portraying the tableau, seen by the audience as in an old picture album setting.

"God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen," a spirited carol by the trio, Mrs. Goldie, Mrs. Chester Carson and Mrs. Ross Moore, was portrayed in tableau by waites, Miss E. Anderson, and Mrs. Crowe. This trio also sang "Kings of Glory" with Mrs. James Matthews, Mrs. W. R. Philp and Mrs. W. G. Ovens as the Kings. "As Lately We Watched" by the sextette was portrayed by Mrs. A. E. Barrie and Mrs. J. Low as shepherds.

Loveliest of all was the final tableau in which Mrs. Charles Allen portrayed the angel while the sextette sang "Gloria In Excelsis."

Mrs. Craw and Mrs. Baker delighted highly with two piano duets, "Jesu Joy of Man's Desiring" and "Fantasia on Greensleeves."

The program opened with a group of Christmas carols by the nine singers led by Mrs. Goldie. They sang a Flemish carol "A Little Child," "Rocking" and a very old carol "Unto Us a Boy is Born."

Thanks of the ladies was expressed to the Club through the chairman Mrs. Ford Turner and Mrs. Baker by Association president Mrs. N. D. Seaton. There are 26 members in the Music Study Club.

The program was heard in the YWCA recreation room, and afterward tea was served in the Green Room. Tea arrangements were by the Literary Study Club and tea was poured by Miss E. M. Lees and Mrs. L. B. Martin.

Table setting was carried out in red and white and the rooms were decorated in Christmas pageantry.

DOROTHY DIX

End Office Infatuation, Better Quit Your Job

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem began about four months ago when I took a new job. I am 18 and have been out of school a year. This is my fourth job and I really love the work, the surroundings and the people I work with. But there is a man here with whom I have become infatuated. I know I do not love him but this infatuation is getting the best of me. He is married and has two small children. He is 31 and has a very important position here.

Dorothy Dix

Whenever he is in the office I can't take my eyes off him. The problem is complicated by the fact that he feels the same way about me. People are beginning to suspect something is wrong the way we look at one another. He is urging me to go out with him, and so far I have resisted the temptation to accept his invitations but I know I'll weaken before long.

I couldn't bear quitting the job because everyone is so pleasant and I like the work. I'm so mixed up my life seems nothing but worry and tears. I feel so ashamed of myself, yet I still go on feeling the same.

BABETTE

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Regardless of your conviction that you can't change your feelings about this man, the one thing that you simply cannot and must not do is continue to float along on this romantic cloud that you've conjectured out of the blue. You are headed for tragedy and disaster. You seem to realize the enormity of the step you've contemplating, but without enough comprehension to get out of the situation while you can do so with dignity.

You Will Suffer

This man is perfectly willing to accept the adoration of an attractive youngster, and might even go as far as to carry on a love affair with you. Then just where will you be? The heartache following such a course of events will be incomparably worse than the pangs you'll suffer in breaking off all connections with this man at once. Thank your lucky stars you had sense enough to seek advice before it was too late, and turn your efforts to forgetting him.

Naturally the best thing to do is change your job. Since you've already had four in one year another move can't affect you too much. Then, turn your thoughts and your attentions to boys your own age.

Don't fool yourself into thinking you mean anything to this man. He's wrapped up in his wife and children. Though he is not adverse to a flirtation of varying degree with you, nothing more will come of the affair but more tears, and more worry for you. Be smart. Hand in your resignation fast, and don't leave a forwarding address.

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been a widow for four years and am 34 years old. I have a son of 12. I was in a t.b. sanitorium for six months and thought that someday I would marry again and lead a normal life. Over a year ago I met a man of 38 and went with him for seven months. He told me he loved me and would do anything for me. I told him then that I had had t.b. He stopped coming to see me, and within five weeks married another girl. After two months he told me he was sorry he had married her, and that it was all my fault. I still love him, but have no intention of going out with him ever. Did I do right in telling him of my illness? That question always bothers me when I go out with a man. Should I tell them if they begin to be serious?

ANSWER: Of course you were right in telling the man you had been ill, but there's no reason for either you or him to act as if your ailment were something horrible. Frankly, from the way you described him in your letter (part of which was omitted here), you are better off without him. If you do marry again you want a kind, considerate husband who will be a good provider—none of which this man was.

You should have a frank discussion with your doctor on your complete medical history, and ask his advice on your attitude with future suitors. Knowing your case, he is in a position to guide you in the best way. When you meet a man who does become serious, it would be a good idea to have him talk to your doctor too.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 14 and in my second year of high school. My best friend and I skipped school twice, and were caught. Nof my mother frobids me to see this girl, who, she claims, is a bad influence on me. To be truthful, I talked her into not going to school. I promised my mother that it wouldn't happen again, but she still insists I don ot see my friend. My mother is a very understanding person, but in this case she will not listen to reason.

LOIS

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Have you told your mother that you were largely responsible for the school-skipping episodes? She might view the matter in a different light, but, of course, your friend's mother would then be the one to forbid a continuance of the friendship. It is to be hoped that both you girls have learned a good lesson from the dire results of your escapades. Once you have shown evidence of being untrustworthy, it is very difficult to have faith in you restored. Your mother is indeed an understanding person, and she realizes that her daughter deserves a severe penalty for bad conduct. The only way she can be convinced that you and your friend are good for each other is for you girls to give a first class exhibition of good behavior. Keep it up until the black mark against you is erased.

One Studio Introducing New Talent

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 11 (AP)—Everybody talks about the need for new faces in the movies, but few studios do much about it.

A notable exception is Universal-International. In the last year or so, the studio has developed new personalities in a number disproportionate to the size of its operation. Among the promising newcomers: Peggy Dow, Tony Curtis, Piper Laurie, Joyce Holden, Rock Hudson.

For information I went to the talent coach Sophie Rosenstein, who has spent most of her career developing other people's talents. How does the studio find promising young talent?

"Mostly through agents who bring the talent to the studio. Most of the boys and girls have been found in little theatres around Hollywood, which is our principal showcase of talent. Only a few are brought in from Broadway, and other parts of the country."

Method of Training

How are the youngsters chosen for contracts?

"We try to pick ones who have the potentiality of being able to do leading roles, since we generally don't put character types under contract. The person should be pleasant looking and should be assured and self-confident. Previous training is not necessary, but it helps. If a person has taken part in school plays and so forth, that at least shows he has some of the drive and the desire to be an actor."

After the hopefuls are on the contract list, they begin extensive training. "There is no sitting at home, waiting to be called for a picture," Miss Rosenstein remarked. "They put in a full day at the studio. We give them singing and dancing lessons, teach them how to ride horseback and train them in all phases of acting. They are taught to improvise and to think on their feet; that makes them self-confident and assured."

What's Right?

Your husband has to stop by a residence on a business matter when you are in the car with him.

WRONG: Go to the door with him, expecting to be invited in and entertained while he takes acer of the business matter.

RIGHT: Sit in the car and wait for him.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Here's Some Christmas Suggestions

(Save this. There may be a vegetable dish here you will want for your Christmas dinner.)

"So you're Mary Moore. Well, you're just the gal I want to see. What are some substitutes for vegetables?"

That was the introduction to herself that one of the girls on the editorial staff gave me.

There is no substitute for vegetables, is there? If so I don't want the ersatz stuff.

It seems this girl was left to do the cooking for the family while her mother was on a trip. Very innocently she decided to have cauliflower for dinner. But bingo!—a little one about 5 inches in diameter was priced at 59 cents. She said "on your salary kid, for you it's cabbage!"

But what's the matter with cabbage — especially when you make—

Golden Cabbage

Shred cabbage as finely as possible with very sharp knife until you have 8 cups. Cook in about ¾ cup boiling water, turning over 3 times, until tender, but still a little crisp. Drain. Beat 1 egg, and stir this into the hot cabbage with 2 tablespoons butter and 1 tablespoon lemon juice and generous sprinkling of salt and black pepper. Stir over low heat for about 1 or 2 minutes. Serve in preheated vegetable dish.

Emem's Brussels Sprouts

Trim off wilted outer leaves, wash well. Cook uncovered in salted water to cover until barely tender. Drain. For 1 quart of sprouts make this cream sauce: Warm 1½ cups whole milk or 1 cup whole milk and ½ cup cream. Stir together 3 tablespoons soft or melted butter and 2¾ tablespoons flour. When milk is hot stir this paste into it, until it thickens and is smooth. Add salt and pepper and a shake of freshly grated nutmeg. For special occasions add ¼ cup shredded toasted almonds. Pour this sauce over the hot sprouts in preheated vegetable dish.

Shredded Beets, Harvard Style

Shred beets on finest shredder until you have 5 cups. (If you want to keep your hands out of the juice these could be put through food chopper.) They must be washed and pared first though so your hands are in for it anyway. To them in top of double boiler add 1 cup boiling water and 1 teaspoon salt. Cook, covered, over boiling water, until barely tender. Stir together 2 tablespoons flour, 2 tablespoons sugar, dash of pepper and one-third cup vinegar. Stir this into the barely cooked beets, until the juice thickens. Be sure it is well heated through.

Turnip Casserole

Pare and cut an ordinary yellow turnip into 1-inch strips and boil in enough salted water to cover until tender. Drain but save the liquid. Mash well until smooth and free from all lumps. Add 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, 1 well beaten egg, 1 cup whole milk, 2 tablespoons brown sugar and enough of the reserved liquid to make this very moist. Turn into a greased baking dish and bake at 325 deg. Fahr. for 1 hour. Delicious with chicken or turkey.

DODD—In loving memory of our dear Parents, Eliza Dodd, who passed away, December 11, 1949, and Fred A. Dodd, who passed away January 7, 1944.
Just a thought of sweet remembrance,
Just a memory sad and true.
Just the love and sweet devotion
Of ones who think of you.
—Ever remembered by Arthur, Walter and Trevor.

DODD—In memory of Mrs. Fred Dodd of Hastings, who died Dec. 11, 1949.
Dear grandma you are not forgotten
Though on earth you are no more,
Still in memory you are with us,
As you always were before.
—Sadly missed, Adele.

SMITH—In memory of Pte Adam Smith, who died Dec. 11, 1943.
Down the lane of memory
The light is shining through
Until the stars forget to shine
We will remember you.
—Ever remembered by his wife and family.

SMITH—In loving memory of my dear father, Adam Smith, who died Dec. 11th, 1943.
The depth of sorrow we cannot tell
Of the loss of one we loved so well,
And while he sleeps in peaceful sleep
His memory we shall always keep.
—Ever remembered by daughter Annie and family.

WHYTE—In loving memory of John Henry Whyte, age 18 months, who passed away Dec. 11, 1948.

Will linger with us all our days,
Sweetest flower, too sweet to stay,
God took him home to show us the way.
—Sadly missed by Mom, Dad and sister Helen.

WHYTE—In loving memory of John Henry Whyte, who passed away December 11, 1948, age 18 months.

Egypt Protests To UN Because Village Razed

PARIS, Dec. 11 (AP).—Egypt protested to the United Nations today against the destruction of an Egyptian village in the Suez area by British forces.

British army engineers during the weekend destroyed a 100-house village near Suez in building a new road between a military garrison and a water filtration plant. British authorities contended the by-pass through the village was necessary because military convoys encountered Egyptian terrorists' snipers along the old route.

A British military spokesman in the Suez area said that "actual compensations have been worked out" for the villagers. He did not say what amounts would be paid. He added that most of the houses were made of mud, but there were 10 solidly-constructed residences of two and three stories.

Lawyers Honor

dest and quiet ascending to the Bench to occupy the chair that you are now sitting in." He remembered sitting near Judge Smoke's father, Franklin Smoke, KC, of Paris, "one of a distinguished family of lawyers." The father said: "My son has good qualities and if the Bar just wait until he develops them the Bar will realize that my son has made good."

Mr. Kerr said: "Today I desire on behalf of the members of the Bar to say that his father's prophecy was well fulfilled." He also expressed the Bar's sympathy to his wife and three children and to his grandchildren. "I would like them to know that they have not only the sympathy of members of the Bar, but verily the sympathy and good-will of the entire community."

Judge Miller

Judge Miller, speaking quietly, said that on behalf of the Bench of the district and the Bench generally, he wish to be associated with the tribute paid by Mr. Kerr. Although he had not known Judge Smoke intimately, he had been articled in the same law office, and appreciated the work and worth of Judge Smoke. "His character was particularly marked by conscientiousness." He believed that Judge Smoke had known the esteem and regard of the Bar, and this must have been "a very great satisfaction to him."

And now the work of the courts must proceed, Judge Miller said, since there was a prisoner in charge of the jury. He said, however, that the court would proceed with no further cases this week, and would be adjourned until January 14.

He then asked all present to rise and observe two minutes' silence. Thus with bowed heads the court and bar of the County of Peterborough paid final tribute to their late judge.

Two minutes' silence in memory of the late Judge S. L. Smoke followed tributes by Magistrate W. R. Philp and V. J. McElderry KC, when police court opened today.

"He served the county faithfully and well during the tenure of his office as county court judge since he was appointed in 1934," said Magistrate Philp.

"At all times, he was most considerate to both the public and counsel and fair and gentlemanly in dealing with all matters that came before him," the magistrate continued.

"He will be sorely missed in the community and it is with great regret that we learned of his sudden passing."

Representing the crown, Mr. McElderry said "The sudden and untimely death of His Honor Judge S. L. Smoke is a great loss to the community and a shock to his many friends."

Mr. McElderry ended his remarks by extending sincere condolences to the family and friends of the late judge.

Extending sympathy to the family and friends on behalf of himself and the police department, Chief John Thompson said: "I always found Judge Smoke to be most conscientious and fair. Whenever anyone had a problem, all they had to do was to take it to Judge Smoke, and he would help in any way he could."

US Strategy With Schroeder Big Surprise

By GAYLE TALBOT.

MELBOURNE, Australia, Dec. 11 (AP).—America's Davis Cup players and the rival Swedes took turns practicing today on Kooyong's centre court in preparation for the inter-zone tennis final, starting Thursday.

Australian critics remained enormously puzzled at the selection of Ted Schroeder and Tony Trabert to play singles against the European zone champions.

Most of them seemed to think captain Frank Shields is indulging in some deep strategy designed to confuse the Australian team in advance of the challenge round at Sydney two weeks hence.

Shields himself obviously was enjoying the situation immensely and offered little help.

For what it's worth, this observer is now inclined to believe the American captain was given instructions to play the veteran Schroeder against the Swedes in both singles and doubles before the US team ever left the States.

Given Test

Ted's ability to lift his game for a single big match and his fighting heart still are respected in official American circles. What they want to find out before the challenge round is whether he is still capable at 30 of reaching his oldtime peak.

There's no question that Shields' verdict came as a distinct shock to Dick Savitt and Vic Seixas. Neither of them knew before hand. Both refrained from comment.

The consensus is that Trabert will do the navy proud in his opening match against Sweden's Sven Davidsson Thursday. Tony is playing fine tennis and is brimming with confidence.

Schroeder's tilt with Lennart Bergelin should be a beauty. The Swedish ace appears to be approaching his top form. Savitt, who lost a straight-set decision to Frank Sedgman in the Victoria finals Monday, had the misfortune of catching the Australian ace at his best.

Thousands Homeless Following Typhoon

MANILA, Dec. 11—(AP)— A typhoon howled out into the China Sea today leaving 23 dead and tens of thousands homeless in the devastated Central Philippines.

The Philippines News Service reported 200 were missing.

The tropical cyclone ripped across Leyte, Cebu, Negros, Panay and neighboring islands Monday. The eruption killed at least 266 people. Another 500 are estimated buried under Lava and ashes.

Youth Admits Hacking Mother

OAKLAND, Calif., Dec. 11 — (AP)—A 16-year-old high school boy told police he hacked his mother to death because "she bawled me out for playing hookey"—then set her corpse afire "so she wouldn't be found."

Police said Samuel Hutchins orally confessed the hatchet slaying and promised to sign a transcript today. The boy was held without charge pending further questioning.

Sammie was arrested at Grass Valley, where his wealthy father has a summer home, four hours after firemen discovered the body yesterday. Mrs. Evelyn S. Hutchins, 51, had been hacked at least 12 times, examiners said.

Police quoted Sammie as saying his mother surprised him in their basement and "bawled me out for playing hookey." He said the boy added:

"I got mad and started swinging a hatchet I was holding. I hit her several times. She had a bundle of papers under her arm and I took them and covered her with them. I poured kerosene over them and set fire to them. I figured that way she wouldn't be found."

Smoke from the burning home led to the discovery.

Chinese Reds Reduce RC Officials

By FRED HAMPSON.

HONG KONG, Dec. 11 — (AP) —Chinese Communist efforts to drive the Roman Catholic church out of China have reduced the number of foreign Roman Catholic missionaries from almost 5,000 to 1,879. Every day more are expelled.

Most protestant missionaries, never as numerous as the Roman Catholics, have left China. The protestants have no central office here which keeps records so the number still in China is not known. But is is small by comparison.

The latest count showed 142 Catholic foreign missionaries in China jails and probably twice that number under house arrest. Additional scores are awaiting "expulsion."

Fight Growing.

The Communist fight against christianity in China has grown in intensity ever since Peiping set up its own church and tried to force foreign missionaries to divert their flocks to it. Catholics flatly refused and the Red wrath has been visited on them ever since.

Today it became known here that Bishop Leon De Smedt, 70, of Saint Nicholas, Belgium, died after three months imprisonment at Sawantze in Charhar (Mongolia). He was arrested for opposing the Peiping church.

An unconfirmed report said Bishop Lawrence Bianchi, Italian, now bishop of the Hong Kong diocese is in a Red jail in Hoifung, Kwantung province. He was in Kwangtung when he became bishop on the death of Henry Valtorta, September 3.

Late reports also said the Rev. Thomas Langley, an American from Framingham, Mass., was jailed Dec. 1 at Hsuchow in Kwansi province; that Archbishop Louis G. Jantzen of France was jailed at Chungking.

Former Coach, Bill Breen Dies

Coach and trainer of the Peterborough Hockey Club when it won two intermediate OHA championships in 1902 and 1906, Bill Breen died in Toronto Sunday and will be buried at St. John's Cemetery Wednesday morning after requiem high mass at Corpus Christi Church at 9 a.m.

Mr. Breen was more than 40 years clocker for the Toronto Telegram at Ontario race tracks. Illness forced him to give up that early morning work about two years ago. He was official timer at some of the provincial tracks, annd also worked in mutual departments of most of them.

Bill Breen was well known to the hockey fans in the days of the great intermediate team of which only Chris G. Graham is now living in Peterborough. Other members were: Ernie Wasson, Rollie Glover, Harold Armstrong, Roy Armstrong, Harry Morgan and Fred Whitcroft; Bill Crowley and Bill Cavanaugh were others of the Peterborough club in those years.

Executive were: Dr. A. W. McPherson, H. R. H. Kenner, Andy Scott, Dr. Bradd, Jim McCabe, Harry Rush. Ed Dillon was also a trainer.

Ted Reeve wrote in the Telegram: "And closing today on a sad note we bow the head for a quiet moment to think of friendly Bill Breen, who passed away yesterday. At hockey, boxing or the morning works at Woodbine, Billy was always the philosophic, cheery, game veteran, the sort who brightened up the place as soon as he walked in. . . . Rest easy, old fellow."

Those final rounds with Galt and Goderich of almost forgotten winters still glow in the memories of the older followers of hockey. It was great, sixty-minute team, and Bill Breen was their mentor and sometimes their minstrel.

Red Patch Club Veterans Hold Annual Reunion Dinner

Local veterans of the Italian campaign who fought with the First Canadian Dvision in the Second World War sat down to a turkey dinner in the Legion Hall with their wives Friday night.

The dinner and dance, sponsored by the Red Patch Club—the shoulder flash of the First Division—was the fifth annual reunion, commemorating the battle of Ortona.

Ortona will always remain in the minds of the veterans of the 'Hasty Pees,' the 48th Highlanders and men of the artillery and army service corps units who fought there, as the symbol of the mud and shellfire they encountered fighting their way up the leg of the Italian boot.

Scars Disappearing

At Monday night's fifth annual get-to-gether, the local veterans of the campaign were shown how much can be done in a few short years of peace and reconstruction to erase the scars of war.

Following the dinner, Major John F. Goforth of Kingston, Area Chaplain "P", of the Eastern Ontario Area, gave an illustrated lecture of a two months' tour of Europe and the continent he and his wife made last summer.

After spending one month in Great Britain, the Goforths spent another month, making an automobile tour of the continent, visiting France, Italy, West Germany, Switzerland and Austria.

Major Goforth took pictures of the points of interest throughout the month-long continental tour and illustrated his description of the various countries with colored slides he took during the trip.

Having served overseas for five years as chaplain with the first division, (the last year and a half as chaplain of the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment) Major Goforth considered his visits to the battlefields of Italy the highlights of his tour.

He said he was most impressed with the reconstruction and new buildings which had been erected in devastated areas, through the assistance of the Marshall Plan.

During their two weeks stay in Italy, the Goforth's visited six of the score or more Commonwealth Cemeteries in the country.

The cemeteries where Canadians are buried he said, "Are beautifully laid out and superbly kept. Every possible care is being taken with them."

Slides were also shown of the Veterans' Convalescent Camp being erected by the Red Patch Club on Eel's Creek, near Haultain.

It is expected the camp will be ready for use next summer. The main lodge which will be used as a dining room and kitchen is almost completed, except for some interior finishing and electrical work.

Arrangements have been completed so that hydro will be available in the spring and the four double and four single cabins will accommodate 30 people at one time.

The slides showed the main lodge, with its screened-in verandah overlooking the creek and small waterfall to the east, and the cabins, being erected on the site which is attractively laid out in scenic surroundings.

Gill Downer, President of the Red Patch Club, was chairman for the evening and introduced Major Goforth.

The head table guests who included: Colonel and Mrs. Max Clarke, the Rev. Walter J. Gilling, Mr. and Mrs. William Ovens; Mr. and Mrs. Mel Morrow, one of the past presidents of the Red Patch Club and Leo Herr, president-elect of the club and Mrs. Herr were introduced by Mike Gahagan.

HONG KONG, Dec. 11—(AP) —The newspaper Wah Kiu Yat Po today reported that Canton Communists sent out the jobless to work 10 hours daily on such heavy tasks as road repairs, cave digging and transporting heavy equipment. The pay is rice. Nobody complains of being unemployed any more.

Here and There In Sport

Because Mrs. Velma Salt thought that boys under 12 would like to play organized hockey as well as their elder brothers, some 80 youngsters now are organized into an Atom Hockey League in West Toronto.

Mrs. Salt persuaded her husband, amateur sports official E. L. (Red) Salt, to talk Kiwanis clubs and the YMCA into promoting the league. Merchants support the four teams, which play an 18-game schedule.

Only complaint the under-12's have is the 80-feet-by-190-feet ice surface. Said one coach: "Once up the ice, once down, and you put on the substitutes."

Welterweight champion Kid Gavilan of Cuba was warned Monday at Washington his title will be forfeited in 10 days if he doesn't sign to meet the European champion, Charlie Humez of France.

The warning came from the National Boxing Association.

It was "get tough" day for the NBA for, along with the warning to Gavilan, went reminders to heavyweight champion Joe Walcott and light heavyweight champion Joex Maxim.

They were told that, within the next three months, they must make some sort of arrangement for the defence of their titles.

At Providence, RI, middleweight Robert Villemain of France snapped the 29-bout winning streak of rugged Jimmy Cerello of Hoboken, NJ, Monday night as he pounded out a unanimous 10-round decision before 2,588 fans. Villemain got a real battle from the up and coming Jersey belter as he notched his 55th victory against five defeats—two to middleweight king Sugar Ray Robinson.

The New York Giants Monday sold shortstop Artie Wilson to Seattle of the Pacific Coast League for an undisclosed sum of cash and an option to buy outfielder Kay Charlton at the end of the 1952 season. Wilson was a big star for Oakland in the PCL until he came up to the Giants last spring. The 29-year-old Negro appeared in only 19 games for the Giants and hit .182 on four hits in 22 tries.

Pay Night Keeps Provosts Busy In Hannover Area

By DOUGLAS HOW

HANNOVER, Germany, Dec. 11 (CP)—It is pay night for the soldiers. They come into town in the hundreds, many of them seeing the big city of Hannover for the first time, many of them not being used to big cities at all.

Canadian and British military police, teaming up in patrols on foot and in jeeps, roam the streets and clubs of this city of roughly half a million people.

It's quite a job to keep an eye on the night life and conduct of the soldiers but the alliance is working out nicely. Every night the British MP's and the provost men of Maj. George Hodgkiss of London,, Ont., are out together roving through the strategic downtown area where the lights are bright and night clubs are numerous.

The orders are that the 27th brigade is going to behave in Germany or else, and the patrols are firm and active, but in no way ruthless or brutal. In the key Canadian patrol jeep travel Sgt.-Maj. Reg. Linton of Toronto and S/Sgt. Victor Casellani of Winnipeg and a reporter.

Intriguing Spot

It's a six-hour job, 8 pm to 2 am, but one of the most intriguing character. The downtown of Hannover is alive with lighted shop windows, with smart cafes, restaurants, hotels, an opera house, with tram-cars and many German people—and with Canadian soldiers. Nearly all the soldiers have to be in by midnight. Many of the civilians are still around at 2 am.

Nightclubs roll on until 5 am with acts ranging from partial strip-tease to cracks about the Communists. The soldiers try them—some are out of bounds, some aren't—but usually find them pretty expensive.

The movies are in German so the soldiers skip them. They drift down the streets to an ornate former yacht club which is their NAAFI recreation centre. They can drink beer there and talk and perhaps dance with the NAAFI girls.

Soldiers roam the streets in twos and threes. They drink German beer which is stronger than the beer at home and some of them get too much and the provost men pick them up. They meet women in the streets and some of them fall in with them and many don't.

Drift Back

By 10:30 they are starting to drift back to the station where there are trucks for camp. The patrols step up their activity. Outside a restaurant, several dozen Germans watch intently as they pick up a soldier with too much to drink. But 95 per cent of the soldiers have no trouble with the provost men this night.

By midnight, most of the men are gone and patrols are looking for the others. The jeep prowls on, circling, stopping, prowling. All through the night it goes at regular intervals down into the Nordmann Strasse, the strange jumble of ruins and one-storey dwellings which is the red light district. The troops are not allowed in the Nordmann Strasse, but some of them stray that way and the provost men kindly ask them to read the out-of-bounds signs. The soldiers say pleasantly that they are merely looking for the way to the station.

BREAK THE LAXATIVE HABIT THIS PROVEN WAY

If you take laxatives regularly, here is how you can stop! This proven plan helps you establish your natural powers of regularity, controlled tests prove.

Stop taking whatever you now take. Instead, every night for one week take two Carter's Little Liver Pills. Second week—one each night. Third week—one every other night. Then nothing! Every day drink eight glasses of water; set a definite time for regularity. This plan was proven in scientifically controlled tests.

How can a laxative break the laxative habit? Because Carter's unblock the lower digestive tract and from then on let it make use of its own natural powers. Further, Carter's contain no habit forming drugs. Break the laxative habit with Carter's . . . be regular naturally.

When worry, overwork, overeating make you irregular temporarily—take Carter's temporarily. Never get the laxative habit.

Get mild, gentle Carter's Little Liver Pills at any drug store. Only 35c. You'll be grateful the rest of your life.

Present Set-up Of Railways Good-Gordon

MONTREAL, Dec. 11 (CP). — Donald Gordon, president of the Canadian National Railways, said Monday night the CNR is required to function within a system of checks and balances, one being the Canadian Pacific, the major privately-owned road.

In an address prepared for delivery to the Canadian Railway Club of Montreal, Mr. Gordon said he believed this system developed a set of stable relationships. Thus the two railways are able to operate side by side, providing service to the Canadian public at one of the lowest rate levels in the world.

Mr. Gordon referred to a statement of the Royal Commission on Transportation, that the two railways "shall have the opportunity to operate side by side in order to provide the requisite services."

Accepted As Fact

"This means to me," he said, "that the continued and separate existence of these two great institutions is accepted as a fact, accepted as a premise on which all other aspects of our relationship must be based. I accept this premise fully and without reservation."

He said he thought there was less talk of amalgamation these days because experience has demonstrated the place and the need for both organizations.

Discussing recapitalization of the CNR, Mr. Gordon said he disagreed emphatically with the view that this threatened the existence of the privately-owned system.

"I disagree because the National's case for recapitalization should be dealt with on its own merits just as the Canadian Pacific's financial position should be considered on its merits. The Canadian National is trying to clean the windows of its financial structure so that the financial results can be seen in a truer light."

550,000 Lithuanians Deported From Homes

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—The Lithuanian Legation here reports that somewhere between 400,000 and 550,000 Lithuanians have been deported from their homeland on orders from Moscow.

It also reports that 50,488 people, conservatively, have been executed by Soviet secret police and the Red army. Further, untold numbers of the deportees have died in slave labor camps in remote regions of the Soviet Union.

Previously The Associated Press reported erroneously that 2,225,-000 Lithuanians had been deported.

Leading Lithuanian exiles have arrived at these figures through reports from escapees, through letters from slave camps, and through reports made by eyewitnesses to the deportations.

The reports, together with copies of a file of Soviet police orders governing the deportations and executions, have been presented to the member states of the United Nations along with similar reports from seven other nations of Central Europe.

ESKIMO RECRUITS—Ralph Sakvayosk, 28, and Tony Dillon, 19, Eskimo youths from Tuktoyaktuk, near the Arctic shore of the Northwest Territories, are shown arriving in Edmonton to join the Canadian army. They were made interested in a military career by Canon Colin Montgomery, brother of Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery. Canon Montgomery directs the Anglican mission at Aklavik and acts as unofficial recruiting officer. Several months ago he sent down two Indian recruits. With the two Eskimos is Capt. Roy Jardine, Western Command recruiting officer.)—(CP from National Defence).

Iron Curtain Pierced Daily In Busy Berlin

By DOUGLAS HOW

BERLIN, Dec. 11 (CP)—Bargain-hunting housewives don't let a little thing like the Iron Curtain bother them in this divided city, where some people say West Berlin is "day" and East Berlin is "night."

Because differing currency values make bread, thread and certain other essentials cheaper in the Russian sector, West Berlin housewives defy the curtain to shop for them. Because West Berlin has a lot more of most goods, women slip out of the Communist sector to buy them and take them home.

Some of them get stopped but a lot more don't, for even the Communists can't stop everything in a city where the Iron Curtain is no physical barrier but a meeting of streets and debris—and differing values in more than currency.

Marked Contrasts

Human needs and conduct flow back and forth between these two sectors which may not be as different as day and night but which certainly have marked contrasts.

In the west sector, ruled by the Americans, British and French, there are thousands of shops and stores filled with things to buy, things which in many cases have to be brought in from West Germany, more than 100 miles away. The people say what they want, the rebuilding is steady and over six years has been tremendous. Night life is varied and vibrant.

Notable Differences

In the east sector, ruled by the Communists, the secret police function, people say what the Communists like, dress worse, have less to buy, far fewer night-clubs, far fewer shops and cars.

Outward differences are apparent to anyone who drives through the two as we did. The Russian sector is thick with Russian propaganda, with pictures of Stalin. The Western sector has far more subtle and effective propaganda—more rebuilding, a lot more stores bright with a lot more good, less shabby, less dour people.

Objective people who have driven through the two sectors at night say the differences then hit you far more strongly because darkness makes it simply a difference in lights ablaze, in cars and neon signs and people in the streets.

The main artery linking them is the Unter Den Linden, the once magnificent driveway which was the show-street of Berlin. Once you pass under the arches of the great Brandenburg gate, you are in the Soviet sector. It is doubtful that any westerner passes that gate without some feeling of uneasiness. Western troops don't go through it generally even though they have a legal right to do so.

Ruins of War

On both sides of the gate, the ruins are appalling. The Reichstag, Hitler's chancellery and bunker, the old defence headquarters, are only a few among the many ruins.

In the East Berlin sector our car passed a housewife hurrying home with evergreen sprigs, an ostentatious new Ressian Embassy a marching band of Red youths whose appearance could only be described as pathetic; many, many signs bespeaking the greatness and benevolence of Stalin; Russian and German flags, German Communist police without firearms—the Russians don't arm them—in blue uniforms.

The Germans on both sides are people of great energies. There is a saying among Allied people that when it rains in Berlin it isn't rain in East Berlin, it's sweat.

On both sides, the Germans are working with vast vigor rebuilding. But they aren't doing it for either the west or east. They're doing it for Germany, for a new, mighty and united Germany which they fully intend to achieve. You leave Berlin with a feeling that this achievement is an inexorable process that no nation or group of nations can postpone indefinitely.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11—(AP)—To make United States soldiers cost-conscious, the army is putting price tags on its equipment. The tags, Army Secretary Frank Pace said Sunday night, are a "dramatic way of getting across to the soldier not only how important his job is, but how important it is that he use his equipment wisely and well."

Immigrant Total 150,000 In Current Year

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

OTTAWA, Dec. 11 — (CP) — A near-record number of immigrants reached Canada during 1951.

Records dating back to the prosperous 1920s were toppled as immigrants from all parts of the world, including former enemy countries, were admitted to Canada.

The increase in new citizens was partly due to an increase in the number of ships calling at Canadian ports and partly to federal government programs under which immigrants were given financial assistance to come to this country.

A year ago, Immigration Minister Harris estimated that Canada would obtain 15,000 new citizens in 1951. Final figures for the year were expected to show that his estimate was not far off the mark.

Number Doubled

In the first nine months of the year, 129,885 immigrants were admitted compared with 54,250 in the corresponding period of 1950. The last time the immigration total passed the 150,000 mark was in 1929 when about 165,000 immigrants came to this country.

Immigrants from the United Kingdom in the first nine months of 1951 totalled 21,395 compared with 9,804 in the corresponding period of 1950, an increase of 124 per cent. The number from Northern European countries—45,834 compared with 13,034—was up 252 per cent. From the United States there were 6,015 compared with 5,884, an increase of two per cent.

Other countries sent 56,101 compared with 25528, an increase of 120 per cent.

Biggest Representation

All northern European countries, but notably Holland and Germany contributed to the large increase in immigration from the continent. Germany—the ban on the entry of German nationals was lifted in 1950—sent 16,427 compared with 3,920 in the first nine months of last year. Holland sent 15,880 compared with 6,348, and France 3,833 compared with 775.

The shortage of skilled workers in many industries led some companies to sponsor the group movement of immigrants, capable of fulfilling their requirements.

But the bulk of the newcomers came on their own or with the assistance of the government.

Assistance Program

In February, the Canadian government launched a program to assist immigrants with the payment of transportation. If an immigrant could put up $30 in the currency of his own country, the Canadian government would lend him the remainder needed to reach his destination in Canada. The loan could be repaid in two years.

Through a special arrangement with the publicly-owned Trans-Canada Air Lines, immigrants can travel almost as cheaply by air as by ship.

Since 1946—the first year following the end of the Second World War—more than 500,000 immigrants have reached Canada and have helped to swell the country's population to approximately 14,000,000. The best of the immediate post-war years was 1948 when arrivals totalled 125,-414, a small number when compared with some of the years prior to the First World War. In 1913 alone, the number of immigrants totalled almost 500,000.

This is the record of immigration to Canada from Jan. 1, 1946 to Oct. 1, 1951:

Year	U.K.	U.K.	North Europe	Others
1946	51,408	11,469	5,633	3,209
1947	38,747	9,440	5,482	10,458
1948	46,057	7,381	16,957	55,019
1949	22,201	7,744	17,349	47,833
1950	13,427	7,799	17,060	35,626
x-1951	21,935	6,015	45,834	56,101
TOTAL	193,775	49,848	108,405	208,246

x—Nine month period.

In the department's list of other countries are such places as Albania, Arabia, China, Greece, Italy, Japan, Mexico, Poland, Estonia, Russia, Spain, Turkey, and several Asian countries.

During the year, agreements were signed to permit the entry of a small number of immigrants from India and Pakistan. The agreements stipulated that in each 12-month period, 100 citizens from Pakistan and 100 from India will be admitted for permanent residence in Canada.

Britain Decides To Make Big Payments On Loans

TWO BRITISH SOLDIERS posted on a rooftop in the City of Suez man their machine gun at the alert as new developments in the Canal Zone threaten to bring the Middle East trouble pot to a fresh and dangerous boil. The Egyptian Cabinet met Tuesday and decided to withdraw the Egyptian Ambassador from London and allow free arming of the population.

Egypt Recalls Ambassador

CAIRO, Egypt, Dec. 12. (Reuters)—Egypt today struck three blows in the battle with Britain for control of the Suez Canal zone. An emergency meeting of the Cabinet decided on these moves, a government spokesman said: 1. The Egyptian ambassador will be withdrawn from London. 2. Egyptians who co-operate with British troops in the canal zone will be punished. 3. The government will "allow the free arming of the population" against Britain. The withdrawal of Ambassador Abdel Fattah Amr Pasha does not mean a complete rupture in diplomatic relations between the two countries. But a full statement on the overnight Cabinet meeting is expected later today.

The spokesman did not specify what punishments would be levelled against citizenry who collaborate with the British. Newspapers have been demanding "death to the traitors."

The spokesman refused details on the move to arm the population. There has been widespread agitation among extremist groups here for the governmen to hand out guns to the people to enable them to oust British troops by force. Present laws require that citizens must get special permission to carry arms.

No Permits

The semi-official newspaper Al Nisri, said the new law would allow citizens to carry arms without these permits. But the government would still have to be informed.

The British Embassy here refused to comment on the crisis today. A spokesman said official notification had not yet been received from the Egyptians.

If the recall of the ambassador grows into a full diplomatic break with Britain, then Britain will be compelled to recall her ambassador here, Sir Ralph Stevenson.

The Egyptian cabinet met for 2½ hours to plan action in retaliation for the demolition of 50 Egyptian houses in a village near the city of Suez last Saturday. British troops bulldozed the settlement to make a safe road through to a water purification plant.

Iran Gives Ultimatum To West On Oil Buying

TEHRAN, Dec. 12. (AP)—About 5,000 organized followers of Nationalist Premier Mohammed Mossadegh converged tonight on Parliament Square, screaming for "death to the enemies of Mossadegh." They came on bicycles and motorcycles, in cars bearing huge banners, and on foot.

Police made no effort to halt the crowd as it moved on the Majlis (parliament) building.

The crowd was much larger than the one Tuesday which tried to storm the parliament building. Troops stopped Tuesday's crowd at bayonet point.

Iran, wrestling with growing economic woes, today handed the west an ultimatum to buy Iranian oil or see it sold to any would-be buyer. Evidently the government meant it would sell to Soviet-bloc countries.

The ultimatum, giving the west until Dec. 22 to agree, was delivered in the form of letters to 12 embassies and 24 legations in Tehran. Observers said the ultimatum was evidence of the deepening financial crisis caused by the loss of revenues from oil after nationalization of British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Company properties.

Seek Safety

While the government of Mohammed Mossadegh was delivering the threat, 15 opposition deputies and 15 opposition newspaper editors remained holed up in the Majlis (parliament) building. A spokesman accused Mossadegh's followers of "trying to smoke us into the open, where we could be killed by government gangsters."

More than 30 Moslem mullahs (priests) pitched camp inside a nearby mosque, announcing that they, too, were refugees from "Mossadegh terrorists."

The opposition deputies announced they will stay in the Majlis building — traditional refugee place in Iran—until their personal safety is guaranteed or the Mossadegh government falls. The editors are sitting in as a protest against destruction of nine newspaper offices and plants in rioting last Thursday.

About 1,000 frenzied Nationalists, yelling for the blood of Mossadegh's political opponents, Tuesday were kept from storming into the Majlis only by the bayonets of Iranian troops.

Strikers Try To Halt Sheriff

WINDSOR, Dec. 12 — (CP) — Striking members of the United Automobile Workers (CIO) Tuesday night tried to prevent Sheriff B. A. E. Close from leaving the Ford Motor Company of Canada plant with tractor moulds required by the parent United States Ford firm.

Two hundred pickets, led by a yelling group of less than a dozen men, surged around the Essex County sheriff as he moved out of the plant property. With him were several union and company officials who had gone to supervise removal of the moulds, as ordered by the Ontario Supreme Court on application of the US company.

Jack Taylor, president of the UAW's Local 200, and other union officials persuaded the pickets to disperse.

One of the Windsor Daily Star reporters, who had gone to cover the first crossing of a picket line since the strike over contract demands started Dec. 3, was manhandled by the picketing automotive workers. As one worker grasped him by the arms, another shouted:

"Like me knock his glasses off."

The newspapermen said the jostling was done by a small group of men who egged on the pickets.

The Weaker Sex?

AURORA, Dec. 12 (CP)—Feuds and rough play in men's professional and amateur hockey leagues are "just sissy stuff" compared to a game played here on Tuesday night—by women.

Referee Al Doolittle claims a fight between male puckchasers is nothing compared to their feminine counterparts. Said he today:

"They pull hair, scratch and kick. And when you try to separate them, they give you the same treatment."

Doolittle has a bruised shin, where one of the gals kicked him, to back up his statements.

Small Gadget Stops Explosion

LONDON, Dec. 12 (Reuters)—British Air Force experts today took the wraps off a gadget about one-half the size of a grapefruit which prevents airplane gas tanks from exploding even under direct hits by tracer bullets. Called a suppressor gas bomb, it is fitted inside the tanks.

The principle is the same as in old-fashioned hand-pump fire extinguishers. The bomb contains the same chemical—carbon tetrachloride. But it is rigged to spray the chemical in a mist inside the tank within a one-thousandth of a second after a hit.

The effect is to smother the flash before it can touch off an explosion.

The British Society of Aircraft Constructors, an association of big British manufacturers, said the bomb provides a cheap, efficient substitute for a heavy, costly method developed during the Second World War. Under the old system inert nitrogen gas was pumped into the tank to fill the air space above the gasoline, thus preventing the gas vapor which causes explosions.

Decide High Commissioner To Control Defence Force

STRASBOURG, France, Dec. 12 (AP)—Foreign ministers of the six European army countries agreed today on how the proposed unified defence force will be controlled—by a high commissioner, the six foreign ministers and an international parliament.

The six home governments—of France, West Germany, Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg and Italy—still must ratify the ministers' decisions.

The foreign and finance ministers of the six powers will meet in Paris Dec. 27 to draw up a common budget to finance the army. They hope to have all their plans ready for submission to the North Atlantic Council meeting in Lisbon Feb. 2.

The ministers hope their latest plan for ultimate control of the army by foreign ministers and parliamentary representatives of the countries involved will receive British support. Britain refused previous plans which called for delegation of sovereignty to an international body.

The new plan for army control closely paralleled a raesolution adopted earlier Tuesday by the council of Europe's Consultative Assembly. It called for such joint agencies as the projected army and the Schuman coal-steel pool to be directed by high commissioners appointed by the council's upper house, the 15-member committee ministers.

Foreign Minister Robert Schuman of France said the foreign ministers of the six countries would name a high commissioner to the present European Assembly here and with a membership drawn from the individual parliaments. The foreign ministers would remain responsible to their legislative bodies at home.

Other details of the plan's operation will not be published until the six governments approved it, a communique said.

Condition No Different Of 3 Hurt In Blast

SARNIA, Dec. 12 (CP)—Hospital attendants said today the condition of the three men severely injured Monday in an explosion aboard the Imperial Leduc was "much the same."

Michael Harris, 30-year-old laboratory technician who was conducting vapor tests on the vessel at the time of the blast, suffered critical burns to the face, hands and chest, and severe shock.

Capt. F. C. Smith, Imperial Oil marine superintendent here, spent a "quite restless" night. Capt. Smith suffered severe burns to his hands and face.

Stanley Pleasance, 51, of Collingwood, Leduc crew member, was "fairly comfortable," hospital authorities reported. Pleasance was also burned about the hands and face.

Liberal MP's Confused Over Motion

Vote Wrong Way On Amendment From Week Ago

OTTAWA, Dec. 12. (CP) — The Commons, after voting 134 to 45 for a Liberal member's amendment to the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne, was told today that it had actually voted nonconfidence in the government.

"I presume the government has no alternative but to resign," said Donald Fleming (PC-Toronto Eglinton). His statement brought laughter from Liberal members.

Mr. Fleming said that during the throne-speech debate Prime Minister St. Laurent had said that if a motion moved during the debate did not call for a vote of non-confidence in the government then it probably was not in order.

Despite that statement, said Mr. Fleming, the government had joined other Liberal members in supporting a motion sponsored by A. J. Bater (L-The Battlefords.)

Before dividing on Mr. Bater's motion, the Commons voted 128 to 45 against a Progressive Conservative motion criticizing the government's taxation policies.

Dates Back

The confusion over the effect of Mr. Bater's motion dated back to last week. At that time, Hazen Argue (CCF-Assiniboia) moved that the House express regret that the government had "failed to make provision for the immediate payment to producers of 75 per cent of the initial price of farm-stored grain."

Mr. Bater then moved an amendment which read:

"This House regrets the serious difficulties encountered by the western farmers in harvesting their crops, and commends your Excellency's advisers for the continuing attention they have given to the problems caused thereby, and is confident that effective measures will continue to be taken to help the farmers in meeting these problems."

The amendment carried by a vote of 148 to 41. The vote today was on Mr. Argue's motion as amended—actually another vote on Mr. Bater's motion.

Mr. Fleming said that not since 1893 has a government sponsored an amendment to the address in reply to the speech from the throne. Usually the address is carried without amendment.

Have Prettiest Girls Proud Glasgow Boast

GLASGOW, Ky, Dec. 12 (AP)—Mayor Leslie Moran says he's going to tell the Royal Navy—at least part of it—that Glasgow has "the prettiest girls in the world."

He received a letter a few days ago from a group of British lads on the HMS Glasgow who wanted to correspond with some of "your fairer sex." The letter, signed by John L. Perkins, said they picked out Glasgow, Ky, from all the other cities by that name. (There are six others in the United States.)

"I'm going to write the boys," Moran said yesterday, "and tell them they picked the right one, all right.

"This is the best Glasgow in the world and we have the prettiest girls in the world—the cream of the crop."

He's taking applications now from Glasgow's girls.

Two Typhoons Headed For Philippines Again

MANILA, Dec. 12—(AP)—Two typhoons closed in on the Philippines today as the death toll from Monday's storm sky-rocketed to 209.

The Red Cross reported 139 dead on Leyte Island alone.

The weather bureau said Monday's storm, which blew across the islands from the east, turned on itself in the China Sea today and headed back toward the islands. It was reported 230 miles southwest of Manila and whirling toward the city.

A second storm was reported less than 450 miles east and headed toward the central Philippines.

Monday's typhoon left 50,000 homeless and caused damage unofficially estimated at $30,000,000.

Reds Offer Plan On POW Exchange

MUNSAN, Korea, Dec. 12 (AP) — Truce negotiators advanced complete new plans today for exchanging prisoners-of-war and supervising a Korean truce. But both proposals appeared headed for rejection.

The allies offered a "take it or leave it" compromise for truce supervision. The Reds came up with a five-point plan on prisoner exchange.

The United Nations' command expressed fears publicly for the first time that the Communists might not give up all the prisoners they hold.

"The UN command is concerned," an official communique said, "that premature agreement on bulk exchange of prisoners before adequate data is available could result in sizeable numbers not being recovered."

Allied negotiators, the communique added, "excoriated the Communists" for not letting the Red Cross see how prisoners are being treated and for refusing to say how many prisoners they hold and where.

The number of allied troops in Red hands has been estimated at from 98,000 to 139,000. The UN says it holds between 120,000 and 135,000 Chinese and North Korean Reds.

Red Proposals

Brig.-Gen. William P. Nuckols, spokesman for the UN command, said the Communists proposed:

1. All prisoners of war be released by both sides.

2. Prisoners be released in groups as quickly as possible after the armistice, the sick and wounded first.

3. The exchange to be made at Panmunjom, site of current truce talks.

4. A joint Allied-Red team handle the exchange under the military armistice commission.

5. The Reds would release prisoner-of-war information when the preceding four points were accepted.

Strong Statement

A press dispatch from Panmunjom said the Reds submitted their offer after a strong statement from Rear-Admiral R. E. Libby, who has been demanding immediate information from the Reds on the number of prisoners they hold, and where.

Libby said the Communists again refused these requests. They also refused to invite the Internatinoal Red Cross to visit their camps.

"They wanted us to make a blanket agreement first to release all prisoners," Libby said.

The United Nations command wants to exchange prisoners on a man-for-man basis.

The Reds submitted their plan Wednesday afternoon before negotiators adjourned until 11 am Thursday (9 pm Wednesday EST).

Earlier, in another sub-committee meeting the UN offered its

School Board Resigns 14 Hours After Election

NORTH BAY, Dec. 12. (CP)—William Gedden, West Ferris township clerk-treasurer, announced today an election will be held to replace the township school board. The entire 1951 board resigned on Tuesday less than 14 hours after the municipal elections.

In a statement, the board said it had resigned because it considered the defeat of chairman William G. Vanmeer in the elections a vote of non-confidence. He had been a member for 12 years.

Mr. Vanmeer, running for re-election on a platform of a $156,000 addition to the Tweedsmuir School, was badly defeated by Mrs. Myrtle McEwen. She campaigned for a much less elaborate structure, or a new school at or near Sunset Park.

Resignation of a school board immediaetly after election is believed to have created a precedent in Ontario.

Plan Rejected

Board secretary George Coombes said 1951 members interpreted the defeat of Mr. Vanmeer as a repudiation of its plan to make the $156,000 addition to the school.

Members who resigned were Mr. Coombes, Mrs. R. Kennedy and A. C. Elmitt. Mrs. Kennedy and Mr. Elmitt had a year to serve on their two-year terms of office.

Mr. Gedden said Mr. Coombes cannot resign until after Jan. 1 when the newly-elected members —Mrs. McEwen and Harold Pellow—hold a formal meeting.

But there is a possibility that the board then will be only Mrs. McEwen. Mr. Pellow, out of town for a week, ran on a platform supporting the proposed $156,000 addition.

Observers expect he will resign in sympathy.

Mrs. McEwen, 30-year-old wife of a machinist foreman and mother of a 13-year-old daughter, said:

"They were trying to hand us a limousine when what we needed was a bicycle."

The board had planned the addition to contain four classrooms, an auditorium, showers and washrooms, a new principal's office, a nurse's room and a small kitchen.

3 Snowstorms Sweep Sections Of Ontario

By The Canadian Press

Snowstorms swept three widely-separated sections of Ontario Tuesday night and, in each case, they were attributed to a flow of cold air over the warmer water of a lake.

One storm struck Sault Ste. Marie, where northwest winds behind a cold front moved across Lake Superior.

Another, that crossed Lake Erie, blanketed a section of Ontario adjacent to Buffalo, NY.

A third storm, blowing northward off Lake Ontario, swirled through the Napanee district and was reported to be a factor in a fatal automobile accident.

MP Fined $100

SAULT STE MARIE, Mich. Dec. 12 — (CP) — Harry Lyons, Progressive Conservative member-elect of the Ontario Legislature for Sault Ste. Marie, today was fined $100 and costs and his driving privileges in Michigan were forfeited for three months. Through counsel, Lyons in municipal court here Tuesday pleaded guilty to a charge of drunk driving. He was arrested Monday by police officers trailing a car which forced a United States Army jeep off the road. Lyon's sentence was Michigan's maximum penalty for the offence.

Believes Talks Make Progress

PARIS, Dec. 12 (AP)—Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky said today that agreements reached during secret big four arms talks held out hopes of still further agreement between east and west. But the western powers, in a joint statement said they were "rather disappointed" in the tone of his speech.

Vishinsky told the United Nations political committee that since the big four had agreed to set up a new disarmament commission "it enhances our hopes" that the rival camps could agree on other issues also.

This was generally interpreted to mean that Russia would take part in the commission's work even if it is set up under the western-sponsored directives which the Soviet Union opposes.

French delegate Jules Moch said however, that Vishinsky showed no tendency to budge from positions which the west has declared make impossible agreement on atomic control and disarmament.

These positions, as restated by Vishinsky again today, call for an immediate and unconditional prohibition of atomic weapons and the reduction of armed forces by one-third during one year.

Gulf Coast All Worked Up Over Whooping Lovebirds

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex., Dec. 12 (CP)—The Gulf Coast is all worked up about birds. Texas is defying Louisiana to sparate those whooping lovebirds, Jo and Crip.

Louisiana wants back a whooping crane it loaned Texas.

Texas says Louisiana can't have her—or him. The states can't even agree on the sex.

Besides, point out Texas fowl fanciers, the Louisiana whooping crane is a mate of the Texas bird and it would be breaking up a family to separate them.

Also, Joe and Crip might produce a baby whooper. That would bring joy to naturalists. For there are only 28 whooping cranes known to exist and naturalists fear the birds will become extinct unless some little whoopers come along.

Jo, the female crane, or Crip, the male, was borrowed from New Orleans' Audubon Park Zoo as a mate for the bird at the United States Wildlife Refuge in Austwel, Tex. They've been mates five years and produced one offspring. The young crane was lost, probably to a predatory animal.

The Audubon's zoo superintendent, George Douglass, said Tuesday he planned to come to Texas, claim his bird—he says it's Crip the male—and return with it to Louisiana Saturday.

Immediately, naturalist Julian Howard, Austwell refuge manager, said Douglass couldn't get Jo or Crin without a fight.

He said he would ask his bosses in the US Wildlife Service in Washington "what the score is."

Howard says the New Orleans zoo's bird is Jo, the female.

And, he says, he has no idea of giving up Crip, even if Douglass should get Jo. This statement was brought forth by a remark of Douglass that he could breed whoopers in captivity.

As far as he knows, Howard said, the zoo has no male of its own. It would have to take a male, probably Crip, from the refuge to carry out the captivity breeding plan.

Hint Truman Planning Drastic Moves

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (AP) —A White House official indicated today that President Truman will soon make a drastic move in the corruption - in - government picture.

Asked by reporters if "any drastic action" was coming from the President today in connection with the internal revenue and justice department tax disclosures Joseph Short, the President's press secretary, replied:

"I just wouldn't want to make a prediction of when it will be—today, tomorrow or the next day."

Frank E. McKinney, Democratic national chairman, said after a conference with Truman yesterday that the executive was "angry at being sold down the river by some disloyal employees" and was about to take "drastic action."

Asks To Be Excused

Bert K. Naster, accused of a part in an alleged attempted $500,000 "tax-fix" shakedown today asked to be excused from testifying publicly on tax scandals at hearings before a House of Representatives committee.

Jules Yablock, lawyer for Naster, told the House Ways and Means sub-committee it would be "unfair" to require public testimony since a federal grand jury is investigating the "shake-down" story told by Abraham Teitelbaum, Chicago lawyer.

Yablock said Naster is willing to answer questions before the grand jury.

Chairman Cecil L. King (Dem. Calif.) ruled that any testimony from Naster to the committee should be in public.

Shortly afterwards, the hearing was recessed for a short period when Yablock said Naster "is so upset he cannot answer intelligently and asked a few minutes recess to compose himself."

Need More Wheat

WELLINGTON, NZ, Dec. 12 (Reuters)—Prime Minister Sidney Holland today broadcast an appeal to farmers to produce more wheat to avert possibility of bread rationing. New Zealand, he said, is capable of producing all the wheat the country needed—about 12,000,000 bushels a year—but grows only 5,500,000 bushels.

Canada, US To Receive Large Sums

Say Political Factors Influence Decision Not To Let It Lapse

LONDON, Dec. 12. (AP) — Britain has decided to pay in full instalments of capital and interest due on the Canadian and United States loans at the end of the year, an informed source reported today.

Britain is due to pay Canada $14,000,000 in Canadian money in capital and $23,700,000 in interest on Dec. 31.

The payment due the US is $51,500,000 in capital and $87,000,000 in interest.

Britain could have voided paying the interest on both loans by invoking waiver clauses which were written into the 1946 agreements. In view of its economic plight, there had been speculation that it would do so.

Britain owes the United States a total of $4,350,000,000—$3,750,000,000 in new money made available under the September 1946 loan pact and $600,000,000 in lend-lease pipeline aid.

Her debt to Canada totals $1,185,000,000.

Political factors clearly influenced Prime Minister Churchill's newly-elected Conservative government in reaching the decision to pay the whole amount due.

Churchill and his colleagues felt a decision to waive the interest payment would damage the country's prestige in the US and would weaken their bargaining power when they meet president Truman in Washington next month for a review of Anglo-American relations.

Against that, British leaders had to weigh the wobbly state of the country's finances—especially its dwindling gold-dollars holdings, now well under $3,000,000,000 for the whole sterling area.

The decision came after Churchill and his Chancellor of the Exchequer, R. A. Butler, had conferences with W. Averell Harriman, chief of the Mutual Security Agency, the US Secretary of the Treasury, John Snyder, and William Batt, head of the European co-operation administration mission to Britain.

Fog Tangles UK Air Traffic

LONDON, Dec. 12 (Reuters) — Fog over London airport Tuesday night put air traffic into the worst confusion for months and caused hundreds of air passengers to be diverted to airfields elsewhere in Southern England.

Visibility on the runways was 60 yards at Northolt and between 350 and 700 yards at London airport.

The one passenger waiting room at Blackbushe, one of London's main diversion airfields, was at one time crowded with more than 200 persons—it has accommodation for 40.

Some fog was reported particularly in the east and southeast this morning but British Overseas Airways planes were operating normally at London airport.

Meanwhile frozen snow continued to block roads in Northern England and Scotland as Britain's first cold spell of the winter continued.

Made False Assay Manager Goes To Jail

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, Dec. 12 (Reuters). — The manager of a gold assay laboratory today was sentenced to three years at hard labor for a fake assay which caused a buying flutter on Wall Street.

Robert Campbell Stevenson, 47, was convicted on two counts of "salting" a sample. He was also fined $8,400 or two more years in jail and freed on $14,000 bail pending an appeal.

His report on the gold content of samples from drillings at Erfdeel, Orange Free State, brought a wild buying race on the world's stock exchanges in 1949. It was hailed as the first strike in a great new gold field.

The government of South Africa halted the spree by announcing there were strong suspicions the assay was false.

West Refuses Give Up Atom Bomb

Moscow Must Cut Conventional Arms As Well—Decision

PARIS, Dec. 12. (CP)—Britain told the UN Tuesday that the West will never give up the atomic bomb until Moscow simultaneously reduces conventional arms as well.

Selwyn Lloyd, British delegate, told the political committee that Russia wants to separate the ban on atomic weapons from a general reduction of armament.

This, he said, amounts to a demand that the west surrender its chief weapons of defence, leaving the Soviet Union in unrestricted possession of those instruments of possible aggression against the use of which that weapon now serves as a deterrent.

"We say frankly we do not propose to cast aside so important an instrument for preserving peace unless the Soviet Union simulaneously reduces under international regulations the weapons and forces which, in our belief, at present, threaten peace," he declared.

Difference Too Great

Lloyd said the West rejected Russia's demand for a one-third cut in arms because it would allow Russia to maintain "its existing preponderance in the field of conventional armaments and armed forces."

He repeated the West's assertion that an immediate ban on atomic weapons—as demanded by Russia—would be useless without prior agreement on a system of inspection—which Russia opposes.

"Conventional armament may be very terrible," Lloyd said. "Think of a great city under concentrated and continuous attack by, for example, V-1's, that is to say flying bombs," or by guided missiles or other so-called conventional armaments.

"Are not the consequences of such devastation something we wish to avoid just as much as devastation caused by atomic attack? It is impossible to separate the two problems and we wish to say that concurrently with our attempt to deal with the atom bomb, so we must try to deal with these other weapons."

Lloyd presented the western position following conclusion of the week-long four-power conference on disarmament at which it was emphasized that the Soviet bloc and Western powers are as far apart as ever on the question.

The only major point of agreement was on establishment of a 12-nation disarmament commission—comprising that 11 Security Council members and Canada.

Market Assured For 50 PC Of Ore

OTTAWA, Dec. 12 (CP) — A firm market for at least 50 per cent of the annual production of iron-ore mines in Quebec-Labrador now is assured, Production Minister Howe said Tuesday night in the Commons.

Six steel companies in the United States have contracted to take approximately 50 per cent of the estimated annual production 20,000,000 tons of iron ore. The remaining 50 per cent will be available for sale on markets of the world and Canadian mills will probably use a goo part of it.

Mr. Howe spoke during clause-by-clause study of legislation to establish a crown company to construct the St. Lawrence seaway with or without United States co-operation.

Howard Green (PC-Vancouver-Quadra) had asked what percentage of the iron ore would go to the United States.

Mr. Howe said it was difficult to answer because different types of steel required different types of ore. At present, ore mined in the Great Lakes area was put into a pool from which companies in Canada and the United States withdrew their needs.

Truman Prepares For Conference

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12—(AP)—President Truman has ordered detailed preparations made for his talks with Prime Minister Churchill here next month despite Churchill's reluctance to propose a list of problems for discussion.

American officials said today the United States side of the two-power meeting is being worked up on the assumption that Churchill will want to go into the whole range of policies governing relations between the two big western powers and Russia as well as specific Anglo-American issues.

Churchill sent word about two weeks ago that he did not plan to draw up an agenda for his series of meetings with the President begining Jan. 3. The American embassy in London has been directed nevertheless to seek the fullest possible information on what the prime minister has in mind in coming here.

Washington authorities believe that unless some specific information about Churchill's concept of the talks is forthcoming in advance, the results may not be as profitable as they could be. Even at best, it is expected that several disagreements will develop over such issues as the Churchill proposal for a meeting with Generalissimo Stalin of Russia, the organization of Western European defence and Anglo-American difference of policy in the Far East.

Present indications are that Truman will bear down heavily on all three of these questions.

The President said repeatedly that he does not look forward to a meeting with Stalin unless the Soviet premier comes to Washington—something everyone here considers a practical impossibility.

Oil Tank Filler Pipes Go Below Sidewalk

Fuel oil filler pipes in the business area of the city must be placed beneath the level of the sidewalk, if there is no rear lane or side entrance.

This recommendation of the fire, water and light committee by Ald. A. B. Burrows, chairman, Monday, was approved by the council.

"This work is to be done by city workmen, and charges for the work are to be paid to the city by the oil unit dealer responsible for the installation of the oil burning unit."

It is also required that "by Sept. 1, 1952, all fuel oil filler pipes in the business area must comply" with these regulations.

Seaway Plans Move Slowly Through House

OTTAWA, Dec. 12 (CP).—The government's plan for the building of the St. Lawrence seaway is making slow but steady progress through a cautious House of Commons.

With Liberal and opposition members urging the government also to consider development of natural resources elsewhere in the country, the chamber endorsed the principle of the legislation Tuesday and then embarked on detailed clause-by-clause study.

As the debate proceeded, Transport Minister Chevrier and Trade Minister Howe gave the House fresh details on the government's plan for the building of the deep waterway and on prospects for the closely-allied development of rich iron-ore deposits in the Quebec-Labrador region.

Paid For In 50 Years

These ministerial statements emerged:

1. Mr. Chevrier said the seaway will cost $246,000,000 and will pay for itself in 50 years through the imposition of tolls on ships making use of its system of canals.

2. No deadline has been set for the United States to join Canada in the seaway construction though there naturally will be a point at which it no longer will be possible for the US to participate.

3. Mr. Howe said a firm market is assured for at least 50 per cent of the annual production of 20,000,000 tons from the Quebec-Labrador iron-ore deposits.

On the question of a deadline for US participation, Mr. Chevrier said he could only point to a statement by President Truman that if the US Congress does not act at an early date he will support the all-Canadian seaway as the next best thing.

Cost Breakdown

Mr. Chevrier gave this breakdown of the cost of works necessary to complete the seaway:

In the Lachine Canal, $98,229,000; Soulanges Canal, $37,216,000; Lake St. Francis, $2,513,000; international section of the St. Lawrence, $106,833,000; Welland ship canal, $1,302,000.

Mr. Chevrier turned down requests that the scope of the new seaway agency be enlarged to enable it to develop projects in other parts of Canada. It was being set up to handle a "specific project."

He said fears that the seaway will harm the Manitoba port of Churchill are groundless, and scoffed at opposition suggestions that valuable iron-ore deposits would be shipped to American steel mills.

The government was as conserned as anyone about the development of natural resources and would bend "every effort" to get the maximum advantage for Canada out of the deposits.

Get Contracts

Mr. Howe said six American steel companies have contracted to take approximately 50 per cent of the estimated annual production, with the remaining 50 per cent being available for Canadian consumption and export.

He reiterated that Canadian steel mills now have under way a program for a 33⅓ per cent increase in productive capacity, and Mr. Chevrier added that this program totals $122,000,000 of which it is hoped $68,000,000 will be spent this year.

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, wanted assurance that the maximum possible use of iron ore would be made in this country. The government should encourage the construction of additional mills to use the ore when it became available.

He said also that the Maritimes wanted assurance that the government would encourage industrialization of those provices and see that the ore reached Maritime smelting plants.

250 See Film On Mental Health

Approximately 250 crowded into the Public Library Tuesday night to see the film, "Breakdown," a special feature of the regular Peterborough Film Council meeting.

The film depicted a girl suffering from schizophrenia — the gradual disintegration of her personality and subsequent treatment in a mental institution.

Following the film showing Dr. T. E. Currier, Peterborough psychiatrist, led a discussion and answered quqestions arising from the film.

Librarian William Graff explained that the film had been brought to Peterborough to try to educate the public to the modern scientific and psychiatric treatment of the mentally ill and also to remove the stigma of ideas associated with this type of illness.

"Forest Heritage," a conservation film, was also shown at the meeting.

Justice Refuses Issue Motel Order

TORONTO, Dec. 12 (CP). — Chief Justice James C. McRuer Tuesday refused to issue an order directing the town of Fort Erie to issue a permit to allow Percy Gilligan to build a motel near the Peace Bridge.

He adjourned the hearing and told Gilligan to state his case to the provincial planning minister. "He can be made to decide whether it should be placed before the Municipal Board," said the chief justice.

On June 4, Fort Erie Council adopted a town plan under which the district near the bridge would be considered residential with motels barred and the plan is now before the provincial planning minister.

Another application by Markcity brothers for a motel a short distance away, was previously adjourned by Mr. Justice W. F. Spence.

Reds Offer

package deal for supervising the truce. In the background UN artillery thundered down on neighboring hills.

The UN offered to:

1. Withdraw from some islands off North Korea.

2. Agree to neutral observer teams . . .

If the Reds would agree that:

1. The teams will be under the direction of a military armistice commission, 2. The teams will have freedom of movement throughout Korea, 3. There can be aerial reconnaissance, 4. Troops may be rotated, and 5. There be no air field rehabilitation or reconstruction.

Objects To Last 4

Chinese Maj.-Gen. Hsieh Fang objected to the last four points.

The plan "cannot be accepted in part," Maj.-Gen. Howard W. Turner told Hsieh. "You can either accept it in its entirety or reject it in its entirety."

Turner called the offer "fair and reasonable." Hsieh snapped:

"What new ideas do you have to solve the differences which exist between us?"

The Allied plan was submitted in a seven-point proposal which for the first time abandoned UN insistence on joint Allied-Red teams to supervise the armistice and agreed to withdrawal from "islands within the territorial waters" of North Korea.

Turner said that means three miles from shore. He said the UN would keep the other islands it holds off Red Korea.

Brig.-Gen. William P. Nuckols, UN command spokesman, called the plan a "completely new proposal which contained major compromises and concessions."

But, he said, "It is very obvious that there is considerable difference still remaining between their stand and our stand even as modified today."

In a simultaneous conference over prisoners there was "not much difference from Tuesday," Rear-Admiral R. E. Libby said after the morning session.

Fog Brings Korean War Almost To a Standstill

SEOUL, Korea, Dec. 12. (AP)—Clouds and fog restricted air activity today and brought the Korean war to a virtual halt. The US Fifth Air Force issued no noon summary, indicating there had been no major action. The weatherman said none was possible unless the skies cleared.

Infantrymen in mist-draped hills across the front held their fire as the twilight war continued.

A half-dozen patrols poked out across the hill country west of Yonchon, holing up and calling for artillery support at the first sign of Reds.

West of the Punchbowl, on the eastern front, one Red probing force of about two platoons was hurled back after a brief skirmish.

Elsewhere there was little to report except brief patrol contacts in no-man's-land.

Temperatures ranged from a bone-chilling five degrees above zero in the east to 40 above in the west.

Drop 70 Tons

Tuesday night seven B-29 Superforts dropped 70 tons of bombs on Red troops behind the Communist front lines. Four other B-29s attacked Red Korean rail yards.

The bombers encountered anti-aircraft fire, but none was damaged, the Far East air forces said.

Night-flying medium bombers attacked Red highway traffic and reported more than 50 vehicles destroyed. Other bombers hit rail targets.

American F-86 Sabre jet pilots reported two Russian-made MIG-15 jets probably were destroyed and two others damaged Tuesday.

The air force said all Sabre jets returned safely.

In Korea's southern provinces, where Republic of Korea forces have been hunting Red guerrillas and bandits, action was tapering off. An Eighth Army spokesman said the mopping up in the Mount Chiri area was finished "to all intents and purposes."

Stock Prices Drop On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, Dec. 12 — (CP) — Early afternoon stock market prices turned downward again today after a forenoon rally checked opening losses.

Banks and miscellaneous industrials drew most support to post a scattered list of fractional advances. Papers, constructions, foods and refining oils slipped steadily.

Donalda was a feature as it added pennies while more than 110,000 shares changed hands during the first three hours.

Consolidated Smelters and International Nickel strengthened among base metal leaders. Cassiar, Mindamar, East Sullivan, Normetal and Osisko pushed higher while Ascot, Coast Copper, Quebec Copper and Steep Rock eased.

Western Oils showed little trend. Central-Leduc, Consolidated Coradsun, Okalta, Central Explorers and Model strengthened while Kroy, New British Dominions and Western Homestead weakened.

Senior Golds sagged. Dome, Giant Yellowknife and Malartic dipped in slow trading. Secondary issues posted a majority of penny losses.

Poor MP's May Have To Work Saturdays

OTTAWA, Dec. 12 (CP).—The Commons, starting today on a pre-adjournment drive, was served notice that it will be asked to sit this Saturday and next, if necessary.

Prime Minister St. Laurent placed on the Commons order paper a motion that would require the Commons to sit Saturday from 11 am to 1 pm, from 2:30 pm to 6:15 pm and from 8 pm to 10 pm.

Earlier this week, the Commons adopted a motion extending its working hours to provide for morning sittings and for meetings on Wednesday and Friday nights, ordinarily free.

In session since Oct. 9, the Commons finds itself faced with a heavy agenda of business to complete before adjournment. Much of the legislation has been reported from committees which recently concluded their meetings.

Exclude Actress As Spectator "Made Faces"

NEW YORK, Dec. 12 (AP)—Actress Tallulah Bankhead was excluded as a spectator today from a real-life courtroom drama concerning her offstage life.

Judge Harold E. Stevens ordered all witnesses cleared from the courtroom at the opening of the third day of the trial of her former personal secretary and maid, Mrs. Evelyeen R. Cronin, 59, charged with forgery and grand larency from the star.

Miss Bankhead, expected to testify for the prosecution, was the only person to leave. The judge said he issued the order on "the court's own motion."

Defence lawyer Fred G. Morritt Tuesday accused Miss Bankhead of making "facial remarks" and asked the court to make her "shut up."

Morritt said her attitude interfered with his opening remarks, in which he said the missing money went to buy "cocaine, booze and sex" for Miss Bankhead.

"At least, I can smoke now," Miss Bankhead commented after leaving the courtroom.

Complains About Heat

She went to a witness' waiting room and complained about the heat. The windows were opened. Later, an attendant came in and closed them.

Miss Bankhead screamed:

"I asked that those windows be opened, darling."

The real-life drama involving the 48-year-old actress attracted 150 spectators. Flashbulbs and motion picture lights outside the courtroom gave a theatrical touch to the proceedings. No cameras were allowed inside.

Capping a courtroom performance Tuesday that ranged from tears to coughs, Miss Bankhead angrily left the trial for 20 minutes after defence counsel asked the judge to make her "keep her mouth shut."

She said she walked out because she was "disgusted with the tactics" used by Morritt.

Good For Program

Morritt twice complained of Miss Bankhead's "sounds and facial expressions." He said these alleged actions "might be all right on a radio program" but not in a courtroom.

Judge Stevens refused to reprimand her, saying he saw nothing disturbing in her conduct.

The stage-screen-radio-television star, obviously angry, listened to Morritt make these statements to an all-male jury:

"Reluctantly, we shall prove that the lady (Miss Bankhead) was rarely sober. Champagne, dope, booze—she lived on that scale."

"My client took care of Miss Bankhead's gigolos (she had "three lovers within three months that we know of")—that was the money for sex."

"Tallulah Bankhead taught Mrs. Cronin how to roll marijauna cigarettes . . . I want to shield the names of those who smoked them, whom she paid and the parties." (He challenged the state to ask Mrs. Cronin the names.)

"When Mrs. Cronin used to go to her for money, she used to beat her unmercifully."

Miss Bankhead and the state prosecutor claimed these statements were part of a plot to threaten her into not pressing the case against Mrs. Cronin.

Miss Bankhead told reporters afterwards: "I never had (Mrs. Cronin) buy dope for me in my life, and she never bought sex for me. Nor did I ever buy any of them for myself."

Council Session Turns Hectic

CAMPBELLFORD, Dec. 12 —(ENS)—The last meeting of the year for the 1951 town council threatened to end up on a rather hectic note on Monday night when the question of a bill presented to the road and bridge committee came up for discussion.

Deputy Reeve Oscar Mason was away deer hunting in November, when residents of a street located on a steep hill in the western section of the town began to telephone councillors that the road was practically impassable.

A committee of councillors went to the roadway in question and decided that something would have to be done to facilitate the passage of cars and trucks up and down the hill. The outcome of this survey was that 84 yards of gravel were put on the hill by a local construction company and the bill amounting to $105 was presented to Mr. Mason, chairman of the road and bridge committee.

Mr. Mason took exception to other committees spending road and bridge budget money and pointed out that it would be the same as him ordering work done which would cost some other committee a sum of money.

Councillor P. H. Macmillan maintained the expenditure was necessary and that as the residents of the street were ratepayers they were entitled to some consideration. Mr. Mason claimed that two engineers from the department of highways had surveyed the hill and advised as to what should be done to remedy the situation. He claimed the engineers advised strongly against putting gravel on the hill.

Councillor G. H. Free said that the condition of the hill did not constitute an emergency and wanted it to appear in the records that this action would not establish a precedent. He contended that if the thing were let go, it would leap to haphazard spending of money by committees who did not know what they were doing.

Reeve R. J. Locke, who acted as mayor in the absence of J. E. Ayrhart, said that in view of the fact the work had been done, whether or not it was correct procedure, he thought the bill should be paid. Councillor Kingston said he believed the same thing and moved that the bill be paid. Councillor Nicholas seconded Mr. Kingston's motion and Mr. Mason signed the bill authorizing payment.

Councillor Rutherford asked if the council wished to purchase trees again this year to use in decorating the streets for the Christmas season. Council decided to do this and the trees will be purchased and set up this week in preparation for the Santa Claus parade which will be held on Saturday.

Reeve R. J. Locke thanked the councillors on behalf of the mayor for their co-operation during the year and said he thought much had been accomplished. He invited them to lunch at a local restaurant, which the councillors accepted.

The meeting adjourned until December 21 at 4:30 pm when the council or a forum will meet briefly to pass a by-law appointing a High School Area Board trustee for the next two years.

LONDON, Dec. 12 (Reuters) — Romania Tuesday charged the United States with parachuting two "spies and diversionists" into Romania from an American aircraft which allegedly flew over the country from Athens, Greece, Oct. 18.

900 Planes Lost By US In Korea

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (AP).—American forces have lost more than 90 planes in the Korean War.

This figure, which includes some non-combat losses, compares with a claimed destruction of about 300 Communist planes in actual air or ground action.

Air Force and Navy officials, in giving out the figures, said on Tuesday they do not view this as disproportionate for several reasons, including these:

1—US planes have been in continuous action since the start of the war in June, 1950, while Red planes have appeared in significant numbers only during the last eight or nine months.

2—Much of the operation of US planes has been low-level attack to support ground troops, where the planes encountered ground fire while the Communists have used no similar aerial support of their troops.

Flourine Report Will Be Presented

TORONTO, Dec. 12 (CP).—Dr. L. A. Pequegnat, medical officer of health, will submit a report to Toronto's Board of Health next month concerning the introduction of fluorine into the city's water system, it was learned Tuesday.

Dr. Pequegnat would not confirm reports that he recommended use of the chemical as a tooth-decay preventative but said he was handing in a report to civic authorities.

Federal Health Department officials at Brantford, have been conducting a long-range test to check the effects of fluorine in drinking water there.

Home and School Christmas Meet Held At Millbrook

MILLBROOK, Dec. 12 (ENS)—The Home and School Association held its Christmas meeting and party in the school auditorium on Monday evening. Miss Ellen Kent and other members of the social committee, Miss Edith Clarke, Miss E. Raikes, Mrs. B. B. Dawson, Mrs. G. MacKay and Mrs. Russell Smith had the table gay with lighted red candles, and a centre of evergreen, pine cones, and red ribbon. At each window greenery centred with red and silver poinsettias had been placed.

The Christmas story was read by the Rev. A. A. Chote, and the Rev. A. M. Butler led in prayer. Homer Ouellette sang the Negro spiritual "Go Down Moses," followed by a brief Christmas message brought by the Rev. W. H. Heustin. There were two numbers by the male quartette comprising Gordon Might, Donald McKnight, Homer Ouellette and Donald Spicer. They sang "The Coventry Carol" and Brahm's "Lullaby." Mrs. G. A. Spicer was accompanist.

The whole group joined in a sing-song of carols and other old favorites led by Percy Hamilton, public school principal, and the Rev. A. M. Butler with Homer Ouellette at the piano.

Mr. Hamilton played recordings of Dickens' "A Christmas Carol," lent by Dr. and Mrs. M. E. Hobbs for the evening.

Mrs. Bruce Ingham thanked Alex Gilbert who had planned the program, the three ministers, Mr. Hamilton, Mr. Ouellette, the male quartette, Mrs. Hobbs who had supplied for the recording secretary, and all others who had contributed to the success of the evening.

Mrs. Henry Gray's room, the primary, tied with Mr. Hamilton's room for having the most parents present. Since Mr. Hamilton's class had already won the award twice in succession it went to Mrs. Gray's.

The social committee served refreshments to the more than 60 people present.

What Defeated The Ontario Liberals?

Because we have a high regard for the Liberal party in Ontario, and think that it has much to say that would be of value to the Province either in power or in opposition, we are depressed by the reports of, post mortem examinations of the recent election, in which Liberals advance reasons as to why they fared so badly. At present the Toronto Star is the scapegoat; the Star's support is said to have cost the Liberals thousands of votes. Now it is certainly true that the Star's feverish and hysterical campaigning roused laughter all over Ontario; but if, the wiseacres of the Liberal party knew that, why did they not go to the Star and beg its publishers to bestow their embarrassing favours elsewhere?

* * *

Mr. Walter Thomson has been reproached, also, for his campaign methods. But Mr. Thomson was chosen leader of the Liberals, and those who voted for him must have known him. Mr. Thomson was very far from being an ideal leader, but we do not think that he was so bad as some of the apologists now pretend. Certainly he was not so foolish a man as the Star, in its underestimation of the intelligence of the electorate, represented him.

* * *

There were elements contributing to the Liberal defeat which we have not seen mentioned, and we list them here. They were:

(1) A sluggish and insufficient provincial organization.

(2) Late appointment of candidates, many of them hastily conscripted after the election announcement. And, as a consequence, too little serious electioneering.

These are ills which go very deep, and are the hardest of all to remedy. Perhaps that is why they are not mentioned, while Mr. Thomson and the Star are used as whipping boys.

A Master Of Horror

Some of our readers will have read with regret of the death, on Monday, of Algernon Blackwood. He was eighty-two, and his career as a writer was not begun until he was thirty-seven; before that time he had spent several years in Canada as a farmer and as a gold-seeker, but without success. He was, for a time, a newspaper reporter, but he was a man of aristocratic family and education, but he did not appear to be possessed of any marketable talent.

Then he found himself as a writer of tales of horror, and in that field he made a great reputation. He was particularly at home in stories in which man was at war with insentient nature; the indifference of the world of forest and jungle to the needs of mankind was a favourite theme of his. He wrote a great many novels and short stories, some of which are masterworks in the special realm of imagination which he made his own.

He May Prove Us Wrong

On October 24, under the heading "Who Become Centenarians?" we published our belief that people who live to that remarkable age are very rarely themselves remarkable people; we suggested that their vitality is directed more toward length of life than enjoyment or enrichment of life. We commented, from our newspaper experience, on the unlikelihood that a centenarian will remember anything worth remembering, or have anything to say worth saying. But there is an old gentleman in London, England, who is now 94, and if he holds out for another six years he will prove us wrong.

He is Mr. William Stone, and his address is A 1. The Albany—an address which is to Londoners not much less distinguished than Buckingham Palace, or 10 Downing Street. Unlike most centenarians, Mr. Stone is both rich and highly educated; he is a scientist and a traveller. Here is an account of his doings which we quote from a review of a book about him which has just appeared:

> Think of it! Mr. Stone, still active and busy in a man-of-the-world way at 94, was born before perambulators existed; he rode a wooden-wheeled velocipede, but took to the new-fangled penny-farthing bicycle when it arrived. His first tutor was the father of one Humphry Ward. At Cambridge, after hearing a lecture by Graham Bell, he rigged up a telephone between rooms at Peterhouse College. He attended Kelvin's lectures, took a first in the Natural Science Tripos, and himself lectured on botany to the young women at the new College of Newnham.
>
> He drove an hansom from Albany to Hyde Park for a wager and, for fun, tooled a four-in-hand coach at galloping points on the Cambridge-London Road. He knew De Quincey's sister, saw Garibaldi drive through the streets of London, attended Disraeli's funeral and heard the peacock's screech as the cortege passed down the Hughenden avenue; he was at the Coronation of the last Czar and saw the ruins of the Tuileries after the commune. The rest of his time he filled in by excavating for antiquities in Egypt, butterfly collecting on the Great Wall of China, rough-riding in America, attending first nights at the London theatres, meeting interesting persons, and seeing to it that his twelve London clubs were not empty—White's, Athenaeum, Reform, Oxford and Cambridge, Union, United Universities, Bath, Royal Societies, Author's, and the rest. Latterly his clubs dwindled to six.
> Not till 1893 did he settle in Albany in Piccadilly, much of which he now owns (and refused to sell to Gordon Selfridge) and there he beautifully lives although Byron, Gladstone, and Macaulay have departed from that "modest cloister."

It is absolutely obligatory to ask to what Mr. Stone attributes his great age; no journalist can ever resist such a question. Mr. Stone, it appears, is a bachelor, and that may have something to do with it. He also confides that he never ate very much, ate half of that after forty, and reduced this small diet by half again after sixty. He puts great faith in bicarbonate of soda, wears a woollen vest under his pyjamas, and drinks half a pint of warm water every morning. (This latter habit may have been acquired at Bath, where he was born; he is still a Governor of its Royal Mineral Water Hospital.)

We shall watch Mr. Stone's future career with interest. If he rounds out his century, we shall clip out our editorial of October 24, and ceremoniously eat it. But in order to heed Mr. Stone's advice not to eat too much, we shall spread it over a couple of meals.

A Conscientious Judge

Genuine regret is felt in Peterborough, both city and county, at the death of Judge Sheldon LaPierre Smoke at the age of 61. He had presided over the County Court for seventeen years and carried out his duties in various courts and on boards with unpretentious dignity, quiet integrity and tireless impartiality. All who knew Judge Smoke and his work well have spoken of his devotion to duty and his conscientiousness. He earned the respect in which his courts were held.

As a citizen of the community his influence was quietly pervasive, his services liberally given. He patterned and was first president of the Red Cross and Community Fund, which merged various charitable appeals during the war. He was a member and director of half a dozen local associations and clubs. He made his judicial talents available to such benevolent enterprises as the Mayor's Fire Fund Trust, of which he was chairman. He interested himself in county government and was helpful to County Councillors. As a member of the Police Commission he held a firm and balancing authority between public interest and police practice.

Peterborough and the King's justice were faithfully and earnestly served by Judge Smoke, learned in the law, an exemplar of judicial traditions, and an honourable citizen.

Three dots of sound travelling across the Atlantic from Cornwall to Newfoundland fifty years ago today changed the ways of mankind in peace and war. They were the first long distance wireless communication and Signor Marconi, a 27-year-old Italian, himself sat huddled in a gale which lashed Signal Hill, overlooking St. John's to receive the signal which his genius had made possible.

The work of many scientists of several nations preceded the trans-Atlantic wireless communication, but Marconi was the first man to find a means to put wireless telegraphic theory into practice. His home-made invention of 1896 had been offered to the Italian Government, but rejected. The British, with a far-flung empire and sea patrols, gave him unlimited funds. Before the trans-Atlantic signal, Marconi had given a demonstration of wireless shore-to-ship contact. The three dots of December 12th, 1901, were the signal of a revolution in communication. From them have grown radio, television, radar, new ways of living in a closer world, and new methods of waging war. The consciousness of nations has even been changed: one can hardly imagine 1939 without the sinister voice of Lord Haw Haw, nor 1940 and 1941 without the rolling periods of Mr. Churchill, reaching out to the farthest corners of the world and into the humblest homes.

Canada has, incidentally or purposefully, played a rather large part in the development of wireless. Signal Hill, Newfoundland, is now a part of Canada. One of the first radio broadcasts ever carried out on this continent was made from a small station in Montreal in 1919. And when the infamous Dr. Crippen was fleeing to safety in Quebec, he was trapped by police there who had been alerted by a wireless signal. Crippen was the first criminal to be caught through wireless communication.

Guglielmo Marconi died in Rome in 1937, leaving a name which is truly a household word.

No Public Prop For Rearmament

By PHILIP VERNON

IT is becoming more and more clear that the rearmament programme in Britain is being carried through without any active public support, and if the information one receives from European countries is correct, this is true also of France and Italy and Germany.

This is not the same as saying that the people of Britain—and those other countries—are opposed to rearmament. It is just that they feel no conviction that rearmament is going to achieve its end. The purpose of rearmament, they are told, is to prevent war, but it would be difficult to find any ordinary man and woman who could or would argue either logically or emotionally in support of that point of view.

✧ ✧ ✧

I BELIEVE that this attitude is so important in Western Europe today that it is worth examining in some detail. The only real argument for rearmament is that the growing strength of the Western Powers will act as a deterrent; if that deterrent fails, if a Third World War begins, the rearmament programmes of the Western European countries will become largely irrelevant.

It is the dim recognition of this fact which accounts for the popular indifference to rearmament. There is no conviction that rearmament will deter Russia; on the other hand, there is a strong conviction that if war comes no rearmament programme will be able to save Europe from devastation.

✧ ✧ ✧

AS I said earlier, this indifference to rearmament does not imply opposition. It does mean, however, that rearmament, as a word, has an emotional pull. To ask for sacrifices so that the rearmament programme may be carried through, is to plead a cause (the need for rearmament) in which there is no strong or active popular belief. The people of Britain may accept such sacrifices—indeed, they will—but it will be a passive acceptance, as it has been hitherto. There will be no spontaneous support either for the sacrifices imposed or for the rearmament programme which is their cause.

✧ ✧ ✧

TO some visiting Americans this appears a distressing fact. They forget first that they come from a country which in terms of lives lost and bodies maimed has borne the brunt of the Korean war. In no European country is there anything like the small box which appears in every issue of Time magazine; the box which lists the American casualties in Korea week by week. The Korean war, let it be frankly admitted, has not yet touched Britain or any Western European country as coldly or as harshly as it has touched America.

THIS is part of the emotional background, but it is not all. If a Third World War begins, Britain and Western Europe will immediately suffer in a way which the United States today does not actively comprehend. It is all very well, when one is sitting on the other side of the Atlantic, to assess the risks of war with an almost academic lack of passion. But in Britain and Western Europe the risks are ever present; we cannot escape them.

If in, say, one or two years' time the Western Powers were to find themselves on the brink of war with Russia, America would have to take into account the "pacifist" feeling which would be sure to arise in Britain and Western Europe. This pacifist feeling would have no deeper foundation than a sudden, agonizing desire to avoid the frightful holocaust of a Third World War. But it would be real enough. There would be an instinctive wish to see the British Prime Minister make another "flight to Munich".

IT is no use condemning this attitude beforehand and bringing up all the arguments against appeasement. The fact remains as a prominent American acknowledged to me this week, that the wish for appeasement will inevitably grow stronger as the Third World War appears to become more imminent.

The two conclusions which one can draw from the existence of this state of mind are, first, the need for close American consultation with Western Europe. Nothing will undermine the morale of Western Europe more than the feeling that the decision whether it is to be war or peace rests entirely in Washington.

It is vitally important, not only that America should accept the Western European countries as her partners, but that she should treat them as such. This is a point which Mr. Winston Churchill is not likely to overlook when he visits Washington early in the New Year.

✧ ✧ ✧

SECONDLY, it is important that the people of Britain should be prepared for the major decisions which may be ahead. If the truce talks in Korea break down, American military opinion and American public opinion will both demand—at least—the bombing of Chinese air bases in Manchuria. The argument for such action is unassailable—Chinese air power, operating from Manchuria, has become a major factor in the Korean campaign. But British public opinion has not been prepared for such action—or for the extension of the war in the East which might well result.

✧ ✧ ✧

AGAIN and again during the last fortnight I have heard the opinion expressed that a breakdown of the truce talks in Korea is likely to lead to another crisis in Anglo-American relations. But in no Ministerial speech, in no informed newspaper, is the problem being discussed frankly. The hope exists that there will at any rate be more candour in Mr. Churchill's talks with American leaders.

(Windsor Star)

The Federal Government now has no real alternative but to pass legislation, with plenty of teeth in it, to ban price-fixing by manufacturers and wholesalers. This becomes virtually mandatory after the evidence offered by Mr. F. A. McGregor, former commissioner under the Combines Act, as to the wide ramifications of this system.

The large majority of Canadians will regard Mr. McGregor's opinions as irrefutable. He says price-fixing means manufacturers and trade organizations are saying: "Competition for thee but not for me". He asserts the practice is a negation of the kind of free enterprise we require in Canada.

Price-fixing and combines shake the confidence of the people in the competitive system. If such restrictions on trade continue the time will come when the public will demand the government fix prices, rather than have private organizations do so.

Letters To The Editor

TOO MUCH STRESS ON SPORTS?

Sir: In looking over the prize winners of the P.C.V.S. commencement, I was amazed to find no consideration of the time spent in all the other activities of the school except sports.

These seem to predominate in our Collegiate. The winners of rugby and basketball are banquetted and given prizes. The Head Girl and Boy are chosen for their contribution toward good sportsmanship.

What is done for those who play in our fine band and who give time for rehearsing etc.? Who get any credit in the choral groups or dramatic clubs?

The band and choral groups win first prizes in our festivals and also high standing in the greater Toronto Festival, yet none of these students are given credit for their extracurricular work.

When the top students are chosen it is always sports; some of these musical and dramatic students should, in my estimation, be awarded distinction equally fitting the other group because some have spent years in lessons and practicing in order to partake in the activity of their choice.

They can't all play games nor can all be in band, choir, or drama but all who help school activity should be equally awarded when it comes to distinction.

Thanking you for your valuable space.

"A LOVER OF FINE ARTS."

MUD ON HASTINGS AVE.

Sir: Kindly allow space in your widely read column for a tale of how we who are unfortunate enough to live on Hastings Ave. in our city of Peterborough in a sea of mud without a blade of grass to walk on and road impassable are cut off from fire protection, fuel trucks, delivery trucks and garbage trucks.

Our postman, like ourselves, takes one step forward and slides back two trying to deliver our daily mail—all because our city fathers turn a deaf ear to our plea for a few loads of gravel to return our street to the same condition it was before they gave us sewers.

They say they can do nothing unless we present a petition for paving; which means four families would pay the entire cost, since the city owns the remaining lots, with the exception of two, which are not built on; therefore the owners can't be expected to sign a petition to raise their already high taxes.

Also if our petition is treated as previous ones (when we petitioned for sewers), we would be told that no petition for same had ever reached their offices, and we could still wade or sink, while we tried to get another petition signed.

All we ask is our road to be given a few loads of gravel, which I'm sure is already taken care of in our taxes. The road has been in this condition since July, and as we received much better service before being annexed to the city, we are seriously thinking of petitioning to be returned to the township.

Don't you agree?

(MRS.) ALLAN DAFOE.

SORRY FOR "ON GUARD"

Sir: I liked the letter from "On Guard". First reaction was that it gave me a fine big belly-laugh. Second was that I should drop a line to say how fortunate the people of Peterborough are to be served by a paper of the 'Examiner's' stature.

I have read your paper regularly for the past six years. The variety, originality and scholarly presentation of its editorial material are such that the subscribers are fortunate to have a paper providing such stimulus to thought. Yet the writing is simple and direct.

Your photography is above average, original and sometimes a real work of art. Your comments on art, literature and music (subjects carefully ignored by most papers) set the 'Examiner' apart as a major cultural influence. Then there is the generous amount of lively wit which lightens the burden of reading and often sheds light cleverly upon the subject. Wit is an element totally lacking in many papers.

Poor, worried, righteous "On Guard". Has he not heard that the threat "I'll cancel my subscription," is, to an editor with any intelligence at all, the feeblest threat in all this world.

Yours truly,

R. CORBETT.

STAGGER BANK HOURS

Sir: Hats off to Whig-Standard for their attitude on banks wrong attitude,—they, the banks, do seem to be stealing a leaf from labour's book or bank.

Especially would farmers like a little service on Saturday, their market day—if it could be called that in Peterborough. Not that they have much money to put in, but that they may repay that which they owe some day. It is a 'sign of the times', that more and more farmers are borrowing (a thing we hate). And our prices have a habit of tumbling, but not our costs—the short hours, business and union tactics and techniques, set those. Now ask yourselves how long can that last.

There are many banks in Peterborough. Why not alternate services and one open all day Saturday—their days are short anyway. What if farmers started striking and working short hours? Can we or can we not live without foods. If we can live without, go right ahead—religion and all.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Listen, O isles, unto me; and hearken, ye people, from far; The Lord hath called me from the womb . . . And he said, It is a light thing that thou shouldest be my servant to raise up the tribes of Jacob, and to restore the preserved of Israel: I will also give thee for a light to the Gentiles, that thou mayest be my salvation unto the end of the earth

Thus saith the Lord, In an acceptable time have I heard thee, and in a day of salvation have I helped thee: and I will preserve thee, and give thee for a covenant of the people, to establish the earth, the cause to inherit the desolate heritages; that thou mayest say to the prisoners, Go forth; to them that are in darkness, Shew yourselves. They shall feed in the ways, and their pastures shall be in all high places. They shall not hunger nor thirst; neither shall the heat nor sun smite them: for he that hath mercy on them shall lead them, even by the springs of water shall he guide them.

Sing, O heavens; and be joyful, O earth; and break forth into singing, O mountains: for the Lord hath comforted his people, and will have mercy upon his afflicted. (Isa. 49: 1, 6, 8-10, 13.)

✧ ✧ ✧

For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God. (Eph. 2: 8.)

For the law was given by Moses, but grace and truth came by Jesus Christ. (John 1: 17.)

Automatic

(G. E. Mortimer in The Victoria Colonist)

We are not to have the automatic reporter after all. INS columnist Bob Considine reported recently that the International Business Machine Corporation had cancelled a release promising a new electric typewriter which, at the press of certain keys, would write whole phrases.

As well as having an abundant stock of cliches, I suppose this abortive machine would have been able to churn out a number of short, snappy leads to regular news stories.

Press button A and the machine would type: "Canada's cost of living took another sharp rise tonight." Press button B and it would snap out: "Korean peace talks dissolved into a name-calling match today."

Editors know that headlines have now been written for every possible and impossible event in the universe. Our machine would have had them all in stock. With a flick of the finger, a desk man could write:

"COLLAPSE OF FOG-BURNING TOWER KILLS 25" or "CHILD, 3, EATEN BY BEAR."

Use of the machine would not have been confined to the newspaper business. It might also have been set to work as an automatic civil servant:

"With regard to your communication of the umptooth inst. I must regretfully confess that I am unable to comprehend the reason why your interrogation was directed toward this department."

As an automatic politician, the machine could do yeoman service in whipping out press releases:

"The minister has no comment on the matter at this time."

The machine would have been useful in all walks of life. But it would certainly have put a lot of people out of jobs. When the International Business Machine Corporation does get it in working order, the most-used phrase in its robot vocabulary will be:

"We regret to inform you that your services will no longer be required."

MUTUAL WARNING

Movie Theatre Pioneer In City, M. Pappas Dies

Pioneer of the motion picture invasion of Peterborough some 40 years ago, Mike Pappas died in Belleville Monday afternoon and will be buried there Wednesday.

Mr. Pappas arrived in Peterborough in 1904 by way of Montreal and Kingston, and in only a few years he became operator of two theatres, the Princess in the premises of the Paris Cafe, and the Royal now the Centre Theatre.

Born in Megalopolis in Peloponnesus, Greece, about 80 years ago, Mr. Pappas first ventured into the United States, and decided that his future was to be on this side of the Atlantic.

After a brief visit to his home, he set out again for Canada, because he was more favorably impressed by opportunities he saw in this country. He brought with him his two nephews, Louis and George Yeotes, then respectively 15 and 14 years old. After six months in Montreal and the rest of 1903 in Kingston, they reached Peterborough in 1904.

Billiards Room

Mr. Pappas opened a billiards room with shoe shine and tobacco store in the premises now occupied by the new Sally women's wear store on George St.

Rapid expansion of the new motion picture theatre business elsewhere attracted Mr. Pappas, and he soon became an enterprising showman in the Royal and Princess.

The Crystal, renamed the Red Mill, was another of those early film houses on the east side of George St., north of Hunter St., and the Princess once carried the name of Tiz-It, operated by Bert Clayton.

Fire swept through the old Royal, Mr. Pappas resumed occupation, if not full ownership, when the new theatre was built. Those were peak years of his prosperity. He had sold the billiards place to Mr. Yeotes.

In his later years he had declined almost to penury, depending on the assistance of his friends and relatives. Mr. Pappas married the late Maude Miller of Peterborough. Their home was on George St. north.

2 Pittsburgh Boats Take Last Ore Cargoes

CLEVELAND, Dec. 12 (AP)—Two Pittsburgh steamship company vessels churned across Lake Superior Tuesday night with the final iron ore cargoes of the biggest peacetime ore-shiping season in history.

The D. M. Clenson and the Thomas F. Lynch are due to lock through the Soo Wednesday and Friday will unload 22,000 tons of ore at Conneaut, O.

The Lake Superior Iron Ore Association reported Tuesday that ore carriers this season brought 89,069,817 gross tons down the lakes. Last season 78,205,592 tons of ore were moved.

Unemployment Jumps 37,400 In First Three Weeks Of November

OTTAWA, Dec. 12 (CP)—Unemployment in Canada jumped by 37,400 in the first three weeks of November and is nearly 18,000 higher than the comparative period of 1950, the Labor Department reported today.

The department said job applications at National Employment offices at Nov. 22 totalled 192,000, compared with 153,500 at Nov. 1 and 175,200 at Nov. 23, 1950.

More than a third of the unemployed were women.

All regions—in fact every city except Windsor, Ont.—showed increased unemployment. The Atlantic region reported 19,700 applications for jobs compared with 16,900 at Nov. 1; the Quebec region, 52,500, compared with 43,200; Ontario region, 66,900, compared with 53,800; Prairie region, 25,700, compared with 19,200, and the Pacific region, 28,400 compared with 22,400.

At the same time, job vacancies listed at employment offices totalled 46,000, a drop of 25,000 since the peak for the year was reached at the end of September.

Main Cause

Release of seasonal workers from agriculture, construction and fishing, along with "continued employment reduction in certain sections of manufacturing" is the cause of the slump, the department said.

A considerable number of workers have been affected by a shorter working week. This was reflected in short-time claims for unemployment insurance benefits, which totalled 26,600 at Oct. 31, compared with 11,300 at the corresponding date a year ago.

Ontario and Quebec showed the greatest unemployment. Cutbacks in production of consumer durable goods and labor surpluses in textile centres accounted for most of the unemployment.

Sales of dry goods, clothing, hardware, furniture, householder electrical appliances and automobiles are down considerably from last year. Ineventories are much greater than a year ago.

Here is the Ontario unemployment picture by cities, with Nov. 1, 1951, figures in brackets: Hamilton, 6,695 (5,944); Kingston, 658 (519); Kitchener, 1,464 (1,020); London, 2,768 (1,827); Ottawa, 1,844 (1,557); Owen Sound, 680 (538); St. Catharines, 1,750 (1,184); St. Thomas, 493 (440); Sarnia, 747 (592); Stratford, 392 (316); Sudbury, 600 (469); Toronto, 19,919 (16,533); Windsor, 5,506 (5,889); Woodstock, 233 (183); Fort William-Port Arthur, 1,054 (694).

CONFUSED BRIDE: "I have never cooked a turkey. Could you give me simple instructions in your column? My turkey will arrive a few days before Christmas. Should it be cleaned before storing in the refrigerator? Wh. is a good recipe for stuffing? When should it be stuffed?"
Clean your turkey before storing it in the refrigerator; stuff it the night before Christmas. For a 10-12 pound turkey (drawn weight) use the following stuffing. Cook ¾s cup onion in 1 cup hot fat till tender. Add 2½ teaspoons salt, dash of pepper, 4½ quarts day old bread (about 10 cups), ¼ cup finely chopped celery, 1½ teaspoons poultry dressing, 1¼ teaspoons ginger (this will prevent dressing from repeating). Blend well. Stuff crop and body of turkey lightly then sew or skewer openings. Roll the turkey in brown paper oiled on inside, leaving ends open. Place breast up on rack in open roasting pan. Bake in a 300 deg. F. oven allowing 20 minutes to the pound. Do not add water, turn or baste bird.
WORRIED BEST MAN: "My boy friend has to be best man at his friend's wedding in December. He knows all the duties he has to perform but when it comes to a speech he is absolutely speechless. Will you please tell him what to say when replying to the groom's toast to the bridesmaids?"
Easy enough for any best man to answer a toast to the bridesmaids for on that great day they all look so charming. And that essentially is all he needs to say. "In replying to the toast to the bridesmaids I count myself a lucky man. Here am I, unmarried but not apt to stay in that state for any length of time after gazing on this feast of pulchritude, this bevy of beauties. As a matter of fact just looking at them has befuddled me so completely that all I want to do is sit down among them. So on behalf of the bridesmaids, thank you."

Whipper Wins Main Bout Over "Slasher" Layton As Bobo Brazil Uses Head

While Whipper Billy Watson won the main bout over Lord Athol Layton at the Brock Arena last night, Bobo Brazil pretty much stole the show. He not only won his semi-final bout to the cheers of a big crowd but he jumped into the ring after the main go and butted Layton and his trainer into insensibility with Whip groggy from fouls and Referee Sam Gotter "hors de combat" for a time. It was a wild finish but the fans got a big kick out of it.

Watson was awarded the final fall in eight minutes by Referee Cliff Fox, who disqualified Layton for repeatedly slashing Whip in a corner—as the trainer grabbed at Whip's feet from outside—and for accidentally slashing Referee Gotter, knocking him for a loop. Two refs were used, and Layton kept them busy with his rough tactics, especially the mean judo slash to the jugular. He had Whipper in plenty of trouble with it at the last.

Uses The Whip

The second and equalizing fall came in nine minutes to the champ when he used a whip and slam, following a mule kick to fell Layton. He made the latter miss on a flying tackle off the ropes and then quickly polished him off. Watson weighed 238 to 260 for his nibs, and did far more wrestling, but Layton resorted to his slash whenever he was in trouble and roughed Billy plenty along the ropes. Watson fought back hard to toss him out of the ring and to go out once after his trainer. He got he trainer again after the fall and threw him hard with his whip hold to draw a big hand.

Layton took the opening fall in 24 minutes owing to a mixup by the referees. He used a prolonged "English octopus" and had to be pulled off, after softening Whipper up with slashes. Gotter tried to stop it but Fox refused to let him interfere and meantime Layton was raining blows on his staggering opponent to set him up for the fall. It was again a case of wrestler vs. slasher. They had lots of hot arguments and there was much ado by Layton at the start when he claimed the slippery champion had vaseline on his neck and shoulders, though this was disproved. Layton pulled hair roughed on the ropes, was slow breaking illegal grips and went in for slashing whenever the Whip started crowding him with regular mat grips. The fans booed the Englishman plenty throughout.

A Popular Fall

Popular colored Bobo Brazil, the 247-lb. bundle of energy from St. Louis, won the semi-final in 12 minutes over Mayes McLean, 258, the ex-Masked Marvel. He replaced Hi Lee, who was injured the night before in a bout. Bobo won the match with a flying head scissors as the other came off the ropes. It was a lively go with Mayes playing a real villainous role with fists, knees, eye rasps and the works. Bobo slowed him up on that with a series of hard head butts in the corner, and he demonstrated once violently on a protesting referee Gotter, to the crowd's delight.

The prelim between Sonny Kurgis, well-liked 226-pounder from Columbus, and Hamilton's 235-pound rough Abe Zvonkin, went to a 30-minute time limit draw. It wasn't too open a bout, though fast enough, and always in the ring. A lot of mat stuff and standing-up wrestling was shown, with Abe pulling some underhand tricks and going into his usual windy arguments with the referee when forced to break illegitimate holds. Kurgis looked the better grappler on armlocks, scissors and the orthodox mat repertoire, but Zvonkin didn't go by the book. It was just a fair bout.

Tigers Edge Sarnia 3-2 In Overtime

By The Canadian Press.

Those pesky Guelph Biltmores aren't content with a back seat in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A race. They won't even settle for second place.

The New York Ranger farmhands delighted their home town fans Tuesday night by edging fifth-place Kitchener Greenshirts 2-1 to move back into a tie with Toronto Marlboros atop the ten-team standings. The Marlies however, still have two games in hand.

In senior OHA play, Hamilton Tigers continued their fight to get back into the thick of things with a thrilling 3-2 victory in overtime against Sarnia Sailors. The win moved Hamilton back into second place, a single point ahead of the idle Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen.

Up north, the Sault Ste. Marie Greyhounds continued their winning ways in the Northern Ontario Hockey Association Senior A race with a 7-4 win over North Bay Black Hawks.

The victory shot the league-leading Greyhounds eight points up on second-place Sudbury Miners while the loss was North Bay's tenth in 13 NOHA outings.

Aggravates Injury

At Guelph it was Ron Murphy and Andy Bathgate who tallied in the first period to give the Bilts their winning edge. Orv Tessier spoiled Guelph goalie Doug Lessor's shutout in the dying minutes of the final session for Kitchener's lone goal.

The victory may have been a costly one for the Bilts however. Andy Bathgate, one of the club's star forwards, aggravated an old knee injury in the second period and had to be helped from the ice. He failed to return.

Murray Comfort tallied twice as Hamilton Tigers edged Sarnia 3-2 in overtime. Murray Dunnette scored the other Tiger marker while Moose Sheddon and Al O'Connor were the Sailor marksmen.

Gets Four Goals

Hustling Doug Towers banged in four goals to lead the Sault Ste. Marie Greyhounds to their 7-4 tussle in North Bay. Husky Hodgson, Terry Biocchi and Ronnie Lay were the other Sault scorers.

Davie Morland led the losers with a brace of goals while Rick Hogg and Ralph Orlando scored the others.

Curling News

By HERB MARTIN

With the passing of Judge S. Smoke at his residence early on Tuesday morning, the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club lost one of its most honored members. He was also a former associate member of the Curling Club.

Coming from Paris about 17 years ago, he immediately joined the bowling club and from that time until his death he was actively interested in his favorite sport. The same year he was not only elected to the board of directors, but was appointed vice-president. The following year the board of directors honored him with the presidency of the club. He was a member of almost every committee, and his advice was of great value.

He was a past chairman of District No. 14, Provincial Lawn Bowling Association. He loved clean, honest sport, and was always willing to help the man "down under."

Although not an active member of the curling club, he did from time to time join as an associate member, and was greatly interested in the progress of the club. He will be greatly missed by these clubs. He was a fine citizen, a grand sportsman, and always a gentleman.

The sympathy of these clubs is extended to his widow and children.

Dinner Held By Orfuns To End Year

The ORFU intermediate Orfuns Football Club wound up its year on a happy note last evening with a pleasant dinner at the Kawartha Golf & Country Club. Sixty officials, players and guests sat down to dinner, listened later to a number of brief speeches, and viewed interesting football films.

Club president Dr. Rodger Chenoweth outlined highlights of the past season and predicted better things to come, with a meeting slated for Jan. 8. He promised that efforts would be made to have Frank Gnup back as coach. He praised the spirit of the players and the work of the executive, and mentioned that Bill Huntley was sharing the Johnny Black Trophy, as most valuable ORFU player, with Jimmy Loreno of Oshawa.

A Number Speak

Stan McBride, as master of ceremonies, introduced executive members and several former players present. Short speeches were given by Dr. Wilf Preston, D. A. McGillis, Bob McKay (former Oakville coach), Frank Gnup, Dr. Don Aitken, Dave Wilson, Dennis Fitzgerald, Gord Young, Bill Shadgett, Gord Beatty and others.

Though the club is still "in the red," it was the feeling that the Orfuns were showing considerable improvement each season and should definitely go places next year. It was hinted that a larger grouping might be arranged for next season. The CRU and ORFU came in for some criticism as not doing too much to help intermediate football. Frank Gnup praised the players for their efforts and club spirit, and said he hoped to be back again but could not be sure at this time.

Here And There In Sports

By The Canadian Press

Directors of the American Hockey League were unanimous Tuesday in favor of giving visiting clubs a share of the game gate receipts but it will be next June before they figure out how to do it. At present, home clubs retain all gate receipts at American League games. Maurice Podoloff, league president, said after an all-day meeting at Cincinnati that he had been authorized to make a comprehensive study of attendance figures over the last 12 years, analyze them and then report to the league's annual session in June.

Art Chapman, general manager at Buffalo, said he thought television is hurting hockey game attendance.

"We are going to try Sunday afternoon games—four of them beginning Dec. 30—to see if we can get more people at the games."

Eddie Shore, one of the all-time hockey greats, said women and children are the answer.

"If management will stress the woman fan angle—get them interested, attendance will increase."

Illinois State Athletic Commission has suspended the trainer of welterweight champion Kid Gavilan a month for "unwarranted exhibition of unsportsmanlike conduct" after Gavilan's draw with Johnny Bratton here Nov. 28. Raymond Mondito Medina was cited by the commission for cursing referee Bill Doty and threatening to hit him with a water bottle.

Windsor Spitfires of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A circuit Tuesday night obtained forwards John Lumley and Ron Stewart from Toronto Marlboros for rookie leftwinger Rod McElroy. McElroy last season was with the Sarnia Junior B team that knocked out Weston Dukes.

Gavilan said at New York he is willing to defend his crown against Charles Humez "but in the United States."

The next move is up to Humez. "I came here to win my championship," the Cuban said. "Let him come here to fight me. I fight him anytime. I fight anybody I'm ready to sign anytime."

Gavilan gave the statement in reply to a warning by the National Boxing Association that he sign within ten days to defend his title against Humez, French holder of the European welterweight championship.

Sherbrooke Athletics will return to Quebec Provincial Baseball League action in 1953, it was announced Tuesday night following a directors' meeting. The club decided to retain its franchise although activities have been suspended for next season because its home stadium was lost in a fire last Sept. 18. Now, with the promise of a concrete structure by 1953, the club will only skip one year.

Montreal golden glove champions Tuesday night won three of five boxing bouts from a Camp Edwards, Boston, team of the United States Army and Air Force.

Four of the five US battlers are Korean war veterans.

Isaac Sauls, Boston heavyweight, scored a five-round decision over Bob Edgett of Montreal in a slow final bout.

Hamilton Thistles Tuesday defeated Hamilton Victorias 9-2 to win the Malcolmson Trophy, main award of the two-day bonspiel conducted here by the ladies of Toronto Curling Club. The trophy won last year by Mrs. T S. Doughty, Peterborough, was claimed by a rink skipped by Mrs. K. McLaren. She defeated one skipped by Mrs. Gooch of Victorias in the final round to win the trophy.

Kirkland Lake won the consolation award when a rink skipped by Mrs. E. Pelletier defeated Hamilton Victorias' Dr. E. Bagshaw 9-6.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Either Belleville Hawks will lengthen their OHA senior "B" group lead here tonight, or the Petes will pull up into a first-place tie with Hawks and Kingston. It's an 8.30 touch at Civic Arena with plenty at stake. The Quinte crew will try to regain sole possession of the top rung, and the Ellis outfit will be striving to keep up with the loop leaders. If Petes lose, they'll still be tied with Eagles back in third place, since Kingston and Eagles are idle this eve. It ought to be a speedy senior scrap with both sides giving it all they have. Last senior "B" tilt of the week here, so it rates a goodly crowd.

Publicity director of Detroit Red Wings comes out with the statement that it takes about 30 minutes to play regulation 20-minute period. He's been clocking the Wings at home and finds it usually runs from 28 to 31 minutes, though there are exceptions. One unusually long period lasted 55 minutes, but it was full of fights, arguments and various delays. Fastest time he noticed was 28 minutes. Referees can keep action flowing smoothly along with not too much time out for penalties and faceoffs. With two 10-minute rest periods, a game should be run off in approximately two hours. Or a bit less. Let's see how long it takes here tonight.

A big sports' banquet is planned for Toronto's Royal York Hotel on March 13. It's sponsored by the Ontario Sportswriters and Sportscasters Association with proceeds going to the campaign for crippled children. The general ante is $25 a plate, so it's not for the average person. Strictly stag with the attendance limited to 500. Requests are coming in from various centres, particulary Toronto, for ducats—Rex Stimers sold 16 ducats at one clip the other day in St. Catharines—and only so many guests, along with the scribes, can be accommodated. Anyone here interested should give us a call shortly.

Guest speaker at this giant "do" will be a big-name Hollywood star. Prominent sports figures coming will include Jack Dempsey, Joe DiMaggio, Lionel Conacher, Jim Thorpe (if he is over his illness), top stars in USA and Canadian football, ace golf pros, and a number of the NHL stars of today and of 20 years ago. It is just in process of organization yet by fellows like Rex Stimers, Milt Dunnell, Bobby Hewitson, Jim Vipond, Joe Perlove, Wes McKnight, Ivan Miller and other committee members of press and radio. The project is assured of being a success now before it has received any publicity, so there'll be a big demand for ducats coming on spring when the real tub-thumping begins. As an association member we'll be glad to supply info on it for interested Peterborough and district men.

Strong Cocoa By Bobo

Mind over matter, they say, meaning a guy has to use his head to get along. Well, Bobo Brazil, ebony-hued pro wrestler, certainly can use his. Butts his enemies goofy. Did that effectively in winning the semi-final bout here last eve o'er Mayes McLean, and then butt-ended the evening's performance with a skull session on Layton and his trainer. Did that because Layton was slashing a dazed Whipper Watson hard, after knocking Referee Sammy Gotter silly—or sillier—just previous. All rather confusing, what? Anyway, it pleased a hefty crowd which loved the action. Whipper won when Layton was disqualified. Bobo got the cheers, and his nibs got the headaches. Ditto his scrappy trainer. The prelim was a draw.

Old Lady Luck glanced briefly the other way in Bella Villa last night, just long enough for the junior puck Hawks to slip in the winning goal, and it wound up 6-5 for them over the Oddfellows. A tough one to drop as the Godfrey gang looked like they were taking the classy young Hawks right on their own pond. Sizzling mad over the reverse, the IOOF-ers will likely take it out on Lindsay here Friday p.m. (a father and son night) to keep in the heated race. Buckton, Coyle, Ferguson, Heffernan and Heafield did the Links' scoring, while Red Robinson aided on three in a smart showing. Four good clubs in that junior "B" setup this season.

Claims Misquote On Nylon Appeal

TORONTO, Dec. 12.—In connection with last Friday's OHA meeting which turned down appeals from nine suspended members of the Kingston Nylon club, Lorne Cook, OHA executive member from Kingston said on Tuesday that his statement of that night was misinterpreted.

The newspaper report said that "Cook blamed Mr. McKnight (team manager) and Coach George Patterson" for the plan to throw last season's senior A semi-final series to Peterborough Petes.

"I didn't say exactly that," Cook pointed out. "Rather, I said that if such a plan was talked of or arranged to these two men's knowledge, then from the hearings already held I would say Mr. McKnight and Mr. Patterson were NOT BLAMELESS."

Cook also wanted an "apparently" attached to his reported statement that "A lot of the younger players didn't realize or know what was going on."

Oddfellows Edged Out 6-5 By Belleville Juniors In Hard-Fought OHA Fray

Belleville Hawks edged Oddfellows 6-5 Tuesday night before a good-sized crowd of Quinte fans in a fast, wide open junior OHA hockey contest. The game was typical of previous clashes between these clubs with the issue always in doubt to the final whistle.

Heck Lalonde's tally at the three-quarter mark in the final frame broke a 5-5 deadlock to give the home crew a hard-earned win, after Oddfellows had tied the score in the second and twice forged ahead in the final frame, only to see ill-luck snatch victory away, at the elevent hhour.

A Slight Edge.

Belleville took a 2-1 edge in the first period as Bill Strahan and Don Houle tallied after Ab Buckton had given Oddfellows an early lead at the 28 second mark on a quick thrust from a Robinson passout.

Strahan equallized 13 seconds later combining with Lalonde on a lightning rush and back-handing a neat one to the open side as Wasson moved to save. Don Houle rushed with Ross Mason at the five-minute mark to blaze a short left-wing drive to the mesh as play steamed up and both goalies had to look sharp. Robinson and Armstrong each hit the goal post on almost sure tallies in the hectic opening stanza.

Gord Coyle put his team on even terms early in the second when he slipped a close one past Parclay on a passout and Claire Ferguson gave Oddfellows the lead near the half-way mark when he drove a 15-footer into the mesh after Robinson fed him a pass just inside the blue line. Red drew an assist on Coyle's goal also. Hawks flew back and the first line of Lalonde, Strahan and Jacklin asserted its power to tally twice with Strahan the marksman. The first drive gave Wasson no chance being well screened while the Hawk forward was in alone on the second to prick left corner. This trio made a hit with the home fans but Oddfellows were as good and earned the plaudits, as the tempo of play increased and thrill followed thrill. Kevin Heffernan tied the game late in the frame when he lifted a high one to the corner on a scramble from just outside the crease.

Nip and Tuck.

An early tally by Lalonde in the final chapter on a rush with Strahan again gave Hawks the advantage but after 12 minutes of gruelling play, Hayfield scored on a long low drive that beat Barcley all the way. Fate dealt kindly with Hawks, 2 minutes later, however, when Lalonde, who Starred throughout, worked inside the blue line near the right boards and drove a short, hard drive that just caught the short side. There were but five penalites.

Hockey Hints

The most important thing in hockey today is to be a good skater. Here are a few hints to follow:

1—Practice skating every time you get a chance.

2—Skate with your knees bent to give added power to your stride.

3—Keep your weight equally distributed on both legs, so that you can shift easily and quickly in either direction.

4—Practice your starting and stopping. A quick start is very important to shake your check.

Practice every chance you get. Remember you must be a good skater to be a good hockey player.

Bruins Edge Rangers 4-2 As Ezinicki Hits His Stride With Two Goals

By JACK SULLIVAN, Canadian Press Staff Writer

Bill Ezinicki, the Winnipeg strong boy whose main claims to fame are his bulging muscles, a bad-man reputation on the ice and a tendency the last couple of years to prolong his golfing into the National Hockey League season, emerged today as something of a dead-eye sharpshooter. Ezzie showed Tuesday night he could shoot as well as drive when Boston Bruins defeated New York Rangers 4-2 before a slim crowd of 5,494 at Boston. He scored two goals and was credited with an assist, almost equalling the two-goals-two-assists record he had compiled in 14 previous games this season.

What's more, Bill was a perfect gentleman. He didn't draw a penalty.

His first goal, scored midway through the second period, wiped out a 2-1 Ranger lead and his second, at 8:22 of the final stanza, broke the deadlock.

Ezinicki, one of the few NHL players who can be spotted by fans without consulting the numbers on the program, added to his hockey reputation the last two seasons by showing an early preference for golf.

Last year, he was found on a Winnipeg golf course while Toronto Maple Leafs were training and when he did report he was shuffled off to Pittsburgh, the Leafs' American Hockey League farm club. After 13 games he was traded to Boston.

Came To Terms

He pulled the same stunt this year. The Bruins had already started NHL season while Ezzie confined his shooting to golf. He eventually figured perhaps that the winter golf circuit was too tough and he came to terms with the Bruin management.

In both cases Wild Bill drew plenty of sports-page space.

Right up there with Ezinicki Tuesday night were captain Milt Schmidt and Ed Sandford, playing left wing for the first time in his career. This trio looked after all the Boston scoring.

Schmidt got the first Bruin goal on assists from Ezinicki and Bill Quackenbush. New York went ahead on goals by Wally Hergesheimer and Nick Mickoski in the second period, and Ezinicki, on an assist from Schmidt, tied it up.

Sandford received the assist on Ezinicki's second goal and the new left winger made sure of the victory with only 15 seconds remaining and goalkeeper Chuck Rayner pulled out of the Ranger nets. Schmidt set this one up after he beat Edgar Laprade to a faceoff in the Boston end and passed to Sandford.

Nels Stewart, one of hockey's greatest centres, ended a brief retirement 12 years ago tonight by scoring a goal for New York Americans against Chicago Black Hawks 15 seconds after stepping on the ice. It was his 318th NHL goal, and before retiring in 1940 he had set the league record of 323 goals, a mark now within the reaching distance of Maurice Richard of Montreal Canadiens.

Mohawks Bow To Providence In AHL Game

By The Associated Press.

The Cincinnati Mohawks aren't making any headway in their quest to reach second place in the western division of the American Hockey League. The Mohawks absorbed their fourth straight defeat Tuesday night as the Providence Reds edged them 3-2 in the only game played.

The setback dropped Cincinnati farther back into fourth place. The Mohawks trail the third place Cleveland Barons by three points and are six points behind the St. Louis Flyers in second.

Ray Powell's first period goal gave Providence a lead that stood up throughout the game. The Reds retained their advantage with a pair of second period tallies. Barry Sullivan assisted on all three Providence goals.

Lakefield To Shun Series Loop Gets Another Blow

COBOURG, Dec. 12—Despite efforts of club heads and denials of rumors, the Lakeshore Intermediate "A" Hockey League is in grave danger of folding in spite of the fact that three clubs have artificial ice rinks and a measure of financial security.

Latest and most pertinent threat is the announcement that Lakefield will not enter the Winter series with four point games that were scheduled to start after Christmas. The reason given is "player scarcity."

Lakefield would have difficulty in icing a contending team under the strict OHA interpretation of the residence rule, President Staves said in announcing the club's decision. Close enforcement of the rule has been recently demonstrated in the settling of protests involving Cobourg and Port Hope in the same loop.

Staves said that most of the Lakefield and district players worked in Peterborough and thus could not qualify under the current interpretation of the rule. Since the club would be unable to ice a strong team, it was decided that Lakefield would drop out for this season, Staves said.

Bowmanville, fourth entrant last year, did not expect to ice a team this season, but came in at the last minute under a new executive. In view of the mild weather which will affect their natural ice rinks, and the current player trouble, the Bowmanville team cannot be counted on until it makes a definite statement after the holidays.

Still Feuding

Meantime, Cobourg and Port Hope are still feuding over the Medhurst-Flesch player incident.

Medhurst, given until Dec. 17 to make the Port Hope residence qualifications, under a new OHA ruling, left town yesterday after resigning his job at a leather factory here.

Cobourg Hockey Club heads will seek some satisfaction from the OHA in regard to player strength, since the departure of Medhurst has weakened the local team and strengthened an already strong contender in Port Hope.

The Cobourg club intends to complete the first part of the schedule, playing in Port Hope Wednesday night and returning here Dec. 19 to meet Lindsay. What move will follow is still in doubt.

In the event that Cobourg dropped out, an unofficial but close to the Lindsay team source has disclosed that Lindsay would not be in favor of carrying on a two-team group with Port Hope.

To add to the Cobourg woes, regular wingman Ken Wilcox suffered a hand injury in the rough Cobourg-Port Hope game here last Friday and will be sidelined for a week or more.

"It looks as though we're just out of luck," said President S. Williams of the Cobourg Comets in discussing the situation Tuesday.

Stanky Begins Job With Cards, Faces Problems

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 12 (AP). — Edward Raymond Stanky steps gingerly into his new role as manager of the St. Louis Cardinals today confronted by a novel problem. Can he win a starting position on his own team?

It's definite, says the former New York Giants second baseman, that he will serve as a playing manager. However, the "ifs, buts and maybees" begin to pile up when he's asked where he will insert himself in the Redbird lineup.

After signing a two-year contract with owner Fred Saigh around supper time Tuesday, Stanky says he isn't ready to make that decision yet. Or any others for that matter.

The deal that brought Stanky to the Cardinals to replace the ousted Marty Marion as manager has been kicked around for a few months now. Yet it took almost three hours of actual conference between Eddie and Saigh to agree to terms.

Saigh held out for a one-year term, two years at the maximum. Eddie originally wanted a three-year contract.

For giving up their peppery second baseman, the National League pennant-winners received veteran pitcher Max Lanier and outfielder Chuck Diering from the Cards.

Anybody's Guess

As for the price Tab Saigh placed on Stanky's services, it's anybody's guess. But the baseball men who say they know about such things place it at about $32,500 a year.

But getting back to Stanky and the Cardinals. Eddie says any decisions concerning the playing personnel, will have to wait until spring training.

Eddie includes himself in that spring training test. He said he'll be competing against "the best second baseman in the league," Red Schoendienst. But Stanky isn't sure second base is the only place he may find an opening to squeeze into.

"Who plays regularly at third, short and second will depend on what Schoendienst, Solly Hemus and myself can show next spring."

Hemus, who Stanky calls the most improved infielder or outfielder of the 1951 season, has been rejected and recalled on occasion by the Cardinals from their farm system.

Like most of the Cardinal followers, Eddie maintains that it was Hemus who played a major part in keeping the Cardinals in third place last season.

DiMaggio Through As Player Likely To Remain With Yanks

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK, Dec. 12—(AP)—Joe DiMaggio, definitely through as a player, is expected to remain in the New York Yankee organization in the role of a television broadcaster.

The great outfielder, who Tuesday announced he would never wear a baseball unifc. . again, as a player, manager or coach, is considering an offer as TV commentator of Yankee home baseball games.

While both parties refused to commit themselves, Yankee president Dan Topping admitted DiMaggio had been offered the TV job "among other propositions." DiMaggio said all his offers dealt with radio and television and "it is possible" he will accept the Yankee bid. The TV post reportedly would earn him $50,000 a season for three years.

DiMaggio planned to leave for his home in San Francisco on Friday to mull over all the propositions. He said he expected to reach a decision "some time next week."

The Yankee clipper appeared in good spirits as he outlined his reasons for quitting before grinning cameras, glaring lights and the largest press gathering since the days of Babe Ruth.

"Old injuries that lingered on and some new ones hastened my decision to retire," DiMaggio explained.

Another reason for retiring was night baseball, which Joe estimated cut about two years off his career.

"It gets tough to recuperate the next day from a night under the bulbs when you get older. Night ball should be played every night or not at all.

"You don't get to bed until two in the morning, or so, and wake up at 10. I found that wasn't enough rest to get the aches and pains out of my system. I'd go to the park for an afternoon game the next day, and sometimes I wouldn't wake up until the fifth or sixth inning.

"I feel I have reached the stage where I can no longer produce for my ball club, my manager, my teammates and my fans," he added. "I had a poor year last season. But even if I had hit .350, this would have been the last year for me.

"When baseball is no longer fun, it's no longer a game. And so, I've played my last game of ball."

Justice Finds Paper Guilty Of Contempt

TORONTO, Dec. 12 (CP)—The Globe and Mail Tuesday was found in contempt of court in publishing an editorial which criticized the sentences given four youths convicted Nov. 6 of raping a 16-year-old girl in west-end Willowvale Park May 15.

Mr. Justice Dalton C. Wells held that the morning paper was in contempt because it published the editorial during the hearing of a similar charge against a fifth youth who had been granted a similar trial.

The jury disagreed late Tuesday at the trial of the fifth youth, Robert Thomas, 16. He will be tried again next month.

Defence counsel R. C. G. Wilson objected that publication of the editorial might prejudice a jury against a fair trial.

Pay Costs

Mr. Justice Wells said in his judgment that he was not able to say, after reading the editorial, that it would not prejudice the giving of a fair trial.

"In view of all the circumstances, I am not prepared to impose any penalty on them (The Globe and Mail) for the contempt I have found save that which has been imposed in many such cases, that of making the proprietors of The Globe and Mail liable for the costs of this motion. There is no other penalty."

He fixed the costs of the motion at $60.

Raised Eyebrows

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 12 (AP)—The film colony raised an eyebrow today at a report that Elizabeth Taylor and British actor Michael Wilding plan to be married in Mexico before Christmas. Both parties are still married. Miss Taylor's California divorce from hotel heir Nick Hilton won't become final until Jan. 30. Wilding's wife, actress Kay Young, sued for divorce in London only last Nov. 15.

His address was on the nation's business, free-time political broadcast over a CBC trans-Canada network.

Had To Close

TORONTO, Dec. 12 (CP) — Howard B. Moore, managing director of the Federation of Automobile Associations of Candaa, said Tuesday that credit restrictions have forced some association members to close and cut car sales by 85 per cent in some areas. Directors of the federation decided to interview Finance Minister Abbott in an attempt to have the restrictions eased.

Hiding Under Bed

OTTAWA, Dec. 12 (CP) — Alphonse Plante 43-year-old escaped convict who police had described as "dangerous and mean," was captured Tuesday night under a bed. Fear New World Catastrophe As Kedah Frogs Fight To Death

BEDONG, Malaya, Dec. 12 — (Reuters)—The frogs of Kedah fought again Tuesday, locked mouth-to-mouth while villagers here looked on the battle as an evil omen heralding another world catastrophe.

These simple people recalled that the frogs, hundreds of them, rose against each other on the eve of the First World War and again as the Japanese invaded Malaya in 1941.

Old men spoke of those battles with awe, claiming the small reptiles broke off spiky blades of grass to use against each other.

During the Japanese invasion and immediately before the atom bomb burst over Hiroshima the frogs fought among themselves as they did Tuesday in battles to the death.

There was a variation in this their latest uprising. They used no grass blades, just their mouths as weapons

If parted during conflict they would immediately get to savage grips again, retaining their holds until one died. The victor would then look for other victims.

The fight, which started unannounced in a small lake, broke off as suddenly as it began.

But those who saw it went away convinced they witnessed an evil prophesy of impending disaster.

Sergeant Believes Prayer Won Battle

By BILL BOSS

WITH THE CANADIANS IN Korea, Dec. 12—(CP)—The sergeant says he prayed. And that it helped.

Shells were pouring on the position, a slender strip of ridgetop, heavier than Canadians had ever before experienced in Korea—perhaps anywhere. The troops were of the 2nd battalion Royal 22nd regiment and the shelling took place during their epic Nov. 22-26 stand.

From tanks, self-propelled guns, artillery field pieces and mortars they fell at an estimated 300 rounds every two minutes—9,000 an hour. The sergeant's company commander said later it was worse even than the concentrations he endured in the Hochwald Forest during the Second World War.

But the sergeant it was his "first time ever" under anything like it. It was his first all-out battle, although he had been in action before with the 2nd battalion Royal 22nd regiment in Korea.

Vulnerable Approach

It was cold, dark, and his men were deep in mud.

They were guarding the most vulnerable approach to the Canadians' stout perimeter on the ridgetop.

There were gully-approaches to their left and right. Directly ahead was Mount Kowang, abandoned by United Nations troops after a half-hour bombardment and attack by Communist forces now poised up there to swoop down again, as they had done seven times already.

Stretched out behind, along the crest, was the rest of the company—or what was left of it—clinging firm despite the shelling, despite Chinese a bare 150 yards away atop the peak at that end, and despite the brief loss of part of its position, later recaptured.

The job was simple. Sit and take it. Beat them back if they come. But hold at all costs.

"I knew we had to," the sergeant said later. "I heard the lieutenant ask the major when 355 (Mount Kowang) was gone what our line of withdrawal would be. The major said there would be no retreat.

Had No Sleep

"We had no sleep for the whole five days. We got so tired we mumbled songs to ourselves to keep awake. We said our prayers.

"And then the shelling. You mustn't let it get you. You get afraid, of course you do, but you talk it off. If you keep everything to yourself you go crazy. You talk and joke if you can. And you say your prayers, and that helps.

The section held its fire so as not to give away its location, then let loose with grenades as the Chinese assaulted. There were 30 in the first wave and the sergeant estimated 25 were blown to death by the flying shrapnel. Following Communists fell back to regroup and retired right into mortar concentrations called down by the lieutenant.

The company's stand was a repetition of the sergeant's story on the whole platoon front. And still the Chinese kept coming.

Praise Enemy

Individually, and together the sergeant, his lieutenant and his major praised the bravery of the enemy.

"They just kept on coming," they would say. And the sergeant: "They must have a mentality completely different from ours. Nobody in his right mind would advance like that. At night they even give notice by firing flares and yelling as though to announce to us that they were coming."

Direct of eye, and every inch a soldier, the sergeant is 26-year-old Denis Lapierre of Quebec.

He allotted himself the trench he occupied during the battle, right in the middle of the men guarding that approach. They, incidentally, were Cpl. Raymond Dunbury of Ville La Salle, Que., Pte. Fernand Guerrette of Cabano, Que., Pte. Noel Pelletier, Montreal, Pte. J. Charrette, Pte. Claire, Que., Pte. J. L. Bougie of Valleyfield, Que., and Cheh Sang sup, a Korean "rice-burner" who with Bougie primed the grenades the others catapulted like exploding hailstones among the approaching enemy.

Said Lieut. Walter Nash of Ottawa, whom Lapierre trained when he was an officer cadet and who now is his platoon leader: "Had it not been for Sgt. Lapierre the results would have been otherwise."

WAR ACE KIN—Baron W. Richtofen, cousin of Baron von Richtofen, German ace of the First World War, has bought a farm in Nassagaweya Township near Guelph, Ont. The 42-year-old German, recently arrived in Canada, is shown with his wife and two of the imported trotting horses which he brought with him from his native Germany. He intends to breed standard breds, offspring of a famous trotter, King Harvester. The Richtofens plan to construct a small training farm when they get settled.

Calls Shippers Big Combine

WINNIPEG, Dec. 12 (CP)—J. L. Phelps, president of the Saskatchewan Farmers' Union, Tuesday called the Canadian Shippers' Association "a combine" and accused the group of causing the fall tie-up of grain.

Addressing the annual convention of the Manitoba Farmers' Union, he said the association would not allow foreign ships to load cargo at one Canadian port and discharge it at another Canadian port. This policy resulted in the "so-called" lack of shipping space blamed for congested grain channels.

"Our transport controller (R. W. Milner) soon plowed a furrow through that one," said Mr. Phelps. "I spoke to a Swedish captain at Fort William who said he would have been carrying grain long before if he had been allowed to."

The captain had told Mr. Phelps there were all kinds of ships in Sweden lacking cargoes which would carry grain from the lakehead to Eastern Canadian ports on a charter basis.

Likes TV Shows But Won't Start Yet—Crosby

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 12 (AP)—Television viewers will be seeing Bing Crosby on their home screens. But not right away.

The old groaner, who has never had a reputation as a chatterbox, is actually voluble on the subject of TV. He lives to talk about the new medium and his participation in it, but points out that his debut will not be in the near future.

"I'm too darned busy with other things right now," he said, "and I haven't decided exactly what I'd like to do on television. I'll get into it some day, but not until I figure out a workable formula."

The crooner said he carefully eyes the triumphs and errors of the performers.

"It's a tough go," said Bing, commenting on one well-known comic. He can have a couple of swell shows and the next week come up with a cruller. It's hard for him to keep up that pace.

"I think the only show that has found a fool-proof formula is the Lucille Ball-Desi Arnaz show. They seem to come up with a lot of laughs every time and the production is terrific. A lot of the other shows hit a few good weeks and then start floundering."

The Ball-Arnaz show is on film and it is probable that Bing's show would be, too. It is doubtful if he would do a live telecast.

A perfectionist, he pioneered the use of transcribed shows on the radio networks. He pointed out the value of building a library of TV shows for reissue purposes.

Bing emphasized that he wouldn't do a weekly TV show. Many stars are giving up radio for TV, and I asked Bing if he would be following the trend. His only comment: "I don't think so."

It's the extra that Counts!

City Of Coventry Becomes One Of Biggest Boom Towns

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

COVENTRY, England, Dec. 12 (Reuters)—Coventry, one of Britain's most blitzed cities, has become a boom town.

It has jobs and good wages for everyone—and houses for no one. Housing is so scarce that the mayor has asked people to stop coming to the city, but it is impossible to stop them.

Coventry's factories—the ones that attracted wave after wave of German bombs during the Second World War — pay the highest wages in Britain. Thousands of workers are earning up to £17 for a five-day week.

Some areas of Coventry have the appearance of old-time western gold rush settlements with prefabricated houses and wooden shanties springing up where buildings were knocked down by the German air force.

Millions of pounds worth of rearmament contracts—planes, tractors and machine tools—are responsible for the boom.

But the town has many headaches.

You can never be sure that the baker, the milkman, the plumber or the grocer will be there tomorrow.

The story is told of a bus driver driving a full load of passengers, who passed a notice announcing "men wanted" outside a factory. He pulled to the side of the road and dashed inside to get himself a job which paid more money than driving a bus.

Yet even busmen get higher wages in Coventry than anywhere else in Britain. Drivers get more than conductors, but the conductor with a basic wage of £5 19s can collect nearly £9 a week with overtime—and there is plenty of overtime.

Everywhere there are workers with money to burn. The taverns are always full and there are queues at the local dog racing tracks.

Yet scores of these men go home to sleep with their families in one room. A house is the one thing all their money cannot buy. Some 14,000 persons are on the waiting list for homes and it takes three years to get on the list.

With the jump in wages, the cost-of-living has also risen. Housewives say that they find it cheaper to pay bus or train fares to towns 15 and 20 miles away to do their shopping.

LIGHTHOUSE KEEPER RESCUED—"Aah! Civilization," were the first words of lighthouse keeper Willard Olson, seen in the front cockpit of a light plane, after he was rescued last Friday by pilot Lee Frankham. Olson was marooned on tiny George Island in Lake Winnipeg when an early freeze-up prevented supply ships from reaching him. Pilot Frankham brought him to Riverton, Man.

Canada's Defence Scientists Make New Flame Throwers

OTTAWA, Dec. 12 (CP).—The curtain of secrecy has been lifted just a bit on the men behind the fighting forces — Canada's defence research scientists.

A peek into this usually-secluded world shows they've perfected a new flame thrower and a new anti-tank shell. They're deep in research on such problems as bacteriological warfare, the effects of atomic radiation and guided missiles. And they're vitally concerned with a maze of problems presented by the bleak Canadian Arctic.

This glimpse is provided in the annual report of the Defence Department, detailing activities of Canada's fighting forces and related agencies up to March 31, 1951. A section dealing with the defence research board gives guarded references to what the scientists are doing in labs stretching across the land and into the north.

New Flame Thrower

The new flame thrower was developed at the Suffield Experimental Station in Southern Alberta where most work is highly secret. The report merely says the new weapon "has been undergoing tests during the past year" and "combines simplicity of construction and improved performance."

The new anti-tank round for 17-pounder and 75-millimetre anti-tank guns is the work of the Canadian armament research and development at Valcartier, Que. The report cites it as a "greatly improved" shell which has since been "accepted by both the United Kingdom and the United States."

It's at Valcartier also that the work in guilted missiles is going on.

In the telecommunications field Canada now possesses a network of ionospheric research stations "all across Canada and far into the Canadian Arctic" representing one of the largest and important propagation organizations in the world.

Vitally Important

Because the "auroral belt" — which disturbs radio signals crosses central Canada these studies are vitally important, the report says. It adds significantly:

"We cannot leave it to other countries since Russia is in a position to make the observations that can be made in Canada. A thorough knowledge of radio propagation conditions, in the north is an absolute essential to conducting even the simplest operations of war there, since the armed forces are more and more coming to depend on radio waves. . "

Other Arctic studies include the effect of cold on the body, perfection of new clothing, measures to deal with biting insects and development of cold-weather fuels and oils.

Naval research is concentrated on anti-submarine devices, including "new types of naval craft which would have high speed and other special characteristics."

Other Problems

Scientists working in Ottawa laboratories are digging into the mysteries of the "defensive aspects of chemical and biological warfare." Special attention is being given the problems of chemical warfare in the Arctic.

In a Kingston laboratory other scientists are conducting research "on some of the basic problems of defence against bacteriological warfare."

Nowhere does the report mention atomic weapons. In fact the word "atomic" is entirely missing. Closest approach to that vital field is a brief notation that "radiation" is one of the projects on which the board's medical scientists are working.

Harvest Completed

ST. THOMAS, Dec. 12—(CP)—The sugar beet harvest in this district has been completed with the last freight car loaded with beets moved out of the new shipping depot at Middlemarch, five miles west of here. This year's crop in the local production areas represented more than 150 freight carloads.

Franchot Tone Pays $400 Fine

BEVERLEY HILLS, Calif., Dec. 12 — (AP). —Franchot Tone on Tuesday pleaded guilty to a charge of battery upon columnist Florabel Muir—she said he spat on her—and publicly apologized before a courtroom containing about 70 persons.

He was then given a suspended 45-day jail sentence, placed on probation for one year, and fined $400.

Tone pleaded guilty to charges that he kicked Miss Muir's feet and ankles, spat in her face, grabbed her by a pearl necklace, and choked her.

Miss Muir, a writer for the New York Daily News and the Los Angeles Mirror, made a citizen's arrest of the actor at Ciro's night club.

Miss Muir claimed that Tone approached her as she sat at a table with her husband and told her he was so angry with her he felt like spitting in her face.

Tone resented some of the columnist's articles about him. She commented frequently in her column about Tone's romance with actress Barbara Payton and his backyard brawl with actor Tom Neal, who sent him to a hospital with a broken nose and facial cuts and bruises.

Congregation Has Get-together

ORANGE CORNERS, Dec. 12. —A very pleasant evening was spent Wednesday when Mr. and Mrs. Ken Strain entertained the congregation of St. John's Church, Emily.

During the first part of the evening the Ladies' Guild held their final meeting of the year and after the business was finished, Mrs. Boyd Windrim, president, thanked the ladies for their support and co-operation.

The Rev. Charles Richmond then took the chair for election of officers. The present officers were re-elected as follows: president, Mrs. Boyd Windrim; vice-president, Mrs. Nelson McConnel; treasurer, Mrs. T. Middleton, secretary, Mrs. Magee; sick convener, Mrs. K. Strain.

Mr. Richmond commended the ladies on the success of their activities during the year and also gave a talk stressing the power of prayer in the work of the guild. An exchange of Christmas gifts took place.

Later the Sunday School had a short program and the children received gifts from the tree also.

Lunch was served by the hostess and her assistants.

Mrs. Walter Magee, organist of the church, was presented by the wardens, on behalf of the congregation, with a necklace, bracelet and pin set. An address was read by Boyd Windrim and Stanley McCall presented the gift.

Mrs. Magee thanked the people.

The rector also spoke a few words of appreciation of Mrs. Magee's work in the church. After a social hour, B. Windrim thanked Mr. and Mrs. Strain for their hospitality.

Farm Forum Studies Folk School Plan

COLDSPRINGS, Dec. 12 (ENS) —Mr. and Mrs. Grant Carruthers were host and hostess Monday night to 45 members of the Plainville Farm Forum.

The members were divided into four groups, to discuss the subject: "Folk Schools for Farm People." Some groups thought a short course would be of more benefit. Others said they lack the knowledge of folk schools to know if it would help the people take a more active part in the community.

A social time was had with nine tables of progressive euchre played.

Prizes were won by Mrs. Allan Dines, Mrs. Jack Buttars, Arthur Buttars and Clarke McKinley. After the euchre, dancing was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

Next week the farm forum will be guests of Glourourim Farm Forum at the Glourourim school.

Two Farmers Get Scholarships

OTTAWA, Dec. 12—(CP)—Two young farmers, one in Ontario and the other in Alberta, Tuesday were awarded Nuffield scholarships for a six-month study of agriculture in the United Kingdom.

Sponsored in Canada by the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, the scholarships will go to: Donald C. Small, 29, of Iona Station, Ont., who has operated a 325-acre farm near St. Thomas since the death of his father nine years ago; Bruce Ellis, 24, of Hubalta, Alta., who farms with his father and brother on 1,100 acres near Calgary.

Both are busy farmers. S all has a registered herd of Scotch Shorthorns, raises corn and soya beans as cash crops, and keeps 65 head of cattle, 55 hogs and 200 hens on the farm. He is a past president of the Junior Farmers' Organization, is a director of his County Crop Improvement Association and holds office in a number of other rural organizations.

Ellis specializes in purebred beef cattle and wheat. He also is prominent in farm organizations and is president of the junior section of the Alberta Farmers' Union.

Both winners will leave for Britain next spring. They were selected from among 12 applicants by a selection committee headed by H. H. Hannam, federation president.

The Nuffield scholarships were initiated in Canada last year with funds provided by the Nuffield Foundation of England.

Predict Long Road Ahead Before German Army Ready

By BRACK CURRY.

BONN, Germany, Dec. 12 (AP)—Allied officials forecast today that—even if things go according to their fondest plans—it will take two years to plug the gaps in the European defence system with battle-ready German troops.

June of next year is considered the earliest possible date to start recruiting German manpower for the Western world's defence against Communism.

A full year will be needed to create the first cadres of a new German fighting force once recruiting begins.

Although most military planners agree that no realistic defence of Western Europe is possible without German troops, these Allied officials said even the 1954 timetable for effective German military help is threatened by the uncertainty over the creation of a European army.

Distinct Possibility

Rejection of the controversial European army plan in the French Parliament—considered a distinct possibility here — would force a revision of Western plans for German rearmament.

The United States, Britain and France formally have agreed that the Germans may have military forces only as a part of a six-have linked plans to make Western Germany almost a free country with the European army proposal.

If the European army plan is scuttled by France, the Allied officials said, months of new negotiations will be needed to work out a new approach to use of German troops.

Former French Premier Paul Reynaud said in Strasbourg recently that Britain's refusal to join the proposed European army means its defeat in the French Parliament. He predicted that the consequence would be that the United States would form a new German national army.

Try To Get Started

The foreign ministers of the six European countries — France, Italy, West Germany, Belgium The Netherlands, and Luxembourg—are meeting in Strasbourg in a final try to get the Continental army under way.

French officials want to start recruiting a 43-division force in April—provided the French Parliament approves the plan.

But Allied officials in close contact with conditions in Germany said French and Western military experts generally have under-estimated the difficult political and technical problems facing Germans in rearming.

The Germans west of the Iron Curtain are by no means united on the proposition they should contribute troops to the Western world's defence. Powerful political and church elements here have vowed to fight to the end against rearming.

Even if these obstacles are overcome there remains the time-consuming preliminary problems. They include:

1—Parliamentary action to set the rates of pay for the army and the method of recruiting; 2—registration of manpower; 3—creation of draft boards or recruiting agencies.

In a military sense, Allied officials said, there is no reservoir of trained manpower in Germany today. The country has a surplus of aristocratic generals, but the cream of the once powerful army's junior and non-commissioned officers died on Hitler's battlefields.

Canadian Brigade Hits Training Base Snag

By DOUGLAS HOW

WITH THE CANADIANS IN GERMANY, Dec. 12 (CP) — Plans to pitch Canada's 27th Brigade soldiers—some of them in the army only a short time—into a tough training schedule to make them ready for battle have been running into German snags.

The Canadians need more room to train in the Hannover area which is their main base. The Germans don't like to provide the room the Canadians want for the understandable reasons that they want the space themselves, for farming and other purposes.

The dickering, marked by proposals and counter-proposals about this and that piece of land, has been going on some weeks with Britons acting for Canadians because they are the ones with the legal status necessary for dealing with local German authorities.

Hannover's largest newspaper, Hannoversche Presse, already has published one article telling of efforts to take over a large heath as well as some farmlands surrounding it, saying that people of the area are against it and that two members of parliament have been helping to fight their battles.

Can't Understand

It wouldn't be so bad, say the Presse, if they only wanted the heath—where thousands of German cavalrymen have trained in the past—but why "these few thousand Canadians" need more than that is beyond the German paper.

Technically, Britain as an occupying power has the right to requisition land but she doesn't like to do it at this late stage of the ocupation, nor do the Canadians want her to.

Chances are that a lot of the 27th Brigade's training will be done a fair distance from camp—not an unusual thing in Europe—such as a large moor some 25 miles north of where the first brigade-size exercise is likely to unfold in January.

The problem applies particularly to three infantry units in the Hannover area. The engineers, at Hamelin, 30 miles south, have an excellent training ground. The artillery and tank men will be based at Hohne, five miles north on the fringes of the greatest armor training ground in Western Europe. The best infantry-training ground so far allotted is more than 100 miles away and units will move there for brief periods.

Won't Permit Over-Production Duplessis Says

QUEBEC, Dec. 12 (CP). — Premier Duplessis said Tuesday night his government will not permit over-production by Quebec's newsprint industry.

He told the Legislative Assembly Quebec paper companies have made requests to boost production but provincial authorities have turned them down.

The Premier said that at a time when there is a great demand for newsprint, the companies are inclined to overlook their own interests as well as public interests.

Premier Duplessis said the government still has in mind a project for establishment of a new paper mill to help meet the newsprint scarcity in Europe.

Encourage New Firm

He declared the government will encourage the enterprise with which the Simard interests at Sorel, Que., now are concerned.

At the same time, he said, the government will see to meeting the needs of United States newspapers since they are Quebec's best customers.

The discussion occurred during study of estimates for the provincial lands and forests department amounting to $4,968,000 for the fiscal year starting next April 1.

The Premier, replying to a question by Liberal leader George Marler, announced that a "substantial" reduction in the newsprint price, raised last July 10 to $112 a ton, has been obtained for Quebec Province newspapers.

Premier Duplessis did not give details of the reduction though he said it was retroactive to July 1 when a $10-a-ton increase took effect.

Cost Of Living Jumped 16 Points In '51

OTTAWA, Dec. 12 — In the first 10 months of 1951 the cost of living has risen 16 points to a new high of 191.2 according to Bureau of Statistics figures. The cost of living for the month of January stood at 175.2 and for February jumped to 179.7 an increase of 4.5 points, the largest for the 10-month period.

The indexes recorded for the cost of living for the various months in the period are:

January 175.2; February 179.7; March 181.8; April 182; May 184.1; June 187.6; July 188.9; August 189.8; September 190.4; and October 191.2.

The index for November will be announced early in January.

Judge's Death Delays Sentence

Sentencing of Jack A.Cockerill, 26, 384 Holloway Dr., has been pushed back to later in the general sessions because of the death of Judge Sheldon L. Smoke.

A Peterborough county jury took just 45 minutes Dec. 4 to find Cockerill guilty of stealing a quantity of metal ingots from the DeLaval plant. Cockerill pleaded not guilty.

He was remanded for sentence to later in the general sessions which were being presided over by Judge Smoke. Tuesday Judge M. A. Miller, Cobourg adjourned court to Jan. 14.

Meanwhile the court reporter will have to make a transcript of evidence so the presiding judge can study it before giving sentence.

Had Cockerill been tried before a judge alone, a retrial would have been necessary.

A retrial will be necessary in one civil suit.

This was a motor accident case involving Arthur Peters, Havelock, and Motorways Ltd., an Ottawa firm.

The case had been heard by Judge Smoke but he had not yet given judgment when he died.

Icy Highway Blamed In Crash Near Hastings

HASTINGS, Dec. 11—An icy road surface was blamed for a two-car accident on the Hastings-Norwood road about four miles north of Hastings Tuesday afternoon.

Damage to the two cars was estimated at $700. OPP Constable Donald W. Erskine of Campbellford who investigated said the damage was almost equally divided between the two cars.

Proceeding towards Campbellford, Gordon Pammett, 481 Gilmour St., Peterborough, lost traction on the slippery surface of a hill, and slid backwards, across the road.

An oncoming Hastings bound car, driven by George Rispin, 348 Davisville Ave., Toronto was unable to avoid a collision.

No one was injured in the accident.

15 Air Cadets To Take Air Trip

Fifteen members of the Peterborough squadron, Royal Canadian Air Cadets, will be taken for a two-hour air trip over the Toronto-Peterborough district on January 12.

Plans for this proposed trip were announced tolay by K. C. Dalrymple, chairman of the cadet sponsoring committee.

The fifteen boys will be selected from the more than 100 Peterborough Air Cadets on the basis of their smartness and general interest as cadets.

The group will be taken to Trenton and will take off in a Lancaster bomber aircraft there.

Mr. Dalrymple also said that this trip will be repeated at other intervals during 1953.

TWO WEEKS EARLY

A Peterborough car driver received a present from a parking meter today. He found a parking spot on Brock St., jumped out of his car and went to put a coin in the meter. Amazed he shoved the money into his pocket, saying, "a Christmas present, 30 minutes parking time already paid for."

Parking Meter Take Tops $127,000 Mark

Total parking meter receipts to the end of November were $127,352.82. That is for the period since May 12, 1947, when the street meters began clicking. Of that sum, the meters on the former market square contributed $4,096.38, since July 21 this year, as reported to the council by City Clerk Outram.

Meter collections last month were: $2,407 from the curb meters, and $1,023.87 from the city square. Fees and other receipts at the office of Mr. Outram were $6,544.47 for November.

Scalded In High Chair, Child Seriously Hurt

Richard Sanbeck, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey Sanbeck, RR 1 South Monaghan, is in St. Joseph's Hospital suffering from severe scald burns and shock.

The boy was admitted at 7 pm Tuesday after a kettle of boiling water near his high chair, had upset on him, scalding his shoulders and back. He was taken to Dr. A. L. Russell, Bailieboro, and then brought to hospital.

Hospital officials today reported his condition as serious. He is still suffering from shock and is in a semi-conscious condition.

2 Constables Dismissed In Lindsay

Police Chief Charges Men Neglected Duty In Break-in Arrests

LINDSAY, Dec. 12—(Staff)—Two Lindsay constables, suspended Monday for a week, were today dismissed by Police Chief Arthur Webster.

The dismissal followed charges of neglect of duty levelled at the officers after charges of breaking and entering, against two Lindsay men, were dismissed.

The two constables are: Gordon McCartney and Russell Hargrave.

Refused to Resign

It is understood that today, the two suspended constables spoke to Chief Webster, and refused to resign. The chief thereupon dismissed the two.

Mayor Charles Lamb ordered their suspension in Monday night's council meeting. The suspension was to be effective until Chief Webster had given the two a hearing, which was held Tuesday.

The charges of neglect of duty came after William Daynes and Thomas Bolderstone, the latter a former Lindsay policeman, were acquitted of charges of breaking and entering a Lindsay electrical appliance store.

At the scene of the break-in, the two constables arrested only Daynes, permitting Bolderstone to proceed to his home, although he was seen only a few feet from the store.

Hargrave said: "We will fight this case. We do not think we were given a fair deal when we were exercising our judgment in this particular case."

Woman Hurt As Car Rolls 3 Times

A Maynooth woman is in Civic hospital with a fractured collarbone after her car rolled over three times in the ditch Tuesday noon.

The accident victim is Mrs. W. J. McCaw, 48, Maynooth. Her condition today is good.

Mrs. McCaw was driving on a straight stretch of Highway 28, two miles north of Young's Point, when her car ran off the highway into the south ditch. The highway runs east and west on that stretch.

The car rolled over three times, a distance of 120 feet, and stopped upside down.

A son Jack Watson and a daughter were passengers. They escaped with only a few bruises. At first the trio were trapped in the car but they managed to pry open the driver's door of the sedan.

Mrs. McCaw was treated by Dr. Lloyd Bailey, Lakefield, and then taken to hospital.

OPP Constable T. H. Armstrong investigated.

Truck Overturns

A small cut on the head was received Tuesday by Robert Kemp, Bailieboro, when his three-quarter ton truck overturned in the ditch, a mile and a half north of Selwyn on the Buckhorn road.

Kemp was driving the truck owned by Gray and Banks, Bailieboro, north on the Buckhorn road when he lost control as the wheels skidded on an icy patch.

About $600 damage was caused to the vehicle.

OPP Constable Wallace Mohns investigated.

Erection Of Memorial Community Centre Fails To Come Up At Council; Appears Stalled

The year ends without any gain, apparently, on the Memorial Centre front.

Mayor Swanston took it to hand some weeks ago in the hope of getting the project back onto its feet again. Council was prepared to resort to annexation. An authorizing bylaw was to be prepared, and probably was, but it was not presented at the council meeting Monday night.

It looks as if the Centre can crawl back into its hibernating quarters for another winter, although Maurice Ketheson says he is still keeping an eye on it.

The recommendation of the legal committee was:

"That City Solicitor Huycke be requested to prepare a bylaw for submission at the next meeting of the city council, for expropriating that part of Morrow Park required as the site for the Memorial Centre building."

Discussing Park

Council was about half an hour in the opening of its session. Mayor Swanston offered the capsular information that the council had been discussing a lawyer's statement about Morrow Park.

So, the inference is that the Centre project has done another flop, and that Morrow Park remains inviolate. The market flurry about use of the old drill hall has evidently spent itself in the same direction. If that wasn't a service to district agriculture, its promoters suggested that they could not imagine any other activity of rural interest that could hope to get its nose inside the Park.

To complete the reference to the bit of business relating to expropriation, Mayor Swanston remarked: "The bylaw will not be before the council tonight". All hands are back where they started.

Counties Ask Resignation Of Clerk-Treasurer More Than $1,200 Missing

COBOURG, Dec. 12. — Northumberland and Durham Counties Council, meeting in a special session Tuesday afternoon, accepted the resignation of counties clerk-and-treasurer, William E. Barr, and decided on a complete check-up of the accounts by an outside firm of auditors. The council will meet today to authorize hiring of the new firm of auditors and to appoint a temporary clerk-and-treasurer until a permanent one is appointed.

Opening the session, Warden George Walton said that he regretted that the meeting had to be called but circumstances beyond his control had arisen and there was no course other than to call a special session. He said that he had the resignation of "my good friend, the clerk and treasurer, William Barr," for the consideration of the council. He then called for the report of the special committee, which was as follows:

"Report of committee set up by Warden Walton to investigate operation of the office of the county clerk and treasurer."

"The finance committee at the November session of the counties council found certain irregularities in the operation of the county treasurer's account in that certain monies alleged to have been paid by the treasurer, had not in fact been paid by him. The accounts in question were as follows: McCann, $64.25; McLaughlin, $47.75; Reeve Dr. Wright, $55.25 and Morgan, $40.00 —Total $207.25. In addition to this the fox bounty from the Township of Hope in the amount of $130 had not been entered as a receipt nor had $130 payable from the estate of Mr. Charles a former inmate of the Counties Home.

Set Up Committee

"The warden and finance committee were much concerned over the shortages set out above and as a result the warden set up a committee to investigate the irregularities in the clerk-treasurer's office and the committee was as follows: chairman, Reeve C. Chapman; members, Reeve H. Allen, Reeve Frank George, Reeve H. Campbell, Deputy Reeve F. M. Vanstone and Reeve Dr. J. W. Wright. The warden also took an active part in the committee of investigation. The committee requested the auditors to make a check audit of the county books and as a result a further shortage of $1,246.43 was discovered. This amount was money which was paid to the treasurer by Mr. Duncan, superintendent of the Counties Home, being the proceeds from the operation of the county farm. "The treasurer admitted that he had received the funds and returned the money to the County on Monday, December

Greg Clark Tells Fishing Stories To Sales, Ad Club

Three of Gregory Clark's fishing stories—two of them about the Kawarthas—had members of the Sales and Advertising Club in stitches Tuesday night.

Mr. Clark, one of Canada's best-known fisherman and writers whose articles appear weekly in The Examiner was guest speaker for the club's Christmas meeting at the Empress Hotel. He was introduced by Harold L. Garner and thanked by P. J. La Branche.

Mr. Clark's stories dealt with fishing in Quebec, on Lovesick and Stony lakes. Unfortunately parts of them were more suitable for private hearing than public printing.

After his talk, he was presented with the Order of the Kawartha Muskie by Mayor Max Swanston. A rod, reel, line and plug, with a dead ciscoe attached, were also given to him.

High School Bond Issue Authorized

County Must Wait 30 Days To Start To Build In Lakefield

Peterborough county council Tuesday afternoon gave third and final reading to a bylaw authorizing council to issue debentures to finance the proposed high school in Lakefield.

The $330,000 bylaw has already received the aproval of the Municipal Board but another 30 days must elapse before it is validated. This gives any party who wishes to protest against the bylaw a chance to do so.

Beginning January 2 and closing on the noon of January 14, bids will be asked from bonding companies for both the $330,000 issue for the Lakefield District High School and the $390,000 issue for the Norwood District High School.

Will Save Money

The county is issuing the debentures under a provision of the High School Act permitting it to do so. The purpose of financing the two projects in this way is to save money for the ratepayers in the two high school districts.

Because of its greater credit resources the county can borrow money for less than its individual municipalities.

The $330,000 for the Lakefield District High School covers the cost of purchasing the site, constructing the building and equipping it.

Work has not yet started on the Lakefield school. But it is understood the school board is only waiting for the bylaw to be validated before giving the go-ahead signal.

Municipalities in the Lakefield District High School area are the village of Lakefield, the townships of Chandos, Burleigh-Anstruther, Harvey, and parts of the townships of Smith and Douro. Part of Dummer township will join Jan. 1.

The seven-acre site for the school has already been chosen. And a contractor has made a tender for construction of the building.

Knocks Off ½ Mill

E. C. Braund Estimates City Gains $15,000 Over Market

Ald. E. C. Braund estimated Monday night at one-half a mill in the tax rate the benefits to the city of the transfer of the outdoor market from its location at Water and Charlotte Streets.

The approximate cost to the city of $3,000 a year was being converted to about $12,000 in revenue, amounting to a difference, he said, of $12,000 to $15,000 as a present advantage to the ratepayers.

Towards to close of the council meeting, Ald. Braund said: "May I at this time make a few remarks as this is the last official session of the year."

His voice broke with emotion as he spoke briefly of the sudden death of his brother, Dr. Stanley Braund.

"At the outset may I express my appreciation for the sympathy and acts of kindness which my family and I received from the members of the council in the recent and untimely death of my brother.

Next, I would like to congratulate Aldermen Dewart, Miller and Anglesey on their re-election last Monday and also Mr. Black and Mr. Longhurst on their election to the council.

Great Experience

"It has been a pleasure and a great experience for me to have served the city as an Alderman in the last two years. A great deal has been accomplished in those years, and I know how much time and work have been required to do all this. I don't think the citizens at large realize what the council of the city has to do to provide the good government with which Peterborough is blessed.

"As for our Mayor, it has been a pleasure to work under him. He was always ready to listen and discuss things with me, and I know Peterborough has been fortunate to have had such a man.

"Next year, he and I will be on the sidelines cheering you fellows along, and I know Alderman Waddell will be just as capable as our present Mayor of carrying the official chain of office.

Fine Staff

"I would also like to state that my contacts with the city staff have been of the highest order, and the city is fortunate to have such servants.

"After reviewing the council's work for the past two years, I believe all our decisions have been made for the good of the majority of the citizens of Peterborough. Sometimes the benefits of these decisions cannot be seen at once. One example is our new market square.

"I believe the time will come when the citizens generally will appreciate the decision which this council was unanimous in making.

"The farmer and the customer are no worse off than they were before. The old market was in the open; so is the new.

"I understand that there are as many and possibly more sellers with the turnover greater, than at the old site. The present location is near the centre of population, and there is adequate market space for the market's patrons.

"The merchants in the centre of the city now have a place for their customers to park while they make purchases, and the old square is not now a "white elephant". I have had more than one merchant tell me his business has increased, and how much easier it will be to pay his taxes.

Meters Revenue

"The city is also receiving the revenue from the meters. It looks as though this will amount to about $12,000 to $15,000 a year. This amount helps every taxpayer in the city. Previously, the citizens were putting up about $3,000 a year to subsidize the market. Altogether this makes a difference of $15,000 to our city, or about ½ a mill on the city tax rate.

"In conclusion I wish to state that I vacate this chair knowing that all I have done was the best I could do for the benefit of the citizens at large. The city of Peterborough has been very good to me and several generations of my family, and I am grateful for the opportunity I have had to pay back in a small way the debt I owe to this city.

"I wish next year's council the very best, and if at any time I can by of use I will be very glad to help."

Ald. Doug Miller said the council appreciated the associations with Ald. Braund, and was sorry to see him leave. "But such is life in the civic service." Ald. Braund was still a young man, Ald. Miller said, and the future might present another opportunity to him to return to the council. "We wish you and yours the best in the years ahead."

Pension Changes Topped 1951 Ottawa Legislation

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

OTTAWA, Dec .12 (CP).—Parliament made major changes in Canada's old-age security program in 1951 and set its sights on a 1952 study of a national health-insurance plan.

At spring and fall sessions, old-age security measures highlighted the legislative program.

In the spring the Government obtained authority to share on a 50-50 basis with the provinces the cost of $40-a-month pensions to needy persons between 65 and 70. The payments will start in January in those provinces which have concluded agreements with the Federal Government. An estimated 145,000 Canadians will be eligible.

In the fall, Parliament approved payment of $40-a-month pensions to Canadians 70 and over, regardless of means, provided they have lived in Canada for at least 20 years. These pensions, with payments to start in January, will be administered solely by the Federal Government and will be financed through special, earmarked taxes. About 700,000 Canadians will be covered.

The new Acts replaced legislation under which pensions of $40 a month were paid to needy persons 70 and over who had lived in Canada for at least 20 years. The federal government paid 75 per cent of the cost and the provinces the remainder.

2-2-2 Formula

Expected to cost about $400,000,000 a year, the new pensions for all 70 and over will be financed under what has become known as the "2-2-2" formula. It will consist of a two-per-cent levy on personal incomes, a two-per-cent tax on corporation profits and a two-per-cent sales tax.

Contributions through personal income tax will be limited to $60 a year. No increase was made in the existing sales tax of 10 per cent. The Pension Act simply earmarked one-fifth of the sales tax for pension fund purposes.

Improvements also were made in pensions for the blind.

To Study Insurance

Demands were made for a national health-insurance plan to round out the federal government's social security program. Health Minister Martin promised to establish a committee at the 1952 session to study national health insurance. But before any national plan can be introduced in Canada, the unanimous consent of the provinces will have to be obtained.

Other legislation covered such things as military commitments abroad, construction of the St. Lawrence seaway, equalization of freight rates across the country, financial assistance to the public-owned CBC, aid to universities, and amendments to the Criminal Code, the Canadian Citizenship Act, and the Indian Act.

Parliament approved the dispatch of an army brigade to serve under Gen. Eisenhower in Europe. Provision was made to extend to Canada's brigade in Korea the benefits granted to veterans after the Second World War.

The seaway legislation marked a concrete step by Canada to undertake the multi-million dollar project without assistance of the United States. However, the door was left open for the United States to join in the project before the work actually starts.

Protracted Drive

The freight rate legislation was based on recommendations of the Royal Commission on Transportation which studied Canada's transportation problems for two years. The drive to equalize rates is expected to take years.

The government, acting on a recommendation of the Massey Commission on Arts and Science, decided to provide an annual parliamentary grant of $6,250,000 to the CBC for five years. It also voted $7,000,000 in aid to Canadian universities.

The Criminal Code was amended to tighten laws covering drunken driving, sex perverts and bookmakers. The Canadian Citizenship Act was amended to prevent retention of Canadian citizenship by persons who have renounced allegiance or shown by their conduct that they are not loyal to Canada.

The Indian Act was overhauled to give the 135,000 descendants of Canada's original settlers greater say in the management of their affairs.

At the spring session, a new department was established to handle Canada's $5,000,000,000 defence production program for the next three years.

A sum of $25,000,000 was voted as an initial contribution to the Colombo plan for aid to South and Southeast Asia.

PATRIARCH HONORED — Cardinal Agagianian, Patriarch of Cilicia and head of Armenian Catholics throughout the world, is shown, left, receiving an honorary Doctor of Laws degree at St. Francis Xavier Universtiy, Antigonish, N.S. Most Rev. R. Macdonald, bishop of Antigonish, presented the degree. Boston College also will honor the Cardinal next month.

WI Meeting Plans Drama Festival

ROSENEATH, Dec. 12 (ENS)—Planning a district drama festival for West Northumberland Women's Institutes was the highlight of a district executive meeting held December 9 at the home of the president Mrs. Hilton Eagleson, Cobourg.

Mrs. R. E. Drope, Harwood, and Mrs. Charlton Grigg, Roseneath, were appointed a committee to assist the president and secretary in the final details of the competition.

Object of the festival is to raise funds to further the girls' club work in the district. In a letter read by the secretary, Mrs. Floyd Harnden, from WI department, Toronto, it was stated that the district conference, "We Call It Human Nature," will be held at various centres in the district from April 29 to May 2.

On motion it was decided to present a clock to the girl from the district winning provincial honors in girls' club work and silver rose bowls to the girls winning county honors at Achievement Day in Brighton in May.

At the close of the meeting afternoon tea was served by the hostess.

Included among the members of the executive present were: Mrs. W. Bilcox, Wicklow; Mrs. Floyd Harnden and Mrs. A. Heeman, Grafton; Mrs. R. E. Drope, Harwood; Mrs. A. Parson, Cobourg; Mrs. Ambrose Fanning, Fenella; Mrs. Arthur Smith, Baltimore; Mrs. H. Eagleson, Elmview; Mrs. C. Grigg, Mrs. Frank Brown and Mrs. Bart Thackeray, Roseneath.

Tungsten Lack Poses A Problem For Big Mines

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

Some tungsten items:

Scarcity of tungsten has led Hollinger Consolidated Gold Mines, Ltd., at Timmins, to return to tungsten-production from an ore known as scheelite, which is found in limited quantities in the big gold-producing property.

During the Second World War Hollinger mined and milled 52,744 tons of scheelite, from which it got 266,000 pounds of tungsten.

Details of the operation are given in the current issue of "Hollinger Miner," a company publication.

Placer Development, Ltd., recently put into operation a mill to handle 250 tons of ore a day at the Emerald Mine at Salmon, BC, a tungsten-lead-mining property.

This is the latest step in a sequence which, as outlined by Greenshields and Company, Montreal, runs, in effect, as follows:

The federal government operated the Emerald in the tungsten-short days of the last war. Placer acquired it, through a subsidiary, in 1946; but, on a drop in price, gave up tungsten production in 1948 and converted to lead-zinc.

Early this year, with a tungsten shortage again at hand, the government re-purchased the orfginal tungsten deposit and commissioned Placer to build a mill and to operate it and the mine on a cost-plus basis. Placer retained the balance of the property and was given an option to acquire the mill following exhaustion of the old tungsten deposit.

Then, in a spring and summer exploration program, Placer found what is described as a "high new tungsten field," which is not part of the government-owned deposit.

As a result, Placer plans to double the capacity of the new mill at its own expense, stepping it up to 300 tons by next spring, and to between 500 and 600 tons by 1954.

In the meantime, at Outpost Islands in the Great Slave Lake, NWT, another property has been brought back into limited production, by Tungsten Corporation of Canada, Ltd. This is a tungsten-gold property and the company has added milling facilities in preparation for handling from 50 to 75 tons of ore a day.

Shortage of tungsten resulted from accelerated defence programs and the fact that supplies are cut off from the ordinary source,—China.

As "Hollinger Miner" comments:

"Tungsten's applications are so varied and necessary that modern industry and modern warfare could not be carried on without it. Tungsten has the unusual property of retaining its hardness and a hard cutting edge at very high temperature that would ruin a cutting tool made of ordinary steel. Up to 85 per cent of all the tungsten produced is used in the making of high-speed tool-steels."

Styles of 1700's Shown In Film

The ladies will find "Die Fledermaus," the special film showing this Thursday afternoon and evening at the Centre Theatre, most interesting because of the faithful reproduction of the styles of the 18th century. A grand ball takes place where the evening clothes are very lovely, and the interior decoration of that time should be noticed too, especially in the breakfast room scenes. This play contains a great deal of comedy. It is based on the world-famous operetta by Johann Strauss from which the name is taken. Several splendid musical features accompany the film.

Life On Broadway Proves Profitable For Gabor Family

By MARK BARRON

NEW YORK (AP) — Madame Jolie Gabor had a rude shock three days after she arrived on Broadway.

Her mink coat was stolen in a Times Square picture theatre. It was the only valuable possession which the Russians permitted her to carry away when they occupied her native Budapest.

The celebrated Gabors—Madame Jolie, mother of the three beauties, Magda (who designs jewelry), Eva (who is appearing in Broadway stage and television shows) and Sari (who is appearing in Hollywood movies and west coast television)—all have re-established themselves in the United States entertainment world, since they lost their fortune, home and business to the Russians.

The girls and their mother, used to a luxurious life of ease in their native land, arrived on Broadway one by one, determined they had to work for everything they received.

Great Treasure

"A person's greatest treasure is self-sufficiency," Mme. Gabor says. "A firm belief in himself and a capacity for hard work is necessary to develop one's talents. All we Gabors found it necessary to learn this after the Russians upset our way of life."

Mme. Gabor and Magda found Eva and Sari already well established here. Eva, acclaimed for her sexy performance in the Broadway comedy, "The Happy Time," was making rapid headway on television dramatic programs. Sister Sari had become the beautiful wife of movie actor George Sanders and was performing on her own video show. She will soon make her film debut in MGM's "Lovely To Look At."

Refused Assistance

Mme Gabor refused to accept any assistance from her well-established daughters. In her flight from Budapest she had learned to rely upon herself.

Once on Broadway she and Magda opened a small jewelry manufacturing shop and to this rendezvous came many noted stage and screen stars who had been guests in their Budapest mansion.

Madeline Carroll and Gloria Vanderbilt have a collection of the Hungarian jewelry designed by Magda who has a system of her own.

"Using cultured pearls and green gems — some emeralds, others jade, I make my original designs," she explained. "Then I make duplicates in less expensive jewels. I have a collection of copies of the imperial crown jewels of the Empress Maria Theresa."

Attend Soirees

Every afternoon the Gabor Salon stops creating promptly at 4 pm. That is when you can drop in for tea and cocktails. Attending these soirees recently have been Lana Turner, Lauren Bacall, Faye Emerson, Irene Dunn, Elizabeth Taylor and many other stars.

"It is all very nice, the Broadway," Magda said. "I will join my sisters on the stage this fall, but first I must comp ete all the jewel designs I have sketched. Our shop is so small that when we have more than one customer, they have to form a line."

DOROTHY DIX

Too Much Worry By Mother Will Defeat Her Objectives

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Perhaps my problem is a minor one, but it worries me a lot. We are middle-aged parents with three lovely children—the oldest 13. I have a wonderful husband who is very patient in every way, but my trouble is that I worry too much over the children. It's always been my place to discipline them and I'm afraid I've made a poor job of it. I scold them too much, perhaps because I am the nervous type. If my husband would reason with them a little, I don't think I would have to talk so much.

Dorothy Dix

The children are often very persistent when they want something, and since we have a debt on the home I think they, too, should be willing to make the best of things. Should I try to get the things they want, or make them do the best they can with what they have? Should I ignore some of their misbehavior, as my husband suggests, or continue the job of being sole disciplinarian?
W. M.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You seem to be so mixed up about your children that you have created several problems out of the situation. The fact that you are of nervous temperament naturally makes you a worrier and most of your worry apparently stems from your own inability to cope with everyday happenings. You present a rather vague picture of your family, and of your problems with them.

Don't Be A Nagger

Your husband's reluctnace to take disciplinary measures with the children, which seems to be your chief source of complaint, may be an attempt on his part to overbalance your own incessant worrying. This type of worry, you know, is usually manifested in constant nagging, and there can be no greater enemy to peace and harmony in the house. Don't let your anxiety over the youngsters' welfare take the form of continual scolding or harrying. Discipline, of course, must be maintained, but fretting is not the menas to this end. Whether you should ignore their misdeeds or not depends entirely upon the type of misbehavior they commit. It would be better, for instance, to let them get away with occasional carelessness about the house than to nag them into keeping the place in spic and span order. Don't worry over minor infractions.

Young as the children are, they are old enough to appreciate the family's financial status, and to realize that material things are available only to the extent of the budget. When they ask for something, consider carefully whether you can afford it or not. If not, the answer to them is no, and your decision must be maintained. If they are given clothes by other people, ask yourself if you would want to wear them. Sometimes a dress that just won't suit little Daisy can easily be remodelled into a dream of fashion. These are the channels into which your energy should be directed, instead of being wasted on needless anxiety.

Your fundamental trouble is probably physical. A thorough examination and a good talk with your doctor will set you straight on that point.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 24 years old and have given a friend financial aid for the past five years. This I did at his request. He si a year younger than I. He entered the armed forces in 1946 an dhas been there since. I let him have a thousand dollars or more in cash through the past five years. He has never written a letter of appeciation. Could this possibly be a friend or is it that he doesn't have time to write because of being in the service?
HAROLD

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You have no doubt heard that the best way to lose a friend is to lend him money. Your friend absolutely touches bottom when it comes to ingratitude. You, I am afraid, have simply been used as a soft touch. You have t en a very fine and true friend; it's too bad your investment yielded such poor return.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Another girl and I have asked the same boy to different parties on the same night, but he won't answer either of us and keeps putting us off by saying his father won't let him have the car. We don't know whether it is a reason or an excuse.
J. R.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Both you girls are very il-mannered and inconsiderate to put a boy in such an awkward position. Of course he can't accept both invitations and probably doesn't want to hurt the feelings of either one of you. Consequently, in a characteristically human fashion, he is dodging the issue. One of you girls should be gracious enough to relinquish the claim to him for that evening so the poor boy can have fun at least one party.

BREAK THE LAXATIVE HABIT THIS PROVEN WAY

If you take laxatives regularly, here is how you can stop! This proven plan helps you establish your natural powers of regularity, controlled tests prove.

Stop taking whatever you now take. Instead, every night for one week take two Carter's Little Liver Pills. Second week—one each night. Third week—one every other night. Then nothing! Every day drink eight glasses of water; set a definite time for regularity. This plan was proven in scientifically controlled tests.

How can a laxative break the laxative habit? Because Carter's unblock the lower digestive tract and from then on let it make use of its own natural powers. Further, Carter's contain no habit forming drugs. Break the laxative habit with Carter's ... be regular naturally.

When worry, overwork, overeating make you irregular temporarily—take Carter's temporarily. Never get the laxative habit.

Get mild, gentle Carter's Little Liver Pills at any drug store. Only 25c. You'll be grateful the rest of your life.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Suggest Roast Chicken Special-Purpose Menu

(I have such a stack of letters to answer I must use any known means to whittle it down. This menu will answer three enquiries. One was "Will you please tell me how to prepare a chicken? So that it will be tender and well browned?" Mrs. G. A. C. wants "A good recipe for sago pudding" and another would like "....a recipe for cooked salad dressing that is not too sweet nor too sour". So I worked all three of these desirable dishes into today's special-purpose menu.)

Roast Chicken (see notes)
Mixed Vegetables
(peas, carrots, limas—see notes)
Candied Sweet Potatoes
Cabbage and Green Pepper Slaw with Boiled Dressing (see notes)
Old-Fashioned Sago Pudding (see notes)
Coffee

Roast Chicken

DIRECTIONS: If you are not an old hand at dressing a chicken it is best to have your butcher do this for you. Wash the chicken in cold water, using a scrubbing brush with a little baking soda on it to brush the skin to make it very clean. If the chicken has hairs on it these should be singed over a flame while chicken is still dry. When washing inside the chicken be sure to remove the lungs and kidneys. Sprinkle inside lightly with salt after it drains.

Fill with STUFFING: 3½ to 4 cups fresh breadcrumbs (fairly well packed in cup), 3½ tablespoons melted butter or margarine, 1½ teaspoons summer savory or thyme, 1½ teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1½ tablespoons chopped parsely. Add crumbs to melted butter then stir in remaining ingredients with fork. If moist dressing is liked, add 2 or 4 tablespoons hot milk. A pleasant variation is to add ½ cup finely chopped celery (or chopped celery and blanched almonds) to the butter and saute them very gently just before adding the butter to the breadcrumbs.

After chicken is stuffed truss it by turning tips of wings under back; press legs close back against body and tie tightly in place with strong string. Place chicken on its back in roasting pan, and over breast place strips of bacon or spread with paste of 3 tablespoons butter and 2 tablespoons flour. Place in hot oven to start the cooking quickly, then reduce heat. Baste every 10 minutes with fat in pan or with 2 tablespoons drippings melted in two-thirds cup boiling water or if you bake the chicken in covered roaster it will not require basting. Turn chicken to lie on both sides during baking to brown it evenly. For a tender young chicken roast 15 minutes to the pound and 20 minutes extra. To brown chicken at last remove cover or turn on top oven.

Boiled Dressing

Mix together in top of double boiler ½ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon mustard, shake of cayenne, 1 tablespoon each sugar and flour, and the yolks of 2 eggs well beaten in ½ cup milk. Stir very well to remove any lumps, then add ¼ cup vinegar and cook over boiling water until thick. Remove from heat and stir in 1 tablespoon butter. Keep covered and cold.

Fruit Sago Pudding

Wash ¼ cup sago and soak 1 hour in cold water to cover. Drain. Add 1¾ cups juice (1 cup pineapple juice and ¾ cup orange juice) or any desired fruit juice such as peach or pear but orange is necessary and lemon is good in small proportion. Cook over boiling water until clear. Add ¼ cup sugar and stir until dissolved. Remove from heat and when warm fold in 2 stiffly beaten egg whites. Add ¼ cup shredded pineapple or sliced peaches or orange sections. Serve cold in tall-stemmed glasses.

What's Right?

In a crowd someone tells a story and the laugh is at your expense.

WRONG: Insist on telling your version of the story, in order to justify yourself, taking the whole matter seriously.

RIGHT: Laugh with the rest—and then, if you feel you must, make a remark or two that shows your point of view. But don't retell the whole story.

Counties Ask

10th 1951, one week after the shortage was discovered.

"The committee as yet has not had a full auditor's report but from its investigation suspects that there may be other irregularities in shortages in the operation of the County Treasurer's accounts. The committee is advised by the warden that the clerk and treasurer tenders his resignation to the warden which was accepted subject to the approval of the county council. Mr. Barr discontinued acting as clerk-treasurer for the counties of Northumberland and Durham on Saturday, December 8th and at the present time the counties are without any clerk and treasurer. This committee recommends as follows:

Recommendations

1. Approval of the warden's acceptance of the resignation of the clerk-treasurer. 2. That a thorough investigation be conducted of the operation of the clerk-treasurer's office and that an outside auditor be engaged for this purpose. 3. That an acting clerk and treasurer be appointed to carry on until a new one can be appointed. The committee wishes to state that it finds that Miss Erskine, the clerk-treasurer's assistant, has had nothing whatsoever to do with the irregularities in the clerk-treasurer's office. In view of this, she could continue on in her present capacity."

More To Investigate

On motion the report was accepted.

Warden Walton said that he felt that there was more to investigate and asked for the continuance of the special committee and he suggested that finance committee chairman, Reeve Charles Chapman, be acting treasurer until there was time to advertise for a new one.

Later counties solicitor Harvey Brent said that Mr. Chapman could not act because he was a member of the counties council. Reeve Roy Dodge of Cobourg asked if the council felt a new firm of auditors should be hired as it appeared as if the whole system needed revising.

Warden Walton said that there should be a full investigation of the whole county set-up and nobody take office until a new audit made. He declared that he was not satisfied with the thoroughness of the audit and felt that there should be a new firm of auditors. He suggested that a session be held next day at which time another firm of auditors would be decided upon. On motion the resignation of Mr. Barr was formally accepted by unanimous vote.

The warden drew attention to the fact that Miss Erskine, who is secretary to the clerk and treasurer while her employment was in a committee recommendation accepted by the council, had never been appointed by bylaw and council decided to bring in the necessary appointment bylaw at the session on Wednesday so that she could sign cheques with the warden. Warden Walton also asked for a vote of confidence in the special committee and this was done.

"We have been fair with Mr. Barr and we are not trying to knock him when he is down. We have bent over backwards and did all we could to help him. If the auditors had been on their toes he would not have been in the position in which he finds himself today. Mr. Barr is a valuable man and knows the Municipal Act like a lawyer. I blame the auditors as much or more than Mr. Barr," said Warden Walton.

Variety Show To Collect Christmas Food

Miss Toronto headlines a group of entertainers who will be supporting the Optimist Club's Christmas hamper show at the Brock St. arena Sunday afternoon from 2 to 5 p.m.

Admission price will be two tins of canned food, and whatever else audience members may wish to give.

Last year, the Optimists reaped a harvest of several tons of tinned goods and several hundred dollars in cash.

Radio station CHEX will broadcast the first half-hour of the show. Guest stars include sopranos Mabel McLarnon, Madame Pikelis, Joanne Chamberlain the Peterborough Citizens' Band, and the Orchestras of Bobby Kinsman, Hal McFarland and Graydon Sheldon.

Collegiate Singers

A barbershop quartet and a girls' duet from the Collegiate will sing, as well as Red Hewie, an old time vocalist. Tenor Sherman Harrison will sing "A Little Bit of Heaven" and "Estrellita."

Food collected will be distributed by the Salvation Army and representatives of the Roman Catholic church.

Pair Convicted Of Conspiracy

WATERLOO, Dec. 12 (CP) — Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sheldrick of Waterloo today were convicted on charges of conspiracy and false pretences in connection with $3,860 taken from prospective tenants for an apartment.

The couple were remanded a week for sentence.

Four prospective tenants advanced $800 each to the Sheldricks to finance renovation of a house into an apartment. One of the four, William Mundle, formerly of Owen Sound, advanced a further $660 to cover a bank loan and accepted a second mortgage.

Other persons involved were George Moser of Kitchen; Mr. and Mrs. John Riley, Waterloo; and Arthur Strone, Kitchener.

Defence counsel G. E. Eastman claimed there was no evidence of fraud and said the complainants were attempting to use the court as a collection agency.

It was reported that the first mortgage of $8,500 would be foreclosed on the house this month.

French Army Reports Crushing Offensive

HANOI, Indo-China, Dec. 12—(AP)—The French army reported today it had crushed a new, two-pronged Vietminh offensive to link Communist forces in central Indo-China with those near the Chinese border.

The drives were the biggest by the Vietminh since last May. Both attacks were launched Monday morning.

The strongest came at Hoa Binh, a vital highway centre 40 miles southwest of Hanoi. The town was the last Communist-held road link between north and south until French and Allied Vietnamese forces drove the Reds out of it a month ago.

The second attack was at Phat Diem, 75 miles southwest of Hanoi. It was aimed at getting a foothold on the fringe of the Red river delta. This attack also was beaten off.

Have Dog On Hands Which Wants To Suicide

PROVIDENCE, RI, Dec. 12—(AP)—The Rhode Island Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals is convinced it has a dog on its hand that is trying to commit suicide.

George J. Reilly, manager of the society, said Tuesday night the small, brown mongrel dog jumped in the Woonasquatucket River twice in the last two days, both times fighting off rescuers until captured with long poles and nooses.

Now, Reilly said, the dog is apparently trying to starve himself, rejecting both food and warm milk.

Reilly says he's hoping the dog's owner would show up so he can find out what's troubling the dog.

Holy Name Society Elects New Officers

Elected were: president, Robert J. Heffernan; vice-presidnt, Dan Sheehan; secretary, Wm. H. Moher; treasurer, John V. Moher; marshalls, Thomas Sheehan and William G. Towns; auditors, Francis L. Leahy and Gerard Hogan.

Dionne Quintuplets To Attend Carnival

ST. PAUL, Minn., Dec. 12 (AP).—The Dionne quintuplets plan to attend the St. Paul winter carnival, Jan. 26 through Feb. 3, it was reported here today.

The 17-year-old sisters, Marie, Annette, Cecile, Emilie and Yvonne, will make several public appearances on a float in the carnival's grand parade Jan. 26.

They will travel from Callander, by private railroad car. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliva Dionne, will accompany them, the report said.

Their trip is being arranged by Charles A. Ward, president of Brown & Bigelow, advertising specialty firm.

Council Helps Negro Family

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Dec. 12—(CP) — Suburban Stamford township council is trying to help a Negro family which claims to have been denied work because of alleged racial discrimination.

The council Monday night passed a motion directing the township clerk to write to the Unemployment Insurance Commission office here and to all industries in the area protesting the reported discrimination. It took the action after receiving a desperate appeal from the mother.

The woman, who asked that her name not be made public, said that neither her two sons, both of whom helped their collegiate institute win a Canadian track and field championship last year, nor her three daughters can obtain work. All five are in good health and have above-average educations.

Drew Predicts Steel Growth

TORONTO, Dec. 12 — (CP) — George Drew, national leader of the Progressive Conservative party, Tuesday looked forward to a "huge steel industry" in Canada with mills at various points from Atlantic to Pacific.

In what he called a non-political address to the Ontario Association of Ice Cream Manufacturers, he said the Federal Government will be faced in the next three or four years with the problem of whether to make steel in Canada or send iron ore out of the country for others to make steel for Canada and themselves.

Canada should boost steel production to 15,000,000 tons instead of the 3,384,000 tons produced last year, he said. Expanded steel production would enable Canada to support a much larger population, at least 100,000,000 persons.

He said Canada could export excess steel to Britain.

"A strong and prosperous Britain as the senior partner in a strong and prosperous Commonwealth still offers the best prospects for export markets in the years ahead."

2 Nuns Arrive From Red China

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 12.—(AP)—Two Roman Catholic nuns who arrived here Tuesday from Communist China said it would have been futile for them to remain in the Red-occupied country.

"We could do nothing by remaining in Communist China. Our work was forbidden. We could no longer administer to the Christians who remain," Sister Angela Marie told a reporter.

She and a companion, Sister Marie Ignatia, arrived aboard the liner President Cleveland from Hong Kong. They are en route to the headquarters of their order in Maryknoll, N.Y.

The two nuns said the Reds were imprisoning both priests and nuns. They said they had applied for exit permits when it was easier than now to get out of China. They said eight nuns and several priests remain.

Sister Angela, a nurse for many years, was at Kwangsi. Her family name is Covery, of Chatham, Ont. Sister Marie Ignatia was stationed at Kwangtung. Her family name is McNally.

Arena Insurance Cost Has Council Hollering

LINDSAY, Dec. 12—The cost of insurance for the Lindsay arena—$1,600 annually—had Alderman Vince Cote hollering Monday night, and Mayor Charles Lamb didn't blame him at all.

Ald. Cote remarked the arena carried proportionately more insurance than any other town building. It amounted to $11 a day, he said.

Ald. Lloyd Burrows, chairman of the finance committee, suggested that a committee of the 1952 council investigate ways to cut expenses. This suggestion was adopted.

Mrs. Thomas McIvor

Funeral service for the late Mrs. Thomas McIvor, 86, of 534 Sherbrooke St., who died a week ago Friday, was held on Dec. 10 at the Belleghem Funeral Home. The Rev. Henry Cotton of St. Andrew's United Church officiated and pallberaers were Jack Steinkrauss, Stanley Kann, Gordon Hancock, Harry Dorset, Harry McGinnis and Jack Wilson. Burial was at Little Lake Cemetery.

UK Industry Tries To Extend Export Flow

LONDON, Dec. 12 — (CP) — British industry acted today to extend and strengthen its administrative machinery for speeding the flow of exports to Canada and the United States.

The dollar exports council, which since June has lapsed into purely advisory functions, is being enlarged to encompass 17 of Britain's business leaders. Top British government officials will join council discussions when high policy decisions are required.

The council also announced that leading business men in North America have been appointed overseas members of the council. The Canadian chairman is James S. Duncan of Toronto. Other members are H. R. MacMillan of Vancouver and Lewis J. B. Forbes, president of the Canadian Association of British Manufacturers and agencies.

The moves announced today came from within the industry but the announcement has given its full blessing.

Painful Effort.

Reorganization of the council marks another phase in Britain's painful, post-war efforts to step up her sales in North America. The first was formation of the Dollar Export Board. This was succeeded last June by the Dollar Exports Advisory Council, which now sheds the "advisory" label.

Chairman of the council is Sir William Rootes, an automobile manufacturer.

Of the 16 other home members, 13 are knights and one Lord Bilsland, is a peer. One of the untitled members is Laurence Heyworth, director of Lever Brothers and Unilever Ltd., on of the world's biggest businesses.

Chairman of Unilever is Sir Geoffrey Heyworth, who served in the Canadian army during the First World War and in 1924 married the former Lois Dunlop of Woodstock, Ont.

Judge Confirms Site Assessment

LINDSAY, Dec. 12 — Lindsay's appeal to have its sewage plant site declared tax-free fell through when Judge J. A. McGibbon ruled Monday that the town must pay taxes on the Ops township property.

Reeve Richard Butler reported to city council that Judge McGibbon confirmed the $2,500 assessment when he found the town had leased trapping rights on the property. He noted that if the town owned 1,000 acres and had a plant covering only two or three acres, it could still not expect to go tax-free.

Town Clerk W. R. Allely remarked that the town would pay only 26 mills, not the full 42-mill rate general in the township.

Previously, the property had been assessed at $4,000 by the Ops township assessor, but this was appealed and Ops court of revision reduced it to $2,500.

Appointed PR Chief For Veterans Dept.

OTTAWA, Dec. 12—(CP)—Geoffrey Yates, 53, veteran newspaperman and former assistant director of public relations at Defence Headquarters, has been named as Public Relations Chief for the Department of Veterans Affairs.

He succeeds E. B. Reid who has resigned the Veterans Affairs post to direct public relations for the Department of Citizenship and Immigration.

Born in England, Mr. Yates has worked on newspapers across Canada and served at Defence Headquarters during the war. He is leaving the post of Parliamentary Correspondent for the Thomson group of Canadian newspapers to take his new position.

Small Baby Dies On Way To Hospital

WARKWORTH, Dec. 12 (ENS)—The funeral for Richard Ray Grant, 10-weeks-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Grant, Warkworth, who died suddenly Sunday night, was held today at the family residence.

The infant took sick Sunday and was being rushed to Peterborough hospital when he died. A post mortem took place in Dr. A. R. Atkinson's office, Norwood, where Dr. R. A. Louck, Belleville pathologist, reported that death had been caused by a heart ailment. This condition was unknown until the pathologist gave his report.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant have one other son, Jack, 7. The grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Grant and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Mallory also reside in Warkworth.

The private funeral service was conducted by the Rev. H. G. Lester. Pallbearers were Allan Birney and Ronald Covert. Burial was in Warkworth cemetery.

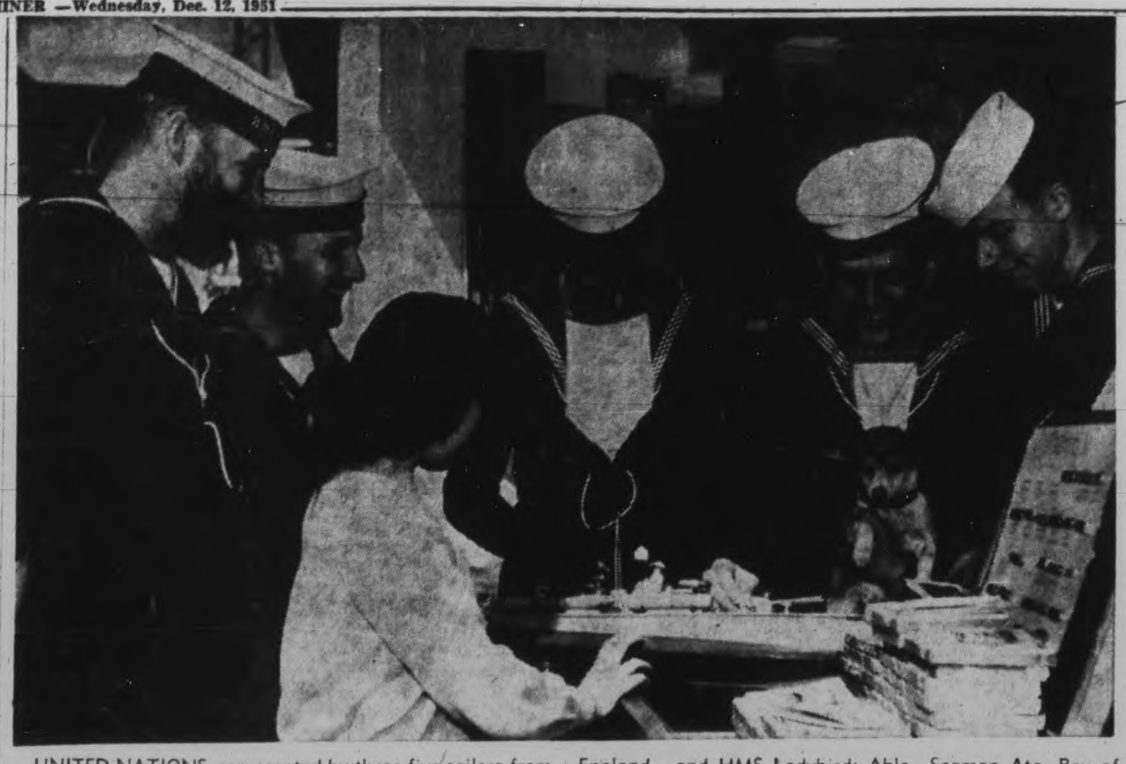
Labor Leader In Lords Dies Suddenly

LONDON, Dec. 12 (AP).—Viscount Addison, 82, Labor leader of the House of Lords, died Tuesday after a short illness. He was lord president of the council in the Labor Government headed by Clement Attlee and the oldest member of the Attlee cabinet.

He was appointed lord privy seal and leader of the House of Lords in 1947 when he was 78 and in May, 1951, he succeeded Herbert Morrison as lord president of the council. He held that position until the defeat of the Laborites last Oct. 25.

As Christopher Addison, a doctor of medicine, he became a Liberal member of Parliament in 1910. The first of many Government posts he held was minister of munitions in Prime Minister Lloyd George's First World War Government.



In 1924, he broke with the Liberals and, five years later, became a Labor member of Parliament. He was created a baron in 1937 for his long record of public service and elevated to viscount in 1945.

Often referred to as the Grand Old Man of British politics, Viscount Addison earned the respect of all political parties. When he celebrated his 80th birthday, the Liberal newspaper Manchester Guardian said the opposition had never tried to hide its respect for "this thorough Englishman with his sanguine imperturbability and quiet resolution."

As leader of the House of Lords, his stewardship was gentle, almost august. One critic said the ex-doctor brought to Parliament, "if not the bedside manner, at least the bedside voice."

But his reputation was not that of a bumbling Col. Blimp. After the fall of Singapore in 1942, he chilled his colleagues by calling one of the generals there a nincompoop. Despite all protests, he refused to withdraw the word.

Born Christopher Addison at Hogsthorpe, Lincolnshire, he had a varied career before entering politics. He was at various times a doctor, author, university professor and farming expert. His orange pippin apples won prizes at farm fairs and his treatise on the Topographical Anatomy of the Pancreas and Adjoining Viscera remains a standard reference.

Found Guilty Of Having Gun In Game Preserve

A 21-year-old Burleigh Falls youth was convicted of having a rifle on the Peterborough Crown Game Preserve and fined $50 and $4.37 costs in police court Tuesday.

Alfred G. Doughty pleaded not guilty to the charge and also pleaded not guilty to pointing his rifle at game overseer Robert H. Trotter who apprehended him near Eel's Creek on November 12.

Together with a fellow conservation officer, Ray Simpson, Mr. Trotter tracked a man through the snow after he had crossed Eel's Creek into the game preserve and caught up with Doughty as he stopped for wind on top of a knoll about a quarter of a mile inside the preserve.

Took Gun Away

When he odered him to stop, Mr. Trotter said, Doughty turned towards him and brought the gun he was carrying around, "so the muzzle was pointed at my stomach. I ran towards him and when I was about 40 feet away, he put the gun down at his side and I took it away from him," Mr. Trotter said.

Doughty denied knowing he was inside the Crown game preserve and also denied that he was pointing the rifle at Mr. Trotter when he swung the gun towards the game overseer.

He said Mr. Trotter made quite a commotion coming up behind him, "and not knowing what it was, I swung around with my rifle. He kept coming right for me with his head down. When he said I was on the game property, I put the rifle down at my side and he took it from me."

Claiming the rifle was only pointed in the general direction of Mr. Trotter, Doughty said, "If that gun had accidentally discharged, I know it would have missed him by six or eight feet."

Not In Uniform

The game overseer was not in uniform when he overtook Doughty. Ralph C. Standish defended Doughty and argued that Doughty had every excuse for "pointing the rifle in the general direction of Trotter, he was in a hurry to get out of the bush, as it was getting dark, and he was startled when he turned around. Running with his head down, Mr. Trotter was not in a position to see where the rifle was pointed," said Mr. Standish.

In dismissing the charge of pointing the rifle at Mr. Trotter, Magistrate W. R. Philp said, "I think intent should be shown. It may well be the accused did not take into consideration pointing the rifle other than in a general direction, and he should be given the benefit of the doubt."

Urging a dismissal on the first charge of having a rifle in the game preserve, Mr. Standish emphasized that the Crown's evidence had shown "no intent" on Doughty's part and he had stated "I did not know I was in the game preserve". Finally, Mr Standish referred to a judgment by a county court judge in Nipissing which held that where no guilt on the part of the accused had been shown a conviction could not be registered.

For the Crown, J. V. McElderry submitted that the Game and Fisheries Act prohibits the carrying of firearms in game preserves and the mere fact that Doughty was caught in the preserve with the rifle was sufficient grounds for conviction.

In finding Doughty guilty of the charge, Magistrate Philp said the case cited by Mr. Standish was under appeal at the present time and that a more recent judgment had laid down the principle that it was not necessary in such cases to prove intent on the part of the accused.

A Quick Trip

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Dec 12 (AP).—A blind man hitchhiking to Bloomington from Newton, Ia., arrived Tuesday sooner than expected, thanks to benefactors along the way. Clinton W. Hit Pole, Driver Fined $50, Costs

Glenn Buck, 31, of 9 Bedford Rd., Toronto, was convicted of driving while his ability was impaired by alcohol and was fined $50 and $11.77 costs in police court Tuesday afternoon.

A charge of careless driving against Buck, which was also laid on November 21 when he was charged with driving while impaired, was withdrawn at request of the crown.

OPP Constable Donald W. Erskine of Campbellford, said that Buck was travelling from Hastings to Norwood the night of November 21 and went off the road, and into the ditch, snapping off a telephone pole and winding up against a fence.

Constable Erskine said Buck's speech appeared thick, he was unsteady on his feet and smelled strongly of alcohol. When asked where he had been, Constable Erskine said Buck replied, "I've been in Hastings having a couple of beers."

Chief Constable Leonard Switzer of Hastings who arrived on the scene before Constable Erskine said that Buck "seemed to have quite a time talking and I could smell alcohol on his breath."

Had Three Pints

Buck admitted having three pints of beer in a Hastings beverag room during the afternoon with a friend.

"I don't think three pints of beer would put anyone in the condition described," said Buck, who conducted his own defence. "I was fully capable of driving," he added.

Buck claimed he went off the road because he was blinded by the headlights of an oncoming car as it rounded a curve some distance from the accident.

Referring to Buck's claim that the beer he had drunk had no effect on his driving, Magistrate Philp said: "We have the evidence of constables Switzer and Erskine that the accused showed considerable signs of having consumed alcohol. If he was blinded to the extent he relates, he should have brought his car to a stop," the magistrate said in convicting Buck of the offence.

Magistrate W. R. Philp remanded Bailey on bail of $500 until December 18.

Annual Meeting of The Canadian Bank of Commerce

"PREPAREDNESS FOR PEACE IS OUR MAIN CONCERN"

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

- The over-riding concern of the Canadian people is preparedness for peace.
- Our present task is to mesh a preparedness program with a civilian economy in such a manner that our resources are efficiently and effectively utilized, and waste is minimized.
- Canadian agriculture is producing at a very high level with a smaller working force.
- A continuing review of inventory position will be a necessary policy for every business in the months ahead.
- Indirect methods of controlling inflation—such as monetary and credit restrictions, together with some restrictions on capital expansion and taxation measures—though lacking in glamour—are sounder in an economy neither at peace nor at war, than price and wage controls, rationing and subsidies.
- Monetary and fiscal measures can be made stringent enough to halt inflation abruptly but only at the cost of serious disturbance and for this reason care—not dramatic action—should be the watchword.
- Stability, not rigidity, in our economic affairs is a primary objective and its achievement is as much a personal as a governmental responsibility.

Stanley M. Wedd, President, addressing the Annual Meeting of The Canadian Bank of Commerce in Toronto, said in part:

Events of the past year are gradually bringing about a change in the pattern of the Canadian economy, and our present over-riding concern, if it could be expressed in a few words, is preparedness for peace.

Our present task is to mesh a preparedness program with a civilian economy in such a manner that our resources are efficiently and effectively utilized, that waste whether in business or government, is minimized, and that in our free-market society we develop our productive potentialities.

General Economic Conditions

Indicating the over-all health of the economy, the Gross National Product—the value in current dollars of goods and services produced—shows a sizable gain over preceding years. The estimate for 1951 is $21,000 millions, compared with $17,800 millions in 1950 and $11,800 millions in 1945. While the rising cost of imports of essential materials, as well as our domestic inflationary pressures, is reflected in the estimate, there is, nevertheless, an underlying hard core of industrial progress which is heartening since the need for military preparedness again faces our economy.

Since the end of open warfare in 1945 the continued investment of government and business has been over 20 per cent of the National Income each year. This year investment by all agencies is now estimated at some $4,500 millions, indicating a trend of continued expansion and a relatively high rate of capital formation.

It is evident that expenditures of all governing bodies have been rising at an unprecedented rate and, while the present tax revenues are exceeding anticipated returns to the point where surpluses are being recorded, nevertheless, and particularly with mounting defence requirements ahead of us, it is a time for the exercise of every economy possible.

Agriculture

Canadian agriculture is producing at a very high level with a considerably smaller working force and not much more acreage under cultivation than in pre-war times. This is a fact full of meaning in view of the manpower that has been released for industrial and defence production. The continued strength in agriculture is due in a large measure to the family-size farm and the great percentage of family ownership. Whether its products go into the export trade or into domestic consumption, agriculture will undoubtedly continue to be basic to our economy.

Manufacturing

On the whole, the volume of industrial production has been exceeding the aggregate level established during 1950. However, an uneven industrial record during the past year bears out the shift in emphasis brought about by world political conditions and by the decisions of Government in respect to defence expenditures. Shortages of raw materials or components, credit restrictions imposed by the Government, and the postponable nature of some demands have all influenced consumption and production in some branches of manufacturing. There are at present a number of such factors and it is therefore difficult to suggest a common underlying cause of the variations which are now appearing. One thing is obvious, however, and that is that a continuing review of inventory position will be necessary business policy for the months ahead.

Resource Development

There has been much solid accomplishment in resource development during the past year. While it reaches into practically every field, it is perhaps best exemplified in the preparations for working the iron ore deposits in the Ungava district and further development at the Steep Rock Mines and the Michipicoten area in Ontario; in the oil and natural gas industry in Alberta and Saskatchewan; and in the aluminum project now under way in British Columbia with its associated water power development.

Inflation and Fiscal Policy

Since the beginning of the Korean conflict prices have steadily spiralled upwards. For this condition it is hard to pin-point a specific cause; rather a number of factors are involved, for example over-buying of goods by business and by individuals; the unprecedented capital expansion; and plans for heavy government spending for defence and other purposes. As against this we have failed to offset rising costs by increased productivity, we have exported heavily by necessity and we have been forced to divert raw materials to the defence effort. These are basic ingredients of a rising price spiral.

It would appear that the indirect methods of monetary and credit restrictions, together with some restrictions on capital expansion, and taxation measures, though lacking in glamour, are sounder than price controls, wage controls, rationing, punitive taxation, subsidies to encourage production and compulsory saving. All these measures—necessarily used in combination during the past war—are a less appealing alternative and could lead to economic regimentation. Monetary and fiscal measures can be made stringent enough to halt inflation abruptly but only at the cost of serious disturbance and for this reason care—not dramatic action—should be the watchword in order to preserve existing balances.

The Outlook

As we stand at the threshold of the new year the challenges to our adaptability grow apace. We are preparing, and our preparations must be both for peace and for defence. This, of necessity, means the altering of emphasis on the requirements of an agricultural-industrial economy. In so doing we must all be agreed that stability, not rigidity, in our economic affairs is a primary objective and its achievement is as much a personal as a governmental responsibility.

Our defence program is fast developing side by side with an expanding domestic economy. Even though the coming year undoubtedly will see additional military demands on our resources, on the record our capacities are equal to the tasks ahead.

●

James Stewart, Vice-President and General Manager, after reviewing the balance sheet, highlights of which are given below, said in part:

During the year fiscal and monetary policies have had their influence in shaping the course of business and commercial activity.

An over-all reduction in the Bank's portfolio of securities is in part reflected in the increase in commercial loans. These increased loans were necessitated chiefly by rising production costs and higher-priced inventories, to the point in many instances of only caring for the same volume of business this year as in 1950, and also by increased financial requirements for military production, or for defence projects leading up to military production.

Faced with the task of preparedness for defence and recognizing the upward trend of prices that had been under way since the Korean outbreak, the Government suggested and the chartered banks agreed that steps should be taken to restrict the volume of credit as one measure of a national anti-inflationary policy. In the past nine months there has been a general endeavour to confine the extension of credit to productive channels.

I would venture to suggest that if restrictions had not been put into operation the cost-of-living index would have been higher than it is today. Likewise, our dollars allocated to defence spending would not have gone as far in acquiring military plant and equipment.

Staff

It is difficult to avoid apparent repetition in expressing my thanks to the members of the staff for their loyal co-operation throughout the year; my sincerity is nonetheless real. The understanding of the men and women of the staff who are in daily contact with the people of their communities has aided materially in achieving the present level of successful operations. I know that I express this appreciation on behalf of the shareholders as well as personally at this time.

Tank Collapses Town Flooded, Damage In Millions

TUCUMCARI, NM, Dec. 13. (AP)—Collapse of a 3,000,000,000-gallon water tank early today killed four persons and caused millions of dollars damage today. Several hours later a witness told of seeing a "fireball," or apparent meteor, hit the tank in pre-dawn darkness. He said it toppled moments afterward. A meteor expert said, however, that such a phenomenon would have left a huge crater rather than merely smashing the tank.

Lorenzo Gutierrez, whose home is across the street from where the water tower stood, said he saw the fireball.

"I saw the light streak across the sky and land close to the tank," he said. "It hit with a roar, and then there was the sound of the tank breaking open."

Investigate Sabotage

Investigators are checking the possibility of sabotage city manager J. A. Fleming said. He said the Federal Bureau of Investigation has been asked to help.

Giving way with a deep rumble, the tank loosed a flood through the business district about 4:10 am MST (6:10 am EST). The cause was not determined. Water up to waist deep spread devastation over an area three blocks wide and, in a lessening degree as the distance grew, one-quarter of a mile long. The scene was compared with that of a bomb strike.

Two business places, the city warehouse and about 15 homes—mostly of adobe (mud brick)—were laid waste. Pieces of three-eighths-inch thick steel from the tank were scattered over a city block.

Rescuers including quickly-mobilized National Guardsmen, recovered four bodies. There were no reports of any persons missing. The last to be found, a boy three or four years old, was under a 250-foot section of the tank.

One Section Hit

Damage was centred in a section containing homes of Spanish-American families and some business houses.

Henry Folkes, working about 400 yards away said:

"I heard a slight rumble, but no loud explosion. I walked toward the noise and saw everything in God's creation floating down main street."

The collapse left the town without water. There was also a brief power failure.

Engineers said the tank did not explode and definitely was not overloaded or under excessive pressure. Several persons in the vicinity told of seeing a blue flame flash along the ground seconds before the collapse. The engineers said this might have been an indication of escaping gas.

"It sounded like a jet plane going over the house," said Mrs. Claude Moncus, wife of the sheriff.

French Assembly Ratifies Schuman Plan

PARIS, Dec. 13 (AP). — The French National Assembly voted today to ratify the Schuman plan to pool the $4,000,000,000 coal and steel industries of six west European countries.

The Council of the Republic, the consultative upper house of parliament, now must approve the bill before President Vincent Auriol can formally ratify the treaty. No difficulty is expected there.

The Netherlands is the only country so far to ratify the plan. The four other governments which agreed to the plan are West Germany, Italy, Belgium and Luxembourg.

Communists and the right-wing followers of Gen. Charles De Gaulle voted today against ratification, which was approved by votes of 377 to 235, and 377 to 233.

Votes of Confidence

Premier Rene Pleven made today's two ballots both votes of confidence in his government. Had he lost, he would have had to resign and make way for a new Premier to wade through France's touchy political tangle in search of a cabinet.

The first vote was on the principle of ratification. Then came approval of the ratification bill itself.

In both cases the "yeas" were considerably more than the 310 votes which would be needed later to override any rejection by the upper council.

The government's victory had been expected after Pleven won a vote of confidence on the same issue Tuesday. At that time, the Communists and De Gaullists had sought to send the ratification bill back to committee—a technical way of killing it.

Pleven beat off their raid 377 to 240.

More Canadians Reach Holland

ROTTERDAM, the Netherlands Dec. 13 (CP).—The fourth contingent of Canadian troops for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's defence forces arrived in Europe today.

The group—646 officers and men mostly of the 1st Canadian Highland Battalion—was welcomed by Pierre Dupuy, Canadian Ambassador to the Netherlands. Later today they will leave for Hannover, Germany, to join other Canadian troops in Europe.

The Canadians left Quebec Dec. 2 aboard the 13,500-ton liner Canberra which now has made two trips from Canada to Rotterdam with men of the force Canada has placed at the disposal of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's army.

The highland battalion, commanded by Lt.-Col. R. L. Rutherford, of Winnipeg, is made up of companies of the Black Watch, Montreal; the 48th Highlanders, Toronto; the Seaforth Highlanders, Vancouver; the Canadian Scottish, Victoria, and the North Nova Scotia Highlanders.

Train Strikes Car Three People Killed

THREE RIVERS, Que., Dec. 13 (CP)—Three persons were killed and one injured today when a Canadian Pacific Montreal-Quebec passenger train struck a car near Maskinonge station.

Names of the victims—a man, a woman and a boy—were not immediately known.

One woman was injured and taken to hospital at Louisevjlle, near here.

Fire At Hospital

OSHAWA, Dec. 13 (CP). — A fire in the basement of the Oshawa General Hospital sent up clouds of smoke, but firemen made sure patients weren't unduly alarmed. The firemen shut off their siren a few blocks from the hospital, worked quietly and left the same way.

South Africa Has Ordered Delegate Home From UN

PARIS, Dec. 13 (CP)—South Africa today ordered its head United Nations delegate home for consultations over the question of trusteeship for Southwest Africa.

And while Interior Minister T. E. Donges, who plans to leave for Capetown within a few days, is away, his delegation will not attend general assembly sessions. However, South Africa will continue to be represented on all UN committees except the trusteeship committee.

South Africa has boycotted the trusteeship committee for three weeks claiming the question of Southwest Africa's future is not under UN jurisdiction.

A South African delegation spokesman emphasized the moves does not mean the Union is walking out of the UN.

In Capetown today Prime Minister Daniel F. Malan said he had recalled Donges for "more careful and, if need be, more drastic action" on the trusteeship question.

Malan said he was withdrawing representation from the UN assembly meetings pending a possible hearing and satisfactory consideration of South Africa's side of the dispute over the future of the teritory—once a League of Nations mandate.

Members of the 60-member trusteeship committee have been urging that Southwest Africa be placed under a UN trusteeship. South Africa has contended the UN has no jurisdiction in the case since it is an internal matter. The South Africans walked out of the committee when the body decided to invite several Southwest African tribal chiefs to Paris to present their views on the subject.

The disputed territory was annexed by Germany in 1884. After the First World War it was mandated to South Africa by the League of Nations. In 1946 the territory of 317,725 square miles had a population of 360,000, mostly native.

The trusteeship committee passed two resolutions Tuesday, one of them trying to get South Africa to negotiate a settlement and the other urging that the disputed territory be placed under a UN trusteeship.

Hint Peace At Ford In 36 Hours

Plant President Says Many Workers Terrorized By Bullies

WINDSOR, Dec. 13. (CP)—Announcement that 9,000 striking Ford Motor Company of Canada production workers will meet Friday has touched off speculation that union officials will place before them a plan for ending the wildcat strike that started Dec. 3.

The meeting was called after leaders of Local 200 of the United Automobile Workers, (CIO) met for several hours Wednesday night with Walter Reuther, the union's international president.

While they were conferring, Rhys M. Sale, Ford president, charged in an address to the Essex County Medical Society that the strike which has made nearly 12,000 Windsor men idle was caused by "a few hundred bully boys" who have terrorized thousands of persons "by force or threat of force."

Not Spontaneous

He said the Nov. 29 work stoppage for which 26 men were dismissed, thereby touching off the walkout of 9,000 workers, was not spontaneous but was "a vicious and coldly calculated incident set off by a relatively few hoodlums."

The workers, he said, "for the past 18 months have been the unwilling pawns in a struggle for power by men of mean and selfish intent." They would have "suffered severe reprisals if they did not go along with the designs of the hoodlums."

"You could not get them to talk about it to save their souls, but we have certain knowledge that there are men in our company who have been beaten within an inch of their lives because they would not knuckle down."

Because of the strike, 2,300 Ford salaried employees and an additional 500 workers in Ford feeder plants have been made idle.

Regarded as a major factor leading to the strike was the failure of union-company negotiators, after six months of bargaining, to agree on a 1951 wage contract. The union has been seeking a "package" increase of 30 cents an hour over the basic rate of $1.32.

Vancouver Votes Quiet Sunday

VANCOUVER, Dec. 13 (CP).—For the second straight year Vancouver voters have said they want no tampering with their traditionally-quiet Sundays.

Although a Vancouver Sunday is quiet, indeed, a civic election plebiscite on the issue was rejected Wednesday by a margin of more than 6,000 votes.

The plebiscite asked voters if they were in favor of allowing commercial sports, cultural events and theatre performances between the hours of 2 pm and midnight on the Sabbath.

The vote was 24,813 in favor of relaxing Sunday laws and 31,091 against. In any event, the plebiscite was actually no more than an opinion poll to guide city council. Any changes would require approval of the British Columbia Legislature.

Pearson Returns From European Jaunt

OTTAWA, Dec. 13 (CP)—External Affairs Minister Pearson returned Wednesday from a month-long stay in Europe which took him to the United Nations General Assembly in Paris, Atlantic-Pact meetings in Rome and conferences with Commonwealth officials in London.

He told reporters that he found conditions in Europe "about the same" as when he visited there earlier this year and said he welcomed the big power attempts to find a formula for disarmament.

He declined to comment on a report that a North Atlantic Treaty Organization committee has recommended that Canada and seven European member countries boost their 1952 rearmament programs by another five to 10 per cent.

THREE BELOW ZERO TODAY was this winter's coldest dip so far. Car radiators, chimneys of homes and factories and trains in shunting yards (above) smoked and steamed. Citizens find it is no day for dallying. A check of The Peterborough Examiner district correspondents reveals that the city was as cold, perhaps one degree colder, than any other spot in the county.—(Examiner Staff Photo)

Big Three Offer Revised Plan Of Disarmament

PARIS, Dec. 13 (AP) — The United States, Britain and France today introduced in the United Nations a revised disarmament plan. It retains basic ideas of their original proposals but makes some changes on secondary issues in an effort to reach an agreement with Russia.

The new resolution leaves unchanged the major western demands for closely-supervised, step-by-step arms cuts. The big three also refused to bow to the Soviet's insistence that the atom bomb be prohibited immediately.

The resoluation was circulated to the delegations today. US Ambassador Philip Jessup lost a chance to explain it publicly this afternoon because the 60-country political committee cancelled its scheduled session so that delegates could attend the general assembly meeting. Jessup will speak Friday.

Comparison of the new text with the original shows that almost every paragraph has been changed, although in some cases there was only minor modification of wording.

A western source said Jessup, State Minister Selwyn Lloyd of Britain and French delegate Jules Moch had worked almost all Wednesday night making the revisions.

No Change

The new version maintains the western point of view that there cannot be an immediate and unconditional prohibition of the atomic bomb without prior foolproof international control.

However, it bows to Russian demands for revisions on secondary issues in order to continue the announced western policy of trying to broaden areas of agreement between east and west.

Among the changes:

The new resolution, at the request of Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky of Russia, names the proposed disarmament commission "The Atomic Energy and

UN Asks Red Guarantee No Death March In Korea

MUNSAN, Korea, Dec. 13. (AP)—The Allies today demanded there would be no "death march" of Allied prisoners in Korea. "No progress of any sort" was reported by a truce sub-committee on prisoners, but spokesmen for both sides indicated another sub-committee might soon break a 17-day deadlock on how to police an armistice. They didn't get anywhere today.

An official UN command spokesman said the Reds may hold many prisoners in camps far to the east of Panmunjom, where the Communists want to trade prisoners.

"We don't want our prisoners to walk hundreds of miles," said Lt.-Col. Howard S. Levie. "We don't want a (Bataan) death march in reverse."

An American Admiral told the Reds there would be no "blind payment" on prisoner exchange until the Communists gave assurances of the safety of allied fighting men they hold.

Sinister Reason

Levie said statements of Rear-Admiral R. E. Libby implied "the Communists have some sinister reason for withholding information."

Levie said the United Nations wants the Communists' prisoner lists now because "if we get the names of five, 10 or 15,000 we will know that we will get at least that number back. If we get a figure we consider completely out of line with our estimates, there is going to be quite a bit of discussion before we come to agreement."

The sub-committees will meet in Panmunjom again at 11 am on Friday (9 pm EST Thursday.)

Chinese Maj.-Gen. Hsieh Fang opened Thursday's truce supervision session with a 45-minute tirade against the latest UN proposal. Then he expressed confidence a solution could be found if both sides searched for one.

Maj.-Gen. Howard M. Turner said Allied negotiators were ready to discuss any reasonable proposal.

The UN negotiators said the deadlock would be broken if the Reds accepted the seven-point

Northern Land May Get Aid

OTTAWA, Dec. 13—(CP)—All Crown lands thrown open for settlement and farming in the northern segments of the Prairies and British Columbia may soon become eligible for federal aid under the Prairies Farm Assistance Act.

Agriculture Minister Gardiner gave notice on the Commons order paper today of a proposed resolution to broaden the terms of the act during the current session of parliament.

Officials disclosed that the proposed amendment is aimed principally at new settlers opening up the Peace River area of Northern Alberta and overflowing in British Columbia.

But the terms of the amendment, it was learned, will make the concessions granted the Peace River area applicable to all northern lands in the Western Provinces.

Mob Of 30,000 Stages Rally For Mossadegh

TEHRAN, Iran, Dec. [illegible] (AP)—Some 30,000 Nationalist supporters of Premier Mohammed Mossadegh massed before parliament today and roared "Death to the enemies of Mossodegh." The crowd appeared menacing, but broke up later without violence.

Inside the parliament building, the Majlis (Lower House) discreetly decided to postpone until Sunday a public meeting originally scheduled for today. Instead they met in secret session.

Watchful police and troops lined the huge Majlis square during the rally, announced as a demonstration against "British intrigue."

However, most of the threats and vilification were directed at Iranian opponents of the aged Premier who led the successful fight to nationalize Iran's British-controlled oil industry.

4 Perish In Fire

DETROIT, Dec. 13 — (AP) — Four little children died Wednesday night in a fire that swept their trailer home in suburban Ecorse. The children were trapped when flames mushroomed from an overheated coal stove, police said. The children's mother, Mildred Dillard, 32, had gone out to rehearse for a performance of a church quartet. She is expecting a fifth child. The children's father, Joseph, a dock worker, was at work.

Whooper Argument Settled, Texas Loser Louisiana Gets Birds, Hopes For Baby Cranes

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex., Dec. 13 (AP).—The whooper argument is settled. Texas lost. Louisiana gets the birds.

This means Jo and Crip, those loving mates of the Austwell, Tex., wildlife refuge, will set up housekeeping in the New Orleans zoo.

The Federal Government made the decision Wednesday night. It hopes Jo and Crip will settle down and raise little whooping cranes. They haven't been successful in the wilds of the vast refuge.

Texas naturalists staged an uproar Tuesday night when they discovered George Douglas superintendent of the New Orleans Zoo, was en route to Texas to claim a crane the zoo had loaned the Texas refuge five years ago.

Shouted the Texans: You can't break up this happy home. Besides, Jo and Crip might produce a baby whooper.

Naturalists hope so. The once-great flocks of whooping cranes have dwindled to one flock with 28 members.

Planning Special Agency To Fight Corruption In Drastic New Action

Doesn't Intend To Fire Attorney-General Or Chairman Frank McKinney; Says Vast Majority of Employees Honest

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13. (AP)—President Truman today promised what he called continued drastic action to clean house in the government. He indicated he will set up a special agency to fight corruption, possibly Friday or Saturday. Allowing himself to be quoted directly at one point on the scandals in the tax collecting and some other agencies, Truman told a press conference: "Wrongdoers have no house . . . with me no matter who they are or how big they are."

In response to questions, the the President said he has no plans to fire Attorney-General J. Howard McGrath or the Democratic national chairman, Frank McKinney.

Several Republican members of Congress have demanded the dismissal of McGrath as a result of disclosures in the House investigation of tax scandals.

Chairman Cecil R. King (Dem Calif.) of the House of Representatives group has said he believes T. Lamar Caudle, assistant attorney-general in charge of the tax division, was unfaithful to his public trust.

Truman fired Caudle last month.

Caudle has come under fire because of the disclosure that he made a $68,000 profit on a $1,000 investment in a tractor firm headed by a man whose wartime contracts were sharply criticized by Truman, then a senator.

The President said public officials recently fired — including Caudle—were being investigated by the executive branch of the government before their names turned up in Congressional investigations.

Truman declined to say what sort of special agency he might set. He said the action he plans will be designed to clear up the situation, to show that the vast majority of government employees do their duty, and to see that honest employees are not smeared by the actions of the others.

US Pilots Down 13 Red Planes

US FIFTH AIR FORCE, Korea, Dec. 13 (AP).—American Sabre jet pilots shot down 13 Red MIGs today, probably shot down two others and damaged one.

It was the greatest jet victory in history.

Maj. George A. Davis, Jr., of Lubbock, Tex., the world's foremost jet ace shot down four MIG-15s. That ran his total kill over MIG Alley in northwest Korea to 12 planes, including nine MIGs.

The day's big bag was run up in two battles.

Not a single Sabre was lost, the Fifth Air Force said.

In the morning Sabres of the crack fourth fighter-interceptor wing shot down four MIGs and damaged one. In the afternoon they knocked off nine more and reported two probables.

Davis got two in each fight.

More Shooting Breaks Out In Suez Area

CAIRO, Egypt, Dec. 13—(Reuters)—Fresh shooting incidents in the Suez Canal zone were reported today while the government kept silent on its plans for future relations with Britain.

A British Army truck driver was shot and killed near Ismailia Wednesday night. Earlier shots were fired and a bomb was tossed at a British Army vehicle, but there were no casualties.

Cairo newspapers continued to predict the imminent recall of the Egyptian ambassador to Britain. The Arabic paper Al Ahram said: "Responsible circles assure us the decision will be announced today in spite of rumors circulating to the contrary."

Another newspaper, Al Mmisri, said the ambassador would be recalled rather than withdrawn. Withdrawal, it said, would mean that his credentials had to be withdrawn too, "which is not what the Egyptian government intends to do."

The paper blamed "new developments" for holding up an announcement on the recall, latest development in the Anglo-Egyptian row which reached a new pitch two months ago when Egypt cancelled the treaty giving Britain military rights in Egypt.

United States Ambassador Jefferson Caffery today called on acting foreign minister Ibrahim Farag Pasha for the second time in two days.

Caffery told reporters afterwards they discussed Middle East questions, including Anglo-Egyptian relations.

Drinks Exhibit A

ELK CITY, Okla, Dec. 13. (AP)—Clyde Brewer on trial for possessing liquor in this dry state, was held in contempt of court Wednesday after he admitted swiping a half pint of "Exhibit A" and drinking it during a court recess. "Everyone in the court said it was mine," the 35-year-old defendant said. "It had my name on it. So I drank it." Judge R. L. Minton ordered him to jail for 10 days. The jury found him guilty of possessing 8½ pints of whisky, including the half pint inside his stomach. The court deferred sentence.

1,600-Year-Old Murder Uncovered In Vancouver

VANCOUVER, Dec. 13 (CP)—A murder committed more than 1,600 years ago in Egypt has been uncovered in the Vancouver museum.

The body of the victim, a 10-year-old boy, has been on display at the museum for more than 30 years.

It is highly unlikely, museum president Noel Robinson commented wryly Wednesday, that the murderer will ever be found. He related this story:

In 1920, the late Dr. George Kidd of Vancouver brought back from Egypt the well preserved mummified form of a boy. It had been exhumed a tthe site of ancient Thebes where the Pharoahs and nobles of Egypt were interred.

Until six months ago, the mummy was believed that of a girl. Then it was X-rayed and embarrassed museum directors announced it was a boy.

The skin had been partially torn away from the skull. The left eye had been knocked out of its socket. The upper lip was split nearly its whole length. One knee was dislocated and both thigh bones were broken. But the arms and fingers were unmarked.

It was obvious the boy had been murdered, probably by being swung by the arms and smashed on some hard surface. Had he died by accident, the arms would have been hurt.

The X-rays were forwarded to Dr. T. C. Skeat of the British museum. He confirmed the Vancouver museum findings and added that an inscription on the breast wrappings showed the boy's name was Panechates, son of Hatres. Burial had probably taken place in the third century AD.

Mr. Robinson said the boy was undoubtedly of noble birth and possibly might have stood in the way of succession to the throne by an older and more powerful claimant, who decided to do away with him.

The murderer apparently fooled the Egyptian police of those days, making the killing look like an accident.

Crown Agency Approved To Build Seaway

OTTAWA, Dec. 13 (CP)—The long-debated, long-awaited St Lawrence seaway is another closer to reality.

The Commons Wednesday approved a government bill setting up a crown agency to construct the $246,000,000 deep waterway with or without the co-operation of the United States.

With the seaway bill, the chamber adopted a companion measure ratifying an agreement between the governments of Canada and Ontario to permit Ontario to develop power in the international section of the St. Lawrence.

Before turning to the seaways legislation, the House polished off the lingering Throne-Speech debate after opposition members threw a series of non-confidence motions at the government and forced five formal divisions as the debate came to a close.

Smaller Bills

A batch of smaller bills was given first reading as the chamber drove towards a pre-Christmas prorogation which may come this weekend or early next week. It approved a government motion to sit this Saturday.

The chamber later studied a government bill providing annual grants of $6,250,000 to the CBC for five years and heard Donald Fleming (PC—Toronto Eglinton) criticize the corporation's television policy.

Under the seaway legislation, the waterway will pay for itself in 50 years through a system of tolls to be charged ships using its network of canal from Montreal up through to the Great Lakes system.

Transport Minister Chevrier, piloting the legislation, told questioners the same tolls will be applied to Canadian and foreign shipping.

He said the proclamation bringing the legislation into force probably will be delayed until the Ontario legislature ratifies the power agreement. In developing the power, Ontario will co-operate with an appropriate United States agency, presumably New York State.

Rodney Adamson (PC—York West), who stressed Ontario's need for more power, asked if Canada intended to go ahead with the projects even if she got no co-operation from the United States.

Do Their Best

Mr. Chevrier said the United States government will have to authorize some American agency to develop the St. Lawrence power jointly with Ontario. The Canadian government undertook to do all it could to press for the power development.

While it might be undesirable to proceed with one project without the other, the legislation gave the government authority to go ahead alone with the seaway.

In several days of often heavy-going debate, members from both the Maritimes and elsewhere, and from Liberal and opposition ranks urged the government to give simultaneous attention to other projects across Canada.

Some suggested that the power of the seaway agency be expanded to permit it to consider irrigation projects for the west and power development programs in the Maritimes.

Mr. Chevrier said the government could not widen the terms of the legislation.

He told questioners he could not say what would be the deadline for US participation in the seaway, which long has been cold-shouldered by the US Congress. Naturally, there would come a point where it no longer would be possible for the US to come in.

President Truman has said that if Congress does not take early action he will support an all-Canadian seaway as the next best thing to a joint operation.

Typhoon Death Toll At 541

MANILA, Dec. 13. (AP)—Delayed reports from Leyte Island today boosted the death toll of Monday's typhoon to 541. The same typhoon turned on itself and is sweeping back toward the Philippines from the west while another is bearing down on the islands from the east. Southern Leyte, the island on which American forces returned to the Philippines in the Second World War, bore the brunt of Monday's battering storm. The Philippines News Service reported the mayors of two Leyte towns announced 311 bodies counted in their areas alone. Abuyog, 35 miles south of Tacloban on Leyte Gulf, reported 176 dead. Another 135 dead were reported at Sogod on the southern tip of Leyte.

Officials listed 146 known dead in the Tacloban area and around the entrance to Surigao Strait.

Eighty-four dead previously had been reported from three other islands of the central Philippines—Cebu, Negros and Panay

150,000 Homeless

An estimated 150,000 were homeless. Property damage from destroyed homes, uprooted coconut and banana groves, flattened cane and rice fields ran into uncounted millions of dollars.

The typhoon's 130 mile-an-hour winds had dropped to 105 as it turned around in the China Sea.

The weather bureau reported the tropical cyclone was 220 miles southwest of Manila today.

A steady downpour of rain drenched Manila this afternoon.

The weather bureau said both the returning typhoon and the second cyclone, 450 miles east of the Philippines, were turning and might miss the islands. The new storm turned northwestward. The winds in its centre were estimated at 70 miles an hour.

Criticize CBC On Birth Control

OTTAWA, Dec. 13 (CP) — The CBC was criticized in the Commons today for allowing Dr. Brock Chisholm to give his views on religion and birth control on its networks.

John Blackmore (SC-Lethbridge), a school teacher and father of 12 children, said Dr. Chisholm, director of the world health organization, held views on birth control which were against the teachings of the Bible and against the views of 80 per cent of the Canadian people.

Mr. Blackmore, speaking during committee discussion of the bill to make annual grants to the CBC, said it was a "sacred privilege" to speak over the CBC and yet here it was allowing this "indoctrination" process by a man who wanted to dry up the source of all manpower.

This indoctrination over the CBC, said Mr. Blackmore, is a "monstrosity" which "petrifies the imagination."

There were other remarks by Dr. Chisholm which appeared to be aimed against Christianity, and that kind of doctrine was going into the ears of Canadian 'teenagers who were not likely to suspect anything carried over the CBC.

PCVS Drama Club Presents Play

Following a new pattern adopted this term by the dramatic clubs at PCVS, the senior club will present its second student-directed play Thursday and Friday at the student assemblies.

The plays are directed by Grade 13 students who have previous experience in school plays. In previous years the plays have been directed by the teacher supervisors for the junior and senior clubs.

There is a series of three plays, each to be presented before the junior and senior assemblies, and later all performed on one night in the spring. The plays will likely be entered in the Peterborough drama festival and perhaps the secondary schools' festival at Queen's University.

Thursday's and Friday's play, Brothers In Arms, by Canadian playwright, Merrill Dennison, will be directd by student Gail Craig. The first play was directed by Pauline Zacks.

Miss Margaret White, modern languages teacher and dramatic club supervisor, said the new program has proved "very successful".

Will Ask MP's Cut Speeches

OTTAWA, Dec. 13 (CP).—Members of the Commons soon will be asked to shorten their speeches. Indications are they will not agree.

A select committee, headed by Speaker Ross Macdonald, recommended today that, as an experiment during the 1952 session, the speeches of private members be limited to a half-hour. The limit now is 40 minutes.

The report also recommended other changes in rules to expedite the business of the House.

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, indicated his opposition to some of the proposals by declining to agree to waive the rules so that the report of the committee could be considered tomorrow. The report likely will not be debated until next week.

Recommendations of the committee will not take effect without unanimous consent of all members.

The committee report recommended that the sitting hours, tried on an experimental basis at this session, be adopted permanently at the next session, with one slight change.

Market Prices Ease On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, Dec. 13 (CP). — Stock market prices eased today in irregular early afternoon dealings.

Papers formed the market's strongest section with a scattered list of fractional advances. Steels, liquors and refining oils weakened. Agricultures and foods dipped sharply.

The year's heaviest ex-dividend posting restricted trading. Leading industrials changed hands slowly while a broadening list of penny golds attracted speculative interest.

Consolidated Smelters, Hudson Bay, and Quemont climbed pennies. Chromium, Anacon Lead, Barvue, Quebec Labrador and Torbrit added pennies. Cassiar, East Sullivan, United Keno Hill, Waite Amulet, and Quebec Copper eased.

Western oils posted a majority of gains. Central Explorers, Calvan Consolidated, Federated Petroleum, General Petroleum, National Petroleum and Model Oil showed gains ranging to about 35 cents. Devon-Leduc, Pacific Petroleum, North Canadian and Western Leaseholds weakened.

Hollinger and Malartic strengthened in the senior gold list. Secondary issues made little headway.

UN Asks Reds

UN proposal submitted Wednesday. The Reds said they did not like it, but they have not turned it down.

In the prisoner session Libby told the Communists the Allies "will not be duped by your obstinate refusal to give us the real reason why you are afraid to exchange prisoner-of-war information now."

Wednesday the UN command expressed fear that the Reds may not deliver all the Allied prisoners-of-war they hold. That is one reason the UN will not agree to a wholesale trade of prisoners as the Reds demand.

Even though no progress was reported by either sub-committee Thursday, many observers at UN advance headquarters said it is possible than an armistice can be signed before the cease-fire line agreement expires December 27. If no agrement is reached before the deadline, the line must be redrawn just before an armistice is signed.

The pound sterling was $2.87⅞, down ⅜ from Wednesday.

Education Costs Worry County Council

The rising cost of education is worrying rural municipalities.

This was indicated Wednesday afternoon as Peterborough County Council debated a resolution from Ontario County. The resolution called on the Provincial government to assume 10 per cent of the costs of education—including the building of schools and maintenance.

Reeves W. E. Griffith, Belmont-Methuen, Ernest Seeney, Havelock, and James Humphries, Asphodel, voted to concur in the resolution. But they were defeated.

Investigate Costs

Instead the County Council voted to have the education committee investigate the whole matter of school costs and bring in a recommendation at the January session.

"I don't agree that the government should take over all the costs of education," said Reeve Willard G. Waterman, North Monaghan. "That would be going too far. But the burden could be equalized somehow. There should be some relief in high school costs—in the transportation of pupils, for example."

"The Department of Education has full control now in secondary school matters," argued Reeve Humphrey. "They even tell us where the site for a new school should be. If they can do that they should pay for it."

Reeve Griffith agreed with the resolution that education costs are now an "intolerable burden." He did not think that the government would finance 10 per cent of the cost, but it would put pressure on them to do something.

Who is "them?" Deputy-Reeve Dave McIntyre, Otonabee, wanted to know. The money still has to come out of the pockets of the people of the province.

Reeve Waterman said that 47½ per cent of the taxes in North Monaghan go for education. The largest increase is for high school costs.

Conventional Armaments Commission."

It directs the commission to submit its first progress report to the UN no later than June 1, 1952. Russia insisted on inclusion of some time limit.

More Specific

The resolution spells out a demand that disarmament must be agreed to by "all nations whose military resources are such that their failure to accept would endanger the system." This replaced a clause which Russia called "vague," which said it should be adopted by "all countries having substantial armed forces."

It also says that any future disarmament treaty shall specifically state what countries must ratify it before it becomes effective, and shall "specifically be open" to all states—not just UN members—for signature and ratification or adherence.

The General Assembly, meanwhile, again deadlocked in voting to choose between American-supported Greece and the Soviet Union's Byelo (White) Russia for the 11th seat on the Security Council.

Eight ballots last week failed to settle the issue. When seven more today still brought no decision, assembly president Luis Padillo Nervo suspended further voting until next week.

On the 15th ballot Greece had 36 votes, White Russia 23. Forty votes are required for election.

To Submit Revisions

The western powers planned to submit their disarmament revisions to the assembly's 60-member political committee at the session starting at 3 pm (9 am EST) today.

The text, which was submitted to the political committee starting at 3 pm (9 am EST) today, made the following concessions:

1. The proposed disarmament commission—to which Russia and the West have agreed—would be directed to report to the UN by June 1, 1952, on ways and means of ending the world arms race. Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky had objected because the original western plan fixed no date for the committee to report.

2. The proposal for retention by each country of forces "necessary for defence" changes to meet the Russian insistence on different standards for primarily land powers such as the Soviet Union and sea powers such as Britain.

3. The section dealing with the standards to be set up to determine arms levels is given a "more neutral phrasing."

4. The revision defines more specifically what the western powers mean by "countries with substantial armaments," which the Russians have rejected as a vague phrasing.

The modifications were described as being in line with a western policy, announced Tuesday by State Minister Selwyn Lloyd of Britain, of seeking to increase the areas of agreement between the Soviet Union and the west. The changes were based on clarifications of the Soviet and western positions revealed at last week's secret big four disarmament talks.

Vishinsky told the political committee yesterday the importance of broadening such areas of agreement on "relatively secondary" issues should not be underestimated. Vishinsky said he hoped such broadenings would lead eventually to east-west agreement on some of the larger issues.

Farm Federation Presents Brief

TORONTO, Dec. 13 (CP)—The Ontario Federation of Agriculture presented its annual brief to the provincial government today and said it is in agreement with the setting up of scientific formula for determining the price of milk.

The Ontario Agriculture Department has suggested that the price of milk should have some relation to the cost of living index and the wholesale price index.

Proponents of the plan claim the cost of milk should be tied in with other commodities rather than be established by the Ontario Milk Control Board.

The federation said the formula should take into consideration weekly salaries and wages, the wholesale price index, production and feed costs, and prices received for other dairy products.

Pastor's Wife Speaks At Christmas Meeting

ROSENEATH, Dec. 13 (ENS)— "Our hearts are so full of selfishness, thoughts of self, pleasure and indifference there seems very little room in our hearts for Christ," said Mrs. R. C. White in an address at the December meeting of the United Church WA, held in the township hall.

The speaker chose as her subject "God's Gift to Man." She spoke of the first Christmas and in conclusion said, "We should never allow Christmas to be a burden but a time of rejoicing, meditation and Christ-like giving, and make it a joyful Christmas celebration."

It was the Christmas meeting of the WA and they entertained the ladies of the congregation. Upwards of 75 ladies were present.

The retiring president, Mrs. Ford Derry, presided, with Mrs Ella Brown as pianist.

The treasurer, Mrs. Fred Norris, reported a balance on hand of $424.67. Many letters were read from recipients of good cheer by the secretary, Mrs. Earl Waldie. Mrs. Arthur Braithwaite, sunhine convener, presented her report.

Mrs. Earl Waldie was program convener. For this period, candles were lit about the hall, reflecting their glow in the Christmas decorations of evergreens and poinsettias.

The Rev. R. C. White presented a picture travelogue, "Bethlehem As It Is Today." Christmas carols were sung with Mrs. C. W. Varcoe at the piano. Helen Sandercock recited "Signs of Christmas"; Misses Yvonne Adams and Betty Carew contributed a piano duet; Audrey Derry recited "An Ounce of Prevention"; Gaele Thackeray sang "Away in a Manger" with Mrs. A. J. Campbell accompanist.

The exchange of Christmas gifts taken from a gaily decorated tree was in charge of Mrs. Harold Taylor and Mrs. Fred Norris.

At the conclusion of the program, Mrs. R. C. White paid tribute to Mrs. Ford Derry, the retiring president.

The meeting concluded with the singing of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," and Mr. White pronounced the benediction.

Lunch was served by the members. A large Christmas cake was donated by Mrs. Derry and shared by everyone present, followed by treats of home-made candy.

Three quilts had been completed throughout the year and the president had sold greeting cards to the amount of $52.30, which amount was turned in to the treasury at the meeting.

The Rev. T. S. Gault congratulated the ladies on their very successful year, also expressing the thanks of the wardens for the financial assistance.

Mrs. Charles Reynolds was returned to the office of president by acclamation and Mrs. Charles Smith expressed the thanks of the members for her energetic leadership in the past. Mrs. J. McKnight WA President

MILLBROOK, Dec. 13. (ENS)—Mrs. P. J. Bentley was hostess for the annual meeting of St. Andrew's Women's Association on Tuesday afternoon. It was a joint meeting of all three groups of the Association to elect officers for the coming year.

The Rev. A. M. Butler took the chair for the election. Mrs. John McNight was returned as president for the second year. Mrs. H. R. Edmunds, Mrs. P. I. Bentley and Mrs. T. J. Crowley also consented to continue as vice-president, secretary and treasurer.

New group leaders included Mrs. Chester Fisher for the town group and Mrs. Aubrey Fallis for the north group. Mrs. Lawrence Winslow will continue as leader of the south group.

Annual reports were given by the secretary and treasurer and also the group leaders. In giving the financial report Mrs. Crowley stated that $1,035.52 had been raised by the association in all during the year. They had been able to instal an oil heating system in the parsonage, to repay the $500 loan made at that time, and now had a balance in the bank. In order to do this each group had raised its allocation by its own projects, and the association had joined in the bazaar and fall tea and in serving a turkey dinner to the 500 Bushel Potato Club of Durham county.

The devotional period was conducted by Mrs. Arthur Fallis and the Rev. Margaret Butler led in prayer.

It was decided that all sick and shut-in members of the congregation should be remembered with a Christmas greeting. Refreshments were served by the supper hostesses, Mrs. Butler and Mrs. Bentley.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. McClung, of Hillsdale were guests of their cousin, Mrs. G. F. Harrington and Mr. Harrington Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

Counties Council Approves Special Audit

COBOURG, Dec. 13 (ENS). — Counties Council Wednesday in special session authorized the committee investigating the clerk-and-treasurer's accounts, to hire a new firm of auditors to do an audit on the books for the years 1950 and 1951.

It was intimated Tuesday that the check-up might go back to 1947, but it was pointed out that the audit was expensive, and for the time being at least, it would be for 1950 and 1951 only.

Council also authorized the committee to advertise for applicants for the job of clerk-and-treasurer, left open by the resignation of Wiliam E. Barr, accepted at Tuesday's session of the Counties Council. The new audit is to be referred to a future meeting of the council, which may be before the 1952 Counties Council meets.

A by-law was passed repealing the one which appointed Mr. Barr in June of 1947 and a second by-law was passed appointing the present office secretary, Miss Claire Erskine, an acting clerk-and-treasurer, pending the naming of a permanent appointee.

Asks Accounting

Reeve Arthur Wartman of Percy Township said that council should have a report from the Peterborough Civic Hospital "accounting for every dollar paid in by the counties." The counties had been giving this hospital grants for three to four years, Reeve Wartman said.

The Reeve declared that he had a letter from a patient from the counties who had gone to the hospital in Peterborough and there was suposed to be money enough on deposit to take care of the extra amount charged outside patients ($1 a day), but the money ran out before he could participate in it.

ON THE CARPET—Attorney General J. Howard McGrath testifies before the Congressional committee investigating the tax scandal. The cabinet member defended the promotion system that gave a high Justice Department job to T. Lamar Caudle.

The hospital charges $10 a day for outside patients and $9 for patients within the Peterborough area from which maintenance grants are obtained.

Dr. J. W. Wright of Millbrook corrected the term "grant." It was not a grant but a sum paid to the hospital to make up the extra dollar which a counties patient's per diem stay would otherwise cost. It is more convenient for patients in the northern part of the counties to go to Peterborough Civic than to a more distant hospital.

"The hospital gets no benefit from this money as it would if it were a grant. Actually looking after the money and applying it as the accounts occur, is a nuisance to the hospital. There was a report a year or two ago, and if you want another one no doubt they would be glad to furnish it. When the money comes in later than expected there is a dollar per day refund where the patint has paid the outside rate," said Dr. Wright.

Evils Of Liquor Told Audience By Springville Speaker

SPRINGVILLE, Dec. 13 (ENS)—Gray Rivers was guest speaker at the morning service in Springville church. He is a representative of the Temperance Federation and in his educational work by addresses and film strips, he has found the boys and girls to be keenly interested in temperance education. He urges that the parents in the home support this education, rather than nullify it by their actions. Out of his own personal experience in Western Canada he told of a father who was in the habit of going to a beverage room and taking one glass of beer before work in the morning. One morning there was a fresh fall of snow. On his way to the beverage room he looked back and saw his son following—a little toddler trying to stretch his legs so that he could walk exactly in his father's footsteps. Where were his footsteps leading? was the question that sank into the father's mind and from that day forward he never again drank beer.

He said that industry realized that intemperance was costing them $68,000,000 per year in absenteeism, sickness.

He urged that young people study the word of God and recommended the book of Proverbs as a guide in life.

In closing, he quoted 1 Corinthians 3:16 and 17: "Know ye not that ye are the temple of God and that the spirit of God dwelleth in you. If any man defile the temple, him will God destroy, for the temple of God is holy, which temple ye are."

Again The Need For A New Post Office Glares

The vast amount of business, the queues in the front office, the crush of mail and workers behind it, again show how entirely inadequate the Peterborough Post Office accommodation is. A Post Office built to serve a population of 13,000 fifty years ago is in no way equipped to serve 38,000 in the city and another 20,000 in the district in 1951.

* * *

If the visual evidence of the present crowded conditions, and the statistical evidence of the population growth are insufficient to convince Ottawa that Peterborough's new Federal Building has a priority importance, perhaps a glimpse at the amount of business handled will have some weight.

* * *

Twenty years ago, in 1931, the Peterborough Post Office had a gross postal revenue of $114,933. Last year the Peterborough Post Office had a gross postal revenue of $289,112 (exclusive of money order commissions). This is an increase of more than 150 per cent. Yet the Peterborough Post Office has to carry on this enormous business in the same quarters it used to do $114,933 worth of business.

* * *

We know that Ottawa has promised a new Post Office (as it has for the last forty years); we know that plans are drawn up and a site bought. We know that there is a shortage of steel. We are told that when possible, the new Federal Building will be erected. What we urgently point out is the absolute necessity of the new Post Office and the requirement that it be given first priority in any public building, apart from military establishments. Somehow or other steel is being found for new buildings elsewhere; and there is hope, if the military situation does not grow worse, of more allocations being made. Let Peterborough have the steel and the new building with the utmost possible despatch.

The Strike At The Ford Windsor Plant

A wildcat strike has kept the Ford Motor plant in Windsor closed since December 3rd, and some eight thousand men are idle. It is a serious situation for Windsor, but its importance goes beyond that city and the one industry. The record at Windsor shows a grave irresponsibility on the part of the union.

The strike came about in this wise. In March the union (United Auto Workers—C.I.O.) presented demands to the company for wage increases, several "fringe" benefits, and amendments to the existing contract (which is still in force). In June the Ontario Labour Relations Board granted the union's request for a conciliation officer. A conciliation board was constituted on August 14th, a chairman appointed on August 27th. On October 10th and 11th the Board members held their first meeting with company and union representatives in Windsor.

On November 29th and 30th work stoppages occurred in the plant over the delay in the Board presenting its report. These stoppages were not authorized by the union. Rhys M. Sale, President of Ford of Canada has described how the stoppage was engineered:

"Men were shouldered and jostled and subjected to abuse. In some cases machines were shut off by demonstrators where the operators refused to leave them. Gangs of shouting men invaded departments where they had no business and compelled employees to quit."

On Saturday, December 1st, at a meeting of company representatives and the negotiating committee of the union local, the company asked the union what action it proposed to take against those responsible for the Thursday stoppage. The union gave no answer. On Monday (December 3rd) the union was told that the company had decided to discharge 26 men "for inciting fellow workers to take part in unlawful and unauthorized work stoppages, and for themselves taking part in such stoppages." At noon the wildcat strike started, and by 5:30 it had emptied the plant. It has been idle ever since. The grievance procedure provided in the contract was not used by the men or their union leaders.

That is the background of the strike, with these shadows over it: the long delay in the conciliation board report (the board finally presented it on the day the wildcat strike began, December 3rd), and a long record at the Ford plant of illegal work stoppages and delaying labour incidents; the company states that there were 34 unlawful and unauthorized work stoppages between May 29, 1950, when the contract went into force, and December 1st last.

The real issue now is not the reinstatement or firing of the 26 men who seem to have led the Thursday work stoppage, nor the terms of a new contract; but whether or not the union will accept responsibility and live up to its obligations under the contract. What has the union done? It did not discipline those who took part in the Thursday stoppage. And now it has come to the defence of the wild-cat strikers.

Unionism is a two-way street. The Ford president says: "The broad issue is one of the responsibility of the unions, and whether a company can expect the contracts it makes with unions will be lived up to in good faith."

> "Neither now nor in the future will our company again place itself at the mercy of lawless and irresponsible elements whose reckless activities rob our people of legitimate employment and pay cheques, and threaten the very destruction of the business upon which all of us depend for our livelihood."

Responsibility for living up to contracts belongs to the union as well as to the companies. The Windsor strike has become a test-case in Canadian management-labour relations.

Irish Blather In Washington

Every year about this time we get a pamphlet reprint of speeches made in the American House of Representatives on the unity of Ireland. It is printed by the U.S. Government Printing Office in Washington, but there is a note on it: "Not printed at Government expense." What is the blather about? Well, it seems that some Irish-Americans in the House, or other Representatives hoping to flatter their Irish constituents, have a perennial Bill, called the Fogarty Resolution. They dust it off each year, and as many Representatives as can be got rise to speak on the English crime of partitioning Ireland in 1918 and the crying shame that six northern counties of the Emerald Isle are still within the United Kingdom.

This year, according to a separate Index of the speeches (helpfully sent with the pamphlet) 49 Representatives got in a few words; Representatives with good Irish names like Delaney, Donohue, Feighan, Rooney, Costello and Sieminski. But hold! One of the speakers listed is DeValera, Hon. Eamon (pages 12 and 20). How does he get into the American House of Representatives? We look at pp. 12 and 20 and find he gets there through the mouth of a Representative. So great is the Irishism of these Irish-Americans whose ancestors probably went to Boston or New York a hundred years ago, that DeValera's quoted words get him a listing in the Index as a speaker.

The annual comedy on the floor of the American House of Representatives is losing its punch. When the Fogarty Resolution came up ("expressing the sense of this House that the Republic of Ireland should embrace the entire territory of Ireland") a quorum was not present, so the Clerk had to call the roll. Further, not all the speakers were in favour of the resolution. Some even asked what business the American House (so devoted to the Munro Doctrine) had in passing recommendations about the internal affairs of a foreign, non-American country? What indeed?

After the 49 speakers (including Mr. DeValera) had their say and even Mr. Fogarty himself had his, the vote was taken and the motion defeated by 206 Nays against 139 yeas. But the debate made good copy to send to the Irish-Americans back in the home state, and yet another wad for our waste paper basket.

A Footnote On Premier Frost

Yesterday we commented upon the way in which the provincial Liberal party handled its campaign in the recent election. We should like to add a footnote to what we said there, commenting briefly upon the way in which Premier Frost met and withstood that campaign.

Because Mr. Frost won the election by a very big majority, there has been a tendency to overlook the methods by which he won it. He and his government were under very heavy fire from the Toronto Star and from Mr. Walter Thomson; because that fire proved ridiculously ineffective many people now discount it, but it cannot have been pleasant for Mr. Frost to read of the accusations which were made against him. He met those accusations in most cases with silence, and when he rebutted them he did so with great restraint. He refused to become embroiled in a dispute which could very easily have become farcical. This showed wisdom and insight of a superior order. Very often a policy of silence in a political contest is a mistake, and is taken as an admission that no defence exists. But in this instance silence was the best, and perhaps the only way of meeting the situation.

This newspaper is not, as its readers know, an unfailing supporter of Mr. Frost or his government. But in this respect he has won our admiration, remaining patient under great provocation and greeting with contempt a type of attack which was itself contemptible.

In Denmark anyone masquerading as Santa Claus is imprisoned. That is an idea which might take on here.

A Fateful U.S. Choice

By KENNETH HARRIS

THE policy of the West is to build up its strength to a level which would make it impossible for the Soviet Union to achieve its aims by force. The keystone of this policy is the three-year programme of military and economic mobilization and the commitment of equipment funds and troops to Europe which the United States embarked upon in January this year.

In July, 1952, this programme will have passed the half-way mark; the end of the period in which the Soviet Union could hope to march through Europe will be in sight. In that month, however, the United States will be plunged into a Presidential election campaign from which it will not emerge until the following November. For four months American policy may be uncertain; and Russia may use uncertainty to create an international crisis.

* * *

THE effect which the nature and the results of the election campaign will have on American policy depends largely on whom the Republican Party, which has been in opposition for twenty years, will choose as candidate. The Democratic Party candidate, it is now generally supposed, will again be Mr. Truman, or somebody like Mr. Vinson, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, whose policies are substantially the same. Two leading Republicans have already announced that they will contend for the party nomination at the convention in July—Senator Robert Taft, of Ohio, who tried for it unsuccessfully in 1940 and 1948, and Mr. Earl Warren, Governor of the State of California, who ran for the Vice-Presidency in 1948. The third possible candidate is General Eisenhower. So far the General has refused to say whether he will run for the nomination, but a powerful campaign has been opened on his behalf and it is supposed that he would accept the nomination if the party convention offered it to him.

❖ ❖ ❖

SENATOR TAFT'S strength comes from the Middle-West States, which traditionally have been isolationist. Though he remains close to Senator Dirksen, who described the Marshall Plan as "money down a rat-hole," Taft has moved a long way from 1940 when he said, "War is worse than a German victory." He believes in "reasonable alliances," and though he voted against the North Atlantic Pact he believes the rearming of Europe must be completed. His critics are worried not so much by what he says as by the impression he gives that he has not hammered out a policy which faces the reality of American relations with the free world, but has thrown together a "foreign policy" purely for electioneering purposes. Even if he had a policy which was free of internal inconsistencies it could be undermined from the beginning by his insistence that America's Budget should never exceed the $71,000 million of the current year, and by his adherence to conservative economic policies which might raise grave industrial and labour problems at home. Senator Taft thinks the Roosevelt-Truman foreign policy is dictated by the "party line" and "the most tragic in United States history." He believes the United Nations troops in Korea should have defeated the Chinese and have marched to Peking. If he secures the Republican nomination, General MacArthur has promised to come out from "retirement" and stump the country on his behalf. If Senator Taft won the Republican nomination, it would be difficult to avoid the conclusion that the party had lined up behind a man who, even if he did not alter the content of American foreign policy, would probably destroy its continuity.

❖ ❖ ❖

WITH the others it is a different matter. Earl Warren is a liberal with a world outlook, and though his State is interested in the Far East rather than in Europe he could not win the nomination without satisfying the Eastern Republicans of New England, New York, New Jersey nad Pennsylvania, whose cultural and economic interests have made them, on the whole, supporters of President Truman's present line. General Eisenhower, who has been more than a mere instrument of the Administration's policy, is unlikely to attack it as a candidate or alter it as President, though the Eastern Republicans who are pressing for his nomination claim that he would refine and improve it.

At present it looks almost certain that if General Eisenhower wants the Republican nomination he will get it. Two things will influence the party's final decision at the convention—the number of local and national party leaders who are behind a candidate, and his capacity for winning the vote of the man in the street when the Presidential election takes place.

❖ ❖ ❖

AS to the result of the election which will take place in November, three months after the conventions, the Republicans have an excellent chance of winning. Victory lay within their grasp in 1948 and was lost mainly owing to the over-confident campaigns of their candidate, Mr. Dewey, and to the defection of eight States whose predominantly rural population feared that a Republican victory would mean the end of the agricultural price-support programme. These mistakes are not likely to occur again. This time the Republicans can make hay with the findings of several Congressional committees which have investigated dealings between Government or party officials and gamblers or grafters. Federal chief tax collectors in seven major cities are involved in inquiries, and the recent dismissal of the Assistant Attorney-General in charge of the Tax Division of the Department of Justice has increased a feeling that the Democrats can be cleansed only by a period out of office. The conservative Democrats of the South complain of President Truman's "socialism" and the high level of Government spending, and if General Eisenhower were the Republican candidate some Southern Democrats would be tempted to vote against their traditional loyalty.

❖ ❖ ❖

STRONG as the Republican hand is, however, it seems doubtful that it could be played successfully by Senator Taft. As author of the Taft-Hartley Labour Law, which the trade unions continually strive to have repealed, he is unlikely to draw the labour vote from Mr. Truman. His diatribes against high taxation will not register on the millions who suffered in the slump which began under the last Republican President, and who now, in spite of rising prices, enjoy a prosperity they never knew before. Attacks on the Secretary of State, Mr. Dean Acheson, and on the "pro-Red," "disastrous" policies of the State Department in Korea, are unlikely to have the success they had in the Congressional elections of November, 1950. Senator McCarthy, the masterly demagogue who instigated these attacks, has lost much support since he made his fatuous attack on General Marshall last July; he may have difficulty in regaining his seat in the Senate next year.

❖ ❖ ❖

IF it is true that the Republicans can win the election with General Eisenhower as their candidate but not with Senator Taft, the main question about American policy is as good as answered: even if the Democrats are defeated, the policy of the United States will be fundamentally the same. This has significance for all countries, friend or foe, whose own prospects depend on whether American policy remains stable. It means a victory for President Truman even if his party loses the election, for if as a result of his postwar policies only a liberal and internationalist Republican can drive him from office he will have forced his own principles of foreign policy upon his opponents and ensured that nobody who is an isolationist can become the President of the United States.

DIPLOMACY—THE KIND THE REDS PRACTICE

Letter To The Editor

WOES OF TURKEY RAISERS

Sir: Another year has passed by and the time has come again when we begin to hear everybody say "What are we going to have to pay for our Christmas turkey or goose?"

As I am one of those unfortunate ones who raise turkeys I hear a lot of criticism and talk about the big prices the farmers get for his turkeys, in other words all the money he is making. Now just stop and think first, you consumers and buyers before you start grumbling. How much does a turkey raiser clear on a turkey?

Turkey poults cost 95c at the hatchery at two weeks old. Then it takes $5.10 to feed the average turkey hen, plus brooder house equipment, and fuel, not to say anything of working expenses. I'm quite safe in saying the turkey would cost around $7.00. Well a 12 lb. hen turkey which is an average weight for the hens at 60c a lb. would bring him in $7.20, so what is his big profit? Then with the large toms it costs more to feed them and they sell for less per pound, so you can figure for yourselves how much any turkey raiser is making on his flock.

People grumble and chew the fat over what they think is a big price for their turkey but they never say a word about the price of clothes or liquor and lots of manufactured products that they buy and could get along without. You stand on the market there under all conditions of weather and watch the women go by with their swell fur coats and expensive hats, likewise with the men all dolled up in expensive clothes when cheaper ones would do them but that's O.K. But then when they come to spend a few dollars for their Christmas dinner why it's awful paying around 50c-60c a lb. for turkey.

Many of the complainers are ones who do not know the first thing about raising fowl and wouldn't know good birds from poor ones. And right here I will go so far as to say that "our brave Packers" have a big hand in it. They don't stop to realize that it is the farmers who are keeping them in business; yet they are so unfair in going ahead and setting their real "big prices" for turkeys and geese and then top off by sending out their price lists to the stores so that they won't pay any more. They well know what it costs to put a turkey on the market today and why set the price at such a disgraceful and ridiculous figure? It doesn't make any difference to them what the price of turkey is, they still make the same profit. Feed had been going up all the time yet fowl and pork has been coming down; why so? Why is pork dropping so badly and beef staying firm? Simply because the packers know that the farmer has to ship out their pigs when they are ready.

When we get our Turkey Association organized in this district things will be different. Some of those big fellows who are running things now and I mean the turkey market, they'll be left holding the bag and there's nothing that they or the consumers can do about it. They'll pay the price or do without, just like they have to do with their Christmas cheer. This has been tested out in other turkey districts with great results and it is branching out now in neighbouring districts.

The price of turkeys today should be 85-90 cents and it would be if we didn't have so many tight-wads to sell them to.

Where's our bright government officials, why don't they smarten up and do something for the ones who feed them? We hear of some big shots getting up at different meetings and saying what they are going to do for the farmers and what should be done but why don't they act. No sooner have they sat down again than they forget all about what they said. You talk about dictatorship, but how far are we away from it here from the farmer's standpoint. He grows the article, then when it's ready for market he is told what he can get for it and has to be satisfied.

After all, who is it that produces the bread and butter, meat, milk and eggs for the table to feed the hungry mouths of poor little children and their parents? It's the farmer, of course, and he's working hours that the city people are spending in theatres, dance halls, beverage rooms, on picnics or joy-riding and other kinds of amusements. He has to work and work hard in the boiling sun, cold, frost and even in rain in order to save crops and fowl. He doesn't mind the working part of it if he would only get paid for it; and you don't get the farmers going on strike either just through laziness and jealousy.

Another raw deal the farmers got was the market change which was the bright idea of some but some of them saw during the last couple weeks what they made out of it; they surely can see now it didn't pay to be mean. The city certainly showed their respect to the ones whose hands fed them or at least produced the best of what they ate. But I guess parking meters are more important than farm produce. Another thing I would like to ask our stores is why do they have their turkeys shipped in from outside districts? Why not patronize the farmers who patronize you for twelve months of the year.

Maybe you do get them a little cheaper, but is the year's patronage not worth the difference and besides you don't get the same good quality. If our big city stores do not patronize the farmers and his produce, well, we can easily buy from our little country stores and help to build up their business which in time will have strong effect on the city stores.

Well, Mr. Editor, I think I have taken up enough space in your paper but I just wanted to express the feeling of a lot of turkey raisers, who have been going to express their views from one year to another, but just didn't get doing it, and at the same time hoping that fair and reasonable sense would surely come into the heads of everyone buying their Christmas turkey.

Sincerely
TURKEY RAISER.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And it came to pass, when Pharoah had let the people go, that God led them not through the way of the land of the Philistines, although that was near; for God said, Lest peradventure the people of repent when they see war, and they return to Egypt: but God led the people about, through the way of the wilderness of the Red sea: and the children of Israel went up harnessed out of the land of Egypt.... And the Lord went before them by day in a pillar of cloud, to lead them the way; and by night in a pillar of fire, to give them light; to go by day and night. (Ex. 13: 17, 18, 21.)

❖ ❖ ❖

And the Lord hardened the heart of Pharoah king of Egypt, and he pursued after the children of Israel: and the children of Israel went out with an high hand.... And when Pharoah drew nigh, the children of Israel lifted up their eyes, and, behold, the Egyptians marched after them; and they were sore afraid: and the children of Israel cried out unto the Lord.... And Moses said unto the people, Fear ye not, stand still, and see the salvation of the Lord, which he will shew to you to day: for the Egyptians whom ye have seen to day, ye shall see them again no more for ever...

And the Lord said unto Moses, Wherefore criest thou unto me? speak unto the children of Israel, that they go forward: but lift thou up thy rod, and stretch out thine hand over the sea, and divide it: and the children of Israel shall go on dry ground through the midst of the sea... And Moses stretched out his hand over the sea; and the Lord caused the sea to go back by a strong east wind all that night, and made the sea dry land, and the waters were divided. And the children of Israel went into the midst of the sea upon the dry ground: and the waters were a wall unto them on their right hand, and on their left....

Thus the Lord saved Israel that day out of the hand of the Egyptians. (Ex. 14: 8, 10, 13, 15, 16, 21, 22, 30.)

Midnight Mass Tickets

(News item in Montreal Gazette)

Tickets for the Christmas midnight Mass at the Forum went in one day.

By supper time Monday night all 15,000 seats had been sold in a rush that shattered all previous Forum records.

One official said he had never seen anything like it in his experience there.

Before the wickets opened Monday morning people were lined several hundred deep. After the first hour of sales, 7,000 tickets were gone. By late afternoon there were only 500 left and at supper time the last had been sold.

No reserved seats were on sale and only four tickets were allowed per person. Officials at the Archbishop's Palace said only the available seating capacity was sold. No one will be allowed to stand in the aisles.

Solemn High Mass will be chanted at the midnight service and Msgr. Paul-Emile Leger, Archbishop of Montreal, will officiate. He is scheduled to give the sermon.

Arrangements are being made to give communion to more than 10,000 people.

"Vera, that M.P. who said that women Home Guards were 'a glorious gift for comedians and cartoonists who are just about exhausting the subject of the Home Guard' was dead right."

In Service For Men Women Who Served

Comrades: How many times have you heard someone say "Why should I belong to the Canadian Legion?" To us who are members of this branch I imagine this is an old story and each time it is said we try to set the fellow straight on the whys and wherefores of this organization. The facts are quite plain and why so many returned men fail to see them is beyond the reasoning of many Legion members. To be fair, however, the executive and members realize that there are some things in those statements that should be corrected. It is not the purpose of this column to go into any long-drawn out discussion on this subject, but I believe there are a few things that should be brought to the attention of the ex-servicemen and the public.

The Canadian Legion record is one of service. Service to the men who returned from the wars and to the dependents of so many who paid the supreme sacrifice in order that we can enjoy the benefits of this bountiful land—Canada. Ask any veteran of The First World War how much better the conditions were for the veteran of the last war to return to than what he had in 1919. He will tell you how he envies the opportunity that the young veteran had offered to him. The veterans' legislation that made this possible was something the Legion fought for here at home while we were away making it become a reality. The Legion never faltered in its never-ceasing drive to see that those who returned would be given all and more than they deserved. The final result was some of the best legislation for veterans in the world.

On a direct appeal of the Legion the disability pensions will go up in January of 1952. The war veterans allowance is to come up for discussion at the next sitting and we are assured that they will also be raised as they so justly deserve. In connection with pensions the Canadian Legion has set up a service bureau to help any pensioner or any veteran who may want help in his approach to the pension board. The service bureau officer calls on this branch once every month and if he can be of help in veteran legislation he will be only too pleased to see you and offer you his help and advice. Any enquiries or appointments should be made through the secretary of the Legion, (Phone 6203).

To finish this column off I would like to remind any Veteran of the fine hall and facilities we have for his convenience. So fellows come up and pay us a visit. It is in unity that we are strong and your membership would mean that our rights as Veterans would be guarded more jealously than ever.

The General meeting of the Branch will be held on Monday Dec. 17 so keep this night open and attend as all members should. This is the night of the big turkey Raffle, so who knows, you may go home with the Christmas dinner under your arm. Congratulations are also in order to the Red Patch club for their fine effort at the Ortona dinner. All the best to this fine club and may their every endeavour be successful.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Joe DiMaggio's famous "5", the number he carried on the back of his New York Yankee uniform for 13 brilliant playing seasons, will be retired, club publicity director Arthur E. Patterson announced Wednesday.

In a special ceremony on opening day next April, DiMaggio's uniform along with his glove and the bat which he hit his last home run will be presented to Baseball's Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, NY.

DiMaggio's final homer, his 369th and eighth in world series competition, was hit off Sal Maglie of the New York Giants in the fourth series game last October.

DiMaggio's No. 5 uniform is the third to be retired by the Yankees. Babe Ruth's famous No. 3 was retired soon after the sultan of swat left the club in 1935 and Lou Gehrig's No. 4 followed suit four years later.

Charlottetown Islanders and Glace Bay Miners of the Maritime Major Hockey League were given the go ahead Wednesday night to play each other after league president J. Elliott Hudson was assured at Halifax that proper police protection will be provided.

Mr. Hudson ruled out games between the two teams last week after an outbreak of rough play and fan interference at the rinks.

"Both forums have given me their complete co-operation in the matter and I hope and believe that there will be no further trouble" Mr. Hudson said.

A special Ontario Hockey Association meeting at Harriston, under the chairmanship of OHA president J. W. Roxburgh has ruled that the Elmira Poplar Kings, intermediate B club, must play Senior B hockey or drop three star players.

The committee found that goalie Robert Rabethege and forwards Grant Brown and Shorty Wildfong would have to be dropped because of ineligibility if the Kings continued on in intermediate B play. It is expected that Elmira will take the boost into Senior B hockey and play off with Bridgeport Vets, recently elected into the same company, for the right to go on in Senior B playoffs next spring.

Dick Kazmaier, all-America Princeton University football star Wednesday was named 1951's outstanding athlete by the Philadelphia Sportswriters Association. Heavyweight boxing champion Jersey Joe Walcott was second in the balloting with Ferris Fain, of the Philadelphia Athletics, winner of the American League batting championship, third.

Philadelphia Phillies Wednesday named two men to the newly-created post of sales representative, believed to be a novelty in major league baseball. Robert R. M. Carpenter, Jr., Phillies' president, said the sales representatives will make personal calls on industrial establishments, fraternal organizations, service clubs and similar groups interested in attending Phillies' games.

Appointed to the jobs are Hugh Dougherty, former college public relations director, and Tom Hudson, former airline executive.

At Buffalo, the University of Buffalo's basketball squad combined a fast breaking offence with a solid defensive wall Wednesday night to whip University of Toronto 81-54, in an exhibition game.

Springville Mission Band Marks Christmas

Springville, Dec. 13 (ENS)—Springville Mission Band held their December meeting at the home of Joy Seymour on Saturday. The scripture was read by Lila Seymour, Carolyn Whitfield and Freddie Flokstra and Joy Seymour led in prayer.

A special feature of this meeting was the showing of a film "The Life of Joseph," with Mrs. Clifford Johnston in charge of the projector. The children made place-cards of Christmas tree cutouts. Neal Cathcart, Billy Whittington, Roeula Flokstra and Keith Johnston gave Christmas recitations.

An especially interesting part of the meeting was the exchange of Christmas gifts.

At the previous meeting each child drew the name of another child and to this meeting brought a gift.

At the close of the meeting Billy Whitfield, Carolyn Whitfield and Keith Johnston served lunch with the assistance of Mrs. C. W. Seymour.

Petes Down Quinte Hawks In 8-5 Senior Game To Move Into Top-Place Tie

Dominating play throughout here last night, the Petes fashioned an 8-5 OHA senior "B" triumph at the expense of Belleville to climb into a top-place group tie with the Hawks and Kingston. They always looked several goals better than the visitors in a speedy, clean fray, marked with but four penalties a side, including a misconduct late in the third to Jack Wardhaugh for arguing over a minor penalty.

IN ON THREE—Jack Mortimer helped the Petes shoot down Belleville Hawks 8-5 here last night, scoring two goals and aiding on another in a neat all-around effort.

The Ellis outfit flew to a 3-1 lead in a big first frame. Red Doran's bunch made their best showing in the second which was a 2-2 heat, the Petes again flashing more drive in the third for a 3-2 scoring margin. They also had two goals called back on them for being in the crease. While Ray Harding handled a lot of hot ones, Maurice Lefort had more work to do in the other cage, and turned in a neat effort. A slim crowd braved the cold weather to view the fast fixture.

Led the Way

Two goals apiece for Peterborough were tallied by Jack Mortimer, Gus Leonard and Arn Dugan, as Curly Mason and Freddy Garvey each hit the twine once. Chum Fryia aided on a pair, single assists going to Ted Collins, Ron Horton, Gus Leonard, Jack Mortimer, Junior West, Arn Dugan, Curly Mason and Earl Leonard. The Quinte counters were Knobby Day, Ernie Trumble, Jerry Desjardins, Doug Bastedo and Vern Goyer. An assist apiece was chalked up by Red Doran, Knobby Day, Peter Jones and Ernie Trumble.

Moher hit the post on a try early in the first but they could do nothing during Mason's absence for slashing. At 4.55, Garvey got in close with Collins' pass to blast the biscuit by Lefort. Fryia's goal from Dugan was not counted. The Petes had a good margin on play, especially their first line, in speedy, clean travelling. The Goyer line threatened later and clicked for a neat goal by big Vern around defence from Trumble as he picked a small target and hit it. MacDonald was gated for holding and Doran followed for tripping. One was back when Mortimer tallied in a ganging-up attack with Horton and Gus Leonard. With all back, Gus got one more in close from Mortimer and West on nifty passing just before the gong sounded.

Gus Scored

Gus Letonard bored in fast from the side to score again as the second period got underway. Jopling was chased for boarding but his mates held off the enemy, and Gus just missed on a breakaway. Later, Mason rifled one in from Dugan and Fryia at point-blank range after Lefort made one save and was down. Dugan got the finger for tripping and Harding made several swell saves as Hawks flew in fast. Later, Dugan and Wardhaugh were waved over for minor roughing, and Bastedo blasted one home from close range with Jones' pass. With all back, Belleville battled away to score one more late one, Desjardins' slap shot on Day's passout catching a corner.

Jopling had a good rush to start the third and then Dugan took Fryia's fine pass to bullet the puck into the far net corner. Trumble got that back from Doran on a partially screened shot as play moved up and down at high tempo. A Petes' goal was ruled in the crease. The Petes kept pressing, a Fryia-Dugan effort nearly clicking just before a payoff rush with Dugan taking Mason's pass-up on a breakaway to sink a smart one. Mortimer added one more on his own rebound on a forward pass from Earl Leonard. Hawks kept fighting back and Day wound up the scoring on a fine solo thrust, cuffing the cookie into the oven on his own rebound. A Garvey-Collins' rush just missed and then Wardhaugh drew a tripping penalty, with a misconduct for arguing tacked on. Play was fairly even at the final bell. Teams:

Belleville—Goal, Lefort; defence, Bastedo and Reeves; centre, V. Goyer; wings, MacDonald and Moher; alternates, Doran, Wardhaugh, Jones, Barrett, Desjardins, Day, Trumble and L. Goyer.

Petes—Goal, Harding; defence, Jopling and E. Leonard; centre, Dugan; wings, Fryia and Mason; alternates, G. Leonard, Mortimer, West, Wade, Horton, Collins, Garvey and Floyd.

Referee, W. Reason; linesman, P. Nigh.

Charles Gets Fifth Win Over Maxim

By RUSS NEWLAND.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 13 — (AP) — Former heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles has finally convinced light-heavyweight title holder Joey Maxim, after five beatings, that it is a hopeless cause to challenge him.

Charles, who expects to punch the crown off Jersey Joe Walcott's head in their return fight early next year, dashed Maxim's hopes for a successful foray into the heavier division at the Cow Palace Wednesday night.

The lean Cincinnati Negro outpunched the 175-pound king to win an easy 12-round decision.

There were no knockdowns and not much sustained action. Neither was damaged or even in trouble. The crowd of 10,827 booed at times in dull moments when Maxim engaged in frequent clinches.

Gross receipts were $60,886.25, the net was $48,000, plus $25,000 from television, for a $63,000 total. Charles took 35 per cent of that; Maxim 27½ per cent and the Chronicle Christmas Fund for needy children, 10 per cent. Promoter Jimmy Murray said the bout was a losing venture.

Looking Ahead

Both Charles and Maxim immediately looked forward to championship fights not too long off.

Charles declared "I think I can whip any one in the world until they beat me." That's what Walcott did last July when he kayoed Ezzard in a surprise win.

Maxim, who whipped Irish Bob Murphy in defence of his championship a few months ago, is going to campaign in his own division. He said he was ready to take on the principal contenders, Harry (Kid) Matthews of Seattle or veteran Archie Moore of St. Louis anytime.

In the sixth round, Charles was warned for a low punch. The ex-heavyweight boss justified his 1 to 3 favoritism to outscore Maxim. He packed the heavier blows, forced the going and landed more frequently.

After the match, Maxim said "I wasn't hurt by Charles, and would be ready to go again tonight. He hit me low three or four times but I made him miss punches every round. He's just a jinx, I can't beat him. He shook me up only once with one to the chin."

Charles, wearing his familiar moustache and latest win lightly, expressed disappointment he hadn't scored a knockout.

Blind Men Keen Bowlers

AUCKLAND, NZ (CP)—Blind men are learning lawn bowling in New Zealand and showing such ability that they hope soon to play matches in open competition.

E. C. Jones, blind Australian bowler who is showing them how, declares: "It's all done by trickery, but we can't use mirrors."

Jones works with a friend who acts as director for him. The bowler listens to the sound of a whistle blown by the director standing over the jack at the other end. When the bowl stops, the director, who can see, calls its position compared with the jack, such as "three feet out at 11 o'clock."

Then the director tells the next blind bowler where to send the bowl and gives the line by whistle in the same way.

The game has proved a fine sport for blind men in Sydney and men at the blind institute in Auckland are now taking it up enthusiastically with the aid of sighted men, mostly retired businessmen willing to give some time to a good cause. It is hoped to begin blind international contests with Australia within the next year or two.

Bisons Clip Mohawks Gain 6-3 Decision

By The Canadian Press.

Buffalo Bisons outscored Cincinnati Mohawks 6-3 Wednesday night to move into a first-place tie with Hershey Bears in the eastern division of the American Hockey League.

The Bears lost a chance to maintain their slim two-point lead by dropping a close 3-2 decision to Syracuse Warriors.

In the western division, Cleveland Barons took over second place from the idle St. Louis Flyers by shading Pittsburgh Hornets 4-3.

The major trophy was won by a Toronto Granite rink skipped by Dr. John Trelford.

The runner-up quarter was skipped by Dr. J. A. Spellman of Kitchener.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Our grid Orfuns would like to have Frank Gnup back here as coach next year. Frank would like to be back here, too. So, what, you say, then everything's fine. Oh, no. There's the matter of pay to be worked out ere the twain can meet. Good USA football coaches come high. An item in the Ottawa Journal two days ago said Coach Clem Crowe of the Riders (Grey Cup champs) will be back if he can come to terms with the club. It adds: "Crowe was reported to have received $8,000 for the 1951 season, plus playoff bonuses, which would bring him up to around $10,000. According to one story, Clem would consider a lift of $3,000 and a bonus clause quite acceptable for next season." Hm, not bad dough for a short season. Gnup of course wouldn't ask this amount, but enough.

It's "father and son night" at the arena here tomorrow eve when Lindsay Kin tackle Oddfellows in an OHA junior "B" joust at 8.30 of the clock. Kids from the Children's Aid and Orphanage are invited, too. Children accompanied by parents get in free. Our senior clubs might often do likewise to build up future puck fans. This'll be another streamlined junior fray, and we expect the IOOF-ers will vent their spite (after dropping a toughie last start in Belleville) on the rugged Lindsay crew. Drop around and see Johnny Godfrey's hustlers battle to victory in heated hockey action. You won't be sorry, folks.

Lakeshore Loop Shaky?

Dick Hayward of the Port Hope Guide writes: "Latest news from the Lakeshore Hockey League is not too promising. At the moment the circuit appears to be in serious danger. Today we learned that Lakefield dropped from the loop for precisely the same reason that is causing Cobourg to consider seriously the same move—difficulty in icing a batch of players who will conform to the OHA residence rule. Lakefield officials say that in order to be a competitor in the league, they would have to get help from outside sources, but this would be against the rules and so they have decided to sit out for this winter, at least."

* * * * * *

He goes on to say that Cobourg has a legitimate beef on the two players awarded to Port Hope, inasmuch as they let a couple of good prospects leave town and later found out that Flesch and Medhurst decided to play for Port Hope rather than Cobourg. So he feels the OHA should take this into consideration and allow Cobourg a couple of replacements. But this would put the shaky OHA residence rule on a still more wobbly basis. You'd have to give Lakefield some such break, too, wouldn't you? And why not then reconsider the case of George Brabin of the Eagles? And other such cases. We still don't like a rule that keeps athletes out of action. A blanket rule, we mean, which leaves quite a number sidelined

Defeather The Hawks

Petes trimmed the Hawks of Belleville by an 8-5 score here last night as some 1500 hockey fans stayed at home. Too cold, maybe. A good game, speedy and clean, with the Ellis crew earning the duke handily. Always were two or three goals ahead and might have scored several more, though Hawks battled back all the way. It leaves Petes, Kingston and Belleville in a three-way tie for first place in their senior "B" grouping, just two points up on Eagles. Well bunched, eh? Both local clubs play away tomorrow night. In on three goals each for the winners were Jack Mortimer, Gus Leonard and Arn Dugan (the latter moved up again on the forward line), while Curly Mason and Chum Fryia—back in action—were in on a pair apiece. Whole squad clicked well.

Lindsay and Neill's have a girls' basketball fixture tomorrow e'en in the YWCA. Next night sees the males go at the YM at eight in an Eastern Ontario loop tilt, Picton Athletics against Outboard Marines. The Quinte Glens took a 44-21 verdict o'er Trenton Flyers the other night and now nestle in the second slot just back of Gord McIntyre's Marines. A rather interesting exhibition at Collegiate yester aft saw the PCVS junior "A" boys romp through for a 31-18 win against the senior school lasses. A bit of clowning, a fair amount of keen cage play, and a lot of fun during the melee.

Boys Beat Girls By 31 to 18 In Cage Tussle

PCVS boys beat the lasses at their own game Wednesday night when the junior "A" boys' team trimmed the girls' senior team 31-18 playing girls' basketball rules.

To confuse the girls, the fellows tried various costumes such as dresses and shirts, and long, brightly colored pyjama bottoms. But they didn't need those; their ball-handling more than confused the girls at times and their quick breaking pass attack was too fast.

At times the boys even tried three players to the girls' six but the senior damsels quickly racked up field scores, almost catching the boys just after halftime when they climbed to within three points 17-14.

Show Promise

The game indicated a fair season for both teams. The juniors had speed, excellent passing but poor shooting from close in and far out. The senior girls, in spite of the disadvantage of playing the thoroughly experienced boys, appeared to have a good guard line. They also were poor on the shooting. Lineups:

Senior girls—Eleanor White, Joan Wood, Betty Thomson, Janet Frederick, Maureen Fletcher, Nancy Rowell, Betty Ann Wilkinson, Marg Clark, Lorraine Derry 14, Janet Estlick, Shirley Frost 4.

Junior "A" boys—Corbett 2, Roberts 3, Griffin 2, Armstrong 2, Boorman 2, Allan 6, Carleton 4, Burgess 2, Marshall 2, Eastwood 2, Foote 4, Fowler.

NHL Governors Turn Down Overtime Play Proposal Train Timetables Stickler

NEW YORK, Dec. 13. (CP)—The National Hockey League again has turned thumbs down on overtime play. The board of governors of the league at a meeting Wednesday decided that unless overtime could be used to break all tie games it would not be desirable. The catch seems to be train timetables. Transportation difficulties would prevent overtime at certain games at New York and Montreal.

Three teams—Chicago, Boston and New York—were reported to be in favor of overtime but only if it could be made universal.

The matter was brought up by Boston general manager Art Ross who made a similar suggestion last year. It also was turned down.

Overtime was done away with in the NHL during the war as it was in all professional hockey. However, the American Hockey League has reinstated the 10-minute overtime period.

The meeting, a spokesman reported, also:

1. Banned exhibition games between big league teams during the regular season. One such game is scheduled between New York Rangers and Chicago Black Hawks in Milwaukee, Wis., in January but after that no more will be allowed.

2. Heard a report from league president Clarence Campbell that gate receipts are better so far this season than last in all league cities except Chicago. No figures were given.

3. Discussed, but did not act upon, a proposal by Boston that all visiting teams share in gate receipts. Campbell pointed out this was banned by the league constitution.

4. Approved a brief already drawn up to be sent to the Congressional committee in Washington which is investigating the anti-trust aspects of the reserve clause in professional sport contracts. The brief was not made public.

Rangers Coming To Life Dump Boston 6-3 As Stewart Spark Plug

By JACK SULLIVAN, Canadian Press Writer

Before the National Hockey League season started, Manager Frank Boucher of New York Rangers was as happy as a school kid over the off-season trade that sent winger Tony Leswick to Detroit Red Wings for Gaye Stewart. The Fort William flash would inject some sorely-needed scoring punch into the blueshirts, said Boucher. The experts figured that Frank got a bum deal in spades as the season started and stewart couldn't buy a goal. Here was a fellow who never had scored fewer than 17 goals a campaign since he hit the big time in 1942 with Toronto.

He went scoreless for 23 games and then started clicking a week ago. Now he has six, exactly one-third of his 1950-51 production with the Wings.

Gaye clicked with Nos. 5 and 6 Wednesday night as Rangers dumped Boston Bruins 6-3 and vaulted from the cellar spot into a fourth-place tie with Montreal Canadiens. It was Stewart's third two-goal effort in the last four games.

Poor Crowd

There was only one sour note to the proceedings—the only activity on the NHL front—and that was the crowd. It was 6,104, the lowest of the season to date, which is a mite surprising in view of the Blueshirts' thumping 7-2 victory over Toronto at Madison Square Gardens last Sunday.

The Rangers now have scored 15 goals in three games, which should be more than enough to satisfy Manhattan fans who have been screaming for sudden-death overtime after watching the Blueshirts stumble through close-scoring games the last two seasons.

Rangers piled up a 3-0 lead midway through the second period and appeared to be coasting to their second victory in three games when the Bruins got back into the game with goals by Johnny Peirson and Dave Creighton within 28 seconds.

Stewart made it 4-2 early in the third period and poked in his second at 11:57 after Milt Schmidt netted Boston's final tally.

In addition, Stewart received assists on two other Ranger goals.

Other Ranger marksmen were Wally Hergesheimer, Ed Slowinski Don (Bones) Raleigh and Reg Sinclair.

Two games are on tap tonight—Toronto at Detroit and Montreal Canadiens at Chicago.

The league-leading Red Wings hold a four-point lead over the Leafs.

Lindsay Kinsmen Down Kingston 7-2

LINDSAY, Dec. 13. — Scoring four third-period goals, Lindsay Kinsmen took over first place in the Central Ontario OHA Junior "B" League with a 7-2 win over Kingston Vics here before a slim crowd.

Ken Schinkel celebrated his return to right wing by firing three goals and assisting on two others. The youthful Vics were in the game only in the first period when Ed Maracle and Wilson Reid matched two of the locals' trio of markers.

After a goalless middle session, Lindsay, sparked by Schinkel, clinched the game on ice late in the period, scoring three. Gordon Deeth, Doug Powell, Norm Dysart and Bruce Hall were the other Kinsmen marksmen.

Hockey's Big Seven

In fourth place are Maurice Richard of Montreal and Sid Smith of Toronto with 23 each. Richard's 15 goals continue to set the pace.

Trabert, Schroeder Sweep Two Matches

MELBOURNE, Australia, Dec 13 (AP).—Tony Trabert and Ted Schroeder virtually swept their Swedish opponents off the courts today in the first two singles matches of the United States-Sweden interzone Davis Cup final and were expected to finish the job by taking the doubles in similar convincing fashion.

Tony and Ted, whose selection for the singles over Vic Seixas and Dick Savitt caused some surprise, each won their singles matches in straight sets to give the United States a commanding 2-0 lead. A victory in the doubles will put the US in the challenge round against Australia.

Trabert, a Cincinnati youth on leave from the navy, crushed Sven Davidsson, 6-3, 6-4, 9-7. Then the veteran Schroeder from Canada, Calif., stormed over Lennart Bergelin, Sweden's No. 1 player, 6-2, 6-2, 6-4. Davidsson and Bergelin will pair against Tony and Ted in the doubles.

Flyers Surprise Marlboros Chalk Up Snappy 3-2 Triumph

By The Canadian Press.

With Guelph Biltmores standing idle Wednesday night, Toronto Marlboros had their best chance in weeks to take over undisputed possession of the league leadership when they met seventh-place Barrie Flyers in the opening game of an Ontario Hockey Association Junior A twin bill in Toronto.

The Flyers provided a surprise, however. Playing a hard-hitting, close-checking brand of hockey, they set the Dukes back on their heels with a 3-2 victory. The loss left the Toronto club still tied with the Biltmores for top spot in the ten-team loop.

Toronto St. Michael's fared much better in the twin-bill nightcap as they drubbed sixth-place Waterloo Hurricanes 8-1. The win moved St. Mike's to within four points of the two top teams.

In the two other junior OHA tussles Wednesday night, Galt Black Hawks pounded out a 5-3 overtime victory in Oshawa, while St. Catharines Teepees came from behind in Windsor to edge the last-place Spitfires 5-4.

Tied For Second

Senior OHA play saw Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen move back into a second-place deadlock with Hamilton Tigers with a 5-3 win over the league-leading Stratford Indians. Brantford Indians clipped Sarnia Sailors 4-2 at Sarnia.

Up north, Sudbury Wolves dumped Sudbury Miners 7-4 in a scheduled Northern Ontario Hockey Association Senior A tilt. The loss dulled the Miners' chances of pulling even with first-place Sault Ste. Marie Greyhounds who hold a seven-point lead.

Doug Mohns, Paul Emms and Don McKenney tallied in Barrie's 3-2 win over the Marlboros while Parker McDonald and Louis Bendo scored for the losers. Ron Wallace and Butch Ratchford each garnered a pair in St. Mike's victory while Bob Sabourin, Murray Costello, Paul Knox and Bill Dineen went for singletons. Defenceman Louis Caron averted a shutout by scoring for Waterloo.

Gets Several Goals

Tommy Fyles notched a brace of goals in Galt's 5-3 win in Oshawa while Mike Buchanan, Tony Poeta, and Bill MacIntosh tallied once. Al Lawrence, Fred Ethier, and Herv Dejordy were the Oshawa marksmen.

At Windsor, Pierre Pilota, Bill Young, Buddy Boone, Allen Kellogg and Hank Ciesla shared the honors in St. Catharines' 5-4 victory over the Spitfires. Johnny Lumley, newly acquired from Toronto Marlboros, scored three for the losers while Bob Brown added the other.

Jim Pernfuss, Billy Mitchell, Doug Verity, Ed Stankiewicz and Scotty Mair led Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen to their 5-3 victory over Stratford. Mickey Roth, with two goals, and playing coach Pat Wilson tallied for the Indians.

At Sarnia, Wally Hnatiuk tallied three times for the winning Brantford Redmen while Bill Schell scored the other in the 4-2 victory. Jim Wilson and Ollie Haddon notched goals for the sailors.

Canadians In Great Demand

Germans Coax Army For Hockey Stars

By DOUGLAS HOW

WITH THE CANADIANS IN GERMANY, Dec. 14. (CP)—Canada's 27th Brigade is under siege by the Germans — for hockey players.

Half the hockey teams in Germany seem to be beating a path to brigade headquarters' door, by car, mail or phone, to inquire about the possibilities of hiring soldiers on a part-time basis either as players or coaches.

It looks as though they are out of luck for this winter, however.

With a heavy winter of training ahead for his troops, Brig. Geoffrey Walsh has indicated that he can't see his way clear to give men time off for extra-curricular athletics.

Next winter, when the brigade will be a really operational and skilled formation, it might be another matter because this might be one way to further good relations with the German people.

This winter soldiering comes first.

It is hoped, however, that it will be possible to have some hockey within the brigade as part of the regular sports program. Equipment for a number of teams is said to be available and the big question mark is the weather.

No Ice In Sight

As Christmas approached, the temperature stayed well above zero, the ground was green, farmers worked in the fields. Ice seemed a long way off but the Germans said their weather can get really tough in January and February.

But even when it gets cold it may be hard to find ice. There is no rink in Hannover. The Hannover team, in fact, plays near Gosler, some 50 miles south, and has been trying to convince the Canadians that if three or four good players could be made available it might be possible to swing a new rink for Hannover itself.

The Canadians think they might be able to build outdoor rinks but the Germans say they've tried them and they don't work very well in this country. So the brigade's hockey prospects for this winter are up in the air.

There are a small number of Canadians at Hamburg, the big port city to the north where there is a rink. Hamburg is one of the cities which has been after the brigade for hockey players, along with Hannover, Dusseldorf, Kleegeld and one ambitious man from the Goslar area who wanted to find virtually a full-time coach to handle four or five teams at once.

Cobourg Team May Be Joining Trent Valley League Play

COBOURG, Dec. 13 — Grim warning that Cobourg Comets are not fooling in their determination to have a new player deal or leave the Lakeshore League Intermediate A series came Wednesday when it was announced that the Comets have asked for and been given a chance to make entry into the strong Trent Valley League. This loop is a well-known one in this district and does not affiliate with the OHA, but conducts its own affairs with a lengthy playoff schedule that carries the teams into April.

The loop does not extract any cut of the home games either which is another appealing feature to the locals in view of the high price of hockey equipment and transportation costs.

Have Until Sunday

The Cobourg executive have until Sunday to notify the Trent Valley loop if they decide to enter and unless some player strength is forthcoming, from an OHA ruling, it is likely they will accept the bid.

President Art Duncan, Batawa, of the Trent Valley League, told the Comets their entry would be acceptable if made at a meeting called to prepare a schedule next Sunday.

In the event they enter the Trent Valley the Comets would be part of a 10 or 12 team setup divided in two groups. This would put Cobourg in the Western end with two Peterborough teams, Lakefield, a Belleville City team, Trenton RCAF Station and Trenton Town. All these trips are shorter than the jump to Lindsay now undertaken by the Comets.

A meeting of the OHA was held Wednesday in Toronto with Stan Williams of Cobourg presenting his team's case for additional strength and on the outcome of that depends the actions of the Comets between now and Sunday.

Teams that the Comets might meet in the playoffs include Marmora, Frankford, Campbellford, and Batawa, with several more as possibilities.

Although no definite stand has been taken on player strength, the Comets would like four players, whom they have in view, to be okayed by the OHA. Failing any additional strength, the last game for the locals will be here next Wednesday when they wind up the first part of the schedule, meeting Lindsay.

It is generally conceded that a Cobourg withdrawal means the end for the Lakeshore League for this season at least since Lindsay will not take part in a two-team schedule, leaving Port Hope the lone loop survivor.

P of W Victorious

Prince of Wales defeated Central 6-2 in a School Hockey League contest yesterday at Civic Arena. J. Sutherland scored four goals for the winners, aided once by Huffman. Bowen got one from Sutherland, and Boyce tallied the other on a breakaway. For Central, Naish counted from Patterson, and Gray got the other from Naish. Teams:

Prince of Wales: Boyce, Sutherland, Bowen, Reid, Hawthorne, Johnson, Hunt, Huffman, Vargo, Aulbrook, Carl, Ashby, Allen, Trotter.

Central: Kelly, Naish, Tranter, Patterson, Gray, Dunford, Lloyd, Craymer, Robbins, Brown, Williams, Lustic, Sorrie, Matthews.

Referee—J. Corbett.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press

Expansion of the National Hockey League to 10 or 12 teams was suggested by Mervyn Dutton, then NHL president, at a meeting of league governors in Toronto six years ago today. He pointed out the league held unused franchises from the old Montral Maroons and New York Americans and had tentative overtures from new cities. The league however remains at six teams.

Says Inflation Danger Growing Worse

By FORBES RHUDE,
Canadian Press Business Editor

Robert Rae, president of the Dominion Bank, made an address Wednesday night which might be entitled, "Inflation and You."

Addressing the bank's annual meeting in Toronto, he described in forceful language the dangers of inflation to the average person. Here are some quotes from it:

"There is a clamor against inflation—yet it is also true that many Canadians privately, perhaps even unconsciously, regard themselves not as victims of inflation, but as exceptions to the general rule that inflation is destructive of prosperity. They fail to recognize inflation for the deadly threat to themselves and their families which it is.

"They fail to do so largely because most earned incomes—including their own—have been forced up since 1939 faster than the cost of living has increased. The success of large numbers of individuals, in quickly raising their own dollar incomes, blinds them to the fact that in printing more and more dollars to finance these enlarged income payments—in thus cheapening the Canadian dollar relatively to goods or to gold—we have been destroying gradually, but inevitably, the real worth of the savings on which, as individuals, they depend for their future solvency.

Leave Children Poor

"Millions of Canadians, undoubtedly more prosperous in terms of creature comfort today than they were in 1939, are destined when they die to leave their widows and children unnecessarily poor, directly because of this multiplication of dollars which inflation involves; because of this gradual destruction of the purchasing power of the dollar since 1939 which we have not only permitted but, at any rate since 1945, have encouraged and helped bring about.

"Accordingly, those of us who realize just how dangerous to Canadians of all classes, just how deceptive and insidious the process of inflation is, are bound to feel encouraged when, none too soon, those in authority take steps to control effectively the creation of new purchasing power in this country, as they now have done."

Mr. Rae also advocated that gold should be allowed to reach its natural value in relation to paper money and said, in effect, that both after the Napoleonic Wars and the Great Wars of this century monetary policies had led to paper money being worth less than its reputed gold value.

This had been corrected in 1821 by the pound sterling going on the gold standard and staying there until 1914. He hoped that monetary policy may now be moving in the same direction.

In this connection he welcomed the International Monetary Fund's action last September, in freeing member countries from obligations not to sell gold in world markets at premium prices. He said this action may some day be recognized as one of the turning points in financial history.

Blames Ottawa For Lack Of Television

OTTAWA, Dec. 13 — (CP) — Donald Fleming (PC, Toronto Eglinton) said Wednesday night that the Canadian government and the publicly-owned CBC are to blame for the fact that Canadians are without television.

He spoke as the Commons renewed study of a bill providing annual parliamentary grants of $6,250,000 to the CBC for five years. The bill recently was studied in detail by the radio committee of the Commons.

Private interests applied as early as 1948 for permission to establish television stations in Canada, said Mr. Fleming. But the government policy and CBC inaction kept the application in suspense.

M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, referred to protests which had been made in the Chamber against certain addresses over the CBC.

He said he was sure that many members of the radio committee, having read the scripts of those addresses, would agree that they were "in very fine language," were not blasphemous and contained nothing not heard in Canadian university classrooms.

He would suggest only, as did Mr. Fleming, that opportunities be given for opposing views. There should be no limitation on the freedom of speech.

Dealing with television, he said that if private stations were allowed to telecast that would be "a punishment" inflicted on the people of Canada by "the negligence of this parliament."

He was sure the people would rather wait for government-operated TV.

Business Tax Criticized By The County Council

County council Wednesday argued the pros and cons of business tax but they came up with no solution on what to do about it.

The general trend of opinion was that the business tax works an undue hardship on some businessmen and lets others go scot free.

As an example: Reeve Dick Stewart, Otonabee, pointed out that the proprietor of a country general store may make much less money than nearby farmers who own combines and do custom jobs for other farmers.

The minimum business tax is $100 a year.

Deputy-Reeve Dave McIntyre, Otonabee, said: "The whole idea of business tax is wrong."

He thought that a better method would be to tax the profits of a business. An audited statement would be sufficient. The businessman is already required to keep records to make out his income tax returns.

Reeve W. E. Griffith, Belmont-Methuen, also thought the tax unfair.

He said he knew some examples in his own municipality where a small business, that has a large money turnover and shows a handsome profit, pays less business tax than a larger but less wealthy competitor.

Firms that have only a small premises but make more money than others with larger premises, get the better of the present setup, Mr. Griffith maintained.

Letter From Hastings

The question came up when council received a letter from the Hastings Council asking them to concur in a resolution that the assessment should be at a lesser percentage rate than at present, but there should be no refund if the business operates only part of the year.

Mr. McIntyre said that wasn't sufficient. The whole principle of business tax is wrong.

Reeve James Gifford, Ennismore, said that taxing profits alone might also inflict a hardship. The man with high profits was subject to high income tax. So, in effect, he would be taxed twice.

A key to the Department's thinking on business tax was probably this, suggested County Assessor Stewart J. Sparling: the government is trying to encourage farming—the production of livestock and crops.

The upshot was that council decided to have Mr. Sparling meet with the assessment committee and come up with a recommendation for the January session. If endorsed, it will then be passed on to other rural champion municipalities, the Department, and the Hon. Harold R. Scott.

or Face Hazard of Further Inflation ... says Dominion Bank President

81st Annual Meeting of Shareholders THE DOMINION BANK

Impossible to stop Inflation by Price Control . . . says Mr. Rae.

Addressing the 81st Annual Meeting of Shareholders, the President, Robert Rae said in part:

The year 1951 has been marked by two new developments; one of them international and external to Canada, the other a domestic change of policy.

The action of the Monetary Fund in Washington on September 28 released all member-governments from one of the most important and, possibly most embarrassing pledges taken at Bretton Woods in 1944. Some day we may recognize it as one of the turning points in financial history.

Importance of Gold Standard

The so-called Bullion Report of 1810 tardily recognized two facts which prior to that date were vigorously contradicted and denied by those in authority: that the monetary policy pursued, in Britain particularly during the Napoleonic Wars, had inevitably led to the discounting of Bank of England notes against gold; and that the need for a stable medium, of international exchange especially, could be met only by setting up a gold standard.

This was done in 1821. Thenceforward, the pound sterling was a gold coin freely bought and sold, the fixed price of which, in Bank of England notes, guided the Bank's credit policy during the remainder of the century until, in August 1914, the link of the pound sterling with gold was again broken.

Of all the great measures of reform which benefitted Western man during the nineteenth century, measures which made possible an all-round improvement without precedent in the standard of comfort enjoyed by mankind, the enactment of a gold standard was one of the most important. The decision of the Monetary Fund is a belated recognition of the same situation in our own time as was recognized in London by the Bullion Report of 1810.

Gold Now to Find Own Price

In effect, it means that gold will now be permitted, like everything else which is the result of human effort, to gradually find its own price in relation to paper money, and plainly suggests that a reform of the domestic monetary policies of Members is required to discourage hoarding.

We may be glad that our thought on currency problems is now moving in the right direction, even though the market price of gold may remain relatively unchanged for sometime.

During 1951 there has been a fundamental change in our domestic policy.

It has already caused a good deal of discomfort both to Canadian business and to the man-in-the-street. I refer to the controls of credit which are now being pursued jointly in Ottawa, by the government and our central banking authorities, with a view to preventing further inflation.

By this time last year, inflation was assuming proportions much more dangerous than was generally realized then, or is realized even now.

Many Canadians regard themselves as victims of inflation, but fail to recognize inflation as destructive of prosperity, and the deadly threat to themselves and their families which it is.

Inflation Destroys Savings

Most earned incomes have been forced up since 1939 faster than the cost of living has increased. The success of large numbers of individuals in quickly raising their own dollar incomes, blinds them to the fact that in printing more and more dollars to finance these enlarged income payments—in thus cheapening the Canadian dollar relatively to goods or to gold—we have been destroying gradually but inevitably the real worth of the savings on which, as individuals, they depend for their future solvency.

Millions of Canadians, undoubtedly more prosperous than in 1939, are destined to leave their widows and children unnecessarily poor because of this gradual destruction of the purchasing power of the dollar.

We are bound to feel encouraged when, none too soon, those in authority take steps to control effectively the creation of new purchasing power.

Some among us mistakenly still think you can stop inflation by means of price controls. You cannot.

Credit Curb Only Remedy

Painful though the process may be, there is no dependable remedy for the disease of inflation except this one of restricting credit. The medicine tastes nasty, but for our own sakes, still more for the sake of dependents we must leave behind, it must be swallowed.

All Western countries during the past twelve or fifteen years have been flirting with and have become entangled in the theory that rates of interest can be manipulated successfully, kept artificially low to conform with certain ultra-modern conceptions of economic planning.

But evidence is accumulating that the manipulation of interest rates must and will, if adopted as a long-term policy, be followed by deplorable consequences.

Is it not time to adopt again the time-honored prescription and undertake our main stand against inflation by means of open-market operations, resolutely pursued on the necessary scale and during the necessary length of time?

These issues are not merely the concern of bankers and business borrowers. The decisions now being carried out affect (or will affect in the near future) the security, peace of mind and living standard of every Canadian family. For, apart from those short-term inflationary dangers which inevitably stem from the Korean War and today's imperative need for rearmament, there are also certain long-term inflationary dangers with which we must cope.

In my view, the long-term hazards are the most menacing. We must realize that the purchasing power of our dollar could be whittled away, gradually, to near nothingness. Indeed, the communists among us earnestly desire just this, and therefore we dare not neglect these dangers.

Not the least of them is a prevalent state of mind. Most people nowadays believe in the Welfare State. Most Canadians demand Full Employment.

But you cannot insist that more and more of the national income be given to persons, however deserving, who neither produce nor save; you cannot keep on creating new jobs continuously, without running headlong into the danger which all of us fear: more inflation.

Produce More to Have More

The fact is that all of us, government and citizens, tax collectors and tax payers alike, must "cut our coats according to our cloth." Otherwise, the continuance of inflation will remain a near certainty.

There is one basic truth which it is perilous to forget. A nation's income for consumption is neither more nor less than what its people can and do produce. We cannot enlarge it by printing paper dollars. If we want more, we must produce more.

Enough of us know this now to make frequent new Canadian production records. But others do not yet realize it.

I am still an optimist. Experience cannot teach all of us, but it does teach most men. As each one convinces himself that Canadians like the rest of mankind, must produce in order to consume, each, I do believe, will take up again his own task, make his own contribution to the collective livelihood, with the determination that is only to be found among free men.

Strong Liquid Position Shown in Statement Presented by General Manager

In presenting the Annual Financial Statement, A. C. Ashforth, general manager, spoke as follows:

I have the honour to submit to you the General Statement of the Bank for the fiscal year ended 31st October, 1951, and shall comment on the more important items. You will observe from the copy placed before you that it is the 81st Annual Balance Sheet which this Bank has issued.

Earnings

The Profit and Loss Statement shows that, despite rising costs of operation, profits have been well maintained and, after making full provision for bad and doubtful debts, amounted to $2,920,446.—an increase of $324,685. from a year ago. The sum of $561,382. was set aside for depreciation of buildings and equipment—an increase of $111,299. over last year—while the sum of $1,190,000. was required for Dominion and Provincial taxes, up $290,000., leaving net profits of $1,169,064. Of this amount $700,000. has been allocated to dividends and provision of $140,000. made for an extra distribution of twenty cents per share—a total distribution to the shareholders of $1.20 per share for the year. The balance of $329,064. has been added to Profit and Loss Account which now stands at $840,447.

It is worthy of note that the total provision of $1,190,000. for taxes is the equivalent of $1.70 per share, or 50c per share more than the total paid to shareholders in dividends, which, in turn, is mostly subject to tax in the hands of the recipients.

Strong Liquid Position

A strong liquid position has been maintained. Total cash assets at $94 millions were $3 millions higher than the previous year and the equivalent of 22.21% of all public liabilities. Quick or readily realizable assets, embracing cash assets, Government of Canada, Provincial, Municipal and other high grade securities, together with call loans totalled $224 millions, equivalent to 52.98% of all liabilities to the public.

This is lower than last year, reflecting a decrease of $54 millions in our holdings of securities and is occasioned principally by the increased demand for loans to finance commerce and industry.

Call and short loans in Canada and elsewhere aggregated $15 millions, practically unchanged from a year ago. Loans of this type are to brokers, bond dealers, etc., and are repayable on call as the name implies. These loans are adequately protected by readily marketable securities.

Current Loans

During the year current loans in Canada increased by $38 millions and now total $207 millions.

The increase is due in part to loans made to our customers engaged in defence contracts, and to the greater sums now required to finance general business due to higher prices. Grain loans were higher than a year ago and in all probability will continue at a higher level until the opening of navigation next Spring. You are aware of the unfavourable weather conditions in Western Canada at a time when harvesting of the crop would normally have taken place. Although the number of bushels of grain will compare favourably with previous years, the quality will be lower and delivery to the elevators delayed. Many farmers will be unable to harvest their crops until Spring and, consequently, some will need financial assistance until then. Needless to say help will be given them, but many will not have sufficient funds available to purchase many of the things they contemplated buying this Fall. This, no doubt, will have its effect on trade.

Deposits

Our non-interest bearing deposits were $26 millions less than a year ago. In the preceding year such deposits increased $38 millions and this year's decrease is due to the withdrawal of some of these temporary balances.

A very gratifying increase of $13 millions has taken place in interest bearing deposits and we are glad to record that an increasing number of people are doing their banking business with us, both in the commercial and savings departments. Canadians, on the whole, have in the past been provident people. At no time has the need for practicing this sterling quality been greater than to-day. It is realized, of course, that many people are finding it increasingly difficult to save, confronted as they are with higher taxes and higher living costs, especially pensioners and others whose incomes are fixed. There is, however, no better way for us to do our part in combating inflation than to avoid over-indulgence in spending, and to save as much of our income as we can.

It may be of interest to you to know that at September 29th, 1951, the number of current and savings accounts in Canadian Chartered Banks and payable in Canadian funds was 8,462,024. Eighty-five percent of all accounts carried balances of less than $1,000. The average savings account balance was $622., which compares with $642. at the same date last year.

I am pleased to report that our shareholders now number 2,966—an increase of 131 from a year ago. It is gratifying to see this annual enlargement.

New Branches

We have continued our policy of opening branches in new communities requiring banking facilities and also at other points where expansion has warranted our establishing offices. During the past year, therefore, to serve the needs of our present and future customers we have opened eleven new branches.

Bank Premises account has increased some $640,000. from a year ago. This reflects the continuation of our programme of acquiring new properties and in enlarging and modernizing premises to accommodate expanding business, to which I made reference last year.

Staff

The position which the Bank has attained is due in large measure to the efficiency and hard work of the members of the staff and I extend to them, on your behalf and my own, warmest thanks for the excellent job they have done during the year. Especially would I single out for commendation those officers who have direct contact with the public, for on the friendliness, courtesy and tact displayed in carrying out their duties much of our success depends.

As with most Banks, the turnover of our staff is higher than we care to see. We have endeavoured to make banking attractive to our employees and will continue to do so. We have increased salaries substantially and reduced working hours through the installation of mechanical equipment which has taken much of the labour out of routine operations. The welfare of the staff has our constant consideration. Young people faced with a choice of occupation would do well to give some thought to the banking profession and to the security of employment which it offers.

General Business

In February last certain restrictions on credit were deemed advisable and the result has been reasonably satisfactory, although it has created certain problems. Many manufacturers of civilian goods had geared production to the limit, and many retailers, fearing shortages and increased prices, had over-stocked their shelves. Since the announcement of credit restrictions consumers are pursuing a more cautious buying policy, which is having its effect on trade. Inventories in many lines are still too high and it will take some time yet to work them down to reasonable levels. In the meantime trade liabilities of many merchants and manufacturers are relatively high and any lessening of sales might create a shortage of cash with which to liquidate their payables.

Defence spending has been slower than was anticipated, but the programme is now gaining momentum and no doubt will assist in taking up some of the slack in civilian demand. It is to be hoped that it will have a beneficial effect in giving employment in areas where unemployment presently exists.

Two Senators Return Fire Of CCF Member

OTTAWA, Dec. 13—(CP)—Two [illegible] senators let go a verbal blast Wednesday at Commons criticism of its work and threw back at a CCF member of the Commons a remark that the senate should be abolished.

Senator Salter Hayden (L-Ontario) and Senator Thomas Reid (L-British Columbia), both referred to remarks made in the Commons Tuesday by Stanley Knowles (CCF-Winnipeg North Centre), though they didn't mention Mr. Knowles by name.

Senator Hayden, chairman of the committee whose lengthy amendments to a government bill were termed "ridiculous" by Mr. Knowles, said the criticism was "utterly stupid." Either the author didn't know parliamentary practice or didn't understand it.

"This stupid and ignorant criticism is strong evidence that it's time the voters in the area of the author should do a little abolishing themselves."

Senator Reid said from what he'd seen in both houses, the Senate's attendance was better and it was probably even more diligent and hard-working than the Commons. Sniping at the Senate had become a common practice by members of the House of Commons, some of whose members "yell abolish the Senate" every time they can't get their own way.

Would Change Type Of News Handled

TORONTO, Dec. 13 — (CP) — Ralph Allen, editor of Maclean's Magazine, said Wednesday night it is possible for a newspaper to have both quality and a large circulation—but too few persons in key jobs on newspapers realize it.

Speaking as a guest in a Hart House debate at the University of Toronto, he said:

"The common attitude is to give the readers all that is cheap, trivial and meaningless—the train wrecks, movie actresses and crimes—and get more readers. But the press should have the courage and imagination to realize there's no more interest in a train wreck than there is in the long fight to conquer cancer."

The students, by a vote of 41 to 16, upheld a motion that the press is a monument to human folly.

Planning To Help Negro Family

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Dec. 13 (CP)—The Junior Chamber of Commerce last night decided to try to find imediate employment for a Negro family which claimed to be unable to find jobs because of racial discrimination.

Councillor William Sootheran, of suburban Stamford township, Wednesday quoted a member of the Niagara Falls Negro men's club as saying that racial discrimination in this area has become "a widely-accepted and quite common practice."

The Negro woman, who asked that her name be not made public, said that neither of her two sons nor her three daughters can obtain work. They have above-average education and are in good health. The father of the family is disabled, she said.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce condemned action of local employees in refusing work to well-qualified persons because of racial origin.

Breaks Window Man Is Fined

A fracas on George St., Tuesday night, resulted in the plate glass window of a restaurant being broken.

In police court Tuesday, Stan Roscoe, 207 Rink St., pleaded guilty to causing a disturbance in a public place.

He also pleaded guilty to being a disorderly person in that his actions resulted in the window of a restaurant being broken.

Roscoe was fined $10 and $2.50 costs or ten days on each of the charges. The sentences are to run consecutively if the fines are not paid, Magistrate W. R. Philp said.

House Rejects CCF National Health Plan

OTTAWA, Dec. 13—(CP)—The Commons today rejected a CCF demand for a national health plan that would include free hospitalization, medical care and health insurance.

The demand was made in a non-confidence motion sponsored by Joseph Noseworthy (CCF, York South) during the closing phases of the debate on the address in reply to the speech from the throne. The motion was defeated 189 to 11, with everyone but the CCF voting against it.

Various reasons were given for the opposition.

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, said his party has long realized the necessity for a plan of health in Canada.

Mr. Drew said it had to be remembered that health matters fall within the jurisdiction of the provinces. No national health plan could be adopted without their consent. The provinces have not yet had an opportunity to approve formally of any plan.

"Nothing," he said, "would be more likely to prevent the implementation of an effective plan than to proceed in a manner which might be regarded by the provinces as an arbitrary attempt to place on record an established plan and then simply ask for their approval or rejection."

In sponsoring his motion, Mr. Noseworthy said that a national health plan had been promised for 32 years by the Liberal party.

Solon Low, Social Credit leader, said he was opposed to the CCF motion because it advocated centralization of health matters in the hands of the federal government.

"I object strongly to having our people mollycoddled constantly and forced into becoming wards of a superstate," said Mr. Low.

"NOTHING UNETHICAL"—Democratic Chairman Frank E. McKinney displays New York newspaper headlining his reported $75,000 profit, at a Washington news conference. He said there was "nothing unethical" about the deal, in which he is supposed to have cleared the profit on a $1000 investment in a concern that is now bankrupt.

Quebec Papers Get Lower Newsprint Price

QUEBEC, Dec. 13 — (CP) — Quebec province newspapers apparently are paying a lower price for newsprint than the one generally quoted by newsprint companies.

But what the provincial preference is, no one would say today.

The statement that Quebec papers have been given a "substantial reduction" was made Tuesday night in the legislature by Premier Duplessis, but he did not specify the amount.

Mr. Duplessis first brought up the matter publicly last June 5 in an address at Quebec at the annual meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers Association.

He said at that time that newspapers of Canada, which produces more than half of the world's newsprint but consumes only a small percentage of it, should receive treatment "based on justice."

The Province of Quebec, he said, produces 51 per cent of the newsprint made in North America and added: "The timber belongs to the people—the newspapers represent the people—the newspapers are co-owners of the timber limits" (which the newsprint companies lease). He thought it only "common sense" that Quebec papers receive treatment different from that accorded elsewhere.

At the time he spoke, several newsprint companies had announced a $10-a-ton increase in price, effective July 1, which has since become general, and Mr. Duplessis commented:

"Control is best when it is self-control. When there is no self-control there may have to be another kind of control, and I don't believe in that except when it is necessary."

Following the premier's address he held conferences with newsprint companies but no announcement was made of the result.

Word of the price concession came out in the legislature Wednesday night when the premier was replying to a question by the Liberal Opposition House Leader, George Marler.

Mr. Marler asked if the lower price was based on the difference in freight rates between Quebec and United States points, but Mr. Duplessis replied only that the reduction was "substantial."

Newsprint pricing systems are complex affairs which have grown up over the years, with distance from mills entering into them but also complicated by transportation and other competitive factors.

For instance, the price is generally quoted in terms of newsprint laid down in New York, at present $116 a ton; US funds, freight included. And a so-called Canadian price, which applies in part of Canada, is traditionally quoted at $4 less than New York; or, at present, $112 a ton, Canadian funds, freight included.

So far as is known, the difference between the New York and Canadian prices is not termed a freight difference. Some newsprint circles speculated today, however, that the concession to Quebec papers may be on the basis of "something off" for a shorter freight haul.

Find Woman's Body

TORONTO, Dec. 13 — (CP) — Police said Wednesday night the body of Mrs. Margery Hunt, 26, was found Wednesday on the floor of a room in a west-end house and that they believe she died of a bungled abortion. They questioned a man in connection with the case.

Suspect Reds In Canada

VANCOUVER, Dec. 13—(CP)—Communist China's extortion letter racket, reported to have taken $1,000,000 from Chinese in Vancouver and Victoria, was under RCMP investigation Wednesday.

The RCMP believe Communists among Canada's Chinese may be the guiding hands in the racket, informing Peiping racketeers of rich Chinatown residents.

The letters indicate an intimate knowledge by Oriental Chinese of the state of their victims' bank accounts in Canada.

Chinese in both Canada and the United States have been forced to provide money to save relatives and friends in China from execution.

FBI agents, who estimate US victims of extortion letters have sent between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000 to China, are conducting a similar investigation.

Leaders in Vancouver's 7,000-member Chinatown blame Communist politicians in China and not the Red Government for the blackmail letters.

Some Chinese, who came to Canada less than two months ago, reported that politicians, members of the Red Farmers' Institute, direct the racket.

"These leaders get the extortion letters sent and then divide the booty," said Foon Sien, head of the Chinese Benevolent Association.

"RATHOLE" CAPTIVE—A captured Red guerrilla listens to questions by interrogating officers after being taken in the Chiri Mountain village of Namwon in Korea. Bewildered Burma Appears To Be An Open Invitation For Red Intrigue In Far East

By FRED HAMPSON

RANGOON—Burma girls still smoke the same "whackin white cheroots" and waste a certain number of "christian kisses on 'eathen idols" feet.

But otherwise the road to Mandalay is much different than the Burma that Rudyard Kipling wrote about.

...nts aren't piling much t... ...tion is hardly one-tenth of prewar. The temple bells are not calling any British soldiers back to Mandalay.

Burma's independence, gained in 1948, has not brought all the hoped-for blessings, and has certainly not brought peace.

Undertone Of Worry

The temple bells seem to carry more of an undertone of worry than of invitation. For Burma, free of British ties, is so riven and torn by factions she seems constantly in danger of being seized by the new master, Communism.

Just now this lush and sunny land is not quite red but it is certainly playing footie with the reds, domestic and foreign.

The reasons are myriad. The biggest seems to be that Burma, horribly battered and still not much rebuilt from the last war, is scared stiff of another war and doesn't intend to risk one just to stand on principle.

This national disposition to make a deal rather than risk a fight with the reds is a hard thing to measure. Most of the people aren't Communists, nor are most of the responsibe men in the government.

Red-tinged Speech

Yet on Nov. 9 Dr. Ba Maw, the old puppet premier under the Japanese, made a straight Moscow party lines speech to public meeting of pro-Communist groups. The main theme was the familiar charge that the United States is planning the Third World War. Every newspaper in Rangoon—Burmese, English, Chinese—banner-lined the story on page one.

Second, Burma's border is exposed to the Chinese Red threat and Burma feels a conciliatory attitude toward Peiping is necessary. Very few people here take the Chinese Nationalist guerrillas under General Li Mi seriously. These remnants of Chiang's armies, which fled into Burma in 1949, this year under Li Mi made an excursion back into Yunnan Province of China scoring some victories. The latest reports in Rangoon are that Li's forces were recently beaten by the Chinese Reds and are now hiding out in the border hills.

Third, Burma's freedom has been followed by a period of almost unbelievable factionalizing. One gets dizzy trying to remember all the political factions, some of which are the results of three or four splits. Some stayed peaceful and fought the government and one another in the political arena, but a grim number went underground and became armed insurgents. These include the two main factions of the original Burma Communists.

Communistic Trend

However, there now are other factions above ground which in the splintering and regrouping process have become quite Communistic.

The strongest single group now is the Burma workers and peasants party. In it are grouped the strongest opposition to the government party, which is called the anti-Fascist People's Freedom League.

This government party, which was once far over on the left itself has, through the splintering off of minorities and through the responsibilities of government, veered over to the right until now it is considered pretty well in the centre. Elections are now being held—the first nationwide elections in the new nation's free history—and Premier Thakin Nu's government party is winning substantially so far.

The Communists, who make use of all government opposition, are benefitted by the tribes which also oppose the government for various ethic and historic causes too involved to analyze here. The largest is the Karens, who can be said generally to want a better deal in the new Burma. So they fight the government alongside the Communists and some other warring tribes, all of which helps the Reds, hurts the government, and brings no visible benefits to the tribes.

After four years of self-government, political splits and violent civil strife, the Burma man on the street appears to be bewildered and as worried as his naturally happy and easy-going disposition permits.

Dewey Rejects Hospital Lottery

ALBANY, NY, Dec. 13 (AP) — Governor Thomas E. Dewey turned thumbs down Wednesday on the New York City Council's proposal for city-wide lotteries to raise money for municipal hospital and medical needs.

Dewey made clear, through his secretary, that he would fight any move to amend the state constitution to permit the city to conduct such lotteries.

Secretary James C. Hagerty said Dewey's position was unchanged since he denounced a proposal by former Mayor William O'Dwyer that the state legalize betting on all sporting events.

The governor called the O'Dwyer proposal shocking, immoral and indecent.

The Democratic-controlled New York City Council approved by an 18-3 vote Tuesday a resolution asking Dewey and the Republican controlled legislature to help amend the state constitution to permit the proposed lotteries.

Prison Home Of Meyer Like Fortress

BONN, Dec. 13 —(CP)—Werl prison, where Kurt Meyer, Nazi general convicted of responsibility for the Second World War shooting of Canadian prisoners, is serving his life sentence, is a huge brick building with a quaint front entrance not unlike an old fortress. Its walls are nicked with shrapnel.

In near-by houses live British officials who control the grim prison, but the staff mainly consists of Germans.

The prison is run under the German penal code which provides for leaves for prisoners on compassionate grounds. That is how Meyer, brought to Germany early this fall from Canada, got home on leave recently to see his family on the fringe of the Russian zone.

This privilege is jealously guarded by the prisoners in case it might end. One colonel returned from leave a few hours late some time ago and the other prisoners insisted that he be punished when they found that the British authorities were inclined to do nothing about it.

Correspondents driving from Hannover to Bonn, seat of West German Government, this week tried to get into Werl to see Meyer and the way he lives. They were refused permission.

Christmas Spirit

MUNCIE, Ind., Dec. 13—(AP)—A Muncie laborer worried about his son's hospital bill, found more Christmas spirit than the holiday wreaths in a hospital's corridors Wednesday. A well-dressed woman overheard the father trying to work out a way to pay the bill. His seven-year-old son had run up at $100 bill as a diphtheria patient, and was well enough to leave. Without so much as an exchange of names, hospital attendants said, the woman stepped up and paid the $100.

Life Span Increases

NEW YORK, Dec. 13 (AP). — Negro and Indian length of life in the United States is increasing faster than the white life-span, the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company said Wednesday. But the colored races are still seven years short of the white life-span. The latest figures, in the Metropolitan statistics, give white women an expectation of 71½ years and white men only 65 and nine-tenths years.

Extend Conscription

COPENHAGEN, Dec. 13 (AP). The Danish Folketing (Lower House of Parliament) early today passed the Government's proposal to extend the military conscription period from 12 to 18 months. Proclaim Independence

CAIRO, Egypt, Dec. 13 (AP).—The independence of Libya will be proclaimed next Saturday, the Arab news agency reported Wednesday from Benghazi. Flying Planes To Finance Fight

LONDON, Dec. 13 —(CP)—Hughie Green, Canadian entertainer and former RCAF pilot, said today he has gone back to ferrying planes to help finance a legal fight against the BBC.

He said writs have been served charging the BBC with "wrongfully and maliciously conspiring" against him in connection with his radio program, "Opportunity Knocks."

Green said in an interview the BBC suddenly took his talent-spotting program off the air in September, 1949, after it had run for 33 weeks.

The BBC declined comment on Green's statement.

Writs also have been served, Green said, on Carroll Levis, his wife, Nina, and two other persons. Levis, of Vancouver and Toronto, conducts a talent-spotting program on the BBC. He said he has no comment on Green's charges as he "wasn't even in the country when Green's program was running."

Green said he and his Montreal-born wife, the former Audrey N. Wilson, expect a long legal fight which may drag on for a year before the final hearing. Green was born in Britain but became a Canadian citizen during his 5½ years of war service. His father lives in Montreal.

The entertainer now is appearing in a stage comedy and ferrying planes to Canada and the United States on a part-time basis.

Voters Return Mayor Jackson

By The Canadian Press

Hamilton's Mayor Lloyd Jackson Wednesday night was swept back into office with more votes than both his opponents combined. Hamilton was one of several Ontario municipalities holding civic elections Wednesday.

Mrs. John Ferrier in Kapuskasing piled up something of a record in her first fling at municipal politics. Winning a council seat, she received more votes (874) than the total cast in last year's election (725).

The town of Timmins has a new mayor, J. W. Spooner, a former alderman. Fifty per cent of the town's eligible voters turned out in below-zero weather to cast their ballots. Phillip Fay, 1951 mayor, did not contest the election.

Voters at Hamilton decided by a 50-per-cent majority to approve a $1,300,000 road-building scheme offering easier access to the heavily - populated "mountain" area.

Five Church Choirs Give Fine Messiah Performance

The combined choirs of five Peterborough churches and six soloists again presented the Christmas portion, Part 1, of Handel's "Messiah", in George St. United Church, Wednesday night.

Under the guidance of Director Harry Northrop and accompanied by Charles Allen at the organ, and Donald Kennedy at the piano, the mass choir gave a praiseworthy performance of the oratorio's difficult choruses.

With few exceptions the singing was steady, flowing and unforced. The tenors and basses were a little weak in some passages, which was probably due to their proportionately small numbers. However, the blend, unanimity and general balance was unusually good considering the size of the choir.

The best tonal quality and confident singing seemed to come in the chorus, "And the Glory of the Lord", and the final Hallelujah Chorus.

Soloists

The soloists gave consistently good performances. Tenor William Peltz and basses Adam Hawley and Walter Dawson capably handled their arias and recitatives. The soprano solo parts were admirably sung by Mrs. James Goldie and altos Mrs. Chester Carson and Mrs. H. A. Mitchell gave musical and nicely interpreted performances.

Particularly enjoyable were the beautiful arias, "He Shall Feed His Flock", and "Come Unto Him", sung by Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. Goldie.

The vocal presentation was well complemented by the capable accompaniment of Mr. Allen and Mr. Kennedy.

Approximately 500 attended the performance and were welcomed by the Rev. A. A. Mathews of George St. United Church.

The church choirs taking part were Trinity, St. Andrew's, St. James, George St. United, and Park St. Baptist. —C.F.

Christmas Wouldn't Be Christmas without Mince Pie, would it? Well, this year I'm going to be sure my Mince Pie is the best we've ever eaten — by adding ANGOST'URA Aromatic Bitters. Here's how:—

Add 2 tablespoons Angostura aromatic bitters to 2½ cups mince-meat. Stir until well mixed. Line a 9-inch pie plate with pastry, add filling and cover with a top crust; seal edges thoroughly. Cut perforations in top to allow steam to escape. Bake at 425 deg. F. for 30 minutes or until top crust is nicely browned.

Make your Christmas Fruit Cake Angostura-good, too! For Angostura Aromatic Bitters is what you put in — to make the flavour come out! Ask for Angostura at your favourite drug or grocery store.

Fill Up Those Christmas Stockings with the money you save on budget-wise buys like this! . . . delicious BLUE BONNET MARGARINE with the delicate, country-fresh flavour. It gives you so much for your money! It tastes wonderful (as a spread for bread and in all your cooking)—and its vitamin content is high every single month of the year. What's more—Blue Bonnet's famous YELLOW QUIK bag is now even stronger than ever. (It's the easiest, fastest way I know to colour margarine.) Yes, you get a lot for a little when you buy Blue Bonnet Margarine. Just compare it with any spread at any price for flavour, nutrition and economy. You'll get a pleasant surprise!

Trim The Tree — Wrap Those Gifts . . . sing Christmas carols 'til your throat is weary. It's all the best fun in the world—but pretty tiring! That's when friends and family and you will enjoy pep-you-up cups of INSTANT CHASE & SANBORN COFFEE! M-mmm! . . . just wait 'til you taste this instant coffee! It's so-o-o good! The flavour's there — and the body — and the lift! That's because it's the instant coffee backed by over 85 years coffee experience. Yes, the Chase & Sanborn folks know how to make their instant a treat you'll love at any time of day. So easy to make! Simply add hot water — coffee's made. And it's just as easy to make ten cups as one . . . no waste!

It's Fun! . . . It's The Life Of The Party! . . . sparkling — gay — completely delicious, a JELL-O JELLY POWDER dessert goes hand in hand with a party-mood. There'll be "Ohs" and "Ahs" of real delight when you serve a tempting Jell-O mould—all dressed up for Christmas. Folks love the light-hearted goodness of Jell-O—the exciting flavour of any one of those seven famous "locked-in" flavours . . . fresh as fruit and twice as tantalizing. You'll be delighted with the real economy of Jell-O . . . and with how easy it is to prepare. Such glorious, gay results—and so little time and money spent!

Not Much Time For Meal-Getting these busy, Christmas-shopping days? And yet it's important for you and your family to eat regularly and well in this cold weather. That's when a plate of HEINZ COOKED SPAGHETTI or a delicious dish of HEINZ OVEN-BAKED BEANS is the perfect answer. They're cooked as they come from the tin and take just a minute or two to heat and serve. What's more, they're wonderfully kind to deflated December budgets . . . make truly economical meals, taking the place of heavier, more expensive foods. So for busy, busy days — stock up now on Heinz Oven-Baked Beans and Heinz Cooked Spaghetti. You know they're good because they're Heinz!

Only A Few Shopping Days 'Til Christmas—yet time enough to be sure of Christmas delivery of a new FRIGIDAIRE REFRIGERATOR or FRIGIDAIRE ELECTRIC RANGE. I'd advise you to stop in at your nearby Frigidaire dealer's right now and look over their grand display of models. This is surely the year for "practical" gifts—and nothing is so practical as a Frigidaire Refrigerator or Frigidaire Electric Range. They save time, work and money on food buying, on food keeping and on meal preparation. They're one of the most valuable gifts you can give wife or mother to help her combat the high cost of living. Your Frigidaire dealer will arrange a fine deal on your old appliance — and you can take all next year to pay!

Poundage Is Important when you're planning a party! And I don't mean pounds of food—but the weight of your guests! Plump, pleasant people may not be able to resist your rich concoctions—but they'll hate you for it! So serve plain, non-fattening food. Remember, WAGSTAFFE PICKLES or OLIVES give the simplest food a festive, "party" air! With a bridge luncheon or salad plates, let Wagstaffe Sweet Mixed Pickles add their sweet, spicy tang! For Dutch Suppers, you'll want Wagstaffe Dill Pickles or big, juicy Wagstaffe Queen Olives. And Wagstaffe Sweet relish is just a "must" when you're serving cheeseburgers or minced ham sandwiches. So stock up now for the party season—with Wagstaffe!

That's the syrup with the many uses — from breakfast waffles to dinner-desserts. It's good and good for you! I wouldn't be without it!

Enjoy the Corinne Jordan program every Mon., Wed., and Fri., at 6.45 p.m. on Station CHEX

Ever Noticed how many of the good things you buy are packaged in aluminum? The dairy and candy industries have "taken a tip" from us homemakers—who've used aluminum kitchen utensils for three generations—and loved 'em! Yes, these industries prefer aluminum for the same reasons that we women do . . . because it's light and durable—because it protects food purity and flavour and assures cleanliness. All reasons why aluminum is ideal for milk bottle caps, butter wraps and candy wrappers. And, in the kitchen, aluminum has these additional advantages—that it distributes heat evenly and quickly — therefore economically . . . and looks bright and smart —always.

B-rrr! Cold Out, Isn't It? This is the kind of weather that "Peter Pain" thrives in. He strikes suddenly in head and chest colds — spoiling what should be the merriest month of the year. That's why I know you'll agree it's wise to be prepared for him! Keep a supply of BEN-GAY (Baume Bengué) always handy in your medicine cabinet. For when Ben-Gay is rubbed in — "Peter Pain" is rubbed out . . . quickly! Yes, the soothing warmth of Ben-Gay gives relief, wink-quick. What a relief! It chases away head and chest cold discomforts — helps to break up congestion — makes breathing easier. Better buy Ben-Gay!

What An Unusual Gift! — That's the way it struck me when I saw those Face-Elle Christmas packages on display. 'Unusual' because here is a really practical yet luxurious gift that can be bought with little strain on the Christmas-list budget . . . and that's something these days! Yes only $1.00 buys four boxes of those dainty, tinted FACE-ELLE EN PASTELS tissues made up into one big package in gay and colourful Christmas wrapping. The distinctive tweed-texture design of the individual boxes adds a further note of de-luxe gift quality in keeping with the tissues themselves. These are, I understand, Canada's only 3-ply, coloured tissues and that's important in a gift that expresses the thought: "Only the best is good enough". So get several packages to round out your gift list.

Are We In A Tizzy with only 10 shopping days left? Not me, anyway, and you won't be either if you take advantage of a wonderful new Christmas-shopping secret I've just found — the BANK OF MONTREAL's Seasonal Services. The B of M's Money Orders now come wrapped in the dearest little Christmas envelopes — they look so gay and friendly on the Christmas tree . . . and they're magic presents that turn themselves into the very things your friends really want. And the small-fry? For them there's a special treat—B of M Savings Accounts of their very own, to give them a real grown-up feeling . . . with special Christmassy passbook-covers adding a cheery touch to this educational gift. Even the B of M's cheques have taken on a holly-happy look—so appropriate for Christmas gifts. And look what you gain for yourself—the extra time and trouble saved by doing your Christmas shopping at the B of M—and the pleasure of giving presents as welcome as a white Christmas.

EVER MEET a trained Christmas seal? Well, here's Sandi Claus, of Los Angeles' Griffith Park zoo. His keeper togged Sandi (that's his name) in a Santa Claus hat and an old mop for a beard to give the children something to laugh about when they visited the zoo.

Toronto Man Found Guilty Of Carelessness

Francis Swanson, 261 Strathearne Ave., Hamilton, was convicted of careless driving and fined $15 and $21 costs by Magistrate W. R. Philp in police court Wednesday.

Swanson was the driver of one of three cars involved in an accident on Highway 7 east of Peterborough the afternoon of November 4.

As he was driving towards Peterborough, Swanson testified, the car ahead, driven by Miss Margaret Howey, 77 Wellesly St., east, Toronto, slowed down.

He said he was travelling about 45 miles an hour before he slowed down and applied his brakes. When he applied his brakes, Swanson said, his car started to skid sideways into the south half of the highway. Seeing an approaching eastbound car, Swanson said he eased off the brakes to get back on his own side of the road and hit the rear of Miss Howey's car.

Saw Skidding

Walter Cox, 212 Aylmer St., was driving east and saw Swanson's car skidding sideways towards him. He said he pulled to the shoulder to avoid a collision but the Swanson car collided with the left front corner of his car causing considerable damage.

Trevor Clarke defended Swanson and asked for a dismissal on the grounds "the accused has indicated he had lots of room to stop if the brakes had caught properly." Mr. Clarke argued that the road had been in good condition and that it was not Swanson's fault he had slid sideways.

Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw said the fact that Swanson had struck another car in the rear was an indication he did not have his car under control.

"The responsibility lies on the accused under these circumstances, I believe," Magistrate Philp said in finding Swanson guilty.

New telephone magic speeds up Peterborough's Long Distance Service

Now when you ask your long distance operator for a number in Lindsay, Port Hope or Toronto, she dials direct to the telephone you want—much as you dial a local call. "Operator Toll Dialing"—shortly to be used on calls to Ottawa and later to Oshawa—provides the same speedy service on calls from these centres.

Operator dialing of long dsitance calls is part of a continent-wide plan that one day will enable Peterborough operators to dial directly to millions of telephones in Canada and the United States.

The economies resulting from improvements such as this have helped keep telephone service from going up as much as most other things you buy.

ENSIGN DRAWING AND PAINTING is just part of my job, says George E. Chandler (Top) as he discusses the drawing of the Mexican ensign which he has completed. Try To Improve Poor Hearing In Court Room

For 20 years grand juries and individuals have complained that they couldn't hear in the county court room, Reeve Willard G. Waterman, North Monaghan, recalled Wednesday afternoon. Now county council have decided to buckle down and do something about it.

The property committee was authorized Wednesday to contact anybody who had suggestions for remedying the situation. They will report back with their recommendations at the January sesion.

During the general sessions, adjourned Tuesday, the late Judge S. L. Smoke commented on the bad acoustics in the court room. And the grand jury brought in a recommendation that something be done.

Came Up In 1930
"I recall this matter coming up when I was in council in 1930," said Reeve Waterman. At that time it was decided that there were too many flat surfaces in the room, allowing echoes to reverberate.

County Clerk J. A. Spurway said an expert had already looked over the court room and thought the acoustics could be improved for an expenditure of $1,500-$2,000. This would include a fibre-spray coating on the ceiling.

As an experiment, the 1951 property committee filled in the well in the ceiling that serves as a skylight. But they found that it made the room too dark and the echo still remained.

Acoustics are best in the room at present when the spectators' seats are filled with people and the echo is either absorbed or dissipated, county courtroom officials report.

Eight Left Homeless In Haliburton Fire

Eight people—including five children—escaped injury Tuesday when their home, 12 miles northwest of Haliburton village burned to the ground.

The two-storey, wooden frame dwelling, was owned by Mike Misco. Also living there were his wife, three children, and older son, Peteral, and his two children.

Peteral has lived with his parents since the death of his wife in October.

The fire, believed started from overheated pipes, rapidly swept through the dwelling shortly after breakfast. There were no injuries but only a few household effects were saved.

They are now staying with nearby relatives.

Flags Of World's Nations Made By Veteran Designer

Painting an ensign for a Paraguay flag or drawing the Mexican ensign—it's all in a day's work for George E. Chandler, head man of the sign department at the J. J. Turner Co. Mr. Chandler was working on an awning sign Wednesday afternoon in his fifth floor workshop, where he is helped by Fred Freeman. Stretched out on one work table were four nearly completed Paraguay ensigns.

A drawing table was decorated with a scale drawing of the Mexican ensign with its symbolic eagle clutching a snake in its claws.

These ensigns had been ordered by the Canadian Government as had the dozens of other flag symbols that this veteran flag painter has made since he came to Peterborough from England 45 years ago.

"I think we have made nearly all the ensigns of the countries in the British Commonwealth," Mr. Chandler said.

Several other countries were named as he listed the ensigns that had been manufactured in this Peterborough industry. "We also have done a great many religious ensigns for the Roman Catholic Church."

This business of ensign designing and painting is a difficult and intricate art, despite Mr. Chandler's shrugging it off as relatively simple.

The first step is a full scale drawing from miniatures in an ensign book. A pecking wheel is then used to trace the design on the flag material. Finally the ensign is painted with specially prepared oil paints guaranteed to withstand all weather conditions.

Mr. Chandler has always been employed in this type of work. He was born in Beccles, Suffolk, England, and in 1904 he was apprenticed to a sign-maker in Tonbridge, Kent.

One day two years later he happened to read an advertisement in the London Daily Mail stating that a sign-maker was needed in the J. J. Turner Co., Peterborough, Canada.

"I had completed my apprenticeship, so I answered the ad and came over," Mr. Chandler explained. "I've been here ever since."

In painting these ensigns, Mr. Chandler is aided by Fred Freeman.

Examinations Before Holidays

Before PCVS and St. Peter's High school students begin their 12-day Christmas holiday this year, they have to write mid-term examinations.

The St. Peter's High students will receive the full treatment of exams before Christmas. They begin writing on Monday and finish the set at 4 p.m. Friday; then start the holidays.

PCVS students have the mid-term load of examination papers divided as in previous years. Each student will write either three or four papers next Thursday and Friday before the holidays. The remainder of the set will be held late in January, the custom for the past seven years.

Once the examinations are written the students will have holidays from December 21 at 4 p.m. until January 3 at 9 a.m. The extra day, January 2, is a holiday by law to allow the students and teachers to return to Peterborough after New Years.

Hatfield Hall To Close Doors

COBOURG, Dec. 13 — Hatfield Hall, operated as a school for girls since 1929 will not re-open after the Christmas holidays.

A. R. Wilmot, chairman of the school's board of trustees announced Tuesday that high taxes and living costs made it impossible to keep the school operating.

The school was originally the summer home of the Katharine Cornell, leading lady of the American stage and was purchased for $13,000 by Cobourg to serve as a private school for girls in the British tradition. An additional $30,000 has been spent for improvements.

Miss Winnifred Wilson and Miss Winnifred Ellis served as joint principals until 1949.

The maximum enrolment for the school was 50 girls during the war years. Thirty girls were enrolled this year.

Total debenture indebtedness is less than $20,000. Set against this debt is a substantial property.

Milk To Cost 21 Cents BoardDecides

Adds Two Cents To Present Price, Starts Saturday

Peterborough's milkmen will be charging an additional two cents for every quart of milk they deliver starting Saturday.

The price of a quart of milk will jump from 19 to 21 cents in this city as announced by the Ontario Milk Control Board. This announcement plus the increases announced Nov. 2 indicate price rises covering nearly all the province.

Toronto was the only city that received a one-cent differential in the price of milk bought in stores. A Toronto housewife will pay 22 cents for bottled milk delivered and 21 cents, if she buys it in a store.

Not Quite Fair
Peterborough housewives aren't too concerned about Toronto getting this one-cent differential, but most of them that were called didn't seem to think that it was quite fair.

"It really doesn't make much difference to me," one city housewife remarked; "I buy canned milk all the time. But I think that if Toronto is getting this preference, every place should have it. They're (Toronto) not going too far. The other places are just lagging in not demanding it too."

Two others also thought it wasn't fair.

"It should be the same all over," one said. "Actually though it wouldn't make any difference to me if it was cheaper; it's too much of a nuisance to go to the store for milk."

"I just don't think it's fair," was another's opinion.

Nearby centres Lindsay and Bowmanville will also be paying 21 cents. Northern communities including North Bay, Gravenhurst and Bracebridge will pay 22 cents and still farther north Kenora, Nipigon and Timmins will have to pay 23 cents.

18 CGE Welders Demonstrate Over Suspension

Eighteen welders from the structural steel department of CGE demonstrated today outside the main gate of the CGE, Park St. The pickets, waving placards bearing pro-union slogans, paraded up and down outside the gate.

They made no attempt to stop anybody entering the plant and they remained orderly.

The welders walked out Tuesday in sympathy with four of their co-workers who were suspended by the company after they refused to do a welding job for less money. Union spokesmen said that the welding on a rotor was changed from "first class" to "second class."

They calculated that this would mean a 12-cents-an-hour loss of pay to the average welder.

The four who were suspended Monday night for refusing to do the job at the new rate were Bill Anderson, Roy Ballantyne, Gordon Lister and Tony Petticrew.

22 Involved
When they day shift came in Tuesday they soon walked out again in sympathy. Altogether 22 workers are involved, or all of the welders in Work Station "4" (structural steel).

The pickets walked up and down today with placards bearing slogans such as: "speedups must stop," "we demand fair play," "2303 or Sarnia at $2" (the old code number of their welding job or a higher paying job at Sarnia).

At noon today no arrangement had been completed for a meeting with the company.

Roy T. Bogle, assistant works manager, said that the union claims were substantially correct but he had no comment at the present time.

You're Right 3 Below

First below-zero weather of this winter was recorded in Peterborough during the night when the mercury sank to three degrees below. By 9 a.m. today the temperature had climbed only nine degrees, to six above. At that, Peterborough was warmer than some Ontario centres. Kapuskasing had it 24 below; White River, 26 below; North Bay 14 below. Highest recorded temperature across the country was in Victoria, BC—49 above. White River's minus 26 was coldest.

Presbyterians May Build New Church Here

A second Presbyterian Church may be built in Peterborough in the near future.

Plans were made at the Peterborough Presbytery of the Presbyterian Church held in St. Paul's Church, Peterborough, Tuesday to hold a special meeting of the presbytery committee and elders of St. Paul's Church to discuss extension building in the city.

Approximately 30 ministers from as far east as Brighton, west to Bowmanville and north to Lakehurst attended the meeting.

Minister Transfers
It was announced that a transfer was granted to the Rev. F. R. Meredith of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Bowmanville, to Newmarket Presbyterian Church. The Rev. L. H. Fowler of Port Hope will fill in until an appointment has been made to Bowmanville.

Announcement was also made that the Buckhorn field will be supplied with a Queen's University student.

It was decided to continue the showing of religious films in the Presbytery. Two films, For Good or Evil, and, A Wonderful Life, were shown this fall and other films will be shown in 1952. The films are supplied by the Presbyterian Church in the United States and are distributed through the Canadian Church office in Toronto.

Nominate Professor
The presbytery decided to nominate the Rev. J. S. Glenn, professor of the New Testament at Knox College, University of Toronto, to fill the principalship vacancy at that college.

A report was given that some of the congregation in the presbytery had responded to the one million dollar Christian Outreach endowment fund for new Presbyterian churches in the country.

It was decided to hold a special meeting of the presbytery on Jan. 9 in St. Paul's Church, Peterborough. The WMS of the presbytery will be meeting on the same day at St. Paul's Church.

Sad Chinese Laundryman Blackmailed For $10,000 3rd Local Victim Of Reds

One of Many Victims of Peoples Government Systematically Scouring China For Relatives of Men In Canada, USA

Customers of a little Chinese laundryman in Peterborough may be wondering why the cheerful twinkle is absent from his eye and his greeting glum. If you are a very good customer and ask him what is wrong when everyone else seems to be taking on the sparkle of the Christmas festivities, he will perhaps turn slowly behind his tiny counter and pull out a telegram which he received a few days ago. There will be no Christmas for him this year. The telegram asks in terse terms for $10,000 (Hong Kong) for his son and his daughter. While threat of torture and death is not overtly made in the wording, he is in no doubt as to what fate awaits them if he fails.

"Even if I wanted to pay, how can I?" he asks. "I haven't that much money in the world. For years I have worked hard from early morning to late at night in Canada to make a living and support my family in China. Now they are years thrown away."

Third In Peterborough
This is the third Peterborough Chinese to be a target in the Red extortion racket which has swept across Canada and the United States. Already in the United States the government has clamped down and little money is being forwarded now.

Chinese sitting in the back of Peterborough restaurants can be heard discussing the latest form of torture introduced by the People's Government. In order to emphasize the fate that awaits those who fail to obey their masters, the Reds have taken to tying burning joss sticks on the backs of their helpless prisoners. Joss sticks are slow-burning incense sticks that are about 1½ to two feet long.

"How one human being can behave so fiendishly toward another is beyond me," one Chinese said bitterly today. "Over the weekend in Toronto, friends told me with tears in their eyes how a son turned against his father, had him arrested and then was a member of the firing squad which executed his dad. His reward? A higher place in the Red hierarchy.

Loyal Citizen
"This man who was killed was a lawyer and when he retired about 15 years ago, he served as chief of police in a town about the size of Peterborough. His record was good and anxious that his children have a fine start in life, he sent his boy to the university in Peiping and his daughter received an excellent situation in Canton.

"After a time he resigned as chief and moved to Canton, where eventually circumstances forced him to take up his profession again. Recently his daughter sent him word asking him to come home and straighten out some business affairs. When he arrived he was arrested and sentenced to die without any semblance of a trial. And it was his beloved son who requested the high honor of serving on the execution squad," he continued.

A waiter who left Peterborough late this spring has had his world collapse around him. He received word in Toronto a few days ago that his wife had committed suicide under Communist pressure and his son and daughter are under arrest.

"I gave up my job here two weeks ago," he told a Peterborough friend wearily. "Why work? There is nothing left in life for me now. How long can it go on?"

No One Safe
In a small Chinese village an old man has operated a butcher business for years. It was handed down from his grandfather to his father and he in turn assumed control. When the pressure became great, he slipped away to Hong Kong, leaving his two sons in charge of the business. It wasn't long before he learned that his two boys had been seized as hostages and thrown into jail. None were guilty of any crime.

Christmas for the Chinese here this year has no joyful tone. It is simply an anxious watching of the mails to learn if their families have been chosen for the sacrifice.

House Rejects Three Motions Of Non-Confidence In Government

OTTAWA, Dec. 13—(CP)—In a day possibly without precedent in parliamentary records, the Commons Wednesday rejected three opposition motions of non-confidence in the government and concluded a drawn-out debate on the address in reply to the speech from the throne.

The climax came shortly after the Progressive Conservatives charged that the government had technically voted itself out of office by accepting an amendment to the adress in reply to the throne speech. The government and its supporters laughed off the charge and made no reply.

The incident was only one of many in the throne-speech debate carried on during two days of every week since the session opened Oct. 9.

During the debate, the opposition groups launched six motions of non-confidence in the government. All of them were defeated by wide margins. Three other divisions were held—two of them on an amendment by A. J. Bater (L, The Battlefords) to the address and another on a Speaker's ruling.

WAVING STRIPS OF METAL and cudgels of wood, Iranian Nationalists rush toward the Majlis, Iran's House of Parliament in Tehran, to tangle with the opponents of Premier Mohammed Massadegh while inside the building pro and anti-Mossadegh forces engaged in violent battle with fists and feet. A similar clash last week ended in a bloody riot in which at least eight persons were killed and more than 200 hurt.

Sponsors First

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, sponsored the first of the non-confidence motions. Defeated by a vote of 102 to 39, it called for "adequate steps" to combat inflation and deal effectively with the high cost of living.

M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, moved another that was defeated 160 to 19. It called for the introduction of price controls and subsidies to "equalize the sacrifices which the people are asked to make at this time."

Victor Quelch (SC, Acadia) called for increases in war veterans' allowances, paid to veterans prematurely aged by war service. His motion was defeated 145 to 55.

John Diefenbaker (PC, Lake Centre) called for an expression of non-confidence in the government because of its taxation policies. He charged that it has continued to collect "unnecessarily high taxes" and has "failed" to relieve the people from "unjust and burdensome taxation." His motion was defeated 128 to 45.

Joseph Noseworthy (CCF, York South) criticized the government for having "failed" to introduce a national health-insurance plan. The motion was defeated 189 to 11.

Didn't Get Chance

The sixth non-confidence motion was sponsored by Hazen Argue, (CCF, Assiniboia) but members never got a chance to vote on its original wording. It read:

"This House regrets, however, that Your Excellency's advisers (the government) have failed to make provision for the immediate payment to producers of 75 per cent of the initial price of farm-stored grain."

Mr. Bater promptly moved an amendment which called for no definite action to help western farmers. It read:

"This House regrets the serious difficulties encountered by the western farmers in harvesting their crops, and commends Your Excellency's advisers for the continuing attention they have given to the problems caused thereby, and is confident that effective measures will continue to be taken to help the farmers in meeting their problems."

Mr. Bater's amendment was adopted by a vote of 148 to 41. Mr. Argue's motion as amended by Mr. Bater was accepted 134 to 45.

Quite Confusing

Later, members voted 143 to 45 to adopt the adress in reply to the speech from the throne with the amendment appended by Mr. Bater.

It was this action that led to Progressive Conservative charges that the government had actually voted non-confidence in itself because the throne-speech address traditionally is adopted without amendment. Donald Fleming (PC, Toronto Eglinton) was greeted with laughter from Liberal benches when he presumed that the government had no alternative but to resign.

The address simply thanks the Governor-General for having read the speech from the throne at the opening of parliament.

Stanley Knowles (CCF, Winnipeg North Centre) set the division bells ringing again when he and his party colleagues forced a vote on the traditional government motion to have the address embossed and sent to the Governor-General. The motion carried 143 to 46.

Mr. Knowles later told reporters the CCF called for a vote "as a protest against the government's trick of taking an opposition motion of non-confidence and turning it into one of confidence in the government."

Trawlers To Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO — (CP). — Five modern fish trawlers and a training ship arrived in Brazil recently from European shipyards. The boats will be used to speed up the country's fishery program, aimed at supplying increased demand.

After 27 Years

LONDON — (CP). — William Cranmer deserted his wife 27 years ago. Then he won a newspaper crossword puzzle contest. His wife saw his name, made some inquiries—and now claims maintenance arrears totalling £164.

Gained Objective

SYDNEY, Australia—(Reuters)—In a holiday to "get off the beaten track" Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fell of Sydney got within 150 miles of the Arctic circle, climbed a 6,000-foot snow-covered peak on the equator in Africa, and visited a Pygmy tribe. They said they achieved their objective.

Restore German Castles

BERLIN (Reuters)—Parks and castles of Sanssouci, near Potsdam, where King Frederick the Great lived in the 18th century, will be restored shortly by the east German authorities, it was announced here. Many of the buildings were bombed during the second World War.

Charles Steenburgh Honored By Family

HAVELOCK, Dec. 13 (ENS)—Members of the family of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Steenburgh, of Cordova Mines, together with friends and neighbors, gathered at their home on Sunday to celebrate Mr. Steenburgh's 67th birthday.

The event took the form of a family dinner, followed by an evening of music and singing, after which lunch was served. The table was centred with a large birthday cake trimmed with roses and topped with candles.

Mr. Steenburgh is a native of Belmont township, a son of George Steenburgh and Grace Kellar, and was born on what is now known as the McCutcheon farm at Round Lake. He returned to Canada last July after a sojourn of 30 years in the USA.

Mr. Steenburgh has six children and three step-children. Those present were his daughter, Mrs. James Robertson (Grace), of Havelock; his son, Robert, at home, and two stepdaughters, Mrs. Anthony Owen, of Madoc, and Mrs. Bartlett McFadden, of Ivanhoe. The members of the family who were unable to be present were: three sons, William of Newbury, NY; George of Farmersville, NY; Harry James, of Ridgeview, West Virginia; a stepson, Dan Ireland, of Crookston; and a daughter, Mrs. G. Susteric (Gertrude), of Holtyre, Ontario.

Local Citizens Donate $2,700 To Minden Rink

Peterorough citizens and industries have rallied to donate almost $2,700 in various ways to the Minden community centre fund which is to finance the rebuilding of the rink building. The roof collapsed after the first snowfall leaving the Haliburton town with a $40,000 deficit.

Kenneth Currie, community centre director and former president of the Peterborough Rotary club, said today that the P. A. Wilson construction company of Cannington is working on the job of rebuilding

Already the cement standards have been poured and work started on the ribbing.

"If the good weather keeps up, the rink will be rebuilt in five weeks," said Mr. Currie.

He explained that the fund has about $3 000 in cash towards the $10,000 required through donations and the sale of tickets on a $2,000 mink coat. Added to the $15,000 owing before the collapse is an additional $10,000 in debentures for a $25,000 mortgage on the new building. They received a grant of $5,000.

From Peterborough an anonymous donor presented the town with a $2,000 mink coat to raffle for the remaining $10,000. Another donor jumped the value of the coat to $2,400 when his firm added extras to the coat. These donations made up the bulk of the Peterborough donations.

The sale of tickets up to Tuesday in Peterborough brought in another $270 to add to donations by several citizens. Advertising on cards for the campaign, donated by the CGE an da local photographer, brought the total help so far to $2,691.

The Minden Monarchs hockey club and the Minden curling club will be using the ice surfaces at Haliburton, 16 miles from Minden, until the new centre is completed. The skating club is waiting until there is ice in Minden before carrying on for the season.

Didn't Want To Wait Boy Planned Trial Run

CROYDON, England, Dec. 13 (Reuters)—A policeman on duty Wednesday saw a bicycle being lowered from the roof of a house by a rope. He called for a patrol car.

The bicycle landed and 15-year-old Roy Davies walked out of the house towards it. "Whose bike is that? The cop asked.

"Mine," replied Roy. "At least it will be in two weeks."

The police confirmed Roy's story. His parents bought the bike as a Christmas present for him and hid it in the attic. Roy found it and just couldn't wait. He planned a secret trial run.

Now the bicycle is back in the attic, but the door is locked and father has the key.

Costly Plaything

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Dec. 13 (AP).—Five youngsters, from five to eight years old, found a roll of movie film Wednesday on the street in the western Puerto village of Mayaguez. Then they went into a backyard to "play movies," using a candle for a projection light. The film caught fire. Two children were burned to death, the other three seriously hurt.

Tank Car Explodes

MILAN, Italy, Dec. 13 (Reuters).—A gas tank car on a freight train exploded here Wednesday, starting a huge blaze which took 10 hours to control. At least 26 persons were hurt. Reports said the explosion, which shattered windows in a 2,000-yard radius, occurred when the train collided with another near the Milan Gas Company.

3 New Awards To Be Given At Festival

Three new awards to be presented at the 1952 Peterborough Music Competition Festival by the Peterborough and District Home and School Council were announced Wednesday night.

This announcement was made by Chairman of the Kiwanis Festival committee, Wilson Gemmell at a committee meeting.

The council is donating cash awards for verse speaking in the Grade 5 and 6 class and Grade 7 and 8 class. They also are donating a cash award for Grade 8 students in the public speaking class under 14 years.

Promote Speaking.

President of the council, Mrs. Clare Collins said today that the reason these donations were being made was to promote public and verse speaking through the festival.

"We consider the festival a very worthwhile project," she said, "The awards will be annual."

The committee decided at Wednesday's meeting to accept awards, that organizations would like to make, up to the closing day of the festival.

A trophy committee of Rufus Payne, Mort Knox and Norm Armstrong were appointed.

Al Plaskett was appointed to order the printing of a limited number of membership tickets for the 1952 festival. These tickets will entitle the holder to all of the festival sessions except the final concert.

An advertising committee of Dick Raine and Norm Armstrong was also appointed.

NorwoodMission Band At Christmas Meeting

NORWOOD, Dec. 13—(ENS)—The United Church Mission Band met Monday afternoon in the Sunday school room.

Mrs. A. R. Atkinson opened the meeting with the call to worship and led the group in a Christmas worship service, with the following taking part: Eileen Millett, Gail Warner, Shirley Millett and Patricia Hudson.

There was a short business meeting followed by the story told from the study book by Mrs. Hudson.

See No Chance

If Peterborough Exhibition is moved back to September dates, now authorized by directors, its board will have to look around for another carnival show.

Bernard and Barry have already adopted their intinerary for the fall fairs and summer season of 1952, including Peterborough for the August week prior to the opening of the CNE.

A few days ago, however, directors decided to retreat to September into the week following the CNE. London Exhibition is held in that week. They had a big show last year, and new attendance peak.

Bookings Fixed.

G. A. Gillespie, secretary-manager, said today the carnival show management have intimated to him that they would be unable to make any switch in their booking because their list of fairs for 1952 had been laid out on the understanding that Peterborough was continuing in the August week.

Local directors have been wondering whether the transfer to September might be a more favorable time for farmers after the bulk of the harvesting was completed. That is one of the considerations apparently recommending the change to September.

One of the conventions of representatives of argricultural societies and fairs some weeks ago reported a consensus to the effect that midways were just about indispensible in attracting crowds that provide the income for the prize lists.

Mr. Gillespie remarked that the prospect of having to operate next season without a midway was serious enough to warrant another meeting to consider the change of dates in that light.

Blues Singer Dies

POUGHKEEPSIE, NY, Dec. 13 (AP)—Mildred Bailey, 48, one of the most popular blues singers in Canada and the United States for many years, died Wednesday night in hospital. Her "Old Rockin' Chair" song made her famous. Miss Bailey suffered a heart ailment some time ago. A recent recurrence caused her death.

Fine Accessories Change Last Year's Evening Gowns

LONDON (CP) — With Christmas just around the corner, British fashion writers are full of bright advice on how to get the most out of last year's dance frock.

Under these auspices, a wide-skirted crinoline style with strapless top can be made to look new by choice of accessories.

A strapless dark-colored taffeta or velvet gown, for instance, can be worn one day with a frothy tulle or lace stole and muff, suitably pom-pommed or sequined. A more regal look would be given another time by a jewelled halter neckline, a matching bandeau lending a Grecian look to a back-swept hairstyle.

For those with a tulle or lace gown in dark shades, an interesting contrast would be provided by a gold or silver lame jacket or stole — the jacket tightsleeved, tight-waisted, with high neckline and tiny buttons.

The younger set might choose the softer lines of pastel-shaded boleros matching a spray of flowers at the waist or hemline.

Lovely contrasts for light-colored dresses are the tiny cap-sleeved boleros of tulle patterned with jet sequins, or tight black velvet jackets, sometimes plain, sometimes beaded or sequined.

A white lace bolero with matching Juliet cap, both decorated with mother-of-pearl sequins, can give a lovely sophistication to the simple flowing taffetas of jr. miss.

A North American style becoming increasingly popular with British women is "separates"—a slinky evening skirt with interchangeable, glamorous top-pieces.

Little evening blouses that once cost exorbitant prices can be obtained for less than £3, examples being cap-sleeved numbers in black or midnight blue tulle or lace, patterned in jet sequins, diaphonous organdies and chiffons are shot with the metallic glitter of gold or silver lame woven into the material. There are also many cosy evening sweaters with intricate bead embroidery.

A lovely "separates" choice is a skirt of white net with underslip of pink taffeta, combined with boned strapless, pink-lined bodice of white Valenciennes lace. This two-piece costs just over £15, looks like a 20-guinea gown, and is twice as useful.

For instance, combine the skirt with a boned strapless top in black taffeta crested with a narrow trimming of white lace and you have a different outfit. These tops cost as little as £3 and under.

DOROTHY DIX

Avoid Long Engagements Better To Wait

DEAR MISS DIX: My sweetheart is enlisting in the Marines and will be gone at least three years. I'm 16 and don't really want to go steady for that long.

Dorothy Dix

He wants to give me my engagement ring for Christmas. I'm quite unattractive and don't go out on many dates with boys. I haven't had much fun and doubt if I ever will have because I am not pretty. ANN B.

ANSWER: You are doing yourself a great injustice by stating flatly that you are unattractive. With magazines just bulging with articles on teen-age grooming and ways to improve your looks, there's no reason why you should continue to regard yourself as plain. Not every girl rates "A" in the natural good looks department but everyone can improve her appearance to the point where she'll rate a second look from the stag line.

You're Too Young

Your own conviction of inferiority has apparently made you latch onto the first available boy and get yourself all set for an engagement you don't particularly want. You are too young to become engaged yet, or even tie yourself up to going steady for the next three years.

Long engagements are seldom advisable under any circumstances. They are particularly inadvisable for the very young, or in the face of an inevitable long separation.

The fact that you haven't had many dates up to now is by no means cause for despair of the future. Do a little reading on your problem of teen-age appearance; put into practice what you learn, then watch the improvement. If your problem is a specific one, write me again, giving your name and address, and I may have information to help you.

Tell your sweetheart you think it wiser not to go steady when he is going to be away so long, and while you are so young. Get into some social activities in school, church or town, exert the effort to meet new people and make friends. That's how to have fun, and I'm sure you'll change your attitude about life in general and your own immediate romance in particular.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am "the little pig who stayed at home." I deserve no credit for this because no big, bad wolf ever "huffed or puffed" very hard to capture me. I know I am mixing my stories but I am a bit mixed up myself, therefore my appeal to you for advice.

I am an old-maid schoolteacher. I have led a happy and useful life. My dear parents were spared to me until a few years ago and I had no desire to go away from home. The husband I always dreamed of never materialized. I am now of retirement age and want very much to take my little pension and go to a foreign country to share the home of a friend. I know I would miss my friends and family here but I could come back and see them every few years. My friend lives in a large city where we can see plays and hear concerts. I spent a year there as an exchange teacher and had the happiest time of my life. Dare I do it?

MISS MARY

ANSWER: Who of us has not at one time or another longed to kick over the traces and escape to Utopia? Few of us, however, ever have either the nerve or the opportunity. You have both; don't muff the chance. Of course you dare go! What can you lose? Should your adopted home prove less fascinating than you expected, you can always come back here. With an assured pension you know just how much you can spend, and have no financial worry over the future.

Go ahead; fulfill your dreams and send me a postcard from your new home.

DEAR MISS DIX: When I was married twenty-four years ago one of my sisters gave me my veil as a wedding gift. I loaned it to three sisters in turn, and the last one never returned it—that was sixteen years ago. Every time I mention that I am going to ask for it, my husband says it will only start a family argument. This sister never does return anything she gets her hands on. Now I have a 14-year-old daughter who will probably like to have the veil someday. While I don't like to have an argument with anyone, I feel my daughter has a right to the veil. How can I go about getting it back?

ANSWER: A perfectly straightforward request will be the most direct and best means to employ for the return of your wedding veil. Naturally you want it for your daughter, and she should have it. Your sister, being such a possessive person, probably will resent having to part with something that, by this time, she has come to regard as her own. Be as tactful as possible with your request, but make it definite.

Director Ready To Drop Animal Cycle

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 13 (AP)—The man who started the cycle of pictures about super-intelligent animals is content to let the cycle die.

Arthur Lubin, now directing his fourth "Francis" picture, expects it to be his last.

"I'm not sorry I started the cycle," he remarked, "but I'm just as happy to see it end. Too many producers are coming up with pictures about cats and dogs and all kinds of animals, so I think it's time to quit."

Lubin is what is known as a packager. He finds stories and sells them to studios, along with his services as director. He made such a deal for the original "Francis" and also for "Rhubarb," the movie about the cat that owned a baseball club.

Washed Up

"The comic possibilities of such pictures are just about exhausted," the director said. "You can only do so many of them and then the market is full."

I watched Lubin direct scene after scene of Francis until the mule went through the right motions. Despite the pains needed for such scenes the director displayed affection for the mule.

"He's really a smart animal and takes direction as well as could be expected," Lubin observed.

He wasn't quite as complimentary about Rhubarb. "Cats just won't take direction," he said. "You just can't do a thing with them."

The director's next package will also be in the fantasy department. He will direct Irene Dunne in "It Grows On Trees." The "it" is just what you think it is—money.

Bailieboro WI Sends Box To C. A. S.

BAILIEBORO, Dec. 13 (ENS)—Bailieboro Women's Institute held their annual Christmas meeting at the home of Mrs. E. Grey on Tuesday afternoon.

"Why Do We Collect Antiques?" was the subject of the address given by Mrs. Burridge of Sanctuary House of Pleasant Point, near Lindsay. The guest speaker was introduced by Mrs Douglas Fisher on behalf of the historical research committee, and showed many interesting and historical antiques during her address. Each member had been asked to bring an antique to the meeting in response to the roll call. These were also commented on by Mrs. Burridge.

Another main feature of the afternoon was the presentation of a large Christmas box containing children's clothing to the Children's Aid Society of Port Hope. The boxes contained baby layettes, sweaters, mitts, etc. This is an annual custom and a member of the Society in Port Hope attends the meeting and accepts the gifts.

Mrs. Howard Fair who had charge of the program gave a reading on "What Would I Like for Christmas", and called on Mrs. Ralph Greer for a reading "The Day After Christmas."

Nine lights have been installed on the streets in Bailieboro and it was decided to have six more installed as was originally planned. It was reported that $55.00 had been received from the Institute euchres to date.

HAVELOCK, Dec. 13 (ENS).—Yuletide decorations and colored electric lights made a beautiful setting for the afternoon tea and sale of home baking held in the Sunday school auditorium of St. John's Anglican Church on Tuesday afternoon under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary.

Mrs. H. W. Roche, president, welcomed the guests who were served at quartette tables which were centred with evergreen and a gum-drop tree. Serving were: Mrs. Hamilton, Mrs. C. Miles, Mrs. Jesse Anderson and Mrs. Woodbeck. Arranging the plates were Mesdames George Wright, A. Buckland, W. Varty, Graydon Harris and S. Peters, while Mrs. Frank Watson was in charge of making the tea. The sale of home baking was in charge of Mrs. F. McKay and Mrs. T. Cummins.

A display of special interest was one of articles made by the Indians in the part of Saskatchewan where the rector the Rev. H. E. Peasgood and Mrs. Peasgood were stationed before coming to Havelock. The display which was in charge of Mrs Peasgood included moccasins, centrepieces, baskets, etc., which were sent to her to dispose of for them. Women Voters On Job In West

CALGARY (CP).—Women do so vote. That was clear after Calgary's civic election.

Out of nearly 34,000 votes cast, there were only 30 fewer women voters than men.

Normally the number of men voters as compared with women is not tabulated, but Carl B. Cummer, assistant city clerk, decided to have the figures broken down.

The result was 16,990 men, 16,960 women. At almost every poll, the figures were about even.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Cookie Requests, Some Best For Christmas

(With apologies to my charming reader-friends who help me out in a dozen different ways. Anyway I don't mean a word of it—well—maybe one word.)

You wrecked my plans. Both of my heads ache. (If I had only one head I don't see how it could hurt so much.)

I feel as if I have pleaded with you ' let me know early what recipes you were likely to want and if you wanted quick replies to send self-addressed envelopes. The only thing you didn't do was to send your requests to me early enough. Remember—I have to have room to get my two cents' worth in somewhere here, and I wanted to give you nifty ways of handling the same old vegetables to make them flavorful and beautiful enough for Christmas dinner.

But you want cookies, and "the customer is always right". Who thought of that in the first place anyway?

There—one of my headaches is better.

Pete says these are the best cookies ever invented. I didn't invent them so it is no credit to me—although I must modestly admit I think this recipe is an improvement on the original one I worked from.

Lebkuchen

One lb. strained honey, 2 cups brown sugar, ¼ cup water, ½ teaspoon soda, ½ lb. blanched and shredded almonds, about 8 cups flour, ¼ lb. mixed lemon and orange peel shredded, ¼ teaspoon each ground cloves and nutmeg, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 2 eggs.

Boil together the honey and sugar for 5 minutes, not too hard. Cool. Sift the flour with the soda and spices, add them to the honey mixture, stir in, then add the eggs, almonds and peels and work into a loaf. Cover well and let stand 3 days to ripen in a cold place. Work it again, add a little flour if you think it is too soft to handle. Roll out on floured board to one-quarter inch thickness and cut into bars 1 x 3 inches. Bake on greased cookie sheet at 350 deg. Fahr. for about 15 minutes. When baked and cold cover with transparent icing made by mixing 1 cup icing sugar with 5 teaspoons boiling water and ¼ teaspoon lemon extract. These keep perfectly for weeks and weeks.

Scotch Shortbread
(Genuine Recipe)

Three-quarters lb. butter, 6 ounces powdered sugar, 1 pound bread flour. Cream the butter, and add gradually while beating constantly the sugar, then work in the flour, using the hands. Now either press into small shortbread pans or roll out on lightly floured board and cut out into leaves, ovals, squares. Christmas trees, etc. to make cookies about ¼ inch thick. Bake on ungreased sheets at 300 deg. Fahr. These do not brown—nor rise. They are done when you can make a scratching sound on the top when you touch them with your finger nail.

Kipferl

One-half cup butter or margarine, ¾ cup powdered sugar, 3 egg yolks, ¾ cup ground blanched almonds, 2¼ cups sifted flour, ⅛ teaspoon salt. Work the shortening until creamy then gradually beat in the sugar until both are very light and airy. Beat in yolks. Add almonds, flour and salt and mix well. Shape small pieces of the dough into crescents the size of a pencil but only 2½ inches long, tapered at the ends. Bake on buttered cookie sheets at 375 deg. Fahr. for 10 minutes. Keep well if kept cold.

Swedish Cookies

One cup butter, ½ cup sugar, 2 egg yolks slightly beaten, 2 cups flour, 2 unbeaten egg whites, 1½ cup ground nuts—either almonds, walnuts or black walnuts. Cream the butter, then cream the sugar into it well. Add yolks, beat well, then stir in flour. Form this dough into 3 inch balls in the buttered palms, drop into the unbeaten whites, then drop into the bowlful of ground nuts. Lift these balls out onto greased cookie sheet, press to ¼ inch thickness with bottom of a tumbler. Bake 5 minutes at 300 deg. Fahr. then remove from oven to make a depression in centre of each cookie with your big finger or a thimble. Bake about 15 minutes longer but do not let these brown. Fill depression with wild raspberry jam—about ½ teaspoon, or other choice jam or jelly. These keep well too, but must be cool.

❖ ❖ ❖

Now my face is red. I have just been looking over some of last month's copy and find I promised you "more cookie receipes during December". Even if I am an old grouch they are wonderful! cookies.

4 Cars Pile Up Snow Makes Roads Slippery

Four cars piled up at the hillside intersection of Parkhill Rd., and Aylmer St., Wednesday evening. Both streets are on quite steep hills.

The first crash occurred when a car driven by Donald J. Hopkins, 242 Lansdowne St., travelling down the hill on Parkhill Rd., skidded into the side of a car driven by L. Wright, R.R. 1, Omemee.

While Wright's car was being moved down the hill to clear the street for traffic, L. W. Inglis, R.R. 4 Peterborough, also driving east on Parkhill Rd., skidded into Hopkins' car.

Shortly after, J. C. Conroy, 701 George St., driving north on Aylmer St., turned east on Parkhill Rd. and skidded into the rear of the Inglis vehicle.

Constable Dennis Traynor investigated and reported there was only minor damage to the vehicles involved.

The street was quite slippery at the time.

Approximately $250 damage resulted to the front end of a car driven by Howard J. Campbell, R.R. 9 Peterborough, which collided with the rear of a truck driven by Clarence W. Parks, 548 Edison Ave., Wednesday afternoon.

Both vehicles were going south on Water St. The car slid into the rear of the truck, as Parks slowed down to pick up a passenger.

In trying to avoid a collision with another car, George Clarke, 331 Sherbrooke St., reported to police that his car went out of control at Dublin St. and Bethune St. Wednesday evening.

His car wound up at the southeast corner of the intersection. Clarke estimated the damage to his car at $100.

Hit Train

Damage estimated at between $100 and $150 resulted when Jaraslov Krcek, Batawa, ran into the side of a train as it was proceeding south across McDonnel St., Wednesday evening.

He said he was going east on McDonnel St., and realizing he would not be able to stop before hitting the train, swung his car to the right to go south on Bethune St. but was not quick enough, and struck the train, damaging the front end of his car.

A car driven by Norman McConkey, Canal Rd., collided with the rear of a car driven by Kenneth Kettyle, 395 Holloway Drive, about 9 am today, as Kettyle slowed down to pick up a passenger. Both cars were going west, on the Hunter St. bridge.

Considerable damage resulted to the front end of the McConkey car.

Adjourn 3 Charges Against Driver

Three charges against a Bridgenorth man, Harry Jopling, were adjourned to January 3 in police court Wednesday. He is charged with drunk driving, leaving the scene of an accident and illegal possession of liquor.

Jopling pleaded not guilty to all charges, one on Park Hill Rd., and another at Chesterfield and Wolsley Sts.

Two witnesses to the Park Hill Rd. accident said to police they saw Jopling's car clip a second auto, owned by Mrs. Mabel Nelson, 364 Park Hill Rd. They were Thomas Forsyth, 649 Downie St., and Herman Fenwick, 203 Hunter St.

T. E. Pritchard, 769 Chesterfield St., told police he saw the driver of a car which upset at Chesterfield and Wolsley Sts., throw something into the ditch.

Constable Cecil Bowyer, who investigated, found a half-full bottle of whiskey in the ditch.

SMALL CHASER

The cairn terrier derived its name from the fact it was used to rive foxes out of cairns, or caves.

Hard Work Gives Village Fire Brigade Worth $25,000

BRIDGENORTH, Dec. 13 — (ENS)—The forming of a rural fire brigade is not an easy job as the chief and fire brigade of Bridgenorth well know. It is a long, hard worked at project with many headaches thrown in for those who have worked so tenaciously to accomplish this brigade and equipment. Many people wonder how these things can be done, so this reporter interviewed the fire chief and brigade and found out just how it was accomplished.

It was a foregone conclusion that the community needed fire protection and needed it badly. So after forming no less than three committees in four years and not getting anywhere very fast, they suddenly hit their stride and were able to set up a fire brigade in the village after having investigated many different angles, such as building their own equipment, also partially building and buying.

A necessary conclusion was reached that in order to have a fire brigade function properly, it must not be subjected to petty squabbles and small town politics that most all small places have from time to time. After meeting with the township assessor, it was disclosed that there was in the area, an assessment of $300,000.00, thus allowing ample to pay for a pumper, and taking advantage of the government grant of 35 per cent of the cost of the pumper. In addition to the assessment there was sold fire protection to 95 per cent of the farmers in the area on a ten year contract.

Approached Council

Having obtained all these figures and facts, the next step was to approach the township council and after several meetings together, the council realized that the Bridgenorth Fire Brigade were fell acquainted with all the facts. The Council threw a question at them and asked "If we buy this equipment, where will you put it?" The answer was: "You buy the equipment and we will put a roof over it."

Perhaps many people of the community thought the chief and the brigade had gone crazy and they were well justified in their thoughts, for there was not a building of any kind to be had in the village and not a cent to work with. The council felt such a project could be done, so the motion was passed that the equipment be purchased. And now, where to put the pumper was the big question.

The following evening a meeting of the fire brigade was held and it was decided they would build a fire hall themselves. On looking around, they found an unopened portion of a road that had never been opened and after requesting permission of the Council to build there, they were given the go sign.

At the same time brigade members were arranging to raise the money to build it. With weekly euchre parties, dances and other methods, approximately $1400. was raised, all by public subscription. The fire hall was built with the $1400. and practically all by volunteer labor. The hall was completed two weeks before the new pumper arrived cement block building large enough to house two instead of one.

Built Tank Truck

Now, after the pumper had arrived, it was felt that a tanker was also needed to complete the job. So the next step was the purchase of a 1945 Dodge Truck Chassis. After completely overhauling and building a complete body and supplying with a pump, a new tanker in its bright fire engine red finish was ready to go along with the pumper. While this was being done, the brigade were out raising money again to pay for it and by public subscription, approximately $3,000 was raised. Today the tanker is complete in every way and paid for. It has a capacity of 750 gallons with a pump installed capable of 125 gallons per minute at 125 pounds pressure.

And now, the last project arose in order to complete the work and that was the installing of an alarm system. This was built entirely by certain members of the brigade and its has proved a very efficient alarm system there in the village. It comprises an inter-com system from the fire hall running to three different telephones on different party lines. Each phone has an inter-com speaker beside it, also a push button built in to start the alarm. The master set is installed in the fire hall.

In the event of a fire call coming in over any one of the telephones, they just press the button, setting off the siren at the hall, standing by at the same time. The first man in the fire hall takes the call over the inter-com from the telephone that received the call and he writes it down on the blackboard. It has proven its efficiency as there is no regular fireman on the job.

The most amazing part of this venture was that in May 1950, the brigade knew they had to build a fire hall and with no money to start, and today the fire hall and equipment that they have there at Bridgenorth represents an investment of approximately $25,000 and the only debt against the whole thing is approximately $7,000 against the pumper. The rest is completely paid for.

Federation Of Agriculture To Discuss Local Market

Directors of Peterborough Federation of Agriculture have several topics for discussion at their meeting tonight. One is the local farm produce market. The other is the appointment of delegates to the Ontario Federation convention.

Peterborough city council expressed nearly two months ago its willingness to discuss the market question with representatives of Peterborough county council. Nothing came of that urban overture. At the city hall it was learned that there had been no acceptance of this proposal by the county.

The next step was mainly directed by Norman McConkey, president of the Exhibition, as to the possibility of moving the market to the old drill hall at Morrow Park for at least three or four market days during the Christmas season.

Linked with that essay of action more or less, was the city council's intention to proceed with arbitration of a block of Morrow Park for the Memorial Community Centre site.

Council appears to have encountered another form of the barrier raised out of the deed of Morrow Park to the public.

Mayor Swanston said the other night the council in committee had discussed some legal report about the park, presumably relating to the position of the council, and especially of the city, in the gift of Morrow Park, and consequence of expropriation.

Move Stalled

At any rate, the market move has stalled on two sectors, and the Federation of Agriculture is taking hold of this question tonight.

Meanwhile, the market stays at George and Rink Streets.

A retired Smith township farmer, still living on his own property, recently said that until three weeks ago he could see only one side to the change of market location.

"My mother used to take me to market when I was a boy, and many's the dollar she brought home when we needed it and money was really scarce," this man said. "So, I have had a kind of affection for the market. But, a month or so ago I began asking myself why the ordinary city home owner should be taxed to provide new market facilities for farmers. I concluded that it would be an unfair thing to do, especially if the whole burden was to be left to the city people."

Helped In Depression

Another man who has been long absent from the market said: "I don't know what I would have done during the depression years without the money I took in over the market. The Saturday sales put cash in my pocket week after week, and on the whole I got through pretty well, thanks mainly to the market."

That farmer would like to see a Peterborough market maintained.

The Smith man expresses the view of many local people. If the county council is indifferent to the market matter, why should the city get excited about it and rush into some spending program for buildings?

W. W. Dawson is chairman of the board of directors meeting tonight.

Must Go Back To Icing Puck

MIDLAND, Dec. 13 (CP)—All hockey leagues under the jurisdiction of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association must return to the icing-the-puck rule "within a reasonable time," George S. Dudley, secretary-manager of the CAHA, said today.

He was commenting on statements Wednesday by Ken Mayhew of Yorkton, Sask., president of the Saskatchewan Amateur Hockey Association, that teams in that province may continue to use the present rule if that is the wish of their league.

The old rule, which allows the puck to be fired into the end zone from just across the centre line, was returned to the book recently by a vote of the CAHA executive. The new rule, in effect for the first time this year and which now has been abolished, calls for the puck to be carried or passed over the blueline without reaching the goal line.

Mayhew said the CAHA apparently had allowed some leeway in returning to the old rule.

However, Dudley said Mayhew had "apparently misinterpreted the directive" sent out by the CAHA "they will have to return to the old rule as quickly as possible," he said.

The Ontario Hockey Association, said Dudley, is returning to the old ruling Dec. 17.

Thinks 2,000 Italians Could Ease UK Problems

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON, Dec. 13 (CP)—In a blinding flash of revelation, it becomes clear there is nothing wrong with Britain's economy that a couple of thousand Italians couldn't cure.

Obviously that's an over-simplification. What is meant is that coal is the keystone of the British economy, as it has been since the days of the industrial revolution, and that the Italians are ready and willing to dig it. But the British miners, by and large, don't want any help.

So Britain, once the world's greatest coal-exporting country, pays dollars for coal from the United States, and 2,000,000 unemployed Italians remain jobless. Italy's first offer of help came more than four years ago. Now there are still fewer than 500 Italians actually working in British pits.

Suspicious of Strangers

Why are the Britons so standoffish? The answer is to be found in the tight, self-contained mining communities, traditionally suspicious of outsiders, haunted by memories of past sufferings, convinced that a shortage of labor is a good bargaining weapon.

Trade unions, which have agreed to try to persuade the workers to accept Italian mates, just can't convince the mining lodges that the foreigners aren't a fly-by-night crew, out to make as much money as they can in a short time and willing to work outlandish hours.

Even the knowledge that an Italian working underground makes it easier for a Briton to win a higher-paid job at the coal-face does little to change the minds of ordinary colliers.

Overtime Welcomed

There is no doubt the miners are right about Italian willingness to work. Cyril Dunn, a British newspaperman, visited a briquet works in Cardiff, Wales, where 50 non-English-speaking recruits from Naples are working.

The Italians show a "sensational zest for work," Dunn wrote in a Sunday newspaper. "They are on piece-rates, and in the first weeks almost smashed the place up in their attempts to get more output than the machines are capable of giving."

Whether they can find somebody to understand them, all they want is more spaghetti and a chance to work 16 hours a day at least twice a week.

That is the curiously human problem. Britain desperately needs coal—another 5,000,000 tons a year would make a tremendous difference to the balance of payments—and the Italians want to work, but ordinary Britons don't want to let them. The government hopes to make more progress in persuasion in 1952.

Campbellford YPU Holds Christmas Meet

CAMPBELLFORD, Dec. 13 — (ENS)—December meeting of the St. John's United Church Young People's Union was held Monday evening. The worship service was in charge of missions conveners, Anne Paliser and Lloyd Fisher. Paul Smith read the scripture selections, the Christmas story from Luke 2. Anne led in prayer, then read a story about Christmas Eve in Bethlehem in modern times. Shirley Wright read a Christmas poem.

Continuing with the Christmas theme, Barbara Fox sang "Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer".

Dr. Smith directed in carol singing, with Anne Nichols at the piano, playing such favorites as "Joy to the World", "O Come All Ye Faithful", and "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear".

The business meeting was turned over to the president, Earl Taft, and the minutes of the last two meetings were read and approved.

Disappointed In Vote

HAMILTON, Dec. 13—(CP) —James F. Berry, city clerk and chief returning officer in Wednesday's municipal election, said today he was "greatly disappointed" by the low percentage vote of 45.6 of those eligible. Of about 117,100 entitled to vote, Mr. Berry said only 53,415 went to the polls.

Local 5 Among Many Plants On 4-Day Week

Five factories in Peterborough and two in Campbellford are among a number of Ontario plants operating on a short work week. Cause of the short-time employment here is said to be lack of sales resulting in curtailed production.

Other centres, affected are: Toronto, London, Fort Erie, Burlington, Listowel, Cornwall, Port Hope, Ingersoll and Carleton Place.

Logging Camps

Most northern Ontario logging and lumber camps are fully staffed for the winter, although a few pine cutters are needed in the Kirkland Lake area. Pulpwood cutters are wanted in the North Bay and Hawkesbury region.

At the Cornwall plant of Canadian Cottons Ltd., cutbacks in production mean layoffs of from 100 to 150 workers, and another 1,600 will revert to a short work week.

In Kitchener the four-day work weeks are common at footwear plants and 100 furniture workers are off work. At two London, Ont., factories, 600 workers have been laid off.

Factories in this city which have cut production because of slow sales are: Canadian Nashua Paper, Brinton - Peterborough Carpet, CGE, Westclox, Peterborough Lock. In Campbellford, the Campbellford Cloth Co., and Toronto Carpet Co., are both on short work weeks, and production is spotty.

Casual Visitor Has Suggestions For City Council

John Hodson of Perry St., an occasional visitor to council meetings, expressed his approval of the chamber Monday night.

He also complimented the council on setting up the Fishing Boy fountain in Victoria Park, but said he would have been glad to have cast the mould for the figure and completed it without cost to the city.

"I happen to be the only man in the city capable of making that kind of setting," Mr. Hodson said, "and I was surprised to see you had to go outside the city to have it made."

On that point, Ald. Herbert Young said the council considered the ability of Mr. Hodson, but the present works manager of Canadian General Electric Co. did not feel it was possible, as proposed, that Mr. Hodson should be allowed to use the facilities of the company to do the figure for the fountain.

Mr. Hodson also suggested that the council might be able to find money for toilet convenience in the parks. He was especially thinking of the new park at McDonald's Point. Living close by, Mr. Hodson said he had not seen the chairman of the parks committee there in two years.

The trench for the water main leading to the Point and across the river had not been regraded and surfaced. Consequent dust at the Crescent St. end was a neighborhood nuisance.

As chairman of the parks committee, Ald. P. J. Anglesey said that he would not guess at the cost of the Victoria Park fountain. "The exact figure escapes me," he said, "but I'll get that information for Mr. Hodson tomorrow. I may say that at least twice a month this last summer, I made a tour of all the parks with Superintendent Butcher. I agree with Mr. Hodson that the park near his home does need some more attention. We are all agreed on that."

Ald. Anglesey said that there had been a lot of other costs to be thought of, but that the council of 1952 might consider the question of further improvements in the parks.

- Said Mayor Swanston: "It is something the council next year may go into and see if they can find the money."

IRAN ERUPTS.—Iranian Government supporters chase Red demonstrators through the streets of Teheran after helping police break up a Communist march on government buildings. Some 5,000 persons were rallied by the Tudeh (Communist) party with their "Death to Mossadegh" cry. Hundreds of Red leaders were later arrested.

Canadian Plane Takes Princess To East Africa

Assistance for Avro

Stuart Duncan Davies, 44-year-old designer of Avro Manchester's unorthodox delta-wing jet fighter has been loaned to Avro Canada Ltd. in a consulting capacity.

Davies' wide experience in the problems of high-speed fighter design, development and production will be applied at Malton, where Avro Canada has encountered a succession of difficulties with its twin-engined CF-100.

The company's board chairman Sir Roy Dobson, is expected to arrive in Canada soon to assess progress of the fighter production program.

Government Employees Get Raises Up To 14 PC

SLUG SCRUTINY—A group of UN and Communist officers study pieces of a bullet slug in Kaesong, Korea. The Reds have charged that a UN plane recently attacked Kaesong, thus violating the agreement guaranteeing the city's neutrality. The bullet was part of the Communist evidence. This was a sideline as UN and Communists remained deadlocked on a bigger issue of settlement of an exchange of prisoners of war.

UN Officers Firm On POW's

TOKYO, Dec. 14. (AP)—The United Nations command is determined that the Communists must give in to Allied conditions on an exchange of prisoners-of-war or accept the responsibility for a complete breakdown of the Korean armistice talks, the Associated Press learned today. As this stand become known, censorship eased off and permitted The Associated Press to give for the first time since the Korean war began some background on how United Nations prisoners are faring in Communist camps. Some are having a bitter time of it and others are comparatively well treated.

Approximately 11,000 United States soldiers are missing in action. An unknown number of thousands of these are in enemy hands. But Allies have consistently adhered to provisions of the International Red Cross committee and supplied the names and locations of the 165,000 Red prisoners. The enemy has refused to abide by the Geneva conventions.

Give 110 Names

In the whole war, the Reds have supplied the names of only 110 United Nations captives.

What sort of lives are United Nations prisoners leading in prisoner camps behind enemy lines? As far as available information goes, carefully pieced together from various informed sources, which cannot be identified, here is what is known:

1. In some Communist camps, prisoners are made to work hard. In others, captives are assigned no jobs.

2. Food in some of the camps is adequate. In the remainder, it is extremely poor.

3. Some prisoners in Communist hands are well treated. These are the men the Communists feel they can use for their own purposes—such as propaganda broadcasts.

4. Other prisoners are not so fortunate. They are badly treated.

Settlement Possible At Windsor

Secret Proposals Being Considered Called 'Unauthorized'

WINDSOR, Dec. 14. (CP) — A settlement move may come today in the Ford Motor Company strike which an international union head termed unauthorized and which he said must be ended.

A meeting of members of Local 200 of the United Automobile Workers (CIO) will consider still-secret proposals for ending the wildcat walkout Dec. 3 of 9,000 production workers that climaxed six months of contract negotiations and was touched off by the firing of 26 union men blamed for causing work stoppages.

These proposals may include a plan which Walter Reuther, the UAW's international president, said Thursday night he had worked out with George Burt, Canadian director of the UAW and officers of the Windsor Ford local.

Following Orders

Mr. Reuther revealed no details of the plan. His unusual step of issuing the statement on the eve of the union membership meeting was an apparent move to offset reports that he had moved into the situation to "lay down the law" to the UAW's Canadian leaders.

However, he said in the statement that the international union "insists on termination of the unauthorized strike" and that he and Emil Mazey, international secretary-treasurer, had advised the Ford local's executive board of "the clear-cut, firm opposition of the International Union to unauthorized strikes which are in violation of the democratic procedures required by the union's constitution."

He added that this position was in conformity with that taken by Mr. Burt.

"Together with regional director Burt and the local union officers, we evolved a program to bring about an end to the unauthorized strike. We are working with the regional director and the local union officers to put this program into effect."

The walkout of the production workers has caused the layoff of 3,000 Ford office employees and feeder plant workers. It has also closed down the power plant at the automotive works in what the company says is a violation of a contract with the union.

In the no-deadlocked contract negotiations, the union has been seeking a 30-cent-an-hour "package" increase over the basic hourly rate of $1.32. A conciliation board recommended a 13-cent-an-hour increase.

Flee Burning Home

NORWICH, Dec. 14. (CP) — Three young boys, the oldest nine years of age, escaped from their burning home here Thursday night. The boys, sons of Charles Leach, were at home alone when the fire broke out. The house was destroyed. Fire Chief Basil Baines was overcome by smoke. Norwich is 10 miles southeast of Woodstock.

Rescuers Reach Trapped Pilot Find Him Alive

CALGARY, Dec. 14 (CP)—An RCAF pilot seriously injured and trapped in the wreckage of his aircraft 7,000 feet up a mountainside since Wednesday afternoon, was found alive by a ground rescue party which reached him about 1 am MST (3 am EST) today.

An RCAF para-rescue team jumped to the scene to help the rescue party evacuate FO. Cyril Wilken, 27, of Redvers, Sask.

The combined RCAF-RCMP ground party of eight men included an air force doctor.

The temperature in the area was about 12 below.

The Harvard training plane that Wilken was ferrying from Trenton, Ont., to Claresholm, Alta., crash-landed Wednesday on the mountainside about 32 miles south of Calgary after being lost in a southern Alberta snowstorm.

Cpl. Clifford Johnstone, 32, of Canterbury, NB, only other occupant of the plane, plowed through deep snow Thursday until found by a hunter and reported both were lucky to escape alive. The plane ended up wedged between two trees.

Johnstone, thrown clear when the plane crashed in bad weather, said Wilken "had one bad eye and a cut over the left eye."

Reporting he had worked all Wednesday night in a fruitless effort to free Wilken from a crumpled cockpit, Johnstone said Wilken "begged" him not to leave the plane.

Believed Delirious

Johnstone, an engine technician, said he believed Wilken was delirious when he left the wrecked plane about 6 am MST Thursday to begin the trek through the snow three to 3½ feet deep, for help.

Johnstone was unable to tell the search party exactly where the plane crashed but the search party hoped to back-track on Johnstone's trail to the wreck scene.

Johnstone was cheerful but suffering from shock and bruises.

In addition to the main search party, two or three groups organized from volunteers and including about 15 soldiers, were assisting in the rescue work. The soldiers were members of the Calgary-based Princess Patricia's Light Infantry.

Johnstone said the plane's flare gun jammed in the crash and he could not find an axe with which to break open the cockpit and free Wilken. Also he was unable to tell just how badly hurt Wilken was.

Johnstone said the plane got off course after finding the ceiling at Calgary "down to the ground."

When unable to land at Calgary, the plane was given another course.

"But somehow we got mixed up," Johnstone said.

Will Compete With Private Firm Rates

Armed Forces, RCMP Plus Civil Service To Receive Boost

OTTAWA, Dec. 14. (CP)—A broad series of pay, salary and allowance increases for Canada's armed forces, the civil service and the RCMP was announced in the Commons today by Prime Minister St. Laurent.

The raises, ranging from about four to about 14 per cent, all are retroactive to Dec. 1.

The last general adjustment in rates of pay for government employees was a year ago.

Mr. St. Laurent said the government's policy on raises is based on two main principles:

1. That salary and pay scales and other conditions of employment in both the civil service and the armed forces should be such as to attract and retain persons of the right type and necessary qualifications.

2. That, having regard for the ancillary conditions of employment, remuneration for each class of work or employment should be generally in line with that paid for comparable work by good private employers.

Increase Justified

Applying these principles to current conditions, the prime minister added, the government believes that "a broad series of pay and salary increases now is justified."

The general average effect of the increases will be to add between eight and nine per cent to the government's payroll.

The armed service increases include substantial boosts in trades pay for qualified warrant officers, non-commissioned officers and men. In addition, fully-trained infantrymen and other trained combat soldiers now will draw a specialist's pay of $6 a month.

For the lowest ranks—privates, seamen and aircraftsmen — the new scales provide monthly increases in basic pay of $8 and in subsistence allowance of $4. These range up to $13 basic and $7 subsistence for the highest non-commissioned rank.

For officers, there are increases ranging from $8 a month to $93 in basic pay, depending on rank, and from $4 to $30 for subsistence. The outfit allowance for newly-commissioned officers jumps to $375 from $250.

From Bottom Up

Under the new rates a private fully trained will receive $152 monthly, including subsistence allowance, compared with $140; a sergeant $201, compared with

Jewel Thief Ring Moves To Canada Hope To Catch 16

NEW YORK, Dec. 14. (CP)—An international gang of 16 jewel thieves, most of them Canadians, is reported on the verge of capture. A New York police source, who predicted imminent arrests, said Thursday night that most of the gang now are in Canada. Ten were reported in Toronto, one in Vancouver, two already are in prison and another was expected to be taken into custody shortly. A high-ranking police official, who asked that his name not be used, said the expected arrests would solve a series of hotel and apartment burglaries here in which more than $1,000,000 worth of gems has been stolen in the last 18 months.

(In Toronto, a paper reported in a copyright story that all members of the gang are Canadians. The newspaper estimated the gang's loot from robberies both in Canada and the United States at more than $3,000,000 and said most of it had been taken to the Toronto area for sale to known "fences."

A New York City detective, James McShane, was said to have reported that a Loretta Nesbitt was arrested by RCMP in Toronto. She was identified by McShane as an acquaintance of all 16 alleged members of the ring.

Working On Case

McShane and an insurance company investigator have been working on the case in Canada. They have made two trips to Toronto recently, the last one only Wednesday.

The police source quoted McShane as reporting that Miss Nesbitt was arrested "in an automobile which has interested New Jersey police investigating the Willie Moretti slaying" and that she had been arraigned in Toonto on a stolen-car charge.

Moretti, a well-known gambler and underworld figure, was shot to death in a Cliffside Park, NJ restaurant Oct. 4. The murder is unsolved. There have been reports he was executed by underworld gunmen because it was feared he would become too talkative with government officials investigating crime.

Have Police Records

McShane also was reported to have said that all members of the ring have police records and are "known" to Canadian authorities. His report to police also said that American officials in Canada are interested in the case on the assumption that the ring's operations had involved illegal crossing of the border.

It was pointed out that all the hotel and apartment robberies here had been committed by what police call "prowls"—in which

Won't Recall UK Envoy From Egypt

LONDON, Dec. 14 (Reuters)—Britain will not recall her ambassador to Egypt, despite the Egyptian government's decision to recall its ambassador in London, a foreign ministry spokesman said today.

He said the British government does not want to widen the gap between the two countries.

The Egyptian envoy here, Abdul Fattah Amr Pasha, recalled because Britain demolished 50 Egyptian houses in a road-building operation near Suez last Saturday, is still awaiting an order from his government to leave.

In a surprise move today, he cancelled a reservation on a Paris plane and asked for an afternoon appointment with Anthony Eden, British foreign minister.

It was understood he would deliver a message from Ibrahim Farag Pasha, acting Egyptian foreign minister.

Due At Conference

He may yet catch a later plane for Paris, where he is due to attend a conference of Egyptian diplomats Saturday.

Informed sources said, meanwhile, that Britain will propose to Egypt that the two nations talk things over and try to cool off their dispute about the Suez Canal and the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan.

Eden is expected to suggest that the two governments begin negotiations, either in London or Cairo, for a new treaty tied in with the British - American - French - Turkish Middle East defence plans.

There were some indications that the situation was not hopeless in the bitter and often bloody British-Egyptian dispute. The French - language Cairo paper, Journal d Egypte, which often reflects palace opinion, said the recall of the Egyptian envoy does not mean a full break in diplomatic relations.

Joan Bennett's Husband Admits Shooting Agent

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Dec. 14. (AP)—A blazing pistol cut down movie star Joan Bennett's agent as he was standing beside her in a parking lot Thursday night. Police said her producer husband, Walter Wanger, admitted the shooting. Police Chief Clinton Anderson quoted the prominent, grey-haired movie-maker:

"I shot him because he broke up my home."

Wanger was booked on suspicion of assault with intent to commit murder. He stayed in jail overnight. His arraignment was set for 10 am (1 pm EST) today.

The victim, Jennings Lang, 39, was reported in "fairly satisfactory" condition. He underwent surgery lasting 1½ hours.

One .38-calibre bullet penetrated his groin and came out through the rear of his left leg, Anderson said. The other slug tore through Lang's clothes and grazed his thigh.

Sitting In Car

A bullet ripped through the left front fender of Miss Bennett's big green convertible. She was sitting in the car when the gun roared, about 5:30 pm, in a parking lot across the street from the Beverly Hills police station.

Lang was standing by the car, talking to her. He doubled over, clutching his abdomen.

Anderson quoted Miss Bennett as saying she told Wanger:

"Get away and leave us alone."

She told the police chief that her relations with her agent were purely business.

Two policemen took 57-year-old Wanger into custody on the parking lot.

Miss Bennett, 41, was quoted by Chief Anderson as relating:

About 2:30 pm she went into the nearby Music Corporation of America building to see Lang, her agent for 12 years.

Took Drive

They took a drive around Beverly Hills and Hollywood in his car, discussing a proposed television show for her. They returned to the parking lot about 5:20.

She and Lang got out of his car and walked over to hers. She got in, he stood beside the door. They talked a few minutes. She had turned the motor and lights on when the gun flashed and roared and she saw Wanger standing nearby.

The veteran producer of many films, including "Stage Coach," "Foreign Correspondent" and the financially ill-fated "Joan of Arc" was questioned at length and fingerprinted.

Claxton Shoots Special Shell

WEST SECTOR, KOREA, Dec. 14 (CP)—Defence Minister Claxton will have the privilege of shooting a shell with his name on it when he comes to Korea in January.

It was laid aside early Tuesday when the 2nd Battalion, Royal Canadian Horse Artillery, reached the 200,000th round to be fired since the unit entered the Korean campaign last May 17.

That round and the next were reached while the gunners were supporting a Princess Patricias' patrol. They were immediately laid aside for ceremonial use, the artillerymen continuing their shooting to protect the patrol's withdrawal.

The 200,000th shell was painted with the RCHA's colors, red and royal blue, and the cartridge case was inscribed indicating it is to be fired by 'a distinguished gunner." The shell will repose in RCHA headquarters until Claxton reaches Korea to launch it in the proper direction.

Claxton won't need to be told how to shoot it. He was an artillery battery sergeant-major in the First World War.

King George Observes His 56th Birthday

LONDON, Dec. 14—(AP)—The King is 56 years old today.

Now well advanced in his recovery from a serious lung operation in September, he spent the morning reading messages of congratulation from many parts of the world.

Members of the Royal Family attended a birthday luncheon at Buckingham Palace.

While today is the King's real birthday, it is usually celebrated throughout the Commonwealth in June.

British Centurion Holds Own In Korea

LEEDS, England, Dec. 14 — (Reuters). — The British Centurion tank has met no difficulty against any Russian-built tank it has yet met, Austin Low, Parliamentary Secretary to the Minister of Supply, said here today.

He said it had been described in Korea as the most reliable and best-designed tank Britain had ever had.

Low, who was visiting the state-owned factory near here where the Centurion is produced, said it had been reported the Canadians were interested in buying 40 of the tanks.

The Centurion is a 50-ton tank and has a 20-pound gun which can be fired on the move.

Ask 3 Neutrals To Do Inspecting

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14 (AP). —The United States has told three countries—Sweden, Norway and Switzerland—that they may be proposed as members of "non-belligerent" inspection teams in event of an armistice in Korea.

The proposed teams would maintain a check on whether the Communists and United Nations forces were abiding by armistice terms.

The approach to the three nations was made through their ambassadors here Thursday by John D. Hickerson, Assistant Secretary of State for United Nations Affairs.

Hickerson, it was learned, told the ambassadors the United States would like to know whether their governments had any objections to participation in an inspection commission.

They were told that in principle the United Nations Korean command probably could accept the armistice inspection idea.

The Communists have referred to this idea as inspection by "neutral" teams; the United Nations as Hickerson explained it to the envoys, calls for "non-belligerent" teams.

4 MILLION ESTATE

TORONTO, Dec. 14 — (CP)— James Henry Gundy, senior partner of the investment banking firm of Wood, Gundy & Company who died November 10, left an estate of more than $4,500,000, it was shown today when his will was filed for probate.

West To Open Arms Talks Hopeful Of Getting Solution

PARIS, Dec. 14 (AP)—American Ambassador Philip C. Jessup told the United Nations political committee today the Western powers will open disarmament negotiations with Russia "with the fixed desire and hope that they will result in agreement."

Explaining the revised Western disarmament proposals, Jessup said it is obvious that fundamental differences remain between the Soviet Union and the West.

"We do not blink at the difficulties," he said, "but the task of disarmament is vital and we intend to get on with that task."

Negotiations would take place in a new disarmament commission the West wants to set up under the terms of the revised British-French - American resolution which Jessup formally introduced today.

Russia and the Big Three have agreed in principle on setting up such a commission but still differ almost completely on how to go further about disarming.

"It is in the spirit of widening the areas of agreement that we submit our revised draft," Jessup said, adding that the new resolution makes numerous concessions to demands put forth by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky during the secret Big-Four talks last week.

Jessup said basic East-West differences still exist—the West insists that disarmament must be gradual, step-by-step, closely supervised throughout, and culminating in prohibition of the atomic bomb; the Soviet Union demands an immediate ban on the bomb and one-third reduction in armed forces by the major powers.

The concessions advanced today; many of them changes in wording of the original resolution, include setting June 1, 1952, as the date for the proposed commission to report and guide the committee in planning for an international control organ to supervise the disarmament process.

Declares Army Forks Good For Bayonets

OTTAWA, Dec. 14 — (CP) — James Macdonnell (PC, Toronto Greenwood) pulled a huge, bone-handled fork out of his pocket at the Commons' defence committee meeting Thursday and wanted to know why the government has ordered 63,000 of them.

They were, he said, the kind of fork waiters used to serve food—in other words serving forks. He wondered what the armed forces would do with 63,000 serving forks, unless it was for use as an auxiliary bayonet.

He believed a mistake had been made. He hoped it could be rectified before messes across the country became flooded with the huge, pitch-fork like instrument.

Defence officials said they would investigate.

10,000 Defiant Reds To Rebuild Hdqts.

TEHRAN, Iran, Dec. 14 (AP)— Some 10,000 defiant Communists massed before their burned out "peace" headquarters here today and announced they will rebuild it stronger than ever.

The crowd let out frequent roars of "death to (Premier Mohammed) Mossadegh," but neither police nor pro-government Nationalists intervened.

Nationalist demonstrators burned and wrecked the Reds' peace headquarters Dec. 6 when they smashed an attempted Communist student demonstration. At least eight persons were killed and more than 200 injured in the bloody clash.

At today's rally Red speakers said the pro-government wrecking crews had "plunged us like steel into the fire and hardened us. Our unity and purpose have been strengthened."

Observers expressed surprise at the size of the Red turnout in view of the fact that the Nationalists have dominated the local scene since the Dec. 6 riot.

Snow Headed For Ontario

TORONTO, Dec. 14 (CP) — A winter storm, which covered the Missouri river basin early today, is slowly moving northeastward towards Southern Ontario, the weatherman reported.

He said the storm will bring precipitation to most parts of Southern Ontario. Regions bordering Lake Erie may get two to four inches of snow while areas inland from Lake Ontario may receive five inches or more.

Policeman, Burglar Kill Each Other

DETROIT, Dec. 14 —(AP)—A policeman and a burglar shot each other to death early today as the officer broke in on an attempted jewellery store robbery.

Slain were patrolman Stanley Jerlecki, 28-year-old father of two children, and a man identified as William Brown, 45.

Police said Brown had been freed from prison after serving 15 years of a life term in the gang slaying of another policeman. He was free on $10,000 bond from a dairy holdup last month.

It was believed Brown drew a gun on Jerlecki before the policeman had a chance to search him.

Reds Destroy 3 Allied Planes

SEOUL, Korea, Dec. 14—(AP) —Communist anti-aircraft guns shot down three Allied planes today while MIG-killing American Sabre jets destroyed one Communist jet and damaged three.

The US Fifth Air Force said all the Sabres returned safely from their two jet fights over northwest Korea.

So did two reconnaissance F-80 Shooting Stars that were jumped by six Red MIG-15s near the North Korean capital, Pyongyang. The F-80s outmanoeuvred and outflew the Red pilots in the much faster MIGs.

In unrelated actions Red flak brought down a Shooting Star, an F-84 Thunderjet and an F-51 Mustang. All three fell in Communist territory.

Gives Little Pep Talk

Ohio Honors Constable For Good Deed

ALLIANCE, O., Dec. 14 (AP)— A Canadian constable, here to receive the praise of his American friends, gave a little talk on international relations in the College chapel today and humbly defined them as:

"The way people get along together."

Constable Harvey L. Adams of Sharbot Lake, a member of the Ontario Provincial Police, was a guest of the city and of Mount Union College because he did a good turn last summer for three Alliance men who were on an Ontario fishing trip.

This was the message he brought to the college's "International Relations Day":

"We have the radicals, the hot heads, the agitators and the rebels just as you have in this country. Yet deep down in our minds we know and you know that we are one country and perhaps the last of the truly great democracies.

"With mutual help we hope to remain that way and carry along with us, at any sacrifice, the little peoples who value freedom and who are willing to fight for it."

He concluded with, "I hope these little incidents will be copied by our heads of state."

Loaned His Car

Adams was called to the scene one day last summer when an automobile containing three Alliance fishermen was wrecked. He gave them his car to complete the seven-day trip and when they returned, refused to accept any pay.

So the alliance men, with the help of city officials, civic clubs and the college, staged a celebration here with Adams as the honored guest. Thursday night he was the centre of attraction at the Lion Club's Christmas party.

This morning in the chapel services Adams was handed a leather-bound citation for international good will by Paul Swindermand, a Mt. Union senior who is president of the college's international relations club.

Dr. Charles B. Ketcham, Mount Union president, termed the constable's act of generosity "one of the truly geneuine examples of inter-American friendship and brotherly love."

At a civic luncheon this noon Adams received the keys to the city from Mayor Harley R. Ewing. The three fishermen will entertain him at a private dinner, and the constable will return to his home Saturday.

Battle Rages In Commons On CBC Shows

OTTAWA, Dec. 14—(CP)—A battle of ideologies raged in the Commons Thursday.

It grew out of a controversial series of broadcasts made over the CBC in its Wednesday night programs by noted physicians, psychologists and philosophers speaking on religious, moral and similar subjects.

The debate broke across party lines, with some members protesting that such subjects should not be aired in the home while others upheld the broadcasts on the ground that there must be freedom of speech on the air.

Some expressed fear for children hearing such broadcasts.

It ended with Revenue Minister McCann, the minister who reports by parliament for the CBC, conceding that "in this particular instance probably something got over the air which it would have been better for the great majority of our people not to have been permitted to go over the air."

The discussion developed on a government bill to provide the CBC with grants of $6,250,000 annually for a five-year period. The legislation later was adopted and now goes to the Senate.

Caused Protests

The protests centred around broadcasts by Bertrand Russell, eminent British philosopher; Dr Anna Freud, daughter of the famed founder of psycho-analysis, Dr. Carl Binger, professor of psychiatry of Cornell University, New York; Dr. Ewen Cameron, professor of psychiatry at McGill University; and Dr. Brock Chisholm, Canadian psychiatrist of international renown and chairman of the World Health Organization.

John Blackmore (SC, Lethbridge), a school teacher and father of 12 children, protested that Dr. Chisholm held views on birth control of 80 per cent of the Canadian people.

The CBC was allowing over the airways an "indoctrination" process by a man who wanted to dry up the source of all manpower. This indoctrination was a "monstrosity" which "petrifies the imagination."

R. R. Knight (CCF, Saskatoon) took the view that limitation of such broadcasts would breach the freedom of speech.

Use Intelligence

As for children, he encouraged his child to "see everything and examine everything and then bring to bear that intelligence of his own that he may make his own choice." His responsibility was to "guide him along what I believe is the proper road and to provide him with a good example," to see that he is "equipped with the ability with which to make this choice."

Dr. Pierre Gauthier (L, Portneuf) protested that he did not want to see Canada's children become "a bunch of sex maniacs." It was immoral to say that children should be left "free with their sex appetites."

Children were not prepared to "assimilate, digest and differentiate." It was up to their parents and to professors in universities to prepare them for such views.

Not For Children

Clarie Gillis (CCF, Cape Breton South) agreed that such views were not for the ears of children. If the CBC found it necessary to present such broadcasts, they should be aired as a forum, with another speaker there to give the opposing opinion and a chairman to maintain balance.

John Diefenbaker (PC, Lake Centre) suggested it would be a denial of freedom if the majority were allowed to determine what the minority should think and say.

J. M. Dan McIvor (L, Fort William), a United Church minister, said he wanted to protest against atheistic broadcasts.

Later, the Chamber voted 55 to 28 against a motion by Donald Fleming (PC, Toronto Eglinton) which would have limited the grant to the CBC to one year, leaving it up to parliament to vote the grant in successive years. He suggested this would permit parliament to maintain control over the broadcasting system.

Fog Keeps King Home From Show

LONDON, Dec. 14 (Reuters).—The King, 56 today, was kept from garet went to a theatre to see a revue. The King had hoped also to his private birthday show Thursday by one of London's worst fogs this year.

The Queen and Princess Margaret went to the theatre to see a revue. The King had hoped also to see the show. But he is still convalescing after his lung operation in September, and it was considered inadvisable for him to venture out into the cold, foggy atmosphere.

The thick yellowish fog blanketed almost the whole of Britain. It grounded aircraft and stopped or delayed buses, trains and ships. London's transport system was in chaos.

In some districts where the fog was not so thick, vehicles of all kinds formed convoys and then crawled through the murk bumper to bumper, guided by pedestrians with flashlights.

Temperatures were below freezing in most of the fog belt.

Former Top Racketeer Given Life Sentence

NEW YORK, Dec. 14 (AP).—Waxey Gordon, top racketeer in the roaring prohibition 1920s, reached the end of the trail on Thursday — a prison sentence that amounts to a life term.

The onetime big-shot mobster took it without batting an eye, even as judge Francis L. Valente said with grim satisfaction:

"It should ring down the curtain of your parasitical and lawless life."

Gordon was arrested as a dope peddler last Aug. 3, sniveling on his knees to police to "please kill me—shoot me. . . I'm an old man and I'm through . . . Don't take me in for junk (dope)."

Judge Valente gave him two sentences of 25 years to life. They are to be served together. However, at the age of 64, Gordon almost certainly will spend the rest of his life in prison. His real name is Irving Wexler.

Support Weakening On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, Dec. 15 (CP). — Steadily weakening support today eased early afternoon stock market prices to the week's fourth decline.

Banks and manufacturing companies formed the market's strongest sections. Agricultures and retail stores weakened. Foods, liquors and refining oils dipped sharply.

Trading slackened with decreased activity in speculative mining issues. A scattered list of penny golds showed large turnovers.

Calmont, Gridoil, Home Oil, Scurry, Tower and Western Homestead strengthened while Calvan Consolidated, Central-Leduc, General Petroleum and Western Leaseholds weakened.

Consolidated Smelters dipped slightly after its dividend discount while International Nickel and United Keno Hill eased fractions. Anacon Lead and Steep Rock edged upward.

Senior golds posted two gains against three losses in slow trading. Secondary issues traded irregularly.

Canada Expects To End Pollution

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14 (AP)—The Canadian government says it expects a solution, "within a reasonable time," that will prevent contamination of Rainy Lake on the international border between Minnesota and Ontario.

This word was contained in a memorandum from the Canadian government which Senator Edward Thye (Rep. Minn.) made public today.

The state department, which Thye had criticized for not obtaining action to end contamination of the lake, sent the memorandum to the senator.

In a letter to Thye, Ben H. Brown, Jr., acting assistant secretary of state, said the department has "taken numerous occasions during the last several months to bring the situation to the attention of the Canadian government."

Brown sent to Thye a copy of an interim report prepared by Canadian officials Nov. 29. This report stated:

1. An investigation of the conditions in Rainy Lake was begun in May, 1951 by officials of the Canadian government in co-operation with Ontario officials.

2. The contamination in Rainy Lake is not injurious to health. The iron content of the municipal water supply at Fort Francis has reached but not exceeded the recommended limit of iron in a potable water supply.

$186; a lieutenant $299, compared with $274; a major $448, compared with $410, and a colonel $694, compared with $635. Equivalent ranks in the air force and navy will receive similar pay.

For the RCMP, the increases range from $15 a month for third class constables, who have completed training, to $30 for sergeants and staff sergeants.

Increases for commissioned RCMP officers range from $35 for sub-inspectors to $66 in the rank of deputy commissioner.

Justice Minister Garson said they are expected to stimulate recruiting and encouraged serving personnel to remain in the force beyond the minimum pensionable service.

The annual pay of a third class constable after completion of training goes up to $2,220 from $2,040 for an annual raise of $180.

Civil Service

Dealing with the civil service, Mr. St. Laurent said the increases go to all classes with the following exceptions:

1. The salaries of civil servants in the higher brackets will be reviewed individually.

2. Where it is clear that current civil service salary rates already are closely in line with rates being paid by good private employers, the civil service commission will consider whether and to what extent it would be proper to recommend specific increases.

3. Where the salaries paid in any class have been adjusted since last December, a lesser increase than that applied generally will be authorized.

4. The proposed increases will apply only to classified employees. The rates of pay of prevailing rates employees—those paid by the hour—are governed by the prevailing rates in similar private employment.

The civil service raises, in a complex series of tables which cover hundreds of classifications and jobs, go to clerical, postal, customs and similar government employees, whose rates compare most easily with industry.

These grades make up the bulk of the public service.

Five Thefts

Five jewel thefts reported here during the last six months, however, have netted thieves gems valued at more than $100,000.

These robberies, all staged on Manhattan's east side, included thefts at the apartment of James Mason, the actor, with $30,000 in jewels taken; at the Mayfair House apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Vietor, $30,470 in jewels taken; at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel suite of Mr. and Mrs. Chester H. Lehman, $20,000 in jewels taken; at the Hotel Pierre apartment of Tony and Silly DeMarco, $13,000 in jewels taken, and at the Hotel Savoy plaza apartment of Mrs. William Du Pont, $20,595 in jewels taken.

Make No Statement

Toronto police today pulled a curtain of secrecy over reported investigations.

A police official said he knew nothing about it, that "the people who know are in New York." However, he described as correct a newspaper story that a ring of jewel thieves has been cracked as the result of investigation by New York City Police, the United States Federal Buereau of Investigation and Toronto police.

Other city detectives said the ring, which has been operating for almost two years, "has been getting away with it" because of slow communications between here and New York.

They said that even in the biggest thefts, running into thousands of dollars, the jewels can be brought the 450 miles from New York to Toronto and sold through "fences" before police here learn of the robbery.

Put Off Consideration Of Freight Rate Boost

OTTAWA, Dec. 14. (CP)—The Board of Transport commissioners today told the railways it does not intend to deal at the moment with their application for a freight-rate increase on grain and grain products moving in the west for domestic consumption.

The railways had included the grain rates in their current rate-increase application, but Mr. Justice J. D. Kearney, chief commissioner, said it is proposed to deal with that question in a separate case.

The increase sought by the railways was 22 per cent—10 per cent in the current application and 12 per cent which was obtained on other traffic last July.

Chief Anderson told reporters that Miss Bennett thought her husband had been on the verge of a nervous breakdown because of financial troubles.

Shooting Spree Story Revealed

By BILL BOSS

SEOUL, Dec. 14. (CP)—A 30-minute shooting spree allegedly by a Canadian soldier termed "out of his senses" was described at his court martial today.

Spr. John Murray Steeves of Moncton and Regina, with the Royal Canadian Engineers, is charged with the murder of a South Korean civilian last Sept. 17 in the village of Hwang Bang, southwest of Yonc Hon. The Korean, Shin Yong dok, 41, died of a bullet through the neck and two other Koreans were wounded.

Six witnesses were heard today, opening day of the court martial. One was Shin's daughter.

Lieut. John Keating of Vancouver, Steeves' troop commander, said he and Capt. Fred Kitchell, North Bay, were sleeping in their tent when Sten-gun bursts awakened them shortly after midnight. He said he and Mitchell climbed a hill to the nearby village and "there were a few more bursts during the time we were going up there."

Amplifying this later, Keating said there were a total of from 12 to 15 bursts during a 20- or 30-minute period.

Steeves was found in the village with a Sten-gun and Keating said he and Mitchell and Spr. Don McCormick persuaded Steeves to surrender the weapon and accompany them to the tent.

Chooses Jail Not Fine On Conviction

VANCOUVER — (CP)—Ralph Wooloschuck went to jail recently rather than pay a fine for violating a law he thought unjust.

Last June he received a traffic ticket for failing to signal before turning a corner. Wooloschuck said he had signalled—with a signalling attachment on his car.

The law disagreed.

With the British Columbia Automobile Association behind him, he invited prosecution to find out if the signals used by thousands of motorists were legal.

It turned out they weren't and Wooloschuck was fined $5 plus costs.

Changed Law

But meanwhile the provincial government took heed of all the publicity arising out of his case and changed the law making the the signals legal. Wooloschuck appealed his case.

Judge Bruce Boyd rejected the appeal saying: "I am sorry . . . but you are technically guilty." He was fined $5 and $60 costs or three days in jail.

Wooloschuck replied: "This shouldn't happen to an honest, industrous citizen," and took the jail sentence.

So Wooloschuck went to jail and on his release started on another crusade.

He told Chief Constable Walter Mulligan the jail was unsanitary and the food was bad.

City council has told the Vancouver Police Commission to investigate the complaints.

UN To Hear Charges US Foments Revolt

PARIS, Dec. 14 — (AP). — The United Nations General Assembly agreed today to hear the Russian charges that the US is trying to foment rebellion against the Kremlin.

The vote, by which the Assembly accepted a recommendation from its 14-nation steering committee, was 55 to 0 with two abstentions (New Zealand and Cuba).

US delegate Ernest A. Gross told the Assembly the US had no objection to a public airing of the charges, which he said the US would disprove.

The Russian charges are based on an interpretation of the new US Mutual Security Act by which the Russians claim the US has appropriated $100,000,000 to pay "traitors" on Russian soil.

Council Spends $200,000 On Roads, Bridges In County

By the end of 1951 the Peterborough county council expects to have spent $200,000 for county roads, suburban area roads, and bridges. This is $20,000 more than was budgeted for at the beginning of the year.

The extra money has already been raised by a money bylaw passed in November.

Unforseen expenditures caused the overspending, Reeve Dick Stewart, Otonabee stated in the committee's annual report. He also said that the roads are in better condition than a year ago.

Up to Nov. 15 the total spent was $193,263 of an appropriation of $200,000 (including the extra $20,000).

A breakdown shows $78,142 going to the suburban area commission, $95,528 to county roads, and $19,592 to bridges.

Provincial Grants.

The Department of Highways give a grant of 50 per cent on roads and 80 per cent on bridges. And county council are hoping that the department will subsidize their over expenditure.

Ewart F. Marston, district engineer, could not say whether or not this amount would be subsidized. But he told them not give up hope. Approval may be given after the totals are in from other municipalities across the province.

Mr. Stewart reviewed the road committee's activities for the last couple of years.

In 1949 they ran into a $21,000 deficit and so, to wipe it out, they agreed on a year of austerity—practically no construction and little gravelling. By the end of 1950 the deficit was wiped out but the neglected roads were in bad shape.

A severe spring breakup in 1951 caused more than normal damage to the county roads because they had been neglected the year before.

"It cost us considerable money to open soft roads this spring by hauling pit-run gravel to fill the weak spots," said Mr. Stewart.

Wage Increases

Other costly items: An extra $10,000 in salaries for workmen who received a 10-cents-an-hour raise in wages.

The new oil-heating unit and insulation of the county garage.

Another $10,000 for overhauling the Sicard truck and a gravel crusher.

A decision of the Ontario Appeal Court reduced damages awarded the county in a truck accident, from $3,800 to $1,400. By the time other expenses were deducted the loss on estimates was $3,200.

Mr. Stewart said he realized that county roads are not in as good condition as they were four or five years ago. But critics often overlook the trend of the times, he said.

The population of the city of Peterborough has increased by more than 10,000 in the last 10 years. This means there is heavier motor traffic than ever from the city on township and county roads.

By actual survey he said he found that motor traffic on Otonabee township roads had increased by 75 per cent since 1937.

Moreover, people in rural municipalities are using heavy trucks for transportation.

All these factors indicate a greater use than ever of county roads, said Mr. Stewart.

Need More Money

"What we need is more money or I can't predict what will happen to these roads."

On the positive side, the road committee reported that 12,500 cubic yards of gravel had been crushed and spread on 25 miles of the county's 135 miles of roads. Another 17,500 cubic yards were crushed for the municipalities, and 6,300 cubic yards for the suburban area commission.

J. D. Kean, country engineer and road superintendent, conceded that not enough gravel had been laid. It would take about five years to cover the county's 135 miles of roads at this year's rate. The roads should be done every three years.

Some ditching was done and two small curves eliminated giving better two-way vision. Some construction was started on the Cordova road and this will be continued next year.

Calcium Chloride on the county roads system cost a total of $20,000. The work was described as "reasonably successful" but better results would have been obtained by using double the quantity of chloride per mile of road.

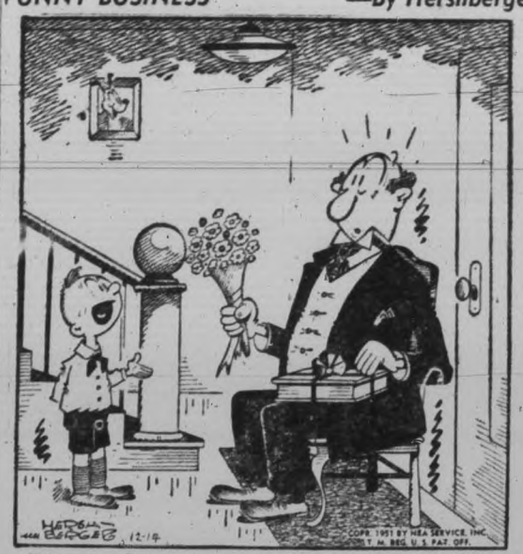
Two miles of asphalt prime were laid on the Chemong Causeway and Sherbrooke St.

Bridge Repairs

The bridge gang had a busy year, Mr. Kean said.

They put new timber decks and replaced stringers on the Stony Creek bridge in Burleigh-Anstruther; Taylor's bridge in Belmont; and the Warsaw bridge in Dummer.

Watsan's bridge in Harvey was raised and rebuilt completely with timber cribs stringers and deck. Findlay's bridge in Norwood was rebuilt by lengthening the concrete abutments.



The steel superstructure of the Davidson bridge in Asphodel was moved down the Ouse river to Birdsall's bridge and placed there on new timber cribs. Work included a new timber deck, fresh paint, and raised approaches.

The old wooden Salmon Creek bridge in Cavendish was replaced with a steel pipe arch culvert and fill.

A good start was made on the Paudash bridge in Chandos township, Mr. Kean reported, and the gang were ready to pave the footings and floor when the early snow and mild weather raised the river. Work had to be stopped but it may be continued this winter if the weather is favorable and the water recedes.

A concrete cattle pass was constructed for the Department of Highways on the Clear Lake development road in Dummer township. And a small concrete bridge was constructed at cost for the township east of Cottesloe.

Teachers Reject $200 Increase

KINGSTON, Dec. 14 (CP) — Kingston's Board of Education Thursday night announced as final its offer of an annual $200 across-the-board salary increase to all public and high school teachers.

The high school teachers have rejected the offer which also includes a $500 raise in the maximum salaries of high school teacher esr and a category system of maximum salaries for public school teachers. The latter thus would be increased by approximately $400. The board offer would eliminate the differential in pay between men and women teachers.

The high school teachers had asked for a $500 across-the-board increase, plus increases in maxima of $1,100.

The public school teachers, who had asked a single salary schedule, have not commented on the board offer. They also want recognition of summer courses and certificates, and equal status for male and female employees.

The board's proposal would give non-specialist high school teachers a maximum of $5,000 annually; specialists teaching the subjects for which they hold specialist certificates, $5,200; heads of departments, $5,500; vice-principal, $5,800.

The proposed new maximum for the principal, not being negotiated by the teachers, is $6,500.

The maxima which the board has offered the public school teachers range from $3,300 to $3,800 for grade teachers, depending on certificates held and summer courses taken, to a high of $5,200 for principals in schools of seven rooms and more to those holding Bachelor of Arts degrees.

Roof Falls In At Montreal Exchange

MONTREAL, Dec. 14—(CP)—The roof fell in at the Montreal Stock Exchange today. Buyers moved into the curb market side.

A big area of plaster caved in around 7 am EST, three hours before business was to start. Dealers crowded to the curb's smaller trading post.

Repairs are expected to be completed before tomorrow's short session.

Confusion About Resale Price Maintenance

However complex a matter of public concern may be, it is usually possible to take up one side or the other with genuine conviction; but the more we read and think about the price resale maintenance dispute, the less we find ourselves able to speak strongly for it or against it. It is one of those problems where there is so much that is just and reasonable to be said on both sides that we feel that the Government would be wise to postpone action on it for the present, giving both those who oppose it and those who favour it more time to state their cases. Meanwhile there is no reason why the Department of Justice should not increase its vigilance in dealing with price-fixing by combines, and put into effect the laws which are now on the books dealing with "loss leaders." Before we create any new laws, let us see what can be done by a more efficient use of the laws we have.

• • •

Resale price maintenance is favoured, in general, by manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers; it is opposed by co-operatives, labour unions, and farmers' and consumers' associations. The former group has produced many excellent arguments to support its stand; there is a great deal to be said in favour of orderly marketing, a single price in all shops for branded goods, and the restraint which the system imposes upon excessive prices. But the latter group maintains, with some truth, that resale price maintenance puts trade in a tight corset, that prices are set at wholesale rather than at retail level, by people who are not as close to the buyers as are the actual merchants of goods, and that in this way it prevents real competition. But it is significant that the strongest voices in favour of the abolition of resale price maintenance are those of a few huge merchandizing enterprises. Smaller merchants fear, and with cause, that these huge rivals of theirs would undersell them in dozens of lines of goods if there were no agreement about price, and that this would quickly bring many small merchants to ruin. Cooperatives already enjoy a privileged position in matters of trade, and farmers and labour unions have never shown themselves extremely well-informed about the problems of small retailers; those who know these problems best are opposed to a system which would put them at a very unfair advantage in comparison with very wealthy and widespread retail firms.

• • •

The Government's proposal to do away with price maintenance was described as a measure to protect consumers against paying too much for goods and also as an anti-inflationary measure. It is possible that it would have this effect when first introduced, but what effect would it have after five years, or ten? If, in the meanwhile, it had forced many small merchants out of business, and had made the giants of merchandizing even bigger and more powerful than they now are, what protection would the consumer have then which he does not enjoy now, and what influence would it have in restraining inflation? For we do not believe that our present problem of inflation is going to be settled quickly; it seems much more likely that we shall have to accustom ourselves to a new set of currency values, much as France did after the first Great War.

• • •

The Government ought to remember, also, that medium-sized businesses are among the biggest tax-payers—individually and in the mass—in the country, and anything which reduces the number of medium-sized businesses, or greatly reduces their volume of business, reduces the yearly revenue as well. What do we want in this country: many businesses of medium size paying large taxes, or a handful of immense businesses doing the same thing? The politically sagacious will not puzzle long over the answer to that question.

• • •

In arguing thus, we have not forgotten the points made by those who are not engaged in huge merchandizing enterprise who want resale price maintenance abolished. They want a greater freedom in merchandizing and we sympathize with them. But while the policy they advocate might bring such freedom for a few years, we wonder if its eventual effect might not be to put these very groups—farmers and labour—in a worse position with regard to retail traders than that which they occupy at present? They complain often of the difficulties of dealing with big business as it exists now; what would they feel about big business in the retail field, without effective competition except from other big businesses?

• • •

Again we say that a hasty solution to this problem will not be a good solution. Meanwhile we have laws which are not being used to their fullest which forbid price-fixing by combines, and which forbid "loss leaders" in retail trade. It is not impossible that these, used more strictly than at present, would bring about the degree of competition in prices which is desirable.

Milk-Curdling Prices

Since the war the price of milk in Peterborough has gone up 210 per cent. Before the war ended six years ago a quart of milk cost ten cents; beginning tomorrow the price is 21 cents. Compared with the general cost-of-living index which now stands at 191.2 milk is shooting far above it; and be it remembered that the 191.2 of the Index is a twelve-year, not a six year spread. Admittedly milk was subsidized during the latter years of the war; however, this simple fact is all too sorely plain to the housewife: she has to pay 21 cents for a bottle which cost ten cents in 1945. It was only last September that the price went up from 18 to 19 cents; now there is a two-cent hoist, authorized by the Ontario Milk Board.

This touted Board was set up to regulate the sale of milk and control its price last March 15th. When its formation was announced in the Ontario legislature, "a barrage of desk-pounding" greeted what was to be a new deal for everybody in milk. It was to be a strong, a forthright, a just, a capable Milk Board—after it, all would be well in this land of milk and honey. The record of performance of the Milk Board has been lamentable. It has shilly-shallied, reversed decisions, double-talked and now rules that milk will be 21 cents a quart in this city, in Lindsay, in Cobourg and in a host of other places. Torontonians will pay 22 cents a bottled quart, delivered.

An example of the double-dealing is that Toronto becomes the only Ontario centre where milk may be bought at a reduced price if the customer wants to go to a store for it. This is a reversal of its decision to make no difference. We ask: why did it change its mind? We ask: if Toronto can have two prices, why not Peterborough, Lindsay, Cobourg and other places? What is the Board up to? What is the Frost Government up to? Skimming Peterborough to give cream to Toronto? Buttering metropolitan voters? Cheesing off people in smaller places?

What, pray, has become of the Minister of Agriculture's insistence that the dairies must make their operations more efficient, less expensive? What of Premier Frost's stern words on the same theme. What about the strong recommendations in Mr. Justice Wells' Royal Commission Report (1947) that the high cost of distributing milk should be reduced? If the price paid farmers cannot be lowered and must increase; if the processing methods must be costly, then let the industry investigate its milk-peddling. The gap should be lessened between prices paid farmers for raw milk and the consumer price. As Mr. Justice Wells pointed out, a quarter of the retail cost of milk is consumed in delivering a bottle from the dairy to the doorstep. Let the industry get out from behind Milk Board protection and its own blinkers, and make itself more efficient, its product less costly.

Collecting The Radio Licence Fee

As we have already remarked in these columns, the securing of the annual radio licence is to be entirely the responsibility of the set owner. No collection agents will call at a home to sell it, or to remind the householders that they are required by law to buy a licence. People will now have to go to the Post Office or a radio shop authorized to handle the forms and receive the money. Unless there is a change in moral attitude, the system is unlikely to be more successful than the former hodge-podge one where citizens were supposed to get their own but might wait in the expectation that a licence-peddler would call.

What is needed to improve the collections and secure more licence-holders is a change in attitude towards the licence. The C.B.C. itself can do much in this way. It has a propaganda medium at hand. Timely reminders could be given over the radio when the $2.50 fee is due and that every house, apartment or car which has a radio must be covered by a licence. And the C.B.C. can, by its own good programming, convince the public that its service is worth paying for.

Since it has been decided that the radio licence will stand, let the stand be nationally recognized, and people persuaded that the licence fee is a lawful obligation upon them, and not a petty tax which should be and can be circumvented.

A man has pleaded insanity after proposing to eleven girls. It might simply have been greed.

Notes And Queries

By ALPHA

Questions are solicited for this column particularly those relating to local lore and tradition.

SIR: The Board of Education is going to build a new school in Ashburnham. Now, I understand that the Board are priding selves that schools were built on the fringes of town twenty or more years ago (Prince of Wales, King George, King Edward, Queen Mary); that as the city has expanded these are now centrally located for the new and increased population; and therefore additions to existing schools are required; not more costly new ones. Why are they not putting an addition to King George School? The planned new school is only two blocks away from King George and has less playground space. Why a different policy for Ashburnham than for Prince of Wales and Queen Mary, both of which have had additions?

ANSWER: I am informed that the new school in East City is to provide especially for pupils nearer Park Hill road than Hunter Street. It seems that the Board wanted to get land in the midst of the new housing area there, but could get nothing suitable except at a very high price. The nearest site was on Macfarlane Avenue, half-way between King George and Park Hill Road. I am also told that potentially the new school site has much larger playground area than would have been available had an addition been put to King George. (Fill will be required to complete the new school's playgrounds.) The new East City school will be a junior school; when its pupils reach Grade Seven, they will be transferred to King George.

SIR: Would you please tell me who was Madame Lazonga?

ANSWER: Omega, whom I cabled (he is spending the Christmas season in Algeria with Muscatel and sunshine) says that not having had six lessons from Madame Lazonga, he can't say. Maybe another reader knows the famous Madame L. of song and story?

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR ALPHA: Twice I have heard four youths singing during the noon hour at the milk bar beside the Y.M.C.A. Who are they? Is there any definite time when one can be sure they will be there singing? What is the name of the one with the beautiful smile?

ANSWER: This reader who signs himself (herself?) "a lover of old-time harmonizing" has obviously an inner ear that should lead to the discovery of the identity of the beautiful smiler . . . Maybe they are the Loventry (sic) Singers.

"Old-time harmonizing" is a delightful and simple pastime for boaters, bathtubbers, campers, barflies and other lollers. It happens, of course, to be illegal to sing in ordinary bars in Ontario; however, the milk-bar is a permitted rendez-vous for harmonizers, provided a public nuisance is not created.

What makes "old-time harmonizing" so delightful is the feeling of wonder that amateur singers, even the most musically illiterate, have at being able to produce with little effort of ear (though perhaps a straining of voice) sounds which are not unpleasant. Every impromptu tenor of "Down By The Old Mill Stream" feels surprised and pleased with himself. And if the sound is wreathed in camp-fire smoke, rippled over an expanse of water, or liquefied by a glass of milk or something else as smooth, it is altogether irresistible to the harmonizers.

Actually, the ways of performing these feats are simple and common; the harmonies are almost always the same, with slides up and down to get the 'old-time' effect; 6/4 - 5/3 resolutions, and trilling around with a seventh, or, for close harmony, its complement, the second. My fellow-columnist Peter Piper will undoubtedly be able to give a learned discourse on the wiles and worth of these harmonizations.

DEAR ALPHA: (1) I understand that the new City Hall contains a large committee room which can be subdivided into three for smaller groups. Who can use these rooms and to whom does one apply for permission supposing they are open to the city at large?

(2) Has any of the Wallis collection found a niche in the new City Hall? If not, why not?

ANSWERS: (1) If the meeting is a public one, in the public interest, on a civic matter and sponsored by a responsible group, the committee room (one, two or three sections depending on availability and size of meeting) may be used on prior application to the City Clerk. (2) A touchy question—no, the Wallis collection has not acquired a niche in the new City Hall. It is a difficult collection to dispose—not because it is large, but because the pieces are small and there are not many of them, certainly not enough to require an entire gallery. The pieces might fittingly become a connoisseur's supplement to the decor of (a) the lobby and main hall (b) the mayor's parlour. But that would have to be carefully considered. It might be best to keep the collection in the Library galleries.

✧ ✧ ✧

ALPHA: I see in the Examiner that the flag across from the City Hall was at half-mast on Wednesday out of respect to the late Judge Smoke. But isn't it always at half-mast, that flag?

ANSWER: Practically, yes. For some reason or other the guy ropes do not keep the flag tight to the pole or nobody gets around to pulling it up again. I've never seen that flag when it wasn't drooping at least its own width from the flagstaff point—that is, technically "half-mast".

✧ ✧ ✧

SIR: What's a siscoe (or ciscoe—it's spelled both ways on the same page) which Gregory Clarke fished at a club dinner on Tuesday night?

ANSWER: The shorter Oxford says that it is "a fish of the herring kind which abounds in Lake Ontario", and notes first use of the word in print to be 1848. The Webster Unabridged (which one might expect to be fuller, since it is an American term) says it is a food fish very abundant in the Great Lakes; also called lake herring. The word seems to be of Indian derivation, and there is some excuse for ambiguity in the spelling. There is also in Webster this word: sisco-wet (not cisco-wet) lake trout plentiful in the Mackinaw region. Greg Clark was fishing a cisco, smoked.

✧ ✧ ✧

FOR THE RECORD: A coloured plastic car gadget of American devising is loudly and offensively advertised on cartons in downtown windows. The offence is in the name. The plastic, to affix to the front of the car hood, is supposed to prevent road glare, and not to keep bugs off the windshield as its trade name might suggest). It is advertised in plain view of all as "The Little B——r". The word may be polite enough in the U.S.A., but in Canada it is either a legal description of a punishable act, or foul language. Canada is not the United States, and a word that is socially offensive here should not be allowed to appear in an advertisement in a Canadian shop window.

Bagpipers Not Musicians?

(From Report On Radio Broadcasting)

(At the seventh meeting of the Special Parliamentary Committee on Radio Broadcasting, the following dialogue occurred. The witness was T. J. Allard, presenting the brief for the private radio stations. Other speakers were Mr. Harry Sedgwick, for the same group ("Canadian Association of Broadcasters"); and Committee members G. M. Murray, J. G. L. Langois and M. J. Coldwell, all Members of Parliament. The chairman was W. A. Robinson, M.P.)

Mr. MURRAY: Suppose a band is recorded, or suppose a musician or a singer is recorded, do you have to employ a live artist? Suppose the live artist does not appear in person. She may be in the wings. Do you have to pay her or pay him?

The WITNESS: In the first instance, there is a special recording fee which is paid to the American Federation of Musicians. I believe that fee goes into their welfare fund.

Mr. HARRY SEDGWICK: I want to correct an impression which Mr. Lalonde gave you. You cannot use amateur talent on radio stations in the larger centres unless you employ them in connections with an amateur show.

Mr. COLDWELL: You could not use an amateur group?

Mr. HARRY SEDGWICK: And even if you do, you must accompany them with professional musicians. You cannot use amateur musicians at any time, even a mouth organ player; but I believe that bagpipe players are not included.

Mr. MURRAY: Did you say that bagpipes were included?

Mr. HARRY SEDGWICK: No!

Mr. MUTCH: They had better be. If not, it is an insult.

Mr. HARRY SEDGWICK: On the question of recording, if the committee wants to hear about it, there are two fees which are paid for the recording. One fee is paid to the musicians union for every record which is sold anywhere, be it over the counter or elsewhere; and in addition, there is a fee for the record which is made for broadcasting over a radio station. There is a demand fee for union musicians which runs very high. I think it is something like $65 per man additional, if you are going to put on a musical program by means of a record.

Mr. LANGLOIS: In your brief with respect to Dr. Surveyer's comment on page 21, you say:

"The fact is that in our present economy, any person with reasonable talents or reasonable willingness to work finds no difficulty securing employment."

I take it that that does not apply to local live talent

The WITNESS: Yes, it does. We say specifically that any person with reasonable talents or reasonable willingness to work finds no difficulty securing employment. I think the reference there was to general employment situation. I think it is generally admitted that we are in a sellers' market, as far as labour is concerned; but it does apply, we think, to talent which has ability and will work. It can and does get work, as reference to appendices "C" and "E" will show.

Mr. LANGLOIS: Even to local live talent?

The WITNESS: Yes, even to local live talent.

The CHAIRMAN: I notice on pages 28 and 29 of your brief that you make specific recommendations about certain matters. Do you have a specific recommendation to make with regard to subparagraph (f) of the proposed bill?

The WITNESS: With respect to subparagraph (f) of the proposed bill, that is quite simple. We say that it ought to be deleted. We submit that suggestion with deference.

The CHAIRMAN: I was trying to find that in the brief and I could not. It is just to clear up the matter for me. Are there any other questions on the use of talent?

By Mr. Murray:

Q. Will these union regulations apply to television?—A. Yes sir.

Q. Before an artist can appear in television, he would have to qualify as a union member? —A. Yes sir. In fact, there are a good many more unions involved in television than are involved in broadcasting, because you get such things as stage property, lighting, and so on.

Q. In the event of a concert, for example, or something of a cultural nature in the community, with respect to television, would they all have to qualify?—A. Generally speaking, I would think so.

Q. What about Highland Games which take place at certain localities, and which employ lots of music, colour, athletic dancing, and so forth. How would they stand with respect to television?—A. I do not think that the performers at Highland Games would be required to be union performers, but I believe that the musicians would. And we would have to pay the copyright fees for the music which was used as well.

By Mr. Coldwell:

Q. But suppose a bagpipe band was used in connection with the Highland Games; surely the union would not collect anything because of that?—A. Except in certain areas, I think that a stand-by would be required.

Mr. HARRY SEDGWICK: Yes, in certain areas there are certain rules. For instance, if you use an enlisted army band which is not a member of the union, you are bound to employ a stand-by.

Mr. MUTCH: We had that during the last war when the R.C.A.F. band was to be used over the air and we were instructed in this country that if they played, we would have to pay for a stand-by band. I remember the historic answer given by the then Minister of National Defence, but I do not know the solution to it. I presume that he paid, because nothing more happened, and we were not shut off the air.

Mr. MURRAY: Even in the case of a Scotch bagpipe player, or a pipe band, with drums and so on, or bagpipes, if they are going to be shut off, it will be a bad blow to the Scotch people of Canada.

Mr. MUTCH: Their position is not changed.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And John calling unto him two of his disciples sent them to Jesus, saying, Art thou he that should come? or look we for another? When the men were come unto him, they said, John Baptist hath sent us unto thee, saying, Art thou he that should come? or look we for another? And in that same hour he cured many of their infirmities and plagues, and of evil spirits; and unto many that were blind he gave sight.

Then Jesus answering said unto them, Go your way, and tell John what things ye have seen and heard; how that the blind see, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, to the poor the gospel is preached. And blessed is he, whosoever shall not be offended in me. (Luke 7: 19-23.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.

Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls.

For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light. (Matt. 11: 28-30.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Happy is he that hath the God of Jacob for his help, whose hope is in the Lord his God: which made heaven, and earth, the sea, and all that therein is, which keepeth truth for ever. (Ps. 146: 5, 6.)

Letters To The Editor

SPORTSMANSHIP, NOT SPORTS

Sir: I read the letter written by 'A Lover of Fine Arts' and also attended the PCVS Commencement Exercises and I just wonder through what colour of glasses the writer was looking. I saw no prizes given for sports; but I did see hundreds of dollars given to top academic students. I think the only place where sportsmanship (not sports) was mentioned was in the naming of the Head Boy and Head Girl. Here sportsmanship was the fourth qualification essential in the student. The first three were Scholarship, Leadership and Character. These four are necessary, and I am sure none would wish it otherwise. A good basketball player could not win the prize if she or he did not have the other qualities, neither could a good singer, a good actor or a good player in the band on this one quality alone.

The PCVS has two fine dramatic clubs, a splendid band and a good choral group and I for one would not depreciate the work they are doing and trust that they will go on in the years to come and win greater honours.

Alnwick Couple 50 Years Wed

ROSENEATH, Dec. 14 (ENS)—A former Alnwick township couple, Mr. and Mrs. William R. Coyle, marked their 50th wedding anniversary at their home in Cobourg Tuesday with the immediate members of their family present. A large reception had been previously arranged but was cancelled owing to the sudden illness of Mrs. Coyle and a quiet family gathering substituted.

Mr. and Mrs. Coyle were both born in Alnwick township, the groom a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Coyle, and the bride a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nichol. They were married at St. George's rectory, Hastings, December 11, 1901, by the Rev. E. R. James.

Following their marriage, they farmed the greater part of their lives in Alnwick township on the farm now owned and occupied by their son, John Coyle. They were members and regular attendants of St. James' Anglican Church. For many years Mr. Coyle was superintendent of the Alderville Indians.

The Coyles moved to Cobourg when their son took over the farm some years ago. They have two daughters and three sons: Mrs. Clarence Down, Roseneath; Miss Marion Coyle, Toronto; Mr. John Coyle, Roseneath; Frank Coyle, Lakefield, and Harold Coyle, Cobourg, who were all present at the family gathering on Tuesday evening.

A buffet luncheon was served at 7 pm. The dining table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake. The rooms were decorated with white bells and streamers and a profusion of gold-colored mums.

Miss Mary Coyle, a grandchild, sang "It Is No Secret"; Mrs. Elmer Harper played a piano solo. Frank Coyle, on behalf of the family, presented his parents with an easy chair and hassock to match; Mrs. Elmer Harper, on behalf of the grandchildren, presented them with a gold-colored wool blanket. Mrs. Thomas Coyle, on behalf of the relatives, made the presentation of tri-light floor lamp. Mr. Coyle made a fitting reply and paid tribute to his helpmate of half a century and concluded by contributing a vocal solo, "I've Grown So Used To You." A sing-song of old favorites followed, with Miss Elizabeth Coyle at the piano.

Besides their five children, the Coyles have thirteen grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

WITH ONLY A $7,000 DEBT, Bridgenorth villagers have an investment worth an estimated $25,000 in their new fire hall and equipment. June, 1950, saw the completion of the work, and the pumper and tanker (ABOVE) have seen action several times since. Money for the hall and equipment was rasied mostly by public subscription; the fire hall was built mostly by volunteer labor.

Rockie Mountain Photos Shown To Kinsmen Club

Ever try to shoot an elk or a bear—with a camera.

In this district, any amateur photo fan who comes up with a prized wild life still is either plain lucky, or willing to spend hours in uncomfortable concealment in hopes of clicking a shot of a camera shy animal in its natural surroundings.

By contrast, animals in Canada's national parks in the Rockies are so tame, it's difficult to keep them far enough away to photograph them, E. V. Phillips told a dinner meeting of the Kinsmen at the Kawartha Club Thursday evening.

During his 30 years service in national parks of Western Canada, Mr. Phillips found ample opportunity to follow his hobby of amateur photography.

For the last 17 years of his service, until he retired recently and came to live in Peterborough, Mr. Phillips was Chief Warden of Jasper National Park.

Inexpensive Equipment

Slides of picture post card scenes, showing the Rockies in all their natural color and scenic grandeur which Mr. Phillips took with a small camera were shown. As the slides were shown, he described how he obtained some of the striking color effects with inexpensive equipment.

Showing a scene where tourists were feeding a mother bear and her three cubs, Mr. Phillips explained that such shots were difficult because the animals are so unafraid of humans that they come right up close to anyone they see, in hopes of obtaining something to eat.

Both Mr. Phillips and Inspector W. H. Stringer of District OPP Headquarters here were to have addressed the meeting. Inspector Stringer was unable to be present due to a death in his family.

Mr. Phillips was introduced by Gordon H. T. Farquharson and thanked by Bill Roche.

During the business session of the meeting, plans were completed for the annual children's Christmas party being held next week.

US Players Win Doubles

By GAYLE TALBOT.

MELBOURNE, Australia, Dec. 14 (AP).—Lennart Bergelin failed his Swedish teammates badly again today as Ted Schroeder and Tony Trabert won the doubles and clinched the Davis Cup tennis cup interzone final for America.

The player who was supposed to be his country's ace in the hole collapsed after a good start, enabling Ted and Tony to come from behind and triumph easily, 10-12, 6-0, 6-3, 6-2.

Sven Davidsson, Bergelin's youthful partner put up a spirited battle all the way, but the load was too much for one man to carry.

Bergelin's foldup was a big disappointment to the crowd of 6,000 which had hoped at least to witness a good doubles match after Thursday's one-sided singles.

There was no apparent explanation for Bergelin's abject failure to play his game. His teammates were extremely unhappy about it.

"If there had been two divisions out there today we might have had a Swedish victory," said Frank Shields, captain of the US team.

Redmen Subdue Cobourg Comets 8-5

PORT HOPE, Dec. 14. — Port Hope Redmen and Cobourg Comets met here for the fourth time this season in Lakeshore League hockey action, and, as in the previous meeting, the Redmen outclassed the Comets, winning 8-5.

Ken Medhurst and Basil Robinson, with two goals each, paced the Redmen, while D'Arcy Flesch and Doug Free scored singletons. Scorers for Cobourg were Harry Cane, Bus Cane, Japper Wilcox, Jon Fisher and Tommy Hogan.

The win places Port Hope in second place, two points behind the front-running Lindsay Muskies.

Portrait Presented To Hastings Reeve

HASTINGS, Dec. 14—(ENS)—A charcoal portrait of Reeve J. S. Stevenson of Hastings was presented to him at the December meeting of council by representatives of an oil company.

Hastings village was featured on a radio program sponsored by the oil firm.

Accounts totalling more than $8200 were ordered paid. Major items in the accounts were the counties levy of $3,726, $1,860 for memorial centre debenture and $1,249 for the Norwood high school levy.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Lindsay Kin play the Oddfellows at 8.30 tonight in Civic Arena, an OHA junior "B" joust. Kids accompanied by parents get in free. And children of the Orphanage and Children's Aid are guests of the IOOF club, also getting transportation and treats at the game. A nice gesture. Two peewee tilts staged earlier, starting at seven. The main fray should be a dandy between the scrappy Lindsayites and the improving Triple Links. Latter ought to take it on their recent showing, but they'll have to hustle all the way. Junior puckists always dish up sustained speedy action, and they don't hesitate to use the body. Yeah, should be quite a tussle.

* * * * * *

A suggestion was handed to us the other eve, and we think it well worthy of consideration by the arena management. It is that an extra gate be put in each players' box at the rink. Thus, players coming on the ice as substitutes while play is still on can get into action immediately, without having to jump over the boards as their mates are coming in the one gate. Same thing when a penalized player hurries from the sin bin to the players' gate, and a replacement has to wait till he's in before the mate can get out—or else hop the boards. Someone will break an ankle yet jumping over the wall onto the ice. Arena employees could do this work at low cost, we believe.

The Guy Has A Point

Comes a letter from a puck fan and he says, in part: "You wrote a few nights ago that 'we still don't like a rule that keeps athletes out of action. A blanket rule, we mean, which leaves quite a number sidelined'. Well, what about those former Kingston Nylons being kept out of hockey this year? They didn't actually do anything but agree with their manager and coach that it would be better to go into senior 'B' than senior 'A' playoffs. Their big trouble was that the coach and manager later fought and it was dragged out in public. But wasn't the OHA just trying to 'save face' by insisting that they be barred, even though the trial they had wouldn't stand up in court?"

* * * * * *

As a matter of fact, chum, we're inclined to agree. Certainly a team that decides to throw games should get the w.k. works. But we're not sure that all these chaps had a perfectly fair legal hearing—and some of the OHA members aren't too sure, either. It's no secret that clubs in various lines of sports have jockeyed for positions, so that they won't be meeting the toughest team in first playoffs. We suspect Leafs did that last year in order to meet Bruins, while Canadiens and Wings were softening each other up in semi-finals. Unless there's positive proof that a player has violated rules, we don't think he should be kept out of athletic action. Those Nylons, it would seem, broke what some cynically call the 11th Commandment: "Thou shalt not get caught."

Come Again, George

Quinte columnist George Carver takes umbrage at our history—or lack of it—on titular Belleville puck clubs. Goes away back to the middle 30s to find where Trenton Fliers beat the locals for group honors. And brags of the Redmen edging Eagles in a close group semi-final last year. Sure, but Eagles were injury-riddled and 'twas not a group final. Belleville later bowed to Kingston, while Petes proved too strong for any of them and went senior "A". Ah yes....

Hawks will go on, the crown to don,
Scribe Carver says, or as much as—
And we agree, but it won't be
Till our boys are all on crutches!

Results of the Peterborough Minor Hockey Association games are in elsewhere. Lots of action and some keen competition being served up weekly by these bantams, midgets and juveniles. Incidentally, the Trojan A.C. draw saw Mrs. L. Robinson, 54 Aylmer St., win the radio; the motor rug going to George Sheehy of 417 Stewart St. After the last juve joust last p.m., Frank McGillen of Marines had to walk to a car in his stockinged feet, his shoes being missing. Someone in the previous game, using the same dressing room, probably carted them off in error. In any case, whoever found them will know now to whom the shoes belong. PMHA games next Thursday: Trojan bantams vs. SPS, Trojan midgets vs. Martin-Hewitt, Trojan juves vs. IOOF, Lions bantams vs. Wolves, St. Peter's midgets vs. Snowbirds, and Lakefield juveniles vs. Marines.

Two Dabs Of Whitewash Applied In PMHA Games

Two shutouts marked six keen Peterborough Minor Hockey Association fixtures run off at Civic Arena last evening. Cold weather kept down the crowd somewhat. Play was fast and generally clean as the various clubs showed improvement and less rough stuff in their lively clashes.

Lions won their bantam joust over St. Peter's by a 5-2 score, with Douglas scoring two goals, and O'Connell, Chesney and Murphy one each for the victors. Baker and Mahoney hit the twine for the Saints. The other bantam tilt saw Otonabee Wolves take another win by a 6-1 score over Trojans. Lonsberry came through with two goals, one each going to Darling, Sullivan, Jim Heron and Revoy. The losers' marker was by Stewart.

Had to Step

In midget play, Trojans had to hustle to yank out a 5-4 verdict over the improving Snowbirds. Sutherland and Whitnell each counted two goals for them, and McFadden one. The Snowbirds' tallies were by Lang, Chase, Ruttan and McMillan. The powerful Martin-Hewitt crew blanked St. Peter's 8-0. Gardner and Godfrey were hot for the winners, the former sinking the disc four times and the latter three, as Strickland got the other.

The juvenile Oddfellows shutout Lakefield 6-0, but it was a closer tilt than the score indicates. Cupoli turned in a starry effort for the winners with four goals, one each being scored by Hope and Chapman. Marines stepped fast to pull out a 5-3 win over Trojans, who were shorthanded. Hunt got two of the Marnes' markers, McCormick, Dodds and Corbett accounting for the others. Trojan tallies were by Patterson, Seabrooke, and Foley.

Rule Compensation For Don Black

CLEVELAND, Dec. 14 (CP).—A regional board of the Ohio Industrial Commission has decided that Black, former pitcher for Cleveland Indians, is entitled to disability compensation. The team would have to pay him out of its own funds.

Black suffered a haemorrhage at the base of the brain while at bat in the second inning of a game Sept. 13, 1943, against St. Louis in Cleveland Stadium. He was unconscious for five weeks and never succeeded in making a comeback in baseball.

The Indians, then run by Bill Veeck, held a "Don Black" night that summer, which raised $40,000 for Black.

Black, now 23, is an office worker. He would be entitled to a maximum of $25 a week from the time of his injury until he became employed again.

Caps Defeat Reds 11-8 In Wild Game

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 14 (AP)—Indianapolis Caps defeated Providence Reds 11-8 Thursday night in a wild-scoring American Hockey League game before 1,748 fans.

The Caps broke an 8-8 tie at 14:33 of the third period when Eddie Bruneteau scored. He added another at 16:02 and Earl Reibel clinched the contest with his third goal of the game at 19:36.

Barry Sullivan scored four goals for Providence and assisted on three others. Three of his goals came in succession within a period of 37 seconds in the middle period.

Jim Wilson and Francis O'Grady each scored two goals and Bert Giesebrecht and Hugh Coflin added one each to round out the Indianapolis scoring.

Ray Powell was the second high man in the Providence attack with two goals and three assists while Paul Gladu and Pete Kapusta added one each.

Bobby Perreault, rookie Providence goalie, was hit in the eye in the first round. He was treated and released by an Indianapolis hospital after X-rays showed no serious injury. Providence was forced to use reserve centre Chuck Scherza as goalie.

Curling News

By HERB MARTIN

Don't be surprised if the Examiner Trophy bonspiel for Saturday, Dec. 28 is oversubscribed. Chairman Dr. McCartney reports 20 entries already, and there's two weeks yet to go. It's just a tip, that's all.

There was quite an argument on No. 8 the other evening concerning who was the best curler in our club. After considerable crossfire one chap said: "I have no difficulty in selecting the best curler in the club—my trouble lies in selecting the second best."

Here's today's problem: If Green was playing Brown and Brown was using the black-handled stones and Green using the white-handled stones — how could Brown be Black and Green White at the same time? Tune in tomorrow at the same time and same place.

Tonight we continue with the men's schedule.

Men's Scores

V. Selkirk 7, R. F. Downey 9; G. Green 5, A. W. Smith 13; D. Rankine 4, G. Clark 16; S. Lowe 10, R. Payne 18; C. Lawrence 6, E. Northey 6; J. Hall 8, D. Charlton 10; J. Richmond 3, N. Hamley 10.

Neill Trophy Results

T. McArthur won from A. Ingram; W. M. Cruthers won from R. Williamson; K. Hamley won from Dr. M. McCartney; O. Price won from R. Bastable; M. Metheral won from O. Steer.

Zebra's Tough Plight

LUTON, England — (CP). — A zebra in the Zoo may have to go about permanently in a plaster cast. The animal dislocated her neck, the bone cannot be set, and surgeons are considering whether a plaster cast would do the trick.

ST. LOUIS CALLING—Eddie Stanky, former scrappy second baseman of the New York Giants, talks to owner Fred Saigh of the St. Louis Cardinals from his home in Fair Hope, Ala. As a result, Eddie is player-manager of the Cards.

FUN FOR ALL — Head Lineman Doug Young dives into a tussle between Bill Ezinicki of the Boston Bruins and the Chicago Black Hawks' Beb Guidolin in an attempt to tear the pair apart. Chicago won the National Hockey League battle, 4-3, but here's one Hawk who came out on the short end.

Don Klosterman One-Man Team

NEW YORK, Dec. 14 (AP).—Don Klosterman, Loyola's one-man bomber squadron, topped the nation's major college passers during the past season and set eight records in the process.

The 21-year-old senior at Los Angeles University threw 315 times and completed 159 in nine games, breaking records for both the number of tosses and for completions.

Final figures released today by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau also showed that Klosterman piled up the most yardage by passes, 1,843 yards. Losses on a few attempted runs gave him a total offence figure of 1,803 yards, second to Princeton's Dick Kazmaier, who accumulated 1,827 yards on passes and runs.

Klosterman's average of 204.8 yards per game via aerials also was a first but no record. That's held by Stan Heath, now with Calgary Stampeders who averaged 222.8 for Nevada's Aerial Circus in 1948.

Kazmaier had the best passing average, 62.6 per cent on 77 completions in 123 attempts.

E. Little Top Girl

Ethel Little led last night for high cross in the Mercantile Playfair League with 715, and high single of 291. Alice Simpson rolled 278, Mae Wilshaw 239, and Audrey Bailey 238. Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League, said Thursday at New York that more scoring and not overtime is the solution to curtailing the number of tie games played in the league.

Campbell said an increase in goal production would result in less ties.

"When I assumed office five years ago the league averaged 6.1 goals per game," Campbell said. "Since the goal production has declined. Last year the average was 5.4 per game. Through Sunday of the current season the average was 4.8. Each drop in goal scoring brings a corresponding increase in tie games," he added.

"There has been no overtime play in the league in 10 years," Campbell pointed out. "When we permitted overtime play before the war approximately 30 per cent of the games were decided."

Campbell also said that weekend games that have teams playing in Canada Saturday night and in the United States on Sunday evenings make it virtually impossible to play overtime. "The teams have train deadlines to meet," he said.

Joe DiMaggio signed with the Yankees again Thursday—to do pre-game and post-game television programs in 1952.

The contract of the Yankee Clipper, who announced his retirement as a player last Tuesday, is with the Yankee ball club alone, and, if it should develop that he also will handle the play-by-play on radio or television, it will be a separate deal. Terms of the contract were not revealed.

Rookie Jim Ross, lanky New York Rangers' defenceman, may miss his team's weekend National Hockey League game, the club announced Thursday at New York. Ross suffered a severe knee bruise in Wednesday night's game against Boston Bruins. If Ross can't make the trip to Toronto Saturday night, player-coach Lloyd Ailsby of New York Rovers will fill in. The Rangers play Detroit here Sunday.

Entries for the 1952 Grand National Steeplechase at Aintree will close Jan. 1, officials of the race course announced Thursday at London. The race, regarded as the wirld's No. 1 jumping event, will be run April 15. It carries an added purse of $14,000.

Roy Mason, manager of Guelph Biltmores, said Thursday it is unlikely his Ontario Hockey Association Junior A team will add reinforcements before the trading deadline Dec. 15.

"I've tried to make deals with several other clubs," he said at Guelph, "but it's the same old story. Nobody has anything to give away. "St. Mike's offered us Bill Dineen—for $10,000. That's out of the question."

Calgary Stampeders of the Pacific Coast Hockey League have acquired Bing Juckes and Hal Brown from Vancouver Canucks of the same circuit. Lloyd Turner, Calgary manager, announced on Wednesday night at Calgary the two players, who played last year with Denver of the United States Hockey League, were received in a trade in which Calgary gave Vancouver full rights to Eddie Leier and an unstated amount of cash.

Jack Lohrke, utility infielder with the New York Giants for the last four seasons, was traded to the Philadelphia Phils Thursday for pitcher Jake Schmitt, a southpaw. Schmitt was with Baltimore of the International League last season where he won 10 and lost 14.

A. W. (Bill) Hayes has been named general manager of Detroit Tigers' new farm club at Buffalo, the Tigers announced Thursday at Detroit. The Tigers purchased the Buffalo club recently to replace Toledo of the American Association in the farm system.

A. Caccavella Tops

A. Caccavella had high three this week of 856 and top single of 349 in the Major Bowling League, as Lillian's led teams with 3,494 pinnage and single of 1,296. Six points each were taken by UEW, Lillian's, Plazas, Herb's and Bickell's over Revenoors, Darling, McLeod, Selkirk's and Woods, as four points apiece went to Odeon, Crowley, Cherney, Brewers, Clapper, Campbell and Studebaker over B & E, Kawartha, Kingsmen, Examiner, Wonder, Mowry and Sun Life.

Good scores included: G. Walton (313) 808, R. Pearson 784, M. Marris 794, J. Goodson 766, W. Stanbury (330) 752, B. McCarrell 759, C. Signorotti 740, D. Moriarity 722, E. Reynolds 721, M. Hill (306) 702, M. Caccavella 708 and A. Pilling 742.

P of W Triumphs

Prince of Wales intermediates of the School Hockey League blanked Queen Alex 10-0 in a tilt at the arena as one-sided as the score indicates. Byers got three goals and an assist, Jay two goals and two assists, Shaw a brace of markers, as Parker, Morley and Murphy each counted one and aided on another. Teams:

Prince of Wales: Smillie, Doughty, Jay, Playford, Shaw, Murphy, Morley, Parker, Byers, White, McFadden.

Queen Alex: Ward, Tucker, Levine, Hamilton, Norris, Williams, Olmstead, McFadyen, Ratz, Tedford.

Red Wings Whip Leafs 3-1 As Hawks Tie Canadiens

By JACK SULLIVAN, Canadian Press Staff Writer

If there's a club in the National Hockey League capable of stopping Detroit Red Wings in their march towards a fourth straight championship, they've yet to stick their noses above ground. This may be a kiss of death to the Wings, but right now they have every reason to be a bit snobbish in the pro hockey world.

The Wings, who would start a big hassle about "what's wrong with Detroit if they ever slipped to second place, demonstrated on Thursday night just why they are six points ahead of the runner-up Toronto Maple Leafs. They whipped the Leafs 3-1 at Detroit and became the only club in the circuit to show a victory over all opponents at home and on the road this season.

That should be reason enough to call the Wings to pick up NHL championship No. 4 in as many seasons at the end of the 70-game 5½-month schedule. It was their 15th victory in 26 starts and what makes this record all the more impressive is that they can still set the pace after shedding a batch of players during the off-season to help out the struggling Chicago Black Hawks.

Score Tie

The Hawks caught up to the idle fifth place New York Rangers with a 1-1 tie at home against Montreal Canadiens. The Montrealers now are in fourth position 13 points behind Detroit and four less than Boston Bruins, in third place.

Detroit was held to a 1-1 first period tie but bounced back with a pair in the second session to pick up the two points. Reports from the automobile city indicate it couldn't have been much of a game as Wing goalkeeper Terry Sawchuk had only 13 stops — two in the first period, seven in the second and four in the final 20 minutes.

Maybe it was because the Wings played an alleged "kitty-bar-the-door" game but it also showed that they can score goals when needed, and then set the pace to their liking.

Hold Out Leafs

Toronto's Tod Sloan matched the Wings' first period counter by Ted Lindsay and the Wings tucked away the decision with goals by Marty Pavelich and Benny Woit in the second. From there in it was a simple case of holding out the Leafs whose famed power play couldn't penetrate beyond the Detroit blue line in the third stanza.

At Chicago, Bill Gadsby was the hometown hero when he scored the tying goal with less than three minutes of the game remaining. That nullified his "goat's" role in the first period when Montreal's Boom-Boom Geoffrion scored while the Hawk was sitting out a holding penalty.

Brazil Agrees To Meet Layton

Bobo Brazil, the sensational colored wrestler, today signed to meet Lord Athol Layton in the feature match at the Brock next Tuesday.

Expressing his indignation to the nth degree at what he termed "those foul tactics in butting" used by Bobo Brazil on him here Tuesday night, Lord Athol Layton asked for the mat meeting of the pair. Bobo had come to the rescue of Whipper Watson and butted Athol and his trainer around till they were knocked out.

"If Brazil wants to use head butts," Layton said angrily, "I'll judo chop him into submission." This may be tougher to accomplish than Layton thinks as the ebony-hued Brazil is a slippery customer, with plenty of ring savvy. He is a prime favorite with the fans.

Supporting this standout main event will be Pat Flanagan against Hi Lee, and Chief Suni War Cloud taking on Stan Mayslack in the opener.

Indians Not Very Pleased About BC Beer Law Change

VANCOUVER, Dec. 14 —(CP)—Beer parlor doors swing open Saturday for British Columbia's adult Indian population. But Indian leaders fear for those who step inside.

They say the change in the Indian Act ,while long overdue, is a half-way measure paved with pitfalls.

Provincial Secretary W. T. Straith announced Wednesday that Ottawa has, at BC's request, issued a proclamation bringing section 95 of the Federal Indian Act into effect in the province.

Under this section, the Indians may drink in licensed premises. But the rest of the liquor laws governing Indians remain in force.

The Indians say they are still being treated as inferiors. What's more, they add, the new regulations increase their chances of running afoul of the law.

Not On Reservations.

BC has an Indian population of roughly 27,000.

While the Indian now will be able to drink all the beer he wants in the beer parlour, he won't be allowed to buy beer to take out.

This, presumably, is a move to keep liquor off the reservations.

And should an Indian leave the premises with a few too many under his belt, he could be arrested on two different counts, a common intoxication charge or a charge laid under the Indian Act.

The Indians say, too, that they are likely to be arrested in cases which would be overlooked but for their race. The Indian Act is strictly enforced with regard to liquor.

A white man still can't give an Indian a drink in his home or at any other place except a beer parlor.

BC is the second province to take advantage of this amendment to the Indian Act. Prince Edward Island was the first.

More Protests

Previously, only Indians who have foresworn their privileges as wards of the government have been able to enter beer parlors.

Andy Paull of North Vancouver, president of the North American Indian Brotherhood, calls the new regulations a "trap."

Chief Chuck Thorne, head of the Cowichan Indians on Vancouver Island, said: "It's not right to open the breach a little bit. It should be wide open, same privileges as for whites and same penalties."

There was even comment from Chief Thunderbird, an Indian wrestler from Victoria, who said: "This ruling will start friction right away by making Indians feel inferior to white men. I really don't see how Indians are going to benefit from it."

Buy Travelling Library

KITCHENER, Dec. 14 —(CP)—Provision for purchase of a traveling library, to service the outlying areas of the community, wil be included in the 1952 budget for submission to city council, the Kitchener Library Board decided Wednesday night.

DERBY, England, Dec. 14 —(Reuters) — A baby weighing more than 14 pounds was born to Mrs. John Wood Thursday — second heavyweight born in Britain in the last 2 days. The baby, a boy, weighed 14 pounds, four ounces — two ounces more than the son born to Mrs. Rose Bradley of Greenock, Scotland, two days ago.

Vote Selves Raise

PARIS, Dec. 14 —(AP)—Members of the National Assembly today voted themselves a raise of about $72 a month. The vote was 495 to 103, with the Communists and their allies voting against. In the future, deputies will get 150,530 francs (about $430) a month.

Eye Out For Santa

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 14 —(CP)—Mexico's border guards are on the look-out for Clandestine Santa Clauses. Federal police and customs inspectors have been put on the alert to sharpen their eyes for smugglers for whom the gift season offers an especially profitable market. Nylons, cheap jewelry, toys, perfumes and luxury articles in general fill the sacks of these gift bearers whose chimney leads through the international border.

Illegal Fishing

LIMA, Peru, Dec. 14 —(AP)—The newspaper La Prensa reported Thursday that more than 26 United States fishing vessels are operating in Peruvian waters without permission. The newspaper quoted Peruvian fishing company officials as saying the ships were seen 30 miles off the coast. Peru claims sovereignty over waters extending 200 miles from its coast.

Job Situation Desperate In Stellarton

STELLARTON, N. S., Dec. 14 —(CP)—Robert J. Munroe, chairman of the Citizens' Committee which has been trying to find jobs for workers in this mining town, said today the employment situation has been "desperate" since the Allan shaft closed.

The Allan shaft, a big producer with one of the thickest coal seams in the world, was closed last April after a series of dangerous fires and explosions. The pit employed about 400 men.

Another big producer, the Albion pit, had a section closed off Sunday when heat was discovered. The 24 men employed in the section were given jobs elsewhere.

Mr. Munroe said the Albion trouble "again draws attention to the desperate situation prevailing in this mining town since last April."

He said many of the Allan shaft men had not been able to find steady employment. Many owned their own homes and did not want to go to the Cape Breton coal fields or elsewhere.

Mr. Munroe recalled that he had recently been on a committee which went to Halifax for talks with Premier Angus L. Macdonald.

No Practical Help.

"We got a sympathetic hearing but nothing practical to help our long-suffering and patient men. The government has nothing in mind for the winter at all except unemployment insurance which isn't enough to keep a home going.

"Although the mine was closed in the spring there has been no public works program or anything to take up the slack temporarily.

"It isn't any wonder the situation is desperate.

"We're just forgotten," he said. "Perhaps what we need is to get the attention of those Ontario and Western members who are doing more talking about Martime needs in the Commons these days than the Maritime members are.

"If we could get them talking about Stellarton the governments might get busy and come up with something for our workers more than raliroad tickets away from their own homes to distant parts of the nation."

Blame Small Group Of Gangsters For Ford Trouble

WINDSOR, Dec. 14 (CP)—The word "they" has an ominous sound in Windsor today.

People will tell you that "they" started the Dec. 3 strike of 9,000 hourly-rated Ford Company of Canada production workers which has made idle almost 12,000 persons in this city of 121,000. Some are Ford salaried employees and workers in Ford feeder plants.

"They" started last spring with acts of industrial sabotage in the Ford plants—by ripping upholstery in new automobiles, slashing tires and jamming production-line conveyor belts. "They" intensified this campaign during the summer.

When news of the firing of 26 men for causing wildcat stoppages —some of the men were plant stewards and union committeemen—spread through the Ford works on the morning of Dec. 3, "they" ran in groups from room to room, yelling to workers to quit their jobs, standing up to plant stewards who resisted, elbowing supervisors away from the turned-off switches.

When asked why they didn't resist, Ford men who didn't want to leave their jobs say: "'They'd' have cracked my skull if I'd raised a finger."

Blames "Gangsters"

Rhys Sale, Ford president, has termed a small group of "gangsters" responsible for the plant shutdown and for what he calls 34 "unlawful and unauthorized work stoppages" in the last 18 months.

One thing is known: An extremely small group of individuals is responsible for many of the incidents which have poisoned union-company relations and obscured the basic cause of the strike—the failure of union-company negotiators, after six months of bargaining, to agree upon a 1951 wage contract. The union asked a 30-cent-an-hour increase on a basic rate of $1.32. A conciliation board recommended a 13-cent-an-hour increase.

Someone slashed the tires and upholstery. Someone poured lead into gate locks of the company plants, and someone threatened some plant workers.

Leaders of local 200, United Automobile Workers of America (CIO-CCL) disclaim responsibility. George Burt ,the UAW's Canadian director, said this week:

"Ford workers will remember that during my term of office (as president of local 200) I was always unalterably opposed to wildcat strikes and my position today is the same."

Second Dispute

A second large-scale dispute loomed as the weekend approached. Sixteen hundred of 4,000 Chrysler Corporation of Canada workers last Sunday rejected a company offer of a 14-cent-an-hour wage increase on a basic rate of $1.42. They empowered their union, local 195, UAW, to call another membership meeting this Sunday to discuss strike action.

Since the strike began the Ford Company has stood firm on the 26 dismissals which touched off the Dec. 3 explosion. The union has continued to demand reinstatement of the men as a first condition for ending the walkout.

But Wednesday night, Walter Reuther, international president of the UAW, conferred with union leaders and from the meeting came a statement that the membership of local 200 will meet Friday. Reuther is known to be opposed to wildcat strike action.

If and when the strike is settled, all of Windsor—and one in every three persons here is directly affected—will breathe a sigh of relief. Workers are losing more than $100,000 a day. Merchants report their business down about 15 per cent. and Christmas is only 12 days away.

WI Sends Boxes To Men Overseas

MARMORA, Dec. 14—(ENS)—With a good attendance of members and two visitors present, the December meeting of Marmora Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. F. R. Wells on Tuesday evening, the president, Mrs. H. P. Nayler being in the chair. In lieu of a roll call for the evening, those present handed in gifts for food parcels for needy families. Following confirmation of minutes, it was reported that two boxes had been sent to boys overseas and that four more were being prepared for dispatch as soon as addresses were obtainable.

The secretary read excerpts from a speech given by Miss Anna P. Lewis. Two letters were discussed at some length. The first suggested that members have letter friends in the women's institutes in other countries while the other drew attention to the Lady Tweedsmuir competition. Mrs. F. Sweet reported the sending of cards to two sick members. A member who recently underwent an operation and hospitalization is to be remembered.

Attention was drawn to the forthcoming bake sale and a committee to operate same was appointed. W. J. Cottrell gave a short talk on the Holy Thorn of Glastonbury which flowers at Christmas as well as in the regular season. He exhibited some leaves from the thorn as well as a picture of it in bloom and scenes of Glastonbury. He also sang "Like Silver Lamps in a Distant Shrine" written by William Chatterton Dix, who is buried at Cheddar, 14 miles north of Glastonbury and whose funeral he attended in 1897 as a choir boy.

Mrs. F. R. Wells accompanied on the piano. All then joined in the singing of two Christmas hymns and two Christmas carols with Mrs. E. Belanger as pianist. Two readings of a Christmas nature were given by Mrs. Grace Warren. Mrs. Ethel Nobes staged a Christmas contest which was won by Mrs. F. N. Marrett.

Mrs. L. McGinnis thanked the branch on behalf of the newly-institute Marmora Eastern Star Chapter for valued assistance given at the supper which was a feature of the program as the institution was held last Saturday. The exchange of Christmas gifts by members having been completed, refreshments were served.

Wants High Schools Teach Democracy

OTTAWA, Dec. 14 — (CP) — H. W. Herridge, (CCF-Kootenay West) said Thursday night the curricula of high schools should be changed to give students true appreciation of democracy.

He told the Commons that recently an examination at McGill University had disclosed that many of their students did not know the name of the Canadain Prime Minister. This indicated something wrong with the system of education.

High school students should be taught the terms of the British North America Act —the basis of the Canadian constitution. They should be given a thorough understanding of the Canadian citizenship Act and of the Elections Act.

They would need the understanding if they were to have a "true apprecation of the democracy we enjoy."

Braves Press Stanky For Player Exchange

BOSTON, Dec. 14 (AP).—President Lou Perini and general manager John Quinn of the Boston Braves today were pressing their former star, Eddie Stanky, new manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, for his decision on an important four-player swap.

The Tribal executives laid the ground work for the deal with Fred Saigh, the Cardinals' owner, during this week's baseball meetings in New York.

"We won't mention any names now," Quinn said, "but we probably have offered the Cardinals more than we should. Saigh knows our offer and he wants Stanky's approval."

In dire need of a second baseman, it was understood that the Braves offered Vern Bickford, the 14-9 righthanded pitcher, and first baseman Earl Torgeson for infielder Red Schoendienst and catcher Del Rice.

Court Dismisses Assault Charge

An assault charge against Kenneth A. Mace, RR 1 Apsley, was dismissed in police court Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Francis Mace laid the charge against her brother-in-law following a family squabble over a half carcass of pork and an electric blanket.

As a result of the argument, Mace was alleged to have struck his sister-in-law after following her into the house.

In suggesting that the charge be dismissed because of its "trivial" nature, Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw advised Mrs. Mace that police court was not the proper court to settle the matter and told her she could see a lawyer and investigate "civil remedies."

Mace was defnded by Trevor Clarke.

Former Beer Baron Jailed

NEW YORK, Dec. 14—(AP)—Irving (Waxey Gordon) Wexler, beer baron in prohibition times, Thursday was sentenced to serve two concurrent terms of from 25 years to life in prison on his plea of guilty to the illegal sale of narcotics. The sentence was a virtual life sentence for the 63-year-old man.

"You have forfeited your right to a place in free society and you should be isolated in prison for the remainder of your natural life," Judge Francis L. Valente said.

Wexler and three other men, who already have received jail sentences, were trapped by narcotics agents last Aug. 3 as they attempted to effect a narcotics sale.

ANCIENT RACE

Laplanders in the northern regions of Norway, Sweden, Finland and Russia have been domesticating reindeer herds for 1,000 years.

DEAD ANIMALS and scorched coconut trees remain as grim evidence of the intense heat caused by the spreading ashes. This area is near Mambajao on Camiguin. The volcano spouted flames and smoke for nearly a week after starting to erupt Dec. 4.

Business Men See Lean Times Ahead In Japan

TOKYO, Dec. 14—(AP)—After six good years under the occupation, foreign business men anticipate lean times ahead in an independent Japan.

All business begins playing the game under Japanese government rules after Jan. 1. Those rules are going to be tough at the start.

For foreign business men they will mean higher taxes, rising costs of operations and stiffer personal living expenses.

Japan intends to restore its power in the Far East and the world. It appears intent on seeking foreign assistance, particularly technicians needed to rebuild industry, but still not grant foreign business any concessions that impede recovery.

Occupation officials will try to assist American business where they can until the occupation ends, but they must support the program which Japan's government feels is necessary for recovery.

Foreign busines men in Japan today are mainly retailers, technicians, importers and exporters, bankers, engineers, transportation firms, insurance men, accountants, lawyers and newspapermen.

Taxation is their biggest problem. All foreigners, as of Jan. 1, 1952, will cease to get the current 50-per-cent tax reduction on individual income except in a few categories considered essential, such as technical consultants.

Foreign firms recently have been increasing cost-of-living allowances to meet rising liying costs. Some have been upped to $400 and $500 monthly, or more. The Japanese would like to tax this.

Hardest hit by mounting living costs for foreigners will be the lower-salaried workers — junior bank employees, minor executives and assistants to technical advisers.

Rents are high in Tokyo. The average asked for houses with western conveniences is $200 and $250 a month. Many of these are either unfinished or inadequately furnished. Japanese rent controls do not apply to foreigners.

Heating is costly because of lack of good insulation. Electricity is off two days a week due to a power shortage. Rates are high.

May Get Wax From Coal In Saskatchewan

SASKATOON — (CP).—Waxes for shoe, floor and furniture polishes may be produced from Saskatchewan lignite coal if experiments at the University of Saskatchewan are successful.

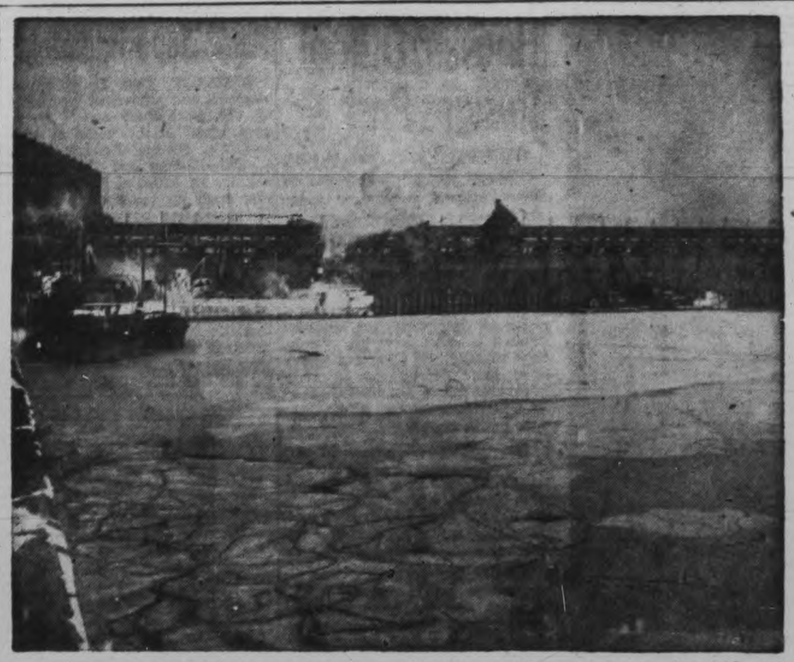
Commercial wax has long been produced from the brown coals of Germany and from lignite coal in Devonshire and California. It was the similarity of these coals to Saskatchewan lignite that led to the tests here.

So far experiments have not been sufficiently conclusive to determine whether there is enough wax in Saskatchewan lignite to warrant commercial extraction.

German brown coals contain up to 10 per cent wax and California lignite as much as 20 per cent wax. Saskatchewan lignites tested so far have produced no better than 4 per cent. However, a pre-treatment process is being investigated which would increase the yield of wax to about eight per cent.

Doing Experiments

The experiments are being carried out by Dr. S. D. Cavers, professor of chemical engineering, and Dr. R. L. Eager, professor of chemistry. The Saskatchewan Research Council is supporting the project.



The method of extracting the wax consists of dissolving it from the lignite by a mixture of organic solvents. The solvent mixture, consisting of benzine and ethyl alcohol, is boiled in the lower section of the apparatus and condenses into the upper portion from which it goes into a middle section where the coal is located.

The solvent drains off the top of the coal chamber carrying with it some of the wax. This process is repeated many times.

The wax produced by the process is a hard, black substance. Tests will be made to see if the color of the wax can be lightened and the material adapted to commercial uses.

Would Crack Down

NEW YORK, Dec. 14 (AP). — Western Union said Thursday night it wants to crack down on racketeering by sharply curtailing its racing news facilities. A proposed new tariff effective Feb. 1 would limit racing news facilities of the telegraph company to newspaper press associations, licenced radio or television stations and publications with second class mailing privileges. The tariff—a set of working rules required by law—must be approved by the Federal Communications Commission.

Recalls Big Fire At Rainy River Taking 40 Lives

FORT FRANCIS.—(CP)—The disastrous fire which took almost 40 lives and wiped out seven towns in the Rainy River district was recalled by many old timers on its 41st anniversary recently.

Rodger Hopkins of International Falls, Minn., was eight years old at the time. He remembers carrying water to wet down haystacks and buildings at his family's homestead as flames crept up on three sides.

That fire raged from Roosevelt, Minn., north to the boundary communities of Baudette, Minn., and Rainy River, Ont. Flames consumed the Michigan communities of Roosevelt, Graceton, Pitt, Cedar Spur, Williams, Baudette and Spooner. The 1910 fire leaped across the Rainy River to destroy a sawmill on this side.

Just before the fatal day a number of small bush fires had been burning along the Canadian National Railways line which served the destroyed towns. A strong wind fanned the flames into a holocaust which hounded trainloads of refugees from one town to the next.

Hopkins told of the terrifying scenes as the flames engulfed the towns. The roar of the flames in a grove of spruce near his home was like that of an express train, he said, with the blaze shooting more than 100 feet in the air.

TTC Bus Drivers Plan Meeting

TORONTO, Dec. 14 — (CP) — Toronto's street-car and bus drivers will meet Sunday in connection with wage demands.

The results of a meeting between the negotiating committee of the Street Railway Union (AFL) and the Toronto Transportation Commission will be put before them. Unless the TTC is prepared to come close to union demands, the Sunday meeting may call for a strike vote.

The union seeks a 15-cent-an-hour wage increase, plus incorporation into the basic rate of 16 cents now paid as a cost-of-living bonus. Street-car operators now receive $1.40 an hour, including the 16-cent bonus.

The union bargains for 4,700 employees, including those of Gray Coach Lines, TTC subsidiary.

Young People Conduct Service

OMEMEE, Dec. 14—The young people of Bethel and Omemee united to present their annual National Sunday services. Under the direction of the Rev. V.E.R. Zufelt, Sunday. A combined choir presented Negro spirituals, a Polish carol, a French carol, and God Who Touched Earth With Beauty. A feature of the special music was a solo by Sherman Harrison, tenor and Dorothy Connell, soprano.

The speaker was Miss Marie Anderson, president of Lindsay Presbytery. Miss Anderson addressed the Bethel congregation in the afternoon and the Omemee congregation in the evening and explained the nation-wide organization of the Young People's Union. She also told of some of the activities of the Union, such as the building of Camp Quin-Mo-Lac at Moira Lake and the work being accomplished at camps such as this all across Canada .

Miss Anderson reminded the congregation of the large number of humans in the world today who can neither read nor write and have never heard of the Gospel. She said, the eyes of these people must be opened and it is we who must do it, if it is the word of God that they are to read when they are opened.

Assisted by Marie Anderson, the services were conducted by. Alberta Wright, president of Bethel Y.P.U. and Garnet Pogue, president of Omemee Y. P. U.

Housing Official Resigns Post

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Dec. 14 (CP) —Premier Joseph Smallwood of Newfoundland announced today that housing administrator O. L. Vardy, minister without portfolio, has resigned and the government will not contest a by-election for the vacant seat.

In an interview the premier quoted a letter from Mr. Vardy. The minister said he was "sorry that their differences on slum clearance could not be adjusted" and he felt there was no alternative but to resign.

Mr. Smallwood, whose Liberal government won 23 of Newfoundland's 28 seats in a general election Nov. 26, said a by-election in St. John's West, Mr. Vardy's constituency, would be a "bitter affair" if contested by both parties.

The Progressive Conservative opposition won four seats in the election and the polling in one riding, Labrador, was deferred. St. John's West, a dual constituency, had been held by Mr. Vardy and provincial affairs minister J. J. Spratt in the last government, but Mr. Spratt's seat was taken by P. J. Cashin, Progressive Conservative leader

Labor Board Calls Lockout Unlawful

TORONTO, Dec. 14 (CP)—The Textile Workers of America (CIO-CCL) said Thursday the Ontario Labor Relations Board has declared "unlawful" what it termed a lockout of workers at the Circle-Bar Knitting Company at Kincardine. The labor board declined to comment immediately.

The union said it has been granted the right to prosecute the company.

A spokesman said the union applied to the labor department for the right to prosecute following "lockouts" last October in two of the company's plants at Kincardine. He said most of the 180 workers in one of the plant's botany dry-spinning division had joined the union when the company launched what he called an anti-union campaign.

He said the two factories employ 200 persons.

STANDARD FARMING

The classical system of crop rotation in Britain consists of four sowings—clover, wheat, turnips or such, and barley or oats.

Christmas Around the World Panorama of Piety, Rejoicing

The traditions and customs of Christmas are close to the hearts of all Christian people.

Since the very early days of Christianity, Christmas has come to mean bright candlelight, holly and berries, mistletoe and pine and the sweet, heartfelt singing of carols.

Many of the Christmas songs of today originated in Britain. Wandering bards and harpers roamed o'er the countryside singing their Christmas songs to the accompaniment of the harp, fiddle and flageolet. And today in Britain, these age-old songs still ring out clearly.

Carols are sung on Boxing Day, the day after Christmas, when service-folk and tradespeople go from home to home collecting gifts from the folks they have served. Neighbors and friends sing as they go from home to home to taste each family's Yule Cake as it is ceremoniously cut.

English kiddies wait for a Santa Claus, who looks very much like our own jolly elf. They also find gifts tied to a Christmas tree. This custom is fairly recent—when Queen Victoria was a young bride, her German husband introduced this custom into the British royal household.

• • •

Yule Log In France

In France the Yule log plays an important part in the Christmas festivities. The father and son of the family carry the log into the room, they circle the room three times before they place the log in the fireplace. Soon the log is lighted with a brand of last year's log, and the torch glows, an emblem of the Holy Light of Christ.

• • •

In Holland, Dutch kiddies wait anxiously the arrival of St. Nicholas. Dressed in traditional bishop's robes of black, he carries a crozier and wears a mitre. He brings gifts for the children which he places in their wooden shoes standing in the chimney corner.

• • •

In Czechoslovakia, a bright angel accompanies Santa on his errands of gift-giving, descending from heaven on a golden chord.

• • •

Festival of the Star

In the Slavic countries, the children observe the Holy Festival of the Star . . . they go through the streets carrying the Christmas crib, lighted candles, and a pole with a large star brightly glowing from its tip.

At the Christmas feast, straw is scattered on the floor and 'neath the table, in remembrance of the stable of Bethlehem, and a chair is always placed at the table for the Holy Child.

• • •

Swiss children eagerly wait for their gifts to come from a radiant angel who rides in a sleigh drawn by six reindeer.

• • •

In Scandinavia, gifts are given to the children during the evening meal. Santa comes riding on a goat instead of a reindeer and is accompanied by dwarfs who distribute the gifts. Bowls of porridge are left on the doorstep by the children for the dwarf's refreshment.

In Sweden and Norway both, birds are given special remembrance. A choice sheaf of grain is placed on a pole or on fence posts . . . bits of suet are hung on the trees—for a gala Christmas treat for the birds.

• • •

In Canada kiddies eagerly await the arrival of Santa Claus, as he drives from roof to roof in a sleigh drawn by eight reindeer.

From a huge pack, he fills the stockings hanging from the chimney-piece. Gifts too large for the stockings are placed under the Christmas tree for eager-eyed, pleasure-filled children to enjoy!

• • •

These and many more are the interesting ,exciting customs that make up the Christmas observances throughout the Christian world.

Better Perspective

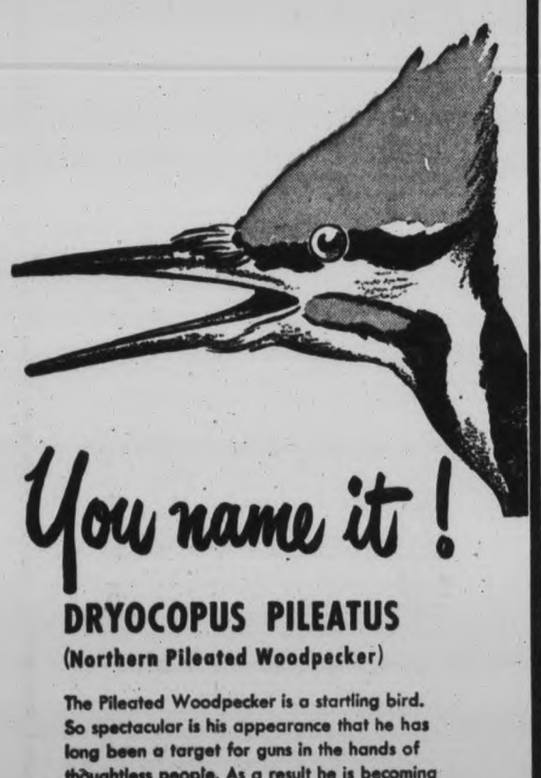
Doubling Up

PICTOU, NS (CP).—Need of additional space in the town schools was forcibly pointed out in reports to the school commissioners. In one grade 9 class there are 50 desks and 53 pupils. Two of the extras use the teacher's desk, while the third is a "floater," using any that happens to be vacant that day.



Policemen Get Retroactive Pay

ST. CATHARINES, Dec. 14 (CP)—City policemen today received cheques for $420.60 each based on a city wage-increase offer retroactive to last Jan. 1. The amount was about $100 short of an increase awarded by an arbitration board last week.

Police originally asked for an increase of $400 a year. This request was submitted to arbitration in November. The arbitration award last week called for annual salaries of $3,250 for first class constable and an increase of $525 a year to others in the department.

The St. Catharines Police Commission was expected to question the award because once arbitration had been decided upon, the police association here increased its demand from $400 to $600 a year.

The Pileated Woodpecker is a startling bird. So spectacular is his appearance that he has long been a target for guns in the hands of thoughtless people. As a result he is becoming rare in many sections of Canada.

He should be protected. Besides being highly decorative and the largest Canadian woodpecker, the Pileated is extremely valuable. He destroys millions of wood insects and provides nesting sites for tree-dwelling ducks.

Heaviest Defence Expenditures For RCAF

OTTAWA, Dec. 14 — (CP) — Canada's heaviest defence expenditures in the last two years have been for the RCAF and the bulk of these new air weapons are still on the secret list.

The Commons' defence expenditures committee got a document Thursday showing that out of $1,237,830,178 worth of defence orders placed since April, 1950, to November this year, $788,585,635 for air force equipment. Delivery has been taken on $157,004,557 of it.

The air force total includes a $545,372,261 item listed merely as "classified for security reasons." Much of it is believed to be the latest-type electronic equipment used in modern air warfare.

Other secret orders included $26,277,973 under the heading of ammunition, of which Canada has taken $2,215,334, and a $14,130,154 item under the reading of artillery and naval guns, mortars and missile launchers.

M. W. Mackenzie, Deputy Minister of Defence Production, told the committee that the $14,130,154 item, now all delivered to Canada, included the latest-type anti-aircraft guns. But the remainder of it was secret.

Final Meeting

It was the final meeting of the session for the committee set up to study defence expenditures. George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader made an unsuccessful attempt to have it extended to Saturday. Lt.-Col. David Croll (L-Toronto-Spadina) said the committee would meet again early next year after the start of the new session of parliament.

Mr. Drew asked for further information from Mr. Mackenzie and C. M. Drury, Deputy Minister of Defence, as to delivery dates on equipment, how much has been delivered and when the remainder can be expected. This was needed to get a clear picture of Canada's preparedness.

Also there should be an indication of how the newly-purchased equipment had gone to equip Canada's brigades in Korea and Germany.

The list showed orders totalling $19,282,262 for small arms and machine guns, of which Canada has taken delivery up to $308,000. Mr. Mackenzie explained that many of these small arms orders placed in the United States have been suspended pending the outcome of the question of arms standardization.

Artillery and naval gun orders totalled $45,729,565, with $21,458,232 delivered.

Military Vehicles

Tanks, self-propelled weapons and other military vehicles totalled $93,265,436, with $7,283,654 paid. Ammunition orders total $103,039,505, with $6,875,508 paid and rocket orders—which Mr. Mackenzie said included bazookas —totalled $14,379,311 of which $1,882,330 has been paid.

The $788,585,635 total under aircraft includes the two British Comet jet transports ordered by Canada recently for the RCAF at a cost of $3,500,000 and three Bristol freighters from the Bristol Aeroplane Company of Canada. Canadian Car and Foundry Ltd., has an order for 200 Harvard trainers worth $13,050,000 on which $4,493,956 has been paid.

Trainers Listed

Also listed in the aircraft section are 20 T-33 trainers and 100 spare engines worth $4,874,976 which all has been paid to the US government. An order for another 576 T-33's worth $69,000,000 has been placed with Canadair Limited.

Canada has paid $12,984,246 of a $14,049,300 order to the US government for 88 B-25 Mitchell dual pilot trainers and 12 B-25J Mitchell A1 trainers. De Haviland of Canada has an order for 37 Chipmunk trainers and Beech Aircraft Corporation has an order for 233 "Expeditor" aircraft worth approximately $23,000,000 on which about $10,000,000 already has been paid.

Cattle Prices Drop $1 At End Of Week

TORONTO, Dec. 14 — (CP).— Ontario Stockyard cattle prices opened steady this week, but dropped $1 or more at the close. Calves, sheep and lambs were unchanged while hogs gained 75 cents. Small buyers paid steady prices for a few top grade cattle on Monday, but the general trade was very dull.

A light cattle run of 4,100 was added to 90 carried over from last week. Fresh receipts included 600 Westerns.

Top for weighty steers was $35, with medium to good steers from $31-$34 and a few choice at $35. Common to medium light steers and heifers sold at $24-$32, with boners as low as $20.
